S. F. No. 2358: A bill for an act relating to transportation; establishing the Minnesota state transportation fund for the appropriation of money to subdivisions of the state for public lands, buildings, and capital improvements needed for public transportation; authorizing the issuance of state bonds for the purposes of the trunk highway fund and the transportation fund; and appropriating money in connection therewith.

Reports the same back with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof:

"Section 1. [PURPOSE.] It is determined that there is a critical need to preserve and improve transportation facilities throughout the state which cannot be met by local effort without state financial assistance. The rate of completion of the interstate portion and upgrading of the remainder of the state's highway system has fallen behind the rate of traffic growth, resulting in serious traffic hazards and delays that affect the personal safety, quality of life, and economic welfare of citizens. The highway traffic problem is accentuated by the deficiency in the quality and quantity of public transportation available in urban areas, large and small. This deficiency is itself largely caused by the inability of public transportation to compete economically with private automobiles, without financial support comparable to that given highway construction. Its most serious effect is to limit severely the life and liberty of many persons who because of age, physical or mental characteristics, or economic circumstances are unable to use automobiles. For many more it compels the use of automobiles, often more than one per family, for daily attendance at work and school and for transportation in emergencies, notwithstanding cost that may reduce remaining living resources below poverty levels, and notwithstanding unacceptable safety hazards often resulting from physical handicaps or inexperience. And for many high cost makes it impossible to acquire and maintain vehicles that can operate at acceptable safety and pollution control levels, thus aggravating the traffic and pollution hazards created by sheer numbers of vehicles. Capital and maintenance cost of the principal arterial highways of this state cannot be adequately met from existing sources of funds. Similar costs of adequate public transportation in urban areas cannot be met by user fees without subsidy, or even with subsidy to the extent this is possible from property taxes or other resources available to local units of government. It is determined that state financial assistance in meeting the capital cost of public transportation in urban areas and constructing and reconstructing the state's principal arterial highways is a proper function of state government and is necessary to protect the safety and the personal and economic welfare of the citizens of the state at large.

Sec. 2. [PRINCIPAL ARTERIAL HIGHWAY BOND AUTHORIZATION AND APPROPRIATION.] Subdivision 1. The state auditor is authorized and directed, upon request of the commissioner of transportation, to issue and sell Minnesota state transportation bonds in accordance with the provisions of section 4 of this act and Article IX, Section 6 of the Constitution, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $120,000,000, which sum, or so much thereof as shall be required, is appropriated from the proceeds of such bonds to the commissioner of transportation for grants to counties and municipalities for use in constructing and reconstructing the principal arterial highways of this state. This appropriation shall not lapse or cancel until the purpose for which it is made has been accomplished or abandoned. The amount of each grant approved for disbursement shall be and remain appropriated for that purpose until the grant is fully disbursed or part or all thereof is revoked by the department of transportation.

Subd. 2. The department of transportation shall promulgate regulations, standards, and priorities for the administration of grants authorized in accordance with subdivision 1.

Subd. 3. Applications by counties and municipalities for grants for the funds provided for by subdivision 1 shall be made through regional planning agencies to the department of transportation on forms requiring information prescribed by the regulations of the department of transportation. The regional agency shall certify to the department of transportation those applications which appear to meet the standards and criteria set forth by the department of transportation and the regulations promulgated hereunder, and the department of transportation shall direct grants to be disbursed on the basis of the standards, criteria and priorities established in its regulations and in this section; provided that no disbursement shall be made until and unless the agency has by resolution determined the total estimated cost of the project, and ascertained that its financing is assured by the appropriation of the proceeds of bonds or other funds of the counties and municipalities sufficient to pay the estimated cost in excess of the grant, including funds to be granted to it by the federal government if the department ascertains that such funds are then appropriated and allocated by the federal government to projects within the state and that the projects have complied with all conditions under federal law and regulations for a grant of the nature and in the amount involved.

Sec. 3. [PRINCIPAL ARTERIAL BONDS.] Subdivision 1. For the purpose of providing money appropriated to the counties and municipalities of the state from the principal arterial highway funds authorized by section 2 for constructing and reconstructing the state's principal arterial highways, in accordance with section 2, when authorized by law and requested by the commissioner of transportation, the state auditor shall sell and issue bonds of the state of Minnesota for the prompt and full payment of which, with interest thereon, the full faith, credit, and taxing powers of the state are irrevocably pledged. Bonds shall be issued pursuant to this section only as authorized by a law specifying the purpose thereof and the maximum amount of the proceeds authorized to be expended for this purpose. Any act authorizing the issuance of bonds for this purpose, together with this section, constitutes complete authority for such issue, and such bonds shall not be subject to restrictions or limitations contained in any other law.

Subd. 2. Upon request and authorization as provided in subdivision 1 the state auditor shall sell and issue Minnesota state principal arterial bonds in the aggregate amount requested, upon sealed bids and upon such notice, at such price, in such form and denominations, bearing interest at such rate or rates, maturing in such amounts and on such dates, without option of prepayment or subject to prepayment upon such notice and at such times and prices, payable at such bank or banks within or outside the state, with such provisions for registration, conversion, and exchange and for the issuance of notes in anticipation of the sale or delivery of definitive bonds, and in accordance with such further regulations as the auditor shall determine, subject to the approval of the attorney general, but not subject to the provisions of sections 15.0411 to 15.0422. The bonds shall be executed by the state auditor and attested by the state treasurer under their official seals. The signatures of the officers on the bonds and any appurtenant interest coupons and their seals may be printed, lithographed, engraved, or stamped thereon, except that each bond shall be authenticated by the manual signature on its face of one of the officers or of an officer of a bank designated by them as authenticating agent.

The state auditor shall ascertain and certify to the purchasers of the bonds the performance and existence of all acts, conditions, and things necessary to make them valid and binding general obligations of the state of Minnesota, subject to the approval of the attorney general.

Subd. 3. All expenses incidental to the sale, printing, execution, and delivery of bonds pursuant to this section, including but not limited to actual and necessary travel and subsistence expenses of state officers and employees for such purposes, shall be paid from the state principal arterial funds, and the amounts necessary therefor are appropriated from that fund; provided that if any amount is specifically appropriated for this purpose in an act authorizing the issuance of bonds pursuant to this section, such expenses shall be limited to the amount so appropriated.

Subd. 4. The state auditor shall maintain in the state bond fund a separate bookkeeping account which shall be designated as the state principal arterial bond account, to record receipts and disbursements of money transferred to the fund to pay Minnesota state principal arterial bonds and income from the investment of such money, which income shall be credited to the account in each fiscal year in an amount equal to the approximate average return that year on all funds invested by the state treasurer, as determined by the treasurer, times the average balance in the account that year.

Subd. 5. The premium and accrued interest received on each issue of Minnesota state principal arterial bonds shall be credited to the bond account. In order to reduce the amount of taxes otherwise required to be levied, there shall also be credited to the bond account from the general fund in the state treasury, on November 1 in each year, a sum of money sufficient in amount, when added to the balance then on hand therein, to pay all Minnesota state principal arterial bonds and interest thereon due and to become due to and including July 1 in the second ensuing year. All money so credited and all income from the investment thereof is annually appropriated to the bond account for the payment of such bonds and interest thereon, and shall be available in the bond account prior to the levy of the tax in any year required by the Constitution, Article IX, Section 6, Subdivision 4. The state auditor and treasurer are directed to make the appropriate entries in the accounts of the respective funds.

Subd. 6. On or before December 1 in each year the state auditor shall levy on all taxable property within the state whatever tax may be necessary to produce an amount sufficient, with all money then and theretofore credited to the bond account, to pay the entire amount of principal and interest then and theretofore due and principal and interest to become due on or before July 1 in the second year thereafter on Minnesota state principal arterial bonds. This tax shall be levied upon all real property used for the purposes of a homestead, as well as other taxable property, notwithstanding the provisions of section 273.13, subdivisions 6 and 7, and shall be subject to no limitation of rate or amount until all such bonds and interest thereon are fully paid. The proceeds of this tax are appropriated and shall be credited to the state bond fund, and the principal of and interest on the bonds are payable from such proceeds, and the whole thereof, or so much as may be necessary, is appropriated for such payments. If at any time there is insufficient money from the proceeds of such taxes to pay the principal and interest when due on Minnesota state principal arterial bonds, such principal and interest shall be paid out of the general fund in the state treasury, and the amount necessary therefor is hereby appropriated.

Sec. 4. [MINNESOTA STATE TRANSPORTATION FUND.]

Subdivision 1. A Minnesota state transportation fund is created as a separate bookkeeping account in the general books of account of the state, to record receipts of the proceeds of state bonds and any other money appropriated to the fund and disbursements from the fund to subdivisions of the state for the acquisition and betterment of public land and buildings and other public improvements of a capital nature needed to provide adequate public transportation in urban areas, in accordance with the long-range state policies and purposes defined in subdivision 2, and in accordance with standards established in regulations to be adopted by the department of transportation pursuant to law, and to be prepared in consultation with the regional development commissions and the metropolitan council established under the provisions of Minnesota Statutes, Sections 462.381 to 462.396 and Chapter 473B, referred to in this section as "regional planning agencies", and in consultation with the "subdivisions" defined and referred to in this section. "Subdivisions" referred to in this section include the metropolitan transit commission created by Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 473A, and any other public body now or hereafter given power by law or a city charter to operate public transportation facilities in any defined area, and any city, village, or borough outside the area of operation of such a public body.

Subd. 2. It is the policy of the state to assist its subdivisions in providing, so far as possible, public transportation facilities in all urban areas within the state by providing state funding for public transportation capital improvements. The department of transportation and regional planning agencies are directed to prepare and revise annually a program of capital grants to subdivisions for specific projects which will implement this plan and policy. Capital costs eligible to be paid from such grants shall include all expenses of the kinds enumerated in Minnesota Statutes, Section 475.65.

Subd. 3. The department of transportation shall promulgate regulations for the administration of grants authorized to be made from the fund.

Subd. 4. The regulations of the department shall provide that a high priority shall be given to applications from subdivisions which, because of limited tax base, excessive bonded indebtedness, or critical conditions of public transportation service, would face extreme financial hardship without assistance from the state transportation fund, and to applications for systems to serve more than one municipality.

Subd. 5. Applications by subdivisions for grants from the fund shall be made through regional planning agencies to the department of transportation on forms requiring information prescribed by the regulations of the department of transportation. The regional agency shall certify to the department of transportation those applications which appear to meet the standards and criteria set forth by the department of transportation and the regulations promulgated hereunder, and the department of transportation shall direct grants to be disbursed from the fund on the basis of the standards, criteria and priorities established in its regulations and in this section; provided that no disbursement shall be made until and unless the agency has by resolution determined the total estimated cost of the project, and ascertained that its financing is assured by the appropriation of the proceeds of bonds or other funds of the subdivision sufficient to pay the estimated cost in excess of the grant, including funds to be granted to it by the federal government if the department ascertains that such funds are then appropriated and allocated by the federal government to projects within the state and that the subdivision has complied with all conditions under federal law and regulations for a grant of the nature and in the amount involved.

Sec. 5. [MINNESOTA STATE TRANSPORTATION BONDS.]
Subdivision 1. For the purpose of providing money appropriated to subdivisions of the state from the Minnesota state transportation fund for the acquisition and betterment of public land, buildings, and improvements of a capital nature needed to provide adequate public transportation in urban areas in accordance with the provisions of section 4, when authorized by law and requested by the commissioner of transportation, the state auditor shall sell and issue bonds of the state of Minnesota for the prompt and full payment of which, with interest thereon, the full faith, credit, and taxing powers of the state are irrevocably pledged. Bonds shall be issued pursuant to this section only as authorized by a law specifying the purpose thereof and the maximum amount of the proceeds authorized to be expended for this purpose. Any act authorizing the issuance of bonds for this purpose, together with this section, constitutes complete authority for such issue, and such bonds shall not be subject to restrictions or limitations contained in any other law.

Subd. 2. Upon request and authorization as provided in subdivision 1 the state auditor shall sell and issue Minnesota state transportation bonds in the aggregate amount requested, upon sealed bids and upon such notice, at such price, in such form and denominations, bearing interest at such rate or rates, maturing in such amounts and on such dates, without option of prepayment or subject to prepayment upon such notice and at such times and prices, payable at such bank or banks within or outside the state, with such provisions for registration, conversion, and exchange and for the issuance of notes in anticipation of the sale or delivery of definitive bonds, and in accordance with such further regulations, as the auditor shall determine, subject to the approval of the attorney general, but not subject to the provisions of sections 15.0411 to 15.0422. The bonds shall be executed by the state auditor and attested by the state treasurer under their official seals. The signatures of the officers on the bonds and any appurtenant interest coupons and their seals may be printed, lithographed, engraved, or stamped thereon, except that each bond shall be authenticated by the manual signature on its face of one of the officers or of an officer of a bank designated by them as authenticating agent. The state auditor shall ascertain and certify to the purchasers of the bonds the performance and existence of all acts, conditions, and things necessary to make them valid and binding general obligations of the state of Minnesota, subject to the approval of the attorney general.

Subd. 3. All expenses incidental to the sale, printing, execution, and delivery of bonds pursuant to this section, including but not limited to actual and necessary travel and subsistence expenses of state officers and employees for such purposes, shall be paid from the state transportation fund, and the amounts necessary therefor are appropriated from that fund; provided that if any amount is specifically appropriated for this purpose in an act authorizing the issuance of bonds pursuant to this section, such expenses shall be limited to the amount so appropriated.

Subd. 4. The state auditor shall maintain in the state bond fund a separate bookkeeping account which shall be designated as the state transportation bond account, to record receipts and disbursements of money transferred to the fund to pay Minnesota state transportation bonds and income from the investment of such money, which income shall be credited to the account in each fiscal year in an amount equal to the approximate average return that year on all funds invested by the state treasurer, as determined by the treasurer, times the average balance in the account that year.

Subd. 5. The premium and accrued interest received on each issue of Minnesota state transportation bonds shall be credited to the bond account. In order to reduce the amount of taxes otherwise required to be levied, there shall also be credited to the bond account from the general fund in the state treasury, on November 1 in each year, a sum of money sufficient in amount, when added to the balance then on hand therein, to pay all Minnesota state transportation bonds and interest thereon due and to become due to and including July 1 in the second ensuing year. All money so credited and all income from the investment thereof is annually appropriated to the bond account for the payment of such bonds and interest thereon, and shall be available in the bond account prior to the levy of the tax in any year required by the Constitution, Article IX, Section 6, Subdivision 4. The state auditor and treasurer are directed to make the appropriate entries in the accounts of the respective funds.

Subd. 6. On or before December 1 in each year the state auditor shall levy on all taxable property within the state whatever tax may be necessary to produce an amount sufficient, with all money then theretofore credited to the bond account, to pay the entire amount of principal and interest then and theretofore due and principal and interest to become due on or before July 1 in the second year thereafter on Minnesota state transportation bonds.

This tax shall be levied upon all real property used for the purposes of a homestead, as well as other taxable property, notwithstanding the provisions of section 273.13, subdivisions 6 and 7, and shall be subject to no limitation of rate or amount until all such bonds and interest thereon are fully paid. The proceeds of this tax are appropriated and shall be credited to the state bond fund, and the principal of and interest on the bonds are payable from such proceeds, and the whole thereof, or so much as may be necessary, is appropriated for such payments. If at any time there is insufficient money from the proceeds of such taxes to pay the principal and interest when due on Minnesota state transportation bonds, such principal and interest shall be paid out of the general fund in the state treasury, and the amount necessary therefor is hereby appropriated.

Sec. 6. [TRANSPORTATION BOND AUTHORIZATION AND APPROPRIATION.] The state auditor is authorized and directed, upon request of the commissioner of transportation, to issue and sell Minnesota state transportation bonds in accordance with the provisions of section 4 of this act and of the Constitution, Article IX, Section 6, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $80,000,000, which sum, or so much thereof as shall be required, is appropriated from the proceeds of the bonds to the Minnesota state transportation fund created in section 4, and shall be used, with any other money in that fund, solely for the purpose of providing money which is hereby appropriated from that fund to subdivisions of the state for the acquisition and betterment of public land and buildings and other public improvements of a capital nature needed to provide adequate public transportation in urban areas, in accordance with the provisions of section 4. This appropriation shall not lapse until the purpose for which it is made has been accomplished or abandoned. The amount of each grant approved for disbursement from the Minnesota state transportation fund shall be and remain appropriated for that purpose until the grant is fully disbursed or part or all thereof is revoked by the department of transportation.

Sec. 7. [TRANSFER OF POWERS.] Should this legislature fail by July 1, 1973, to enact a law authorizing the creation of a department of transportation, the powers and duties of sections 2 and 3 of this act shall be assumed by the department of highways, and the powers and duties of sections 4 through 6 of this act shall be assumed by the state planning agency.

Sec. 8. [SEVERABILITY.] The invalidity of any provision of this act shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the act.

Provided further that if the appropriation under section 2, subdivision 8, should be insufficient for either year, then the appropriation for the other year shall be available therefor by direction of the governor after consulting with the legislative advisory committee.

(b) Unless the 1973 legislature enacts legislation to the contrary, authority is hereby granted to the commissioner of corrections to transfer appropriations between all subdivisions of section 3, except for subdivision 1a in the best interest of the security and rehabilitation programs and for more efficient utilization of personnel and facilities. Of the appropriation provided by section 3, subdivision 1a, funds may be transferred from this appropriation to other appropriations in section 3, but in no case may transfers from the other appropriations in section 3 be made to section 3, subdivision 1a. Such transfers shall be made with the written approval of the governor after consulting with the legislative advisory committee.

ARTICLE II

Section 1. [GENERAL ASSISTANCE ACT; DECLARATION OF POLICY; CITATION.] Subdivision 1. The objectives of sections 1 to 30 are to provide a sound administrative structure for public assistance programs; to maximize the use of federal funds for public assistance purposes; to provide property tax relief; and to provide an integrated public assistance program for all persons in the state without adequate income or resources to maintain a subsistence reasonably compatible with decency and health.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of this state that persons unable to provide for themselves and not otherwise provided for by law, who meet the eligibility requirements of this act and do not refuse suitable employment, shall be entitled to receive such grants of general assistance and such services as may be necessary to maintain a subsistence reasonably compatible with decency and health. The furnishing of such assistance and services is a matter of public concern and a necessity in promoting the public health and welfare.

A principal objective in providing general assistance and services shall be to aid those persons who can be helped to become self-supporting or to attain self-care. To achieve this aim, the commissioner shall establish minimum standards of assistance for general assistance. The standard for cash payments to recipients shall be, as to shelter, 100 percent, and as to other budgetary items, 50 percent, of those established for the federally aided assistance programs; provided, however, that no general assistance payment shall exceed an amount, which when computed for the time period for which it is made, exceeds the equivalent on a weekly basis of 40 times the hourly federal minimum wage prevailing when the payment is made; and provided further that persons receiving general relief on the effective date of this act shall continue to be eligible therefor. In order to maximize the use of federal funds, the commissioner shall promulgate regulations, to the extent permitted by federal law for eligibility for the emergency assistance program, under the terms of this act for general assistance. The commissioner shall provide by regulation for the eligibility for general assistance of persons with seasonal income, and may attribute seasonal income to other periods not in excess of one year from receipt by an applicant or recipient. The strengthening and preservation of the family unit shall be a principal consideration in the administration of this act and all general assistance policies shall be formulated and administered so as to further this objective.

Subd. 2. Sections 1 to 30 may be cited as the general assistance act.

General assistance shall be immediately granted to such presumptively eligible applicant without the necessity of first securing action by the board of the local agency.*

If upon verification and due investigation it appears that the applicant swore falsely and such false information materially affected his eligibility for general assistance or the amount of his general assistance grant, the local agency shall refer the matter to the county attorney. The county attorney may commence a criminal prosecution or a civil action for the recovery of any general assistance wrongfully received, or both.

Sec. 8. [EXCLUSION FROM RESOURCES.] Subdivision 1. In determining eligibility of a family or individual there shall be excluded the following resources:

(2) Other property, including real or personal property used as a home, which has been determined, in accordance with and subject to limitations contained in rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner, to be essential to the family or individual as a means of self-support or self-care or which is producing income that is being used for the support of the individual or family. The commissioner shall further provide by rule and regulation for those situations in which property may be retained by the family or individual where there is a reasonable probability that in the foreseeable future the property will be used for the self-support of the individual or family.

Subd. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, the commissioner shall provide by rule and regulation for the exclusion of property from the determination of eligibility for general assistance when it appears likely that the need for general assistance will not exceed 30 days and an undue hardship would be imposed on an individual or family by the forced disposal of such property.

Sec. 11. [WORK INCENTIVE AND REGISTRATION.] *Subdivision 1. Subd. 7. Any person who objects to being required to register with the commissioner or state employment service, shall be entitled to a prior hearing in accord with the provisions of section 10 on the issue of whether such person comes within the exemptions contained in subdivision 4, clause (1), (2), (3), or (4).

Subd. 8. (1) Any person who refuses to accept suitable employment when offered him shall lose his eligibility for general assistance and, if a member of a family receiving general assistance, that portion of the grant attributable to said person shall not be paid.

The commissioner may further provide by rule and regulation that vendor payments may be made with respect to any family in which a person who is obligated to accept suitable employment has refused to do so.

(2) The provisions of section 10 providing for notice and opportunity to be heard prior to a decision to reduce, suspend or terminate benefits shall be applicable to determinations made under clause (1) of this subdivision.

Subd. 9. The commissioner shall establish procedures to insure that any recipient of general assistance desiring to improve his

Sec. 12. [ADMINISTRATIVE AND JUDICIAL REVIEW.]
Subdivision 1. Any applicant or recipient aggrieved by any order or determination of a local agency may appeal from such order or determination to the commissioner of public welfare. The aggrieved applicant or recipient shall file with the local agency a notice of appeal within 30 days of the receipt by him of the order or determination of the local agency, provided that the order or determination is in writing and contains a statement advising the applicant or recipient of his right to appeal and the procedures for perfecting same.

If the order or determination of the local agency is not in writing or does not contain the appeal procedure statement referred to above, the 30-day period shall not be tolled until the applicant or recipient is properly notified in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision.

Notwithstanding the absence of proper notice or order or determination, the applicant or recipient may appeal to the commissioner by filing with the local agency any writing which states with reasonable clarity his dissatisfaction with or desire to obtain review of the determination or order of the local agency.

Subd. 2. Upon receipt the local agency shall immediately forward the notice of appeal to the commissioner. Within 30 days of the receipt of the notice of appeal, the commissioner shall provide the applicant or recipient with the opportunity for a hearing before the commissioner or his legal representative. summarily, upon ten days' written notice, try and determine the appeal upon the record of the commissioner as certified by the commissioner and in the determination thereof shall be governed by the standard of review applicable to contested proceedings under Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 15. No new or additional evidence shall be taken on such appeal or introduced by any party to such hearing or appeal in a district court unless such new or additional evidence in the sound discretion of the court is necessary to a more equitable disposition of the appeal. If the court shall find that the order of the commissioner is not sustained by substantial evidence or is not in accord with applicable legal principles, the court shall make an order declaring the order of the commissioner null and void, giving the reasons therefor, and shall order the commissioner to take further action in the matter not inconsistent with the determination of the court. During the pendency of any appeal, if the commissioner has awarded general assistance, it shall be paid pending the determination of the appeal.

Subd. 6. Any party aggrieved by the determination of the district court may appeal to the supreme court in like manner as appeals are taken in civil actions, except that no filing fee shall be required by the clerk of the district court or supreme court.

The determination of the district court shall remain in effect during the pendency of any appeal to the supreme court.

In preparing the plans the council shall consider and give effect to policy statements, purposes, goals, standards, and maps in its development guide and in the chapters of the Minnesota Statutes directly relating to the commissions. Each such policy plan shall include, to the extent appropriate to the functions covered thereby, the following:

(a) a statement of the needs of the metropolitan area with respect to the functions covered and the objective of and the policies to be forwarded by the policy plan;

(b) a general description of the physical facilities and services to be developed by the commission in performing its functions;

(c) a statement as to the general location of physical facilities and service areas;

(d) a general statement of timing and priorities in the development by the commission of those physical facilities and service areas;

(e) a general statement on level of public expenditure both capital and operating appropriate to the facilities and a statement of the relationship of the policy plan to other policy plans and chapters of the metropolitan development guide;

(f) a general statement of the relationships to any current local comprehensive plans and any related development programs on file with the council; and

(g) such additional general information as may be necessary to develop the policy plan or as may be required by the laws relating to the commission and function covered by the policy plan.

(2) In preparing or amending a policy plan the council shall consult with and employ the expertise of the affected commission, and each such commission shall cooperate with and make its employees, records, studies, plans and other information available to the council. Before adopting a policy plan, the council shall submit a proposed policy plan to the affected commission for its review, and the commission shall report its comments to the council within 90 days and may, within that period request the council to hold a special public meeting for the purpose of receiving the commission's report and comments. After receipt of the commission's report and such meeting, if any, the council shall make appropriate revisions to the policy plan and shall call and hold a public hearing on the proposed policy plan as revised at such time and place in the metropolitan area as it shall determine. Not less than 45 days before the hearing, the council shall publish notice thereof in a newspaper or newspapers having general circulation in the metropolitan area, stating the date, time and place of hearing, and the place where the proposed policy plan and commission comments may be examined by any interested person. At any hearing all interested persons shall be permitted to present their views on the policy plan. The hearing may be continued from time to time. Each such policy plan may be amended on the council's own initiative or upon the request of an affected commission. At least every four years the council shall engage in a comprehensive review of the policy plan. Development guide policy plans satisfying the requirements of paragraph 2 which heretofore have been adopted by the council pursuant to subdivision 5 of Minnesota Statutes, Section 473B.06, shall be deemed prepared and adopted pursuant to this subdivision; provided, that the council shall not amend a development policy plan so adopted except in accordance with the procedures herein established.

Sec. 10. [473B.061] [REVIEW BY COUNCIL.] Subdivision 1. [PURPOSE.] In order to achieve the goal of orderly and economic development in the metropolitan area, it is essential that a framework be established to coordinate effectively the various proposals, projects, improvements, programs, expenditures and plans covered by this section. The purpose of this section is to provide such a framework by requiring the council to review and comment on or approve as herein provided such proposals, projects, improvements, programs, expenditures and plans.

Subd. 2. [METROPOLITAN SIGNIFICANCE.] The council shall adopt regulations establishing standards and guidelines for determining whether any proposed public or private capital improvements, services or facilities (herein improvements) within the metropolitan area have metropolitan significance. Any undertaking for which the council determines that capital expenditures in excess of $10,000,000 will be required shall be deemed to have metropolitan significance. In addition, in developing the standards and guidelines the council shall consider the following:

(a) the impact of improvements on the orderly economic development, public and private, of the metropolitan area and their consistency with the development guide;

(b) the impact of improvements on policy plans adopted by the council and on the development programs and functions performed and to be performed by the metropolitan commissions; and

(c) the relationship of improvements to the policy statements, goals, standards, programs and other applicable provisions of the development guide.

The council shall establish an advisory board consisting of elected officials of local governmental units to advise it in the preparation of the regulations. The regulations shall include review procedures not inconsistent with other provisions of this act and shall provide that no person or local governments unit will be required to submit a proposed improvement more than once, unless it is materially altered, and shall further provide reasonable times by which the council shall complete its review and, where appropriate, recommendation.

Subd. 3. [REVIEW OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS.] (1) The council, within 60 days after receiving the application, shall review all applications of commissions and local governmental units for loan, grant or loan guarantee for improvements of metropolitan significance from the United State of America or any agency thereof. If federal law or a federal agency requires review by a regional agency, applications of commissions and local government units for loans or grants shall be submitted to and reviewed by the council in accordance with procedures provided in this subdivision. Each commission and local governmental unit before submitting such an application to the United States government or an agency thereof shall first transmit the application to the metropolitan council for its comments and recommendations with respect to whether or not the project proposed is consistent with the comprehensive development guide for the metropolitan area including the priorities established by the guide. The comments and recommendations made by the metropolitan council shall then become a part of the application and if submitted to the United States of America or an agency thereof, such comments and recommendations shall also be submitted.

(2) The council shall also review, comment on and approve all applications of such commissions and local governmental units for grants or allocations from funds made available by the United States of America to the metropolitan area for regional facilities pursuant to a federal revenue sharing or similar program, requiring that the funds be received and granted or allocated or that grants or allocations be approved by a regional governmental entity. Each such application shall be submitted for review at the time and in the form prescribed by the council.

Subd. 4. [REVIEW OF APPLICATION FOR STATE FUNDS.] The council shall review all applications or requests of commissions and local governmental units for state funds allocated or granted for improvements of metropolitan significance. Each such commission and governmental unit shall, before transmitting an application or request to the state, submit the application or request to the council for its comments and recommendations with respect to whether or not the project for which funds are proposed to be expended is consistent with the comprehensive development guide for the metropolitan area, including the priorities established by the guide. The comments and recommendations shall be submitted to the state along with the application or request.

Subd. 5. [REVIEW OF CAPITAL PLANS AND PROJECTS OF STATE.] Each state agency of the state of Minnesota shall, prior to the adoption or implementation of any capital improvement plan or the undertaking of any capital improvement project having metropolitan significance, submit to the council the proposed plan or a description of the proposed project. The council, within 60 days after receiving the plans, shall review each such plan or project and prepare and file with the submitting governmental unit, institution, department, or commission its written comments and recommendations as to whether the plan or project is consistent with the comprehensive development guide for the metropolitan area. No such plan may be adopted or implemented and no such project may be undertaken prior to the filing by the council of its comments and recommendations or the passage of 120 days from the date of submission of the plan or project description to the council, whichever is the sooner. Plans or projects for the acquisition of land for or the construction of highways, roads or bridges having metropolitan significance shall be reviewed and approved pursuant to the provisions of article III.

Subd. 6. [COUNCIL REVIEW; MUNICIPALITIES.] Each city, village, borough, town, and county all or part of which lies within the metropolitan area, shall submit to the metropolitan council for comment and recommendation thereon its proposed long-term comprehensive plans, including but not limited to plans for land use. The proposed plans shall be submitted to the council after their approval by the planning commission of the local government unit and before final approval by the governing body of the city, village, borough, town or county. The council shall maintain such plans in its files available for inspection by members of the public. No action shall be taken to place any such plan or part thereof into effect until 90 days have elapsed after its submission to the council. Promptly after submission, the council shall notify each city, village, borough, town, county, or special district which may be affected by the plans submitted, of the general nature of the plan, the date of submission, and the identity of the submitting unit. Political subdivisions contiguous to the submitting unit shall be notified in all cases. Within 30 days after receipt of such notice any governmental unit so notified may request the council to conduct a hearing at which the submitting unit and any other governmental unit or subdivision may present its views. The council may attempt to mediate and resolve differences of opinion which exist among the participants in the hearing with respect to the plans submitted. Any major alteration to a plan subsequent to the council's review shall be submitted to and acted upon by the council in the same manner as the original plan. The comments and recommendations of the council shall be filed with the plan of the local government unit at all places where the plan is required by law to be kept on file.

Subd. 7. [PUBLIC AND PRIVATE CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS.] All capital improvements having metropolitan significance proposed to be undertaken within the metropolitan area by any person or local governmental unit shall be subject to review and recommendation by the metropolitan council. Before undertaking any such improvement, the person or governmental unit shall submit to the council, on a form prescribed by the council, a statement setting forth a description of the improvement; its function, location and estimated cost; a land acquisition and construction schedule; and such additional information as the council may deem necessary. The council shall review the statement to determine whether the proposed improvement is consistent with the comprehensive development guide and, if appropriate, the applicable policy plan and shall notify the person or governmental unit of its determination in writing setting forth the reasons the improvement is recommended or not recommended. The council may refer a proposed capital improvement to the advisory board created pursuant to subdivision 2 for its recommendations as to whether the improvement has metropolitan significance and whether it is consistent with the comprehensive development guide and applicable policy plans.

Subd. 8. [PROCEDURE FOR REVIEW AND APPROVAL.] The council shall hold a public hearing on any proposed improvement (as defined in subdivision 1) subject to its review and approval by this section. Thirty days before the hearing notice thereof shall be published in a newspaper circulated throughout the metropolitan area and shall be mailed to the state agency, local governmental unit or person proposing the improvement and to all local governmental units which may be affected by the proposed improvement. All interested parties shall be permitted to present their views on the proposed improvement and the hearing may be continued. The council shall file its decision and the reasons therefor in writing. The decision of the council that the improvement is or is not of metropolitan significance shall be subject to judicial review in the manner provided in Minnesota Statutes, Sections 15.0424 through 15.0426. The council shall be obligated to review and, on its own initiative if necessary, all improvements having metropolitan significance required to be reviewed by this section regardless of whether such proposed improvements are submitted to the council by the state agency, local governmental units or person undertaking them. Any local governmental unit which may be affected by an improvement may request that the council review it. Upon receipt of such a request, the council shall call and conduct a hearing and render a decision in the manner herein provided.

Sec. 11. [473B.062] [DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS OF COMMISSIONS.] Subdivision 1. [PREPARATION OF DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS.] Each metropolitan commission shall prepare a development program covering the detailed technical planning, engineering, financing and scheduling necessary to the development of the program elements to be performed by the commission and the implementation of the policy plan adopted by the council pursuant to section 9 of the article. The plan may include such other technical information as the commission deems necessary. The program shall cover at least the five-year period commencing with the first calendar year beginning after its submission or such longer period as the council may prescribe. The program shall describe all capital improvements to be undertaken in such period and with respect to each improvement shall include the following:

(a) a description of the improvement, its location, function and estimated cost;

(b) the proposed manner of financing the capital costs of the improvement, and the sources of revenue available for payment of such costs;

(c) a schedule showing on a yearly basis the timing of land acquisition, construction and capital expenditures for the improvement;

(d) a review and description of the public need for the improvement, alternatives to the improvement (including alternatives not involving capital expenditures), the environmental and social effects of the improvement and all actions and steps theretofore taken by the commission with respect to the improvements;

(e) an estimate of the probable impact of the improvement on the responsibilities of the other metropolitan commissions;

(f) an estimate of the annual operating costs of the improvement and the sources of revenue available for payment of such costs;

(g) an evaluation of the relative priority of the improvement vis-a-vis other capital improvements described in the program;

(h) each program shall include such additional information as the council or commission may deem appropriate.

Subd. 2. [SUBMISSION TO AND APPROVAL BY COUNCIL.] The development program prepared by the commission shall be submitted to the council for review and approval or disapproval. If the council determines that the program is consistent with the development guide it shall approve the program as submitted. If it determines that the program is inconsistent with the development guide, it shall disapprove it and return it to the submitting commission with comments and the commission shall make appropriate revisions in the program and resubmit it to the council for review and approval or disapproval. Before approving a program or returning it to the submitting commission, the council shall hold a public hearing on the program and its comments thereon, if any, in the manner prescribed by section 8 of this article. Within two years of the approval of its first development program by the council and biennially thereafter each commission shall review the program, make such revisions as are necessary, including an updating of the five-year capital improvement program, and submit the plan to the council for its review and approval or disapproval as herein provided.

Subd. 3. [EFFECT OF DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM.] After approval by the council of a development program plan the commission shall implement the program, and no capital improvements not authorized by the program shall be adopted or undertaken by the commission unless approved by the council.

Sec. 12. [473B.063] [METROPOLITAN COMMISSION BUDGETING.] Subdivision 1. [CALENDAR YEAR.] Each metropolitan commission shall adopt a budget for each calendar year.

Subd. 2. [BUDGET PREPARATION AND APPROVAL.] Each commission shall prepare a proposed budget on or before August 1 in 1974 and each year thereafter, showing for the next calendar year estimated receipts of money from all sources and funds on hand at the beginning of the calendar year, and estimated expenditures for costs of (a) operation, administration, and maintenance; (b) acquisition and betterment of capital improvements and (c) debt service. Between August 1 and October 1 of each year, the commission shall hold a public hearing on the proposed budget. Not less than 14 days before the hearing, the commission shall publish notice thereof in a newspaper having general circulation in the metropolitan area, stating the date, time and place of hearing, and the place where the proposed budget may be examined by any interested person. Those parts of the budget relating to expenditures for acquisition and betterment of capital improvements shall be submitted to the council on or before August 1 of each year and shall be subject to approval by the council. The council shall act to approve or disapprove by October 1 of each year. Before December 15 of each year the commission, after obtaining approval of the council for any changes in the capital improvements budget, shall by resolution adopt a final budget. Each commission shall file its final budget with the council on or before December 20 of each year. Except in an emergency, for which procedures shall be established by the commission, the commission and its officers, agents and employees shall not spend money for any purpose, other than debt service, without an appropriation by the commission or in excess of the amount appropriated therefor, and no obligation to make such an expenditure shall be enforceable except as the obligation of the person or persons incurring it. The creation of any debt obligation or the receipt of any federal or state grant is a sufficient appropriation of the proceeds for the purpose for which it is authorized, and of the tax or other revenues pledged to pay the obligation and interest on it whether or not specifically included in any annual budget. The commission may, after obtaining approval of the council, amend the capital improvements budget at any time by transferring any appropriation from one purpose to another, except appropriations of money for debt service, and appropriations of the proceeds of bonds issued for a specific purpose. The council shall file the budgets of all commissions with the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives not later than January 15 of each year.

Subd. 3. [PROGRAM BUDGETING.] The council may in consultation with the commissions adopt regulations providing for program budgeting (as defined in section 16.141, subdivision 1) by each of the commissions. Upon adoption of such regulations, each commission shall submit program budgets to the council in the form established by the regulations. Within three years after the effective date of this article, the council and all commissions shall adopt budgets in program budget form.

Subd. 4. [REVIEW OF USER CHARGES.] Thirty days prior to the establishment of or change in any user charges or fees or schedule of user charges or fees the commission shall forthwith submit proposed charges or fees or schedule to the council. The council shall review and comment upon the charges, fees, or schedule with particular reference to (1) their consistency with the development guide and policy plan, and (2) their fiscal impact on the metropolitan area, especially their impact on future debt service requirements, the financing of future capital improvements, and the various local government units and classes of users. On or before January 15 of each year, the council shall transmit the charges, user fees or schedules of all commissions and its comments thereon to the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house of representatives for consideration by the legislature.

Sec. 13. [473B.09] [FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE.] Subdivision 1. Each member of the council and the commissions shall file with the executive director of the council by April 1 of each year, forms prescribed by the council, a report listing his occupation and membership on the board of directors or similar governing body, of membership in or employment by any profit or nonprofit corporation, partnership, labor organization, professional or business association cooperative or other financial, educational health or business institution. The report shall also disclose each of the member's financial interests, including both assets and liabilities, of a value in excess of $1,000. Assets shall exclude accounts in banks, credit unions and savings and loan associations, United States Government Savings Bonds, the member's or employee's homestead, household goods and personal effects, personal automobile, and the cash value of life insurance. Liabilities shall exclude indebtedness on the member's or employee's homestead, household goods and personal effects, personal automobile, and the cash value of life insurance.

Subd. 2. [INTEREST IN CONTRACTS PROHIBITED.] No commissioner or any person holding appointment under the commission shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract entered into by the commission. No commissioner shall be subject to any personal liability on account of any liability of the commission.

Sec. 14. [LOCAL PLANNING ASSISTANCE.] The metropolitan council may, at the request of local government units, enter into contracts with local government units for the provision of services for comprehensive community planning to coordinate local and metropolitan planning. This may include:

(1) Preparation, as a guide for long-range development, of general physical plans with respect to the pattern and intensity of land use and the provision of public facilities together with long-range fiscal plans for such development;

(2) Programming of capital improvements based on a determination of relative urgency, together with definitive financing plans for the improvements to be constructed in the earlier years of the program;

(3) Coordination of all related plans of the departments or subdivision of the government concerned;

(4) Inter-governmental coordination of all related planned activities among the state and local governmental agencies concerned; and

(5) Preparation of regulatory and administrative measures in support of the foregoing.

Sec. 15. [REPEALER.] Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473B.06, Subdivisions 6, 7 and 8 are hereby repealed.

Sec. 16. [EFFECTIVE DATE.] The articles I through V become effective January 1, 1974.

473C.03 [METROPOLITAN SEWER SERVICE COMMISSION.] Subdivision 1. [ESTABLISHMENT; APPOINTMENTS.] A metropolitan sewer service board commission is established as an agency of the council comprised of not fewer than seven members who shall be appointed by the metropolitan council as hereinafter provided. The council shall combine the council districts into precincts, each comprised of at least two contiguous council districts, and shall then appoint one board member for each precinct. If the boundaries of the council districts are at any time relocated, the boundaries of the precincts shall also be relocated. Not more than half of the board members may be appointed from among the residents of any one sewer service area established pursuant to section 473C.08, and shall be organized, structured and administered as provided in this chapter and Article I of this act.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473C.06, subdivision 3, is amended to read:

Subd. 3. [MUNICIPAL PLANS AND PROGRAMS.] As soon as practicable after the adoption of the first comprehensive policy plan by the council as provided in ~~subdivision 1~~ article I, section 9, and before undertaking the construction of any extensions or additions to its disposal system or the substantial alteration or improvement of its existing disposal system, each local government unit shall adopt a similar comprehensive policy plan for the collection, treatment and disposal of sewage for which the local government unit is responsible, coordinated with the council's plan, and may revise the same as often as it deems necessary. Each such plan shall be submitted forthwith to the sewer service board commission for review and shall be subject to the approval of the board commission as to those features affecting the board's responsibilities as determined by the board commission. Any such features disapproved by the board commission shall be modified in accordance with the board's commission's recommendations. No construction of new sewers or other disposal facilities, and no substantial alteration or improvement of any existing sewers or other disposal facilities involving such features, shall be undertaken by any local government unit unless its governing body shall first find the same to be in accordance with its comprehensive plan and program as approved by the board commission.

Sec. 3. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473C.10, is amended to read:

473C.10 [SERVICE COMMISSION BUDGET.] The sewer service board commission shall prepare, and submit to the council and adopt a budget at the time and in the manner provided in and otherwise comply with article I, section 12 for approval on or before September 1 in 1960 and each year thereafter, a budget showing, for the following calendar year or other fiscal Appropriations for purposes within these general categories shall be itemized in such detail as the council shall prescribe. The board and its officers, agents and employees shall not spend money for any purpose, other than debt service, without an appropriation or in excess of the amount appropriated therefor, and no obligation to make such an expenditure shall be enforceable except as the obligation of the person or persons incurring it. The creation of any debt obligation or the receipt of any federal or state grant is sufficient appropriation of the proceeds for the purpose for which it is authorized, and of the tax or other revenues pledged to pay the obligation and interest on it, whether or not specifically included in any annual budget. The council may, at the board's request, amend the budget at any time by transferring from one purpose to another any appropriation except appropriations of bond proceeds and of money for debt service.

Sec. 4. Minnesota Statutes 1971, section 473C.18, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

473C.18 [RELATION TO EXISTING LAWS.] The provisions of sections 473C.01 to 473C.17 shall be given full effect notwithstanding the provisions of any law not consistent therewith including but not limited to section 473B.06, subdivision 6. Sec. 7. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Sections 473C.03, Subdivisions 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9; 473C.04; 473C.06, Subdivisions 1 and 2 are hereby repealed.

ARTICLE III-THE METROPOLITAN TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.01, Subdivision 2 is amended to read:

Subd. 2. "Metropolitan transit transportation area" or "transit transportation area" or "area" or "MTA" means the Twin Cities metropolitan public transit transportation area hereinafter established.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.01, Subdivision 3 is amended to read:

Subd. 3. "Metropolitan transit transportation commission" or "transit transportation commission" or "commission" means the Twin Cities area metropolitan transit transportation commission hereinafter created.

Sec. 3. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.01, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 12. "Metropolitan council" or "council" means the metropolitan council created by Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473B.02.

Sec. 4. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.02 is amended to read:

473A.02 [LEGISLATIVE DETERMINATION, POLICY AND PURPOSE.] The legislature finds and determines that nearly half the people of the state live in the metropolitan transit transportation area hereinafter established. The population of that area is growing faster than in any other area of the state, and it is continually visited by large numbers of people from other parts of the state, resulting in a heavy and steadily increasing concentration of resident and transient population and creating serious problems of public transit and public highway traffic in the area. The present public transit systems in the area consist largely of bus lines using the public highways and streets. These systems are inadequate to meet the needs for public transit in the area. A major part of the transportation of people in the area is provided by private motor vehicles. All of the foregoing adds heavily to the traffic load on the state highways which constitute the main routes of travel to, from, and through the area, aggravating the congestion and danger of accidents thereon, polluting the surrounding air, intensifying the wear and tear on those highways and streets, increasing the cost of maintenance thereof, and the number, size, and cost of new highways that must be constructed in the area. These effects will progressively grow worse as the population of the area increases, imposing serious handicaps on the business, industry, property development, recreation, and other beneficial activities of the residents of the area and visitors thereto, and causing severe and widespread harm to the public health, safety and welfare of the area and the entire state. It is beyond the capacity of the present operators of public transit systems and other existing public and private agencies unassisted to make adequate provision for public transit in the area or for dealing effectively with the aforesaid problems and conditions therein. The legislature therefore declares as the public policy of the state that for the protection and advancement of the public health, safety, and welfare of the metropolitan ~~transit~~ transportation area and the entire state, and in order to provide for adequate public transit within the area, reduce the traffic congestion and hazards on the state and other highways and streets therein, and relieve the other harmful conditions aforesaid, there is urgent need for the establishment of that area as herein defined, for the creation of the metropolitan ~~transit~~ transportation commission therefor with the powers and duties herein prescribed, for the implementation of a comprehensive transportation policy plan for the area and for the other measures herein provided for.

Sec. 5. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.03 is amended to read:

473A.03 [METROPOLITAN TRANSPORTATION AREA, ESTABLISHMENT.] There is hereby established a ~~Twin Cities~~ metropolitan ~~public transit~~ transportation area comprising the counties of Hennepin, Ramsey, Anoka, Washington, Dakota, Scott, and Carver.

Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.04, Subdivision 1 is amended to read:

473A.04 [METROPOLITAN TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION.] Subdivision 1. [COMMISSION; CREATING AND COMPOSITION.] There is hereby created a ~~Twin Cities area~~ metropolitan ~~transit~~ transportation commission for the metropolitan area, composed of nine members, herein called commissioners, selected ~~and serving as hereinafter provided or members, which commission shall be organized, structured and administered as provided in this chapter and article 1 of this act.~~

Sec. 7. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.05, Subdivision 10 is amended to read:

Subd. 10. [COMMISSION BUDGET; APPROVAL THEREOF.] During the month of June in each year, the commission shall at its regular meeting establish a budget consisting of an operating expense budget for the current fiscal year, a capital expense budget for the current fiscal year, and a capital improvement program for the five fiscal years past the current fiscal year. The capital expense budget and the capital improvement program shall be submitted to the metropolitan council for its approval or disapproval and comment which shall be given within 60 days after submission. The absence of such approval or comment as to the items contained therein shall constitute approval of such items. If circumstances require a significant change in the budget or program, the commission shall submit the matter to the council for its approval within 30 days upon the above terms.

The commission and the council shall cooperate in such manner and provide such information so as to make possible meaningful evaluation of these items and of the comments thereon in implementation of the purposes of Minnesota Statutes 1967, Section 473B.02. The commission shall prepare, submit and adopt a budget in the manner provided in, and otherwise comply with, the provisions of article I, section 12 of this act.

Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 473A, is amended by adding a section to read:

[473A.051] [TRANSPORTATION POLICY PLAN; FEDERAL PROGRAMS.] Subdivision 1. [TRANSPORTATION POLICY PLAN.] The council shall adopt a transportation policy plan as a part of its comprehensive development guide as in Article I, Section 9 hereof, which shall include policies both capital and non-capital relating to all transportation forms. The plan shall be designed to promote the legislative determinations, policies and purposes set forth in section 4 of this article to the end of providing the area an integrated and efficient transportation system. The transportation commission, state highway department, and affected counties and municipalities may provide such technical assistance as may be requested by the council.

Subd. 2. The metropolitan council shall be the designated planning agency for any long-range comprehensive transportation planning required by Section 134 of the Federal Highway Act of 1962 and Section 4 of Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964. The council shall assure administration and coordination of transportation planning with appropriate agencies and municipalities, and together with the commission shall establish such an advisory body in fulfillment of the planning responsibilities of the council and commission. The council and commission together shall be the agency for planning and carrying out urban regional transportation programs in the metropolitan area and entitled to receive any federal funds provided for each such agency to carry out their respective responsibilities as described under this act.

Sec. 9. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.06 is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subdivision 1a. [DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM.] The commission shall prepare and submit in the manner provided in and satisfying the requirements of article I, section 11 of the act, a transportation development program, including both capital and non-capital elements, providing for the implementation of the policy plan adopted by the council. In preparing the program, the commission shall consult with and obtain the views of counties and municipalities in the metropolitan area, the state highway department and the state planning agency, and for that purpose may create such advisory committees as may be necessary.

Such program shall provide for and include coordination of routes and operations of all publicly and privately owned transportation facilities within the area to the end that combined efficient and rapid transportation may be provided for the use of the public in the entire area. The commission may designate a segment of the system planned as a pilot or demonstration transportation project using, without limitation, new technology including airborne systems, or traditional systems of evolved or modern form. The transportation development program shall include the general alignment and profile, approximate points of access, facility classification, approximate cost, relation to other existing and planned transportation routes and facilities, and a statement of the expected general effect on present and future use of the property within the corridor. The program shall be accompanied with a statement of need for the proposed construction or improvement, a description of alternate routes which were considered, and an explanation of the advantages and disadvantages in the selection of any route considered. The transportation development program shall also contain a description of the type of right of way or routes required; the type of transit service to be provided in each portion of the system; designation of transit mode; and appropriate general operating criteria.

Sec. 10. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473A.06, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subdivision 1b. (b) such additional amount, if any, as the commission determines to be necessary to provide for the full and timely payment of its certificates of indebtedness and other obligations to which property taxes under this section have been pledged, provided that the amount of principal and interest to come due on such obligations shall not exceed $3,000,000 in any year.

ARTICLE IV—METROPOLITAN PARKS AND OPEN SPACE COMMISSION

Section 1. [LEGISLATIVE PURPOSE.] Subdivision 1. The pressure of urban growth in the metropolitan area at the same time increases the need and decreases the amount of land available in the area for recreation, conservation, and amenity. Preservation of metropolitan open space is difficult to accomplish solely by action of individual local governmental units. It is therefore necessary to provide for the establishment of a metropolitan park and open space system, and a metropolitan parks and open space commission.

Subd. 2. In order to control mosquitoes more effectively and to make more efficient use of the resources now employed for mosquito control, it is necessary to include Carver county in the metropolitan mosquito control program and to transfer the functions of the metropolitan mosquito control district to the metropolitan parks and open space commission.

Sec. 2. [DEFINITIONS.] Subdivision 1. As used in sections 1 to 9, the terms defined in this section have the meanings given them.

Subd. 2. "Metropolitan area" means the area comprising the counties of Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott and Washington.

Subd. 3. "Commission" means the metropolitan parks and open space commission established by section 3 of this article.

Subd. 4. "Council" means the metropolitan council created by Minnesota Statutes, Section 473B.02.

Subd. 5. "Park district" means a park district created under Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 398.

Subd. 6. "Regional recreation open space" means the land and water areas determined by the council to be of metropolitan significance in providing for a balanced system of public outdoor recreation for the metropolitan area, including but not limited to park reserves, major linear parks, and large recreation parks.

Subd. 7. "Policy plan" means a plan adopted by the council for parks and open space pursuant to article I, section 9, of this act.

Subd. 8. "Development program" means a plan adopted by the commission pursuant to article 1, section 11, recreational open space and the nature of its development and use.

Subd. 9. "Metropolitan mosquito control district" means that district established pursuant to Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 399.02.

Sec. 3. [METROPOLITAN PARKS AND OPEN SPACE COMMISSION.] A metropolitan parks and open space commission is established as an agency of the council and shall be organized, structured and administered as provided in this chapter and article 1 of this act.

Sec. 4. [REGIONAL RECREATION OPEN SPACE SYSTEM.]
Subdivision 1. [POLICY PLAN.] In accordance with the procedures established in article 1, section 9, of this act, and after consultation with park districts, counties and municipalities in the metropolitan area, the council shall adopt a policy plan for regional recreation open space as a part of the council's metropolitan development guide. The policy plan shall identify generally the areas which should be acquired by a public agency to provide a system of regional recreation open space comprising park district, county and municipal facilities which, together with state facilities, reasonably will meet the outdoor recreation needs of the people of the metropolitan area and shall establish priorities for acquisition and development.

Subd. 2. [DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM; COMMISSION.] The commission shall prepare and submit in the manner provided in article 1, section 11, of this act a development program implementing with respect to the functions assigned it by sections 1 to 5 of this article the policy plan adopted by the council.

Subd. 3. [DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS; LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.] (a) Each park district located wholly or partially within the metropolitan area, and each county in the metropolitan area not wholly within a park district, shall prepare and submit and from time to time revise and resubmit to the commission a development program and annual budget for the acquisition and development of regional recreation open space located within the district or county, consistent with the council's policy plan and, to the extent applicable, the commission's development program.

(b) The commission shall review each plan submitted to determine whether it is consistent with the council's policy plan and, to the extent applicable, the commission's development program. If it is not consistent, the commission shall return the plan with its comments to the park district or county for revision and resubmittal.

Sec. 5. [ACQUISITION, GRANTS, TAX EQUIVALENTS; FINANCING.]
Subdivision 1. [COMMISSION ACQUISITION.] The commission shall have the same powers as a county under Minnesota Statutes, Section 398.32, Subdivision 1, except the power of eminent domain, to acquire any land or water area, or any interests, easements or other rights therein, which are included in the policy plan whenever such areas have not been acquired for recreation open space purposes within the period of time hereinafter specified. Before proceeding with the acquisition of any such area or other rights, the commission shall by resolution offer a grant covering the full cost of acquisition to the park district or county in which the area or other rights are situated. If the acquisition process has not been initiated within 60 days or if the area or other rights have not been acquired within 12 months after the adoption of the resolution, the commission shall by resolution offer such a grant to another park district or county or to a municipality in the metropolitan area. If the acquisition process has not been initiated within 60 days or if the area or other rights have not been acquired within six months after the adoption of the resolution, the commission may proceed with acquisition. The commission may, in its discretion, contract with a municipality, park district or county for such services as may be needed to complete such acquisition. The commission shall manage such areas so as to preserve them for future recreation open space purposes and may contract with a municipality, park district or county for such management. The commission shall convey such areas or other rights to a municipality, park district or county for development and operation consistent with an approved recreation open space development program.

Subd. 2. [LOCAL ACQUISITION.] Any park district or municipality wholly or partially within the metropolitan area, and any county in the metropolitan area not wholly within a park district, may acquire, develop and manage any land or water area, or any interests, easements or other rights therein, comprising regional metropolitan area recreation open space in the same manner as it is authorized to do for other park and recreation purposes, and such area or other rights shall constitute a part of the park and recreation system of the acquiring agency.

Subd. 3. [GRANTS.] The commission may make grants, from any funds available to it for recreation open space purposes, to any municipality, park district or county located wholly or partially within the metropolitan area to cover the cost, or any portion of the cost, of acquiring or developing regional recreation open space in accordance with the policy plan; and all such agencies may enter into contracts for this purpose. The fact that a county, park district or municipality has developed regional scale parks shall not prejudice its application for funds.

Subd. 4. [TAX EQUIVALENTS.] In each of the four years after the commission or park district, county or municipality acquires fee simple title to any real property included in the regional recreation open space system, the commission shall pay to the municipality or township in which the property is situated an amount equal to the total amount of the taxes levied thereon for municipal or township purposes for collection in the year in which title passed, diminished by 20 percent for each subsequent year to and including the year of payment; provided that for any year in which taxes on the property, or on the privilege of using or possessing it, are paid this tax equivalent shall not be paid.

Subd. 5. [SALE OF BONDS.] The metropolitan council may sell and issue general obligation bonds to provide funds for the purposes set forth in subdivisions 1, 3, and 4 of section 5 of this article. The maturities and interest rates of each series of such bonds shall be fixed so that the maximum amount of principal and interest to become due on all such bonds in any year does not exceed an amount equal to seven-tenths of one mill on each dollar of assessed valuation of taxable property in the metropolitan area as assessed in the year immediately preceding the year in which the bonds are issued.

The council shall sell and issue such bonds in the manner provided in Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 475, and shall have the same powers and duties as a municipality issuing bonds under that chapter, except that no election shall be required, and the debt limitations in chapter 475 or any other law shall not apply to such bonds. The bonds shall be secured in accordance with Minnesota Statutes, Section 475.61, and any taxes required to be levied for their payment shall be spread against all taxable property in the metropolitan area and shall not be subject to limitation as to rate or amount.

Subd. 6. [TAX LEVIES.] The commission may levy taxes upon all taxable property in the metropolitan area to provide funds for the purposes of sections 1 to 7. The tax levied for any year shall not exceed nine-tenths of one mill for all purposes on each dollar of assessed valuation of all such taxable property less the tax levied for such year to pay debt service on bonds issued pursuant to subdivision 3. The amount of taxes which may be levied in any year shall be further reduced by the amount of any funds received by the commission during the previous year from (1) federal grants and (2) appropriations to the commission from revenues received from taxes, penalties and interest under Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 297.01 through 297.13 or any other taxes collected by the state. The tax shall be levied and collected in the manner provided by Minnesota Statutes, Section 473.08.

Sec. 6. [MOSQUITO CONTROL.] The functions of the metropolitan mosquito control district and its employees are transferred to the metropolitan parks and open space commission.

The commission shall take measures to control mosquitoes in the metropolitan area in accordance with expert and technical plans. The chief administrator shall develop the mosquito control program of the metropolitan area and shall supervise its execution. It may enter into agreements with counties, cities, villages, boroughs, or towns of the state of Minnesota outside of the metropolitan area to conduct mosquito control activities in these political subdivisions in order to effectuate mosquito control in the metropolitan area.

Sec. 7. [GENERAL POWERS.] Subdivision 1. In addition to the powers granted by sections 1 to 6 of this article, the commission shall have all other powers necessary or convenient to discharge the duties imposed by law, including, but not limited to those specified in this section.

Subd. 2. The commission may sue and be sued.

Subd. 3. The commission may employ such persons and contract for such services and materials, supplies and equipment as may be necessary to carry out its functions.

Subd. 4. The commission may accept gifts, may apply for and accept grants or loans of money or other property from the United States, the state, or any person for any of its purposes, may enter into any agreement required in connection therewith, and may hold.

use, and dispose of such money or property in accordance with the terms of the gift, grant, loan or agreement relating thereto.

Subd. 5. The commission may act under the provisions of section 471.59, or any other appropriate law providing for joint or cooperative action between government units.

Subd. 6. The commission may conduct research studies and programs, collect and analyze data, prepare reports, maps, charts, and tables, and conduct all necessary hearings and investigations in connection with its metropolitan parks and open space and mosquito control functions; and may advise and assist the metropolitan council and other government units on system planning matters within the scope of its powers, duties and objectives.

Subd. 7. Members of the commission, its officers, and employees, while on the business of the commission, may enter upon any property within the metropolitan area at reasonable times to determine whether mosquito breeding exists thereon, and such persons may take all necessary and proper steps for the control of mosquitoes on such property as the chief administrator of the commission may designate. Commission members and officers and employees of the commission may enter upon any property and clean up any stagnant pool of water, the shores of lakes and streams, and other breeding places for mosquitoes within the metropolitan area. Such persons may spray with insecticides approved by the chief administrator any area within the metropolitan area that is found to be a breeding place for mosquitoes.

Subd. 8. Contracts for the purchase of materials, supplies, and equipment shall be made in accordance with Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 471.345, Subdivisions 1 to 6.

Sec. 8. The commission shall prepare, submit and adopt a budget in the manner provided in, and otherwise comply with, the provisions of article I, section 12 of this act.

Sec. 9. [REPEALER.] Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 399, is hereby repealed.

ARTICLE V—METROPOLITAN HOUSING COMMISSION

Section 1. [FINDINGS AND DECLARATION OF POLICY.] It is hereby found and determined that: the conditions found to exist by the municipal housing and redevelopment act, as amended, continue to exist throughout the state and in the area in which the metropolitan council has jurisdiction; substandard, slum and blighted areas exist in the metropolitan area which cannot be redeveloped without government assistance; there is a shortage of decent, safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations available to persons of low and moderate income at rentals or prices they can afford; many local governments in the metropolitan area are unable adequately to provide the financing and staff necessary for an effective housing and redevelopment authority; for each such local government to establish a separate authority would result in an inefficient use of manpower and services; and there is therefore a need to create and enable a metropolitan housing commission to make available to the local governmental units in the metropolitan area those services provided for in the municipal housing and redevelopment act.

Sec. 2. [DEFINITIONS.] Subdivision 1. Unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the following terms, for the purposes of this act, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section.

Subd. 2. The terms defined in the municipal housing and redevelopment act shall, for the purposes of this act, have the meanings given them in that act.

Subd. 3. "Comprehensive development guide" means that document created by the council pursuant to Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 473B.06, Subdivision 5, and section 4 of this article.

Subd. 4. "Council" shall mean the metropolitan council created by Minnesota Statutes, Section 473B.02.

Subd. 5. "Local government unit" means any municipal corporation or governmental subdivision located fully or in part in the metropolitan area of exercising any powers therein.

Subd. 6. "Metropolitan area" shall mean the area in which the council has jurisdiction under Minnesota Statutes, Section 473B.02.

Subd. 7. "Metropolitan housing commission" means that commission established in section 3 of this article.

Sec. 3. [METROPOLITAN HOUSING COMMISSION; POLICY PLAN DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM.] Subdivision 1. [ESTABLISHMENT.] A metropolitan housing commission is established, which shall have the structure, membership and organization provided in this article and in article 1 of this act.

Subd. 2. [HOUSING POLICY PLAN.] In accordance with the procedures established in article 1, section 9 of this act the council shall prepare and adopt a housing policy plan for the development of housing as a part of its comprehensive development guide.

Subd. 3. [DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM BY COMMISSION.] The commission shall prepare and submit in the manner provided in article 1, section 11 of this act a development program implementing with respect to the functions assigned it by sections 1 to 8 of this article the policy plan adopted by the council.

Subd. 4. [SPECIAL STUDIES.] In preparing, amending and implementing the housing policy plan, and development program the council and commission are empowered to undertake and to carry out studies and analyses of the housing needs within the metropolitan area, including data with respect to population and family groups and the distribution thereof according to income groups, the amount and quality of available housing and its distribution according to rentals and sales prices, employment, wages, desirable patterns for land use and community growth, and other factors affecting the local housing needs and the meeting thereof, and to make the results of those studies and analyses available to the public and building, housing and supply industries and to engage in research and disseminate information on housing.

Sec. 4. [FINANCES.] Subdivision 1. For purposes of the special benefit taxes authorized by section 462.545, subdivision 6, each municipality in the metropolitan area shall constitute a separate taxing district. The council may, when requested by the commission, levy a special benefit tax at such times and in the manner provided in section 462.545, subdivision 6, but may not levy a tax in a municipality without the consent by resolution of the governing body of the municipality.

Subd. 2. The commission may expend for the purposes of this act any of the revenue derived pursuant to sections 7 and 8 of this article. In addition to the purposes set forth in section 473B.08, the council, through the commission, may expend for the purposes of this act any of the revenue derived pursuant to such section. The commission may also expend for the purposes of this act revenue derived pursuant to section 462.545, subdivision 6, provided that such expenditures be limited to the municipalities where the revenue was derived and be limited, as to each such municipality, to the amount of revenue derived from that municipality.

Sec. 5. [POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE METROPOLITAN HOUSING COMMISSION.] Subdivision 1. [HOUSING AND REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY POWER.] In addition to, and not in limitation of, all other powers vested in it by law, the commission, and the members thereof, shall have, throughout the metropolitan area, the same functions, rights, powers, duties, privileges, immunities and limitations as are provided for housing and redevelopment authorities created for municipalities, and for the commissioners of such authorities. All the provisions of law applicable to housing and redevelopment authorities created for municipalities shall be applicable to the commission acting as an authority, except as clearly indicated otherwise from the context. Minnesota Statutes, Section 462.425, shall have no application to the commission. The commission may plan and propose projects within the boundaries of any municipality or county, and may otherwise exercise the powers of an authority at any time; provided however, that the commission may not carry out any housing project, housing development project, redevelopment project or urban renewal project within the boundaries of any municipality without the prior approval of the governing body of the municipality in which any such project is to be located, and provided further that the commission shall not propose to the governing body of a municipality any project located within the area of operation of any municipal authority made active pursuant to section 462.425, or any county authority created by special legislation, without first submitting the proposed project to such municipal or county authority for its review and recommendations; provided, that the commission shall not undertake a project where the affected county housing authority and municipality agree to undertake a project within 60 days after the project has been proposed. All plans and projects of the commission shall be consistent with the development guide, housing policy plan and the development program.

Subd. 2. [TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE.] The commission may provide technical assistance to existing municipal or county housing and redevelopment authorities at the request of such authorities.

Subd. 3. [COOPERATION WITH OTHER GOVERNMENT

AGENCIES.] The commission may cooperate with or act as agent for the federal government, the state government, or any agencies or instrumentalities thereof, in carrying out the provisions of any federal or state legislation relating to the general purposes of the municipal housing and redevelopment act.

Subd. 4. [CITIZEN PARTICIPATION.] The commission shall, as part of any project proposal to a municipality, propose a means for citizens to participate in the formulation and carrying out of projects undertaken by the commission pursuant to the terms of this article.

Subd. 5. [DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS.] The commission shall prepare a detailed report on the progress of any demonstration project undertaken by the commission. Such report shall be filed with the legislature not later than January 15 of each legislative year.

Sec. 6. [EFFECT UPON MUNICIPAL AND COUNTY HOUSING AND REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITIES.] Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair the powers and obligations of municipal, county or multi-county housing and redevelopment authorities within the metropolitan area.

Sec. 7. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 287.05, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

287.05 [TAX ON RECORDATION OR REGISTRATION; SUPPLEMENTAL MORTGAGES.] Subdivision 1. A tax of 15 cents is hereby imposed upon each $100, or fraction thereof, of the principal debt or obligation which is or may be secured by any mortgage of real property situate within any county in the state other than the counties of Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott and Washington executed, delivered, and recorded or registered; provided, however, that said tax shall be imposed but once upon any mortgage and extension thereof. A tax of 20 cents is hereby imposed upon each $100, or fraction thereof, of the principal debt or obligation which is or may be secured by any mortgage of real property situate within the counties of Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott and Washington executed, delivered, and recorded or registered; provided, however, that said tax shall be imposed but once upon any mortgage and extension thereof. If any such mortgage describes any real estate situate outside of this state, such tax shall be imposed upon that proportion of the whole debt secured thereby as the value of the real estate therein described situate in this state bears to the value of the whole of the real estate described therein, as such value is determined by the commissioner of taxation upon application of the mortgagee.

Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 287.12, is amended to read:

287.12 [TAXES, HOW APPORTIONED.] All taxes paid to the county treasurers in counties of the state other than the counties of Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott and Washington under the provisions of section 287.01 to 287.12 shall be apportioned, one-sixth to the general fund of the state, one-sixth to the county revenue fund, and the balance to be divided equally between the school district and the city, village, or town in which the real estate described in the mortgage is situated. All taxes paid to the county treasurers of the counties of Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott and Washington under the provisions of sections 287.01 to 287.12 shall be apportioned, one fourth to the metropolitan housing commission Article VI of this act ; the remaining three fourths shall be apportioned one sixth to the general fund of the state, one sixth to the county revenue fund, and the balance to be divided equally between the school district and the city, village or town in which the real estate described in the mortgage is situated. Where the amount determined to be apportionable in any instance to any given school district, city, village or town or the metropolitan council is less than $1, such amount shall be retained in the county revenue fund.

Sec. 9. The commission shall prepare, submit and adopt a budget in the manner provided in, and otherwise comply with, the provisions of article I, section 12 of this act."

Receipts so derived shall be treated as tuition for enrollment and budgetary purposes.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the state college board may make refunds to students for tuition, activity fees, union fees and other fees from imprest cash funds. The imprest cash fund shall be reimbursed periodically by checks or warrants drawn on the funds and accounts to which the refund should ultimately be charged.

The state college board shall obtain the approval of the public examiner for the procedures used in carrying out the provisions of this paragraph.

Provided that these appropriations for maintenance and operations are made from revenues accruing to the university from:

(1) the investments of the permanent university fund; and

(2) the occupation tax on iron ore.

If such revenues are insufficient, the remainder of such appropriations are advanced and appropriated from any moneys in the state treasury credited to the general fund. The income derived from the investment of the permanent university fund is hereby appropriated to the board of regents pursuant to Minnesota Statutes 1971, 137.022.

For the purposes of these appropriations it is estimated that the income to be derived from the investment of the permanent university fund will not exceed $2,160,000 for the first year and $2,160,000 for the second year. If at the end of any fiscal year there are unexpended revenues accruing to the university from the occupation tax on iron ore, the general fund shall be reimbursed therefrom to the extent that payments have been made from the general fund during such fiscal year pursuant to these appropriations. The board of regents shall certify to the state auditor at the end of each quarter the amounts of earnings derived from the investment of the permanent university fund and if the income derived from the investment of the permanent university fund during any fiscal year exceeds the amounts herein stated, the amounts payable from the general fund shall be reduced accordingly.

For budgetary purposes it is estimated that the foregoing appropriation from the general fund will not exceed the sum of $84,739,429 the first year and $88,604,826 the second year.

Subd. 2. Libraries	360,000	360,000

Sec. 2. [ADMINISTRATION OF JUDGES' RETIREMENT.] The judges' retirement fund shall be considered a part of the Minnesota state retirement system established by section 352.021 and shall be administered by the board of directors established by section 352.03. Except for section 352.03, and as used herein, judges are not, however, "employees" or "employees covered by the system" within the meaning and for the purposes of Minnesota Statutes, Section 352.01 to 352.73, nor are those sections generally applicable to the judges' retirement fund.

Sec. 3. [JUDGES' RETIREMENT FUND.] Subdivision 1. [CREATION; CONTRIBUTIONS.] There is hereby created a special fund known as the "judges' retirement fund". The fund shall be credited with all contributions, all interest and all other income authorized by law. From this fund there are appropriated the payments authorized by this act in the amounts and at times provided herein, including the expenses of administering the fund. Except as provided in section 8, subdivision 2, each judge shall contribute to the fund from each salary payment a sum equal to the salary multiplied by the rate of employee tax under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act as defined in Minnesota Statutes, Section 355.01, Subdivision 9. The balance of all money necessary for administering this act and the judges' retirement fund, including payment of retirement compensation and other benefits under this act, shall be contributed to the fund by the state. The amount required therefor is hereby annually appropriated from the general fund to the judges' retirement fund.

Subd. 2. [TREASURER.] The state treasurer shall be ex officio treasurer of the judges' retirement fund and his general bond to the state shall be so conditioned as to cover all liability for his acts as treasurer of this fund. All moneys received by him pursuant to this section shall be set aside in the state treasury to the credit of the judges' retirement fund. He shall transmit monthly to the executive director described in section 352.03, subdivision 5, a detailed statement of all amounts so received and credited by him to the fund. He shall pay out the fund only on warrants issued by the state auditor, upon vouchers signed by said executive director; provided that vouchers for investment may be signed by the secretary of the state board of investment.

Subd. 3. [INVESTMENT.] The director referred to in subdivision 2 shall, from time to time, certify to the state board of investment such portions of the judges' retirement fund as in his judgment may not be required for immediate use. Assets from the judges' retirement fund shall be transferred to the Minnesota adjustable fixed benefit fund for retirement and disability benefits as provided in section 11.25 and section 352.119. The state board of investment shall thereupon invest and reinvest sums so transferred, or certified, in such securities as are duly authorized legal investments for such purposes under chapter 11.

Sec. 4. [MATURITY OF BENEFITS; RETIREMENT AND SURVIVORS' ANNUITIES.] Subdivision 1. [BASIC RETIREMENT ANNUITY.] Except as qualified hereinafter from and after mandatory retirement date, normal retirement date, early retirement date, or two years from the disability retirement date, as the case may be, a retirement annuity shall be payable to a retiring judge from the judges' retirement fund in an amount equal to two and one half percent of the judge's final average compensation multiplied by the number of years of service rendered, provided that such annuity shall not exceed 60 percent of the judge's annual salary for the year immediately preceding his retirement.

Subd. 2. [YEARS OF SERVICE.] No judge shall be eligible for a normal or early retirement annuity at normal or early retirement date if he has less than ten years of service.

A judge who was in office on December 31, 1973 and thereafter and who, by the date on which his term expires, would not be eligible to retire with full benefits under statutes in effect on December 31, 1973, may apply to the governor for an extension to serve up to three additional years, stating his intention to retire upon such eligibility. Notwithstanding section 5 hereof, the governor shall forthwith make a written order accepting such retirement application, and extending the term of office of such judge for such period of time, not exceeding three years, as may be necessary to make such judge eligible for such retirement, solely for purposes of computing benefits hereunder.

Subd. 3. [EARLY RETIREMENT.] The retirement annuity provided by subdivision 1 of any judge electing to retire at an early retirement date shall be reduced 1/15th for each full year or fraction thereof from his retirement date to normal retirement date.

Subd. 4. [DISABILITY RETIREMENT.] From and after disability retirement date, a disabled judge shall be entitled to (a) continuation of his full salary payable by the judge's employer, as if his office were not vacated by retirement, for a period of two full years, and (b) thereafter a disability retirement annuity computed as provided in subdivision 1, provided that such judge shall receive a minimum annuity of 25 percent of his final average compensation.

Subd. 5. [DEFERRED BENEFITS.] Any benefit to which a judge is entitled under this section may be deferred until early or normal retirement date, notwithstanding termination of such judge's service prior thereto.

Subd. 6. [PART-TIME JUDGES.] Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, except as provided herein service by a judge who was not paid an annual salary or who served in a jurisdiction in which the judge was entitled to practice law while serving as a judge shall be credited only at the rate of 50 percent thereof. All disqualified service may be credited to years of service for the purposes of this act only if:

(a) The judge or his employer pays to the judges' retirement fund a sum equal to 5.85 percent of one half of the average salary earned during such period of part time service, plus accrued interest thereon at the rate of five percent per year compounded annually from the period of service so credited to the date payment is made;

(b) Such payment is made in not more than 36 monthly installments; and

(c) Such judge or his employer shall elect to make such payment and shall commence doing so within 60 days after the effective date of this act or after the commencement of such judge's first term in office, whichever is later.

Subd. 7. [PRACTICE OF LAW PROHIBITED.] No retired judge or his spouse or children shall receive a retirement annuity while such judge is practicing law in Minnesota. For the purposes of this subdivision, "practicing law" does not mean service as a retired judge, as counsel for an indigent accused of committing a misdemeanor or felony, or service without compensation in connection with any legal assistance or legal aid program for indigents.

Subd. 8. [EXCLUSIVE NORMAL RETIREMENT BENEFITS.] Any judge who retires after December 31, 1973, shall be entitled to a retirement pension, retirement compensation or other retirement payment under statutes applicable solely to judges pursuant to this section only, except that any such judge in office prior to January 1, 1974, who retires at or after normal retirement age may then elect to receive during his lifetime a normal retirement annuity computed on the basis of retirement compensation provided for such judge under statutes in effect on December 31, 1973, in lieu of the amount of normal retirement annuity otherwise computed under this act.

Subd. 9. [SURVIVORS' ANNUITY.] Upon the death of a judge prior to retirement, his surviving spouse or, if there be no surviving spouse, his dependent children, shall receive an annuity, payable monthly, equal to 60 percent of the normal retirement annuity which would have been payable to the judge had the date of his death been the normal retirement date, provided that the surviving spouse or dependent children shall receive an annuity of not less than 25 percent of the judge's final average compensation.

Subd. 10. [PRIOR SURVIVORS' BENEFITS; LIMITATION.] Benefits provided under Minnesota Statutes, Sections 490.102, Subdivision 6, and 490.12, Subdivision 7, for a surviving spouse of a retired judge, payable after the death of the judge, shall be limited to:

(a) Spouses of judges who have retired prior to January 1, 1974; and

(b) Spouses of judges in office on December 31, 1973 and thereafter who elect to continue contributions under said sections 490.102, subdivision 6 or 490.12, subdivision 7. Such contributions shall be in addition to contributions under section 3, and upon retirement such judge may not elect to receive any of the optional annuities under subdivision 11 of this section 5 unless such judge and his spouse shall waive any benefits under said sections 490.102, subdivision 6 or 490.12, subdivision 7.

No other judge in office on or after January 1, 1974, shall be required to contribute under said section 490.102, subdivision 6 or 490.12, subdivision 7.

Subd. 11. [OPTIONAL ANNUITIES.] There shall be no survivor or death benefits in connection with the death of a judge who retires after December 31, 1973, except as otherwise provided herein. Within 30 days prior to such retirement, except as provided in section 4, subdivision 10, a judge may elect to receive, in lieu of the normal retirement annuity, optional annuities which shall take the form of an annuity payable for a period certain and for life thereafter or a joint and survivor annuity. Such optional annuities shall be actuarially equivalent to an annuity for life, with no term certain, and shall be established by the governing body of the Minnesota state retirement system upon the recommendation of an approved actuary.

Subd. 12. [REFUND.] Any person who ceases to be a judge but who does not qualify for a retirement annuity or other benefit under this act shall be entitled to a refund of all his contributions to the judges' retirement fund with interest computed on the basis of interest assumption under the provisions of section 356.21. No refund shall be payable upon the death of a judge prior to retirement if no benefits shall be payable under section 4, subdivision 9.

Sec. 5. [MANDATORY RETIREMENT.] Subdivision 1. Except as otherwise provided in this act, each judge shall retire on his mandatory retirement date.

Subd. 2. Except as provided by sections 490.025, subdivision 3, 490.102, subdivisions 3 and 3a and 490.12, subdivision 2, any judge in office on December 31, 1973 who shall have attained 70 years of age on or prior to such date shall retire upon the expiration of the term of office of such judge.

Subd. 3. This section takes effect December 31, 1973.

Sec. 6. [PROCEDURES.] Subdivision 1. [COMPULSORY RETIREMENT.] Proceedings for compulsory retirement of a judge, if necessary, shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of sections 490.04 to 490.09.

Subd. 2. [VACANCIES.] Any judge may make written application to the governor for retirement. The governor thereupon shall direct the judge's retirement by written order which, when filed in the office of the secretary of state, shall effect a vacancy in the office to be filled as provided by law.

Subd. 3. [APPLICATION FOR ANNUITY OR REFUND.] Application for an annuity or refund under this act may be made by the annuitant or by someone authorized to act in his behalf. Every application for an annuity or refund, with proof of age and years of service when required, shall be submitted to the governing body of the Minnesota state retirement system in a form prescribed by it.

Subd. 4. [MANNER OF PAYMENT.] Unless otherwise specifically provided by statute or agreed upon by the annuitant and the governing body of the state retirement system, annuities payable under this act shall be paid in the manner and at the intervals as prescribed by the executive director of the state retirement system. The annuity shall cease with the last payment received by the annuitant in his or her lifetime.

Sec. 7. [SOCIAL SECURITY COVERAGE; DEFINITIONS.] Subdivision 1. For the purposes of sections 7 to 9, the terms defined in this section shall have the meanings given them, and terms defined in Minnesota Statutes, Section 355.01, Subdivisions 2, 5, 8, and 9, shall have the meanings there given them.

Subd. 2. "Enabling act" means Minnesota Statutes, Sections 355.01 to 355.08.

Subd. 3. "Employee" means any judge, as defined in section 1 of this act.

Subd. 4. "Employing unit" means the state, county, or municipality by which a judge is employed.

Sec. 8. [AGREEMENTS.] Subdivision 1. Pursuant to the enabling act, the state agency, with the approval of the governor, shall supervise a referendum for the employees at a date set by the governor in accordance with the requirements of the social security act.

Subd. 2. The referendum shall decide the question of whether or not the employment of each such employee should be excluded from or included in an agreement.

Subd. 3. Notice of referendum as required by the social security act shall contain a statement in such form as the state agency shall deem necessary and sufficient to inform the employees of the rights which accrue to them under the social security act and the effect that coverage under the social security act will have on their retirement benefits.

Subd. 4. If the governor or an official of the state designated by him for the purpose receives satisfactory evidence that the conditions specified in section 218(d) (7) of the social security act have been met, he shall so certify to the secretary of health, education and welfare.

Subd. 5. The state agency, with the approval of the governor, may enter into an agreement with the secretary of health, education and welfare, or modify any such agreement previously made, to obtain the benefits of the federal old age survivors insurance system in respect to services performed by employees of any employing unit.

Subd. 6. In accordance with section 218(d) (6) (C) of the social security act, the retirement system for judges is divided into two parts:

(a) The first part is composed of judges in office on and after December 31, 1973, and who do not desire coverage under an agreement pursuant to section 218(d) of the social security act;

(b) The second part is composed of judges in office on and after December 31, 1973, who desire such coverage and judges first in office after December 31, 1973, whose service shall constitute "employment" as defined in the social security act.

Subd. 7. Effective with respect to services performed after December 31, 1973, by employees referred to in subdivision 6, clause (b), each employing unit shall pay into the contribution fund established by section 355.04, contributions with respect to wages equal to the sum of taxes which be imposed by the federal insurance contribution act if the services covered by the agreement constituted employment within the meaning of that act.

Subd. 8. Effective January 1, 1974, as to employees referred to in subdivision 6, clause (b), contributions shall not be paid into the judges' retirement fund by such employees to the extent of the employee contribution under the federal insurance contribution act.

Subd. 9. Delinquent payments due under this section, with interest at the rate of six percent per annum, may be recovered by action in a court of competent jurisdiction against each and every employing unit liable therefor or may, at the request of the state agency, be deducted from any other moneys payable to such employing unit by any department or agency of the state.

Subd. 10. Each and every employing unit shall reimburse the state agency for its pro rata share of the cost of the administration of said agency in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state agency pertaining thereto. Such reimbursements shall be paid into the state agency revolving fund.

Subd. 11. Each and every employing unit shall make such reports in such form and containing such information as the state agency may from time to time require, and comply with such provisions as the state agency or the secretary of health, education and welfare may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports.

Sec. 9. [BENEFITS OFFSET.] Upon any event of maturity of benefits for any judge referred to in section 8, subdivision 6, clause (b), or for such judge's surviving spouse or dependent children, the amount payable from the judges' retirement fund shall be reduced by 75 percent of the amount of the employee's primary benefit payable upon such event of maturity of benefits under the social security act.

Sec. 10. [PAST SERVICE.] On or before October 31, 1973, on such forms as may be prescribed by the executive director of the state retirement system, each employing unit shall certify to the state retirement system the years of service and age of each judge.

Sec. 11. The executive director of the Minnesota state retirement fund shall cause valuations, surveys and financial reports of this fund to be made in accordance with Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 356.

and Administration

The Honorable Martin O. Sabo

Gentlemen:

In your letters relating to the regular and special sessions of the Minnesota Legislature, you ask substantially the following questions.

QUESTION NO. 1

During which adjournments of a regular session of the legislature are bills subject to a pocket veto?

OPINION

The 1972 "flexible session" amendment to article IV, section 1 of the constitution authorizes the legislature to meet in regular session in both years of a biennium. Article IV, section 11 subjects bills to a pocket veto after the "adjournment" of a legislative "session." (Hereinafter, the adjournment of a regular session from the first year of a biennium to the second year is referred to as the "interim adjournment," and short adjournments during a regular session, such as from one day to the next, during weekends and at Easter, are referred to as "temporary adjournments." Unless otherwise stated, all references to sections of the constitution are to those sections which are part of article IV thereof.)

It is my opinion that the 1972 constitutional amendment provides for a single regular session in each biennium. It is also my opinion that the word "session" as used in the pocket veto provisions of section 11 refers to this biennial session, and that the word "adjournment" as used in section 11 refers to the final adjournment or adjournment sine die, of the biennial session. Thus, the pocket veto provisions of section 11 are applicable only following the final adjournment of the biennial session, and not following an interim or temporary adjournment.

Section 11 provides in part as follows:

"Every bill which shall have passed the Senate and the House of Representatives . . . shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. If he approves, he shall sign and deposit it in the office of secretary of state. . . . But if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; . . . and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. . . . If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by adjournment within that time, prevents its return. Bills may be presented to the governor during the three days following the day of the final adjournment of the legislature and the legislature may prescribe the method of performing the acts necessary to present bills to the governor after adjournment. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within 14 days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill passed during the last three days of the session is not signed and filed within 14 days after the adjournment, it shall not become a law."

(Emphasis added.)

Both of the provisions of section 11 emphasized above provide for the pocket veto of bills. The second provision expressly pertains to bills passed during the last three days of a session and the first provision by implication pertains to bills passed prior to the last three days. See Burns v. Sewell, 48 Minn. 425, 51 N.W. 224 (1892) and Op. Atty. Gen. 280, April 17, 1939 (passage of bill for purposes of this provision not complete until bill delivered to Governor).

Thus, if a bill is passed during the last three days of a biennial session and is not signed and filed by the Governor by the end of the 14 day period after adjournment, the bill fails to become law by reason of a pocket veto pursuant to the second provision emphasized above. If a bill is passed prior to the last three days of a biennial session and has not been signed or returned by the Governor by the end of the three day period after presentment, and if the legislature has prevented such a bill's return by adjournment within three days of presentment, then the bill fails by reason of a pocket veto pursuant to the first provision emphasized above.

a. The Single Regular Session in Each Biennium

Section 1 was amended in the following manner by the voters at the November, 1972 general election:

"The legislature shall meet at the seat of government in regular session in each odd numbered year ~~biennium~~ at the time ~~times~~ prescribed by law for ~~a term~~ not exceeding a total of 120 legislative days; ~~and no new bill shall be introduced in either branch, except on the written request of the Governor, during the last 30 days of such sessions.~~ The legislature shall not meet in regular session, nor in any adjournment thereof, after the first Monday following the third Saturday in May of any year. After meeting at a time prescribed by law, the legislature may adjourn to another time. 'Legislative day' shall be defined by law."

(Additions are indicated by underline, deletions by ~~strikeout~~.)

Prior to the 1972 amendment, this provision stated that the legislature shall meet "in regular session in each odd numbered year . . . for a term not exceeding 120 legislative days." As amended, this section provides that the legislature shall meet "in regular session in each biennium . . . for not exceeding a total of 120 legislative days." The phrase "regular session" was continued in its singular sense. The word "biennium" means "a period of two years"¹ and a period of two years is a single unit of time. The amendment retained the provision limiting the number of legislative days in each regular session of the legislature to 120.

The language of this amendment indicates that it was intended to provide for a single regular session in each two year period. If the amendment had been intended to provide for one regular session in each year or to provide that each year in which the legislature meets shall constitute a separate regular session, it seems clear that it would have so provided. When the language of the constitution is clear and unambiguous, it is the best evidence of what the provision was intended to mean and must be given its ordinary meaning. State ex rel. Gardner v. Holm, 241 Minn. 125, 62 N.W.2d 52 (1954).

Furthermore, it appears that the legislature has been meeting in what may be termed biennial sessions ever since 1877. Prior to 1877, the constitution provided that the legislature shall meet at such times as shall be prescribed by law. During that period the legislature met in each year. In 1877, section 1 was amended to provide that the legislature "shall meet biennially." In 1887, the Attorney General issued a statement explaining the effect of a proposed amendment. It read in part:

"The constitution at present provides for biennial sessions, and the effect of this last amendment will be to continue biennial sessions, but instead of such sessions being limited to sixty days, as they are now, they would be limited to ninety days, and no bill could be introduced during the last twenty days except as provided for in such amendment."

See Knapp v. O'Brien, 288 Minn. 103, 111, 179 N.W.2d 88, 93 (1970).

The legislature itself has also referred to its sessions as "biennial sessions." Minn. Stat. § 648.11, which was enacted in 1945 and provides for the publication of Minnesota laws, states that "after the end of the biennial session of the Legislature in 1945," the revisor of statutes shall prepare printer's copy for "Minnesota Statutes 1945." Section 648.31, also enacted in 1945, provides that "after the end of the biennial session of the Legislature in 1947 and each biennial session thereafter," the revisor shall prepare printer's copy of the laws.

A consideration of the foregoing compels the conclusion that the 1972 amendment was intended to provide for a single regular session in each biennium.

b. The Meaning of "Adjournment" and "Session" in Section 11

Prior to 1968, section 11 provided for a three day rather than a 14 day period during which the Governor could sign bills following adjournment of the legislature. It stated:

¹Webster's Third New International Dictionary (1964) at 213.

"If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by adjournment within that time, prevents its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law."

The Minnesota Supreme Court held that this section provided that "[a]n adjournment which 'prevents its return' and works a 'pocket veto' of a bill is a final or sine die adjournment of the legislative session." (Emphasis added.) State ex rel. Putnam v. Holm, 172 Minn. 162, 168, 215 N.W. 200, 203 (1927). The court added:

"The prevailing rule is that a temporary adjournment of the legislature, or of the house in which a bill originated, does not prevent the return of the bill. . . . The constitution contemplated temporary legislative adjournments. In art. 4, § 6, it expressly provides that neither house shall adjourn for more than three days without the consent of the other.

"There is no substantial reason for a bill's being returned to the house while in actual session. It is in existence until the final adjournment regardless of whether it is in session or not. The presiding officer, secretary (or clerk), and members of either house are its authorized representatives. There is no reason why a return cannot be made to any one of them. It is the official duty of the one to whom the bill is returned promptly to report to the house when in session."

172 Minn. at 169, 215 N.W. at 203.

Therefore, the long-established rule has been that the pocket veto provision of section 11 refers to the final adjournment of a biennial session, and that a bill is subject to a pocket veto following only such adjournment. The 1968 constitutional amendment neither expressly nor impliedly alters this rule. A reading of the provision as amended in 1968 indicates that its purpose was to provide the legislature with a period of three days after final adjournment to present bills to the Governor and to provide the Governor with a period of 14 days after final adjournment to approve bills passed during the last three days of the session. The statement of the purpose and effect of the 1968 amendment prepared by the Attorney General pursuant to Minn. Stat. § 3.21 states in part:

"The purpose and effect of this amendment is:

1. To give the legislature more time to prepare and the governor more time to study and sign the large number of bills passed during the last three days of the legislative session by:
 - (a) Allowing the legislature three days after adjournment within which to present bills to the Governor.
 - (b) Giving the governor 14 days after adjournment of the legislature to approve bills passed during the last three days of the legislative session.

2. To provide that a bill passed during the last three days of the legislature which is not signed and filed by the governor within 14 days after the adjournment shall not become a law. At present a bill does not become a law if the governor does not sign and file it within three days after adjournment."

The 1972 constitutional amendment authorizes each legislature to meet in regular session in the second year of the biennium as well as the first. Therefore, each legislature which meets in regular session in both years of the biennium will adjourn for the relatively lengthy period between the spring of the first year and presumably January of the second year. This adjournment is not, however, a final adjournment of the session but is an adjournment during the session just as is an adjournment at Easter time. Nothing in the 1972 constitutional amendment expressly or impliedly indicates that it was intended to provide for a pocket veto either during a temporary adjournment or during an interim adjournment.

Based upon the foregoing, it is my opinion that the word "session" as used in the quoted provision of section 11 means the biennial session,² and that the word "adjournment" as used therein means the final adjournment of the biennial session. Therefore, bills are not subject to pocket veto following a temporary or interim adjournment.

QUESTION NO. 2

Is the constitutional provision which gives the Governor 14 days to approve bills passed near the end of a session applicable in the first year of a biennium as well as in the second year?

OPINION

Section 11 provides:

"The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within 14 days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill passed during the last three days of the session is not signed and filed within 14 days after the adjournment, it shall not become a law."

As noted in the answer to question number 1, this provision refers to the final adjournment of a biennial session. See also Op. Atty. Gen. 280-j, May 26, 1969 (purpose of this portion of section 11 is to facilitate processing the larger number of bills passed just prior to "actual adjournment sine die.") It is therefore not applicable to an adjournment in the first year.

²The conclusion with respect to the meaning of the word "session" in the quoted portions of sections 1 and 11 should not be interpreted as an expression of an opinion on the meaning of that word as it is used in section 8, which provides that the members of each house shall be privileged from arrest in certain circumstances "during the session of their respective houses."

QUESTION NO. 3

What is the last day in 1973 and 1974 on which the legislature may be in session?

OPINION

Section 1 as amended in 1972 provides in part:

“The legislature shall meet at the seat of government in regular session in each biennium at the times prescribed by law for not exceeding a total of 120 legislative days. The legislature shall not meet in regular session, nor in any adjournment thereof, after the first Monday following the third Saturday in May of any year. After meeting at a time prescribed by law, the legislature may adjourn to another time. ‘Legislative day’ shall be defined by law.”

There are, therefore, two limitations that apply. First, as to the whole biennium, the legislature may not meet in regular session after the 120th “legislative day” as that term is defined by the legislature. See Minn. Laws 1973, ch. 1 § 2. Second, the legislature may not meet in regular session in either year of the biennium after the first Monday following the third Saturday in May. Therefore, the legislature may not meet in regular session in 1973 after Monday, May 21, it may not meet in regular session in 1974 after Monday, May 20, and in any event it may not meet in regular session after the 120th legislative day of the biennial session.

QUESTION NO. 4

What is the last day in 1973 and 1974 on which new bills may be introduced in either house?

OPINION

Prior to the adoption of the constitutional amendment in 1972, section 1 provided that new bills could not be introduced in either house during the last 30 days of a regular session except upon request of the Governor. The 1972 amendment removed this prohibition. Therefore, the constitution no longer prohibits the introduction of bills on certain days of the regular session. Neither does any statute establish such a prohibition. It is therefore my opinion that new bills may be introduced on any day on which the legislature is in session unless prohibited by legislative rule.

QUESTION NO. 5

What is the last day in 1973 and 1974 on which bills may be passed by either house?

OPINION

Article IV, section 22 provides in part:

“No bill shall be passed by either house of the legislature upon the day prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses.”

It is my opinion that the word “adjournment” as used in section 22 means final adjournment (or adjournment sine die) of the biennial session and that May 20, 1974 and the 120th legislative day of the 1973-74 regular session (whether or not that day is May 20, 1974) are days prescribed for such adjournment of the two houses. It is also my opinion that a date for final adjournment set in advance by resolution or act of the legislature (whether or not that day is the 120th legislative day or May 20, 1974) is a day prescribed for such adjournment of the two houses. Section 22 therefore prohibits the passage of bills by either house of the legislature on any of these days. I will treat the foregoing prescribed days separately.

a. The 120th Legislative Day

The 120th legislative day has consistently been held to be a "day prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses." See, e.g., Knapp v. O'Brien, 288 Minn. 103, 179 N.W.2d 88 (1970); Ops. Atty. Gen. 280-J, March 24, 1905, Feb. 16, 1933, Jan. 16, 1969. In Knapp v. O'Brien, the court stated that the legislature must adjourn on the 120th calendar day, exclusive of Sundays, and that a bill passed on the last day is void under section 22. Although the 1972 constitutional amendment authorizes the legislature to define the term "legislative day," the constitution as amended retains the provision restricting each session to 120 such days. Since the legislature must adjourn its regular session no later than the 120th legislative day in this session just as it was required to do before the 1972 amendment, it is my opinion that the 120th legislative day is a day prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses and that no bill may be passed on that day.

b. Date for Adjournment Set by Resolution or Act

It has been consistently ruled that a date for final adjournment established in advance by resolution or other act constitutes "a day prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses" and that no bill may be passed on such a day. Ops. Atty. Gen. 280-b, May 21, 1963; 280-o, April 24, 1951; 280-b, March 10, 1944; and 280-o, Oct. 28, 1916. Op. Atty. Gen. 280-b, May 21, 1963, stated:

"If the legislature does not fix a time of adjournment by previous resolution or act, then it may pass legislation on the same day that the legislature adjourns sine die except it may not do so if it adjourns on the 120th day."

(Emphasis added.) Op. Atty. Gen. 280-o, Oct. 28, 1916, stated:

"[Section 22] relates to the prohibition of the passage of acts either the ninetieth day of a legislative session or the day which has been fixed by some previous resolution or act as the time of adjournment."

(Emphasis added.)

Other opinions of this office have dealt with the calculation of the date of the 120th legislative day and with the application of section 22 to the result as calculated. See, e.g., Ops. Atty. Gen. 280-J, Feb. 26, 1971, Feb. 25, 1941, and March 17, 1909. None of these opinions has indicated that section 22 is applicable to an adjournment other than a final adjournment.

At issue in Knapp v. O'Brien, 288 Minn. 103, 179 N.W.2d 88 (1970) was the validity of a statute passed on the 120th calendar day of the session (exclusive of Sundays). The opinion headnote, written by the court pursuant to Minn. Stat. § 480.06, states in part:

“Inasmuch as the Legislature must adjourn on the 120th calendar day, exclusive of Sundays, after convening, any bill passed on the day of adjournment is void under art. 4, § 22, which provides ‘[n]o bill shall be passed by either house of the Legislature upon the date prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses.’”

(Emphasis added.) Although the Court was not faced with the issue presented here, its language indicates that it considered section 22 to be applicable only to final adjournments.

Therefore, I find no indication, whether in a court decision or opinion of the Attorney General or in practical construction, that section 22 was intended to apply to adjournments during a session.

c. The Established Monday in May

Section 1 as amended provides that the legislature shall not meet in regular session after the first Monday following the third Saturday in May of any year. Section 22 provides that bills may not be passed on the day prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses. The word “prescribed” has not been given a limited, specific meaning³ and in my opinion the above stated portion of section 1 “prescribes” dates beyond which the legislature may not meet. The word “adjournment” as used in section 22, however, means final adjournment. See part b. supra.

It is therefore my opinion that the first Monday following the third Saturday in May of the first year is not a day “prescribed” for the “adjournment” of the two houses, but that said Monday in the second year is such a day. Thus, the last day on which bills may be passed in regular session in 1973 is Monday, May 21, (or such earlier day as is specified in part a. or b. supra), and the last day on which bills may be passed in regular session in 1974 is Saturday, May 18⁴ (or such earlier day as is specified in part a. or b. supra).

QUESTION NO. 6

Does the constitution prescribe a deadline for the presentation of bills to the Governor following the end of the 1973 portion of the regular Session or following the end of the biennial session in 1974?

³See part b. supra and accompanying text (day of adjournment may be “prescribed” by resolution or act of the legislature). In addition, “prescribe” is defined as “to lay down authoritatively as a guide, direction, or rule of action; . . . to dictate; appoint; direct.” State ex rel. Smiley v. Holm, 184 Minn. 228, 235, 238 N.W. 494, 498 (1931). See also Webster’s Third New International Dictionary (1964) at 1792.

⁴Sunday is not a legislative day. Knapp v. O'Brien, 288 Minn. 103, 179 N.W.2d 88 (1970). Ops. Atty. Gen. 280-J, Feb. 26, 1971, Jan. 25, 1961, and Feb. 19, 1957.

Section 11 provides in part:

“Every bill which shall have passed the Senate and the House of Representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. . . . Bills may be presented to the governor during the three days following the day of the final adjournment of the legislature and the legislature may prescribe the method of performing the acts necessary to present bills to the governor after adjournment.”

The phrase “final adjournment” as used in the above-quoted portion of section 11 means the final, or sine die, adjournment of the biennial session. See part b. of the discussion answering question no. 1, supra. Therefore, the three day presentment provision refers to the final adjournment of the biennial session, but not to an interim adjournment and the constitution does not prescribe a deadline for presentation of bills to the Governor upon adjournment at the end of the first year of the biennial session.

QUESTION NO. 7

Does the day on which a bill is presented to the Governor count as one of the three days during which the Governor may sign or veto bills?

OPINION

Section 11 establishes the general rule that the Governor shall have three days in which to sign or veto a bill “after it shall have been presented to him.” In State ex rel. Putnam v. Holm, 172 Minn. 162, 215 N.W. 200 (1927), the Supreme Court held that the day on which a bill is presented to the Governor is excluded in computing the running of the three day period. I therefore answer your seventh question in the negative.

QUESTION NO. 8

Which is the proper motion to make at the adjournment of the 1973 portion of this regular session; a motion to adjourn to 1974 or a motion to adjourn to a day certain in 1974?

OPINION

The present legislature is meeting in the 1973-74 regular session. Since an adjournment from 1973 to 1974 is not a final adjournment of the session, it is my opinion that this adjournment should be handled as are other adjournments during the session. An adjournment until a day certain in 1974 would therefore be the proper motion to make upon adjourning in 1973.

QUESTION NO. 9

Does a bill not passed by both houses before adjournment of the legislature in the first year of a biennium carry over so that it may be acted upon during the second year?

OPINION

Each regular session of the legislature may now be held in both years of a biennium and an adjournment from the first year of a regular session to the second year does not constitute a final adjournment of the session. See supra. No constitutional or statutory provision prohibits the carry-over of a bill from the first year of a session to the second year. Therefore, such bills may be carried over if this procedure is not inconsistent with legislative rules.

QUESTION NO. 10

Does the Governor have the power to call the legislature into special session during the interim period between the last day on which the legislature meets in regular session in the first year of a biennium and the first day on which it meets in regular session in the second year of a biennium?

OPINION

Article IV, section 1 provides that a special session of the legislature may be called as otherwise provided by the Constitution. Article V, section 4 provides that the Governor "may on extraordinary occasions convene both houses of the legislature." These provisions do not restrict the power to call a special session to certain periods during a year or biennium. In addition, article IV, section 1 only provides that the legislature "shall not meet in regular session, nor in any adjournment thereof, after the first Monday following the third Saturday in May of any year." (Emphasis added.)⁵

Nothing in these or other provisions of the constitution expressly or impliedly prohibits the calling of a special session during the interim period described in the question. Furthermore, a basic purpose of our constitution is to provide for an orderly and effective method for the people and their elected representatives to govern themselves. To interpret the constitution as prohibiting the calling of a special session during this interim could severely undermine the processes of government.

Based upon the foregoing, it is my opinion that the Governor has the power to call the legislature into special session during the interim between the first and second year segments of a regular session. I therefore answer your tenth question in the affirmative.

Very truly yours,

WARREN SPANNAUS
Attorney General

CURTIS D. FORSLUND
Chief Deputy
Attorney General

⁵I also note that Minn. Laws 1973, ch. 1 § 1, provides in part that the legislature shall assemble at the seat of government at such times as it may be called by the Governor to meet in special session.

H. F. No. 624: A bill for an act relating to the free flow of information, the protection of sources of information of the news media, and prohibiting disclosure of sources of information.

Reports the same back with the recommendation that the printed bill be amended as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Section 1. [CITATION.] Sections 1 to 4 may be cited as the Minnesota free flow of information act.

Sec. 2. [PUBLIC POLICY.] In order to protect the public interest and the free flow of information, the news media should have the benefit of a substantial privilege not to reveal sources of information or to disclose unpublished information. To this end, the freedom of press requires protection of the confidential relationship between the news gatherer and the source of information. The purpose of this act is to insure and perpetuate, consistent with the public interest, the confidential relationship between the news media and its sources.

Sec. 3. [DISCLOSURE PROHIBITED.] No person who is or has been directly engaged in the gathering, procuring, compiling, editing, or publishing of information for the purpose of transmission, dissemination or publication to the public shall be required by any court, grand jury, agency, department or branch of the state, or any of its political subdivisions or other public body, or by either house of the legislature or any committee, officer, member, or employee thereof, to disclose in any proceeding the person or means from or through which information was obtained, or to disclose any unpublished information procured by him in the course of his work or any of his notes, memoranda, recording tapes, film or other reportorial data which would tend to identify the person or means through which the information was obtained.

Sec. 4. [EXCEPTION AND PROCEDURE.] Subdivision 1. A person seeking disclosure may apply to the district court of the county where the person employed by or associated with a news media resides, has his principal place of business or where the proceeding in which the information sought is pending.

Subd. 2. The application shall be granted only if the court determines after hearing the parties that the person making application, by clear and convincing evidence, has met all three of the following conditions:

(1) that there is probable cause to believe that the source has information clearly relevant to a specific violation of the law other than a misdemeanor,

(2) that the information cannot be obtained by any alternative means or remedy less destructive of first amendment rights, and

(3) that there is a compelling and overriding interest requiring the disclosure of the information where the disclosure is necessary to prevent injustice.

Subd. 3. The district court shall consider the nature of the proceedings, the merits of the claims and defenses, the adequacies of alternative remedies, the relevancy of the information sought, and the possibility of establishing by other means that which the source is expected or may tend to prove. The court shall make its appropriate order after making findings of fact, which order may be appealed directly to the supreme court according to the appropriate rule of appellate procedure. The order is stayed and nondisclosure shall remain in full force and effect during the pendency of the appeal."

And when so amended the bill do pass. Amendments adopted. Report adopted.

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 290.17, is amended to read:

290.17 [GROSS INCOME, ALLOCATION TO STATE.] Items of gross income shall be assigned to this state or other states or countries in accordance with the following principles:

(1) The entire income of all resident or domestic taxpayers from compensation for labor or personal services, or from a business consisting principally of the performance of personal or professional services, shall be assigned to this state, and the income of non-resident taxpayers from such sources shall be assigned to this state if, and to the extent that, the labor or services are performed within it; all other income from such sources shall be treated as income from sources without this state;

(2) Income from the operation of a farm shall be assigned to this state if the farm is located within this state and to other states only if the farm is not located in this state. Income and gains received from tangible property not employed in the business of the recipient of such income or gains, and from tangible property employed in the business of such recipient if such business consists principally of the holding of such property and the collection of the income and gains therefrom, shall be assigned to this state if such property has a situs within it, and to other states only if it has no situs in this state. Income or gains from intangible personal property not employed in the business of the recipient of such income or gains, and from intangible personal property employed in the business of such recipient if such business consists principally of the holding of such property and the collection of the income and gains therefrom, wherever held, whether in trust, or otherwise, shall be assigned to this state if the recipient thereof is domiciled within this state; income or gains from intangible personal property wherever held, whether in trust or otherwise shall be assigned to this state if the recipient of such income or gains is domiciled within this state, or if the grantor of any trust is domiciled within this state and such income or gains would be taxable to such grantor under sections 290.28 or 290.29;

(3) Income derived from carrying on a trade or business, including in the case of a business owned by natural persons the income imputable to the owner for his services and the use of his property therein, shall be assigned to this state if the trade or business is conducted wholly within this state, and to other states if conducted wholly without this state. This provision shall not apply to business income subject to the provisions of clause (1);

(4) When a trade or business is carried on partly within and partly without this state, the entire income derived from such trade or business, including income from intangible property employed in such business and including, in the case of a business owned by natural persons, the income imputable to the owner for his services and the use of his property therein, shall be governed, except as otherwise provided in sections 290.35 and 290.36, by the provisions of section 290.19, notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary. This shall not apply to business income subject to the provisions of clause (1).

For the purposes of this clause, a trade or business located in Minnesota is carried on partly within and partly without this state if tangible personal property is sold by such trade or business and delivered or shipped to a purchaser located outside the state of Minnesota.

In determining whether or not intangible property is employed in a unitary business carried on partly within and partly without this state so that income derived therefrom is subject to apportionment under section 290.19 the following rules and guidelines shall apply.

(a) Intangible property is employed in a business if the business entity owning intangible property holds it as a means of furthering the business operation of which a part is located within the territorial confines of this state.

(b) Where a business operation conducted in Minnesota, is owned by a business entity which carries on business activity outside of the state different in kind from that conducted within this state, and such other business is conducted entirely outside the state, it will be presumed that the two business operations are unitary in nature, interrelated, connected and interdependent unless it can be shown to the contrary.

(5) All other items of gross income shall be assigned to the taxpayer's domicile.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 290.19, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

290.19 [NET INCOME; ALLOCATION TO STATE, METHODS.] Subdivision 1. [COMPUTATION, BUSINESS CONDUCTED PARTLY WITHIN STATE; APPORTIONMENT.] The taxable net income from a trade or business carried on partly within and partly without this state shall be computed by deducting from the gross income of such business, wherever derived, deductions of the kind permitted by section 290.09, so far as connected with or allocable against the production or receipt of such income. The remaining net income shall be apportioned to Minnesota as follows:

(1) If the business consists of the mining, producing, smelting, refining, or any combination of these activities of copper and nickel ores, or of the manufacture of personal property and the sale of said property within and without the state, the remainder shall be apportioned to Minnesota on the basis of the percentage obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following three percentages:

(a) The percentage which the sales made within this state and through, from or by offices, agencies, branches or stores within this state is of the total sales wherever made;

(b) The percentage which the total tangible property, real, personal, and mixed, owned or rented, and used by the taxpayer in this state during the tax period in connection with such trade or business is of the total tangible property, real, personal, or mixed, wherever located, owned or rented and, used by the taxpayer in connection with such trade or business during the tax period; and,

(c) The percentage which the taxpayer's total pay-rolls paid or incurred in this state or paid in respect to labor performed in this state in connection with such trade or business is of the taxpayer's total pay-rolls paid or incurred in connection with such entire trade or business;

(d) The percentage of such remainder to be assigned to this state shall not be in excess of the sum of the following percentages: 70 percent of the percentage determined under clause (1) (a), 15 percent of the percentage determined under clause (1) (b), and 15 percent of the percentage determined under clause (1) (c);

(2) (a) In all other cases the remainder shall be apportioned to Minnesota on the basis of the percentage obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following three percentages:

(1) The percentage which the sales, gross earnings, or receipts from business operations, in whole or in part, within this state bear to the total sales, gross earnings, or receipts from business operations wherever conducted;

(2) The percentage which the total tangible property, real, personal, and mixed, owned or rented, and used by the taxpayer in this state during the tax period in connection with such trade or business is of the total tangible property, real, personal, or mixed, wherever located, owned, or rented, and used by the taxpayer in connection with such trade or business during the tax period; and

(3) The percentage which the taxpayer's total pay-rolls paid or incurred in this state or paid in respect to labor performed in this state in connection with such trade or business is of the taxpayer's total pay-rolls paid or incurred in connection with such entire trade or business;

(4) The percentage of such remainder to be assigned to this state shall not be in excess of the sum of the following percentages: 70 percent of the percentage determined under clause (2) (a) (1), 15 percent of the percentage determined under clause (2) (a) (2), and 15 percent of the percentage determined under clause (2) (a) (3);

(b) If the methods prescribed under clause (2) (a) will not properly reflect taxable net income assignable to the state, there may be used, if practicable and if such use will properly and fairly reflect such income, the percentage which the sales, gross earnings, or receipts from business operations, in whole or in part, within this state bear to the total sales, gross earnings, or receipts from business operations wherever conducted; or the separate or segregated accounting method;

(3) The sales, pay-rolls, earnings, and receipts referred to in this section shall be those for the taxable year in respect of which the tax is being computed. The property referred to in this section shall be the average of the property owned or used by the taxpayer during the taxable year in respect of which the tax is being computed ;

(4) For the purposes of this section, in determining the amount of sales made within Minnesota, there shall be excluded therefrom sales negotiated or effected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at, connected with, or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the taxpayer or by his agents or agencies outside the state and sales otherwise determined by the commissioner to be attributable to the business conducted on such premises. If the commissioner finds that the taxpayer maintains an office, warehouse or other places of business outside the state for the purpose of reducing its tax under this section it shall in determining the amount of taxable net income include therein the proceeds of sales attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place outside the state.

Sec. 3. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 290.19, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 1a. [DETERMINATION OF SALES MADE WITHIN THIS STATE.] For purposes of this section the following rules shall apply in determining whether or not sales are made within this state.

ARTICLE XVIII

Section 1. The significant increase in ad valorem taxes in recent years is a major concern of the legislature in view of the impact of such increases upon all economic groups within the state, but with particular emphasis upon certain home owners, renters and farmers. The legislature attributes this steadily increasing property tax burden to the rising costs of local government, increased school and welfare expenditures, and a continuing and strong inflationary effect on real property values.

In Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Article XIII, the legislature created a tax study commission to examine Minnesota's total tax structure as its equity and distribution methods relate to the general economic needs and development of the state, the special needs of employment and job opportunity and the revenue needs and sources of revenue available to the state and to its political subdivisions.

The tax study commission is herewith directed to focus particular attention on the process of assessing and classifying real and personal property for ad valorem tax purposes, in order that the legislature may be able to achieve a reasonable balance between the total revenue requirements of the state and its political subdivisions and that portion of such revenues that should be raised by property taxes.

No appropriation is made for the purposes of this article, as funds are being made available to the tax study commission in other sections of the law.

ARTICLE XIX

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 290.0601, Subdivision 6, is amended to read:

Subd. 6. [CLAIMANT.] Claimant means a person who has filed a claim under sections 290.0601 to ~~290.0617~~ 290.0618, has attained either the age of 65 or was a recipient of "supplementary security income for the aged, blind, and disabled" provided under the social security amendments of 1972 (P.L. 92-603) during the calendar year for which the claim is filed, and was domiciled in this state during the entire calendar year for which the claim for relief under sections 290.0601 to ~~290.0617~~ 290.0618 was filed. In the case of claim for rent constituting property taxes accrued the claimant shall have rented property during any part of the calendar year for which he files claim for relief under sections 290.0601 to ~~290.0617~~ 290.0618. When two individuals are able to meet the qualifications for a claimant and are husband and wife, they may determine between them as to which of the two the claimant shall be. If they are unable to agree the matter shall be referred to the commissioner of taxation and his decision shall be final. When a homestead is occupied by two or more individuals and more than one such individual is able to qualify as a claimant, and some or all such qualified individuals are not related as determined under subdivision 3, each such individual may be a claimant, provided he meets the requirements therefor. Each such claimant shall use only the rent constituting property taxes or property taxes accrued paid by him.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 290.0601, Subdivision 9, is amended to read:

Subd. 9. [PROPERTY TAXES ACCRUED.] Property taxes accrued means the net property tax after deducting the credit allowed by Minnesota Statutes 1967, Section 273.13, Subdivisions 6 and 7, (exclusive of special assessments, delinquent interest and charges for service) levied on a claimant's homestead in 1967 or any calendar year thereafter pursuant to Minnesota Statutes 1965, Chapters 272 and 273. When a homestead is owned by two or more persons or entities as joint tenants or tenants in common and one or more persons or entities is not a member of claimant's household, "property taxes accrued" is that part of property taxes levied on such homestead as reflects the ownership percentage of the claimant and his household. For purposes of this paragraph property taxes are "levied" when the tax roll is delivered to the local treasurer for collection. The local treasurer will include with the tax bill a statement that if the owner of the property is 65 years of age or over, or was a recipient of "supplementary security income for the aged, blind, and disabled" under the social security amendments of 1972 (P.L. 92-603), he may be eligible for the credit allowed by sections 290.0601 to ~~290.0617~~ 290.0618. When a claimant and his household own their homestead part of the preceding calendar year and rent the same or a different homestead for part of the same year "property taxes accrued" means only taxes levied on the homestead when both owned and occupied as such by claimant and his household at the time of the levy, multiplied by the percentage of 12 months that such property was owned and occupied by such household as its homestead during the preceding year. When a household owns and occupies two or more different homesteads in the same calendar year, property taxes accrued shall relate only to that property occupied by the household as a homestead on the levy date. Whenever a homestead is an integral part of a farm, the claimant may use the total property taxes accrued for the larger unit, but not exceeding 80 acres of land, as described in section 273.13, subdivision 6, except as the limitations of section 290.0608 apply. For the purpose of sections 290.0601 to ~~290.0617~~ 290.0618, the "unit" refers to that parcel of property covered by a single tax statement of which the homestead is a part.

Sec. 3. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 290.061, is amended to read:

290.061 [PROOF OF CLAIM.] Every claimant under sections 290.-0601 to ~~290.0617~~ 290.0618, shall supply to the department of taxation, in support of his claim, reasonable proof of age, proof of "supplementary security income for the aged, blind, and disabled" received, rent paid, name and address of owner or managing agent of property rented, property taxes accrued, changes of homestead, household membership, household income, size and nature of property claimed as the homestead and a statement that the property taxes accrued, used for purposes of sections 290.0601 to ~~290.0617~~ 290.0618 have been or will be paid by him and that there are no delinquent property taxes on the homestead.

Sec. 4. This article is effective January 1, 1974, and shall apply to property taxes and rent constituting property taxes accrued in 1973 and subsequent years.

"Fines" for a municipal court means the net amount remaining after subtracting total municipal court expenses from total collections of municipal court fines. A governmental subdivision shall qualify for this special levy only if the decrease in aggregate revenues as computed herein and divided by the population of the governmental subdivision in the preceding levy year is equal to or greater than two percent of the per capita levy limitation for the preceding levy year;

(o) pay the amounts required to compensate for a decrease in mobile homes property tax receipts to the extent that the governmental subdivision's portion of the total levy in the current levy year, pursuant to section 273.13, subdivision 3, as amended, is less than the distribution of the mobile homes tax to the governmental subdivision pursuant to section 273.13, subdivision 3, in calendar year 1971;

(p) pay the amounts required to compensate for a decrease in gross earnings tax aids pursuant to sections 276.15 to 276.18, or 368.39 to 368.42, or 373.20 to 373.24, to the extent that the distribution of these aids to the governmental subdivision in the calendar year immediately preceding the current levy year is less than the distribution of these aids to the governmental subdivision in calendar year 1971;

(q) pay the amounts required, in accordance with section 275.075, to correct for a county auditor's error of omission in levy year 1971 or a subsequent levy year, but only to the extent that when added to the preceding year's levy it is not in excess of an applicable statutory, special law or charter limitation, or the limitation imposed on the governmental subdivision by sections 275.50 to 275.66 in the preceding levy year;

(r) pay amounts required to correct for an error of omission in the levy certified to the appropriate county auditor or auditors by the governing body of a city, village, borough or town with village powers in levy year 1971 or a subsequent levy year, but only to the extent that when added to the preceding year's levy it is not in excess of an applicable statutory, special law or charter limitation, or the limitation imposed on the governmental subdivision by sections 275.50 to 275.56 in the preceding levy year;

(s) pay the increased cost of municipal services as the result of an annexation or consolidation ordered by the Minnesota municipal commission in levy year 1971 or a subsequent levy year, but only to the extent and for the levy years as provided by the commission in its order pursuant to section 414.01, subdivision 15;

(t) pay the increased costs of municipal services provided to new private industrial and nonresidential commercial development, to the extent that the extension of such services are not paid for through bonded indebtedness or special assessments, and not to exceed the amount determined as follows. The governmental subdivision may calculate the aggregate of:

(1) The increased expenditures necessary in preparation for the delivering of municipal services to new private industrial and nonresidential commercial development, but limited to one year's expenditures one time for each such development;

(2) The amount determined by dividing the overall levy limitation established pursuant to sections 275.50 to 275.56, and exclusive of special levies and special assessments, by the total taxable value of the governmental subdivision, and then multiplying this quotient times the total increase in assessed value of private industrial and nonresidential commercial development within the governmental subdivision. For the purpose of this clause, the increase in the assessed value of private industrial and nonresidential commercial development is calculated as the increase in assessed value over the assessed value of the real estate parcels subject to such private development as most recently determined before the building permit was issued. In the fourth levy year subsequent to the levy year in which the building permit was issued, the increase in assessed value of the real estate parcels subject to such private development shall no longer be included in determining the special levy.

The aggregate of the foregoing amounts, less any costs of extending municipal services to new private industrial and nonresidential commercial development which are paid by bonded indebtedness or special assessments, equals the maximum amount that may be levied as a "special levy" for the increased costs of municipal services provided to new private industrial and nonresidential commercial development.

Sec. 4. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.51, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

275.51 [LEVY LIMITS.] Subdivision 1. Notwithstanding any provisions of law or municipal charter to the contrary which authorize ad valorem levies in excess of the limitations established by sections 275.50 to 275.56, but subject to section 275.56, the provisions of this section shall apply to the levies by governmental subdivisions in the years 1971, 1972 and subsequent years for all purposes other than those for which special levies and special assessments are made.

Sec. 5. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.51, Subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. The property tax levy limitation for governmental subdivisions in 1971 is calculated as follows. There shall be calculated the aggregate of receipts by each governmental subdivision from:

(a) the total amount of property taxes levied before any reduction prescribed by sections 273.13 and 273.135 in respect to homestead property, by or for each governmental subdivision in 1970, or in the most recent preceding year when such taxes were levied for a period of 12 months if the governmental subdivision levied such taxes for a shorter period in 1970, for all purposes, except for special assessments and special levies;

(b) exempt property tax reimbursement payments, if any, estimated by the department of taxation to be due and payable for the year 1971 from the state pursuant to section 273.69, minus the allocation of these payments on a percentage distribution basis to the welfare aids and bonded indebtedness special levies in taxes payable year 1971;

(c) per capita aid payments estimated by the department of taxation to be due and payable for the year 1971 from the state pursuant to sections 297A.51 to 297A.60, minus the allocation of these payments on a percentage distribution basis to the welfare aids special levy in taxes payable year 1971.

The aggregate of the foregoing receipts shall be divided by the 1970 population of the governmental subdivision established pursuant to section 275.53. The resulting quotient (~~aggregate 1971 receipts per capita~~) ~~is the per capita limitation and may be adjusted (1970 payable 1971 levy limit base per capita)~~ shall be increased pursuant to section 275.52, subdivision 2, to derive the ~~1971 payable 1972 levy limit base per capita . The adjusted quotient 1971 payable 1972 levy limit base per capita shall then be multiplied by the 1971 population of the governmental subdivision established pursuant to section 275.53. From the resulting figure (1971 payable 1972 levy limit base) shall be deducted the amount (estimated by the department of taxation) of state formula aids to be paid pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Article 21 section 477A.01, as amended and the taconite production tax municipal and county aids to be paid pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Article 30 section 298.282, as amended , to the governmental subdivision during the calendar year 1972. The resulting figure is the amount of property taxes which the governmental subdivision may levy in 1971 for all purposes other than those for which special levies and special assessments are made.~~

Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.51, Subdivision 3, is amended to read:

Subd. 3. The property tax levy limitation for governmental subdivisions in 1972 and subsequent levy years is calculated as follows. ~~There shall be calculated the aggregate of receipts by each governmental subdivision from:~~

~~(a) the total amount of property taxes levied pursuant to subdivision 1 in 1971 and succeeding years respectively;~~

~~(b) state formula and taconite production tax, municipal and county aid payments estimated by the department of taxation to be due and payable for the year 1972 and succeeding years, respectively, from the state pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Articles 21 and 30.~~

The aggregate of the foregoing receipts shall be divided by the 1971 or subsequent year's population of the governmental subdivision established as above for the preceding year. The resulting quotient (aggregate receipts per capita) is the per capita limitation and may be adjusted pursuant to section 275.52. ~~The governmental subdivision's levy limit base per capita for the immediately preceding levy year shall be increased pursuant to section 275.52, subdivision 2. The adjusted quotient shall then be multiplied by the 1971 or subsequent resulting current levy year's levy limit base per capita shall then be multiplied by the current levy year's population of the governmental subdivision established pursuant to section 275.53. From the resulting figure (current levy year's levy limit base) shall be deducted the amount of state formula aids estimated by the department of taxation to be paid pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Article 21 section 477A.01, as amended , and the taconite production tax , municipal and county aids paid pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Article 30 section 298.282, as amended , to the governmental subdivision during the calendar year 1972, or subsequent year, as the case may be tax collection year to which the current levy year's levy limit base applies . The resulting figure is the amount of property taxes which the governmental subdivision may levy in 1972 and the current levy year for all purposes other than those for which special levies and special assessments are made.~~

For the purpose of determining the amount of property taxes that a governmental subdivision may levy, in 1973 and thereafter, taxes payable in 1974 and thereafter, for all purposes except special levies and special assessments, the following amounts (increased by 12.36 percent and divided by the 1973 population of the governmental subdivision established pursuant to section 275.53) shall be added to the governmental subdivision's 1972 payable 1973 levy limit base per capita and adjusted pursuant to section 275.52, subdivision 2:

(1) The amount of a county auditor's error of omission in the ad valorem taxes extended in levy year 1970, taxes payable in 1971, but only to the extent that when included in the governmental subdivision's levy in 1970, taxes payable in 1971, such amount is not in excess of any applicable statutory, special law or charter limitation imposed on the governmental subdivision in levy year 1970.

(2) The amount of an error of omission in the levy certified to the appropriate county auditor or auditors by the governing body of a city, village, borough or town with village powers in levy year 1970, taxes payable in 1971, but only to the extent that when included in the governmental subdivision's levy in 1970, taxes payable in 1971, such amount is not in excess of any applicable statutory, special law or charter limitation imposed on the governmental subdivision in levy year 1970.

The foregoing addition shall not be construed to alter in any way the amount of state formula aids estimated by the department of taxation to be paid a governmental subdivision pursuant to section 477A.01 in calendar years 1972 and 1973.

For levy year 1973 and thereafter, taxes payable in 1974 and thereafter, the current levy year's levy limit base for the governmental subdivision shall be increased by:

(a) the amount of aids (estimated by the department of taxation) that the governmental subdivision was entitled to receive from the state, pursuant to sections 297.13 and 340.60, seventy percent of the amount of county government was entitled to receive pursuant to section 287.12 and 100 percent of the amount a city, village or town government was entitled to receive pursuant to section 287.12, in calendar year 1973, before any adjustments for payments made in preceding calendar years;

(b) the amount of aids (estimated by the department of taxation) that the governmental subdivision was entitled to receive from the state, pursuant to section 290.361, on November 30, 1972 and May 31, 1973, before any adjustments for prior payments.

The foregoing addition shall be made after the per capita adjustment pursuant to section 275.52, subdivision 2, and after the multiplication of the current levy year's levy limit base per capita by the current levy year's population of the governmental subdivision, but before the deduction of the aids estimated by the department of taxation to be paid to the governmental subdivision pursuant to sections 477A.01 and 298.-282, as amended, during the tax collection year to which the current levy year's levy limit base applies.

Sec. 7. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.51, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3a. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision 3, but subject to any other law or charter limitation, each governmental subdivision is entitled, in levy year 1973 and subsequent levy years, to a minimum property tax levy limitation of six percent of its state aids estimated by the department of taxation to be paid, pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Articles XXI and XXX, to the governmental subdivision during the tax collection year to which the property tax levy limitation applies.

A governmental subdivision which would maximize its property tax levy limitation under this subdivision shall qualify for this subdivision and subdivision 3 shall not apply to such governmental subdivision. In any levy year (qualifying levy year) that a governmental subdivision qualifies for this subdivision, its property tax levy limitation shall be determined as follows.

The state aids estimated by the department of taxation to be paid, pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Articles XXI and XXX, to the governmental subdivision in the taxes payable year to which such qualifying levy year applies shall be divided by the population of the governmental subdivision in such qualifying levy year as determined pursuant to section 275.53.

The resulting quotient shall be increased pursuant to section 275.52, subdivision 2, to derive the levy limit base per capita for the governmental subdivision for the qualifying levy year. The levy limit base per capita for the qualifying levy year shall be multiplied by the population of the governmental subdivision in the qualifying levy year as determined pursuant to section 275.53. From the resulting figure (levy limit base for the qualifying levy year) shall be deducted the amount (estimated by the department of taxation) of state formula aids to be paid pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Article XXI, and the taconite production tax municipal aids to be paid pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, Article XXX, to the governmental subdivision during the tax collection year to which the qualifying levy year applies. The resulting figure is the amount of property taxes which the governmental subdivision may levy in the qualifying levy year for all purposes other than those for which special levies and special assessments are made.

In any levy year that a governmental subdivision would maximize its property tax levy limitation under subdivision 3 instead of this subdivision, the levy limit base per capita for the last qualifying levy year constituting the preceding year's levy limit base per capita for the provisions of subdivision 3, the governmental subdivision shall no longer qualify for this subdivision and shall presume to have its property tax levy limitation calculated pursuant to subdivision 3.

Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.51, Subdivision 4, is amended to read:

Subd. 4. If in 1971 the levy made by any governmental subdivision exceeds the limitation provided in this section, except when such excess levy is due to the rounding of the mill rates of the governmental subdivision in accordance with section 275.28, subsequent distributions of formula aids pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31 sections 298.282 and 477A.01, as amended, shall be reduced 10 cents for each full dollar that the levy exceeds the limitation imposed by this section. If in any year subsequent to 1971 the levy made by a governmental subdivision exceeds the limitation provided in sections 275.50 to 275.56, except when such excess levy is due to the rounding of the mill rates of the governmental subdivision in accordance with section 275.28, subsequent distributions required to be made by the state auditor from any formula aids pursuant to ~~Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31 sections 298.282 and 477A.01, as amended~~, shall be reduced ~~10 cents for each full dollar the levy exceeds the limitation up to five percent, and 33 cents for each full dollar the levy exceeds the limitation by more than five percent~~; provided that a governmental subdivision may determine to levy in excess of the limitation provided in sections 275.50 to 275.56 by not to exceed ten percent by passing a resolution setting forth the amount by which the levy limit is proposed to be exceeded. Thereafter the resolution shall be published for two successive weeks in the official newspaper of the governmental subdivision or if there be no official newspaper, in a newspaper of general circulation therein, together with a notice fixing a date for a public hearing on the proposed increase which hearing shall be held not less than two weeks nor more than four weeks after the first publication of the resolution. Following the public hearing, the governing body may determine to take no further action, or in the alternative, adopt a resolution authorizing the levy as originally proposed, or adopt a resolution approving a levy in such lesser amount as it so determines. The resolution authorizing a levy in excess of the limitation imposed by sections 275.50 to 275.56 shall be published in the official newspaper of the governmental subdivision or if there be no official newspaper, in a newspaper of general circulation therein. If within 15 days thereafter, a petition signed by voters equal in number to five percent of the votes cast in the governmental subdivision in the last general election or 2,000 voters, whichever is less, requesting a referendum on the proposed resolution is filed with the clerk or recorder of the governmental subdivision if the governmental subdivision is a city, village, borough, or town, or with the county auditor if the governmental subdivision is a county, the resolution shall not be effective until it has been submitted to the voters at a general or special election and a majority of votes cast on the question of approving the resolution are in the affirmative. The commissioner of taxation is directed to prepare a suggested form of question to be presented at any such referendum. A levy approved at any such referendum held at a special or general election held prior to October 1 in any levy year increases the allowable levy in that same levy year and provides a permanent adjustment to the levy limit base per capita of the governmental subdivision for future levy years, and there shall be no reduction in distributions of formula aids to the governmental subdivision as a result of such levy. If no referendum is requested, the excess levy authorized by the resolution, if the resolution is adopted prior to October 1 in any year, may be levied in that same levy year and subsequent distributions required to be made by the state auditor from any formula aids pursuant to Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31, shall be reduced 15 cents for each full dollar the levy exceeds the limitation. A levy made in 1971 prior to the effective date of Extra Session Laws 1971, Chapter 31 shall be reviewed and may be modified by the appropriate authority of the governmental subdivision for the purpose of reducing such levy to conform to the limitations imposed by this section. Any reduction in such levy made prior to December 15, 1971, shall be given the same effect as though such reduction had been made prior to the expiration of the time allowed by law for making the levy. The provisions of this subdivision shall apply to the levy of a metropolitan county before the reduction required pursuant to section 163.051, subdivision 5.

Sec. 9. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.52, Subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. The ~~per capita limitation levy limit base~~ per capita, as adjusted for previous increases pursuant to this section, may be increased each year by the governing body of the governmental subdivision affected thereby in the amount not to exceed six percent of the previous year's ~~per capita limitation levy limit base~~ per capita.

Sec. 10. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.52, Subdivision 3, is amended to read:

Subd. 3. If the population of any governmental subdivision decreases from one year to the next, the current levy year's population shall, for purposes of sections 275.50 to 275.56, be increased by an amount equal to one half of the decrease in population from the prior levy year, such increase to be effective for the said one levy year only. ~~This subdivision shall not apply to decreases in population resulting from a change or change in the boundaries of a governmental subdivision.~~

Sec. 11. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.53, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

275.53 [GOVERNING CENSUS.] Subdivision 1. For the purpose of determining the amount of tax that a governmental subdivision may levy in accordance with a per capita limitation established by this chapter, the population of the governmental subdivision shall be that established by the last state or federal census, or by a special census taken within the entire governmental subdivision pursuant to sections 275.50 to 275.56 or to any other law, by a census taken pursuant to subdivision 2, or by a population estimate made by ~~the state health department~~, by the metropolitan council by ~~a regional development commission~~, by an order of the Minnesota municipal commission pursuant to section 414.01, subdivision 14, or by an estimate made pursuant to subdivision 3, whichever is the most recent as to the stated date of count or estimate.

Sec. 12. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.53, Subdivision 3, is amended to read:

Subd. 3. (a) In lieu of passing a resolution pursuant to subdivision 2, the governing body of a ~~municipality or town~~ govern- mental subdivision may pass by June 1 of any year a resolution containing an estimate of the current population of the subdivision. The resolution shall describe with specificity the criteria upon which the estimate is based, and shall state that the estimate is made for purposes of increasing that subdivision's tax levy pursuant to sections 275.50 to 275.56.

(b) The resolution shall then be submitted to the ~~vital statistics section of the state department of health~~ state planning agency. The ~~section~~ agency shall determine, and so inform the subdivision in writing within 30 days of receipt of the resolution, whether the criteria described therein do or do not provide a reasonable basis for the population estimate. No determination by the ~~section~~ agency made pursuant to this subdivision shall constitute, nor shall it be represented as constituting, a determination of actual population.

(c) If the ~~section~~ agency determines that the criteria do not provide a reasonable basis for the population estimate, the resolution shall be of no effect. If the ~~section~~ agency determines that the criteria do provide a reasonable basis for the population estimate, the resolution shall be published at least once in a legal newspaper of general circulation in said subdivision. Said estimate may be used for computing the amount of ad valorem taxes the subdivision may levy, unless within 30 days following the publication of the resolution, 10 percent or more of the registered voters of the subdivision, or if the subdivision does not require voter registration, then 10 percent or more of its voters, who voted at the subdivision's last election, sign a petition demanding a special census, and submit the petition to the governing body of the subdivision.

(d) Attached to the petition shall be an affidavit executed by the circulator or circulators thereof, stating that he or they personally circulated the petition, the number of signatures thereon, that all signatures were affixed in his or their presence and that he or they believe them to be genuine signatures of the persons whose names they purport to be. Each signature need not be notarized.

(e) Upon the receipt of a petition conforming to this subdivision, the governing body shall pass a resolution requesting the secretary of state to take a special census of the governmental subdivision. The census shall be taken and financed pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 2. Any population estimate made by the governing body of any governmental subdivision shall be superseded by any subsequent state or federal census taken pursuant to sections 275.50 to 275.56 or any other law, or by a population estimate made by the ~~state health department,~~ the metropolitan council or a ~~regional development commission~~. The governing body of a governmental subdivision may not avail itself of the provisions of this subdivision during any year for which any state or federal census has been taken or for which ~~the state health department,~~ the metropolitan council or a ~~regional development commission~~ has made a population estimate of the subdivision.

(f) In the event of any variance in population certified, the governmental subdivision by resolution shall choose from among the population estimates the figure which shall be governing for purposes of sections 275.50 to 275.56.

Sec. 13. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 275.55, is amended to read:

275.55 [STATE REVIEW AND REGULATION OF LEVIES.] The state auditor and the commissioner of taxation, or their designees, shall establish procedures by which levies of all governmental units shall be periodically reviewed. The commissioner shall be empowered to order withholding of state aids where such penalties are authorized by law, to order the reduction of current or future levies where levy limitations have been exceeded, to issue, in accordance with chapter 15, rulings interpreting sections 275.50 to 275.56, and to take such other administrative actions as he deems necessary in order to carry out the provisions of sections 275.50 to 275.56. If the commissioner of taxation takes administrative action or any other action authorized by this section to enforce the provisions of sections 275.50 to 275.56, he shall give written notice of such action to the governmental subdivision affected. Such notice shall specify the actual or impending violations by the governmental subdivision of sections 275.50 to 275.56 or the rules and regulations of the department of taxation pertaining thereto, describe the corrective action required, including, in the case of an excess levy, reduction of the governmental subdivision's levy in the next succeeding levy year in an amount equal to the amount of the excess levy, set a reasonable period of time within which the governmental subdivision shall correct the specified actual or impending violations and caution the governmental subdivision that if the specified correction is not made within the time allowed, the state aids to the governmental subdivision pursuant to sections 477A.01 and 298.282, as amended, will be reduced as provided in section 275.51, subdivision 4. The time period first allowed for correction may be extended by the commissioner if he finds a reasonable basis for delay. County auditors, in addition to duties otherwise provided by law, shall cooperate with the commissioner and auditor in establishing such procedure and enforcing the provisions of sections 275.50 to 275.56.

Sec. 14. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 275, is amended by adding a section to read:

[275.551] [LEVY LIMITATIONS REVIEW BOARD.] A levy limitations review board is hereby created to resolve questions concerning administrative interpretation of sections 275.50 to 275.56 that require review and to hear appeals by governing bodies of governmental subdivisions who disagree with the administrative rulings issued by the commissioner of taxation pursuant to section 275.55.

The members of the review board shall be the commissioner of taxation, the chairman of the municipal commission and one public member appointed by the governor, by and with the approval of the senate, for a four year term which shall begin February 15 and continue until his successor is duly appointed and qualifies. The first public member, however, shall be appointed for a term ending February 15, 1975. A vacancy in the office of the public member of the board shall be filled by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, for the unexpired term. The governor may remove the public member at any time for good cause shown, after notice and hearing.

The public member shall be a citizen of the state who is knowledgeable in finance and local government. The public member shall not, at the time he is a member of the board, hold any other public office, or be employed by or represent a governmental subdivision, or have any personal financial interest in any contract with a governmental subdivision, or serve in any capacity where a conflict of interest could arise. The public member shall receive as compensation for his services the amount of $35 for each day or fraction thereof spent in attending meetings of the board or in performing other duties required by law, and shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of his duties.

Sec. 15. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 275, is amended by adding a section to read:

[275.552] [CONTESTED CASES; HEARING, NOTICE, EVIDENCE, DECISIONS, ORDERS.] The governing body of a governmental subdivision to whom a notice pursuant to section 275.55 is given may by a majority vote of the whole governing body decide to dispute the commissioner's administrative action. Notice of such decision must be given the commissioner within 30 days of the issuance of the commissioner's notice, or else the commissioner's decision is final and not subject to the review of the levy limitations review board. Upon receipt of a notice from a governmental subdivision within the time allowed, disputing the commissioner's administrative action, the commissioner shall conduct further investigation of the disputed issues of fact as he deems necessary. If the commissioner continues to adhere to his previous notice, the governing body of the governmental subdivision shall be entitled to a hearing before the levy limitations review board. The board shall set a time and place for the hearing and notice shall be given by mail to the governing body of the governmental subdivision. The board shall adopt rules governing the proceedings for hearings which shall afford all interested parties the opportunity to present evidence and arguments with respect to the contested issues of fact. The decision of the board shall be in writing, and shall state in detail the basis and reason for each conclusion upon each contested issue of fact. A copy of the decision and order together with the detailed reasons shall be delivered or mailed to the governmental subdivision or its attorney of record. The decision of the levy limitations review board under this section may be reviewed on certiorari by the district court of the county wherein the governmental subdivision, or any part thereof, is located.

Sec. 16. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 275, is amended by adding a section to read:

[275.58] [ELECTIONS TO INCREASE LEVY.] Subdivision 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 275.50 to 275.56, but sub- ject to other law or charter provisions establishing per capita, mill or other limitations on the amount of taxes that may be levied, the levy of a governmental subdivision, as defined by section 275.50, subdivision 1, may be increased above the limitation imposed by sections 275.50 to 275.56 in any per capita or dollar amount which is approved by the majority of voters of the governmental subdivision voting on the question at a general or special election. When the governing body of the governmental subdivision resolves to increase the levy of the governmental subdivision pursuant to this section, it shall provide for submission of the proposition of an increase in the levy limit base per capita or the proposition of an additional levy, as the case may be, at a general or special election. Notice of such election shall be given in the manner required by law. If the proposition is for an adjustment to the governmental subdivision's levy limit base per capita, increasing the levy limit base per capita over the per capita amount established pursuant to section 275.51, subdivision 3, such notice shall state the purpose of such per capita adjustment and the per capita amount of such adjustment. If the proposition is for an additional levy, such notice shall state the purpose and maximum yearly amount of such additional levy.

Subd. 2. A levy limit base per capita adjustment approved pursuant to subdivision 1 at a general or special election held prior to October 1 in any levy year increases the levy limit base per capita in that same levy year by the approved per capita amount and provides a permanent adjustment to the levy limit base per capita of the governmental subdivision for future levy years. A levy limit base per capita adjustment approved pursuant to subdivision 1 at a general or special election held after September 30 in any levy year shall not increase the levy limit base per capita in that same levy year but shall provide a permanent adjustment to the levy limit base per capita of the governmental subdivision for future levy years.

Subd. 3. An additional levy approved pursuant to subdivision 1 at a general or special election held prior to October 1 in any levy year may be levied in that same levy year and in any levy years thereafter. An additional levy approved pursuant to subdivision 1 at a general or special election held after September 30 in any levy year shall not be levied in that same levy year, but may be levied in the subsequent levy year and in levy years thereafter.

Subd. 4. An additional levy approved by the majority of the voters of the governmental subdivision pursuant to subdivision 1 is over and above the limitation imposed on the governmental subdivision by sections 275.50 to 275.56 and shall not be subject to the penalty provisions of section 275.51, subdivision 4. A levy limit base per capita adjustment approved by the majority of the voters of the governmental subdivision pursuant to subdivision 1 is a permanent adjustment to the levy limit base per capita established pursuant to section 275.51, subdivision 3, and shall not be subject to the penalty provisions of section 275.51, subdivision 4.

Subd. 5. Notwithstanding any statute, special law, ordinance or charter provision to the contrary, it shall require approval of a majority of those voting on the question to pass a referendum pursuant to subdivision 1.

Subd. 6. Notwithstanding any statute, special law, ordinance or charter provision to the contrary, the governing body of a governmental subdivision may call and hold special elections pursuant to this section.

Sec. 17. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 275, is amended by adding a section to read:

[275.59] [GOVERNMENTAL SUBDIVISIONS UNDER 500 POPULATION; EXEMPTION FROM LEVY LIMITS.] Commencing with levy year 1973 and thereafter, taxes payable in 1974 and thereafter, the provisions of sections 275.50 to 275.56 shall not apply to any city, village, borough or town with village powers whose population according to the latest state or federal census is under 500.

Sec. 18. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 414.01, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 15. When a commission order enlarges an existing municipality or creates a new municipality, the commission shall indicate in its order the estimated increased costs to such municipality as the result of such annexation or consolidation, and the time period that such municipality would be allowed a special levy for these increased costs pursuant to section 275.50, subdivision 5, clause (s). This subdivision shall apply to annexations or consolidations of municipalities in levy year 1971 or a subsequent levy year.

For the years ending June 30, 1974 and June 30, 1975, the sum of the payments from the sources enumerated heretofore, and the payments of the bank excise tax pursuant to section 290.361, subdivision 4, shall not be less than the sum of the payments from those sources for the year ending June 30, 1973, whichever is higher.

ARTICLE XXII

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Chapter 272, is amended by adding a section to read:

[272.039] [LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS RELATED TO THE TAXATION OF MINERALS OWNED SEPARATELY FROM THE SURFACE.] The legislature finds, for the reasons stated below, that a class of real property has been created which, although not exempt from taxation, is not assessed for tax purposes and does not, therefore, contribute anything toward the cost of supporting the governments which protect and preserve the continued existence of the property. These reasons are as follows: (1) In the case of Washburn V. Gregory, 1914, 125 Minn. 491, 147 N.W. 706, the Minnesota Supreme Court determined that where mineral interests are owned separately from the surface interests in real estate, the mineral interest is a separate interest in land, separately taxable, and does not forfeit if the overlying surface interest forfeits for nonpayment of taxes due on the surface interest; (2) Since this 1914 decision, mineral interests owned separately from the surface have been valued and assessed for tax purposes, as a practical matter, only if the value of the minerals has been determined through drilling and drill core analysis; and (3) The absence of any taxation of mineral interests owned separately from the surface, except where drilling analysis is available, has encouraged the separation of ownership of surface and mineral estates and resulted in the creation of hundreds of thousands of acres of untaxed mineral estate lands which thus are immune from tax forfeiture. The legislature also finds that the province of Ontario in Canada, which has land ownership patterns and mineral characteristics similar to that of Minnesota, has imposed a tax of $.50 an acre on minerals owned separately from the surface since 1968, and $.10 an acre before that. The legislature further finds that the identification of separately owned mineral interests by taxing authorities requires title searches which are extremely burdensome and, where no public tract index is available, prohibitively expensive. This result is caused in part by the decision in Wichelman v. Messner, 1957, 250 Minn. 88, 83 N.W. (2d) 800, where the so called "40 year law" was held inapplicable to mineral interests owned separately from surface interests. On the basis of the above findings, and for the purpose of requiring mineral interests owned separately from surface interests to contribute to the cost of government at a time when other interests in real property are heavily burdened with real property taxes, the legislature concludes that the taxation of severed mineral interests as provided in section 3 of this act is necessary and in the public interest, and provides fair taxation of a class of real property which has escaped taxation for many years. The legislature further concludes that such a tax is not prohibited by Minnesota Constitution, Article 18. The legislature concludes finally that the amendments and repeals made by this act to Minnesota Statutes, Sections 93.52 to 93.58, are necessary to provide adequate identification of mineral interests owned separately from the surface and to prevent the continued escape from taxation of obscure and fractionalized severed mineral interests.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 272.04, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

272.04 [MINERAL, GAS, COAL, AND OIL OWNED APART FROM LAND; SPACE ABOVE AND BELOW SURFACE.] Subdivision 1. When any mineral, gas, coal, oil, or other similar interests in real estate are owned separately and apart from and independently of the rights and interests owned in the surface of such real estate, such mineral, gas, coal, oil, or other similar interests may be assessed and taxed separately from such surface rights and interests in such real estate, including but not limited to the taxation provided in section 3 of this act, and may be sold for taxes in the same manner and with the same effect as other interests in real estate are sold for taxes.

Sec. 3. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 273.13, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 2a. [CLASS 1b.] "Mineral interest", for the purpose of this subdivision, means an interest in any minerals, including but not limited to gas, coal, oil, or other similar interest in real estate, which is owned separately and apart from the fee title to the surface of such real property. Mineral interests which are filed for record in the offices of either the register of deeds or registrar of titles pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Sections 93.52 to 93.58 constitute class 1b, and shall be taxed as provided in this subdivision unless specifically excluded by this subdivision. A tax of $.15 per acre or portion of an acre of mineral interest is hereby imposed and is due and payable annually. If an interest filed pursuant to sections 93.52 to 93.58 is a fractional undivided interest in an area, the tax due on the interest per acre or portion of an acre is equal to the product obtained by multiplying the fractional interest times $.15, computed to the nearest cent. However, the minimum annual tax on any mineral interest is $2. No such tax on mineral interests is due and payable on the following: (a) Mineral interests valued and taxed under other laws relating to the taxation of minerals, gas, coal, oil, or other similar interests; (b) Mineral interests which are exempt from taxation pursuant to constitutional or related statutory provisions. Tax money received under this subdivision shall be apportioned to the taxing districts included in the area taxed in the same proportion as the surface interest mill rate of a taxing district bears to the total mill rate applicable to surface interests in the area taxed. The tax imposed by this subdivision is not included within any limitations as to rate or amount of taxes which may be imposed in an area to which the tax imposed by this subdivision applies. The tax imposed by this subdivision shall not cause the amount of other taxes levied or to be levied in the area, which are subject to any such limitation, to be reduced in any amount whatsoever. The tax imposed by this section is effective for taxing years beginning January 1, 1975.

Sec. 4. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 93.52, Subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. Except as provided in subdivision 3, from and after January 1, 1970, every owner of a fee simple interest in minerals, hereafter referred to as a mineral interest, in lands in this state, which interest is owned separately from the fee title to the surface of the property upon or beneath which the mineral interest exists, shall file for record in the register of deeds office or, if registered properly, in the registrar of titles office in the county where the mineral interest is located a verified statement citing sections 93.52 to 93.58 and setting forth his address, his interest in the minerals, and either both (1) the legal description of the property upon or beneath which the interest exists, or and (2) the book and page number or the document number, in the records of the register of deeds or registrar of titles, of the instrument by which the mineral interest is created or acquired. Every five years thereafter the owner, or his successor in interest, shall ~~renew the filing of a verified statement which shall contain the information as above required. No statement may be filed for record which contains mineral interest from more than one government section unless the instrument by which the mineral interest is created or acquired includes mineral interest from more than one government section.~~

Sec. 5. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 93.55, is amended to read:

93.55 [FAILURE TO FILE OR RE-FILE.] If the owner of a mineral interest fails to file the verified statement required by section 93.52, before January 1, 1975, as to any interests owned on or before ~~September 30, 1974~~ December 31, 1973, or within ~~90 days~~ one year after acquiring such interests as to interests acquired after ~~September 30, 1974~~ December 31, 1973, and ~~not previously filed under section 93.52, or if the owner fails to re-file such verified statements within five years after the last filing, the mineral may be leased by the commissioner of natural resources as agent for the owner, his successor, and assigns, in the manner provided hereafter may be sold as though for delinquent taxes in the same manner and with the same effect as other interests in real estate are sold for taxes. The owner's failure to file the verified statement is deemed consent by the owner to such leasing.~~

Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 93.58, is amended to read:

93.58 [PUBLICATION OF ACT.] Sections 93.52 to 93.58, as ~~amended or repealed by this act, together with the other sections of this 1973 act,~~ shall be published once during the first week of each month in a legal newspaper in each county in the months of October, November, and December of the year ~~1969~~ 1973 by the commissioner of natural resources at county expense. Sections 93.52 to 93.58 also shall be published by the commissioner of natural resources at least once in ~~1969~~ 1973 in two publications related to mining activities which have nationwide circulation. Failure to publish as herein provided shall not affect the validity of sections 93.52 to 93.58 ~~or the other sections of this act.~~

Sec. 7. [SEVERABILITY.] If any provision of sections 1 through 7 of this article or the application thereof to any person, agency, department or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of sections 1 through 7 are severable.

Sec. 8. [REPEALER.] Minnesota Statutes 1971, Sections 93.53, 93.54, 93.56, and 93.57 are repealed.

Sec. 9. [EFFECTIVE DATE.] Except for section 6, which is effective upon final enactment, this act is effective as of January 1, 1974.

ARTICLE XXIII

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 60A.15, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

60A.15. [TAXATION OF INSURANCE COMPANIES.] Subdivision 1. [DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN COMPANIES, INCLUDING NONPROFIT HEALTH SERVICE PLAN CORPORATIONS, OTHER THAN TOWN AND FARMERS' MUTUAL AND DOMESTIC MUTUALS OTHER THAN LIFE.] On or before April 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15 of each year following December 31, 1971, every domestic and foreign company, including nonprofit health service plan corporations organized or operating pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 62C, except town and farmers' mutual insurance companies and domestic mutual insurance companies other than life, shall pay to the state treasurer through the commissioner of insurance quarterly installments of the insurer's total estimated tax for the current year based on a sum equal to two percent of the gross premiums less return premiums on all direct business received by it in this state, or by its agents for it, in cash or otherwise, during such year, excepting premiums written for marine insurance as specified in subdivision 6. If unpaid by such dates penalties of ten percent shall accrue thereon, and thereafter such sum and penalties shall draw interest at the rate of one percent per month until paid. Failure of a company to make quarterly payments of at least one fourth of either (a) the total tax paid during the previous calendar year or (b) 80 percent of the actual tax for the current calendar year shall subject the company to the penalty and interest provided in this subdivision.

Sec. 2. This act is effective as to contracts issued or renewed after December 31, 1973.

ARTICLE XXIV

Section 1. Subdivision 1. As used in this act the term "person" shall include any individual, firm, trust, estate, partnership, association, joint stock company, or corporation, or any representative appointed by order of any court.

Subd. 2. As used in this act the term "commissioner" shall mean the commissioner of taxation of the state of Minnesota.

Sec. 2. There is hereby imposed an excise tax of five percent of the gross proceeds or gross receipts from the sale or rental of outdoor advertising space situated within this state.

Sec. 3. The tax herein imposed shall be in addition to all other taxes provided for by law, but shall be in lieu of personal property on real estate tax on signboards owned by such companies.

Sec. 4. Every person selling or renting outdoor advertising space situated within this state shall report its gross proceeds or gross receipts from such source to the commissioner on such form as the commissioner may prescribe, on or before April 15 of the year following the year in which the gross proceeds or gross receipts were realized.

Sec. 5. At the time of filing such report and on or before April 15 of the year following the year in which the gross proceeds or gross receipts are realized, the person filing such report shall pay to the commissioner a tax equal to five percent of such gross proceeds or gross receipts.

Sec. 6. As soon as practicable after receiving such report, the commissioner shall examine the same to determine its correctness or validity.

If the commissioner shall determine that the tax as paid by such person is less than that properly due and owing he shall immediately notify such person of the amount of tax he has found due and owing. The tax as found due and owing shall be paid by the person so notified within 30 days of the date of the mailing of the notice by the commissioner. If the commissioner shall find that the tax as paid by such person is in excess of that properly due and owing, such excess shall be a credit against any future liability incurred under this act.

Sec. 7. If any person required to file a report under this act and pay a tax under this act shall fail to do so within the time prescribed, the commissioner shall notify such person of such failure and such person shall, within 30 days of the mailing of the notice by the commissioner, file such report and pay such tax. If such person, after such notification, shall fail to make such report and pay such tax the commissioner shall, from such information as he may possess, make a report for such person and assess a tax on the basis of such report. The tax as assessed by the commissioner under this section shall be paid within 30 days after mailing of a notice of the amount due by the commissioner to such person.

Sec. 8. Subdivision 1. Any person who fails to file a report required by this act and pay the tax imposed by this act at the time prescribed, shall be subject to a specific penalty of ten percent of the tax found to be due.

Subd. 2. Any person who fails to pay the tax imposed by this act on or before April 15 of the year following the year in which the gross proceeds or gross receipts are realized shall be subject to a penalty of one percent per month until such tax is paid.

Subd. 3. Any person who willfully fails to file a report required by this act shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 9. The commissioner shall administer and enforce the assessment and collection of this tax. He may from time to time publish and distribute rules and regulations in enforcing its provisions. The commissioner shall have authority and power to prescribe for all persons liable for tax under this act a uniform method of accounting their gross receipts and gross proceeds subject to tax herein. Every person liable for tax imposed by this act shall keep such records, render such statements, make such returns, and comply with such regulations, as the commissioner may from time to time prescribe. Any such report or statement shall include therein the information required by such regulations and by the forms prescribed by the commissioner. For the purpose of determining compliance with the provisions of this act, the commissioner shall have power to examine, or cause to be examined, any books, papers, records, or memoranda relevant to making such determination, whether such books, papers, records, or memoranda are the property of or in the possession of such person or any other person or corporation. The commissioner shall further have power to require the attendance of any persons having knowledge or information in the premises, to compel the production of books, papers, records, or memoranda by persons so required to attend, to take testimony on matters material to such determination, and to administer oaths or affirmations.

Sec. 10. Any tax or any penalty imposed by this act may be collected by an ordinary action at law which shall be brought in the name of the state. Any report made by the commissioner pursuant to this act, or any modification of tax made by the commissioner pursuant to this act, shall, in all courts of this state for all purposes be prima facie evidence of the correctness and validity of the gross receipts or gross proceeds reflected therein and of such tax and penalties and the liability of the person notified therefor.

Sec. 11. The proceeds of the tax imposed by this act shall be deposited in the general fund of this state.

Sec. 12. This act shall apply to all gross receipts or gross proceeds realized after December 31, 1973.

ARTICLE XXV

Section 1. [GENERAL ASSISTANCE ACT; DECLARATION OF POLICY; CITATION.] Subdivision 1. The objectives of sections 1 to 30 are to provide a sound administrative structure for public assistance programs; to maximize the use of federal funds for public assistance purposes; to provide property tax relief; and to provide an integrated public assistance program for all persons in the state without adequate income or resources to maintain a subsistence reasonably compatible with decency and health.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of this state that persons unable to provide for themselves and not otherwise provided for by law, who meet the eligibility requirements of this act and do not refuse suitable employment, shall be entitled to receive such grants of general assistance and such services as may be necessary to maintain a subsistence reasonably compatible with decency and health. The furnishing of such assistance and services is a matter of public concern and a necessity in promoting the public health and welfare.

A principal objective in providing general assistance and services shall be to aid those persons who can be helped to become self-supporting or to attain self-care. To achieve this aim, the commissioner shall establish minimum standards of assistance for general assistance. The standard for cash payments to recipients shall be, as to shelter, 100 percent, and as to other budgetary items, 50 percent, of those established for the federally aided assistance programs; provided, however, that no general assistance payment shall exceed an amount, which when computed for the time period for which it is made, exceeds the equivalent on a weekly basis of 40 times the hourly federal minimum wage prevailing when the payment is made; and provided further that persons receiving general relief on the effective date of this act shall continue to be eligible therefor. In order to maximize the use of federal funds, the commissioner shall promulgate regulations, to the extent permitted by federal law for eligibility for the emergency assistance program, under the terms of this act for general assistance. The commissioner shall provide by regulation for the eligibility for general assistance of persons with seasonal income, and may attribute seasonal income to other periods not in excess of one year from receipt by an applicant or recipient. The strengthening and preservation of the family unit shall be a principal consideration in the administration of this act and all general assistance policies shall be formulated and administered so as to further this objective.

Subd. 2. Sections 1 to 30 may be cited as the general assistance act.

Sec. 2. [DEFINITIONS.] Subdivision 1. The terms defined in this section shall have the meanings given them unless otherwise provided or indicated by the context.

Subd. 2. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of public welfare or his designee.

Subd. 3. "Department" means the department of public welfare.

Subd. 4. "General assistance" means cash payments to persons unable to provide themselves with a reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health and who are not otherwise provided for under the laws of this state or the United States. It shall include cash payments for goods, shelter, fuel, food, clothing, light, necessary household supplies, and personal need items. General assistance shall not include payments for foster care, child welfare services, medical, dental, hospitalization, nursing care, drugs, or medical supplies. It is the intent of this act that these items be provided by local agencies in accordance with programs in effect at the time of the passage of this act. Vendor payments may be made only as provided for in sections 9 and 11.

Subd. 5. "Family" means two or more individuals who are related by blood, marriage or adoption, who are living in a place of residence maintained by one or more of them as his or their own home, and at least one of whom is a child who is not married to another of such individuals and is in the care of or dependent upon another of such individuals.

Subd. 6. "Child" means an individual who is under the age of 18, or under the age of 19 and a student regularly attending a school, college, or university or a course of vocational or technical training designed to prepare him for gainful employment.

Subd. 7. "Childless couple" means two individuals who are related by marriage and who are living in a place of residence maintained by them as their own home.

Subd. 8. "Income" means earned and unearned income reduced by amounts paid or withheld for federal and state personal income taxes and federal social security taxes.

Subd. 9. "Earned income" means remuneration for services performed as an employee, and net earnings from self-employment.

Subd. 10. "Unearned income" means all other income including any payments received as an annuity, retirement or disability benefit, including veteran's or workmen's compensation; old age, survivors and disability insurance; railroad retirement benefits; unemployment benefits; and benefits under any federally aided categorical assistance program, supplementary security income, or family assistance program; rents, dividends, interest and royalties; and support and alimony payments except that such payments may not be considered as available to meet the needs of any person other than the person for whose benefit they are received, unless that person is under a legal duty to support another family member.

Subd. 11. "State aid" means state aid to local agencies for general assistance expenditures as provided for in this act.

Subd. 12. "Local agency" means the county welfare boards in the several counties of the state except that it may also include any multi-county welfare boards or departments where those have been established in accordance with law.

Sec. 3. [RESPONSIBILITY TO PROVIDE GENERAL ASSISTANCE.] Subdivision 1. Every local agency shall provide general assistance to persons residing within its jurisdiction who meet the need requirements of this act. General assistance shall be administered according to law and rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Subd. 2. State aid shall be paid to local agencies for 50 percent of all general assistance grants up to the standards of section 1, subdivision 1, according to procedures established by the commissioner. Any local agency may, from its own resources, make payments of general assistance, at a standard higher than that established by the commissioner, without reference to the standards of section 1, subdivision 1.

Sec. 4. [DUTIES OF THE COMMISSIONER.] In addition to any other duties imposed by law the commissioner shall:

(1) Supervise the administration of general assistance by local agencies as provided in this act;

(2) Promulgate uniform rules and regulations consistent with law for carrying out and enforcing the provisions of this act to the end that general assistance may be administered as uniformly as possible throughout the state; rules and regulations shall be furnished immediately to all local agencies and other interested persons; in promulgating rules and regulations, the provisions of Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 15, shall apply;

(3) Allocate moneys appropriated for general assistance to local agencies as provided in this act;

(4) Accept and supervise the disbursement of any funds that may be provided by the federal government or from other sources for use in this state for general assistance;

(5) Cooperate with other agencies including any agency of the United States or of another state in all matters concerning the powers and duties of the commissioner under this act;

(6) Cooperate to the fullest extent with other public agencies empowered by law to provide vocational training, rehabilitation, or similar services;

(7) Gather and study current information and report at least annually to the governor and legislature on the nature and need for general assistance, the amounts expended under the supervision of each local agency, and the activities of each local agency and publish such reports for the information of the public;

(8) Report at least annually to the governor and legislature the cost of living in the various counties and metropolitan areas as related to the standards of assistance and the amounts expended for assistance, and make this information available to the public.

Sec. 5. [ELIGIBILITY FOR GENERAL ASSISTANCE.] Each person or family whose income and resources are less than the standard of assistance established by the commissioner shall be eligible for and entitled to general assistance; provided that no individual shall be eligible for general assistance if he is eligible for any of the following federally aided assistance programs: emergency assistance, aid to families with dependent children, supplemental security income for the aged, blind, or disabled; or any successor to the above.

Sec. 6. [AMOUNT OF ASSISTANCE.] Subdivision 1. General assistance shall be granted in such an amount that when added to the nonexempt income actually available to the individual or family, the total amount equals the applicable standard of assistance established by the commissioner for general assistance.

Subd. 2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision 1 of this section, a grant of general assistance may be made to an eligible individual or family for one or more items encompassed within the definition of general assistance where the applicant or recipient requests temporary assistance not exceeding 30 days and an emergency situation appears to exist if the individual is ineligible for the federally aided program of emergency assistance.

Sec. 7. [TIME OF PAYMENT OF ASSISTANCE.] An applicant for general assistance shall be deemed presumptively eligible if his sworn application on its face demonstrates that he is within the eligibility criteria established by this act and any applicable rules and regulations of the commissioner. General assistance shall be immediately granted to such presumptively eligible applicant without the necessity of first securing action by the board of the local agency.

If upon verification and due investigation it appears that the applicant swore falsely and such false information materially affected his eligibility for general assistance or the amount of his general assistance grant, the local agency shall refer the matter to the county attorney. The county attorney may commence a criminal prosecution or a civil action for the recovery of any general assistance wrongfully received, or both.

Sec. 8. [EXCLUSION FROM RESOURCES.] Subdivision 1. In determining eligibility of a family or individual there shall be excluded the following resources:

(1) Property which does not exceed that permitted under the federally aided assistance program known as aid to families with dependent children; provided, however, that the commissioner may provide by rule and regulation more restrictive eligibility standards and levels of payment for general assistance if it is determined that funds available are not adequate to meet projected need; and to limitations contained in rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner, to be essential to the family or individual as a means of self-support or self-care or which is producing income that is being used for the support of the individual or family. The commissioner shall further provide by rule and regulation for those situations in which property may be retained by the family or individual where there is a reasonable probability that in the foreseeable future the property will be used for the self-support of the individual or family.

Subd. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, the commissioner shall provide by rule and regulation for the exclusion of property from the determination of eligibility for general assistance when it appears likely that the need for general assistance will not exceed 30 days and an undue hardship would be imposed on an individual or family by the forced disposal of such property.

Sec. 9. [FORM OF PAYMENT; VENDOR PAYMENTS.] Subdivision 1. All grants of general assistance shall be paid in cash and with such frequency as the commissioner shall determine. The commissioner may provide by rule and regulation for the making of general assistance payments in different time periods for various reasonable classifications of recipients.

Subd. 2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision 1, the commissioner shall provide by rule and regulation for situations in which vendor payments may be made by local agencies because of the inability of the recipient to manage his general assistance grant for his own or family's benefit.

Sec. 10. [HEARINGS PRIOR TO REDUCTION; TERMINATION; SUSPENSION OF GENERAL ASSISTANCE GRANTS.] No grant of general assistance except one made pursuant to section 6, subdivision 2 or section 8, subdivision 2, shall be reduced, terminated or suspended unless the recipient receives notice and is afforded an opportunity to be heard prior to any action by the local agency.

Nothing herein shall deprive a recipient of his right to full administrative and judicial review of an order or determination of a local agency as provided for in section 12 subsequent to any action taken by a local agency after a prior hearing.

Sec. 11. [WORK INCENTIVE AND REGISTRATION.] Subdivision 1. Every person who is a recipient of general assistance and not employed shall be required, unless exempt by subdivision 6, to register with the state employment service of the department of manpower services and the local agency and accept any suitable employment that is offered him.

Subd. 2. The local agency shall provide a general assistance work program for persons who qualify for assistance but who are unable to gain employment through the state employment service of the department of manpower services. Local agencies shall adopt a list of work priorities to be met through the employment of eligible recipients when such recipients are unable to gain employment through the state employment service or through their own initiative. The local agency may assign the recipient such work as he is able to perform but which is not that ordinarily performed and which would supplement but not replace projects which are ordinarily performed by regular employees of the county.

Subd. 3. General assistance work program recipients shall be paid at the same wage rates as county employees doing similar work, and the number of hours of work assigned to a recipient shall be determined by the needs of himself and his family including expenses incidental to his employment.

Subd. 4. A local agency may contract with the federal government, or with any department, agency, subdivision or instrumentality of the state, for the services of general assistance work program recipients on such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon, with or without consideration paid to the local agency.

Subd. 5. General assistance work program recipients are employees of the local agencies within the meaning of workmen's compensation laws, but not retirement or civil service laws.

Subd. 6. No person shall be required to register with the commissioner or state employment service if he is:

- (1) A person with illness, incapacity, or advanced age;*
- (2) A child attending a school or college full time;*
- (3) A person whose presence in the home on a substantially continuous basis is required because of the illness or incapacity of another member of the household;*
- (4) A person who has been referred to or applied for a work training, work experience, vocational rehabilitation or other such similar program; provided that the period of time such person is exempted from the registration requirements of subdivision 1, while awaiting acceptance into such program, does not exceed 30 days; or*
- (5) An adult member of a household with children in which another adult is employed full time or has registered with the state employment service or been accepted in a work training program.*

Subd. 7. Any person who objects to being required to register with the commissioner or state employment service, shall be entitled to a prior hearing in accord with the provisions of section 10 on the issue of whether such person comes within the exemptions contained in subdivision 6, clauses (1), (2), (3), or (4).

Subd. 8. (1) Any person who refuses to accept suitable employment when offered him shall lose his eligibility for general assistance and, if a member of a family receiving general assistance, that portion of the grant attributable to said person shall not be paid.

The commissioner may further provide by rule and regulation that vendor payments may be made with respect to any family in which a person who is obligated to accept suitable employment has refused to do so.

(2) The provisions of section 10 providing for notice and opportunity to be heard prior to a decision to reduce, suspend or terminate benefits shall be applicable to determinations made under clause (1) of this subdivision.

Subd. 9. The commissioner shall establish procedures to insure that any recipient of general assistance desiring to improve his ability to support himself and his family shall be promptly referred to the department of manpower services or any other agency, public or private, operating a work training, work experience, vocational rehabilitation or other similar program.

Sec. 12. [ADMINISTRATIVE AND JUDICIAL REVIEW.] *Subdivision 1. Any applicant or recipient aggrieved by any order or determination of a local agency may appeal from such order or determination to the commissioner of public welfare. If the order or determination of the local agency is not in writing or does not contain the appeal procedure statement referred to above, the 30-day period shall not be tolled until the applicant or recipient is properly notified in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision.

Notwithstanding the absence of proper notice or order or determination, the applicant or recipient may appeal to the commissioner by filing with the local agency any writing which states with reasonable clarity his dissatisfaction with or desire to obtain review of the determination or order of the local agency.

Subd. 2. Upon receipt the local agency shall immediately forward the notice of appeal to the commissioner. The court shall summarily, upon ten days' written notice, try and determine the appeal upon the record of the commissioner as certified by the commissioner and in the determination thereof shall be governed by the standard of review applicable to contested proceedings under Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 15. No new or additional evidence shall be taken on such appeal or introduced by any party to such hearing or appeal in a district court unless such new or additional evidence in the sound discretion of the court is necessary to a more equitable disposition of the appeal. If the court shall find that the order of the commissioner is not sustained by substantial evidence or is not in accord with applicable legal principles, the court shall make an order declaring the order of the commissioner null and void, giving the reasons therefor, and shall order the commissioner to take further action in the matter not inconsistent with the determination of the court. During the pendency of any appeal, if the commissioner has awarded general assistance, it shall be paid pending the determination of the appeal.

Subd. 6. Any party aggrieved by the determination of the district court may appeal to the supreme court in like manner as appeals are taken in civil actions, except that no filing fee shall be required by the clerk of the district court or supreme court.

A permanent employee or appointing authority shall have the same right of review by the board of a reallocation which changes the class of a position as is granted an appointing authority in the case of an original allocation. Application for such a review must be made within 30 days from the date of notice by the director of his original action, or, if a reconsideration has been asked, within 30 days from the date of the director's final action upon that application.

(4) In case of any allocation under clause (1), or any reallocation under clause (3), no examination of witnesses nor any trial or hearing shall be required, but the director may act upon such matters as are submitted to him in writing by the employee whose position will be affected by a reallocation or by the appointing authority who will be affected by an allocation or a reallocation, and reports and records of investigators of the department, and may take official notice of the records of the department and of allocations of other comparable positions. The matters of which he takes official notice shall be set out by him in a memorandum to be filed with his order or report of investigation and made a part of his record. In all cases of applications for reallocation, the burden of proof shall be upon the person requesting the reallocation.

(5) Except as provided in clause (6) below, the incumbent of a position which has been reallocated shall continue in the position only if he is eligible for and actually is appointed to the position of the new class in accordance with the rules of the board governing promotion, transfer, and demotion. In any case in which the incumbent is ineligible to continue in the position and he is not transferred, promoted or demoted, the layoff provisions of this chapter and the rules of the board shall apply. Personnel changes required by the reallocation of positions shall be completed within a period of 60 days following the date of reallocation notice to an appointing authority. Any employee with permanent or probational status whose position is reallocated shall be considered eligible to compete in any promotional examination held to fill the reallocated position, as provided in the rules of the board.

(6) When a position is reallocated by the director to a class in a lower salary range, or when an employee is demoted to a position in a lower salary range, the director and the commissioner of administration may give consideration to the employee's long or outstanding service, exceptional or technical qualifications, age, health, or substantial changes in work assignment or operational changes in state government which eliminate positions held by classified employees with permanent status. When, as a result of such consideration, the director and the commissioner determine that the best interests of the state will be served by such action, the position shall be reallocated but the employee shall continue at the same rate of pay. Thereafter, as long as he remains in the same position, such employee shall not be eligible to receive any salary increases, except those economic adjustment increases based on the consumer's price index authorized by law, until such time as his salary once again may be within the range of the class to which his position has been reallocated.

(7) A review by the board as provided for in this subdivision may be had when the employee or appointing authority affected files an application for review in writing on the ground:

(a) That the action of the director was not in accordance with the civil service act;

(b) That the action of the director was unwarranted by the evidence before him, or was procured by fraud, coercion or other improper conduct of any party in interest.

The board after receiving any application for review shall order the director to submit to it the record upon which he acted and thereafter, upon that record, may sustain, reverse or modify the action of the director or, in its discretion, may order that further evidence be taken by him to be submitted to the board and considered by it upon its review.

Sec. 11. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 43.121, Subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. When an additional class is added to the classification plan, it shall be assigned to one of the salary range schedules set forth in section 43.12, subdivision 2; and, if the duties and responsibilities of a class in the plan are substantially changed, or if an apparent inequity exists in the assignment of a class to a salary range, that class shall be reassigned to another salary range by the director of civil service. Such assignment or reassignment to a salary range schedule when approved by the civil service board after public hearing shall be submitted to the commissioner of administration who shall determine whether funds are available for such purposes. The commissioner of administration may approve or reject such schedules. These schedules shall become effective when approved by the commissioner and shall be used by him in connection with all payrolls and accounting records and with all budget estimates for all departments or agencies of the state government. Upon his approval, the commissioner shall file such new schedules in the office of the secretary of state.

Sec. 12. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 43.122, is amended to read:

43.122 [SALARY INCREASES.] Subdivision 1. Appointing authorities are authorized to grant achievement awards in the amount of one salary step for employees assigned to the schedule A, as set forth in section 43.12, subdivision 2 clause (1), who have demonstrated outstanding performance. Justification to the director must be in writing setting forth qualitative and quantitative criteria on which the determination was made. In no instance shall such awards be granted in excess of 20 percent of employees authorized at the beginning of each fiscal year, nor to employees whose rates of pay are at or above the maximum rate of pay established for their class. Appointing authorities shall make every effort to distribute achievement awards equitably among and within all classifications to eligible employees. To insure conformance to legislative intent, appointing authorities shall submit quarterly reports to the chairman of the senate civil administration and house governmental operations committee indicating the name and classification of each employee granted an achievement award, and the salary step at which the employee is being compensated within his salary range. A copy of each such report must be filed with the civil service director. The first quarterly report is due April 1, 1972.

Subd. 2. Within the limits of available appropriations an appointing authority may propose salary increases within the range of more than one step or more frequently than provided in this section upon detailed written statements to the director specifying the unusual employment conditions that make such action necessary. The director shall review each such proposal giving due consideration to the salary rates paid other employees in the same class and agency and may deny any request which in his judgment is contrary to the best interest of the service.

Subd. 3. (a) Employees in classes assigned to the "A" schedule as cited in section 43.12, subdivision 2, clause (1), may receive a one step salary increase annually, on their anniversary date, to the position rate in their salary range, provided performance is satisfactory as indicated by their appointing authority.

The position rate shall be as follows:

9 step salary range—5th step
 8 step salary range—5th step
 7 step salary range—4th step
 6 step salary range—4th step
 5 step salary range—4th step
 4 step salary range—3rd step
 3 step salary range—3rd step

Beyond the position rate, employees may receive one step satisfactory performance increases biennially, on their anniversary date, upon the recommendation of their appointing authority, up to and including the maximum rate of the salary range for their class.

No increases authorized by this subdivision shall be granted by the appointing authority until an appropriate employee evaluation program is filed with the director. Authorized increases shall be recommended in the context of performance measured against specific performance standards or objectives.

Appointing authorities shall not recommend increases for those employees in this schedule who have not met, or only marginally attained, performance standards or objectives. Increases withheld may subsequently be granted by the appointing authority upon certification to the director that the employee is achieving performance standards or objectives.

(b) Employees in classes assigned to the "C" schedule as cited in section 43.12, subdivision 2, clause (6), shall progress through the salary range for their class according to the following procedure:

Employees compensated at the first step in their salary range shall be advanced to the second step following the completion of 1,044 hours of satisfactory service subsequent to the implementation of the provisions of section 43.12, subdivision 2, clause (7). Employees compensated at the second step in their salary range shall be advanced to the third step following the completion of 1,044 hours of satisfactory service subsequent to the implementation of the provisions of section 43.12, subdivision 2, clause (7).

Employees compensated at or beyond the third step in their salary range shall advance to the next highest rate in their salary range at the completion of each increment of 2,088 hours of satisfactory service subsequent to the implementation of the provisions of section 43.12, subdivision 2, clause (7), until the maximum rate of pay is attained.

Employees compensated at the maximum step in their range or above shall receive no salary adjustments under the provisions of this subdivision.

(c) Appointing authorities may withhold increases authorized in section 43.122, subdivision 3, clause (b). Those employees who will be denied an increase because of unsatisfactory service must be notified in writing. Increases withheld may subsequently be granted by the appointing authority upon certification to the director that the employee has achieved a satisfactory level of performance.

(d) All salary increase provisions for the "A" schedule cited in section 43.122, subdivision 3, shall be effective beginning with the payroll period following the employee's anniversary date but in no instance prior to the first full payroll period subsequent to May 30, 1974.

Subd. 4. [ANNIVERSARY DATES.] To determine anniversary dates for the purposes of this section, the following procedure shall be used. For all persons employed on or before May 30, 1973, annual anniversary dates shall be computed from that date. For those employed subsequent to May 30, 1973, the anniversary date shall be computed from the date of employment. For those promoted, reinstated, reemployed, or returned from leave of absence subsequent to May 30, 1973, the anniversary date shall be computed from the date of the action. Anniversary dates shall not be affected by the withholding of increases authorized in section 43.122, subdivision 3, clause (1).

Sec. 13. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 43.126, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

43.126 [SPECIAL RATES OF PAY.] Subdivision 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 43.12 and 43.121 to 43.123, the following salary ranges are established with annual salaries as shown:

Sec. 14. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 43.24, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

43.24 [REMOVAL.] Subdivision 1. [WRITTEN STATEMENT.] No permanent employee in the classified service, under the provisions of this chapter or the rules made pursuant thereto, shall be removed, discharged, suspended without pay for more than 30 days, or reduced in pay or position, except for just cause, which shall not be religious or political, or because of the employee's race, sex, disability or age, subject however to the mandatory retirement ages specified by law. In case of any disciplinary action, as enumerated in this section, the employee shall, before the action is taken, be furnished with a statement, in writing, setting forth the reasons for the disciplinary action, be permitted five days time to reply thereto, in writing, or upon his request, to appear personally and reply to the head of the department. A copy of the statement and the employee's reply, if any, shall be filed with the director of civil service prior to the effective date thereof.

Sec. 15. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 43.50, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

43.50 [PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.] Subdivision 1. Each department or agency of the state government shall pay the amounts due for basic life insurance and basic health benefits coverage authorized for eligible state employees as provided by Laws 1967, Chapter 103. Additionally, and notwithstanding any law to the contrary, effective July 1, 1974, each department or agency of the state government shall contribute $10 per month toward the cost of dependent insurance coverage premiums for their eligible employees who have eligible dependents. To enable employees to receive benefit from this provision, an open enrollment period of not less than one month, commencing May 1, 1974, is established. During said open enrollment period employees may enroll their dependents without proof of insurability. Each of such departments and agencies shall pay such amounts from such accounts and funds from which each department or agency receives its revenues, including appropriations from the general fund and from any other fund, now or hereafter existing for the payment of salaries and in the same proportion as it pays therefrom the amounts of such salaries. Such sums of money as are necessary for such purposes are hereby appropriated to such departments and agencies from such account and funds in the state treasury. In order to enable the state auditor to maintain proper records covering the appropriations made by this section, he may require such certifications in connection therewith as he may deem necessary from any state department or agency whose officers and employees receive benefits pursuant to Laws 1967, Chapter 103. The accounts and funds referred to from which departments and agencies receive appropriations under the terms of this section are hereby declared to be a source of revenue for the purposes of any other law or statutory enactment.

Sec. 16. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 299D.03, Subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Commencing July 10, 1974, the salary rates for all highway patrol officers and sergeants as cited in section 299D.03, subdivision 2, clause (3), shall be increased by $10 per month in lieu of receiving any salary differential for working evening and night hours.

The salary figures shown in the table above shall be increased in value by two percent, effective at the beginning of the first payroll period in fiscal year 1972-73, if the classified civil service receives a two percent cost of living increase pursuant to other law.

In addition to the rates of pay provided above, all employees compensated according to the above salary table shall be paid a cost of living allowance to be determined and redetermined in the following manner:

The difference, if any, between the consumers price index for the city of Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota (new series index 1967=100) as published for the months July, 1973, and April 1974, by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor shall be computed. For each full four tenths point increase so computed, one cent per hour shall be added to the hourly rate of pay of each highway patrol officer; and two tenths of one percent rounded to the nearest dollar shall be added to the monthly rate of pay of each sergeant, captain, major, and lieutenant colonel. Such cost of living allowance shall become effective the first full payroll period after July 1, 1974, and shall continue in effect until the first full payroll period after January 1, 1975. A redetermination of the cost of living allowance shall be made in October, 1974, and will involve computation of the difference, if any, between the aforementioned index as published for the base month of July, 1973, and the month of October, 1974. For each full four tenths point increase so computed one cent per hour shall be added to the hourly rate of pay of each officer; and two tenths of one percent rounded to the nearest dollar shall be added to the monthly rate of pay of each sergeant, captain, major and lieutenant colonel as a cost of living allowance. Such cost of living allowance shall become effective the first full payroll after January 1, 1975.

During periods when such cost of living allowance is in effect, it shall be added to the applicable basic hourly and monthly rates of pay for highway patrol officer, sergeant, captain, major and lieutenant colonel, and treated as a part thereof in all calculations involving employees' pay.

~~(5)~~ (4) Upon promotion, the person will be paid at the base salary rate of pay in effect for that rank, and, if initially appointed to the highway patrol on or before the effective date of this act, shall subsequently be eligible for the time in rank increases calculated from the effective date of promotion.

~~(6)~~ (5) Any time in rank increases in salary provided for in the tables in ~~clauses~~ clause (3) and ~~(4)~~, shall be effective for the payroll period nearest the employee's anniversary date of employment.

~~(7)~~ Patrol officers appointed on or after the effective date of this act, shall be paid the base salary assigned to the rank of patrol officer. In lieu of time in rank increases, 20 percent of such officers shall be eligible for achievement awards contemplated by Minnesota Statutes, Section 43.122, Subdivision 1.

~~(8)~~ No time in rank increases shall be granted after June 30, 1973.

The salary rates for all highway patrol officers and sergeants as cited in section 299D.03, subdivision 2, clause (3) shall be deemed to include reimbursement for meal and business expenses incurred by highway patrol officers and sergeants in the performance of their assigned duties in their patrol areas; business expenses include, but are not limited to: uniform costs, home garaging of squad cars and maintenance of home office.

Sec. 29. Minnesota Statutes 1971, Section 352.22, Subdivision 1, is amended to read:

352.22 [REFUNDMENTS OR DEFERRED ANNUITIES.] Subdivision 1. [SERVICE TERMINATION.] Any employee who ceases to be a state employee by reason of termination of state service, shall be entitled to a refundment provided in subdivision 2 or a deferred retirement annuity as provided in subdivision 3. Application for a refundment may be made 60 or more days after the termination of state service if the applicant has not again become a state employee required to be covered by the system; except that employees of the University of Minnesota, having attained the age of 68 years or more, and employees of other departments and agencies of the state having attained the age of 70 years or more, whose state service is terminated by operation of the law, or by direction of the appointing authority, who attain mandatory retirement age and are required to retire and who are not eligible to receive an annuity under sections 352.115 or 352.72, may apply for refundment without any waiting period.

terminate and shall not again be restored until the former employee acquires not less than one year's allowable service credit subsequent to taking his last refundment. In that event, he may repay all refundments which he had taken from the retirement fund. Repayment of refundments will entitle the employee only to credit for service covered by (a) salary deductions, (b) payments made in lieu of salary deductions, and (c) payments made to obtain credit for service as permitted by laws in effect at the time payment was made. If an employee before taking one or more refundments had credit for prior service or for military service without payment in either case, he may obtain credit for such forfeited service prior to July 1, 1929, and for such forfeited military service by making payments at a contribution rate of three percent of his average salary upon which deductions for the retirement fund were based, for the three year period immediately preceding repayment of refundment for service credit prior to July 1, 1929, and on the salary received by him at the time of entering military service to restore his military service credit. Such employee may obtain such credit by paying into the fund an employee contribution based upon his salary at the date of return from military service. The amount of this contribution shall be the applicable amounts required in section 352.04, subdivision 2, plus interest at ~~four~~ six percent per annum compounded annually. In such cases the matching employer contribution and additional contribution provided in section 352.04 shall be paid by the department employing such employee upon his return to state service from funds available to such department at the time and in the manner provided in section 352.04.

The annuity under this section shall begin to accrue as provided in section 352.115, subdivision 8, and shall be paid for an additional 84 full calendar months and then be reduced to the amount as calculated under section 352.115, except that if this amount, when added to the social security benefit based on state service the employee is eligible to receive at such time, is less than the benefit payable under subdivision 2, the retired employee shall receive an amount that when added to such social security benefit will equal the amount payable under subdivision 2. When an annuity is reduced under this subdivision, the percentage adjustments, if any, that have been applied to the original annuity under Minnesota Statutes, Section 11.25, prior to the reduction, shall be compounded and applied to the reduced annuity.

An employee who receives a disability benefit shall not be entitled to an annuity under section* 36 of this act, even though otherwise qualified, until reemployed in a covered correctional position for a period of at least one year.
