In conducting its study, the metropolitan transit commission shall include recent studies and developments in transit technology. The metropolitan council shall cooperate with the metropolitan transit commission and provide general policy guidance. The study shall include features which provide for demand activated origin to destination service, at least during nonpeak or nonrush hour periods. "Demand activated" means, for the purpose of this section, that a vehicle is waiting or comes within a very short time for the private use of one individual or party. "Origin to destination" means, for the purpose of this section, that the vehicle travels to any other station in the system without stops or transfers.

Subd. 3. The study shall include systems which are flexible to allow for expansion and improvement in order to accommodate changes made possible by changes in technology. The systems studied shall maximize compatibility with the environment, including, but not limited to, such techniques as tunneling, to the extent practically and economically feasible; and above-ground guideways, designed to be as small as possible and aesthetically coordinated with the surrounding community.

Subd. 4. The study shall specify general routes, route mileage, vehicle size, vehicle type and other technical matters.

Subd. 5. The study shall be in such form that direct, valid comparison can be made with other mass transit options reported in metropolitan transit commission consultant report III-A-2 on the following factors: capital cost, operating cost, 30 year net present cost, number of riders, completion date, route miles, safety, reliability, environmental impact, effect on the urban structure, reduction of energy requirements, capacity to meet future passenger levels higher than estimated and technological feasibility. The determination of the final plan shall be based on a thorough alternative systems analysis.

Subd. 6. The study described in this section shall be completed at the earliest possible date, but no later than December 1, 1974.

Subd. 7. The metropolitan transit commission shall issue written monthly reports to the metropolitan council and to members of the House and Senate metropolitan and urban affairs committees summarizing the status of the studies described in this section.

Sec. 2. [TAX LEVY; SMALL VEHICLE FIXED GUIDEWAY SYSTEM STUDY AND SUBSEQUENT STUDIES.]

Subdivision 1. The metropolitan transit commission shall levy for the studies authorized by sections 1 and 3 upon all taxable property within the metropolitan transit district a tax in excess of all taxing limitations, without affecting the amount or rate of taxes which may be levied by the commission for other purposes or by any local government in the area. The levy made for the purposes of sections 1 and 3 shall not exceed one-tenth of a mill on each dollar of assessed valuation of all taxable property in the metropolitan taxing district. The certification and collection of the tax levied pursuant to this section shall be accomplished in accordance with Minnesota Statutes, Section 473A.111, Subdivision 3.

Subd. 2. This section shall be effective for taxes assessed in 1974 and payable in 1975.

ARTICLE I

BILL OF RIGHTS

Section 1. Government is instituted for the security, benefit and protection of the people, in whom all political power is inherent, together with the right to alter, modify or reform (SUCH) government (,) whenever required by the public good (MAY REQUIRE IT).

Sec. 2. No member of this state shall be disfranchised (,) or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to any citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land (,) or the judgment of his peers. Sec. 3. The liberty of the press shall forever remain inviolate, and all persons may freely speak, write and publish their sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of such right.

Sec. 4. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, and shall extend to all cases at law without regard to the amount in controversy (, BUT). A jury trial may be waived by the parties in all cases in the manner prescribed by law (; AND). The legislature may provide that the agreement of five-sixths of (ANY) a jury in (ANY) a civil action or proceeding, after not less than six ((6)) hours' deliberation, (SHALL BE) is a sufficient verdict (THEREIN).

Sec. 5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor (SHALL) excessive fines (BE) imposed (;), nor (SHALL) cruel or unusual punishments (BE) inflicted.

Sec. 6. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial (,) by an impartial jury of the county or district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which county or district shall have been previously ascertained by law (, AND). The accused shall enjoy the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor (,) and to have the assistance of counsel in his defense.

Sec. 7. No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense without due process of law, and no person (FOR THE SAME OFFENSE) shall be put twice in jeopardy of punishment for the same offense, nor (SHALL) be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. All persons (SHALL) before conviction shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great (; AND). The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless (WHEN) the public safety requires it in case of rebellion or invasion (THE PUBLIC SAFETY MAY REQUIRE).

Sec. 9. Treason against the state (SHALL CONSIST) consists only in levying war against the (SAME) state, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act (,) or on confession in open court.

Sec. 10. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects (,) against unreasonable searches and seizures (,) shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized.

A reasonable amount of property shall be exempt from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability. The amount of such exemption shall be determined by law. Provided, however, that all property so exempted shall be liable to seizure and sale for any debts incurred to any person for work done or materials furnished in the construction, repair or improvement of the same, and provided further, that such liability to seizure and sale shall also extend to all real property for any debt (INCURRED) to any laborer or servant for labor or service performed.

Sec. 2. Every law which upon its effective date applies to a single local government unit or to a group of such units in a single county or a number of contiguous counties is a special law and shall name the unit or, in the latter case, the counties (,) to which it applies. The legislature may enact special laws relating to local government units, but a special law, unless otherwise provided by general law, shall become effective only after its approval by the affected unit expressed through the voters or the governing body and by such majority as the legislature may direct. Any special law may be modified or superseded by a later home rule charter or amendment applicable to the same local government unit, but this does not prevent the adoption of subsequent laws on the same subject. Sec. (4) 5. The legislature shall provide by law for charter commissions. Notwithstanding any other constitutional limitations(,) the legislature may require that commission members (SHALL) be freeholders, provide for their appointment by judges of the district court, and permit any member to hold any other elective or appointive office other than judicial. Home rule charter amendments may be proposed by a charter commission or by a petition of five percent of the voters of the local government unit as determined by law and shall not become effective until approved by the voters by the majority required by law. Amendments may be proposed and adopted in any other manner provided by law. A local government unit may repeal its home rule charter and adopt a statutory form of government or a new charter upon the same majority vote as is required by law for the adoption of a charter in the first instance.
