Whereas, the well recognized interest of the citizens of this state in the sport of hockey bears witness and is a tribute to the ability of players and spectators alike to adapt their interests, enthusiasm for life, and natural competitive energies to enjoyment of the long winter seasons in the great Northland; and

Whereas, the Minnesota state high school hockey tournament is both a natural outgrowth of the vigorous and healthy interest of this state's young citizens in winter sport, and an important test of the mental and physical skill and conditioning of the finest hockey teams and coaches in the high schools of this state; and
