Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 7: A Senate concurrent resolution declaring an economic emergency; declaring the need for Congressional hearings on the crisis, federal legislation, and the use of the powers of the state's executive branch.

WHEREAS, the State of Minnesota, one of the major agricultural states in the United States, is suffering from a financial crisis in agriculture that affects the entire economic health of this state, as well as the economic health of the midwestern and national economies; and

WHEREAS, this financial crisis that affects agricultural producers has grown to include the business communities which together form the core of the midwestern economy; and

WHEREAS, the factors which created this crisis are beyond the capacity of individuals to manage or control, including sustained high interest rates, declining land values which have eroded farm equity, commodity prices below the cost of production, and successive years of weather-related problems; and

WHEREAS, if current economic conditions continue, over 18,000 of Minnesota's 94,000 farms currently burdened with a high debt-to-asset ratio face the likelihood of insolvency within the next two years; and

WHEREAS, the value of Minnesota's agricultural land plunged by 4.2 billion dollars during 1984, which represents a 15 percent drop in the value of agricultural land in 12 months, the largest single year decrease in price since the depression of the 1930's, and which caps a 31 percent drop in agricultural land value since 1981; and

WHEREAS, the value of assets lost in this financial crisis has already negatively affected the machinery market and has forced many farm implement dealers and related agricultural service businesses into bankruptcy; and

WHEREAS, the average Minnesota farmer recorded a net farm income loss of $2,425 during 1983, and average United States net farm income dropped to $6,793 which represents an income $3,470 below the federal poverty level for a family of four; and

WHEREAS, experts expect this crisis to broaden during the immediate weeks prior to the spring 1985 planting season, thus endangering the financial health of farmers, state and federally chartered lending institutions, rural small businesses, and agricultural manufacturers; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, that the legislature declares Minnesota to be in a state of economic emergency due to an agricultural depression.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Congress of the United States should immediately hold local and statewide hearings involving the United States Department of Agriculture and federal credit officials to examine the current crisis and to determine the immediate actions necessary to alleviate this crisis, and Congress should use the 1985 federal farm bill to restructure the financial burden currently facing agricultural producers and businesses.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature of the State of Minnesota calls upon the Governor to use the powers of the executive branch to address this state of economic emergency brought on by this agricultural depression.

Mr. Moe, R.D. moved the adoption of the foregoing resolution. The motion prevailed. So the resolution was adopted.
