For the purpose of selecting association or organization designees, a similar advisory commission shall be formed. In both cases, the commissions shall give appropriate notice, in writing, to the appropriate association members. The notice must describe the appointment process and invite participation and recommendations on the appointments. The commissions shall hold at least one public meeting, following which the commissions shall submit to the governor or the appropriate association or organization governing body a written report that lists the persons who have applied or been nominated or recommended for the positions, along with a description of the background and qualifications of each.

In order to assure representation of women and minorities, the governor shall assess composition of the eight other members of the board and make the appointment from any under-represented group.

Trustees designated by an association or organization, appointed by the governor, or elected or selected by the use of a procedure other than direct election by the membership of the

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 5

A house resolution commemorating Sinclair Lewis upon the 100th anniversary of his birth.

Whereas, Sinclair Lewis was born on February 7, 1885, at Sauk Centre, Minnesota; and

Whereas, he was a writer of international reputation, having produced such works as Main Street, Babbitt, Arrowsmith, Elmer Gantry, and Dodsworth; and

Whereas, his works were superb satires marked by unforgettable characters and an unmatched "ear" for the sound of common speech; and

Whereas, he was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature in 1930 and was the first American to be so honored; and

Whereas, his works still have much to teach and always have the ability to entertain; and

Whereas, he always maintained his Minnesota heritage, using it as the setting for many of his novels and choosing his old hometown of Sauk Centre as his final resting place; and

Whereas, it is appropriate to encourage the interest of Minnesota citizens in the works of Sinclair Lewis, their fellow Minnesotan; Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Minnesota that it joins with all Minnesotans to commemorate Sinclair Lewis upon the occasion of the 100th anniversary of his birth. It notes with pride his many literary works and the honors he received for them. It calls upon all Minnesotans to renew their interest in his work.

Be It Further Resolved that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives is directed to prepare enrolled copies of this resolution, to be authenticated by his signature and that of the Speaker, and present them to public libraries in Minnesota.

The motion prevailed and House Resolution No. 5 was adopted.

PROTEST AND DISSENT

Pursuant to Article IV, Section 11 of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, we, the undersigned members of the Minnesota House of Representatives, do hereby protest and dissent the actions of Minority Leader Fred Norton and members of his DFL House Caucus for obstructing and impeding the work and progress of the Minnesota Legislature. By continually trying to suspend the state Constitution, intending to pass legislation that has not received the benefit of public committee hearings, Norton et al. have disrupted the legislative process and brought shame to this great institution.

We see the DFL Caucus' attempts as sheer demagoguery, intended to further politicize and partisanize the legislative process. The obstructionist behavior of the minority caucus is dilatory. It is delaying dealing with the very issues they claim they want addressed. House members have spent many hours in the chamber, wrangling over parliamentary procedure.

Such obstructionist behavior polarizes House members along party lines, making it more difficult to arrive at bipartisan solutions to the problems facing our state. The public is best served if Republicans and Democrats work together, to make necessary changes. Obstructing the business of the House is creating animosity that will hinder chances for reconciliation in April and May, when it is needed most.

Most of all, the DFL Caucus' attempts to rush through legislation, without the benefit of committee hearings, denies the public the chance to influence the laws that will govern their lives. Citizens and taxpayers deserve the chance to testify for, and against, proposed legislation. It is ironic that DFLers, who claim their party is the "party of openness," want to close the process by passing laws without public hearings. It is a question of basic fairness and common sense. The underpinnings of our democracy dictate that citizens be allowed to question and comment on public policy before it is adopted.

It is unfortunate that the new House minority caucus, apparently unaccustomed to its current role, is engaging in political brinksmanship at the expense of good public policy and fairness to Minnesota citizens. It is our hope that such unconscionable acts will cease, and that the Minnesota House will be allowed to conduct the public's business in a fair, open and honest manner.
