Sec. 25. [TRUCK OVERWEIGHT PENALTIES; REFUNDS.]

The commissioner of public safety may pay refunds of civil penalties collected for truck weight violations cited by state patrol officers and committed while crossing the marked trunk highway No. 169 bridge between the cities of Anoka and Champlin between January 15, 1988, and November 15, 1988. Page 120, after line 31, insert:

“Sec. 15. [126.027] [SEX EDUCATION.]

Subdivision 1. [PURPOSE.] It is the intent of the legislature to help young people respond responsibly when making decisions about what is appropriate sexual behavior.

Subd. 2. [EMPHASIZE ABSTINENCE.] All public elementary, junior high, and senior high school classes that teach sex education and discuss sexual intercourse shall emphasize that abstinence from sexual intercourse is the only protection that is 100 percent effective against unwanted teenage pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases, and acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) when transmitted sexually.

Subd. 3. [SEX EDUCATION GUIDELINES.] All sex education courses and courses that discuss sexual intercourse must satisfy the following criteria:

(1) Course material and instruction must be age appropriate.

(2) Course material and instruction must stress that abstinence is the only contraceptive method which is 100 percent effective, and that all other methods of contraception carry a risk of failure in preventing unwanted teenage pregnancy. Statistics based on the latest medical information must be provided to students citing the failure and success rates of condoms and other contraceptives in preventing pregnancy.

(3) Course material and instruction must stress that sexually transmitted diseases are serious possible hazards of sexual intercourse. Students must be provided with statistics based on the latest medical information citing the failure and success rates of condoms in preventing AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases.

(4) Course material and instruction must include a discussion of the possible emotional and psychological consequences of preadolescent and adolescent sexual intercourse outside of marriage and the consequences of unwanted adolescent pregnancy.

(5) Course material and instruction must stress that students should abstain from sexual intercourse until they are ready for marriage.

(6) Course material and instruction must teach honor and respect for monogamous heterosexual marriage.

(7) Course material and instruction must advise students of the laws pertaining to their financial responsibility to children born in and out of wedlock.

(8) Course material and instruction must advise students that it is unlawful to have sexual relations with persons to whom they are not married.

(9) Course material and instruction must emphasize that students have the power to control personal behavior. Students must be encouraged to base their actions on reasoning, self-discipline, sense of responsibility, self-control, and ethical considerations, such as respect for one's self and others.

(10) Course materials and instruction must teach students not to make unwanted physical and verbal sexual advances, how to say no to unwanted sexual advances, and that it is wrong to take advantage of or exploit another person."

"Sec. 32. [SEX EDUCATION MATERIALS.]

Subdivision 1. [VIDEO TAPES AND SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS.] (a) The commissioner of education must contract with an organization to develop video tapes and supplementary materials that help young people respond responsibly when making decisions about appropriate sexual behavior. The commissioner must review the video tapes and supplementary materials to ensure that the tapes and materials, at a minimum, do all of the following:

(1) present the main theme of sexual abstinence and responsibility to students in grades 7 through 12;

(2) be student-centered, not teacher-centered, using students as presenters in the videos to reflect the pressure students feel from their peers, both male and female, and from the media;

(3) be acceptable for presentation on television and of high enough quality to be used as shorts on television as public service announcements;

(4) focus on the process of decision making that students use when confronted with a decision about engaging in sex, with the video portraying refusal skills and reflecting the decisionmaking processes taught in the school curriculum;

(5) portray vignettes dispelling myths on why students engage in sex;

(6) portray strategies for males and females to say no;

(7) discuss the topic of abstinence and encourage students to take responsibility and make ethical and reasoned decisions in the prevention of teen pregnancy, with the idea of the video tapes being used over a long period of time;

(8) represent a broad spectrum of approaches ensuring diversity in terms of age and maturity levels, ethnicity, and urban, suburban, and rural environments; and

(9) encourage youth to resist negative peer pressure.

(b) The commissioner must integrate existing educational materials with the video tapes and supplementary materials and distribute the video tapes and supplementary materials to all school districts.

Subd. 2. [FUNDING.] Adolescent Family Life Demonstration Project grants available may be used to purchase or contract for the development of video tapes and supplementary materials.

Sec. 33. [NO EXPLICIT MATERIALS.]

To protect the pupils' natural latency, a school district must not use sexually explicit materials as part of its health and sexual education curriculum for pupils in kindergarten to grade four."
