WASHINGTON, D.C. — Walker attorney Robert G. Renner, seven-term Conservative in the Minnesota House, was nominated Tuesday by President Nixon as U.S. attorney for Minnesota, succeeding Patrick J. Foley.

Renner, 46, graduated from St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn., and received his law degree from Georgetown University, Washington, D.C.

Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., said yesterday he will press for early Senate confirmation of the nomination. The job pays $29,100 a year.
