Sec. 5. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 559.21, subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. [NOTICE; TIME OF TERMINATION.] When default is made in the conditions of any contract for the conveyance of real estate or any interest ~~therein in it~~ executed on or after May 1, 1980, whereby the vendor has a right to terminate ~~the same it~~, he may do so by serving upon the purchaser, his personal representatives or assigns, either within or without the state, a notice specifying the conditions in which default has been made, and stating that the contract will terminate (1) 30 days after the service of the notice if the purchaser has paid less than ten percent of the purchase price, exclusive of interest ~~thereon on it~~, and any mortgages or prior contracts for deed which are assumed by the purchaser, or in the case of farm real estate property that the contract will terminate 60 days after service of the notice, (2) 60 days after service of the notice if the purchaser has paid ten percent, or more, but less than 25 percent of the purchase price, exclusive of interest ~~thereon on it~~, and any mortgages or prior contracts for deed which are assumed by the purchaser, (3) 90 days after service of the notice if the purchaser has paid 25 percent, or more, of the purchase price, exclusive of interest ~~thereon on it~~, and any mortgages or prior contracts for deed which are assumed by the purchaser, unless prior thereto the purchaser complies with the conditions and makes all payments due and owing to the vendor under the contract through the date payment is made and pays the costs of service, the mortgage registration tax, if actually paid by the vendor, together with an amount to apply on attorneys' fees actually expended or incurred, of $125 when the amount in default is less than $750, and of $250 when the amount in default is $750 or more; ~~provided, however, that~~ . No amount is required to be paid for attorneys' fees ~~as provided hereunder~~, unless some part of the conditions of default has existed at least 45 days prior to the date of service of the notice.

Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 580.09, is amended to read:

580.09 [FORECLOSURE FOR ~~INSTALMENTS~~ INSTALLMENTS; SALES; DISPOSITION OF PROCEEDS; REDEMPTION.]

Where a mortgage is given to secure the payment of money by ~~instalments~~ installments, each ~~instalment~~ installment, either for principal or interest, or both, as is due at any time, may be taken and deemed to be a separate and independent mortgage; ~~and such~~ . The mortgage for each ~~such instalment~~ installment may be foreclosed by advertisement or by action; ~~in the same manner and with like effect~~ as if a separate mortgage were given for each of ~~such instalments~~ the installments, and ~~such~~ the foreclosure may be made and sale had subject to the ~~instalments~~ installments yet to become due upon the mortgage; ~~and~~ . A redemption from any such sale shall have the like effect as if the sale for ~~such instalment~~ the installment had been made upon an independent subsequent mortgage; ~~provided~~ . In such cases the attorney's fee on the foreclosure ~~so made~~ shall not exceed the amount permitted by law in case of a mortgage securing the amount of the debt then due on ~~such~~ the foreclosure. The proceeds of the sale shall be applied first in payment of the costs of the foreclosure sale, and of the ~~instalment~~ installment due, with interest ~~thereon on it~~, taxes and insurance premiums paid, if any, and then towards the payment of the residue of the sum secured by ~~such~~ the mortgage, and not due and payable at the time of ~~such~~ the sale; ~~and~~ . If ~~such~~ the residue does not bear interest, such application shall be made with rebate of the legal interest for the time during which the residue shall not be due and payable; ~~and~~ . The surplus, if any, shall be paid to the subsequent lienors, if any, in the order of their priority, and then to the owner of the equity of redemption, his legal representatives or assigns. In case of redemption from any sale herein authorized, at the option of the redemptioner, the whole amount remaining unpaid on the mortgage, with interest and other items, if any, which have become part of the amount secured by the lien of the mortgage, may be included in the amount paid on redemption and, in such event, the redemption so made shall have like effect as if the foreclosure sale had been made for the entire amount secured by the mortgage, including such additional items.

In the case of a mortgage given to secure the payment of money by installments on homestead property as defined in section 11, the mortgage is reinstated following any foreclosure proceeding and during the redemption period by payment by the redeptioner of the installments in default, the installments falling due during the redemption period, and the costs and fees, including insurance and delinquent taxes, specified in section 580.30, subdivision 1.

Before any sale herein authorized, the holder of the mortgage shall file with the sheriff a verified itemized statement in writing showing the entire amount remaining unpaid on the mortgage, including taxes and insurance premiums paid and other items which have become part of the amount secured, and the rate of interest to accrue on ~~same, which~~ it. The statement shall be subject to public inspection and shall be read by the sheriff at the sale, immediately after reading the notice of sale. The certificate of sale shall set forth correctly, in addition to the amount of sale, the remaining amount still unpaid on and secured by the mortgage, subject to which the sale is made, and the rate of interest to accrue on ~~same~~ it. If, during the time to redeem from the sale, any additional or other item, other than interest at the rate so stated in the certificate, ~~shall attach~~ attaches to ~~such~~ the amount subject to which the sale was made, or any change ~~shall occur~~ occurs in such amount or the rate of interest ~~thereon~~ on it, the facts with respect thereto shall be set forth by affidavit, made and filed for record, and a copy furnished the sheriff, in accordance with the provisions of section 582.03, and the provisions of that section shall apply thereto.

Sec. 7. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 580.23, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

Subdivision 1. [PROCEDURE.] When lands have been sold in conformity with the preceding sections of this chapter the mortgagor, his personal representatives or assigns, within six months after ~~such~~ the sale, except as otherwise provided in subdivision 2, may redeem ~~such~~ the lands, as hereinafter provided, (1) by paying the sum of money for which the same were sold, with interest from the time of sale at the rate provided to be paid on the mortgage debt and, if no rate be provided in the mortgage note, at the rate of six percent per annum, together with any further sums which may be payable pursuant to section 582.03, or (2) in the case of a mortgage on homestead property as defined in section 11 given to secure payment of money by installments, by paying the installments in default, the installments falling due during the redemption period, and the costs and fees, including insurance and delinquent taxes, specified in section 580.30, subdivision 1. Where the redemption period is as provided in this subdivision the mortgagee, or his successors, assigns, or personal representative, or any other purchaser so purchasing at the sheriff's sale shall by purchasing the property at the sheriff's sale thereby waive his right to a deficiency judgment against the mortgagor.

Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 580.30, is amended to read:

580.30 [MORTGAGES, WHEN REINSTATED.]

Subdivision 1. [BEFORE SALE.] In any proceedings for the foreclosure of a real estate mortgage, whether by action or by advertisement, if at any time before the sale of the premises under ~~such~~ the foreclosure the mortgagor, the owner, or any holder of any subsequent encumbrance or lien, or any one for them, shall pay or cause to be paid to the holder of the mortgage ~~so~~ being foreclosed, or to the attorney foreclosing ~~the same~~ it, or to the sheriff of the county, the amount actually due ~~thereon~~ on it and constituting the default actually existing in the conditions of the mortgage at the time of the commencement of the foreclosure proceedings, including insurance, delinquent taxes, if any, upon the premises, interest to date of payment, cost of publication and services of process or notices, attorney's fees not exceeding $150 or one-half of the attorney's fees authorized by section 582.01, whichever is greater, together with other lawful disbursements necessarily incurred in connection with the proceedings by the party foreclosing, then, and in that event, the mortgage shall be fully reinstated and further proceedings in ~~such~~ the foreclosure shall be ~~thereupon~~ abandoned.

Subd. 2. [FARM REAL PROPERTY AFTER FORECLOSURE.] A mortgage to homestead property as defined in section 11 given to secure payment of money by installments, is reinstated following foreclosure but during the redemption period by payment by the redemptioner of the installments in default, the installments falling due during the redemption period, and the costs and fees, including insurance and delinquent taxes, specified in section 580.30, subdivision 1.

Sec. 9. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 581.10, is amended to read:

581.10 [REDEMPTION BY MORTGAGOR, CREDITOR.]

The mortgagor, or those claiming under him, within the time specified in section 580.23 after the date of the order of confirmation, may redeem the premises sold, or any separate portion ~~thereof of them~~, (1) by paying the amount bid therefor, with interest ~~thereon~~ on it from the time of sale at the rate provided to be paid on the mortgage debt, not to exceed eight percent per annum, and, if no rate ~~to be~~ is provided in the mortgage, at the rate of six percent, together with any further sum which may be payable pursuant to section 582.03, or (2) in the case of a mortgage on homestead property as defined in section 11 given to secure payment of money by installments, by paying the installments in default, the installments falling due during the redemption period, and the costs and fees, including insurance and delinquent taxes, specified in section 580.30, subdivision 1. Creditors having a lien may redeem in the order and manner specified in section 580.24, but no creditor shall be entitled to redeem unless within ~~such~~ the specified redemption period he files with the clerk notice of his intention to redeem.

The legislature finds that the number of unemployed persons in this state has reached the highest level since the Depression of the 1930's; that farm commodity prices are at the lowest levels in over 40 years; that the number of mortgage loans currently in default due to the unemployment of the principal wage earner has reached critical levels; and that by reason of these conditions and the high rates of interest on mortgage loans, many of the citizens of this state will be unable for extended periods of time, to meet payments of taxes, interest, and principal of mortgages on their properties and are, therefore, threatened with loss of their real property through mortgage foreclosure, contract termination, and judicial sales. The legislature further finds that these conditions have resulted in an emergency of a nature that justifies and validates legislation for the extension of the time of redemption from mortgage foreclosure and execution sales and other relief of a similar character.

Sec. 11. [583.02] [DEFINITIONS.]

Subdivision 1. [TERMS.] As used in sections 10 to 21, the terms defined in this section have the meanings given them.

Subd. 2. [HOMESTEAD.] "Homestead" means residential or agricultural real estate, a portion or all of which is entitled to receive homestead credit under section 273.13, subdivision 15a.

Sec. 12. [583.03] [APPLICATION.]

Subdivision 1. [PROPERTY COVERED.] The provisions of sections 10 to 21 apply to judgments against, mortgages secured by, and contracts for deed conveying, homesteads within the meaning of section 11, including: (a) mortgages held by the United States or by any agency, department, bureau or instrumentality of the United States, as security or pledge of the mortgagor, its successors or assigns; and (b) mortgages held as security or pledge to secure payment of a public debt or to secure payment of the deposit of public funds.

Subd. 2. [GENERAL EXCLUSION.] The provisions of sections 10 to 21 do not apply to mortgages or contracts for deed made after the effective date of sections 10 to 21, nor to mortgages or contracts for deed made before the effective date of sections 10 to 21, which are renewed or extended after the effective date of sections 10 to 21 for a period longer than one year, nor to mortgages, judgments, or contracts for deed, regardless of when made, if a second or subsequent mortgage is made against the property after the effective date of sections 10 to 21, and the second or subsequent mortgagee commences foreclosure proceedings. No court shall allow a resale, stay, postponement, or extension of time that would cause any right to be lost or adversely affected by any statute of limitation.

In any proceedings commenced prior to the effective date of sections 10 to 21 for the foreclosure of a mortgage on a homestead by advertisement, in which a sale of the property has not been had, or in any proceedings commenced after the effective date of sections 10 to 21, the mortgagor, or the owner in possession of the mortgaged premises, or anyone claiming under the mortgage, or anyone liable for the mortgage debt, at any time after the issuance of the notice of the foreclosure proceedings, may petition the district court of the county where the foreclosure proceedings are pending, serving a summons and verified complaint requesting that the sale in foreclosure by advertisement be postponed and that the foreclosure, if any, proceed by action. If it appears to the court that the granting of the relief requested would be equitable and just, the court may postpone the foreclosure proceedings by advertisement by ex parte order which may be served with or after service of the summons and complaint upon the party foreclosing or his attorney. At the time of hearing on the ex parte order, the court may then further postpone the sale, and the parties seeking to foreclose the mortgage shall proceed, if at all, to foreclose the mortgage by action. As a condition precedent to the postponement of the foreclosure sale by advertisement, the party serving the verified complaint shall file it and pay to the clerk for the person foreclosing the mortgage the actual costs incurred, not including attorney's fees, in the foreclosure proceeding before postponement. The filing of the verified complaint is deemed a waiver of publication of notice of postponement of the foreclosure sale. The sale, at a time which may be fixed by the court, is deemed to be a sale postponed in lieu of the time of sale specified in the published notice of mortgage foreclosure sale.

Sec. 14. [583.05] [COURT MAY ORDER RESALE.]

When a mortgage has been foreclosed by action, the court shall, upon receipt of the report of sale, cause notice of a hearing thereon to be served on the parties to the action who have appeared and fix the time and place of hearing on the report. Before granting an order confirming the sale, the court shall order a resale if it appears that the sale price is unreasonably and unfairly inadequate. If the sale is confirmed, the sheriff, or his deputy, shall execute and deliver, without delay, the proper certificate of sale which shall be recorded within 20 days after the confirmation. Upon hearing on the motion for an order confirming the sale in the foreclosure of mortgages by action, in case the evidence is insufficient to establish a fair and reasonable market or rental value of the property, the court may receive evidence, including evidence tending to establish the actual value of the property involved, for the purpose or purposes for which the property is or can be used. The court shall also receive evidence tending to show to what extent, if any, the property has decreased in market value by reason of the economic conditions existing at the time of or before the sale.

Sec. 15. [583.06] [COMPROMISES.]

If the parties to a foreclosure action agree in writing to a compromise settlement thereof, or of composition of the mortgage indebtedness, or both, the court shall have jurisdiction and may by its order confirm and approve the settlement or composition, or both, as the case may be.

Sec. 16. [583.07] [JURISDICTION OF COURT.]

The court has jurisdiction to postpone the termination of a contract for the conveyance of real estate; to postpone the enforcement of judgment by levy, execution, and sale or to order resale; and to postpone foreclosure of a mortgage secured by real estate. The inability of the mortgagor, judgment debtor, or contract vendee to make the payments under a contract for the conveyance of real estate, mortgage agreement, or judgment is a valid defense to levy, execution, sale, seizure, repossession, termination, and foreclosure under the remedies set forth in sections 10 to 21. The postponement and any other relief granted by the court shall not continue for more than one year from the date of the order.

Sec. 17. [583.08] [PERIOD OF REDEMPTION MAY BE EXTENDED.]

If, during the effective period of sections 10 to 21: (1) a mortgage on a homestead is foreclosed and the period of redemption has not expired; (2) an action to foreclose a mortgage on a homestead is commenced or is pending; (3) proceedings to foreclose a mortgage by advertisement are commenced or are pending; (4) a notice of termination of contract for deed is served; (5) the period of time during which a contract for deed can be reinstated expires; or (6) proceedings to enforce a judgment against real estate are commenced or are pending; the period of redemption or the period during which the contract for deed may be reinstated may be extended for up to one year. In such case the contract vendee, in the case of a contract for deed termination; the mortgagor, or owner in possession of the property, in the case of mortgage foreclosure proceedings; or the judgment debtor, in the case of levy, execution, or sale under judgment, shall petition the district court on not less than ten days' written notice to the contract vendor, mortgagee, or judgment creditor, or his attorney, and before the expiration of the period of redemption in the case of a mortgage, the expiration of the period during which the contract for deed can be reinstated, or the sale under judgment, for an order postponing repossession, levy, execution, sale, termination, or forfeiture. The petition must also request the court to determine the reasonable value of the income on the property, or, if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of the property subject to the contract for deed, mortgage, or judgment and must direct the contract vendee, mortgagor, or judgment debtor to pay all or a reasonable part of the income or rental value for the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, principal, or judgment indebtedness at the times and in the manner determined by the court. The court shall hear the petition and after the hearing shall make and file its order directing the payment by the contract vendee, mortgagor, or judgment debtor of an amount at the times and in the manner that the court determines just and equitable. In the case of contracts for deed, the court shall insure that the payment required by the contract vendee is sufficient to adequately maintain the vendor's standard of living. Upon service of the petition, the running of the period of redemption or reinstatement of contract for deed is tolled, repossession is postponed, and further proceedings under levy, execution, and sale are stayed until the court makes its order upon the petition. If the contract vendee, mortgagor, or judgment debtor defaults in the payments ordered, or commits waste, his right to redeem from the sale, cure the default on the contract for deed, or postpone seizure and sale terminates 30 days after the default. Thereafter holders of subsequent liens may redeem in the order and manner provided by law beginning 30 days after the filing of notice of the default with the clerk of district court; the right to possession ceases; and the contract vendor or party acquiring title to the homestead is entitled to immediate possession of the premises. If default is claimed because of waste, the 30-day period shall not begin to run until the filing of an order of the court finding the waste. No action shall be maintained for a deficiency judgment until the period of redemption as allowed by section 580.23, or as extended under the provisions of sections 10 to 21 has expired.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 580.23, at the end of any extended period ordered by the court pursuant to this section, the mortgagor, his personal representatives, or assigns may redeem the lands by payment of the installments in default and the installments falling due during the redemption period together with any sums which may be payable pursuant to section 582.03.

Sec. 18. [583.09] [COURT MAY REVISE AND ALTER TERMS.]

Upon the application of either party before the expiration of the extended period of redemption, reinstatement of contract for deed, or payment on judgment as provided in sections 10 to 21 and upon the presentation of evidence that the terms fixed by the court are no longer just and reasonable, the court may revise and alter the terms, in the manner the changed circumstances and conditions require. The revision or alteration of the terms shall not extend the postponement or other relief beyond one year from the date of the initial order.

Sec. 19. [583.10] [TRIAL TO BE HELD WITHIN 30 DAYS.]

The trial of any action, hearing, or proceeding provided for in sections 10 to 21 must be held within 30 days after the filing of the petition. The order therein must be made and filed within five days after the trial. Review by the supreme court may be had by certiorari, if application for the writ is made within 15 days after notice of the order. The writ is returnable within 30 days after the filing of the order.

Sec. 20. [583.11] [LIMITATIONS.]

No postponement or extension shall be ordered under conditions which would substantially diminish or impair the value of the contract or obligation of the person against whom the relief is sought without reasonable allowance to justify the exercise of the police power authorized in sections 10 to 21, or which would cause irreparable harm or undue hardship to any mortgagee, contract vendor, judgment creditor, or their successors or assigns.

Sec. 21. [583.12] [INCONSISTENT LAWS SUSPENDED.]

Every law, to the extent that it is inconsistent with sections 10 to 21 is suspended during the effective period of sections 10 to 21.

Sec. 22. [REPEALER.]

Sections 10 to 21 are repealed effective July 1, 1984, but any postponement or other relief ordered by a court continues to be valid for the period ordered by the court.

Sec. 23. [EFFECTIVE DATE.]

Sections 1 to 21 are effective the day following final enactment. Section 22 is effective July 1, 1984.

No. 695: A bill for an act relating to public welfare; requiring new procedures for determining nursing home payment rates; requiring a moratorium on licensure or certification of new beds with certain exceptions; providing for an interagency board for quality assurance; appropriating money; amending Minnesota Statutes 1982, sections 144A.10, subdivision 6; 256B.091, subdivisions 1, 2, 4, and 8; 256B.41; 256B.47; and 256B.48; proposing new law coded in Minnesota Statutes 1982, chapters 144A and 256B; repealing Minnesota Statutes 1982, sections 256B.42; 256B.43; 256B.44; 256B.45; and 256B.46; and 12 MCAR 2.049.

Reports the same back with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

"Section 1. [144A.071] [MORATORIUM ON CERTIFICATION OF NURSING HOME BEDS.]

Subdivision 1. [FINDINGS.] The legislature finds that medical assistance expenditures are increasing at a much faster rate than the state's ability to pay them; that reimbursement for nursing home care and ancillary services comprises over half of medical assistance costs, and, therefore, controlling expenditures for nursing home care is essential to prudent management of the state's budget; that construction of new nursing homes, the addition of more nursing home beds to the state's long-term care resources, and increased conversion of beds to skilled nursing facility bed status inhibits the ability to control expenditures; that Minnesota already leads the nation in nursing home expenditures per capita and has the fifth highest number of beds per capita elderly; and that in the absence of a moratorium the increased numbers of nursing homes and nursing home beds will consume resources that would otherwise be available to develop a comprehensive long-term care system that includes a continuum of care. Unless action is taken, this expansion of bed capacity and changes of beds to a higher classification of care are likely to accelerate with the repeal of the certificate of need program effective March 15, 1984. The legislature also finds that Minnesota's dependence on institutional care for elderly persons is due in part to the dearth of alternative services in the home and community.

The legislature declares that a moratorium on medical assistance certification of new nursing home beds and on changes in certification to a higher level of care is necessary to control nursing home expenditure growth and enable the state to meet the needs of its elderly by providing high quality services in the most appropriate manner along a continuum of care.

Subd. 2. [MORATORIUM.] Notwithstanding the provisions of the Certificate of Need Act, sections 145.832 to 145.845, or any other law to the contrary, the commissioner of health, in coordination with the commissioner of public welfare, shall deny each request by a nursing home or boarding care home, except an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded, for addition of new certified beds or for a change or changes in the certification status of existing beds except as provided in subdivision 3. The total number of certified beds in the state in the skilled level and in the intermediate levels of care shall remain at or decrease from the number of beds certified at each level of care on the effective date of this section, except as allowed under subdivision 3. "Certified bed" means a nursing home bed or a boarding care bed certified by the commissioner of health for the purposes of the medical assistance program, under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 et seq.

The commissioner of public welfare, in coordination with the commissioner of health, shall deny any request to issue a license under sections 245.781 to 245.812 and 252.28 to a nursing home or boarding care home, if that license would result in an increase in the medical assistance reimbursement amount.

Subd. 3. [EXCEPTIONS.] The commissioner of health, in coordination with the commissioner of welfare, may approve the addition of a new certified bed or change in the certification status of an existing bed under the following conditions:

(a) To replace a bed decertified after the effective date of this section or to address an extreme hardship situation, in a particular county that has fewer nursing home beds than 60 beds per 1,000 elderly individuals. In allowing replacement of a decertified bed, the commissioners shall ensure that the number of added or recertified beds does not exceed the total number of decertified beds in the state in that level of care. An extreme hardship situation can only be found after the county documents the existence of unmet medical needs that cannot be addressed by any other alternatives; or

(b) To certify a new bed in a facility that commenced construction before the effective date of this section. For the purposes of this section, "commenced construction" means that all of the following conditions were met: the final working drawings and specifications were approved by the commissioner of health; the construction contracts were let; a timely construction schedule was developed, stipulating dates for beginning, achieving various stages, and completing construction; all zoning and building permits were secured; and significant alteration of the site was made and continues in accordance with the construction schedule.

A nursing home or boarding care home that holds a current certificate of need or waiver issued in accordance with the provisions of sections 145.832 to 145.845, may request the commissioner of public welfare to reimburse the facility for a portion of its expenses incurred and paid by the facility after issuance of the certificate of need and up to the effective date of this section in preparation for the commencement of construction. The maximum amount of money reimbursed to the facility shall not exceed $25,000. Reimbursement shall be limited to expenses incurred for preparation of architectural and engineering plans and specifications or to obtain financing for the project. Reimbursement shall not be provided to recover costs of expenses incurred by the controlling persons or employees of a controlling person of the facility as defined in section 144A.01, subdivision 4, or for any costs which are tax deductible expenses.

No request for reimbursement submitted to the commissioner of public welfare 30 days after the effective date of this section shall be accepted. All requests for reimbursement shall be submitted along with documentary evidence, such as contracts or receipts that specifically identify the purpose for which the expense was incurred, the individual or organization providing the service, the date the expense was incurred, and the amount incurred and paid by the facility. The amount of money reimbursed to the facility shall be the amount incurred multiplied by 66 percent.

The certificate of need or waiver becomes null and void upon acceptance of the reimbursement from the commissioner of public welfare;

(c) To completely replace a currently operating facility of fewer than 80 beds, that has obtained a certificate of need but has not commenced construction before the effective date of this section, if the replacement will not result in more total certified beds or more certified beds in any level of care than if the original facility had continued to operate;

(d) To certify beds in a new nursing home that is needed in order to meet the special dietary needs of its residents, if: the nursing home proves to the commissioner's satisfaction that the needs of its residents cannot otherwise be met; elements of the special diet are not available through most food distributors; and proper preparation of the special diet requires incurring various operating expenses, including extra food preparation or serving items, not incurred to a similar extent by most nursing homes; or

(e) When the change in certification status results in a decrease in the reimbursement amount.

Subd. 4. [MONITORING.] The commissioner of health, in coordination with the commissioner of public welfare, shall implement mechanisms to monitor and analyze the effect of the moratorium in the different geographic areas of the state. The commissioner of health shall submit to the legislature, no later than January 15, 1984, and annually thereafter, an assessment of the impact of the moratorium by geographic area, with particular attention to service deficits or problems and a corrective action plan.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 144A.10, subdivision 4, is amended to read:

Subd. 4. [CORRECTION ORDERS.] Whenever a duly authorized representative of the commissioner of health finds upon inspection of a nursing home, that the facility or a controlling person or an employee of the facility is not in compliance with sections 144.651, 144A.01 to 144A.17, or 626.557 or the rules promulgated thereunder, a correction order shall be issued to the facility. The correction order shall state the deficiency, cite the specific rule or statute violated, state the suggested method of correction, and specify the time allowed for correction. ~~The commissioner of health by~~ rule shall establish a schedule of allowable time periods for correction of nursing home deficiencies. If the commissioner finds that the nursing home had uncorrected violations and that two or more of the uncorrected violations create a risk to resident care, safety, or rights, the commissioner shall notify the commissioner of public welfare who shall review reimbursement to the nursing home to determine the extent to which the state has paid for substandard care.

Sec. 3. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 144A.10, subdivision 6, is amended to read:

Subd. 6. [FINES.] A nursing home which is issued a notice of noncompliance with a correction order shall be assessed a civil fine in accordance with a schedule of fines promulgated by rule of established by the commissioner of health before March 31, 1984. In establishing the schedule of fines, the commissioner shall consider the potential for harm presented to any resident as a result of noncompliance with each statute or rule. The fine shall be assessed for each day the facility remains in noncompliance and until a notice of correction is received by the commissioner of health in accordance with subdivision 7. No fine for a specific violation may exceed $250 $1,000 per day of noncompliance.

Sec. 4. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 144A.10, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 6a. [SCHEDULE OF FINES.] The commissioner of health shall propose for adoption the schedule of fines by publishing it in the state register and allowing a period of 60 days from the publication date for interested persons to submit written comments on the schedule. Within 60 days after the close of the comment period, and after considering any comments received, the commissioner shall adopt the schedule in final form.

The schedule of fines is exempt from the definition of "rule" in section 14.02, subdivision 4, and has the force and effect of law upon compliance with section 14.38, subdivision 7. The effective date of the schedule of fines is five days after publication, as provided in section 14.38, subdivision 8. The provisions of any rule establishing a schedule of fines for noncompliance with correction orders issued to nursing homes remain effective with respect to nursing homes until repealed, modified, or superseded by the schedule established in accordance with this subdivision.

Sec. 5. [144A.31] [INTERAGENCY BOARD FOR QUALITY ASSURANCE.]

Subdivision 1. [INTERAGENCY BOARD.] The commissioners of health and public welfare shall establish, by July 1, 1983, an interagency board of representatives of their respective departments who are knowledgeable and employed in the areas of long term care, geriatric care, long term care facility inspection, or quality of care assurance. The number of interagency board members shall not exceed seven; three members each to represent the commissioners of health and public welfare and one member to represent the commissioner of public safety in the enforcement of fire and safety standards in nursing homes. The commissioner of public welfare or a designee shall chair and convene the board. The board may utilize the expertise and time of other individuals employed by either department as needed. The board may recommend that the commissioners contract for services as needed. The board shall meet as often as necessary to accomplish its duties, but at least monthly. The board shall establish procedures, including public hearings, for allowing regular opportunities for input from residents, nursing homes, and other interested persons.

Subd. 2. [INSPECTIONS.] No later than January 1, 1984, the board shall develop and recommend implementation and enforcement of an effective system to ensure quality of care in each nursing home in the state. Quality of care includes evaluating, using the resident's care plan, whether the resident's ability to function is optimized and should not be measured solely by the number or amount of services provided.

The board shall assist the commissioner of health in ensuring that inspections and reinspections of nursing homes are conducted with a frequency and in a manner calculated to most effectively and appropriately fulfill its quality assurance responsibilities and achieve the greatest benefit to nursing home residents. The commissioner of health shall require a higher frequency and extent of inspections with respect to those nursing homes that present the most serious concerns with respect to resident health, treatment, comfort, safety, and well-being. These concerns include but are not limited to: complaints about care, safety, or rights; situations where previous inspections or reinspections have resulted in correction orders related to care, safety, or rights; instances of frequent change in administration in excess of normal turnover rates; and situations where persons involved in ownership or administration of the nursing home have been indicted for, charged with, or convicted of engaging in criminal activity. A nursing home that presents none of these concerns or any other concern or condition established by the board that poses a risk to resident care, safety, or rights shall be inspected once every two years for compliance with key requirements as determined by the board.

The board shall develop and recommend to the commissioners mechanisms beyond the inspection process to protect resident care, safety, and rights, including but not limited to coordination with the office of health facility complaints and the nursing home ombudsman program.

Subd. 3. [METHODS FOR DETERMINING RESIDENT CARE NEEDS.] The board shall develop and recommend to the commissioners definitions for levels of care and methods for determining resident care needs in preparation for eventually developing methods to adjust payments for resident care based on the mix of resident needs in a nursing home. The methods for determining resident care needs shall include assessments of ability to perform activities of daily living and assessments of medical and therapeutic needs.

Subd. 4. [ENFORCEMENT.] The board shall develop and recommend for implementation effective methods of enforcing quality of care standards. When it deems necessary, and when all other methods of enforcement are not appropriate, the board shall recommend to the commissioner of health closure of all or part of a nursing home and revocation of the license. The board shall develop, and the commissioner of public welfare shall implement, a resident relocation plan that instructs the county in which the nursing home is located of procedures to ensure that the needs of residents in nursing homes about to be closed are met. The county shall ensure placement in swing beds in hospitals, placement in unoccupied beds in other nursing homes, utilization of home health care on a temporary basis, foster care placement, or other appropriate alternative care. In preparing for relocation, the county shall ensure that residents and their families or guardians are involved in planning the relocation.

Subd. 5. [REPORTS.] The commissioners of health and public welfare shall report to the legislature no later than January 15, 1984, on their proposals and progress on implementation of the methods required under subdivisions 2, 3, and 4. The commissioners shall recommend changes in or additions to legislation necessary or desirable to fulfill their responsibilities. The commissioners shall report annually to the legislature, beginning in January, 1985, on the implementation and enforcement of the provisions of this section.

Subd. 6. [DATA.] The interagency board may have access to data from the commissioners of health, public welfare, and public safety for carrying out its duties under this section. The commissioner of health and the commissioner of public welfare may each have access to data on persons, including data on vendors of services, from the other to carry out the purposes of this section. If the interagency board, the commissioner of health, or the commissioner of public welfare receives data on persons, including data on vendors of services, that is collected, maintained, used or disseminated in an investigation, authorized by statute and relating to enforcement of rules or law, the board or the commissioner shall not disclose that information except:

(a) Pursuant to section 13.05;

(b) Pursuant to statute or valid court order; or

(c) To a party named in a civil or criminal proceeding, administrative or judicial, for preparation of defense.

Data described in this subdivision is classified as public data upon its submission to a hearing examiner or court in an administrative or judicial proceeding.

Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256B.091, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

Subdivision 1. [PURPOSE.] It is the purpose of this section to prevent inappropriate nursing home or boarding care home placement by establishing a program of preadmission screening teams for all medical assistance recipients and any individual who would become eligible for medical assistance within ~~90~~ 180 days of admission to a licensed nursing home or boarding care home participating in the program. Further, it is the purpose of this section and the program to gain further information about how to contain costs associated with inappropriate nursing home or boarding care home admissions. The commissioners of public welfare and health shall seek to maximize use of available federal and state funds and establish the broadest program possible within the appropriation available. ~~The commissioner of public welfare shall promulgate temporary rules in order to implement this section by September 1, 1980.~~

amended to read:

Subd. 2. [SCREENING TEAMS; ESTABLISHMENT.] Each county agency designated by the commissioner of public welfare to participate in the program shall contract with the local board of health organized under section 145.911 to 145.922 or other public or non-profit agency to establish a screening team to assess, prior to admission to a nursing home or a boarding care home licensed under section 144A.02 or sections 144.50 to 144.56, that is certified for medical assistance as a skilled nursing facility, intermediate care facility level I, or intermediate care facility level II, the health and social needs of medical assistance recipients and individuals who would become eligible for medical assistance within ~~90~~ 180 days of nursing home or boarding care home admission. Each local screening team shall be composed of a public health nurse from the local public health nursing service and a social worker from the local community welfare agency. Each screening team shall have a physician available for consultation and shall utilize individuals' attending physicians' physical assessment forms, if any, in assessing needs. The individual's physician shall be included on the screening team if the physician chooses to participate. If the individual is being discharged from an acute care facility, a discharge planner from that facility may be present, at the facility's request, during the screening team's assessment of the individual and may participate in discussions but not in making the screening team's recommendations under subdivision 3, clause (e). If the assessment procedure or screening team recommendation results in a delay of the individual's discharge from the acute care facility, the facility shall not be denied medical assistance reimbursement or incur any other financial or regulatory penalty of the medical assistance program that would otherwise be caused by the individual's extended length of stay; 50 percent of the cost of this reimbursement or financial or regulatory penalty shall be paid by the state and 50 percent shall be paid by the county. Other personnel as deemed appropriate by the county agency may be included on the team. The county agency may contract with an acute care facility to have the facility's discharge planners perform the functions of a screening team with regard to individuals discharged from the facility and in those cases the discharge planners may participate in making recommendations under subdivision 3, clause (e). No member of a screening team shall have a direct or indirect financial or self-serving interest in a nursing home or non-institutional referral such that it would not be possible for the member to consider each case objectively.

Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256B.091, subdivision 4, is amended to read:

Subd. 4. [SCREENING OF PERSONS.] Prior to nursing home or boarding care home admission, screening teams shall assess the needs of all persons receiving medical assistance and of all persons who would be eligible for medical assistance within ~~90~~ 180 days of admission to a nursing home or boarding care home, except patients transferred from other nursing homes or patients who, having entered acute care facilities from nursing homes, are returning to nursing home care. Any other interested person may be assessed by a screening team upon payment of a fee based upon a sliding fee scale.

Sec. 9. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256B.091, subdivision 8, is

amended to read:

Subd. 8. [ALTERNATIVE CARE GRANTS.] The commissioner shall provide grants to counties participating in the program to pay costs of providing alternative care to individuals screened under subdivision 4. Payment is available under this subdivision only for individuals (1) for whom the screening team would recommend nursing home admission if alternative care were not available; (2) who are receiving medical assistance or who would be eligible for medical assistance within 90 180 days of admission to a nursing home; and (3) who need services that are not available at that time in the county through other public assistance.

Grants may be used for payment of costs of providing services such as, but not limited to, foster care for elderly persons, day care whether or not offered through a nursing home, nutritional counseling, or medical social services, which services are provided by a licensed health care provider, a home health service eligible for reimbursement under Titles XVIII and XIX of the federal Social Security Act, or by persons employed by or contracted with by the county board or the local welfare agency. The county agency shall ensure that a plan of care is established for each individual in accordance with subdivision 3, clause (e)(2). The plan shall include any services prescribed by the individual's attending physician as necessary and follow up services as necessary. The county agency shall provide documentation to the commissioner verifying that the individual's alternative care is not available at that time through any other public assistance or service program and shall provide documentation in each individual's plan of care that the most cost effective alternatives available have been offered to the individual. Grants to counties under this subdivision are subject to audit by the commissioner for fiscal and utilization control.

The commissioner shall establish a sliding fee schedule for requiring payment for the cost of providing services under this subdivision to persons who are eligible for the services but who are not yet eligible for medical assistance. The sliding fee schedule is not subject to chapter 14.

The commissioner shall apply for a waiver for federal financial participation to expand the availability of services under this subdivision. The commissioner shall provide grants to counties from the non-federal share, unless the commissioner obtains a federal waiver for medical assistance payments, of medical assistance appropriations. ~~The state expenditures for this section shall not exceed $1,800,000 for the biennium ending June 30, 1983.~~ A county agency may use grant money to supplement but not supplant services available through other public assistance or service programs and shall not use grant money to establish new programs for which public money is available through sources other than grants provided under this subdivision. A county agency shall not use grant money to provide care under this subdivision to an individual if the anticipated cost of providing this care would exceed the average payment, as determined by the commissioner, for the level of nursing home care that the recipient would receive if placed in a nursing home. The non-federal share may be used to pay up to 90 percent of the start-up and service delivery costs of providing care under this subdivision. Each county agency that receives a grant shall pay 10 percent of the costs.

The commissioner shall promulgate temporary rules in accordance with sections 14.29 to 14.36, to establish required documentation and reporting of care delivered.

Sec. 10. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256B.41, is amended to read:

256B.41 [INTENT.]

Subdivision 1. [AUTHORITY.] ~~The state agency commissioner shall by rule establish a formula, by rule, procedures for establishing payment determining rates for care of residents of nursing homes which qualify as vendors of medical assistance, and for implementing the provisions of sections 256B.41, 256B.47, 256B.48, and sections 11, 12, 15, and 16. The procedures shall be based on methods and standards that the commissioner finds are adequate to provide for the costs that must be incurred for the care of residents in efficiently and economically operated nursing homes and shall specify the costs that are allowable for establishing payment rates through medical assistance.~~

Subd. 2. [FEDERAL REQUIREMENTS.] ~~It is the intent of the legislature to establish certain limitations on the state agency in setting standards for nursing home rate setting for the care of recipients of medical assistance pursuant to this chapter. It is not the intent of the legislature to repeal or change any existing or future rule promulgated by the state agency relating to the setting of rates for nursing homes unless the rule is clearly in conflict with sections 256B.41 to 256B.48. If any provision of sections 256B.41 to, 256B.47, and 256B.48 and sections 11, 12, 15, and 16, is determined by the United States government to be in conflict with existing or future requirements of the United States government with respect to federal participation in medical assistance, the federal requirements shall prevail.~~

Subdivision 1. [SCOPE.] For the purposes of sections 256B.41, 256B.47, 256B.48, and sections 11, 12, 15, and 16, the following terms and phrases shall have the meaning given to them.

Subd. 2. [ACTUAL ALLOWABLE HISTORICAL OPERATING COST PER DIEM.] "Actual allowable historical operating cost per diem" means the per diem payment for actual costs, including operating costs, allowed by the commissioner for the most recent reporting year.

Subd. 3. [COMMISSIONER.] "Commissioner" means the commissioner of public welfare.

Subd. 4. [FINAL RATE.] "Final rate" means the rate established after any adjustment by the commissioner, including but not limited to adjustments resulting from cost report reviews and field audits.

Subd. 5. [GENERAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS.] "General and administrative costs" means all allowable costs for administering the facility, including but not limited to: salaries of administrators, assistant administrators, medical directors, accounting personnel, data processing personnel, and all clerical personnel; board of directors fees; business office functions and supplies; travel; telephone and telegraph; advertising; licenses and permits; membership dues and subscriptions; postage; insurance, except as included as a fringe benefit under subdivision 14; professional services such as legal, accounting and data processing services; central or home office costs; management fees; management consultants; employee training, other than clerical, nurse, or nursing assistant training; and business meetings and seminars. These costs shall be included in general and administrative costs in total, without direct or indirect allocation to other cost categories.

In a nursing home of 60 or fewer beds, part of an administrator's salary may be allocated to other cost categories to the extent justified in records kept by the nursing home. Central or home office costs representing services of required consultants in areas including, but not limited to, dietary, pharmacy, social services, or activities may be allocated to the appropriate department, but only if those costs are directly identified by the nursing home.

Subd. 6. [HISTORICAL OPERATING COSTS.] "Historical operating costs" means the allowable operating costs incurred by the facility during the reporting year immediately preceding the rate year for which the payment rate becomes effective, after the commissioner has reviewed those costs and determined them to be allowable costs under the medical assistance program, and after the commissioner has applied appropriate limitations such as the ten percent limit on administrative costs.

Subd. 7. [NURSING HOME.] "Nursing home" means a facility licensed under chapter 144A or a boarding care facility licensed under sections 144.50 to 144.56.

Subd. 8. [OPERATING COSTS.] "Operating costs" means the day to day costs of operating the facility in compliance with licensure and certification standards. Operating cost categories are: nursing, including nurses and nursing assistants training; dietary; laundry and linen; housekeeping; plant operation and maintenance; other care-related services; general and administration; payroll taxes; real estate taxes and special assessments; and fringe benefits, including clerical training.

Subd. 9. [PAYMENT RATE.] "Payment rate" means the rate determined under section 12.

Subd. 10. [PRIVATE PAYING RESIDENT.] "Private paying resident" means a nursing home resident who is not a medical assistance recipient and whose payment rate is not established by another third party, including the veterans administration or medicare.

Subd. 11. [RATE YEAR.] "Rate year" means the fiscal year for which a payment rate determined under section 12 is effective, from July 1 to the next June 30.

Subd. 12. [REPORTING YEAR.] "Reporting year" means the period from October 1 to September 30, immediately preceding the rate year, for which the nursing home submits reports required under section 256B.48, subdivision 2.

Subd. 13. [ACTUAL RESIDENT DAY.] "Actual resident day" means a billable, countable day as defined by the commissioner.

Subd. 14. [FRINGE BENEFITS.] "Fringe benefits" means workers' compensation insurance, group health insurance, group life insurance, retirement benefits or plans, and uniform allowances.

Subd. 15. [PAYROLL TAXES.] "Payroll taxes" means the employer's share of FICA taxes and state and federal unemployment compensation taxes.

Sec. 12. [256B.431] [RATE DETERMINATION.]

Subdivision 1. [IN GENERAL.] The commissioner shall determine prospective payment rates for resident care costs. In determining the rates, the commissioner shall group nursing homes according to different levels of care until July 1, 1985, and after that date, mix of resident needs, and geographic location, as defined by the commissioner. Until groups are established according to mix of resident needs, the commissioner shall group all convalescent and nursing care units attached to hospitals into one group for purposes of determining reimbursement for operating costs. On or before June 1, 1983, the commissioner shall mail notices to each nursing home of the rates to be effective from July 1 of that year to June 30 of the following year. In subsequent years, the commissioner shall provide notice to each nursing home on or before May 1 of the rates effective for the following rate year. If a statute enacted after May 1 affects the rates, the commissioner shall provide a revised notice to each nursing home as soon as possible.

Until groups are established according to mix of resident needs, the commissioner shall exclude from any group any nursing home whose residents' average length of stay is less than 180 days, and any nursing home that is licensed and rendering services under the provisions of 12 MCAR 2.080 on or before March 15, 1983. For rate years beginning July 1, 1983, and July 1, 1984, a nursing home excluded from groups under this paragraph shall receive as its operating cost payment rate its actual allowable historical operating cost per diem, increased by six percent.

Subd. 2. [OPERATING COSTS.] (a) The commissioner shall establish, by rule, procedures for determining per diem reimbursement for operating costs based on actual resident days. The commissioner shall disallow any portion of the general and administration cost category, exclusive of fringe benefits and payroll taxes, that exceeds

10 percent for nursing homes with more than 100 certified beds in total,

12 percent for nursing homes with fewer than 101 but more than 40 certified beds in total, and

15 percent for nursing homes with 40 or fewer certified beds in total, of the expenditures in all operating cost categories except fringe benefits, payroll taxes, and general and administration.

(b) For the rate year beginning July 1, 1983, and ending June 30, 1984, the prospective operating cost payment rate for each nursing home shall be determined by the commissioner based on the most recently audited and available cost reports of allowed historical operating costs received by December 31, 1982. To determine the allowed historical operating cost, the commissioner shall update the historical per diem shown in those cost reports to June 30, 1983, using a ten percent annual rate of increase after applying the general and administrative cost limitation described in paragraph (a) and after adjusting for rate limitations in effect before the effective date of this section. The commissioner shall calculate the 60th percentile of actual allowable historical operating cost per diems for each group of nursing homes established under subdivision 1.

(1) Within each group, each nursing home whose actual allowable historical operating cost per diem as determined under this paragraph (b) is at or above the 60th percentile shall receive the 60th percentile increased by six percent plus 80 percent of the difference between its actual allowable operating cost per diem and the 60th percentile.

(2) Within each group, each nursing home whose actual allowable historical operating cost per diem is below the 60th percentile shall receive that actual allowable historical operating cost per diem increased by six percent.

For the rate year beginning July 1, 1984, and ending June 30, 1985, the prospective operating cost payment rate for each nursing home shall be determined by the commissioner based on actual allowable historical operating costs incurred during the reporting year preceding the rate year. The commissioner shall analyze and evaluate each nursing home's report of allowable operating costs incurred by the nursing home during the reporting year immediately preceding the rate year. The actual allowable historical operating costs, after the commissioner's analysis and evaluation, shall be added together and divided by the number of actual resident days to compute the actual allowable historical operating cost per diem. The commissioner shall calculate the 60th percentile of actual allowable historical operating cost per diems for each group of nursing homes established under subdivision 1.

(3) Within each group, each nursing home whose actual allowable historical operating cost per diem is at or above the 60th percentile of payment rates shall receive the 60th percentile increased by six percent plus 70 percent of the difference between its actual allowable historical operating cost per diem and the 60th percentile.

(4) Within each group, each nursing home whose actual allowable historical operating cost per diem is below the 60th percentile shall receive that actual allowable historical operating cost per diem increased by six percent.

(c) For subsequent years, the commissioner shall:

(1) Contract with an econometric firm with recognized expertise in and access to national economic change indices that can be applied to the appropriate cost categories when determining the operating cost payment rate;

(2) Establish the 60th percentile of actual allowable historical operating cost per diems for each group of nursing homes established under subdivision 1 based on cost reports of allowable operating costs in the previous reporting year. The commissioner shall analyze and evaluate each nursing home's report of allowable operating costs incurred by the nursing home during the reporting year immediately preceding the rate year for which the payment rate becomes effective. The allowable historical operating costs, after the commissioner's analysis and evaluation, shall be added together and divided by the actual number of resident days in order to compute the actual allowable historical operating cost per diem;

(3) Establish a composite index for each group by determining the weighted average of all economic change indicators applied to the operating cost categories in that group.

(4) Within each group, each nursing home shall receive the 60th percentile increased by the composite index calculated in paragraph (c)(3).

The commissioner shall include the reported actual real estate tax liability of each proprietary nursing home as an operating cost of that nursing home. The commissioner shall include a reported actual special assessment for each nursing home as an operating cost of that nursing home. Total real estate tax liability and actual special assessments paid for each nursing home (i) shall be divided by actual resident days in order to compute the operating cost payment rate for this operating cost category, but (ii) shall not be used to compute the 60th percentile.

(d) The commissioner shall allow the nursing home to keep, as an efficiency incentive, the difference between the nursing home's operating cost payment rate established for that rate year and the actual historical operating costs incurred for that rate year, if the latter amount is smaller. If a nursing home's actual historic operating costs are greater than the prospective payment rate for that rate year, there shall be no retroactive cost settle-up. If an annual cost report or field audit indicates that the expenditures for direct resident care have been reduced in amounts large enough to indicate a possible detrimental effect on the quality of care, the commissioner shall notify the commissioner of health and the interagency board for quality assurance. If a field audit reveals that unallowable expenditures have been included in the nursing home's historical operating costs, the commissioner shall disallow the expenditures and recover the entire overpayment. The commissioner shall establish, by rule, procedures for assessing an interest charge on any outstanding balance resulting from an overpayment or underpayment.

(e) The commissioner may negotiate, with a nursing home that is eligible to receive medical assistance payments, a payment rate of up to 125 percent of the allowed payment rate to be paid for a period of up to three months for individuals who have been hospitalized for more than 100 days, who have extensive care needs based on nursing hours actually provided or mental or physical disability, or need for respite care for a specified and limited time period, and based on an assessment of the nursing home's resident mix as determined by the commissioner of health.

Subd. 3. [PROPERTY-RELATED COSTS.] Property-related costs shall be reimbursed to each nursing home at the level recognized in the final rate effective March 1, 1983, adjusted for rate limitations in effect before the effective date of this section. Property-related costs include: depreciation, interest, earnings or investment allowance, lease, or rental payments. No adjustments shall be made as a result of sales or reorganizations of provider entities.

Adjustments for the cost of repairs, replacements, renewals, betterments, or improvements to existing buildings, and building service equipment shall be allowed if:

(i) The cost incurred is reasonable, necessary, and ordinary;

(ii) The net cost is greater than $5,000. "Net cost" means the actual cost, minus proceeds from insurance, salvage, or disposal;

(iii) The nursing home's property-related costs per diem is equal to or less than the average property-related costs per diem within its group; and

(iv) The adjustment is shown in depreciation schedules submitted to and approved by the commissioner.

Annual per diem shall be computed by dividing total property-related costs by 96 percent of the nursing home's certified capacity days for nursing homes with more than 60 beds and 94 percent of the nursing home's certified capacity days for nursing homes with 60 or fewer beds. For a nursing home whose residents' average length of stay is 180 days or less, the commissioner may waive the 96 percent factor and divide the nursing home's property-related costs by the actual resident days to compute the nursing home's annual property-related per diem. The commissioner shall promulgate temporary and permanent rules to recapture excess depreciation upon sale of a nursing home.

Subd. 4. [SPECIAL RATES.] A newly-constructed nursing home or one with a capacity increase of 50 percent or more may, upon written application to the commissioner, receive an interim payment rate calculated pursuant to the statutes and rules in effect on May 1, 1983, to be effective from the first day a medical assistance recipient resides in the home or for the added beds. The interim payment rate shall not be in effect for more than 12 months. The commissioner shall establish, by temporary and permanent rules, procedures for determining the interim rate and for making a retroactive cost settle-up after the first year of operation, and may limit the interim rate and the settle-up. The commissioner shall establish by rule procedures for determining payment rates for nursing homes which provide care under a lesser care level than the level for which the nursing home is certified.

Subd. 5. [ADJUSTMENTS.] When resolution of appeals or on-site field audits of the records of nursing homes within a group result in adjustments exceeding one cent per resident per day in all nursing homes within the group in any reporting year, the payment rate for each nursing home in the following rate year in that group shall be increased or decreased by the adjustment amount.

Sec. 13. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256B.47, is amended to read:

256B.47 [RATE LIMITS NONALLOWABLE COSTS; NOTICE OF INCREASES TO PRIVATE PAYING RESIDENTS.]

Subdivision 1. [NONALLOWABLE COSTS.] The state agency shall by rule establish separate overall limitations on the costs for items which directly relate to the provision of patient care to residents of nursing homes and those which do not directly relate to the provision of care. The state agency may also by rule, establish limitations for specific cost categories which do not directly relate to the provision of patient care. The commissioner shall determine: (a) the percentage increase in the revised consumer price index for all urban consumers for the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area prepared by the United States department of labor. He shall then determine the percent change from August, 1980, to, in 1981, August, 1981, and in each subsequent year, from August of the preceding year to August of the current year; and (b) the percentage increase in average Minnesota gross income from tax year 1980 to, in 1981, tax year 1981, and in each subsequent tax year between the previous tax year and the current tax year. The percent increases in Minnesota gross income shall be estimated using the best available data sources and reasonable forecasting procedures. The determination of the commissioner pursuant to this section shall not be considered a "rule" and shall not be subject to the administrative procedures act contained in chapter 14.*

The dollar amount in each taxable net income bracket for the prior year in subdivision 2c shall be multiplied by a figure calculated as one plus 100 percent of the consumer price index increase or 100 percent of the Minnesota gross income increase, whichever is smaller. The product of the calculation shall yield the inflation adjusted tax brackets for each succeeding year. If the product exceeds a whole dollar amount, it shall be rounded to the nearest whole dollar.

No later than October 1 of each year, the commissioner shall announce both percentage increases and the specific percentage that will be used to adjust the tax brackets, the maximum standard deduction amount, and the personal credit amounts.

(b) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1982, the taxable net income brackets, the personal credit amounts established pursuant to subdivisions 3f and 3g, and the maximum standard deduction provided under section 290.09, subdivision 15, shall be adjusted pursuant to paragraph (a) only if the commissioner of finance certifies by September 15 that the unobligated general fund balance on June 30, including the amount of the balance in the budget reserve account established pursuant to article 6, exceeds an amount equal to five percent of the total general fund expenditures and transfers, less dedicated revenue expenditures, for the current biennium.

If this amount is more than $150,000,000, the commissioner shall reduce the rate of the surtax in effect for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1982 and before January 1, 1984, so that the amount of revenue raised by the surtax results in a fund balance of no more than $150,000,000, provided that the rate so determined shall be rounded upward to the next one-tenth of one percent and no adjustment shall be required if the change in the rate of the surtax would be less than one-tenth of one percent.

Subd. 4. [TAXES.] Taxes paid or accrued within the taxable year, except (a) income or franchise taxes imposed by this chapter and income or franchise taxes paid to any other state or to any province or territory of Canada for which a credit is allowed under section 290.081; (b) taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind deemed in law to increase the value of the property assessed; (c) ~~inheritance, gift and estate taxes except as provided in section 290.077, subdivision 4;~~ (d) ~~cigarette and tobacco products excise tax imposed on the consumer;~~ (e) ~~that part of Minnesota property taxes for which a credit or refund is claimed and allowed under chapter 290A;~~ (f) federal income taxes (including the windfall profit tax on domestic crude oil), by corporations, national and state banks; ~~(g) mortgage registry tax; (h) real estate transfer tax; (i) federal telephone tax; (j) federal transportation tax; and (k) (d) tax paid by any corporation or national or state bank to any foreign country or possession of the United States to the extent that a credit against federal income taxes is allowed under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981. If the taxpayer's foreign tax credit consists of both foreign taxes deemed paid and foreign taxes actually paid or withheld, it will be conclusively presumed that foreign taxes deemed paid were first used by the taxpayer in its foreign tax credit. Minnesota gross income shall include the amount of foreign tax paid which had been allowed as a deduction in a previous year, provided such foreign tax is later allowed as a credit against federal income tax.~~

Taxes imposed upon a shareholder's interest in a corporation which are paid by the corporation without reimbursement from the shareholder shall be deductible only by such corporation.

Property taxes shall be allowed as a deduction to the same taxpayer and in the same manner as provided in section 164 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, notwithstanding the provisions of section 272.31.

Sec. 18. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.09, subdivision 5, is amended to read:

Subd. 5. [LOSSES.] (a) [GENERAL RULE.] There shall be allowed as a deduction any loss sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

(b) [AMOUNT OF DEDUCTION.] For purposes of paragraph (a), the basis for determining the amount of the deduction for any loss shall be the adjusted basis provided in this chapter for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

(c) [~~LIMITATION OF LOSSES OF INDIVIDUALS.~~] ~~In the case of an individual, the deduction under paragraph (a) shall be limited to~~

(1) ~~Losses incurred in a trade or business;~~

(2) ~~Losses incurred in any transaction entered into for profit, though not connected with a trade or business; and~~

(3) ~~Losses of property not connected with a trade or business, if such losses arise from fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft to the extent they are deductible pursuant to the provisions of section 165 (e) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981. No loss described in this paragraph shall be allowed if, at the time of the filing of the return, such loss has been claimed for inheritance or estate tax purposes.~~

(d) [WAGERING LOSSES.] Losses from wagering transactions shall be allowed only to the extent of the gains from such transactions.

(e) (d) [THEFT LOSSES.] For purposes of paragraph (a), any loss arising from theft shall be treated as sustained during the taxable year in which the taxpayer discovers such loss.

(f) (e) [CAPITAL LOSSES.] Losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be allowed only to the extent allowed in section 290.16.

(g) (f) [WORTHLESS SECURITIES.] (1) [GENERAL RULE.] If any security which is a capital asset becomes worthless during the taxable year, the loss resulting therefrom shall, for purposes of this chapter, be treated as a loss from the sale or exchange, on the last day of the taxable year, of a capital asset.

(2) [SECURITY DEFINED.] For purposes of this paragraph, the term "security" means:

(A) A share of stock in a corporation;

(B) A right to subscribe for, or to receive, a share of stock in a corporation;
or

(C) A bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by a corporation or by a government or political subdivision thereof, with interest coupons or in registered form.

(3) [SECURITIES IN AFFILIATED CORPORATION.] For purposes of paragraph (1), any security in a corporation affiliated with a taxpayer which is a domestic corporation shall not be treated as a capital asset. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a corporation shall be treated as affiliated with the taxpayer only if:

(A) At least 80 percent of each class of its stock is owned directly by the taxpayer, and

(B) More than 90 percent of the aggregate of its gross receipts for all taxable years has been from sources other than royalties, rents (except rents derived from rental from properties to employees of the corporation in the ordinary course of its operating business), dividends, interest (except interest received on deferred purchase price of operating assets sold), annuities, and gains from sales or exchanges of stocks and securities. In computing gross receipts for purposes of the preceding sentence, gross receipts from sales or exchanges of stock and securities shall be taken into account only to the extent of gains therefrom.

(h) (g) [DISASTER LOSSES.] (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of (a), any loss

(A) attributable to a disaster which occurs during the period following the close of the taxable year and on or before the time prescribed by law for filing the income tax return for the taxable year (determined without regard to any extension of time); and

(B) occurring in an area subsequently determined by the President of the United States to warrant assistance by the Federal Government under the provisions of the Federal Disaster Relief Act of 1974, at the election of the ~~taxpayer, may~~ shall be deducted for the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year in which the disaster occurred. ~~Such election may be made~~ This provision shall apply only if a ~~similar~~ an election has been made under the provisions of section ~~165(h)~~ 165(i) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, ~~1981~~ 1982, for federal income tax purposes. ~~Such~~ The deduction allowed in the preceding taxable year shall not be in excess of so much of the loss as would have been deductible in the taxable year in which the casualty occurred ~~exceed the uncompensated amount determined on the basis of the facts existing at the date the taxpayer claims the loss.~~ If an election is made under this paragraph, the casualty resulting in the loss will be deemed to have occurred in the taxable year for which the deduction is claimed.

~~(2) The commissioner is authorized to prescribe regulations providing the time and manner of making an election to claim a disaster loss under this clause.~~

~~(i) (h) [ELECTION.] In lieu of the deduction allowed by (a) or (h) (g) any loss not compensated for by insurance or otherwise:~~

~~(1) Attributable to storm or other natural causes or fire, may, at the election of the taxpayer, be claimed as a deduction in the taxable year in which said loss is sustained or in the preceding taxable year.~~

~~(2) In the event that under the provisions of this paragraph, a taxpayer claims the same disaster loss deduction or a net operating loss deduction resulting from the inclusion of a casualty loss in the calculation of such deduction in different taxable years for state and federal purposes, appropriate modifications shall be allowed or required for taxable years affected in order to prevent duplication or omission of such deduction.~~

~~(3) The commissioner is authorized to prescribe regulations providing the time and manner to make an election to claim a loss under the provisions of this paragraph and for the filing of an amended return or claim for refund.~~

Sec. 19. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.091, is amended to read:

290.091 [MINIMUM TAX ON PREFERENCE ITEMS.]

In addition to all other taxes imposed by this chapter there is hereby imposed, a tax which, in the case of a resident individual, shall be equal to 40 percent of the amount of the taxpayer's minimum tax liability for tax preference items pursuant to the provisions of sections 55 to 58 and 443(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended through December 31, 1981. For purposes of the tax imposed by this section, the following modifications shall be made:

(1) Capital gain as defined in section 57(a) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not include that portion of any gain occasioned by sale, transfer or the granting of a perpetual easement pursuant to any eminent domain proceeding or threat thereof as described in section 290.13, subdivision 5. This modification shall apply to the years in which the gain or reduction in loss is actually included in federal adjusted gross income even though amounts received pursuant to the eminent domain proceedings were received in prior years.

(2) In the case of a corporate taxpayer, percentage depletion shall not be a preference item.

(3) ~~In the case of a corporate taxpayer, the capital gain preference item shall not include the timber preference income defined in section 57(e)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.~~

(4) The preference item of reserves for losses on bad debts shall not include reserves allowable under section 593 of the Internal Revenue Code, but which are not allowable under section 290.09, subdivision 6, clause (c).

(5) ~~In the case of an individual, the preference item of adjusted itemized deductions does not include any deduction for charitable contributions in excess of the limitations contained in section 290.21, subdivision 3, including any carryover amount allowed for federal purposes.~~

(6) (4) The capital gain preference item shall be reduced where the gain would be modified because some or all of the assets have a higher basis for Minnesota purposes than for federal purposes.

(7) (5) In the case of a nonresident individual, or an estate or trust, with a net operating loss that is a larger amount for Minnesota than for federal, the capital gain preference item shall be reduced to the extent it was reduced in the allowance of the net operating loss.

In the case of a resident individual, having preference items which could not be taken to reduce income from sources outside the state pursuant to section 290.17, subdivision 1, or any other taxpayer the tax shall equal 40 percent of that federal liability, multiplied by a fraction the numerator of which is the amount of the taxpayer's preference item income allocated to this state pursuant to the provisions of sections 290.17 to 290.20, and the denominator of which is the taxpayer's total preference item income for federal purposes.

The tax benefit rule contained in section 58(h) of the Internal Revenue Code is applied to the Minnesota minimum tax only to the extent that it determines if there is a federal minimum tax. No separate tax benefit rule is allowable for the Minnesota minimum tax.

For property placed in service after December 31, 1980, the preference items contained in section 57 (a)(12) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, shall not apply.

Sec. 20. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.14, is amended to read:

290.14 [GAIN OR LOSS ON DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY, BASIS.]

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the basis for determining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property acquired on or after January 1, 1933, shall be the cost to the taxpayer of such property, with the following exceptions:

(1) If the property should have been included in the last inventory, it shall be the last inventory value thereof;

(2) If the property was acquired by gift, it shall be the same as it would be if it were being sold or otherwise disposed of by the last preceding owner not acquiring it by gift; if the facts required for this determination cannot be ascertained, it shall be the fair market value as of the date, or approximate date, of acquisition by the last preceding owner, as nearly as the requisite facts can be ascertained by the commissioner;

(3) If the property was acquired by gift through an inter vivos transfer in trust, it shall be the same as it would be if it were being sold or otherwise disposed of by the grantor;

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this clause, the basis of property in the hands of a person acquiring the property from a decedent or to whom the property passed from a decedent shall, if not sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of before the decedent's death by the person, be the fair market value of the property at the date of decedent's death or, in the case of an election under section 2032 (relating to alternate valuation) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, its valuation at the applicable valuation date prescribed by that section, or in the case of an election under section 2032A (relating to valuation of farm real property) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, its value determined by that section.

For the purposes of the preceding paragraph, the following property shall be considered to have been acquired from or to have passed from the decedent:

(a) Property acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance, or by the decedent's estate from the decedent;

(b) Property transferred by the decedent during his lifetime in trust to pay the income for life to or on the order or direction of the decedent, with the right reserved to the decedent at all times before his death to revoke the trust;

(c) Property transferred by the decedent during his lifetime in trust to pay the income for life to or on the order or direction of the decedent with the right reserved to the decedent at all times before his death to make any change in the enjoyment thereof through the exercise of a power to alter, amend, or terminate the trust;

(d) Property passing without full and adequate consideration under a general power of appointment exercised by the decedent by will;

(e) In the case of a decedent's dying after December 31, 1956, property acquired from the decedent by reason of death, form of ownership, or other conditions (including property acquired through the exercise or non-exercise of a power of appointment), if by reason thereof the property is required to be included in determining the value of the decedent's gross estate for Minnesota inheritance or estate tax purposes. In this case, if the property is acquired before the death of the decedent, the basis shall be the amount determined under the first paragraph of this clause reduced by the amount allowed to the taxpayer as deductions in computing taxable net income under this chapter or prior Minnesota income tax laws for exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion on the property before the death of the decedent. The basis shall be applicable to the property commencing on the death of the decedent. This paragraph shall not apply to annuities and property described in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this clause.

This clause shall not apply to property which constitutes a right to receive an item of income in respect of a decedent under section 290.077.

(5) If substantially identical property was acquired in the place of stocks or securities which were sold or disposed of and in respect of which loss was not allowed as a deduction under section 11 or section 290.09, subdivision 5, the basis in the case of property so acquired shall be the same as that provided in section 1091 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981.

(6) Neither the basis nor the adjusted basis of any portion of real property shall, in the case of a lessor of the property, be increased or diminished on account of income derived by the lessor in respect of the property and excludable from gross income under section 290.08, subdivision 14.

If an amount representing any part of the value of real property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by a lessee in respect of the property was included in gross income of the lessor for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1943, the basis of each portion of the property shall be properly adjusted for the amount included in gross income.

(7) If the property was acquired by the taxpayer as a transfer of property in exchange for the release of the taxpayer's marital rights, the basis of the property shall be the same as it would be if it were being sold or otherwise disposed of by the person who transferred the property to the taxpayer.

(8) The basis of property subject to the provisions of section 1034 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981 (relating to the rollover of gain on sale of principal residence) shall be the same as the basis for federal income tax purposes. The basis shall be increased by the amount of gain realized on the sale of a principal residence outside of Minnesota, while a nonresident of this state, which gain was not recognized because of the provisions of section 1034.

Sec. 21. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.16, subdivision 9, is amended to read:

Subd. 9. [PROPERTY USED IN TRADE OR BUSINESS.] (4) ~~For the purposes of this subdivision, the term "property used in the trade or business" means property used in the trade or business of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 290.09, subdivision 7, held for more than one year, and real property used in the trade or business, held for more than one year, which is not (A) property of a kind which would properly be includible in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or (B) property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business. Such term also includes livestock, regardless of age, held by the taxpayer for draft, breeding or dairy purposes, and held by him for 12 months or more from the date of acquisition. Such term does not include poultry.~~

(2) ~~If, during the taxable year, the recognized gains upon sale or exchanges of the provisions of section 1231 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through January 15, 1983, shall apply to property used in the trade or business, plus the recognized gains from the compulsory or and involuntary conversion (as a result of destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof) of property used in the trade or business and capital assets~~ held for more than one year into other property or money; exceed the recognized losses from such sales, exchanges, and conversions; such gains and losses shall be considered as gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets held for more than one year. If such gains do not exceed such losses, such gains and losses shall not be considered as gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets conversions. For the purposes of this paragraph:

(A) in determining under this paragraph whether gains exceed losses, the gains and losses described therein shall be included only if and to the extent taken into account in computing net income, except that subdivisions 4 and 5 shall not apply.

(B) Losses (including losses not compensated for by insurance or otherwise) upon the destruction, in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or requisition or condemnation of property used in the trade or business or capital assets held for more than one year shall be considered losses from a compulsory or involuntary conversion.

In the case of any involuntary conversion (subject to the provisions of this clause but for this sentence) arising from fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft, of any property used in the trade or business or as any capital asset held for more than one year, this clause shall not apply to such conversion (whether resulting in gain or loss) if during the taxable year the recognized losses from such conversions exceed the recognized gains from such conversions. A taxpayer may elect to apply the provisions of section 631(a) and (b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through January 15, 1983, to determine gain or loss in the case of timber.

To the extent section 1238 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through January 15, 1983, applies, gain from the sale or exchange of property, to the extent that the adjusted basis of such property is less than the adjusted basis without regard to the provisions of section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as in effect before its repeal by the Tax Reform Act of 1976, shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is neither a capital asset nor property described in this subdivision shall be determined under that section.

Sec. 22. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.17, subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. [OTHER TAXPAYERS.] In the case of taxpayers not subject to the provisions of subdivision 1, items of gross income shall be assigned to this state or other states or countries in accordance with the following principles:

(1) (a) The entire income of all resident or domestic taxpayers from compensation for labor or personal services, or from a business consisting principally of the performance of personal or professional services, shall be assigned to this state, and the income of nonresident taxpayers from such sources shall be assigned to this state if, and to the extent that, the labor or services are performed within it; all other income from such sources shall be treated as income from sources without this state.

(b) In the case of an individual who is a nonresident of Minnesota and who is an athlete or entertainer, income from compensation for labor or personal services performed within this state shall be determined in the following manner.

(i) The amount of income to be assigned to Minnesota for an individual who is a nonresident salaried athletic team employee shall be determined by using a fraction in which the denominator contains the total number of days in which the individual is under a duty to perform for the employer, and the numerator is the total number of those days spent in Minnesota. In order to eliminate the need to file state or provincial income tax returns in several states or provinces, Minnesota will exclude from income any income assigned to Minnesota under the provisions of this clause for a nonresident athlete who is employed by an athletic team whose operations are not based in this state if the state or province in which the athletic team is based provides a similar income exclusion. If the state or province in which the athletic team's operations are based does not have an income tax on an individual's personal service income, it will be deemed that that state or province has a similar income exclusion. As used in the preceding sentence, the term "province" means a province of Canada.

(ii) The amount of income to be assigned to Minnesota for an individual who is a nonresident, and who is an athlete not listed in clause (i), or who is an entertainer, for that person's athletic or entertainment performance in Minnesota shall be determined by assigning to this state all income from performances or athletic contests in this state.

(2) Income from the operation of a farm shall be assigned to this state if the farm is located within this state and to other states only if the farm is not located in this state. Income and gains received from tangible property not employed in the business of the recipient of such income or gains, and from tangible property employed in the business of such recipient if such business consists principally of the holding of such property and the collection of the income and gains therefrom, shall be assigned to this state if such property has a situs within it, and to other states only if it has no situs in this state. Income or gains from intangible personal property not employed in the business of the recipient of such income or gains, and from intangible personal property employed in the business of such recipient if such business consists principally of the holding of such property and the collection of the income and gains therefrom, wherever held, whether in trust, or otherwise, shall be assigned to this state if the recipient thereof is domiciled within this state; income or gains from intangible personal property wherever held, whether in trust or otherwise shall be assigned to this state if the recipient of such income or gains is domiciled within this state, or if the grantor of any trust is domiciled within this state and such income or gains would be taxable to such grantor under section 290.28 or 290.29;

(3) Income derived from carrying on a trade or business, including in the case of a business owned by natural persons the income imputable to the owner for his services and the use of his property therein, shall be assigned to this state if the trade or business is conducted wholly within this state, and to other states if conducted wholly without this state. This provision shall not apply to business income subject to the provisions of clause (1);

(4) When a trade or business is carried on partly within and partly without this state, the entire income derived from such trade or business, including income from intangible property employed in such business and including, in the case of a business owned by natural persons, the income imputable to the owner for his services and the use of his property therein, shall be governed, except as otherwise provided in sections 290.35 and 290.36, by the provisions of section 290.19, notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary. This shall not apply to business income subject to the provisions of clause (1), nor shall it apply to income from the operation of a farm which is subject to the provisions of clause (2). For the purposes of this clause, a trade or business located in Minnesota is carried on partly within and partly without this state if tangible personal property is sold by such trade or business and delivered or shipped to a purchaser located outside the state of Minnesota.

If the trade or business carried on wholly or partly in Minnesota is part of a unitary business, the entire income of that unitary business shall be subject to apportionment under section 290.19 except for business income subject to the provisions of clause (1) and farm income subject to the provisions of clause (2). The term "unitary business" shall mean a ~~number of~~ business activities or operations which are of mutual benefit, dependent upon, or contributory to one another, individually or as a group. Unity shall be presumed whenever there is unity of ownership, operation, and use, evidenced by centralized management or executive force, centralized purchasing, advertising, accounting, or other controlled interaction but the absence of any of these centralized activities will not necessarily evidence a nonunitary business. Unity of ownership will not be deemed to exist ~~unless the corporation owns more than 50 percent of the voting stock of the other corporation~~ when a corporation is involved unless that corporation is a member of a group of two or more corporations more than 50 percent of the voting stock of each member of the group is directly or indirectly owned by a common owner or by common owners, either corporate or noncorporate, or by one or more of the member corporations of the group.

The entire income of a unitary business, ~~including all income from each activity, operation or division,~~ shall be subject to apportionment as provided in section 290.19. None of the income of a unitary business shall be considered as derived from any particular source and none shall be allocated to any particular place except as provided by the applicable apportionment formula.

In determining whether or not intangible property is employed in a unitary business carried on partly within and partly without this state so that income derived therefrom is subject to apportionment under section 290.19 the following rules and guidelines shall apply.

(a) Intangible property is employed in a business if the business entity owning intangible property holds it as a means of furthering the business operation of which a part is located within the territorial confines of this state.

(b) Where a business operation conducted in Minnesota, is owned by a business entity which carries on business activity outside of the state different in kind from that conducted within this state, and such other business is conducted entirely outside the state, it will be presumed that the two business operations are unitary in nature, interrelated, connected and interdependent unless it can be shown to the contrary.

(5) In the case of a nonresident who is liable for payment of a penalty for having withdrawn funds from an individual housing account established pursuant to section 290.08, subdivision 25, the amount so withdrawn and for which a deduction was allowed shall be an item of income assignable to this state, and the penalty tax of ten percent shall remain an additional liability of that taxpayer.

(6) For purposes of this section, amounts received by a non-resident from the United States, its agencies or instrumentalities, the Federal Reserve Bank, the state of Minnesota or any of its political or governmental subdivisions, or a Minnesota volunteer fireman's relief association, by way of payment as a pension, public employee retirement benefit, or any combination thereof, or as a retirement or survivor's benefit made from a plan qualifying under section 401, 403, 404, 405, 408, 409 or 409A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, are not considered income derived from carrying on a trade or business or from performing personal or professional services in Minnesota, and are not taxable under this chapter.

(7) All other items of gross income shall be assigned to the taxpayer's domicile.

Sec. 23. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.18, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

Subdivision 1. [TAXABLE NET INCOME.] (a) For resident individuals, taxable net income shall be the same as net income.

(b) For all other taxpayers, the taxable net income shall, except insofar as section 290.19 is applicable, be computed by deducting from the gross income assignable to this state under section 290.17 deductions of the kind permitted by ~~section~~ sections 2, 290.09, and section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through January 15, 1983, in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) Such deductions shall be allowed to the extent that they are connected with and allocable against the production or receipt of such gross income assignable to this state;

(2) That proportion of such deductions, so far as not connected with and allocable against the production or receipt of such gross income assignable to this state and so far as not connected with and allocable against the production or receipt of gross income assignable to other states or countries and so far as not entering into the computation of the net income assignable to this state under section 290.19, shall be allowed which the taxpayer's gross income from sources within this state, as determined under section 290.17, subdivision 2, clauses (1), (2), (3), (5), and (7), bears to his gross income from all sources, including that entering into the computations provided for by section 290.19; provided that taxes of the kind deductible under section 290.09, subdivision 4, shall, so far as within the description of deductions deductible under this clause, be deductible in their entirety if paid to the state of Minnesota, or any of its subdivisions authorized to impose such taxes, and thereupon be excluded in making the computation of deductions, as in this clause provided.

Sec. 24. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.18, subdivision 4, is amended to read:

Subd. 4. [TAXABLE NET INCOME ADJUSTMENT FACTOR.] For the taxable year beginning after December 31, 1980 and before January 1, 1982, the commissioner of revenue shall adjust taxable net income by multiplying the taxable net income of each individual, estate and trust by a fraction, the numerator of which is one plus the predicted rate of growth in average Minnesota gross income between tax year 1980 and tax year 1981. The denominator of the adjustment fraction shall be one plus the product of (a) the predicted rate of growth in average Minnesota gross income as determined above, and (b) the difference between the ratio of Minnesota gross income to Minnesota adjusted gross income and the product of the ratio of federal taxes paid to Minnesota adjusted gross income and an estimate of average federal income tax elasticity relating percent changes in federal adjusted gross income to percent changes in net federal income tax liabilities.

For each taxable year beginning after December 31, 1981, except a year when no inflation adjustment is made pursuant to section 290.06, subdivision 2d, paragraph (b), the commissioner of revenue shall adjust taxable net income by multiplying the taxable net income of each individual, estate, and trust by an adjustment factor determined by multiplying the previous year's adjustment factor by the current year adjustment factor as defined above using data appropriate to the current year.

The data used shall reflect the most current aggregate tax statistics collected and tabulated by the department of revenue. The estimate of the percentage increase in Minnesota gross income shall be based on the best available data sources and reasonable forecasting procedures. The estimate of federal income tax elasticity shall reflect the best available sources of information, including the judgment of the United States Internal Revenue Service and the United States Treasury, Office of Tax Analysis. The determination of the commissioner pursuant to this section shall not be considered a "rule" and shall not be subject to the administrative procedures act contained in chapter 14.

No later than October 1 of each tax year, the commissioner shall announce the adjustment factor to be applied to taxable net income, including its separate components, and the estimate of federal elasticity.

Sec. 25. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.21, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

Subdivision 1. The following deductions shall be allowed only to corporations and shall be deductions from gross income in computing net income for individuals, and from a corporation's taxable net income for corporations.

Sec. 26. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.21, subdivision 3, is amended to read:

Subd. 3. An amount for contribution or gifts made within the taxable year:

(a) to or for the use of the state of Minnesota, or any of its political subdivisions for exclusively public purposes,

(b) to or for the use of any community chest, corporation, organization, trust, fund, association, or foundation located in and carrying on substantially all of its activities within this state, organized and operating exclusively for religious, charitable, public cemetery, scientific, literary, artistic, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual,

(c) to a fraternal society, order, or association, operating under the lodge system located in and carrying on substantially all of their activities within this state if such contributions or gifts are to be used exclusively for the purposes specified in subdivision 3(b), or for or to posts or organizations of war veterans or auxiliary units or societies of such posts or organizations, if they are within the state and no part of their net income inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual,

For purposes of computing either the arithmetic average or weighted apportionment formulas under section 290.19, subdivision 1 for each corporation involved, the numerator of the fraction shall be that corporation's sales, property, and payroll in Minnesota and the denominator shall be the total sales, payroll, and property of all the corporations shown on the combined report. The combined report shall reflect the income of the entire unitary business as provided in section 290.17, subdivision 2, clause (4). estimated taxes, exceeds the amount of tax of such spouse as computed separately, the excess may be applied by the commissioner to the credit of the other spouse if the sum of the payments by such other spouse, including withheld and estimated taxes, is less than the amount of the tax of such other spouse as computed separately;

(b) if the sum of the payments made by both spouses with respect to the taxes of both as computed separately, including withheld and estimated taxes, exceeds the total of the taxes due, refund of the excess may be made payable to both spouses or may be credited against any liability in respect of Minnesota income tax on the part of either spouse;

(c) if the sum of the payments made by both spouses with respect to the taxes of both as computed separately, including withheld and estimated taxes, is less than the total of the taxes due, the liability for the unpaid tax shall be joint and several; provided that a spouse may be relieved of liability in those cases contained in section 6013(e) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended through December 31, 1981 (for purposes of computing the 25 percent test contained in that section, the amount of gross income stated in the return shall include the total gross income of both spouses);

Sec. 32. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.46, is amended to read:

290.46 [EXAMINATION OF RETURNS; ASSESSMENTS, REFUNDS.]

The commissioner shall, as soon as practicable after the return is filed, examine the same and make any investigation or examination of the taxpayer's records and accounts that he may deem necessary for determining the correctness of the return. The tax computed by him on the basis of such examination and investigation shall be the tax to be paid by such taxpayer. If the tax found due shall be greater than the amount reported as due on the taxpayer's return, the commissioner shall assess a tax in the amount of such excess and the whole amount of such excess shall be paid to the commissioner within 60 days after notice of the amount and demand for its payment shall have been mailed to the taxpayer by the commissioner. If the understatement of the tax on the return was false and fraudulent with intent to evade the tax, the installments of the tax shown by the taxpayer on his return which have not yet been paid shall be paid to the commissioner within 60 days after notice of the amount thereof and demand for payment shall have been mailed to the taxpayer by the commissioner. If the amount of the tax found due by the commissioner shall be less than that reported as due on the taxpayer's return, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer in the manner provided by section 290.50 (except that no demand therefor shall be necessary), if he has already paid the whole of such tax, or credited against any unpaid installment thereof; provided, that no refundment shall be made except as provided in section 290.50.

If the commissioner examines returns of a taxpayer for more than one year, he may issue one order covering the several years under consideration reflecting the aggregate refund or additional tax due.

The notices and demands provided for by sections 290.46 to 290.48 shall be in such form as the commissioner may determine (including a statement) and shall contain a brief explanation of the computation of the tax and shall be sent by mail to the taxpayer at the address given in his return, or to his last known address.

In cases where there has been an overpayment of a self-assessed liability as shown on the return filed by the taxpayer, the commissioner may refund such overpayment to the taxpayer and no demand therefor shall be necessary; further, written findings by the commissioner, notice by mail to the taxpayer and certificate for refundment by the commissioner shall not be necessary and the provisions of section 270.10, in such case, shall not be applicable.

In the case of an individual, estate or trust, the commissioner may audit and adjust the taxpayer's computation of federal adjusted gross income (or federal taxable income for estates or trusts) to make it properly conform with the provisions of section 290.01, subdivision 20. In the case of an individual, the commissioner may audit and adjust the taxpayer's computation of itemized deductions to make them properly conform with the provisions of section 11.

Sec. 33. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.92, subdivision 2a, is amended to read:

(2) [WITHHOLDING ON PAYROLL PERIOD.] The employer shall withhold the tax on the basis of each payroll period or as otherwise provided in this section.

(3) [WITHHOLDING TABLES.] Unless the amount of tax to be withheld is determined as provided in subdivision 3, the amount of tax to be withheld for each individual shall be based upon tables to be prepared and distributed by the commissioner. The tables shall be computed for the several permissible withholding periods and shall take account of exemptions allowed under this section; and the amounts computed for withholding shall be such that the amount withheld for any individual during his taxable year shall approximate in the aggregate as closely as possible the tax which is levied and imposed under this chapter for that taxable year, upon his salary, wages, or compensation for personal services of any kind for the employer, and shall take into consideration the allowable deduction for federal income tax and the deduction allowable under section ~~290.09~~ 11, subdivision ~~4~~ 3, and the personal credits allowed against the tax.

(4) [MISCELLANEOUS PAYROLL PERIOD.] If wages are paid with respect to a period which is not a payroll period, the amount to be deducted and withheld shall be that applicable in the case of a miscellaneous payroll period containing a number of days, including Sundays and holidays, equal to the number of days in the period with respect to which such wages are paid.

(5) [MISCELLANEOUS PAYROLL PERIOD.] (a) In any case in which wages are paid by an employer without regard to any payroll period or other period, the amount to be deducted and withheld shall be that applicable in the case of a miscellaneous payroll period containing a number of days equal to the number of days, including Sundays and holidays, which have elapsed since the date of the last payment of such wages by such employer during the calendar year, or the date of commencement of employment with such employer during such year, or January 1 of such year, whichever is the later.

(b) In any case in which the period, or the time described in clause (a), in respect of any wages is less than one week, the commissioner, under regulations prescribed by him, may authorize an employer to determine the amount to be deducted and withheld under the tables applicable in the case of a weekly payroll period, in which case the aggregate of the wages paid to the employee during the calendar week shall be considered the weekly wages.

(6) [WAGES COMPUTED TO NEAREST DOLLAR.] If the wages exceed the highest bracket, in determining the amount to be deducted and withheld under this subdivision, the wages may, at the election of the employer, be computed to the nearest dollar.

(7) [REGULATIONS ON WITHHOLDING.] The commissioner may, by regulations, authorize employers:

(a) To estimate the wages which will be paid to any employee in any quarter of the calendar year;

(b) To determine the amount to be deducted and withheld upon each payment of wages to such employee during such quarter as if the appropriate average of the wages so estimated constituted the actual wages paid; and

(c) To deduct and withhold upon any payment of wages to such employee during such quarter such amount as may be necessary to adjust the amount actually deducted and withheld upon wages of such employee during such quarter to the amount required to be deducted and withheld during such quarter without regard to this paragraph (7).

(8) [ADDITIONAL WITHHOLDING.] The commissioner is authorized to provide by rule for increases or decreases in the amount of withholding otherwise required under this section in cases where the employee requests the changes. Such additional withholding shall for all purposes be considered tax required to be deducted and withheld under this section.

(9) [TIPS.] In the case of tips which constitute wages, this subdivision shall be applicable only to such tips as are included in a written statement furnished to the employer pursuant to section 6053 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, and only to the extent that the tax can be deducted and withheld by the employer, at or after the time such statement is so furnished and before the close of the calendar year in which such statement is furnished, from such wages of the employee (excluding tips, but including funds turned over by the employee to the employer for the purpose of such deduction and withholding) as are under the control of the employer; and an employer who is furnished by an employee a written statement of tips (received in a calendar month) pursuant to section 6053 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended through December 31, 1981 to which subdivision 1 is applicable may deduct and withhold the tax with respect to such tips from any wages of the employee (excluding tips) under his control, even though at the time such statement is furnished the total amount of the tips included in statements furnished to the employer as having been received by the employee in such calendar month in the course of his employment by such employer is less than $20. Such tax shall not at any time be deducted and withheld in an amount which exceeds the aggregate of such wages and funds as are under the control of the employer minus any tax required by other provisions of state or federal law to be collected from such wages and funds.

(c) pay the costs to a governmental subdivision for their minimum required share of any program otherwise authorized by law for which matching funds have been appropriated by the state of Minnesota or the United States, excluding the administrative costs of public assistance programs, to the extent of the increase in levy for the taxes payable year 1983 and subsequent years over the amount levied for the local share of the program for the taxes payable year 1971. (d) pay the costs not reimbursed by the state or federal government, of payments made to or on behalf of recipients of aid under any public assistance program authorized by law, and the costs of purchase or delivery of social services, but not the administrative costs of public assistance programs or of county welfare systems. section 261.21; the aggregate amounts levied pursuant to this clause are subject to a maximum increase of 18 percent over the amount levied for these purposes in the previous year;

(e) pay the costs of principal and interest on bonded indebtedness, ~~or effective for taxes levied in 1973 and years thereafter,~~ to reimburse for the amount of liquor store revenues used to pay the principal and interest due in the year preceding the year for which the levy limit is calculated on municipal liquor store bonds;

(1) The increased expenditures necessary in preparation for the delivering of municipal services to new private industrial and nonresidential commercial development, but limited to one year's expenditures one time for each such development;

(2) The amount determined by dividing the overall levy limitation established pursuant to sections 275.50 to 275.56, and exclusive of special levies and special assessments, by the total taxable value of the governmental subdivision, and then multiplying this quotient times the total increase in assessed value of private industrial and nonresidential commercial development within the governmental subdivision. For the purpose of this clause, the increase in the assessed value of private industrial and nonresidential commercial development is calculated as the increase in assessed value over the assessed value of the real estate parcels subject to such private development as most recently determined before the building permit was issued. For the purpose of this special levy, the estimated receipts expected from the state of Minnesota pursuant to sections 69.011 to 69.031 or any other state aid expressly intended for the support of public pension funds shall be considered as a deduction in determining the required levy for the normal costs of the public pension funds. No amount of these aids shall be considered as a deduction in determining the governmental subdivision's required levy for the reduction of the unfunded accrued liability of public pension funds;

(p) the amounts allowed under section 174.27 to establish and administer a commuter van program;

(q) pay the costs of financial assistance to local governmental units and certain administrative, engineering, and legal expenses pursuant to Laws 1979, Chapter 253, Section 3;

(2) That there is probable cause to believe that the property may be held exempt from the tax levied or that the tax may be determined to be less than 50 percent of the amount levied; and

(3) That it would work a hardship upon petitioner to pay the taxes due.

the court may permit the petitioner to continue prosecution of the petition without payment, or may fix a lesser amount to be paid as a condition of continuing the prosecution of the petition.

Failure to make payment of the amount required when due shall operate automatically to dismiss the petition and all proceedings thereunder unless the payment is waived by an order of the court permitting the petitioner to continue prosecution of the petition without payment. The county treasurer shall, upon request of the petitioner, issue duplicate receipts for the tax payment, one of which shall be filed by the petitioner in the proceeding.

If, within ten days thereafter, the petitioner, or his attorney, gives notice in writing to the county attorney, or the attorney for the city or town, that the offer is accepted, he may file the offer with proof of notice, and the clerk shall enter judgment accordingly. Otherwise, the offer shall be deemed withdrawn and evidence thereof shall not be given; and, unless a lower valuation than specified in the offer is found by the court, no costs or disbursements shall be allowed to the petitioner, but the costs and disbursements of the state, county, city or town, including interest at six percent on the tax based on the amount of the offer from and after the ~~first 15th~~ day of ~~November~~ October of the year the taxes are payable, shall be taxed in its favor and included in the judgment and when collected shall be credited to the county revenue fund, unless the taxes were paid in full before the ~~first 15th~~ day of ~~November~~ October of the year in which the taxes were payable, in which event interest shall not be taxable.

Subdivision 1. [DEFINITIONS.] For purposes of this section, the following terms have the meanings given.

(a) "City" means a statutory or home rule charter city.

(b) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of energy, planning, and development or its successor agency.

(c) "Legislative advisory commission" means the legislative advisory commission established under section 3.30.

(d) "Municipality" means a city or a county for an area located outside the boundaries of a city. If an area lies in two or more cities or in both incorporated and unincorporated areas, municipality shall include an entity formed pursuant to section 471.59 by the governing bodies of the cities with jurisdiction over the incorporated area and the counties with jurisdiction over the unincorporated area.

Subd. 2. [SUBMISSION OF APPLICATIONS.] On or before July 31 of each year, a municipality seeking designation of an area as an enterprise zone shall submit an application to the commissioner. The commissioner shall establish procedures and forms for the submission of applications for enterprise zone designation.

Subd. 3. [APPLICATIONS; CONTENTS.] The applications for designation as an enterprise zone shall contain, at a minimum:

(a) verification that the area is eligible for designation pursuant to section 273.1312;

(b) a development plan, outlining the types of investment and development within the zone that the municipality expects to take place if the incentives and tax reductions specified under paragraphs (d) and (e) are provided, including specific investment or development reasonably expected to take place and any commitments obtained from businesses;

(c) the municipality's proposed means of assessing the effectiveness of the development plan once it has been implemented;

(d) the specific form of tax reductions, authorized by subdivision 9, proposed to be granted to businesses making new investment in the zones, the duration of the tax reductions, an estimate of the total state taxes likely to be foregone as a result, and a statement of the relationship between the proposed tax reductions and the type of investment or development sought or expected to be attracted to the area if it is designated as a zone;

(e) the municipality's contribution to the zone as required by subdivision 6;

(f) any additional information required by the commissioner; and

(g) any additional information which the municipality considers relevant to the designation of the area as an enterprise zone.

Subd. 4. [EVALUATION OF APPLICATIONS.] The commissioner shall review and evaluate the applications submitted pursuant to subdivision 3 and shall determine whether each area is eligible for designation as an enterprise zone. If the department of energy, planning, and development no longer exists as presently constituted, the commissioner shall consult with the successor to the responsibilities of the planning division of that department in making this determination. In determining whether an area is eligible under section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), if unemployment, employment, income or other necessary data are not available for the area from the federal departments of labor or commerce or the state demographer, the commissioner may rely upon other data submitted by the municipality if he determines it is statistically reliable or accurate. The commissioner, in conjunction with the commissioner of revenue, shall prepare an estimate of the amount of state tax revenue which will be foregone for each application if the area is designated as a zone.

On or before September 1 of each year, the commissioner shall submit to the legislative advisory commission a list of the areas eligible for designation as enterprise zones, along with his recommendations for designation and supporting documentation. In making recommendations for designation, the commissioner shall consider and evaluate the applications pursuant to the following criteria:

(a) the pervasiveness of poverty, unemployment, and general distress in the area;

(b) the extent of chronic abandonment, deterioration or reduction in value of commercial, industrial or residential structures in the area and the extent of property tax arrearages in the area;

(h) other relevant factors which he specifies in his recommendations.

The commissioner shall submit a separate list of the areas entitled to designation as enterprise zones under section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), clauses (2) and (3), along with his recommendations for the amount of funds to be allocated to each area.

Subd. 5. [LAC RECOMMENDATIONS.] On or before September 15, the legislative advisory commission shall submit to the commissioner its advisory recommendations regarding the designation of enterprise zones. By September 30 of each year the commissioner shall make the final designation of the areas as enterprise zones, pursuant to section 273.1312, subdivision 2. In making the designation, the commissioner may make modifications in the design of or limitations on the tax reductions contained in the application necessary because of the funding limitations under subdivision 8.

Subd. 6. [LOCAL CONTRIBUTION.] No area may be designated as an enterprise zone unless the municipality agrees to make a qualifying local contribution in the form of (a) a property tax reduction for employment property as provided by section 273.1313 for any business qualifying for a state tax reduction pursuant to this section, or (b) an equivalent local contribution or investment out of other municipal funds, but excluding any special federal grants or loans. If the local contribution is to be used to fund additional reductions in state taxes, the commissioner and the governing body of the municipality shall enter an agreement for timely payment to the state to reimburse the state for the amount of tax revenue foregone as a result.

Subd. 7. [LIMITATIONS; NUMBER OF DESIGNATIONS.] (a) In each of the years 1983 and 1984, the commissioner shall designate at least three but not more than six areas as enterprise zones. No designations shall be made after December 31, 1984.

(b) No more than one area may be designated as an enterprise zone in any county, except that two areas may be designated in a county containing a city of the first class.

(c) No more than one area in a congressional district may be designated as an enterprise zone in any calendar year.

This subdivision shall not apply to enterprise zones designated pursuant to section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), clauses (2) or (3).

Subd. 8. [FUNDING LIMITATIONS.] (a) $35,000,000 is appropriated to the commissioner of revenue from the general fund for the purpose of funding the tax reductions authorized pursuant to designations of enterprise zones under section 273.1312 and this section. $10,000,000 of the total appropriation is the maximum amount which may be authorized by the commissioner for tax reductions pursuant to subdivision 9 that will reduce tax revenues which otherwise would have been received during fiscal years 1984 and 1985. The commissioner shall allocate to enterprise zones designated under section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), clause (3), an amount not less than the total appropriation multiplied by .9 and multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of zones designated under section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), clause (3), and the denominator of which is the maximum number of enterprise zones which may be designated for the year including those designated under section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), clause (3) during any year and the funds shall be allocated among such zones on a per capita basis. Upon designation of an enterprise zone the commissioner shall certify the total amount available for tax reductions in the zone for its duration. The amount certified shall reduce the amount available for tax reductions in other enterprise zones. If subsequent estimates indicate or actual experience shows that the approved tax reductions will result in amounts of tax reductions in excess of the amount certified, the commissioner shall implement a plan to reduce the available tax reductions in the zone to an amount within the sum certified. If subsequent estimates indicate or actual experience shows that the approved tax reductions will result in amounts of tax reductions below the amount certified, the difference shall be available for certification in other zones or used in connection with an amended plan of tax reductions for the zone as the commissioner determines appropriate. If the tax reductions authorized result in reduced revenues for a dedicated fund, the commissioner of finance shall transfer equivalent amounts to the dedicated fund from the general fund as necessary.

(b) The appropriation pursuant to paragraph (a) shall not cancel. The commissioner of finance shall reduce the amount of the appropriation based upon information supplied by the commissioner of revenue that the tax reductions authorized for enterprise zones have or are estimated to have resulted in reduced state tax collections.

Subd. 9. [AUTHORIZED FORMS OF STATE TAX REDUCTIONS.] (a) The following types of tax reductions may be approved by the commissioner for businesses located in an enterprise zone:

(1) An exemption from the general sales tax imposed by chapter 297A for purchases of construction materials or equipment for use in the zone;

(2) A refundable credit against the income tax of an employer for workers employed in the zone, other than workers employed in construction, up to a maximum of $1,500 per employee;

(3) An income tax credit for a percentage of the cost of debt financing to construct new facilities in the zone;

(4) A state paid property tax credit for a portion of the property taxes paid by a new commercial or industrial facility or the additional property taxes paid by an expansion of an existing commercial or industrial facility in the zone.

(b) The municipality shall specify in its application for designation the types of tax reductions it seeks to be made available in the zone and the percentage rates and other appropriate limitations on the reductions.

(c) Upon designation of an enterprise zone and approval by the commissioner of the tax reductions to be made available therein, the commissioner of revenue shall take the steps necessary to implement the tax reductions.

(d) The tax reductions provided by this subdivision shall not apply to any facility described in section 103(b)(6)(O) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through January 15, 1983, or to any regulated public utility.

(e) The commissioner shall approve tax reductions authorized by paragraph (a) within an enterprise zone designated pursuant to section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), clause (3), only after the governing body of a city designated as an enterprise zone has designated a specific portion or the city not in excess of 400 acres in which the tax reductions may be provided.

(f) In addition to the tax reductions authorized by paragraph (a), for an enterprise zone designated under section 273.1312, subdivision 4, paragraph (c), clause (3), the following types of tax reductions may be approved:

(1) A credit against income tax for workers employed in the zone up to a maximum of $1,000 per employee; or

(2) A state paid property tax credit for a portion of the property taxes paid by a commercial or industrial facility located in the zone.

(g) Each tax reduction provided to a business pursuant to this subdivision shall terminate not longer than five years after the effective date of the tax reduction for the business.

Subd. 10. [RECAPTURE.] Any business which receives tax reductions authorized by subdivision 9 and which ceases to operate its facility located within the enterprise zone within two years after the expiration of the tax reductions shall repay the amount of the tax reduction pursuant to the following schedule:

Termination of operations	Repayment Portion
Less than 6 months	100 percent
6 months or more but less than 12 months	75 percent
12 months or more but less than 18 months	50 percent
18 months or more but less than 24 months	25 percent

Subd. 11. [DEVELOPMENT AND REDEVELOPMENT POWERS.] Notwithstanding any contrary provision of law or charter, any city which contains an enterprise zone or which has been designated as an enterprise zone may, in addition to its other powers and without limiting them, exercise the powers granted to a governmental subdivision by chapters 458, 462, and 472. Section 458.192, subdivision 14, shall apply to the city in the exercise of the powers granted pursuant to this section. It may exercise the powers assigned to redevelopment agencies pursuant to chapter 474, without limitation to further the purposes of sections 458.09 to 458.1991, 462.411 to 462.705, and chapters 472 and 472A. It may exercise the powers set forth in sections 458.09 to 458.1991, 462.411 to 462.705, and chapters 472 and 472A, without limitation to further the purposes and policies set forth in chapter 474. It may exercise the powers granted by this subdivision and any other development or redevelopment powers authorized by other laws, including chapters 472A and 474, independently or in conjunction with each other as though all the powers had been granted to a single entity. Any project undertaken to accomplish the purposes of chapter 462 that qualifies as single-family housing under section 462C.02, subdivision 4, shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 462C.

The authorization for a city to exercise powers pursuant to this subdivision shall terminate upon the expiration of the designation of the enterprise zone provided that the powers granted by this subdivision may be exercised after that date with respect to any project, program, or activity commenced or established prior to that date.

Subd. 12. [TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE.] The commissioner shall establish a mechanism for providing and shall provide technical assistance to small municipalities seeking designation of an area as an enterprise zone under this section and section 273.1312. For purposes of this subdivision, a small municipality means a municipality with a population of 10,000 or less.

Subd. 13. [ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES ACT.] The provisions of chapter 14 shall not apply to designation of enterprise zones pursuant to this section or section 273.1312.

Subd. 14. [FEDERAL DESIGNATIONS.] The commissioner may accept applications and may at any time grant a contingent designation of area as an enterprise zone for purposes of seeking a designation of the area as a federal enterprise zone. For purposes of the designations, the commissioner may waive any of the requirements or limitations on designations contained in this section. If the contingent designation would require funding in excess of the amount available pursuant to subdivision 8, the commissioner shall inform the members of the legislative advisory commission and shall submit a request for the necessary funding to the tax and appropriations committees of the legislature.

Sec. 11. [INSTRUCTION TO REVISOR.]

If the department of energy, planning, and development no longer exists as presently constituted, "commissioner" as defined in section 273.1312 and section 10 means the successor to the responsibilities of the economic development division of that department. The revisor of statutes shall change the definition as appropriate in Minnesota Statutes 1984, and subsequent editions.

Sec. 16. [290.069] [SMALL BUSINESS INVESTMENT CREDITS.]

Subdivision 1. [DEFINITIONS.] (a) "Small business assistance office" means a nonprofit corporation which is formed under chapter 317, is an exempt organization under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, and satisfies the following conditions:

(1) The primary purpose of the corporation is to aid in the formation of new businesses which create jobs in the state by training or providing other direct assistance to entrepreneurs, managers, inventors, and other individuals in the development, financing, and operation of qualified small businesses.

(2) The corporation provides audited financial statements to all contributors and the commissioner of energy, planning, and development within 90 days following the close of the corporation's fiscal year.

(3) The corporation employs, at least, two full-time professional employees or the equivalent.

(4) The corporation is not engaged in providing financing or primarily engaged in arranging financing for businesses.

(5) The commissioner of energy, planning and development certifies that the corporation satisfies the requirements of this paragraph for the calendar year.

(b) "Technology" means a proprietary process, formula, pattern, device, or compilation of scientific or technical information unless it

(1) is in the public domain; or

(2) cannot be accurately valued.

(c) "Controlled group of corporations" means the controlled group of corporations as defined in section 1563 of the Internal Revenue Code, and if the corporation is part of a unitary business, includes the corporations or entities constituting the unitary business which are not in the controlled group of corporations as defined in section 1563.

(d) An "innovation center public corporation" is a non-profit public corporation located at a state university in Minnesota that has the purpose of assisting, encouraging, developing, and advancing the high technology small business prosperity and economic welfare of the state.

(e) The "Internal Revenue Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through January 15, 1983.

Subd. 2. [TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER CREDIT.] A credit may be claimed against the taxes imposed by this chapter in an amount equal to 30 percent of the net value of the technology transferred to a qualified small business if the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) The commissioner certifies that the technology has the value claimed by the transferor taxpayer.

(b) The transferor taxpayer is the exclusive and undisputed owner of the technology at the time the transfer is made.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (h), the transferor retains no proprietary or financial interest in the technology subsequent to its transfer to the qualified small business and no credit is claimed for the transfer of the technology in a prior or subsequent taxable year, except pursuant to the carryover provisions of subdivision 5.

(d) The credit shall apply only to the first $1,000,000 of the net value of the technology transferred during the taxable year. The value of the technology shall not exceed the total qualified research expenses, as defined in section 290.068, subdivision 2, expended by the transferor to create or develop the technology. For purposes of this clause, "net value" means the total value of the technology less any payments received from the transferee and less the value of any equity interest in the transferee received by the transferor in exchange for the technology. For purposes of determining the value of the equity interest, the total value of the transferee shall be deemed to be not less than the value of the technology transferred, less any cash payment made to the transferor.

(e) The taxpayer has not deducted the value of the transferred property from income under any other provisions of this chapter, except that the costs of developing the technology may have been deducted as a business expense or depreciated.

(f) The transferee business entity may not be a subsidiary or affiliate of the transferor taxpayer.

(g) The transferee makes a substantial investment in acquiring or developing the technology. The requirements of this clause are satisfied if (1) transferee pays the transferor an amount equal to 20 percent of the value of the technology in return for acquisition of the rights to the technology, or if (2) the transferee expends an equivalent amount for equipment, materials, wages, or other direct costs to develop, produce, or otherwise use the technology. The requirements of this paragraph may not be satisfied by granting the transferor an equity interest as provided by paragraph (h).

(h) The transferor may receive in exchange for the transfer of the technology an equity interest in the transferee, but this interest may not exceed 25 percent of the capital interest, if the transferee is a partnership, or 25 percent in value of the outstanding stock, if the transferee is a corporation. The transferor's basis in the equity interest shall be reduced by the amount of the credits received pursuant to this subdivision. The transferor may not deduct any loss realized on the sale or exchange of the equity interest.

The commissioner may require that the taxpayer obtain an appraisal of the value of the transferred technology by a reliable, expert third party. The commissioner may promulgate administrative rules for appraising the value of transferred technology.

Subd. 3. [CONTRIBUTION CREDIT.] A credit shall be allowed against the taxes imposed by this chapter in an amount equal to 50 percent of the first $50,000 of contributions made during the taxable year to a small business assistance office or to an innovation center public corporation. No credit shall be allowed for any contributions deducted pursuant to any other provision of this chapter.

Subd. 4. [EQUITY INVESTMENT CREDIT.] (a) A credit shall be allowed against the tax imposed by this chapter for the taxable year in an amount equal to 30 percent of the net investment in excess of $25,000 in the equity stock of a qualified small business. The maximum amount of the credit for a taxable year may not exceed $75,000. For purposes of this credit the following limitations apply:

(1) Equity stock shall not include any security which provides for fixed or variable interest payments.

(2) The taxpayer and any related persons may not own more than 49 percent of the value of any class of stock. For purposes of this paragraph, a person is a related person to another person if (i) the relationship between the persons would result in a disallowance of losses under section 267 or 707(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 or (ii) the persons are members of the same controlled group of corporations. The restrictions provided by this subdivision shall apply for a three year period beginning on the date the stock is purchased. If the taxpayer or a related person acquires more than 49 percent of the value of any class of stock after the allowance of a credit under this subdivision and prior to the end of the three year period, the taxpayer's tax for the taxable year in which the credit was allowed shall be increased by the amount of the credit previously claimed.

(3) The credit shall not exceed 75 percent of the taxpayer's tax liability computed after the subtraction of all credits, other than the credit provided in this subdivision.

(b) If the principal place of business of the qualified small business is located in an enterprise zone designated pursuant to section 273.1312, $10,000 shall be substituted for $25,000 and $100,000 for $75,000 in paragraph (a).

Subd. 5. [LIMITATIONS; OTHER CONDITIONS.] The provisions of section 290.068, subdivisions 3, clause (a); 4; and 5 shall apply to the sum of the credits which this section allows, except that no carryback shall be allowed. The carryover provisions of section 290.068, subdivision 3, clause (b), shall apply to the sum of the credits allowed by this section except that the term "research credit" or "research and experimental expenditure credit" shall include the credits authorized by subdivisions 2 to 4 of this section. The credits allowed by subdivisions 2 and 3 shall only be available to corporations and banks whose tax is computed pursuant to section 290.06, subdivision 1.

The maximum limitations on the amount of credits pursuant to subdivisions 2 and 3 shall be determined by aggregating together the credits of all the corporations in the controlled group of corporations with the taxpayer. In order to facilitate compliance with and enforcement of this provision the commissioner may require the taxpayer to claim the credit on a combined report of the unitary business or to file a copy of the consolidated federal return with the state return or both.

Subd. 6. [REPEALER.] This section is repealed effective for contributions made to a small business office or to an innovation center public corporation as provided in subdivision 3 and for technology transferred as described in subdivision 2 in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1985, and for investments made as described in subdivision 4 in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1986.

Sec. 17. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.08, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 26. [SMALL BUSINESS PARTICIPATING DEBENTURE INTEREST.] Gross income does not include up to $5,000 of amounts paid to the taxpayer as interest and amounts paid to the taxpayer as a share of earnings on a small business participating debenture, as defined in section 14, during a taxable year, except that only the following percentages of the amounts paid as the distribution of a share of earnings are deductible:

(1) 100 percent of amounts paid not more than one year after issuance of the small business participating debenture;

(2) 75 percent of amounts paid more than one year but not more than five years after issuance of the small business participating debenture; and

(3) 50 percent of amounts paid more than five years but not more than ten years after issuance of the small business participating debenture.

Sec. 18. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.09, subdivision 4, is amended to read:

If the taxpayer's foreign tax credit consists of both foreign taxes deemed paid and foreign taxes actually paid or withheld, it will be conclusively presumed that foreign taxes deemed paid were first used by the taxpayer in its foreign tax credit. Minnesota gross income shall include the amount of foreign tax paid which had been allowed as a deduction in a previous year, provided such foreign tax is later allowed as a credit against federal income tax.~~

Taxes imposed upon a shareholder's interest in a corporation which are paid by the corporation without reimbursement from the shareholder shall be deductible only by such corporation.

Property taxes shall be allowed as a deduction to the same taxpayer and in the same manner as provided in section 164 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, notwithstanding the provisions of section 272.31.

Such a trust and its shareholders and beneficiaries shall be subject to all of the provisions of sections 857 and 858 of the Code which are applicable under this chapter, in determining their respective taxable net incomes, provided that the amount determined and available for the alternative tax under section 857(b) (3) (A) (ii) of the Code shall be included in gross income ~~subject to the deduction provided by section 290.16, subdivision 4.~~

Sec. 20. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.091, is amended to read:

In addition to all other taxes imposed by this chapter there is hereby imposed, a tax which, in the case of a resident individual, shall be equal to 40 percent of the amount of the taxpayer's minimum tax liability for tax preference items pursuant to the provisions of sections 55 to 58 and 443(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended through December 31, 1981. For purposes of the tax imposed by this section, the following modifications shall be made:

(1) Capital gain as defined in section 57(a) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not include that portion of any gain occasioned by sale, transfer or the granting of a perpetual easement pursuant to any eminent domain proceeding or threat thereof as described in section 290.13, subdivision 5. (6) The capital gain preference item shall be reduced where the gain would be modified because some or all of the assets have a higher basis for Minnesota purposes than for federal purposes.

(7) In the case of a nonresident individual, or an estate or trust, with a net operating loss that is a larger amount for Minnesota than for federal, the capital gain preference item shall be reduced to the extent it was reduced in the allowance of the net operating loss.

In the case of a resident individual, having preference items which could not be taken to reduce income from sources outside the state pursuant to section 290.17, subdivision 1, or any other taxpayer the tax shall equal 40 percent of that federal liability, multiplied by a fraction the numerator of which is the amount of the taxpayer's preference item income allocated to this state pursuant to the provisions of sections 290.17 to 290.20, and the denominator of which is the taxpayer's total preference item income for federal purposes.

The tax benefit rule contained in section 58(h) of the Internal Revenue Code is applied to the Minnesota minimum tax only to the extent that it determines if there is a federal minimum tax. No separate tax benefit rule is allowable for the Minnesota minimum tax.

For property placed in service after December 31, 1980, the preference items contained in section 57 (a)(12) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981, shall not apply.

For purposes of this subdivision, "qualified security" means a security as defined in section 165(g)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through January 15, 1983, if (a) the security represents or is convertible to an equity interest in the issuing corporation or business entity, (b) the security or other securities issued by the same corporation or entity were not listed on the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange, or the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation system within a one year period of the date on which the taxpayer acquired the security, and (c) the security was not issued by a corporation or entity in which the taxpayer owned more than 60 percent of the combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote.

Sec. 2. [268.61] [PURPOSE.]

The prolonged recession has caused hardship for thousands of people in the state and has undermined the strength of Minnesota's economy. To address the economic consequences, the program seeks to provide for work that creates lasting benefits to the state as well as economic development through incentives for new job creation in the private sector. ARTICLE 14: LIMITED EQUITY COOPERATIVES

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 273.11, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

Subdivision 1. [GENERALLY.] Except as provided in subdivisions 6 and 7, and 8 or section 273.17, subdivision 1, all property shall be valued at its market value. The market value as determined pursuant to this section shall be stated such that any amount under $100 is rounded up to $100 and any amount exceeding $100 shall be rounded to the nearest $100. In estimating and determining such value, the assessor shall not adopt a lower or different standard of value because the same is to serve as a basis of taxation, nor shall he adopt as a criterion of value the price for which such property would sell at auction or at a forced sale, or in the aggregate with all the property in the town or district; but he shall value each article or description of property by itself, and at such sum or price as he believes the same to be fairly worth in money. In assessing any tract or lot of real property, the value of the land, exclusive of structures and improvements, shall be determined, and also the value of all structures and improvements thereon, and the aggregate value of the property, including all structures and improvements, excluding the value of crops growing upon cultivated land. In valuing real property upon which there is a mine or quarry, it shall be valued at such price as such property, including the mine or quarry, would sell for a fair, voluntary sale, for cash. In valuing real property which is vacant, the fact that such property is platted shall not be taken into account. An individual lot of such platted property shall not be assessed in excess of the assessment of the land as if it were unplatted until the lot is improved with a permanent improvement all or a portion of which is located upon the lot, or for a period of three years after final approval of said plat whichever is shorter. When a lot is sold or construction begun, the assessed value of that lot or any single contiguous lot fronting on the same street shall be eligible for reassessment. All property, or the use thereof, which is taxable under sections 272.01, subdivision 2, or 273.19, shall be valued at the market value of such property and not at the value of a leasehold estate in such property, or at some lesser value than its market value.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 273.11, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 8. [LIMITED EQUITY COOPERATIVE APARTMENTS.] For the purposes of this subdivision, the terms defined in this subdivision have the meanings given them.

A "limited equity cooperative" is a corporation organized under Minnesota Statutes, chapter 308, which has as its primary purpose the provision of housing and related services to its members and which meets the following requirements:

(a) The articles of incorporation set the sale price of occupancy entitling cooperative shares or memberships at no more than a transfer value determined as provided in the articles. That value may not exceed the sum of the following:

(1) the consideration paid for the membership or shares by the first occupant of the unit, as shown in the records of the corporation;

(2) the fair market value, as shown in the records of the corporation, of any improvements to the real property that were installed at the sole expense of the member with the prior approval of the board of directors;

(3) accumulated interest, or an inflation allowance not to exceed the greater of a ten percent annual noncompounded increase on the consideration paid for the membership or share by the first occupant of the unit, or the amount that would have been paid on that consideration if interest had been paid on it at the rate of the percentage increase in the revised consumer price index for all urban consumers for the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area prepared by the United States Department of Labor, provided that the amount determined pursuant to this clause may not exceed $500 for each year or fraction of a year the membership or share was owned; plus

(4) real property capital contributions shown in the records of the corporation to have been paid by the transferor member and previous holders of the same membership, or of separate memberships that had entitled occupancy to the unit of the member involved. These contributions include contributions to a corporate reserve account the use of which is restricted to real property improvements or acquisitions, contributions to the corporation which are used for real property improvements or acquisitions, and the amount of principal amortized by the corporation on its indebtedness due to the financing of real property acquisition or improvement or the averaging of principal paid by the corporation over the term of its real property related indebtedness.

(b) The articles of incorporation require that the board of directors limit the purchase price of stock or membership interests for new member-occupants or resident shareholders to an amount which does not exceed the transfer value for the membership or stock as defined in clause (a).

(c) The articles of incorporation require that the total distribution out of capital to a member shall not exceed that transfer value.

(d) The articles of incorporation require that upon liquidation of the corporation any assets remaining after retirement of corporate debts and distribution to members will be conveyed to a charitable organization described in section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1982, or a public agency.

(e) The articles of incorporation stipulate that the charitable organization or public agency has an irrevocable right to enforce the provisions of clauses (a) to (d).

A "limited equity cooperative apartment" is a dwelling unit owned or leased by a limited equity cooperative. If the dwelling unit is leased by the cooperative the lease agreement must meet the conditions for a cooperative lease stated in Minnesota Statutes, section 273.133, subdivision 3.

"Occupancy entitling cooperative share or membership" is the ownership interest in a cooperative organization which entitles the holder to an exclusive right to occupy a dwelling unit owned or leased by the cooperative.

The value of a limited equity cooperative apartment shall be set at the lesser of its market value or the value determined on the basis of income of a comparable apartment operated on a rental basis. When determining value on the basis of income, the assessor shall use a capitalization rate equal to the maximum FHA interest rate for multifamily mortgage loans current at the time of assessment. If a cooperative fails to operate in accordance with the provisions of clauses (a) to (d), the property shall be subject to additional property taxes in the amount of the difference between the taxes determined in accordance with this subdivision for the last ten years that the property had been assessed pursuant to this subdivision and the amount that would have been paid if the provisions of this subdivision had not applied to it. The additional taxes, plus interest at the rate specified in section 549.09, shall be extended against the property on the tax list for the current year.

Sec. 3. [EFFECTIVE DATE.]

Sections 1 and 2 are effective for taxes levied in 1983, payable in 1984 and thereafter.

ARTICLE 15: AVIATION GASOLINE

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 296.02, subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. [GASOLINE TAX IMPOSED FOR AVIATION USE.] Subject to the provisions of section 296.18, subdivision 4, there is hereby imposed an excise tax, at the same rate per gallon as the gasoline excise tax, of five cents per gallon on all aviation gasoline received, sold, stored, or withdrawn from storage in this state. This tax shall be payable at the times, in the manner, and by persons specified in sections 296.01 to 296.27.

Sec. 2. [EFFECTIVE DATE.]

Subd. 6. It is a misdemeanor for any operator to remove aggregate material from a pit, quarry, or deposit unless all taxes due for the previous reporting period have been paid or objections thereto have been filed pursuant to subdivision 4.

(4) The commissioner of insurance may assess all insurers licensed pursuant to section 60A.06, subdivision 1, clause (13) an amount sufficient to fully fund the obligations of the assigned risk plan, if the commissioner of insurance determines that the assets of the assigned risk plan are insufficient to meet its obligations. "Sec. 10. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290A.04, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 2g. A claimant who owns a homestead which is classified pursuant to section 273.13, subdivision 6, or which is agricultural land classified as a class 3cc homestead under section 273.13, subdivision 7, shall be allowed an additional refund if the estimated market value of the homestead for taxes assessed in 1983 for taxes payable in 1984 is less than the estimated market value of the homestead for taxes assessed in 1982 for taxes payable in 1983. The amount of the additional refund is calculated as follows:

(a) divide the amount by which the estimated market value of the homestead for taxes assessed in 1982 payable in 1983 exceeds the estimated market value of the homestead for taxes assessed in 1983 payable in 1984 by the estimated market value for taxes assessed in 1982 payable in 1983;

(b) multiply the percentage obtained in clause (a) by the net property taxes payable on the homestead in 1984.

The product of the calculation is the amount of the additional refund.

In computing the difference between the estimated market value of the homestead for taxes assessed in 1983 payable in 1984 and the estimated market value of the homestead for taxes assessed in 1982 payable in 1983, the market value of any improvements made to the property and first included in the estimated market value of the homestead for taxes assessed in 1983 payable in 1984 shall be disregarded.

For purposes of this subdivision, "net property taxes payable" means property taxes payable after reductions made pursuant to sections 273.13, subdivision 6, or 7; 273.115, subdivision 1; 273.116, subdivision 1; 124.2137; 273.135; and 273.1391; and after the deduction of other property tax refund amounts for which the claimant qualifies pursuant to this chapter.

In addition to proofs required pursuant to this chapter, each claimant under this subdivision shall file with the property tax refund return a copy of the property tax statement for taxes payable in the preceding year or other documents required by the commissioner.

This additional refund applies only to claims based on property taxes payable in 1984."

Subd. 2. [FEDERAL INCOME TAX PAYMENTS AND REFUNDS.] The adjusted gross income shall be computed by deducting from the gross income assignable to this state under section 290.17, the deduction for allowable federal income taxes determined under the provisions of sections 290.09, subdivision 4, 290.10 (8), (9) or (10), and 290.18.

This deduction shall be allowed to individuals, estates, or trusts (i) for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1980 in the taxable year to which the liability applies. Such liability includes the portion of self-employment tax allowed under section 290.10, clause (8). The self-employment tax must be deducted by the person who is deriving the income. ~~When the federal tax liability is joint and several under the computation of a joint federal return of husband and wife, the federal tax liability must be split between the spouses in the same ratio that the federal adjusted gross income of that spouse bears to the total federal adjusted gross income. For purposes of the preceding sentence, “federal adjusted gross income” includes the ordinary income portion of a lump sum distribution as defined in section 402(e) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1981.~~

(ii) taxes paid for a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1981 shall be allowed as follows:

(1) Those taxes paid in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1981, shall be claimed in the year in which the payment was made.

(2) Those paid in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1980 shall be divided and deducted in equal installments reflected by the yearly periods beginning with the first day of the taxable year in which the payment was made and ending December 31, 1986.

(iii) In the case of a person who was self employed during all or a portion of the taxable year, the federal income tax liability for purposes of this section shall be increased by the self-employment tax allowed under section 290.10, clause (8).

(iv) If a taxpayer's federal tax liability is eventually not paid by reason of compromise, discharge, or court order, the deduction allowed pursuant to this subdivision shall be disallowed for the taxable year in which the liability was accrued.

(v) In the event a federal tax liability for a taxable year commencing after December 31, 1980 is increased, decreased or modified, and such increase, decrease or modification has resulted in a change in the amount of Minnesota income tax in the year to which such increase, decrease or modification is attributable, the taxpayer's deduction under this section shall be modified for such year.

(vi) If the readjustments required in (iv) or (v) are for taxes reflected in the transition rule described in (ii)(2), the readjustment shall be made equally to the remaining installments and if a reduction to such installments is required under this readjustment which exceeds the total of all remaining installments, the remaining installments will be reduced to zero and the excess included in income as a federal income tax refund.

(vii) Refunds which are not involved with any readjustments under the transition rule shall be included in income under section 290.01, subdivision 20a, clause (6) if it is from a year beginning before January 1, 1981.

(viii) Refunds of taxes for years beginning after December 31, 1980, shall be used to adjust the deduction in the taxable year of the liability unless that year is closed by statute and no other adjustments are to be required or allowable in which case such refund shall be reportable in the year received."

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 290.06, subdivision 14, is amended to read:

Subd. 14. [RESIDENTIAL ENERGY CREDIT.] A credit of 20 percent of the first $10,000 of renewable energy source expenditures, including the expenditures described in clauses (a), (b) and (d) if made by an individual taxpayer on a Minnesota building of six dwelling units or less and expenditures for biomass conversion equipment described in clause (c), and a credit of 15 percent of the first $2,000 of energy conservation expenditures made by a taxpayer and installed in or on a dwelling unit located in Minnesota, may be deducted from the tax due under this chapter for the taxable year in which the expenditures were made. For purposes of this subdivision, the term “building” shall include a condominium or townhouse used by the taxpayer as a residence. In the case of qualifying expenditures incurred in connection with a building under construction by a contractor, the credit shall be deducted from the tax liability of the first individual to purchase the building for use as a principal residence or for residential rental purposes; the contractor shall not be eligible for the credit given pursuant to this subdivision for that expenditure.

A “renewable energy source expenditure” which qualifies shall include:

(a) Expenditures which qualify for the federal renewable energy source credit, pursuant to Section 44C of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, ~~1981~~ 1982, and any regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, provided that, after December 31, 1980, any solar collector included in the claimed expenditure is certified by the commissioner of energy, planning and development. A solar collector is a device designed to absorb incident solar radiation, convert it to thermal energy, and transfer the thermal energy to a fluid passing through or in contact with the device. “Solar collector” shall not include passive solar energy systems as defined in clause (d);

(b) Expenditures for earth sheltered dwelling units. For purposes of this credit, an “earth sheltered dwelling unit” shall mean a structure which complies with applicable building standards and which is constructed so that:

(1) 80 percent or more of the roof area is covered with a minimum depth of 12 inches of earth; and

(2) 50 percent or more of the wall area is covered with a minimum depth of 12 inches of earth; and

(3) Those portions of the structure not insulated with a minimum of seven feet of earth shall have additional insulation;

(c) Expenditures for biomass conversion equipment located in Minnesota which produces ethanol, methane or methanol for use as a gaseous or as a liquid fuel which is not offered for sale; and

(d) Expenditures for passive solar energy systems. For purposes of this credit, a "passive solar energy system" is defined to include systems which utilize elements of the building and its operable components to heat or cool a building with the sun's energy by means of conduction, convection, radiation, or evaporation. A passive system shall include:

(1) Collection aperture, including glazing installed in south facing walls and roofs; and

(2) Storage element, including thermal mass in the form of water, masonry, rock, concrete, or other mediums which is designed to store heat collected from solar radiation.

A passive system may include either or both:

(1) Control and distribution element, including fans, louvers, and air ducts;
or

(2) Retention element, including movable insulation used to minimize heat loss caused by nocturnal radiation through areas used for direct solar heat gain during daylight hours.

Eligible passive expenditures shall be for equipment, materials or devices that are an integral part of the components listed above and essential to the functioning of a passive design which qualifies pursuant to rules adopted by the commissioner of revenue in cooperation with the commissioner of energy, planning and development. Expenditures for equipment, materials, or devices which are a part of the normal heating, cooling, or insulation system of a building are not eligible for the credit.

An "energy conservation expenditure" is an expenditure which qualifies for the federal energy conservation credit pursuant to section 44C of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, 1982, and any regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

If a credit for a renewable energy source expenditure was allowed to a taxpayer under this subdivision for any prior taxable year, the dollar amount of the maximum renewable energy source expenditure for which a taxpayer may qualify for a credit under this subdivision in subsequent years shall be $10,000 reduced by the amount of renewable energy source expenditures which a credit was claimed pursuant to this subdivision in prior years. A taxpayer shall never be allowed to claim more than $10,000 of expenditures during the duration of the renewable energy credit.

If a credit for an energy conservation expenditure was allowed to a taxpayer under this subdivision for any prior taxable year, the dollar amount of the maximum energy conservation expenditure for which a taxpayer may qualify for a credit under this subdivision in subsequent years shall be $2,000 reduced by the amount of energy conservation expenditures which a credit was claimed pursuant to this subdivision in prior years. A taxpayer shall never be allowed to claim more than $2,000 of expenditures during the duration of the energy conservation credit.

The A credit provided in this subdivision shall not be allowed in a taxable year if the amount sum of the credit credits would be less than $10.

If ~~the~~ a credit allowable under this subdivision exceeds the amount of tax due in a taxable year, the excess credit shall not be refunded but may be carried forward to the succeeding taxable year and added to the credit allowable for that year. No amount may be carried forward to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1987.

A shareholder in a family farm corporation and each partner in a partnership operating a family farm shall be eligible for the ~~credit~~ credits provided by this subdivision in the same manner and to the same extent allowed a joint owner of property under section 44C (d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, ~~1981~~ 1982. "Family farm corporation" and "family farm" have the meanings given in section 500.24.

The ~~credit~~ credits provided in this subdivision ~~is~~ are subject to the provisions of Section 44C, (c) (7) and (10), (d) (1) to (3), and (e), of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended through December 31, ~~1981~~ 1982, and any regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

The commissioner of revenue in cooperation with the commissioner of energy, planning and development shall adopt rules establishing additional qualifications and definitions for the credits provided in this subdivision.

Notwithstanding section 290.61, the commissioner of revenue may request the commissioner of energy, planning and development to assist in the review and auditing of the information furnished by the taxpayer for purposes of claiming this credit. The provisions of section 290.61 shall apply to employees of the department of energy, planning and development who receive information furnished by a taxpayer for purposes of claiming this credit.

The commissioner of energy, planning and development shall adopt rules establishing the criteria for certification of solar collectors as required by clause (a). The criteria shall:

- (1) Specify the testing procedures to be used in the evaluation of solar collectors;
- (2) Establish minimum levels of collector quality for safety;
- (3) Provide a means to determine the maintainability and structural integrity of solar collectors;
- (4) Establish a system for evaluating and rating the thermal performance of solar collectors;
- (5) Specify the procedures to follow to obtain certification of a solar collector;
- (6) Conform to the maximum extent practicable to the solar collector certification requirements of other states which have adopted certification procedures; and
- (7) Allow for individual variation so as not to hamper the development of innovative solar collectors.

The commissioner of energy, planning and development may adopt temporary rules pursuant to sections 14.29 to 14.36 to establish this certification procedure.

~~This subdivision~~ The credit for renewable energy source expenditures is effective for expenditures made during taxable years beginning after December 31, 1978 and before January 1, 1986. The credit for energy conservation expenditures is effective for expenditures made in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1982, and before January 1, 1986."

Subd. 4. [INQUIRY INTO CHARGE.] (1) Consistent with clause (7), when a charge has been filed, the commissioner shall promptly inquire into the truth of the allegations of the charge. The commissioner shall make an immediate inquiry when necessary to prevent a charging party from suffering irreparable loss in the absence of immediate action. The commissioner shall also make an immediate inquiry when it appears that a charge is frivolous or without merit and shall dismiss those charges. On all other charges the commissioner shall make a determination as to whether or not there is probable cause to credit the allegation of unfair discriminatory practices, and

(2) If the commissioner determines after investigation that no probable cause exists to credit the allegations of the unfair discriminatory practice, the commissioner shall, within ten days of the determination, serve upon the charging party and respondent written notice of the determination. Within ten days after receipt of notice, the charging party may request in writing on forms prepared by the department that the commissioner reconsider his determination. The request shall contain a brief statement of the reasons for and new evidence in support of the request for reconsideration. At the time of submission of the request to the commissioner, the charging party shall deliver or mail to the respondent a copy of the request for reconsideration. The commissioner shall either reaffirm or reverse his determination of no probable cause within 20 days after receipt of the request for reconsideration, and he shall within ten days notify in writing the charging party and respondent of his decision to reaffirm or reverse.

A decision by the commissioner that no probable cause exists to credit the allegations of an unfair discriminatory practice shall not be appealed to ~~dis-~~

~~triet~~ the court of appeals pursuant to section 363.072 or sections 14.63 to 14.68.

(3) If the commissioner determines after investigation that probable cause exists to credit the allegations of unfair discriminatory practices, the commissioner shall serve on the respondent and his attorney if he is represented by counsel, by first class mail, a notice setting forth a short plain written statement of the alleged facts which support the finding of probable cause and an enumeration of the provisions of law allegedly violated. If the commissioner determines that attempts to eliminate the alleged unfair practices through conciliation pursuant to subdivision 5 have been or would be unsuccessful or unproductive, the commissioner shall issue a complaint and serve on the respondent, by registered or certified mail, a written notice of hearing together with a copy of the complaint, requiring the respondent to answer the allegations of the complaint at a hearing before a hearing examiner at a time and place specified in the notice, not less than ten days after service of said complaint. A copy of the notice shall be furnished to the charging party and the attorney general.

(4) If, at any time after the filing of a charge, the commissioner has reason to believe that a respondent has engaged in any unfair discriminatory practice, the commissioner may file a petition in the district court in a county in which the subject of the complaint occurs, or in a county in which a respondent resides or transacts business, seeking appropriate temporary relief against the respondent, pending final determination of proceedings under this chapter, including an order or decree restraining him from doing or procuring an act tending to render ineffectual an order the commissioner may enter with respect to the complaint. The court shall have power to grant temporary relief or a restraining order as it deems just and proper, but no relief or order extending beyond ten days shall be granted except by consent of the respondent or after hearing upon notice to the respondent and a finding by the court that there is reasonable cause to believe that the respondent has engaged in a discriminatory practice. Except as modified by this section, the Minnesota rules of civil procedure shall apply to an application, and the district court shall have authority to grant or deny the relief sought on conditions as it deems just and equitable. All hearings under this section shall be given precedence as nearly as practicable over all other pending civil actions.

(5) If a lessor, after he has engaged in a discriminatory practice defined in section 363.03, subdivision 2, clause (1), (a), leases or rents a dwelling unit to a person who has no knowledge of the practice or of the existence of a charge with respect to the practice, the lessor shall be liable for actual damages sustained by a person by reason of a final order as provided in this section requiring the person to be evicted from the dwelling unit.

(6) In any complaint issued under this section, the commissioner may seek relief for a class of individuals affected by an unfair discriminatory practice occurring on or after a date six months prior to the filing of the charge from which the complaint originates.

(7) The commissioner may adopt policies to determine the order in which charges are processed based on their particular social or legal significance, administrative convenience, difficulty of resolution, or other standard consistent with the provisions of this chapter.”

Sec. 219. [494.03] [OFFICERS; MEETINGS; NOTICE; QUORUM; PLACE.]

Subdivision 1. [CHAIRMAN.] The court of appeals judicial nominating commission shall have a chairman who shall be designated by the governor from among the permanent members of the commission. The chairman shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The chairman shall preside at all meetings of the commission. In the absence of the chairman, the commission shall choose a member to act as temporary chairman.

Subd. 2. [SECRETARY.] The commission shall choose one of its members as a secretary. It shall be the duty of the secretary to prepare and keep the minutes of all meetings. In the secretary's absence the commission shall choose a member to be acting secretary.

Subd. 3. [MEETINGS; NOTICE; QUORUM; PLACE.] Meetings of the commission may be called by the chairman or a majority of the members by written or telegraphic notice to the other members specifying the time and place of the meeting. The notice shall be mailed or sent at least five days before the time specified, except that a meeting may be called on shorter notice if the notice specifies that the meeting will be an emergency meeting. The meetings of the commission may be held without notice at any time or place whenever the meeting is one to which notice is waived by all members or whenever the commission at a previous meeting designated the time and place for the meeting. Notice of meeting may be waived by any member or members either before or after the meeting takes place. Attendance at a meeting by any member constitutes a waiver of notice by the member. A majority of the members of the commission constitutes a quorum. Meetings of the judicial nominating commission may be conducted anywhere in the state.

Sec. 220. [494.04] [JUDICIAL VACANCIES; PUBLIC NOTICE; NOMINATIONS.]

Subdivision 1. [JUDICIAL VACANCIES.] Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of judge of the court of appeals, or whenever a vacancy will occur on a specified future date, the governor shall give notice of the vacancy to the chairman of the court of appeals judicial nominating commission within five days. Within five days of giving notice to the chairman, the governor shall issue a public statement announcing the existence of the vacancy and shall appoint five special members to the court of appeals judicial nominating commission to serve until that vacancy is filled.

Subd. 2. [PUBLIC NOTICE.] Within five days of receiving notice from the governor of the existence of a judicial vacancy, the chairman of the court of appeals judicial nominating commission shall publish a notice in a legal newspaper of statewide circulation announcing the vacancy and stating that the commission will accept applications for the vacancy for a period of ten days following publication of the notice. Applications shall be filed with the chairman, whose address shall be included in the legal notice.

Subd. 3. [NOMINATIONS.] The chairman shall call a meeting of the commission to be held not less than ten nor more than 20 days after publication of the legal notice of the vacancy to consider applicants for the judicial vacancy.

The commission shall nominate not less than three nor more than five persons for the office which is vacant. Eleven votes of the nominating commission are required to nominate a person for a judicial vacancy in the court of appeals. Any persons nominated must have the qualifications prescribed by law.

In order to obtain the best qualified persons as nominees, the commission shall not limit its consideration of potential nominees to those persons who have submitted their applications to the commission. The commission may authorize one or more members of the commission to tender a nomination to any qualified person in order to ascertain his willingness to serve if nominated. A tender of nomination shall be subject to final action of the commission under the conditions prescribed in this section.

In order that a vacancy in the office of judge does not exist for an inordinate length of time, the commission shall conduct the business of selecting nominees for appointment to office and certifying them to the governor as promptly and expeditiously as possible, having due regard for the importance of selecting the best possible nominees. In no event shall the commission submit its nominations to the governor more than 30 days after the date a vacancy occurs, unless the governor permits an extension of time in writing.

If there are not at least three attorneys deemed qualified by the judicial nominating commission, the names of all applicants for the judgeship shall be transmitted to the governor by letter from the chairman of the judicial nominating commission.

Subd. 4. [CERTIFICATE OF NOMINATION.] When the commission has selected its nominees to fill a judicial vacancy on the court of appeals, the chairman and secretary of the commission shall execute a certificate of nomination identifying the nominees which shall be immediately transmitted to the governor.

Sec. 221. [494.05] [WITHDRAWAL OF NOMINATION; SUBSTITUTION OF NOMINEE; RESUBMISSION OF NOMINATIONS.]

After the court of appeals judicial nominating commission has nominated and submitted to the governor the required number of nominees for appointment to fill a vacancy in the office of judge of the court of appeals, and prior to the appointment of a successor to the office, any nomination may be withdrawn by the commission for any cause it deems to be of such a substantial nature as to affect the nominee's qualifications to hold the office, and the name of another nominee may be submitted for it by the commission.

If any nominee dies or requests the commission in writing to withdraw his name, the commission shall withdraw the nomination and substitute another nominee to replace him or her.

The action of the commission in withdrawing nominations may be taken at the same meetings at which nominations are made or at any later meeting called for that purpose. A certificate of withdrawal of nomination and a certificate of new nomination shall be signed on behalf of the commission by the chairman and the secretary and shall be immediately transmitted to the governor.

Sec. 222. [494.06] [APPOINTMENT BY GOVERNOR.]

Whenever the court of appeals judicial nominating commission has submitted nominations to the governor for appointment to fill a vacancy in the office of judge of the court of appeals, it shall be the duty of the governor to make the appointment within 30 days after the nominations are submitted. The governor is not required to make the appointment from the nominations submitted by the judicial nominating commission.

Sec. 223. [494.07] [VACANCIES WITHIN SIX MONTHS OF PRIOR APPOINTMENT.]

If a vacancy occurs in the office of judge of the court of appeals within six months after the governor has made an appointment to the court of appeals from among nominees certified to him by the court of appeals judicial nominating commission, the governor may appoint a person from the prior list of certified nominees to fill that vacancy without following the procedures set forth in sections 4 and 5.

Sec. 224. [494.08] [CONFIDENTIALITY.]

All data, documents, records, correspondence, and communications between members of judicial nominating commissions and other persons, including but not limited to other members of the commission, prospective candidates for judicial office, the governor, and members of the general public, are classified as confidential data on individuals within the meaning of section 13.02, subdivision 3.

Meetings of the court of appeals judicial nominating commission shall be exempt from the provisions of section 471.705. All matters discussed at the meetings, except the matters contained in the certificate of nomination, are confidential.

Sec. 225. [494.09] [PER DIEM; EXPENSES.]

Members of the court of appeals judicial nominating commission appointed by the governor and elected by members of the Minnesota state bar association shall be entitled to receive per diem at the rate of $35 per day from the state court administrator.

The chairman and the secretary of the commission shall be entitled to reimbursement by the state court administrator of actual expenses incurred for publication of legal notices of vacancies, copying, postage, and long distance telephone calls.

The sum of $10,000 is appropriated from the general fund to the state court administrator for payments of commission per diem and expenses as prescribed by section 179, and shall be available until June 30, 1985."

"(b) In subsequent years, the commissioner shall reimburse nursing home providers that are vendors in the medical assistance program for the rental use of their property. The "rent" is the amount of periodic payment which a renter might expect to pay for the right to the agreed use of the real estate and the equipment as it exists. "Real estate" means land improvements, buildings, and attached fixtures used directly for resident care. "Equipment" means the standard moveable resident care equipment and support service generally used in long-term care facilities.

(1) For the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984, the commissioner shall provide for the appraisal of each nursing home that is a medical assistance vendor by uniform standards, using the depreciated replacement cost method. The appraisal shall include the real estate and the equipment.

The commissioner shall provide for the reappraisal of a nursing home if the commissioner of health or the commissioner of public safety notifies the commissioner that an inspector has noticed deterioration over a period of at least six months of the real estate or equipment.

(2) The commissioner shall establish an investment per bed limitation on the value to be recognized of buildings, land improvements, and major moveable equipment and shall annually update the limitation to reflect changes in replacement costs.

(3) The base rent is the value determined by the appraisal under paragraph (a), limited by the investment per bed limitation established under paragraph (b).

(4) The per diem rent for the rate year July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985 shall be determined by multiplying the base rent by eight percent and dividing the result by 96 percent of the nursing home's certified capacity days. Each rate year after the rate year July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985, the commissioner shall apply an appropriate index to the per diem rent computed for the rate year July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985, not to exceed three percent per rate year.

A nursing home with a payment rate for property-related costs for the rate year July 1, 1983 to June 30, 1984 that is higher than its per diem rent for the same rate year shall receive its per diem rent for the rate year plus

(i) for the rate year July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985, 80 percent of the difference,

(ii) for the rate year July 1, 1985 to June 30, 1986, 60 percent of the difference,

(iii) for the rate year July 1, 1986 to June 30, 1987, 40 percent of the difference, and

(iv) for the rate year July 1, 1987 to June 30, 1988, 20 percent of the difference, between the per diem rent for the rate year July 1, 1983 to June 30, 1984 and the payment rate for property-related costs for that same rate year.

A nursing home with a payment rate for property-related costs for the rate year July 1, 1983 to June 30, 1984 that is lower than its per diem rent for that rate year shall receive that payment rate plus

(iv) for the rate year July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985, 20 percent of the difference,

(v) for the rate year July 1, 1985 to June 30, 1986, 40 percent of the difference,

(vi) for the rate year July 1, 1986 to June 30, 1987, 60 percent of the difference, and between that payment rate for property-related costs for the rate year July 1, 1983 to June 30, 1984 and the per diem rent for that rate year.

For each rate year from July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1988, the commissioner shall ensure that the total amount of per diem rent paid to nursing homes for each rate year does not exceed 100 percent of the total amount paid for property-related costs in the immediately preceding rate year and shall make rateable or other reductions in per diem rents if necessary to achieve that result.

For subsequent years, each nursing home shall receive its per diem rent as calculated under clauses (1) to (4)."

Page 22, lines 4, 8, 11, and 12, after "interim" insert "operating cost"

Page 22, line 16, after the period, insert "The commissioner shall establish the rent for newly-constructed beds."

"Subd. 6. [ADDITIONAL PROPERTY COST REIMBURSEMENT.] Facilities receiving, on June 30, 1984, reimbursement for allowable depreciation allowance, interest expenses, and earnings or investment allowances in excess of the rent computed pursuant to subdivision 3, paragraph (b), shall continue to receive reimbursement for those amounts, minus any retirements from depreciation schedules or reductions in actual interest expenses, until the rent exceeds those amounts. However, in no case shall the amount paid for in investment or earnings allowance exceed that amount received for those allowances on March 1, 1983. Payments made pursuant to this subdivision shall not be transferable and excess depreciation paid by Medical Assistance shall be recaptured."

Page 32, lines 4 and 5, delete "Research of property-related reimbursement systems 330,000"

Page 32, line 11, after the period, insert "$2,000,000 is appropriated from the general fund to the commissioner of public welfare for the biennium ending June 30, 1985 in order to provide for appraisal of each nursing home as required under section 12. To provide for this appraisal the commissioner shall contract with a nationally-recognized firm that is familiar with methods of appraisals for nursing homes, but shall specify terms designed to prevent actual conducting of the appraisals by individuals from the same geographic area in the state as the appraised nursing homes or by other individuals who might have conflicts of interest."

The county board may contract for developmental achievement services and transportation from a center which is licensed under the provisions of sections 245.781 to 245.813, 252.28, and 257.175, and in the board's opinion, best provides daytime developmental achievement services for mentally retarded and cerebral palsied persons within the appropriation and medical assistance resources made available for this purpose. Daytime developmental achievement services administered by the county board ~~shall~~ must comply with standards established by the commissioner pursuant to subdivision 2 and applicable federal regulations.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 252.28, is amended to read:

252.28 [COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WELFARE; DUTIES.]

Subdivision 1. [GENERAL SCOPE.] The commissioner of public welfare ~~may~~ shall determine, and shall redetermine biennially, the need, location, size, and program of public and private residential and day care facilities and services for mentally retarded children and adults.

Subd. 2. [RULES AND LICENSES.] The commissioner of public welfare shall:

(1) Establish uniform rules, regulations, and program standards for each type of residential and day facility or service for ~~more than four~~ mentally retarded persons, including state institutions under control of the commissioner and serving mentally retarded persons, and excluding mentally retarded persons residing with their families.

(2) Grant licenses according to the provisions of Laws 1976, chapter 243, sections 2 to 13.

Subd. 3. [NEW LICENSES; CONSIDERATIONS.] (1) No new license shall be granted pursuant to this section when the issuance of the license would substantially contribute to an excessive concentration of community residential facilities within any town, municipality, or county of the state.

(2) In determining whether a license shall be issued pursuant to this subdivision, the commissioner of public welfare shall specifically consider the population, size, land use plan, availability of community services, and the number and size of existing public and private community residential facilities in the town, municipality, or county in which a licensee seeks to operate a residence. Under no circumstances may the commissioner newly license any a facility pursuant to this section except as provided in section 245.812. The commissioner of public welfare shall establish uniform rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this subdivision.

(3) Licenses for community facilities and services shall be issued pursuant to section 245.821.

Subd. 4. [DECERTIFICATION CRITERIA.] The commissioner shall promulgate criteria in rule for decertification of beds in intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded, and shall encourage providers in voluntary decertification efforts. The commissioner of public welfare shall not recommend to the commissioner of health the involuntary decertification of intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded beds prior to the availability of appropriate services for those residents affected by the decertification. The commissioner of health shall decertify those intermediate care beds determined to be not needed by the commissioner of welfare.

Sec. 3. [252.291] [LIMITATION ON DETERMINATION OF NEED.]

Subdivision 1. [MORATORIUM.] Notwithstanding section 252.28, subdivision 1, or any other law or rule to the contrary, the commissioner of public welfare shall deny any request for a determination of need and refuse to grant a license pursuant to section 245.782 for any new intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons or for an increase in the licensed capacity of an existing facility except as provided in subdivision 2. In no event shall the total of certified intermediate care beds for mentally retarded persons in community facilities and state hospitals exceed 7,500 beds. "Certified bed" means an intermediate care bed for the mentally retarded certified by the commissioner of health for the purposes of the medical assistance program under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982.

Subd. 2. [EXCEPTIONS.] The commissioner of public welfare in coordination with the commissioner of health may approve a new intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons only in the following circumstances:

(a) when the facility is developed in accordance with a request for proposal system established pursuant to subdivision 3, clause (b); or

(b) when the facility is necessary to serve the needs of identifiable mentally retarded persons who are seriously behaviorally disordered or who are physically or sensorily impaired; or

(c) to license beds in new facilities where need was determined by the commissioner prior to the effective date of this section.

Subd. 3. [DUTIES OF COMMISSIONER.] The commissioner shall:

(a) establish standard admission criteria for state hospitals, and county utilization targets to limit and reduce the number of intermediate care beds in state hospitals and community facilities in accordance with approved waivers under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982, to assure that appropriate services are provided in the least restrictive setting;

(b) provide technical assistance so that county boards may establish a request for proposal system for meeting individual service plan objectives through home and community based services, alternative community services, or, if no other alternative will meet the needs of identifiable individuals for whom the county is financially responsible, a new intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons;

(c) establish a client tracking and evaluation system as required under applicable federal waiver regulations, Code of Federal Regulations, title 42, sections 431, 435, 440, and 441, as amended through December 31, 1982;

(d) develop a state plan for the delivery and funding of residential day and support services to the mentally retarded in Minnesota and submit that plan to the clerk of each house of the Minnesota legislature on or before January 15 of each biennium beginning January 15, 1985. The biennial plan shall include:

- (1) county by county maximum intermediate care bed utilization quotas;*
- (2) plans for the development of the number and types of services alternative to intermediate care beds;*
- (3) procedures for the administration and management of the plan;*
- (4) procedures for the evaluation of the implementation of the plan; and*
- (5) the number, type, and location of intermediate care beds targeted for decertification.*

The commissioner shall modify the plan to ensure that it conforms to the medical assistance home and community-based services waiver.

Subd. 4. [MONITORING.] The commissioner of public welfare, in coordination with the commissioner of health, shall implement mechanisms to monitor and analyze the effects of the bed moratorium in the different geographic areas of the state. The commissioner of public welfare shall submit to the legislature annually beginning January 15, 1984, an assessment of the impact of the moratorium by geographic areas.

Sec. 4. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256B.02, subdivision 8, is amended to read:

Subd. 8. [DEFINITIONS OF MEDICAL ASSISTANCE; MEDICAL CARE.] "Medical assistance" or "medical care" means payment of part or all of the cost of the following care and services for an eligible individual whose income and resources are insufficient to meet all of such the cost:

- (1) inpatient hospital services-;*
- (2) skilled nursing home services and services of intermediate care facilities-, including training and habilitation services, as defined in section 7, subdivision 1, for mentally retarded individuals residing in intermediate care* facilities for the mentally retarded;

- (3) physicians' services-;
- (4) outpatient hospital or clinic services-;
- (5) home health care services-;
- (6) private duty nursing services-;
- (7) physical therapy and related services-;
- (8) dental services, excluding cast metal restorations-;
- (9) laboratory and x-ray services-; and

(10) the following if prescribed by a licensed practitioner: drugs, eye-glasses, dentures, and prosthetic devices. The commissioner shall designate a formulary committee which shall advise the commissioner on the names of drugs for which payment shall be made, recommend a system for reimbursing providers on a set fee or charge basis rather than the present system, and develop methods encouraging use of generic drugs when they are less expensive and equally effective as trademark drugs. The commissioner shall appoint the formulary committee members no later than 30 days following July 1, 1981. The formulary committee shall consist of nine members, four of whom shall be physicians who are not employed by the department of public welfare, and a majority of whose practice is for persons paying privately or through health insurance, three of whom shall be pharmacists who are not employed by the department of public welfare, and a majority of whose practice is for persons paying privately or through health insurance, a consumer representative, and a nursing home representative. Committee members shall serve two year terms and shall serve without compensation. The commissioner may establish a drug formulary. Its establishment and publication shall not be subject to the requirements of the administrative procedure act, but the formulary committee shall review and comment on the formulary contents. The formulary shall not include: drugs for which there is no federal funding; over the counter drugs, except for antacids, acetaminophen, family planning products, aspirin, insulin, prenatal vitamins, and vitamins for children under the age of seven; nutritional products; anorectics; and drugs for which medical value has not been established. Payment to drug vendors shall not be modified before the formulary is established. The commissioner may promulgate conditions for prohibiting payment for specific drugs after considering the formulary committee's recommendations.

The basis for determining the amount of payment shall be the actual acquisition costs of the drugs plus a fixed dispensing fee established by the commissioner. Actual acquisition cost includes quantity and other special discounts except time and cash discounts. Establishment of this fee shall not be subject to the requirements of the administrative procedure act. Whenever a generically equivalent product is available, payment shall be on the basis of the actual acquisition cost of the generic drug, unless the prescriber specifically indicates "dispense as written" on the prescription as required by section 151.21, subdivision 2.

Notwithstanding the above provisions, implementation of any change in the fixed dispensing fee which has not been subject to the administrative procedure act shall be limited to not more than 180 days, unless, during that time, the commissioner shall have initiated rulemaking through the administrative procedure act-;

(11) diagnostic, screening, and preventive services.

(12) health care pre-payment plan premiums and insurance premiums if paid directly to a vendor and supplementary medical insurance benefits under Title XVIII of the Social Security Act.

(13) abortion services, but only if one of the following conditions is met:

(a) The abortion is a medical necessity. "Medical necessity" means (1) the signed written statement of two physicians indicating the abortion is medically necessary to prevent the death of the mother, and (2) the patient has given her consent to the abortion in writing unless the patient is physically or legally incapable of providing informed consent to the procedure, in which case consent will be given as otherwise provided by law;

(b) The pregnancy is the result of criminal sexual conduct as defined in section 609.342, clauses (c), (d), (e)(i), and (f), and the incident is reported within 48 hours after the incident occurs to a valid law enforcement agency for investigation, unless the victim is physically unable to report the criminal sexual conduct, in which case the report shall be made within 48 hours after the victim becomes physically able to report the criminal sexual conduct; or

(c) The pregnancy is the result of incest, but only if the incident and relative are reported to a valid law enforcement agency for investigation prior to the abortion.

(14) transportation costs incurred solely for obtaining emergency medical care or transportation costs incurred by non-ambulatory persons in obtaining emergency or non-emergency medical care when paid directly to an ambulance company, common carrier, or other recognized providers of transportation services. For the purpose of this clause, a person who is incapable of transport by taxicab or bus shall be considered to be non-ambulatory-;

(15) to the extent authorized by rule of the state agency, costs of bus or taxicab transportation incurred by any ambulatory eligible person for obtaining non-emergency medical care-; and

(16) any other medical or remedial care licensed and recognized under state law unless otherwise prohibited by law.

Sec. 5. [256B.092] [CASE MANAGEMENT OF MENTALLY RETARDED PERSONS.]

Subdivision 1. [COUNTY OF FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY, DUTIES.] Before any services may be rendered to mentally retarded persons in need of social service and medical assistance, the county of financial responsibility shall conduct a diagnostic evaluation in order to determine whether the person is or may be mentally retarded. If a client is diagnosed mentally retarded, that county must conduct a needs assessment, develop an individual service plan, and authorize placement for services. If the county of financial responsibility places a client in another county for services, the placement shall be made in cooperation with the host county of services, and arrangements shall be made between the two counties for ongoing social services, including annual reviews of the client's individual service plan. The host county may not make changes in the service plan without approval of the county of financial responsibility.

Subd. 2. [MEDICAL ASSISTANCE.] To assure quality case management to those county clients who are eligible for medical assistance, the commissioner shall:

(a) provide consultation on the case management process;

(b) assist county agencies in the screening and annual reviews of clients to assure that appropriate levels of service are provided;

(c) provide consultation on service planning and development of services with appropriate options;

(d) provide training and technical assistance to county case managers; and

(e) authorize payment for medical assistance services.

Subd. 3. [TERMINATION OF SERVICES.] County agency case managers, under rules of the commissioner, shall authorize and terminate services of community and state hospital providers in accordance with individual service plans. Medical assistance services that are not needed shall not be authorized by county agencies or funded by the commissioner.

Subd. 4. [ALTERNATIVE HOME AND COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICES.] The commissioner shall make payments to county boards participating in the medical assistance program to pay costs of providing alternative home and community based services to mentally retarded persons eligible for medical assistance who have been screened under subdivision 7. Payment is available under this subdivision only for persons who, if not provided these services, would require the level of care provided in an intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons.

Subd. 5. [FEDERAL WAIVERS.] The commissioner shall apply for any federal waivers necessary to secure, to the extent allowed by law, federal financial participation under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982, for the provision of services to persons who, in the absence of the services, would need the level of care provided in a state hospital or a community intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons. The commissioner may seek amendments to the waivers or apply for additional waivers under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982, to contain costs. The commissioner shall ensure that payment for the cost of providing home and community based alternative services under the federal waiver plan shall not exceed the cost of intermediate care services that would have been provided in the absence of the services authorized by the waivers.

Subd. 6. [RULES.] The commissioner shall adopt temporary and permanent rules according to chapter 14, the Administrative Procedure Act, to establish required controls, documentation, and reporting of services provided in order to assure proper administration of the approved waiver plan.

Subd. 7. [SCREENING TEAMS ESTABLISHED.] Each county agency shall establish a screening team which, under the direction of the county case manager, shall make an evaluation of need for home and community based services of persons who are entitled to the level of care provided by an intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons or for whom there is a reasonable indication that they may need these services in the near future. The screening team shall make an evaluation of need within 15 working days of the request for services, and within five working days of an emergency admission of an individual to an intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons. The screening team shall consist of the case manager, the client, a parent or guardian, a qualified mental retardation professional as defined in the Code of Federal Regulations, title 42, section 442.401, as amended through December 31, 1982, designated by the commissioner. The case manager shall consult with the client's physician or other persons as necessary to make this evaluation. Other persons may be invited to attend meetings of the screening team. No member of the screening team shall have any direct or indirect interest as a service provider in the case.

Subd. 8. [SCREENING TEAM DUTIES.] The screening team shall:

(a) review diagnostic data;

(b) review health, social, and developmental assessment data using a uniform screening tool specified by the commissioner;

(c) identify the level of services needed to maintain the person in the most normal and least restrictive setting that is consistent with treatment needs;

(d) identify other noninstitutional public assistance or social services that may prevent or delay long-term residential placement;

(e) determine whether a client is in serious need of long-term residential care;

(f) make recommendations to the county agency regarding placement and payment for: (1) social service or public assistance support to maintain a client in the client's own home or other place of residence; (2) training and habilitation services, vocational rehabilitation, and employment training activities; (3) community residential placement; (4) state hospital placement; or (5) a home and community based alternative to community residential placement or state hospital placement;

(g) make recommendations to a court as may be needed to assist the court in making commitments of mentally retarded persons; and

(h) inform clients that appeal may be made to the commissioner pursuant to section 256.045.

Subd. 9. [REIMBURSEMENT.] Payment must not be made to a service provider for any recipient placed in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded prior to the recipient being screened by the screening team. The commissioner shall not deny reimbursement for:

(a) an individual admitted to an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded who is assessed to need long-term supportive services if long-term supportive services other than intermediate care are not available in that community;

(b) any individual admitted to an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded under emergency circumstances;

(c) any eligible individual placed in the intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded pending an appeal of the screening team's decision; or

(d) any medical assistance recipient when, after full discussion of all appropriate alternatives including those that are expected to be less costly than intermediate care for the mentally retarded, the individual or the individual's legal representative insists on intermediate care placement. The screening team shall provide documentation that the most cost effective alternatives available were offered to the individual or the individual's legal representative.

Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256B.19, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3. [STUDY OF MEDICAL ASSISTANCE FINANCIAL PARTICIPATION.] The commissioner shall study the feasibility and outcomes of implementing a variable medical assistance county financial participation rate for long-term care services to mentally retarded persons in order to encourage the utilization of alternative services to long-term intermediate care for the mentally retarded. The commissioner shall submit his findings and recommendations to the legislature by January 20, 1984.

Sec. 7. [256B.50] [RATES FOR COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICES FOR THE MENTALLY RETARDED.]

Subdivision 1. [DEFINITIONS.] For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the meaning given them.

(a) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of public welfare.

(b) "Facility" means a facility licensed as a mental retardation residential facility under section 252.28, licensed as a supervised living facility under Minnesota Statutes, chapter 144, and certified as an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded.

(c) A "service under waiver" means home or community based service authorized under the United States Code, title 42, section 1396n(c), as amended through December 31, 1982, and defined in the Minnesota state plan for the provision of medical assistance services. "Services under waiver" include at least: case management, family training and support, developmental training homes, supervised living arrangements, semi-independent living services, respite care, and training and habilitation services.

(d) "Training and habilitation services" are those health and social services needed to insure optimal functioning of persons who are mentally retarded or have related conditions. Training and habilitation services shall be provided to a client away from the residence unless medically contra-indicated by an organization which does not have a direct or indirect financial interest in the organization which provides the person's residential services. This requirement does not apply to any developmental achievement center which has applied for licensure prior to April 15, 1983.

Subd. 2. [AUTHORITY.] The commissioner shall establish procedures and make rules for determining payment rates for care of residents of intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded which qualify as vendors of medical assistance, services under waiver, and for provision of training and habilitation services. Approved rates shall be established on the basis of methods and standards that the commissioner finds adequate to provide for the costs that must be incurred for the quality care of residents in efficiently and economically operated facilities and services. The procedures shall specify the costs that are allowable for payment through medical assistance. The commissioner may use experts from outside the department in the establishment of the procedures.

Subd. 3. [RATES FOR INTERMEDIATE CARE FACILITIES FOR THE MENTALLY RETARDED.] In establishing rules and procedures for setting rates for care of residents in intermediate care facilities for mentally retarded persons, the commissioner shall consider the recommendations contained in the February 11, 1983 Report of the Legislative Auditor on Community Residential Programs for the Mentally Retarded and the recommendations contained in the 1982 Report of the Department of Public Welfare Rule 52 Task Force. Rates paid to supervised living facilities for rate years beginning during the biennium ending June 30, 1985, must not exceed the final rate allowed the facility for the previous rate year by more than six percent.

Subd. 4. [SERVICES UNDER WAIVER.] In establishing rates for services under waiver, the commissioner shall consider the need for flexibility in the provision of those services to meet individual needs identified by the screening team.

Subd. 5. [TRAINING AND HABILITATION SERVICES.] (a) Except as provided in subdivision 6, rates for reimbursement under medical assistance for training and habilitation services provided by a developmental achievement center either as a service under waiver or to residents of an intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons shall be established and paid according to this subdivision effective January 1, 1984.

(b) Prior to August 1, 1983, the county board shall submit to the commissioner its contractual per diem rate and its maximum per client annual payment limitations, if any, for each developmental achievement center it administers pursuant to section 252.24, subdivision 1, for the period from July 1, 1983, through December 31, 1983, which shall be the medical assistance reimbursement rate established for that developmental achievement center for 1983. If the county rate is based on average daily attendance which is less than 93 percent of the developmental achievement center's average enrollment for the period from July 1, 1983 to December 31, 1983, the commissioner shall adjust that rate based on 93 percent average daily attendance.

(c) The base per diem reimbursement rate established for 1983 may be increased by the commissioner in 1984 in an amount up to the projected percentage change in the average value of the consumer price index (all urban) for 1984 over 1983. In subsequent years, the increase in the per diem rate shall not exceed the projected percentage change in the average annual value of the consumer price index (all urban) for the same time period.

(d) The county board of the county in which an intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons is located shall contract annually with that facility and with the appropriate developmental achievement center or training and habilitation service provider for provision of training and habilitation services for each resident of the facility for whom the services are required by the resident's individual service plan. This contract shall specify the county payment rate or the medical assistance reimbursement rate, whichever is appropriate, the training and habilitation services to be provided, and the performance standards for program provision and evaluation. A similar contract shall be entered into between the county and the developmental achievement center for persons receiving training and habilitation services from that center as a service under waiver.

(e) The commissioner shall reimburse under medical assistance up to 210 days of training and habilitation services at developmental achievement centers for those centers which provided up to 210 days of training and habilitation services in calendar year 1982. For developmental achievement centers providing more than 210 days of those services in 1982, the commissioner shall not reimburse under medical assistance for more than the number of days of service provided by those programs in 1982.

(f) Medical assistance payments for training and habilitation services shall be made directly to the training and habilitation provider after submission of invoices to the medical assistance program following procedures established by the medical assistance program.

(g) Nothing in this subdivision shall prohibit county boards from contracting for rates for services not reimbursed under medical assistance.

Subd. 6. [NEW DEVELOPMENTAL ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAMS; RATES.] The commissioner, upon the recommendation of the local county board, shall determine the medical assistance reimbursement rate for new developmental achievement programs. The payment rate shall not exceed 125 percent of the average payment rate in the region.

Subd. 7. [ALTERNATIVE RATES FOR TRAINING AND HABILITATION.] Alternative methods may be proposed by the counties or the commissioner for provision of training and habilitation services during daytime hours apart from a residential facility to persons for whom needs identified in their individual service plans are not met by the training and habilitation services provided at a developmental achievement center. The commissioner shall establish procedures for approval of the proposals and for medical assistance payment of rates which must not exceed the average rate allowed in that county for training and habilitation services pursuant to subdivision 5. Nothing in this subdivision prohibits a county from contracting with a developmental achievement center for those purposes.

Subd. 8. [PAYMENT FOR PERSONS WITH SPECIAL NEEDS.] The commissioner shall establish by December 31, 1983, procedures to be followed by the counties to seek authorization from the commissioner for medical assistance reimbursement for services under waiver or training and habilitation services for very dependent persons with special needs in an amount greater than the rates allowed pursuant to subdivisions 2, 4, 5, and 6, and procedures to be followed for rate limitation exemptions for intermediate care facilities for mentally retarded persons. No excess payment or limitation exemption shall be authorized unless the need for the service is documented in the individual service plan of the person or persons to be served, the type and duration of the services needed are stated, and there is a basis for estimated cost of the services.

The commissioner shall evaluate the services provided under this subdivision through program and fiscal audits.

Subd. 9. [REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.] The developmental achievement center shall submit to the county and the commissioner no later than March 1 of each year an annual report which includes the actual program revenues and expenditures, client information, and program information. The information shall be submitted on forms prescribed by the commissioner.

Sec. 8. [RULES.]

To implement sections 1 to 7, the commissioner shall promulgate temporary and permanent rules in accordance with sections 14.01 to 14.38.

Sec. 9. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 256E.06, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 2a. [STATE TRANSFER OF FUNDS.] Notwithstanding subdivisions 1 and 2, for the purpose of funding training and habilitation services provided to residents of intermediate care facilities for mentally retarded persons as required under federal regulation, the commissioner is authorized to transfer on a quarterly basis to the medical assistance state account from each county's community social services act allocation an amount equal to the state share of medical assistance reimbursement for such services provided to clients for whom said county is financially responsible. Upon federal approval and state implementation of the state medical assistance plan, county boards will not be responsible for the funding of training and habilitation services as a social service to residents of intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded. County board responsibility for training and habilitation services shall be assumed under section 256B.20. County boards continue to be responsible for funding developmental achievement center services not covered under the medical assistance program of United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982, and shall develop contractual agreements for those services under the authority of chapter 256E.

$400,000 is appropriated from the general fund to the commissioner of public welfare for the biennium ending June 30, 1985, to match federal money available for costs in establishing a client information system and positions needed to administer the mental retardation program.

(a) The approved complement of the department of public welfare is increased by 15 full-time positions for implementation of the case management plan, the home and community based services waiver program, assisting county agencies in screening clients for medical assistance services, technical assistance in developing community based alternatives, and management of the mental retardation medical assistance program.

(b) This appropriation for development and implementation shall be expended only with the approval of the governor after consulting with the legislative advisory commission as provided in section 3.30. Release of this money is also contingent upon submission of a plan prepared by the commissioner. The plan must describe the following:

- (1) the organization, deployment and responsibilities of requested staff;
- (2) specification of all other administrative costs associated with the program;
- (3) how the information system will be integrated into the community services information system, the medicaid management information system, and any other data processing operations of the department;
- (4) the methods for implementing the system; and
- (5) the projected costs for the maintenance and operation of the system.

The plan must be submitted to the chairs of the house appropriations and senate finance committees.

Sec. 11. [REPEALER.]

Sections 2, 3, 5; 7, subdivisions 1 and 4; and section 10 are repealed effective June 30, 1984, if a home and community based waiver under United States Code, title 42, section 1396n(c), as amended through December 31, 1982, is not approved by June 30, 1984.

"Subdivision 1. [SCOPE.]"

Re-number the subdivisions in sequence

Page 6, delete section 5 and insert:

"Sec. 5. [48.512] [PROCEDURES FOR OPENING CHECKING ACCOUNTS.]

Subdivision 1. [DEFINITIONS.] For the purpose of this section the following terms have the meanings given:

(a) "Financial intermediary" means any person doing business in this state who offers transaction accounts to the public;

(b) "Transaction account" means a deposit or account established and maintained by a natural person or persons under an individual or business name for personal, household, or business purposes, on which the depositor or account holder is permitted to make withdrawals by negotiable or transferable instruments, payment orders of withdrawal, or other similar device for the purpose of making payments or transfers to third persons or others, including demand deposits or accounts subject to check, draft, negotiable order of withdrawal, share draft, or other similar item. A transaction account does not include the deposit or account of a partnership having more than three partners, the personal representative of an estate, the trustee of a trust or a limited partnership.

Subd. 2. [REQUIRED INFORMATION.] Before opening or authorizing signatory power over a transaction account, a financial intermediary shall require one applicant to provide the following information on an application document signed by the applicant:

- (a) full name;
- (b) birth date;
- (c) address of residence;
- (d) address of current employment, if employed;
- (e) telephone numbers of residence and place of employment, if any;
- (f) social security number;
- (g) driver's license or identification card number issued pursuant to section 171.07. If the applicant does not have a driver's license or identification card, the applicant may provide an identification document number issued for identification purposes by any state, federal, or foreign government if the document includes the applicant's photograph, full name, birth date, and signature;
- (h) whether the applicant has had a transaction account at the same or another financial intermediary within 12 months immediately preceding the application, and, if so, the name of the financial intermediary;
- (i) whether the applicant has had a transaction account closed by a financial intermediary without the applicant's consent within 12 months immediately preceding the application, and, if so, the reason the account was closed; and
- (j) whether the applicant has been convicted of a criminal offense because of the use of a check or other similar item within 24 months immediately preceding the application.

A financial intermediary may require an applicant to disclose additional information.

An applicant who makes a false material statement that he does not believe to be true in an application document with respect to information required to be provided by this subdivision is guilty of perjury. The financial intermediary shall notify the applicant of the provisions of this paragraph.

Subd. 3. [CONFIRM NO INVOLUNTARY CLOSING.] Before opening or authorizing signatory power over a transaction account, the financial intermediary shall attempt to verify the information disclosed for subdivision 2, clause (i). The financial intermediary may not open or authorize signatory power over a transaction account if (i) the applicant had a transaction account closed by a financial intermediary without his consent because of his issuance of dishonored checks within 12 months immediately preceding the application, or (ii) the applicant has been convicted of a criminal offense because of the use of a check or other similar item within 24 months immediately preceding the application.

If the transaction account is refused, the reasons for the refusal shall be given to the applicant in writing.

Subd. 4. [IDENTIFICATION IS REQUIRED.] A financial intermediary shall not open or authorize signatory power over a transaction account if none of the applicants provides a driver's license, identification card, or identification document as required by subdivision 2. When a minor is the applicant and the minor does not have a driver's license or identification card issued pursuant to section 171.07, the identification requirements of subdivision 2, clause (g), and this subdivision are satisfied if the minor's parent or guardian provides identification of his own that meets the identification requirement. The financial intermediary may waive the identification requirement if the applicant has had another type of account with the financial intermediary for at least one year immediately preceding the time of application.

Subd. 5. [NO LIABILITY.] The requirements of this section do not impose any liability on financial intermediaries offering transaction accounts or, except as provided in subdivisions 3 and 4, limit a financial intermediary's discretion as to whether to grant or deny an application subject to this section.

[WORTHLESS CHECK COLLECTIONS]

Sec. 6. [332.50] [CIVIL LIABILITY FOR ISSUANCE OF WORTHLESS CHECK.]

Subdivision 1. [DEFINITIONS.] "Check" means a check, draft, order of withdrawal, or similar negotiable or nonnegotiable instrument.

"Credit" means an arrangement or understanding with the drawee for the payment of the check.

Subd. 2. [ACTS CONSTITUTING.] Whoever issues any check that is dishonored and is not paid within 30 days after mailing a notice of dishonor and a copy of sections 6 and 609.535 in compliance with subdivision 3, is liable to the holder for the amount of the check plus a civil penalty of up to $100, interest at the rate payable on judgments pursuant to section 549.09 on the face amount of the check from the date of dishonor, reasonable attorney fees if the amount of the check is over $1,250, and a service charge not exceeding $15 if written notice of the service charge was conspicuously displayed on the premises when the check was issued.

This subdivision prevails over any provision of law limiting, prohibiting, or otherwise regulating service charges authorized by this subdivision.

Subd. 3. [NOTICE OF DISHONOR REQUIRED.] Notice of nonpayment or dishonor and a copy of sections 6 and 609.535 shall be sent by the payee or holder of the check to the drawer by certified mail, return receipt requested, or by regular mail, supported by an affidavit of service by mailing, to the address printed or written on the check. The issuance of a check with an address printed or written on it is a representation by the drawer that the address is the correct address for receipt of mail concerning the check. Failure of the drawer to receive a regular or certified mail notice sent to that address is not a defense to liability under this section, if the drawer has had actual notice for 30 days that the check has been dishonored.

An affidavit of service by mailing shall be retained by the payee or holder of the check.

Subd. 4. [PROOF OF IDENTITY.] The check is prima facie evidence of the identity of the drawer if the person receiving the check:

(a) records the following information about the drawer on the check, unless it is printed on the face of the check:

(1) name;

(2) home or work address;

(3) home or work telephone number; and

Subd. 4. [JURISDICTION; ~~WORTHLESS~~ DISHONORED CHECKS.] The conciliation court has jurisdiction to determine a civil action commenced by a plaintiff, resident of the county, to recover the amount of a worthless dishonored check issued in the county within the meaning of section 609.535, notwithstanding that even though the defendant or defendants are not residents of the county provided that, if the notice of nonpayment or dishonor required by described in section 609.535, subdivision 3, is sent to the maker or drawer as specified therein and the notice states that the payee or holder of the check or other order of payment of money may commence a conciliation court action in the county where the worthless dishonored check was issued to recover the amount of the check. This subdivision does not apply to a check or other order for payment of money that has been dishonored by a stop payment order. Notwithstanding any law or rule of civil procedure to the contrary, the summons in any action commenced under this subdivision may be served anywhere within the state of Minnesota. The conciliation court clerk shall attach a copy of the dishonored check or other order for payment of money to the summons before it is issued.

Subd. 3. [JURISDICTION.] (a) Excepting actions involving title to real estate, the court has jurisdiction to hear, conciliate, try, and determine civil actions at law where the amount in controversy does not exceed the sum of $1,250. This clause does not apply to a check ~~or other order for payment of money~~ that has been dishonored by a stop payment order. Notwithstanding any law or rule of civil procedure to the contrary, the summons in any action commenced under this clause may be served anywhere within the state of Minnesota. Sec. 71. [116J.921] [ENERGY FINANCING POLICIES.]

Subdivision 1. [FINDINGS.] A reliable, economic supply of energy is essential for the state's households, business establishments, and municipalities. Imported supplies are increasingly costly, unreliable, and environmentally disadvantageous. As a result, a partnership of the private and public sectors is needed to provide leadership, cooperation, and aid for the purposes of planning, developing, and managing economically viable energy conservation programs.

Subd. 2. [FUNDING POLICY.] Adequate funds and assistance must be provided to assist and to encourage the establishment, maintenance, and growth of energy conservation and indigenous energy resources in the state and to reduce to a manageable level the cost of energy to households, business establishments, and municipalities, including, without limitation, the provision of loans to assist households and municipalities in the design, distribution, promotion, maintenance, installation, or acquisition of energy conservation and alternative energy resource materials and devices.

Subd. 3. [PARTNERSHIP POLICY.] A partnership of the private and public sectors will promote the purpose of reducing energy costs, increasing energy efficiency, and developing Minnesota's indigenous energy resources. By providing an arrangement to pool money, personnel, information, material, and technologies and to share costs, the partnership between the public and private sectors will promote the policies declared in this section more effectively than would be the case if these sectors acted independently.

Subd. 4. [HEALTH AND WELFARE PROMOTED.] The policies declared and actions authorized in sections 71 to 76 will promote the welfare and prosperity of the state by maintaining and increasing the career and job opportunities of the citizens of the state, by reducing waste of resources, and by protecting and enhancing the tax base on which state and local governments depend for the financing of public services.

as a minority report, do hereby report the same back with the recommendation that the committee report be further amended as follows:

“The legislature expressly determines that department of commerce statistics of recent years indicate historically high rates of unemployment within Minnesota, the unemployment rate within some areas of the state being higher than the national average; that within the last decade thousands of jobs and job opportunities have left the state; that there has been a deterioration of the business climate within Minnesota with respect to employment, this seriously adversely affecting the economy of the state and the prosperity, safety, health, and general welfare of its inhabitants and their standard of living; that there is an urgent need to correct these adverse conditions and to build a climate that is favorable to business and business activity to prevent their recurrence; that financial assistance to eligible small businesses in the form of loan programs or the economic development fund would greatly ameliorate these adverse conditions by promoting the maintenance and expansion of employment in the state, in part because eligible small businesses provide most of the private sector employment opportunities within the state; that it is in the public interest and it is a public purpose for the authority to induce and to accelerate opportunity for employment in eligible small businesses by providing assistance for eligible small businesses from its loan programs and the economic development fund; and that the accomplishment of these objectives is a public purpose for which public money, through the appropriation of state funds to the economic development fund, may be spent."

This impairment compensation is in lieu of economic recovery compensation under subdivision 3a, and the employee shall not receive both economic recovery compensation and impairment compensation. Temporary total compensation and impairment compensation shall not be paid concurrently. The commissioner may waive this rehabilitation consultation if the commissioner deems it appropriate. Further rehabilitation, if deemed appropriate, is governed by section 176.102.

(b) Upon the employee's initial return to work the monitoring period begins to run. If the employee is unemployed for the reason in clause (a), prior to the end of the monitoring period the employee shall receive monitoring period compensation. This compensation shall be paid for the lesser of (1) the weeks remaining in the monitoring period, or (2) the weeks equal to the monitoring period minus the impairment compensation paid to the employee. For purposes of this clause the impairment compensation shall be converted to weeks by dividing the impairment compensation received by the employee by the employee's compensation rate for temporary total disability at the time of the injury. Monitoring period compensation is payable at the same intervals and in the same amount as when temporary total compensation ceased.

If no job is offered to the employee by the end of this 90-day period, the employee shall receive economic recovery compensation pursuant to this section but reduced by the impairment compensation previously received by the employee for the same disability.*

Sec. 51. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

[FAILURE TO ACCEPT JOB OFFER:] If the employee has been offered a job under subdivision 3e and has refused the offer, the impairment compensation shall not be paid in a lump sum but shall be paid in the same interval and amount that temporary total compensation was initially paid. Temporary total compensation shall cease upon the employee's refusal to accept the job offered and no further or additional temporary total compensation is payable for that injury. The payment of the periodic impairment compensation shall cease when the amount the employee is eligible to receive under subdivision 3b is reached, after which time the employee shall not receive additional impairment compensation or any other compensation under this chapter unless the employee has a greater permanent partial disability than already compensated for.

Sec. 53. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3m. [RETURN TO WORK AFTER REFUSAL OF JOB OFFER.] If the employee has refused the job offer under subdivision 3e and is receiving periodic impairment compensation and returns to work at another job, the employee shall receive the remaining impairment compensation due, in a lump sum, 30 days after return to work.

Sec. 54. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3n. [NO TEMPORARY PARTIAL COMPENSATION OR REHABILITATION IF JOB OFFER REFUSED.] An employee who has been offered a job under subdivision 3e and has refused that offer and who subsequently returns to work shall not receive temporary partial compensation pursuant to subdivision 2 if the job the employee returns to provides a wage less than the wage at the time of the injury. No rehabilitation shall be provided to this employee.

Sec. 55. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3o. [INABILITY TO RETURN TO WORK.] (a) An employee who is permanently totally disabled pursuant to subdivision 5 shall receive impairment compensation pursuant to subdivision 3b. This compensation is payable in addition to permanent total compensation pursuant to subdivision 4 and is payable concurrently. In this case the impairment compensation shall be paid in the same intervals and amount as the permanent total compensation is paid, and the impairment compensation shall cease when the amount due under subdivision 3b is reached. If this employee returns to work at any job during the period the impairment compensation is being paid, the remaining impairment compensation due shall be paid in a lump sum 30 days after the employee has returned to work and no further temporary total compensation shall be paid.

(b) If an employee is receiving or has received economic recovery compensation and is determined to be permanently totally disabled no offset shall be taken against future permanent total compensation for the compensation paid. No further economic recovery compensation is payable even if the amount due the employee pursuant to subdivision 3a has not yet been reached.

(c) An employee who has received periodic economic recovery compensation and who meets the criteria under clause (b) of this subdivision shall receive impairment compensation pursuant to clause (a) of this subdivision even if the employee has previously received economic recovery compensation for that disability.

(d) Rehabilitation consultation pursuant to section 176.102 shall be provided to an employee who is permanently totally disabled.

Sec. 56. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3p. [NO JOB OFFER.] Where the employee has a permanent partial disability and has reached maximum medical improvement or upon completion of an approved retraining program, whichever is later, that employee shall receive economic recovery compensation pursuant to subdivision 3a if no job offer meeting the criteria of the job in subdivision 3e is made within 90 days after reaching maximum medical improvement or 90 days after the end of an approved retraining plan, whichever is later.

Temporary total compensation shall cease upon commencement of the payment of economic recovery compensation. Temporary total compensation shall not be paid concurrently with economic recovery compensation.

Sec. 57. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3q. [METHOD OF PAYMENT OF ECONOMIC RECOVERY COMPENSATION.] (a) Economic recovery compensation is payable at the same intervals and in the same amount as temporary total compensation was paid. If the employee returns to work and the economic recovery compensation is still being paid, the remaining economic recovery compensation due without further adjustments under section 176.645 shall be paid in a lump sum 30 days after the employee has returned to work.

(b) Periodic economic recovery compensation paid to the employee shall be adjusted pursuant to section 176.645.

Sec. 58. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3r. [PAYMENT OF COMPENSATION AT DEATH.] If an employee receiving economic recovery compensation or impairment compensation in periodic amounts dies during the period from causes unrelated to the injury, the compensation shall be paid in the following manner:

(a) If the deceased employee leaves a dependent surviving spouse and no dependent children, as defined by section 176.111, subdivision 1, the spouse shall receive the weekly economic recovery or impairment compensation that the deceased was receiving before the death. This compensation shall be paid for a period of up to ten years after the date of death at which time payments and future entitlement to it ceases.

(b) If the deceased employee leaves a dependent spouse and dependent children, as defined in section 176.111, subdivision 1, the periodic economic recovery or impairment compensation shall continue to be paid to the surviving spouse for up to ten years after the last child is no longer dependent after which time payments and future entitlement to the compensation ceases.

(c) Payment of compensation under this subdivision shall cease prior to the end of the ten-year periods in this subdivision if the amount to which the employee is entitled to receive under subdivision 3, 3a, or 3b, is reached prior to the end of the ten-year period. If the deceased employee is not survived by dependent children or a dependent spouse as defined in section 176.111, no further economic recovery compensation or impairment compensation is payable to any person under this subdivision.

(d) If the death results from the injury, the payment of economic recovery compensation or impairment compensation shall cease upon the death and death benefits are payable pursuant to section 176.111.

Sec. 59. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3s. [ADDITIONAL ECONOMIC RECOVERY COMPENSATION OR IMPAIRMENT COMPENSATION.] No additional economic recovery compensation or impairment compensation is payable to an employee who has received that compensation to which the employee is entitled pursuant to subdivision 3a or 3b unless the employee has a greater permanent partial disability than already compensated.

Sec. 60. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3t. [MINIMUM ECONOMIC RECOVERY COMPENSATION.] (a) Economic recovery compensation pursuant to this section shall be at least 120 percent of the impairment compensation the employee would receive if that compensation were payable to the employee. The monitoring period shall be at least 120 percent of the weeks during which impairment compensation would be payable if paid weekly.

(b) An employee who has suffered a personal injury for which temporary total compensation is payable but which produces no permanent partial disability shall receive 26 weeks of economic recovery compensation if no job is offered within the time specified in and meeting the criteria of subdivision 3e.

Sec. 61. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3u. [MEDICAL BENEFITS.] This section does not in any way limit the medical benefits to which an injured employee is otherwise entitled pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 62. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3v. [ADMINISTRATIVE CONFERENCE.] The provisions of section 176.242 apply if there exists a dispute regarding maximum medical improvement or whether the job offered meets the criteria under subdivision 3e or 3f.

Sec. 63. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 4a. [PREEXISTING CONDITION OR DISABILITY; APPORTIONMENT.] (a) If a personal injury results in a disability which is attributable in part to a preexisting disability that arises from a congenital condition or is the result of a traumatic injury or incident, whether or not compensable under this chapter, the compensation payable for the permanent partial disability pursuant to this section shall be reduced by the proportion of the disability which is attributable only to the preexisting disability. An apportionment of a permanent partial disability under this subdivision shall be made only if the preexisting disability is clearly evidenced in a medical report or record made prior to the current personal injury. Evidence of a copy of the medical report or record upon which apportionment is based shall be made available to the employee by the employer at the time compensation for the permanent partial disability is begun.

(b) The compensable portion of the permanent partial disability under this section shall be paid at the rate at which the entire disability would be compensated but for the apportionment.

Sec. 64. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, subdivision 6, is amended to read:

Subd. 6. [MINORS.] If any employee entitled to the benefits of this chapter is a minor or is an apprentice of any age and sustains a personal injury arising out of and in the course of employment resulting in permanent total or a compensable permanent partial disability, for the purpose of computing the compensation to which he the employee is entitled for said the injury the compensation rate for temporary total, temporary partial, ~~retraining, permanent partial~~ or a permanent total disability or economic recovery compensation shall be the larger of either the statewide average weekly wage or the employees weekly wage, but in no case shall the compensation exceed the maximum weekly compensation rate payable under this chapter.

Sec. 65. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.101, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 8. [RETIREMENT PRESUMPTION.] For injuries occurring after the effective date of this subdivision an employee who receives social security old age and survivors insurance retirement benefits is presumed retired from the labor market. This presumption is rebuttable by a preponderance of the evidence.

Sec. 66. [176.1011] [PERMANENT PARTIAL DISABILITY, WHOLE BODY SCHEDULE.]

Subdivision 1. [GENERAL.] For permanent partial disability the percentage loss of a part of the body as it relates to the whole body is as indicated in this section.

Subd. 2. [MEMBERS.] (a) For the loss of a hand, not including wrist movement, 42 percent of the whole body;

(b) For the loss of a hand, including wrist movement, 48 percent of the whole body;

(c) For the loss of an arm, 60 percent of the whole body;

(d) For the loss of a foot, including ankle movement, 32 percent of the whole body;

(e) For loss of a leg, if enough remains to permit the use of an effective artificial member, 40 percent of the whole body;

(f) For the loss of a leg so close to the hip that no effective artificial member can be used, 50 percent of the whole body;

(g) For loss of the great toe, eight percent of the whole body;

(h) For loss of a toe other than the great toe, three percent of the whole body;

Subd. 3. [VISION.] For the complete loss of vision, 85 percent of the whole body. In determining the degree of vision impairment as it relates to complete loss of vision, clauses (1) to (6) must be used.

(1) [MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM LIMITS OF THE PRIMARY COORDINATE FACTORS OF VISION.] In order to determine the various degrees of visual efficiency, normal or maximum, and minimum, limits for each coordinate function must be established those being, the 100 percent point and the zero percent point.

(a) [MAXIMUM LIMITS.] The maximum efficiency for each of these is established by existing and accepted standards.

1. [CENTRAL VISUAL ACUITY.] The ability to recognize letters or characters which subtend an angle of five minutes, each unit part of which subtends a one-minute angle at the distance viewed is accepted as standard. Therefore a 20/20 Snellen or A.M.A. and a 14/14 A.M.A. are employed as the maximum acuity of central vision, or 100 percent acuity for distance vision and near vision respectively.

2. [FIELD VISION.] A visual field having an area which extends from the point of fixation outward 65 degrees, down and out 65 degrees, down 55 degrees, down and in 5 degrees, inward 45 degrees, in and up 45 degrees, upward 45 degrees, and up and out 55 degrees is accepted as 100 percent industrial visual field efficiency.

3. [BINOCULAR VISION.] Maximum binocular vision is present if there is absence of diplopia in all parts of the field of binocular fixation, and if the two eyes give useful binocular vision.

(b) [MINIMUM LIMITS.] The minimum limit, or the zero percent of the coordinate functions of vision, is established at that degree of efficiency which reduces vision to a state of industrial uselessness.

1. [CENTRAL VISUAL ACUITY.] The minimum limit of this function is established as the loss of light perception, light perception being qualitative vision. The practical minimum limit of quantitative visual acuity is established as the ability to distinguish form. Experience, experiment, and authoritative opinion show that for distance vision 20/200 Snellen or A.M.A. Chart is 80 percent loss of visual efficiency, 20/380 is 96 percent loss, and 20/800 is 99.9 percent loss, and that for near vision 14/141 A.M.A. Reading Card is 80 percent loss of visual efficiency, 14/266 is 96 percent loss, and 14/560 is 99.9 percent loss. Table 1 shows the percentage loss of visual efficiency corresponding to the Snellen and other notations for distance and for near vision, for the measurable range of quantitative visual acuity.

2. [FIELD VISION.] The minimum limit for this function is established as a concentric central contraction of the visual field to five degrees. This degree of contraction of the visual field of an eye reduces the visual efficiency to zero.

3. [BINOCULAR VISION.] The minimum limit is established by the presence of diplopia in all parts of the motor field, or by lack of useful binocular vision. This condition constitutes 50 percent motor field efficiency.

Where distance vision is less than 20/200 and the A.M.A. Chart is used, readings will be at ten feet. The percentage of efficiency and loss may be obtained from this table by comparison with corresponding readings on the basis of 20 feet, interpolating between readings if necessary. In view of the lack of uniform standards among the various near vision charts, readings for near vision, within the range of vision covered thereby, are to be according to the American Medical Association Rating Reading Card of 1932.

(2) [MEASUREMENT OF COORDINATE FACTORS OF VISION AND THE COMPUTATION OF THEIR PARTIAL LOSS.] (a) [Central visual acuity.] 1. Central visual acuity shall be measured both for distance and for near, each eye being measured separately, both with and without correction. Where the purpose of the computation is to determine loss of vision resulting from injury, if correction is needed for a presbyopia due to age or for some other condition clearly not due to the injury, the central visual acuity "without correction," as the term is used in this section, shall be measured with a correction applied for the presbyopia or other preexisting condition but without correction for any condition which may have resulted from the injury. The central visual acuity with correction shall be measured with correction applied for all conditions present.

2. The percentage of central visual acuity efficiency of the eye for distance vision shall be based on the best percentage of central visual acuity between the percentage of central visual acuity with and without correction. No subtraction for glasses may be taken at more than 25 percent, or less than five percent, of total central visual acuity efficiency. If a subtraction of five percent reduces the percentage of central visual acuity efficiency below that obtainable without correction, the percentage obtainable without correction shall be adopted unless correction is necessary to prevent eye strain or for other reasons.

3. The percentage of central visual acuity efficiency of the eye for near vision shall be based on a similar computation from the near vision readings, with and without correction.

4. The percentage of central visual acuity efficiency of the eye in question shall be the result of the weighted values assigned to these two percentages for distance and for near. A onefold value is assigned to distance vision and a twofold value to near vision. If the central visual efficiency for distance 70 percent and that for near is 40 percent, the percentage of central visual efficiency for the eye in question would be:

Distance (taken once)	70 percent
Near (taken twice)	40
	40
	150 divided by 3 = 50 percent
	central visual acuity efficiency

5. The Snellen test letters or characters as published by the Committee on Compensation for Eye Injuries of the American Medical Association and designated "Industrial Vision Test Charts" subtend a five-minute angle, and their component parts a one-minute angle. These test letters or the equivalent are to be used at an examining distance of 20 feet for distant vision (except as otherwise noted on the chart where vision is very poor), and 14 inches for near vision, from the patient. The illumination is to be not less than three-foot candles, nor more than ten-foot candles on the surface of the chart.

6. Table 1 shows the percentage of central visual acuity efficiency and the percentage loss of efficiency, both for distance and for near, for partial loss between 100 percent and zero vision for either eye.

(b) [FIELD VISION.] 1. The extent of the field of vision shall be determined by the use of the usual perimetric test methods, a white target being employed which subtends a one-degree angle under illumination of not less than three-foot candles, and the result plotted on the industrial visual field chart. The readings should be taken, if possible, without restriction to the field covered by the correction worn.

2. The amount of radial contraction in the eight principal meridians shall be determined. The sum of the degrees of field vision remaining on these meridians, divided by 420 (the sum of the eight principal radii of the industrial visual field) will give the visual field efficiency of one eye in percent, except that a concentric central contraction of the field to a diameter of five degrees reduces the visual efficiency to zero.

3. Where the impairment of field is irregular and not fairly disclosed by the eight radii, the impaired area should be sketched upon the diagram on the report blank, and the computation be based on a greater number of radii, or otherwise, as may be necessary to a fair determination.

(c) [BINOCULAR VISION.] 1. Binocular vision shall be measured in all parts of the motor field, recognized methods being used for testing. It shall be measured with any useful correction applied.

2. Diplopia may involve the field of binocular fixation entirely or partially. When diplopia is present, this shall be plotted on the industrial motor field chart. This chart is divided into 20 rectangles, four by five degrees in size. The partial loss due to diplopia is that proportional area which shows diplopia as indicated on the plotted chart compared with the entire motor field area.

3. If diplopia involves the entire motor field, causing an irremediable diplopia, or when there is absence of useful binocular vision due to lack of accommodation or other reason, the loss of coordinate visual efficiency is equal to 50 percent loss of the vision existing in one eye (ordinarily the injured, or the more seriously injured, eye). If the diplopia is partial, the loss in visual efficiency shall be proportional and based on the efficiency factor value of one eye as stated in table 2. If useful correction is applied to relieve diplopia, five percent of total motor field efficiency of one eye shall be deducted from the percent of the efficiency obtainable with the correction. A correction which does not improve motor field efficiency by at least five percent of total will not ordinarily be considered useful.

percent, the visual efficiency would be 50 times 80 times 50 equals 20 percent.

(4) [COMPUTATION OF COMPENSATION FOR IMPAIRMENT OF VISION.] When the percentage of industrial visual efficiency of each eye has been determined, it is subtracted from 100 percent. The difference represents the percentage impairment of each eye for industrial use. These percentages are applied directly to the specific schedules of chapter 176.

(5) [TYPES OF OCULAR INJURY NOT INCLUDED IN THE DISTURBANCE OF COORDINATE FACTORS.] Certain types of ocular disturbance are not included in the foregoing computations and these may result in disabilities, the value of which cannot be computed by any scale as yet scientifically possible of deduction. These are disturbances of accommodation not previously provided for in these rules, of color vision, of adaptation to light and dark, metamorphopsia, entropion, ectropion, lagophthalmos, epiphora, and muscle disturbances not included under diplopia. For these disabilities additional compensation shall be awarded, but in no case shall the additional award make the total compensation for loss in industrial visual efficiency greater than that provided by law for total permanent disability.

(6) [MISCELLANEOUS RULES.] (a) Compensation shall not be computed until all adequate and reasonable operations and treatment known to medical science have been attempted to correct the defect. Prior to the final examination on which compensation is to be computed, at least three months shall have elapsed after the last trace of visible inflammation has disappeared. If in cases of disturbance of extrinsic ocular muscles, optic nerve atrophy, injury of the retina, sympathetic ophthalmia, and traumatic cataract, at least 12 months and preferably not more than 16 months shall intervene before the examination is made on which final compensation is to be computed. In case the injury is one which may cause cataract, optic atrophy, disturbance of the retina, or other conditions, which may further impair vision after the time of the final examination, a note of that fact should be made by the examining physician on his report.

(b) In cases of additional loss in visual efficiency, when it is known that there was present a preexisting subnormal vision, compensation shall be based on the loss incurred as a result of eye injury or occupational condition specifically responsible for the additional loss. If there exists no record or no adequate and positive evidence of preexisting subnormal vision, it shall be assumed that the visual efficiency prior to any injury was 100 percent. An examining physician must carefully distinguish, in regard to each of the coordinate factors, between impairments resulting from the injury and impairments not so resulting. Other impairments should be reported separately.

Subd. 3. [AUDITORY.] For complete loss of hearing; 35 percent of the whole body. In determining the degree of hearing loss as it relates to complete hearing loss, clauses (1) to (9) must be used:

(1) [HARMFUL NOISE.] Hearing loss resulting from hazardous noise exposure depends upon several factors, namely, the overall intensity (sound pressure level), the daily exposure, the frequency characteristic of the noise spectrum and the total lifetime exposure. Noise exposure level of 90 decibels or more as measured on the A scale of a sound level meter for eight hours a day is considered to be harmful.

(2) [MEASUREMENT OF NOISE.] Noise shall be measured with a sound level meter which meets ANSI standard S1.4-1971 and shall be measured on the "A" weighted network for "slow response". Noise levels reaching maxima at intervals of one second or less shall be classified as being continuous. The measurement of noise is primarily the function of acoustical engineers and properly trained personnel. Noise should be scientifically measured by properly trained individuals using approved calibrated instruments which at the present time include sound level meters, octave band analyzers and oscilloscopes, the latter particularly for impact-type noises.

(3) [MEASURE OF HEARING ACUITY.] The use of pure tone air conduction audiometry performed under proper testing conditions is recommended for establishing the hearing acuity of workers. The audiometer should be one which meets the specifications of ANSI standard 53.6-1969 (4). The audiometer should be periodically calibrated. Preemployment records should include a satisfactory personal and occupational history on hearing status. Otological examination should be made where indicated.

(4) [FORMULA FOR MEASURING HEARING IMPAIRMENT.] For the purpose of determining the hearing impairment, pure tone air conduction audiometry is used, measuring all frequencies between 500 and 6,000 Hz. This formula uses the average of the three speech frequencies of 1,000, 2,000, and 3,000 Hz. Audiometric measurement for these three frequencies averaging 35 decibels or less on the ANSI calibration does not constitute any practical hearing impairment. A table for evaluating hearing impairment based upon the average readings of these three frequencies follows below. No deduction is made for presbycusis.

(5) [DIAGNOSIS AND EVALUATION.] The diagnosis of occupational hearing loss is based upon the occupational and medical history, the results of the otological and audiometric examinations and their evaluation.

(6) [TREATMENT.] There is no known medical or surgical treatment for improving or restoring hearing loss due to hazardous noise exposure.

(7) [ALLOWANCE FOR TINNITUS.] In addition to the above impairment, if tinnitus has permanently resulted due to work exposure, an allowance of five percent loss of hearing impairment for the affected ear or ears shall be computed.

(9) [METHOD FOR DETERMINING PERCENT OF HEARING IMPAIRMENT.] Obtain for each ear the average hearing level in decibels at the three frequencies, 1,000, 2,000, and 3,000 Hz.

See table for converting to percentage of hearing impairment in each ear.

To determine the percentage of impairment for both ears, multiply the lesser loss by four, add the greater loss and divide by five.

Subd. 4. [HEAD INJURIES.] (a) For head injuries, the percentage of permanent partial disability to the whole body multiplied by 95 percent. The percentage shall be determined from competent testimony at a hearing before a compensation judge or by the workers' compensation court of appeals in cases upon appeal except in cases where clause (b) is applicable.

(b) Skull defect:

	Unfilled defect Percent	Filled defect Percent
1 square inch	10 whole body	3 whole body
2 square inches	15 whole body	4 whole body
3 square inches	20 whole body	5 whole body
5 square inches	25 whole body	7 whole body
8 or more square inches	30 whole body	10 whole body

Subd. 5. [INTERNAL ORGANS.] For permanent partial disability to an internal organ, until the commissioner adopts a schedule of degree of disability for internal organs, that percent, not to exceed 100 percent, which is percent of permanent partial disability caused to the whole body by the injury as is determined from competent testimony at a hearing before a compensation judge or the workers' compensation court of appeals.

Subd. 6. [DISFIGUREMENT; SCARRING.] For disfigurement or scarring not resulting from the loss of a member or other injury specifically compensated, affecting the employability or advancement opportunity of the injured person in the employment in which he was injured or other employment for which the employee is then qualified or for which the employee has become qualified, the percentage the parties agree to or the compensation judge or the workers' compensation court of appeals in cases on appeal determines, not exceeding 15 percent of the whole body.

Subd. 7. [BURNS.] For permanent partial disability resulting from injury to the body as a whole due to thermal injury from extreme heat, radiation, cold, or chemical resulting in permanent injury to the skin including heat intolerance, cold intolerance, and loss of durability; skin sensitivity and altered sweating with apocrine gland dysfunction; decreased sensation of the hand not directly related to nerve injury; and pain, loss of pigment, contracture and edema, that proportion of 70 percent which is represented by the percentage of the permanent partial disability as is determined from competent testimony at a hearing before a compensation judge or as determined by the workers' compensation court of appeals in cases on appeal, the percentage to be in addition to the rating the employee would otherwise be entitled to for loss of use of a member in accordance with this section.

Subd. 8. [ORTHOPAEDIC INJURIES.] For the purpose of chapter 176, unless the context requires otherwise "manual" means the "manual for orthopaedic surgeons in evaluating permanent physical impairment" published by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons. The manual is incorporated by reference into this chapter. Unless a contrary provision specifically exists in this chapter or in rules, the manual shall be used to determine all permanent partial disabilities which are specifically listed in the manual. The most recent manual as of May 1, 1983, shall be used for purposes of this subdivision and future amended versions shall not be used. All references to percent of permanent physical impairment and loss of physical function in the manual are the proportion that the specified impairment bears to the entire member unless otherwise specified in the manual. The proportion that the member bears to the whole body is to be determined pursuant to this subdivision.

Subd. 10. [LOSS OF USE OF MEMBER.] In all cases of permanent partial disability, it is considered that the permanent loss of the use of a member is equivalent to and draws the same compensation as the loss of that member.

Subd. 11. [MEMBER NOT IN SCHEDULE.] In cases of permanent partial disability to a body part not listed in this schedule or the manual, the percentage loss of function which the disability bears to the whole body shall be determined pursuant to rules adopted by the commissioner.

Subd. 12. [INJURY TO MORE THAN ONE BODY PART.] If an employee suffers a permanent functional disability of more than one body part due to a personal injury incurred in a single occurrence, the percent of the whole body which is permanently partially disabled shall be determined by the following formula so as to ensure that the percentage for all functional disability combined does not exceed the total for the whole body:

where: A is the greater percentage whole body loss of the first body part; and B is the lesser percentage whole body loss otherwise payable for the second body part.

For permanent partial disabilities to three body parts due to a single occurrence or as the result of an occupational disease, the above formula shall be applied, providing that A equals the result obtained from application of the formula to the first two body parts and B equals the percentage for the third body part. For permanent partial disability to four or more body parts incurred as described above, A equals the result obtained from the prior application of the formula, and B equals the percentage for the fourth body part or more in arithmetic progressions.

Sec. 67. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.102, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

Subdivision 1. [SCOPE.] ~~Vocational Rehabilitation shall train an~~ is intended to restore the injured employee, through physical and vocational rehabilitation, so he the employee may be returned return to a job related to his the employee's former employment or to a job in another work area which produces an economic status as close as possible to that he the employee would have enjoyed without disability. Rehabilitation to a job with a higher economic status than would have occurred without disability is permitted if it can be demonstrated that this rehabilitation is necessary to increase the likelihood of reemployment. Economic status is to be measured not only by opportunity for immediate income but also by opportunity for future income.

Subd. 2. [ADMINISTRATORS.] ~~The commissioner of labor and industry~~ shall hire a director of rehabilitation services in the classified service. The commissioner of labor and industry is responsible for supervising shall monitor and supervise rehabilitation services, including, but not limited to, making determinations regarding the selection and delivery of rehabilitation services and the criteria used to approve qualified rehabilitation consultants and rehabilitation vendors. The commissioner may also make determinations regarding fees for rehabilitation services, the fitness of qualified rehabilitation consultants and vendors to continue to be approved under this section and has authority to discipline, by fine or otherwise, the consultants or vendors who act in violation of this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter. The commissioner of labor and industry may hire qualified personnel to assist in his duties under this section and may delegate his duties and performance.

Sec. 69. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.102, subdivision 3, is amended to read:

The panel shall continuously study rehabilitation services and delivery and (d) develop and recommend rehabilitation rules as necessary to the commissioner of labor and industry. A majority vote of those attending a panel hearing under subdivision 6 shall constitute the decision of the board.

Sec. 70. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.102, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 3a. [REVIEW PANEL APPEALS.] Appeals to the review panel shall be heard before a panel of five members designated by the review panel. Each five-member panel shall consist of two labor members, two employer or insurer members, and one member representing medicine, chiropractic, or rehabilitation. The determination of the five-member panel shall be by a majority vote and shall represent the determination of the entire review panel and is not subject to review by the panel as a whole. When conducting a review of the commissioner's determination regarding any rehabilitation issue or plan the panel shall give the parties notice that the appeal will be heard. This notice shall be given at least ten working days prior to the hearing. The notice shall state that parties may be represented by counsel at the hearing. Subd. 4. [REHABILITATION PLAN; DEVELOPMENT.] Within 30 days of the time an employer or his insurer has medical information that an employee is unable due to a personal injury or occupational disease to return to his preinjury occupation the employer shall provide rehabilitation consultation for the employee. The employee, however, has the final decision on which rehabilitation agency is to be utilized pursuant to the provisions of this section. The consultation shall be done by any person or public or private institution approved by the commissioner of labor and industry. If the consultant determines rehabilitation would significantly reduce or eliminate the decrease in employability, the employer or insurer in conjunction with the rehabilitation consultant shall submit a specific plan of rehabilitation to the commissioner. If the employer does not provide rehabilitation consultation, when required by this section, within the time specified by this subdivision, the commissioner of labor and industry shall notify the employer and insurer that should they fail to provide rehabilitation consultation within 15 days from the receipt of the commissioner's notice, the division of vocational rehabilitation shall be authorized to provide the rehabilitation consultation for the employee. If the employee refuses to submit to any reasonable examinations and evaluative procedures to determine the need for and the details of a plan of rehabilitation, the amount of compensation may be reduced or the right to compensation may be suspended by an order of the division or workers' compensation court of appeals in a matter before it. In developing a plan, consideration shall be given to the employee's age, education, previous work history, interests and skills.

(a) An employer or insurer shall provide rehabilitation consultation by a qualified rehabilitation consultant or by another person permitted by rule to provide consultation to an injured employee within five days after the employee has 60 days of lost work time due to the personal injury, except as otherwise provided in this subdivision. Where an employee has incurred an injury to the back, the consultation shall be made within five days after the employee has 30 days of lost work time due to the injury. The lost work time in either case may be intermittent lost work time. If an employer or insurer has medical information at any time prior to the time specified in this subdivision that the employee will be unable to return to the job the employee held at the time of the injury rehabilitation consultation shall be made immediately after receipt of this information.

For purposes of this section "lost work time" means only those days during which the employee would actually be working but for the injury. In the case of the construction industry, mining industry, or other industry where the hours and days of work are affected by seasonal conditions, "lost work time" shall be computed by using the normal schedule worked when employees are working full time.

If the employee objects to the employer's selection of a qualified rehabilitation consultant, the employee shall notify the employer and the commissioner in writing of the objection.

Upon receipt of the notice of objection, the commissioner may schedule an administrative conference for the purpose of determining which qualified rehabilitation consultant may be mutually acceptable. The employee has the final decision on which qualified rehabilitation consultant is to be utilized.

The employee and employer shall enter into a program if one is prescribed in a rehabilitation plan. A copy of the plan, including a target date for return to work, shall be submitted to the commissioner.

(b) If the employer does not provide rehabilitation consultation as required by this section, the commissioner shall notify the employer that if the employer fails to appoint a qualified rehabilitation consultant or other persons as permitted by clause (a) within 15 days to conduct a rehabilitation consultation, the commissioner shall appoint a qualified rehabilitation consultant to provide the consultation at the expense of the employer unless the commissioner determines the consultation is not required.

(c) In developing a rehabilitation plan consideration shall be given to the employee's qualifications, including but not limited to age, education, previous work history, interest, transferable skills, and present and future labor market conditions.

(d) The commissioner may waive rehabilitation consultation under this section if the commissioner is satisfied that the employee will return to work in the near future or that rehabilitation consultation will not be useful in returning an employee to work.

Sec. 72. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.102, subdivision 5, is amended to read:

Subd. 5. [ON THE JOB TRAINING.] On the job training is to be given consideration in developing a rehabilitation plan especially where it would produce an economic status similar to that enjoyed prior to disability. ~~When a rehabilitation plan includes on the job training, the employee shall receive compensation while employed in an amount equal to the after tax wage the employee received at the time of the personal injury. This compensation shall be paid in whole or in part by the insurer liable for compensation for the employee's personal injury. The amount of compensation to be paid by this insurer shall be determined in the rehabilitation plan prepared pursuant to this section. Any difference between the amount of compensation the insurer is paying and the after tax wage the employee received at the time of the personal injury shall be paid by the on the job employer, but in no case shall this employer's amount exceed the prevailing wage for the job. After tax wage shall be determined by subtracting federal and state income tax from the employee's gross wage.~~

~~A rehabilitation plan which includes on the job training shall attempt to create an incentive for an employer to hire the employee for on the job training. This incentive may be in the form of reducing the on the job training employer's wages paid to the employee to a level which is less than the prevailing wage for the job, provided that the total compensation from the insurer, required by this section, and the wages paid by the on the job training employer is not less than the after tax wage received by the employee at the time of the personal injury. The compensation from the insurer and the on the job training~~ employer paid pursuant to this subdivision is in lieu of temporary total disability payments and the additional compensation provided in subdivision 11.

Sec. 79. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.102, subdivision 11, is amended to read:

Subd. 11. [~~COMPENSATION DURING REHABILITATION RETRAINING~~.] ~~The insurer or employer shall pay up~~ Retraining is limited to 156 weeks of compensation during rehabilitation under a plan in an amount equal to 125 percent of the employee's rate for temporary total disability. This payment is in lieu of payment for temporary total, temporary partial, or permanent total disability to which the employee might otherwise be entitled for this period under this chapter, but shall be considered to be the equivalent of temporary total disability for the purposes of section 176.132. This additional compensation shall cease at any time the commissioner determines the special circumstances are no longer present.

Sec. 80. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.102, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 12. [DISCONTINUANCE.] All benefits payable under chapter 176 may, after a determination and order by the commissioner, be discontinued or forfeited for any time during which the employee refuses to submit to any reasonable examinations and evaluative procedures ordered by the commissioner to determine the need for and details of a plan of rehabilitation, or refuses to participate in rehabilitation evaluation as required by this section or does not make a good faith effort to participate in a rehabilitation plan. A discontinuance under this section is governed by article 1, section 122.

Sec. 82. [176.103] [MEDICAL HEALTH CARE REVIEW.]

Subdivision 1. [PURPOSE.] It is the purpose of this section to provide for review of clinical health care providers who render services to injured employees. This review shall be achieved by establishing a quality control system within the department of labor and industry.

The commissioner shall hire a medical consultant to assist in the administration of this section.

The medical consultant shall be a doctor of medicine licensed under the laws of Minnesota.

The medical consultant shall perform all duties assigned by the commissioner relating to the supervision of the total continuum of care of injured employees and shall also advise the department on matters on which the commissioner requests the consultant's advice or if the consultant deems it appropriate.

Subd. 2. [SCOPE.] The commissioner shall monitor the medical and surgical treatment provided to injured employees, the services of other health care providers and shall also monitor hospital utilization as it relates to the treatment of injured employees. This monitoring shall include determinations concerning the appropriateness of the service, whether the treatment is necessary and effective, the proper cost of services, the quality of the treatment, the right of providers to receive payment under this chapter for services rendered or the right to receive payment under this chapter for future services. The commissioner may penalize, disqualify, or suspend a provider from receiving payment for services rendered under this chapter, if the commissioner determines that the provider has violated any part of this chapter or rule adopted under this chapter. The commissioner's authority under this section also includes the authority to make determinations regarding any other activity involving the questions of utilization of medical services, and any other determination the commissioner deems necessary for the proper administration of this section.

The commissioner has the sole authority to make determinations under this section with a right of appeal to the medical services review board as provided in subdivision 3 and the workers' compensation court of appeals. A compensation judge has no jurisdiction in making determinations under this section.

Subd. 3. [MEDICAL SERVICES REVIEW BOARD; SELECTION; POWERS.] (a) There is created a medical services review board composed of the commissioner or the commissioner's designee as an ex officio member, two persons representing chiropractic, one person representing hospital administrators, and six medical practitioners representing different specialties which the commissioner determines are the most frequently utilized by injured employees. The board shall also have two persons representing employees, two persons representing employers or insurers, and two persons representing the general public. The members shall be appointed by the commissioner and shall be governed by section 15.0575. Terms of the board's members shall be renewed. The board shall appoint from among its clinical members a clinical advisory subcommittee on clinical quality and a clinical advisory subcommittee on clinical cost containment. Each subcommittee shall consist of at least three members one of whom shall be a member who is not a chiropractor or licensed physician.

The clinical quality subcommittee shall review clinical results for adequacy and recommend to the commissioner scales for disabilities and apportionment.

The clinical cost containment subcommittee shall review and recommend to the commissioner rates for individual clinical procedures and aggregate costs. The subcommittees shall make regular reports to the board and the commissioner which shall evaluate the reports for the purpose of determining whether or not a particular health care provider continues to qualify for payment under chapter 176 or is subject to any other sanctions or penalties authorized under this section and to determine whether an employee has been off work longer than necessary.

In evaluating the clinical consequences of the services provided to an employee by a clinical health care provider, the board shall consider the following factors in the priority listed:

- (1) the clinical effectiveness of the treatment;
- (2) the clinical cost of the treatment; and

On October 1, 1981, and thereafter on the anniversary of the date of the employee's injury the total benefits due shall be adjusted by multiplying the total benefits due prior to each adjustment by a fraction, the denominator of which is the statewide average weekly wage for December 31, of the year two years previous to the adjustment and the numerator of which is the statewide average weekly wage for December 31, of the year previous to the adjustment. For injuries occurring after October 1, 1975, all adjustments provided for in this section shall be included in computing any benefit due under this section. Any limitations of amounts due for daily or weekly compensation under this chapter shall not apply to adjustments made under this section. The employee shall be immediately eligible for supplementary benefits if that employee's compensation is less than 65 percent of the statewide average weekly wage.

Sec. 163. [176.83] [RULES.]

In addition to any other section under this chapter giving the commissioner the authority to adopt rules, the commissioner may adopt, amend, or repeal rules to implement the provisions of this chapter. The rules include but are not limited to:

(a) rules necessary to implement and administer section 176.102, including the establishment of qualifications necessary to be a qualified rehabilitation consultant and the requirements to be an approved registered vendor of rehabilitation services.

In this regard, the commissioner shall impose fees under section 16A.128 sufficient to cover the cost of approving, registering and monitoring qualified rehabilitation consultants and approved vendors of rehabilitation services. The rules may also provide for penalties to be imposed by the commissioner against insurers or self-insured employers who fail to provide rehabilitation consultation to employees pursuant to section 176.102.

These rules may also establish criteria for determining "reasonable moving expenses" under section 176.102.

The rules shall also establish criteria, guidelines, methods, or procedures to be met by an employer or insurer in providing the initial rehabilitation consultation required under this chapter which would permit the initial consultation to be provided by an individual other than a qualified rehabilitation consultant. In the absence of rules regarding an initial consultation this consultation shall be conducted pursuant to section 176.102;

(b) rules establishing standards for reviewing and evaluating the clinical consequences of services provided by qualified rehabilitation consultants, approved registered vendors of rehabilitation services, and services provided to an employee by health care providers;

(c) rules establishing standards and procedures for determining whether or not charges for health services or rehabilitation services rendered under this chapter are excessive. In this regard, the standards and procedures shall be structured to determine what is necessary to encourage providers of health services and rehabilitation services to develop and deliver services for the rehabilitation of injured employees.

The procedures shall include standards for evaluating hospital care, other health care and rehabilitation services to insure that quality hospital, other health care, and rehabilitation is available and is provided to injured employees;

(d) in consultation with the medical services review board or the rehabilitation review panel, rules establishing standards and procedures for determining whether a provider of health care services and rehabilitation services, including a provider of medical, chiropractic, podiatric, surgical, hospital or other services, is performing procedures or providing services at a level or with a frequency that is excessive, based upon accepted medical standards for quality health care and accepted rehabilitation standards.

If it is determined by the commissioner that the level, frequency or cost of a procedure or service of a provider is excessive according to the standards established by the rules, the provider shall not be paid for the excessive procedure, service, or cost by an insurer, self-insurer, or group self-insurer. In addition, the provider shall not be reimbursed or attempt to collect reimbursement for the excessive procedure, service, or cost from any other source, including the employee, another insurer, the special compensation fund, or any government program.

A health or rehabilitation provider who is determined by the commissioner to be consistently performing procedures or providing services at an excessive level or cost may be prohibited from receiving any further reimbursement for procedures or services provided under chapter 176. A prohibition imposed on a provider under this clause may be grounds for revocation or suspension of the provider's license or certificate of registration to provide health care or rehabilitation service in Minnesota by the appropriate licensing or certifying body.

The rules adopted under this clause shall require insurers, self-insurers, and group self-insurers to report medical and other data necessary to implement the procedures required by this clause;

(e) rules establishing procedures and standards for the certification of physicians, chiropractors, podiatrists, and other health care providers in order to assure the coordination of treatment, rehabilitation, and other services and requirements of chapter 176 for carrying out the purposes and intent of this chapter;

(f) rules necessary for implementing and administering the provisions of sections 176.131, 176.132, 176.134, sections 176.242 and 176.243; sections 176.251, 176.66 to 176.669, and rules regarding proper allocation of compensation under section 176.111. Under the rules adopted under section 176.111 a party may petition for a hearing before a compensation judge to determine the proper allocation. In this case the compensation judge may order a different allocation than prescribed by rule;

(g) rules establishing standards or criteria under which a physician, podiatrist, or chiropractor is selected or under which a change of physician, podiatrist, or chiropractor is allowed under section 176.135, subdivision 2;

(h) rules to govern the procedure for intervention pursuant to section 176.361;

(i) joint rules with either or both the workers' compensation court of appeals and the chief hearing examiner which may be necessary in order to provide for the orderly processing of claims or petitions made or filed pursuant to chapter 176;

(j) rules establishing criteria to be used by the division, compensation judge, and workers' compensation court of appeals to determine "suitable gainful employment" and "independent contractor".

The chief hearing examiner shall adopt rules relating to procedures in matters pending before a compensation judge in the office of administrative hearings.

The commissioner may adopt rules regarding requirements which must be met by individuals who are employed by insurers or self-insurers or claims servicing or adjusting agencies and who work as claims adjusters in the field of workers' compensation insurance.

The commissioner may adopt temporary rules establishing qualifications necessary to be a qualified rehabilitation consultant and penalties to be imposed against qualified rehabilitation consultants or approved vendors who violate this chapter or rules, including temporary rules, adopted under this chapter. In addition to the provisions of sections 14.29 to 14.36, at least one public hearing shall be held prior to the adoption of these temporary rules.

The commissioner may prescribe forms and other reporting procedures to be used by an employer, insurer, medical provider, qualified rehabilitation consultant, approved vendor of rehabilitation services, attorney, employee, or other person subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 164. [176.84] [SPECIFICITY OF NOTICE OR STATEMENT.]

All notices or statements required by this chapter including, but not limited to, notices or statements pursuant to sections 176.102; 176.221; and 176.241; shall be sufficiently specific to convey clearly, without further inquiry, the basis upon which the party issuing the notice or statement is acting. If the commissioner or compensation judge determines that a notice or statement is not sufficiently specific to meet the standard under this section, the notice or statement may be rejected as unacceptable and the party issuing it shall be informed of this. The rejected notice or statement may be amended to meet the requirement of this section or a new one may be filed.

Sec. 165. [176.85] [PENALTIES; APPEALS.]

Subdivision 1. [APPEAL PROCEDURE.] If the commissioner has assessed a penalty against a party subject to this chapter and the party believes the penalty is not warranted, the party may request that a formal hearing be held on the matter. Upon a request for a hearing the commissioner shall refer the matter to the chief hearing examiner for assignment to a compensation judge or hearing examiner.

The chief hearing examiner shall keep a record of the proceeding and provide a record pursuant to section 176.421.

The decision of the compensation judge or hearing examiner shall be final and shall be binding and enforceable. The decision may be appealed to the workers' compensation court of appeals.

Subd. 2. [EXCEPTION.] This section does not apply to penalties for which another appeal procedure is provided, including but not limited to penalties imposed pursuant to section 176.102 or article 1, section 68.

Subd. 3. [HEARING COSTS.] For purposes of this section, a hearing before a hearing examiner shall be treated in the same manner as a hearing before a compensation judge and no costs may be charged to the commissioner for the hearing, regardless of who hears it.

Subd. 3. [NOT ELIGIBLE.] An individual shall not be eligible to receive benefits for any week with respect to which he is receiving, has received, or has filed a claim for remuneration in an amount equal to or in excess of his weekly benefit amount in the form of [LEGISLATIVE INTENT.] It is the intent of the legislature and the purpose of this section to promote the interests and well being of the patients and residents of health care facilities. No health care facility may require a patient or resident to waive these rights as a condition of admission to the facility. Any guardian or conservator of a patient or resident or, in the absence of a guardian or conservator, an interested person, may seek enforcement of these rights on behalf of a patient or resident. It is the intent of this section that every patient's civil and religious liberties, including the right to independent personal decisions and knowledge of available choices, shall not be infringed and that the facility shall encourage and assist in the fullest possible exercise of these rights.

Subd. 2. [DEFINITIONS.] For the purposes of this section, "patient" means a person who is admitted to an acute care inpatient facility for a continuous period longer than 24 hours, for the purpose of diagnosis or treatment bearing on the physical or mental health of that person. "Resident" means a person who is admitted to a non-acute care facility including extended care facilities, nursing homes, and board and care homes for care required because of prolonged mental or physical illness or disability, recovery from injury or disease, or advancing age.

(10) Every patient and resident shall be afforded the opportunity to participate in the planning of his medical treatment and to refuse to participate in experimental research;

(11) No resident shall be arbitrarily transferred or discharged but may be transferred or discharged only for medical reasons, for his or other residents' welfare, or for nonpayment for stay unless prohibited by the welfare programs paying for the care of the resident, as documented in the medical record. Reasonable advance notice of any transfer or discharge must be given to a resident;

(19) Every resident may retain and use his personal clothing and possessions as space permits, unless to do so would infringe upon rights of other patients or residents, and unless medically contraindicated and documented by his physician in the medical record;

(20) Every resident, if married, shall be assured privacy for visits by his or her spouse and if both spouses are residents of the facility, they shall be permitted to share a room, unless medically contraindicated and documented by their physicians in the medical record;

(21) Every patient or resident shall be fully informed, prior to or at the time of admission and during his stay at a facility, of the rights and responsibilities set forth in this section and of all rules governing patient conduct and responsibilities; and

Subd. 4. [INFORMATION ABOUT RIGHTS.] Patients and residents shall, at admission, be told that there are legal rights for their protection during their stay at the facility and that these are described in an accompanying written statement of the applicable rights and responsibilities set forth in this section. Reasonable arrangements shall be made for those with communication impairments and those who speak a language other than English. Current facility policies, inspection findings of state and local health authorities, and further explanation of the written statement of rights shall be available to patients, residents, their guardians or their chosen representatives upon reasonable request to the administrator or other designated staff person.

Subd. 5. [COURTEOUS TREATMENT.] Patients and residents have the right to be treated with courtesy and respect for their individuality by employees of or persons providing service in a health care facility.

Subd. 6. [APPROPRIATE HEALTH CARE.] Patients and residents shall have the right to appropriate medical and personal care based on individual needs. This right is limited where the service is not reimbursable by public or private resources.

Subd. 7. [PHYSICIAN'S IDENTITY.] Patients and residents shall have or be given, in writing, the name, business address, telephone number, and specialty, if any, of the physician responsible for coordination of their care. Subd. 8. [RELATIONSHIP WITH OTHER HEALTH SERVICES.] Patients and residents who receive services from an outside provider are entitled, upon request, to be told the identity of the provider. In cases where it is medically inadvisable, as documented by the attending physician in a patient's or resident's care record, the information shall be given to the patient's or resident's guardian or other person designated by the patient or resident as his or her representative.

Subd. 9. This information shall be in terms and language the patients or residents can reasonably be expected to understand. Patients and residents may be accompanied by a family member or other chosen representative. This information shall include the likely medical or major psychological results of the treatment and its alternatives. In cases where it is medically inadvisable, as documented by the attending physician in a patient's or resident's medical record, the information shall be given to the patient's or resident's guardian or other person designated by the patient or resident as his or her representative. Individuals have the right to refuse this information.

Subd. 10. [PARTICIPATION IN PLANNING TREATMENT.] Patients and residents shall have the right to participate in the planning of their health care. This right includes the opportunity to discuss treatment and alternatives with individual caregivers, the opportunity to request and participate in formal care conferences, and the right to include a family member or other chosen representative. In the event that the patient or resident cannot be present, a family member or other representative chosen by the patient or resident may be included in such conferences.

Subd. 12. [RIGHT TO REFUSE CARE.] Competent patients and residents shall have the right to refuse treatment based on the information required in subdivision 9. Residents who refuse treatment, medication, or dietary restrictions shall be informed of the likely medical or major psychological results of the refusal, with documentation in the individual medical record. In cases where a patient or resident is incapable of understanding the circumstances but has not been adjudicated incompetent, or when legal requirements limit the right to refuse treatment, the conditions and circumstances shall be fully documented by the attending physician in the patient's or resident's medical record.

Subd. 13. [EXPERIMENTAL RESEARCH.] Written, informed consent must be obtained prior to a patient's or resident's participation in experimental research. Patients and residents have the right to refuse participation. Both consent and refusal shall be documented in the individual care record.

"Abuse" means any act which constitutes assault, sexual exploitation, or criminal sexual conduct as described in section 626.557, subdivision 2d, or the intentional and nontherapeutic infliction of physical pain or injury, or any persistent course of conduct intended to produce mental or emotional distress. Every patient and resident shall also be free from nontherapeutic chemical and physical restraints, except in fully documented emergencies, or as authorized in writing after examination by a patient's or resident's physician for a specified and limited period of time, and only when necessary to protect the resident from self-injury or injury to others.

Subd. 15. [TREATMENT PRIVACY.] Patients and residents shall have the right to respectfulness and privacy as it relates to their medical and personal care program. Case discussion, consultation, examination, and treatment are confidential and shall be conducted discreetly. Privacy shall be respected during toileting, bathing, and other activities of personal hygiene, except as needed for patient or resident safety or assistance.

Subd. 16. [CONFIDENTIALITY OF RECORDS.] Patients and residents shall be assured confidential treatment of their personal and medical records, and may approve or refuse their release to any individual outside the facility. Residents shall be notified when personal records are requested by any individual outside the facility and may select someone to accompany them when the records or information are the subject of a personal interview. Copies of records and written information from the records shall be made available in accordance with this subdivision and section 144.335. This right does not apply to complaint investigations and inspections by the department of health, where required by third party payment contracts, or where otherwise provided by law.

Subd. 17. [DISCLOSURE OF SERVICES AVAILABLE.] Patients and residents shall be informed, prior to or at the time of admission and during their stay, of services which are included in the facility's basic per diem or daily room rate and that other services are available at additional charges. Facilities shall make every effort to assist patients and residents in obtaining information regarding whether the medicare or medical assistance program will pay for any or all of the aforementioned services.

Subd. 18. [RESPONSIVE SERVICE.] Patients and residents shall have the right to a prompt and reasonable response to their questions and requests.

Subd. 19. [PERSONAL PRIVACY.] Patients and residents shall have the right to every consideration of their privacy, individuality, and cultural identity as related to their social, religious, and psychological well-being. Facility staff shall respect the privacy of a resident's room by knocking on the door and seeking consent before entering, except in an emergency or where clearly inadvisable.

Subd. 20. [GRIEVANCES.] Patients and residents shall be encouraged and assisted, throughout their stay in a facility, to understand and exercise their rights as patients, residents, and citizens. Patients and residents may voice grievances and recommend changes in policies and services to facility staff and others of their choice, free from restraint, interference, coercion, discrimination, or reprisal, including threat of discharge. Notice of the facility's grievance procedure, as well as addresses and telephone numbers for the office of health facility complaints and the area nursing home ombudsman pursuant to the Older Americans Act, section 307(a)(12) shall be posted in a conspicuous place.

Subd. 21. [COMMUNICATION PRIVACY.] Patients and residents may associate and communicate privately with persons of their choice and enter and, except as provided by the Minnesota Commitment Act, leave the facility as they choose. Patients and residents shall have access, at their expense, to writing instruments, stationery, and postage. Personal mail shall be sent without interference and received unopened unless medically or programmatically contraindicated and documented by the physician in the medical record. There shall be access to a telephone where patients and residents can make and receive calls as well as speak privately. Facilities which are unable to provide a private area shall make reasonable arrangements to accommodate the privacy of patients' or residents' calls. This right is limited where medically inadvisable, as documented by the attending physician in a patient's or resident's care record. Where programmatically limited by a facility abuse prevention plan pursuant to section 626.557, subdivision 14, clause 2, this right shall also be limited accordingly.

Subd. 22. [PERSONAL PROPERTY.] Patients and residents may retain and use their personal clothing and possessions as space permits, unless to do so would infringe upon rights of other patients or residents, and unless medically or programmatically contraindicated for documented medical, safety, or programmatic reasons. The facility must either maintain a central locked depository or provide individual locked storage areas in which residents may store their valuables for safekeeping. The facility may, but is not required to, provide compensation for or replacement of lost or stolen items.

Subd. 23. [SERVICES FOR THE FACILITY.] Patients and residents shall not perform labor or services for the facility unless those activities are included for therapeutic purposes and appropriately goal-related in their individual medical record.

Subd. 24. [CHOICE OF SUPPLIER.] A resident may purchase or rent goods or services not included in the per diem rate from a supplier of his or her choice unless otherwise provided by law. The supplier shall ensure that these purchases are sufficient to meet the medical or treatment needs of the resident.

Subd. 25. [FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.] Competent residents may manage their personal financial affairs, or shall be given at least a quarterly accounting of financial transactions on their behalf if they delegate this responsibility in accordance with the laws of Minnesota to the facility for any period of time.

Subd. 26. [RIGHT TO ASSOCIATE.] Residents may meet with visitors and participate in activities of commercial, religious, political, as defined in section 203B.11 and community groups without interference at their discretion if the activities do not infringe on the right to privacy of other residents or are not programmatically contraindicated. This includes the right to join with other individuals within and outside the facility to work for improvements in long-term care.

Subd. 27. [ADVISORY COUNCILS.] Residents and their families shall have the right to organize, maintain, and participate in resident advisory and family councils. Each facility shall provide assistance and space for meetings. Council meetings shall be afforded privacy, with staff or visitors attending only upon the council's invitation. A staff person shall be designated the responsibility of providing this assistance and responding to written requests which result from council meetings. Resident and family councils shall be encouraged to make recommendations regarding facility policies.

Subd. 28. [MARRIED RESIDENTS.] Residents, if married, shall be assured privacy for visits by their spouses and, if both spouses are residents of the facility, they shall be permitted to share a room, unless medically contraindicated and documented by their physicians in the medical records.

Subd. 29. [TRANSFERS AND DISCHARGES.] Residents shall not be arbitrarily transferred or discharged. Residents must be notified, in writing, of the proposed discharge or transfer and its justification no later than 30 days before discharge from the facility and seven days before transfer to another room within the facility. This notice shall include the resident's right to contest the proposed action, with the address and telephone number of the area nursing home ombudsman pursuant to the Older Americans Act, section 307(a)(12). The resident, informed of this right, may choose to relocate before the notice period ends. The notice period may be shortened in situations outside the facility's control, such as a determination by utilization review, the accommodation of newly-admitted residents, a change in the resident's medical or treatment program, the resident's own or another resident's welfare, or nonpayment for stay unless prohibited by the public program or programs paying for the resident's care, as documented in the medical record. Facilities shall make a reasonable effort to accommodate new residents without disrupting room assignments.

That the House recede from its amendments and S.F. No. 50 be further amended as follows:

Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

260.315 [CONTRIBUTING TO NEGLECT OR DELINQUENCY.]

Any person who by act, word or omission encourages, causes or contributes to the neglect or delinquency of a child, ~~and such act, word or omission is not by other provisions of law declared to be a felony, shall be~~ is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 609.255, is amended to read:
609.255 [FALSE IMPRISONMENT.]

Subdivision 1. [DEFINITION.] As used in this section, the following term has the meaning given it unless specific content indicates otherwise.

(a) “Caretaker” means an individual who has responsibility for the care of a child as a result of a family relationship, or who has assumed responsibility for all or a portion of the care of a child.

Subd. 2. [INTENTIONAL RESTRAINT.] Whoever, knowing he has no lawful authority to do so, intentionally confines or restrains a child not his own under the age of 18 years without his parent’s or legal custodian’s consent, or any other person without his consent, is guilty of false imprisonment and may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than three years or to payment of a fine of not more than $3,000, or both.

Subd. 3. [UNREASONABLE RESTRAINT OF CHILDREN.] A parent, legal guardian, or caretaker who intentionally subjects a child under the age of 18 years to unreasonable physical confinement or restraint by means including but not limited to, tying, locking, caging, or chaining for a prolonged period of time and in a cruel manner which is excessive under the circumstances and which results in substantial emotional harm, is guilty of unreasonable restraint of a child and may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than one year or to payment of a fine of not more than $1,000, or both. If the confinement or restraint results in substantial bodily harm, that person may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than three years or to payment of not more than $3,000, or both.

Sec. 3. [609.376] [DEFINITIONS.]

Subdivision 1. [TERMS DEFINED.] For the purposes of sections 2 and 3 to 7, the following terms have the meanings given unless specific content indicates otherwise.

Subd. 2. [CHILD.] "Child" means any person under the age of 18 years.

Subd. 3. [CARETAKER.] "Caretaker" means an individual who has responsibility for the care of a child as a result of a family relationship or who has assumed responsibility for all or a portion of the care of a child.

Subd. 4. [COMPLAINANT.] "Complainant" means a person alleged to have been a victim of a violation of section 609.255, subdivision 3, section 4, or section 5, but need not be the person who signs the complaint.

Sec. 4. [609.377] [MALICIOUS PUNISHMENT OF A CHILD.]

A parent, legal guardian, or caretaker who, by an intentional act or a series of intentional acts, evidences unreasonable force or cruelty which causes substantial emotional harm to a child is guilty of malicious punishment of a child and may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than one year or to payment of a fine of not more than $1,000, or both. If the punishment results in substantial bodily harm, that person may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than 3 years or to payment of not more than $3,000, or both.

Sec. 5. [609.378] [NEGLECT OF A CHILD.]

(a) A parent, legal guardian, or caretaker who willfully deprives a child of necessary food, clothing, shelter, health care, or supervision appropriate to the child's age, when the parent, guardian, or caretaker is reasonably able to make the necessary provisions and which deprivation substantially harms the child's physical or emotional health, or (b) a parent, legal guardian, or foster parent who knowingly permits the continuing physical or sexual abuse of a child is guilty of neglect of a child and may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than one year or to payment of a fine of not more than $1,000, or both. It is a defense to a prosecution under clause (b) that at the time of the neglect there was a reasonable apprehension in the mind of the defendant that acting to stop or prevent the neglect would result in substantial bodily harm to the defendant or the child in retaliation.

If a parent, guardian, or caretaker responsible for the child's care in good faith selects and depends upon spiritual means or prayer for treatment or care of disease or remedial care of the child, this treatment shall constitute "health care" as used in clause (a) of this section.

Sec. 6. [609.379] [PERMITTED ACTIONS.]

Subdivision 1. [REASONABLE FORCE.] Reasonable force may be used upon or toward the person of a child without the child's consent when the following circumstance exists or the actor reasonably believes it to exist:

When used by a parent, legal guardian, teacher, or other caretaker of a child or pupil, in the exercise of lawful authority, to restrain or correct the child or pupil.

Subd. 2. [APPLICABILITY.] This section applies to sections 1 to 5 and section 626.556, subdivision 12.

Sec. 7. [609.38] [STAYED SENTENCE.]

For any violation of section 609.255, subdivision 3, section 4, or section 5 for which the sentencing guidelines establish a presumptive executed sentence, the court may stay imposition or execution of the sentence if it finds that a stay is in the best interest of the complainant or the family unit and that the defendant is willing to participate in any necessary or appropriate treatment. In determining an appropriate sentence when there is a family relationship between the complainant and the defendant, the court shall be guided by the policy of preserving and strengthening the family unit whenever possible.

Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 626.556, subdivision 12, is amended to read:

Subd. 12. [DUTIES OF FACILITY OPERATORS.] Any operator, employee, or volunteer worker at any facility who intentionally neglects, physically abuses, or sexually abuses any child in the care of that facility may be charged with a violation of ~~section 609.23~~ sections 2, 4 or 5. Any operator of a facility who knowingly permits conditions to exist which result in neglect, physical abuse, or sexual abuse of a child in the care of that facility may be charged with a violation of section 609.23 or section 5.

Sec. 9. [EFFECTIVE DATE.]

Sections 1 to 8 are effective August 1, 1983 and apply to crimes committed on or after that date.

We request adoption of this report and repassage of the bill.

Subd. 2. [COMPULSORY INSURANCE; SELF-INSURERS.] (1) Every employer, except the state and its municipal subdivisions, liable under this chapter to pay compensation shall insure payment of compensation with some insurance carrier authorized to insure workers' compensation liability in this state; or obtain a written order from the commissioner of insurance exempting the employer from insuring his liability for compensation and permitting him to self-insure the liability. The terms, conditions and requirements governing self-insurance shall be established by the commissioner pursuant to chapter 14. The commissioner of insurance shall also adopt, pursuant to clause (2)(c), rules permitting two or more employers, whether or not they are in the same industry, to enter into agreements to pool their liabilities under this chapter for the purpose of qualifying as group self-insurers. With the approval of the commissioner of insurance, any employer may exclude medical, chiropractic and hospital benefits as required by this chapter. An employer conducting distinct operations at different locations may either insure or self-insure the other portion of his operations which may be determined by the commissioner of insurance to be a distinct and separate risk. An employer desiring to be exempted from insuring his liability for compensation shall make application to the commissioner of insurance, showing his financial ability to pay the compensation, whereupon by written order the commissioner of insurance may make an exemption as he deems proper. The commissioner of insurance may require further statements of financial ability of the employer to pay compensation. Upon ten days written notice the commissioner of insurance may revoke his order granting an exemption, in which event the employer shall immediately insure his liability. As a condition for the granting of an exemption the commissioner of insurance may require the employer to furnish security the commissioner of insurance considers sufficient to insure payment of all claims under this chapter. If the required security is in the form of currency or negotiable bonds, the commissioner of insurance shall deposit it with the state treasurer. In the event of any default upon the part of a self-insurer to abide by any final order or decision of the commissioner of labor and industry directing and awarding payment of compensation and benefits to any employee or the dependents of any deceased employee, then upon at least ten days notice to the self-insurer, the commissioner of insurance may by written order to the state treasurer require him to sell the pledged and assigned securities or a part thereof necessary to pay the full amount of any such claim or award with interest thereon. This authority to sell may be exercised from time to time to satisfy any order or award of the commissioner of labor and industry or any judgment obtained thereon. When securities are sold the money obtained shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the commissioner of insurance and awards made against any such self-insurer by the commissioner of insurance shall be paid to the persons entitled thereto by the state treasurer upon warrants prepared by the commissioner of insurance and approved by the commissioner of finance out of the proceeds of the sale of securities. Where the security is in the form of a surety bond or personal guaranty the commissioner of insurance, at any time, upon at least ten days notice and opportunity to be heard, may require the surety to pay the amount of the award; the payments to be enforced in like manner as the award may be enforced.

(2)(a) No association, corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, trust or other business entity shall provide services in the design, establishment or administration of a group self-insurance plan under rules adopted pursuant to this subdivision unless it is licensed to do so by the commissioner of insurance. An applicant for a license shall state in writing the type of activities it seeks authorization to engage in and the type of services it seeks authorization to provide. The license shall be granted only when the commissioner of insurance is satisfied that the entity possesses the necessary organization, background, expertise, and financial integrity to supply the services sought to be offered. The commissioner of insurance may issue a license subject to restrictions or limitations, including restrictions or limitations on the type of services which may be supplied or the activities which may be engaged in. The license is for a two year period.

(b) To assure that group self-insurance plans are financially solvent, administered in a fair and capable fashion, and able to process claims and pay benefits in a prompt, fair and equitable manner, entities licensed to engage in such business are subject to supervision and examination by the commissioner of insurance.

(c) To carry out the purposes of this subdivision, the commissioner of insurance may promulgate administrative rules, including emergency rules, pursuant to sections 14.01 to 14.70. These rules may:

(i) establish reporting requirements for administrators of group self-insurance plans;

(ii) establish standards and guidelines to assure the adequacy of the financing and administration of group self-insurance plans;

(iii) establish bonding requirements or other provisions assuring the financial integrity of entities administering group self-insurance plans;

(iv) establish standards, including but not limited to minimum terms of membership in self-insurance plans, as necessary to provide stability for those plans;

(v) establish standards or guidelines governing the formation, operation, administration and dissolution of self-insurance plans; and

(vi) establish other reasonable requirements to further the purposes of this

Wherever in chapters 79 and 176 the terms “self insurer”, “group self insurer” and similar terms occur, when referring to the exemption of private employers from the requirement to purchase insurance pursuant to Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.181, those terms shall be stricken if the remaining context is clear and free from ambiguity.”

176.001 [INTENT OF THE LEGISLATURE.]

It is the intent of the legislature that chapter 176 be interpreted so as to assure the quick and efficient delivery of indemnity and medical benefits to injured workers at a reasonable cost to the employers who are subject to the provisions of chapter 176. It is the specific intent of the legislature that workers' compensation cases shall be decided on their merits and that the common law rule of "liberal construction" based on the supposed "remedial" basis of workers' compensation legislation shall not apply in such cases. The workers' compensation system in Minnesota is based on a mutual renunciation of common law rights and defenses by employers and employees alike. Employees' rights to sue for damages over and above medical and health care benefits and wage loss benefits are to a certain degree limited by the provisions of this chapter, and employers' rights to raise common law defenses such as lack of negligence, contributory negligence on the part of the employee, and others, are curtailed as well. Accordingly, the legislature hereby declares that the workers' compensation laws are not remedial in any sense and are not to be given a broad liberal construction in favor of the claimant or employee on the one hand, nor are the rights and interests of the employer to be favored over those of the employee on the other hand.”

Subd. 1a. [BURDEN OF PROOF.] All disputed issues of fact arising under chapter 176 shall be determined by a preponderance of the evidence, and in accordance with the principles laid down in section 176.001. Preponderance of the evidence means evidence produced in substantiation of a fact which, when weighed against the evidence opposing the fact, has more convincing force and greater probability of truth.

Questions of law arising under chapter 176 shall be determined in accordance with the rules of construction generally applied to all other civil matters on an even-handed basis in accordance with the principles laid down in section 176.001."

Subd. 2. The reinsurance association shall provide and each member shall accept indemnification for 100 percent of the amount of ultimate loss sustained in each loss occurrence relating to one or more claims arising out of a single compensable event, including aggregate losses related to a single event or occurrence which constitutes a single loss occurrence, under chapter 176 on and after October 1, 1979, in excess of $300,000 or $100,000 retention limit, at the option of the member. In case of occupational disease causing disablement on and after October 1, 1979, each person suffering such disablement shall be considered to be involved in a separate loss occurrence. The lesser lower retention limit shall be increased to the nearest $10,000, on January 1, 1982 and on each January 1 thereafter by the percentage increase in the statewide average weekly wage, as determined in accordance with section 176.011, subdivision 20. On January 1, 1982 and on each January 1 thereafter, the greater higher retention limit shall be increased by the amount necessary to retain a $200,000 difference between the two retention limits. Ultimate loss as used in this section means the actual loss amount which a member is obligated to pay and which is paid by the member for workers' compensation benefits payable under chapter 176 and shall not include claim expenses, assessments, damages or penalties. For losses incurred on or after January 1, 1979, any amounts paid by a member pursuant to sections 176.183, 176.221, 176.225, and 176.82 shall not be included in ultimate loss and shall not be indemnified by the reinsurance association. A loss is incurred by the reinsurance association on the date on which the accident or other compensable event giving rise to the loss occurs, and a member is liable for a loss up to its retention limit in effect at the time that the loss was incurred, except that members which are determined by the reinsurance association to be controlled by or under common control with another member, and which are liable for claims from one or more employees entitled to compensation for a single compensable event, including aggregate losses relating to a single loss occurrence, may aggregate their losses and obtain indemnification from the reinsurance association for the aggregate losses in excess of the higher retention limit in effect at the time the loss was incurred. Each member is liable for payment of its ultimate loss and shall be entitled to indemnification from the reinsurance association for the ultimate loss in excess of the member's retention limit in effect at the time of the loss occurrence.

A member that chooses the higher retention limit shall retain the liability for all losses below the higher retention limit itself and shall not transfer the liability to any other entity or reinsure or otherwise contract for reimbursement or indemnification for losses below its retention limit, except in the following cases: (a) when the reinsurance or contract is with another member which, directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, control or are controlled by or are under common control with the member; (b) when the reinsurance or contract provides for reimbursement or indemnification of a member if and only if the total of all claims which the member pays or incurs, but which are not reimbursable or subject to indemnification by the reinsurance association for a given period of time, exceeds a dollar value or percentage of premium written or earned and stated in the reinsurance agreement or contract; (c) when the reinsurance or contract is a pooling arrangement with other insurers where liability of the member to pay claims pursuant to chapter 176 is incidental to participation in the pool and not as a result of providing workers' compensation insurance to employers on a direct basis under chapter 176; (d) when the reinsurance or contract is limited to all the claims of a specific insured of a member which are reimbursed or indemnified by a reinsurer which, directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls or is controlled by or is under common control with the insured of the member so long as any subsequent contract or reinsurance of the reinsurer relating to the claims of the insured of a member is not inconsistent with the bases of exception provided under clauses (a), (b) and (c) above; or (e) when the reinsurance or contract is limited to all claims of a specific self-insurer member which are reimbursed or indemnified by a reinsurer which, directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls or is controlled by or is under common control with the self-insurer member so long as any subsequent contract or reinsurance of the reinsurer relating to the claims of the self-insurer member are not inconsistent with the bases for exception provided under clauses (a), (b) and (c) above.

Solely for the purpose of reporting claims, the member shall in all instances consider itself legally liable for the injury. The member shall advise the reinsurance association of subsequent developments likely to materially affect the interest of the reinsurance association in the claim;

The prefunded limit shall be $2,500,000 on and after October 1, 1979, provided that the prefunded limit shall be increased on January 1, 1983 and on each January 1 thereafter by the percentage increase in the statewide average weekly wage, to the nearest $100,000, as determined in accordance with section 176.011, subdivision 20. Each member shall be charged a proportion of the total premium in an amount equal to its proportion of the ~~total standard earned premium exposure base~~ of all members during the period to which the reinsurance association premium will apply, ~~as determined by the commissioner.~~ The exposure base shall be determined by the board and is subject to the approval of the commissioner. In determining the exposure base, the board shall consider, among other things, equity, administrative convenience, records maintained by members, amenability to audit, and degree of risk refinement. Each member shall also be charged a premium determined by the board to equitably distribute excess or deficient premiums from previous periods including any excess or deficient premiums resulting from a retroactive change in the prefunded limit. ~~An equitable basis for determining standard earned premium for self-insurers shall be established by the commissioner.~~ The premiums charged to members shall not be unfairly discriminatory as defined in section 79.074. (h) Provide each member of the reinsurance association with an annual report of the operations of the reinsurance association in a form the board of directors may specify.

Sec. 16. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 176.001, is amended to read:

It is the intent of the legislature that chapter 176 be interpreted so as to assure the quick and efficient delivery of indemnity and medical benefits to injured workers at a reasonable cost to the employers who are subject to the provisions of chapter 176. It is the specific intent of the legislature that workers' compensation cases shall be decided on their merits and that the common law rule of "liberal construction" based on the supposed "remedial" basis of workers' compensation legislation shall not apply in such cases. The workers' compensation system in Minnesota is based on a mutual renunciation of common law rights and defenses by employers and employees alike. Employees' rights to sue for damages over and above medical and health care benefits and wage loss benefits are to a certain degree limited by the provisions of this chapter, and employers' rights to raise common law defenses such as lack of negligence, contributory negligence on the part of the employee, and others, are curtailed as well. Accordingly, the legislature hereby declares that the workers' compensation laws are not remedial in any sense and are not to be given a broad liberal construction in favor of the claimant or employee on the one hand, nor are the rights and interests of the employer to be favored over those of the employee on the other hand.

The commissioner of insurance shall also conduct a study of the qualifications and background of rehabilitation consultants and vendors providing services under section 176.102 for the purpose of determining whether there are adequate professional standards provided, including safeguards to protect against conflicts of interest. If upon the effective date of this section this study has already been conducted by the commissioner of insurance, the commissioner is not required to conduct the study.

The commissioner of insurance shall adopt temporary rules in order to implement the provisions of this subdivision. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 14.14, subdivision 1, and any amendments, the temporary rules adopted by the commissioner of insurance pursuant to this subdivision may be extended for an additional 180 days if the procedures for adoption of a rule pursuant to sections 14.13 to 14.20 or 14.21 to 14.28, and other provisions of the administrative procedure act related to final agency action and rule adoption have not been concluded.

In all cases of a request for the data, except when it is the employee who is making the request, the employee shall be sent written notification of the request by the party requesting the data at the same time the request is made. This data shall be treated as private data by the party who requests or receives the data and the employee or the employee's attorney shall be provided with a copy of all data requested.

In addition, the provider shall not be reimbursed or attempt to collect reimbursement for the excessive procedure, service, or cost from any other source, including the employee, another insurer, the special compensation fund, or any government program.

A health or rehabilitation provider who is determined by the commissioner to be consistently performing procedures or providing services at an excessive level or cost may be prohibited from receiving any further reimbursement for procedures or services provided under chapter 176. A prohibition imposed on a provider under this clause may be grounds for revocation or suspension of the provider's license or certificate of registration to provide health care or rehabilitation service in Minnesota by the appropriate licensing or certifying body.

The rules adopted under this clause shall require insurers, self-insurers, and group self-insurers to report medical and other data necessary to implement the procedures required by this clause;

(e) rules establishing procedures and standards for the certification of physicians, chiropractors, podiatrists, and other health care providers, including rules related to additional training and continuing education, in order to assure the coordination of treatment, rehabilitation, and other services and requirements of chapter 176 for carrying out the purposes and intent of this chapter;

In adopting the rule regarding the assessment, the commissioner shall consider among other things, the expenditures to be made from the fund in the next calendar year, the current fund balance, and future expenditure trends;

(h) rules establishing standards or criteria under which a physician, podiatrist, or chiropractor is selected or under which a change of physician, podiatrist, or chiropractor is allowed under section 176.135, subdivision 2;

(i) rules to govern the procedure for intervention pursuant to section 176.361;

(j) joint rules with either or both the workers' compensation court of appeals and the chief hearing examiner which may be necessary in order to provide for the orderly processing of claims or petitions made or filed pursuant to chapter 176;

In addition to the provisions of sections 14.29 to 14.36, at least one public hearing shall be held prior to the adoption of these temporary rules.

Subd. 2. [EXCEPTION.] This section does not apply to penalties for which another appeal procedure is provided, including but not limited to penalties imposed pursuant to sections 176.102 or 176.103.

Subd. 3. [HEARING COSTS.] For purposes of this section, a hearing before a hearing examiner shall be treated in the same manner as a hearing before a compensation judge and no costs may be charged to the commissioner for the hearing, regardless of who hears it.

Subd. 3. [NOT ELIGIBLE.] An individual shall not be eligible to receive benefits for any week with respect to which he is receiving, has received, or has filed a claim for remuneration in an amount equal to or in excess of his weekly benefit amount in the form of

(1) termination, severance, or dismissal payment or wages in lieu of notice whether legally required or not; provided that if a termination, severance, or dismissal payment is made in a lump sum, the employer may allocate such lump sum payment over a period equal to the lump sum divided by the employee's regular pay while employed by such employer; provided any such payment shall be applied for a period immediately following the last day of work but not to exceed 28 calendar days; or

(2) vacation allowance paid directly by the employer for a period of requested vacation, including vacation periods assigned by the employer under the provisions of a collective bargaining agreement, or uniform vacation shutdown; or

(3) compensation for loss of wages under the workers' compensation law of this state or any other state or under a similar law of the United States, or under other insurance or fund established and paid for by the employer except that this does not apply to an individual who is receiving temporary partial compensation pursuant to section 176.101, subdivision 3j; or

(4) 50 percent of the pension payments from any fund, annuity or insurance maintained or contributed to by a base period employer including the armed forces of the United States if the employee contributed to the fund, annuity or insurance and all of the pension payments if the employee did not contribute to the fund, annuity or insurance; or

(5) 50 percent of a primary insurance benefit under Title II of the social security act as amended, or similar old age benefits under any act of congress or this state or any other state.

Provided, that if such remuneration is less than the benefits which would otherwise be due under sections 268.03 to 268.24, he shall be entitled to receive for such week, if otherwise eligible, benefits reduced by the amount of such remuneration; provided, further, that if the appropriate agency of such other state or the federal government finally determines that he is not entitled to such benefits, this provision shall not apply.

Sec. 150. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 471.982, subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. The commissioner of insurance is authorized to ~~promulgate~~ adopt administrative rules, including emergency rules pursuant to sections 14.01 to 14.70. These rules may provide standards or guidelines governing the formation, operation, administration, dissolution of self insurance pools, and other reasonable requirements to further the purpose of this section ~~and. In developing the rules under this section, the commissioner shall at a minimum require~~ consider the following:

(a) The requirements for self-insuring pools of political subdivisions shall be no more nor less restrictive than the requirements for self-insuring pools of private employers;

(b) All participants in the pool are jointly and severally liable for all claims and expenses of the pool;

~~(b)~~ (c) Each pool shall contract with a service company licensed by the commissioner to provide or contract for all administrative services required by the pool. The license shall be granted only when the commissioner is satisfied that the entity possesses the necessary organization, background, expertise, and financial integrity to supply the services sought to be offered. The commissioner may issue a license subject to restrictions or limitations upon the authorization, including the type of services which may be supplied or the activities which may be engaged in. The license fee shall be $100. All licenses shall be for a period of two years;

~~(c)~~ (d) The service company has sole responsibility for the settlement of all claims against the pool or its members for which the pool may provide indemnification;

~~(e)~~ (f) All premiums or other assessments due to the pool from members shall be payable prior to the period for which coverage is being provided, or at equal intervals throughout the period;

~~(f)~~ (g) Premiums shall ~~either be established by an actuary approved by the commissioner or shall be premiums filed by a licensed rate service organization with reductions permitted solely for administrative or premium tax savings neither excessive, inadequate, nor unfairly discriminatory;~~

~~(g)~~ (h) The commissioner may require each pool to purchase excess insurance above certain limits and in a particular form. The limits or form of the excess insurance may differ based on the kinds of coverage offered by a pool, the limits of liability of the coverage, and the revenues available to pool members for the payment of premiums or assessments;

- ~~(h)~~ (i) Each pool shall be audited annually by a certified public accountant;
- ~~(i)~~ (j) Whether limitations on the payment of dividends to pool members ~~may be established as~~ are necessary to assure the solvency of the pool;

- ~~(k)~~ (l) The amount of any liabilities in excess of assets shall be assessed to members of the pool within 30 days after a deficiency is identified and shall be payable by the member within 90 days;
- ~~(l)~~ (m) The investment policies of the pool shall be governed by the laws governing investments by cities pursuant to section 475.66;
- ~~(m)~~ (n) Pools shall be subject to the standards of unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices established in chapter 72A;
- ~~(n)~~ (o) Other requirements that are necessary to protect the solvency of the pool, the rights and privileges of claimants against the pool, and citizens of the members of the pool shall be included in the rules.

If any provision of this act is found to be unconstitutional and void, the remaining provisions of the act shall remain valid, unless the court finds the valid provisions of the act are so essentially and inseparably connected with, and so dependent upon, the void provisions that the court cannot presume the legislature would have enacted the remaining valid provisions without the void one; or unless the court finds the remaining valid provisions, standing alone, are incomplete and are incapable of being executed in accordance with the legislative intent.

Sec. 155. [176.1011] [PERMANENT PARTIAL DISABILITY, WHOLE BODY SCHEDULE.]

Subdivision 1. [GENERAL.] For permanent partial disability the percentage loss of a part of the body as it relates to the whole body is as indicated in this section.

Subd. 2. [MEMBERS.] (a) For the loss of a hand, not including wrist movement, 42 percent of the whole body;

(b) For the loss of a hand, including wrist movement, 48 percent of the whole body;

(c) For the loss of an arm, 60 percent of the whole body;

(d) For the loss of a foot, including ankle movement, 32 percent of the whole body;

(e) For loss of a leg, if enough remains to permit the use of an effective artificial member, 40 percent of the whole body;

(f) For the loss of a leg so close to the hip that no effective artificial member can be used, 50 percent of the whole body;

(g) For loss of the great toe, eight percent of the whole body;

(h) For loss of a toe other than the great toe, three percent of the whole body.

Subd. 3. [VISION.] For the complete loss of vision, 85 percent of the whole body. In determining the degree of vision impairment as it relates to complete loss of vision, clauses (1) to (6) must be used.

(1) [MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM LIMITS OF THE PRIMARY COORDINATE FACTORS OF VISION.] In order to determine the various degrees of visual efficiency, normal or maximum, and minimum, limits for each coordinate function must be established those being, the 100 percent point and the zero percent point.

(a) [MAXIMUM LIMITS.] The maximum efficiency for each of these is established by existing and accepted standards.

1. [CENTRAL VISUAL ACUITY.] The ability to recognize letters or characters which subtend an angle of five minutes, each unit part of which subtends a one-minute angle at the distance viewed is accepted as standard. Therefore a 20/20 Snellen or A.M.A. and a 14/14 A.M.A. are employed as the maximum acuity of central vision, or 100 percent acuity for distance vision and near vision respectively.

2. [FIELD VISION.] A visual field having an area which extends from the point of fixation outward 65 degrees, down and out 65 degrees, down 55 degrees, down and in 5 degrees, inward 45 degrees, in and up 45 degrees, upward 45 degrees, and up and out 55 degrees is accepted as 100 percent industrial visual field efficiency.

3. [BINOCULAR VISION.] Maximum binocular vision is present if there is absence of diplopia in all parts of the field of binocular fixation, and if the two eyes give useful binocular vision.

(b) [MINIMUM LIMITS.] The minimum limit, or the zero percent of the coordinate functions of vision, is established at that degree of efficiency which reduces vision to a state of industrial uselessness.

1. [CENTRAL VISUAL ACUITY.] The minimum limit of this function is established as the loss of light perception, light perception being qualitative vision. The practical minimum limit of quantitative visual acuity is established as the ability to distinguish form. Experience, experiment, and authoritative opinion show that for distance vision 20/200 Snellen or A.M.A. Chart is 80 percent loss of visual efficiency, 20/380 is 96 percent loss, and 20/800 is 99.9 percent loss, and that for near vision 14/141 A.M.A. Reading Card is 80 percent loss of visual efficiency, 14/266 is 96 percent loss, and 14/560 is 99.9 percent loss. Table 1 shows the percentage loss of visual efficiency corresponding to the Snellen and other notations for distance and for near vision, for the measurable range of quantitative visual acuity.

2. [FIELD VISION.] The minimum limit for this function is established as a concentric central contraction of the visual field to five degrees. This degree of contraction of the visual field of an eye reduces the visual efficiency to zero.

3. [BINOCULAR VISION.] The minimum limit is established by the presence of diplopia in all parts of the motor field, or by lack of useful binocular vision. This condition constitutes 50 percent motor field efficiency.

Where distance vision is less than 20/200 and the A.M.A. Chart is used, readings will be at ten feet. The percentage of efficiency and loss may be obtained from this table by comparison with corresponding readings on the basis of 20 feet, interpolating between readings if necessary. In view of the lack of uniform standards among the various near vision charts, readings for near vision, within the range of vision covered thereby, are to be according to the American Medical Association Rating Reading Card of 1932.

(2) [MEASUREMENT OF COORDINATE FACTORS OF VISION AND THE COMPUTATION OF THEIR PARTIAL LOSS.] (a) [CENTRAL VISUAL ACUITY.] 1. Central visual acuity shall be measured both for distance and for near, each eye being measured separately, both with and without correction. Where the purpose of the computation is to determine loss of vision resulting from injury, if correction is needed for a presbyopia due to age or for some other condition clearly not due to the injury, the central visual acuity "without correction," as the term is used in this section, shall be measured with a correction applied for the presbyopia or other preexisting condition but without correction for any condition which may have resulted from the injury. The central visual acuity with correction shall be measured with correction applied for all conditions present.

2. The percentage of central visual acuity efficiency of the eye for distance vision shall be based on the best percentage of central visual acuity between the percentage of central visual acuity with and without correction. No subtraction for glasses may be taken at more than 25 percent, or less than five percent, of total central visual acuity efficiency. If a subtraction of five percent reduces the percentage of central visual acuity efficiency below that obtainable without correction, the percentage obtainable without correction shall be adopted unless correction is necessary to prevent eye strain or for other reasons.

3. The percentage of central visual acuity efficiency of the eye for near vision shall be based on a similar computation from the near vision readings, with and without correction.

4. The percentage of central visual acuity efficiency of the eye in question shall be the result of the weighted values assigned to these two percentages for distance and for near. A onefold value is assigned to distance vision and a twofold value to near vision. If the central visual efficiency for distance is 70 percent and that for near is 40 percent, the percentage of central visual efficiency for the eye in question would be:

	40
	150 divided by 3 = 50 percent
	central visual acuity efficiency

5. The Snellen test letters or characters as published by the Committee on Compensation for Eye Injuries of the American Medical Association and designated "Industrial Vision Test Charts" subtend a five-minute angle, and their component parts a one-minute angle. These test letters or the equivalent are to be used at an examining distance of 20 feet for distant vision (except as otherwise noted on the chart where vision is very poor), and 14 inches for near vision, from the patient. The illumination is to be not less than three-foot candles, nor more than ten-foot candles on the surface of the chart.

6. Table 1 shows the percentage of central visual acuity efficiency and the percentage loss of efficiency, both for distance and for near, for partial loss between 100 percent and zero vision for either eye.

(b) [FIELD VISION.] 1. The extent of the field of vision shall be determined by the use of the usual perimetric test methods, a white target being employed which subtends a one-degree angle under illumination of not less than three-foot candles, and the result plotted on the industrial visual field chart. The readings should be taken, if possible, without restriction to the field covered by the correction worn.

2. The amount of radial contraction in the eight principal meridians shall be determined. The sum of the degrees of field vision remaining on these meridians, divided by 420 (the sum of the eight principal radii of the industrial visual field) will give the visual field efficiency of one eye in percent, except that a concentric central contraction of the field to a diameter of five degrees reduces the visual efficiency to zero.

3. Where the impairment of field is irregular and not fairly disclosed by the eight radii, the impaired area should be sketched upon the diagram on the report blank, and the computation be based on a greater number of radii, or otherwise, as may be necessary to a fair determination.

(c) [BINOCULAR VISION.] 1. Binocular vision shall be measured in all parts of the motor field, recognized methods being used for testing. It shall be measured with any useful correction applied.

2. Diplopia may involve the field of binocular fixation entirely or partially. When diplopia is present, this shall be plotted on the industrial motor field chart. This chart is divided into 20 rectangles, four by five degrees in size. The partial loss due to diplopia is that proportional area which shows diplopia as indicated on the plotted chart compared with the entire motor field area.

3. If diplopia involves the entire motor field, causing an irremediable diplopia, or when there is absence of useful binocular vision due to lack of accommodation or other reason, the loss of coordinate visual efficiency is equal to 50 percent loss of the vision existing in one eye (ordinarily the injured, or the more seriously injured, eye). If the diplopia is partial, the loss in visual efficiency shall be proportional and based on the efficiency factor value of one eye as stated in table 2. If useful correction is applied to relieve diplopia, five percent of total motor field efficiency of one eye shall be deducted from the percent of the efficiency obtainable with the correction. A correction which does not improve motor field efficiency by at least five percent of total will not ordinarily be considered useful.

percent, the visual efficiency would be 50 times 80 times 50 equals 20 percent.

(4) [COMPUTATION OF COMPENSATION FOR IMPAIRMENT OF VISION.] When the percentage of industrial visual efficiency of each eye has been determined, it is subtracted from 100 percent. The difference represents the percentage impairment of each eye for industrial use. These percentages are applied directly to the specific schedules of chapter 176.

(5) [TYPES OF OCULAR INJURY NOT INCLUDED IN THE DISTURBANCE OF COORDINATE FACTORS.] Certain types of ocular disturbance are not included in the foregoing computations and these may result in disabilities, the value of which cannot be computed by any scale as yet scientifically possible of deduction. These are disturbances of accommodation not previously provided for in these rules, of color vision, of adaptation to light and dark, metamorphopsia, entropion, ectropion, lagophthalmos, epiphora, and muscle disturbances not included under diplopia. For these disabilities additional compensation shall be awarded, but in no case shall the additional award make the total compensation for loss in industrial visual efficiency greater than that provided by law for total permanent disability.

(6) [MISCELLANEOUS RULES.] (a) Compensation shall not be computed until all adequate and reasonable operations and treatment known to medical science have been attempted to correct the defect. Prior to the final examination on which compensation is to be computed, at least three months shall have elapsed after the last trace of visible inflammation has disappeared. If in cases of disturbance of extrinsic ocular muscles, optic nerve atrophy, injury of the retina, sympathetic ophthalmia, and traumatic cataract, at least 12 months and preferably not more than 16 months shall intervene before the examination is made on which final compensation is to be computed. In case the injury is one which may cause cataract, optic atrophy, disturbance of the retina, or other conditions, which may further impair vision after the time of the final examination, a note of that fact should be made by the examining physician on his report.

(b) In cases of additional loss in visual efficiency, when it is known that there was present a preexisting subnormal vision, compensation shall be based on the loss incurred as a result of eye injury or occupational condition specifically responsible for the additional loss. If there exists no record or no adequate and positive evidence of preexisting subnormal vision, it shall be assumed that the visual efficiency prior to any injury was 100 percent. An examining physician must carefully distinguish, in regard to each of the coordinate factors, between impairments resulting from the injury and impairments not so resulting. Other impairments should be reported separately.

Subd. 4. [AUDITORY.] For complete loss of hearing, 35 percent of the whole body. In determining the degree of hearing loss as it relates to complete hearing loss, clauses (1) to (9) must be used:

(1) [HARMFUL NOISE.] Hearing loss resulting from hazardous noise exposure depends upon several factors, namely, the overall intensity (sound pressure level), the daily exposure, the frequency characteristic of the noise spectrum and the total lifetime exposure. Noise exposure level of 90 decibels or more as measured on the A scale of a sound level meter for eight hours a day is considered to be harmful.

(2) [MEASUREMENT OF NOISE.] Noise shall be measured with a sound level meter which meets ANSI standard S1.4-1971 and shall be measured on the "A" weighted network for "slow response". Noise levels reaching maxima at intervals of one second or less shall be classified as being continuous. The measurement of noise is primarily the function of acoustical engineers and properly trained personnel. Noise should be scientifically measured by properly trained individuals using approved calibrated instruments which at the present time include sound level meters, octave band analyzers and oscilloscopes, the latter particularly for impact-type noises.

(3) [MEASURE OF HEARING ACUITY.] The use of pure tone air conduction audiometry performed under proper testing conditions is recommended for establishing the hearing acuity of workers. The audiometer should be one which meets the specifications of ANSI standard 53.6-1969 (4). The audiometer should be periodically calibrated. Preemployment records should include a satisfactory personal and occupational history on hearing status. Otological examination should be made where indicated.

(4) [FORMULA FOR MEASURING HEARING IMPAIRMENT.] For the purpose of determining the hearing impairment, pure tone air conduction audiometry is used, measuring all frequencies between 500 and 6,000 Hz. This formula uses the average of the three speech frequencies of 1,000, 2,000, and 3,000 Hz. Audiometric measurement for these three frequencies averaging 35 decibels or less on the ANSI calibration does not constitute any practical hearing impairment. A table for evaluating hearing impairment based upon the average readings of these three frequencies follows below. No deduction is made for presbycusis.

(5) [DIAGNOSIS AND EVALUATION.] The diagnosis of occupational hearing loss is based upon the occupational and medical history, the results of the otological and audiometric examinations and their evaluation.

(6) [TREATMENT.] There is no known medical or surgical treatment for improving or restoring hearing loss due to hazardous noise exposure.

(7) [ALLOWANCE FOR TINNITUS.] In addition to the above impairment, if tinnitus has permanently resulted due to work exposure, an allowance of five percent loss of hearing impairment for the affected ear or ears shall be computed.

(9) [METHOD FOR DETERMINING PERCENT OF HEARING IMPAIRMENT.] Obtain for each ear the average hearing level in decibels at the three frequencies, 1,000, 2,000, and 3,000 Hz.

See table for converting to percentage of hearing impairment in each ear.

Subd. 5. [HEAD INJURIES.] (a) For head injuries, the percentage of permanent partial disability to the whole body multiplied by 95 percent. The percentage shall be determined from competent testimony at a hearing before a compensation judge or by the workers' compensation court of appeals in cases upon appeal except in cases where clause (b) is applicable.

(b) Skull defect:

Percent	Percent	Unfilled defect	Filled defect
1 square inch		10 whole body	3 whole body
2 square inches		15 whole body	4 whole body
3 square inches		20 whole body	5 whole body
5 square inches		25 whole body	7 whole body
8 or more square inches		30 whole body	10 whole body

Subd. 6. [INTERNAL ORGANS.] For permanent partial disability to an internal organ, until the commissioner adopts a schedule of degree of disability for internal organs, that percent, not to exceed 100 percent, which is percent of permanent partial disability caused to the whole body by the injury as is determined from competent testimony at a hearing before a compensation judge or the workers' compensation court of appeals.

Subd. 7. [DISFIGUREMENT; SCARRING.] For disfigurement or scarring not resulting from the loss of a member or other injury specifically compensated, affecting the employability or advancement opportunity of the injured person in the employment in which he was injured or other employment for which the employee is then qualified or for which the employee has become qualified, the percentage the parties agree to or the compensation judge or the workers' compensation court of appeals in cases on appeal determines, not exceeding 15 percent of the whole body.

Subd. 8. [BURNS.] For permanent partial disability resulting from injury to the body as a whole due to thermal injury from extreme heat, radiation, cold, or chemical resulting in permanent injury to the skin including heat intolerance, cold intolerance, and loss of durability; skin sensitivity and altered sweating with aprocrine gland dysfunction; decreased sensation of the hand not directly related to nerve injury; and pain, loss of pigment, contracture and edema, that proportion of 70 percent which is represented by the percentage of the permanent partial disability as is determined from competent testimony at a hearing before a compensation judge or as determined by the workers' compensation court of appeals in cases on appeal, the percentage to be in addition to the rating the employee would otherwise be entitled to for loss of use of a member in accordance with this section.

Subd. 9. [ORTHOPAEDIC INJURIES.] For the purpose of chapter 176, unless the context requires otherwise "manual" means the "manual for orthopaedic surgeons in evaluating permanent physical impairment" published by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons. The manual is incorporated by reference into this chapter. Unless a contrary provision specifically exists in this chapter or in rules, the manual shall be used to determine all permanent partial disabilities which are specifically listed in the manual. The most recent manual as of May 1, 1983, shall be used for purposes of this subdivision and future amended versions shall not be used. All references to percent of permanent physical impairment and loss of physical function in the manual are the proportion that the specified impairment bears to the entire member unless otherwise specified in the manual. The proportion that the member bears to the whole body is to be determined pursuant to this subdivision.

Subd. 11. [LOSS OF USE OF MEMBER.] In all cases of permanent partial disability, it is considered that the permanent loss of the use of a member is equivalent to and draws the same compensation as the loss of that member.

Subd. 12. [MEMBER NOT IN SCHEDULE.] In cases of permanent partial disability to a body part not listed in this schedule or the manual, the percentage loss of function which the disability bears to the whole body shall be determined pursuant to rules adopted by the commissioner.

Subd. 13. [INJURY TO MORE THAN ONE BODY PART.] If an employee suffers a permanent functional disability of more than one body part due to a personal injury incurred in a single occurrence, the percent of the whole body which is permanently partially disabled shall be determined by the following formula so as to ensure that the percentage for all functional disability combined does not exceed the total for the whole body:

where: A is the greater percentage whole body loss of the first body part; and B is the lesser percentage whole body loss otherwise payable for the second body part.

For permanent partial disabilities to three body parts due to a single occurrence or as the result of an occupational disease, the above formula shall be applied, providing that A equals the result obtained from application of the formula to the first two body parts and B equals the percentage for the third body part. For permanent partial disability to four or more body parts incurred as described above, A equals the result obtained from the prior application of the formula, and B equals the percentage for the fourth body part or more in arithmetic progressions."

Any total disability benefits shall be reduced by the following:

(a) Benefits from any government disability program or any old age benefits program for which the employee is eligible;

(b) Any benefit payment from a public or private sector pension or retirement fund or program, whether or not the fund or program is a qualified plan within the meaning of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, which is payable at an age prior to the attainment of the normal retirement age specified in the benefit plan of the fund or program, or the age for the receipt of a retirement annuity or pension which is not reduced for early retirement, and which is payable on account of the injury, illness, or accident of the person which renders the person incapable of continued employment;

(c) Any benefit payment pursuant to a disability benefit plan or program, whether provided pursuant to a contract with an insurance carrier, self insured by the employer with reserves or self insured by the employer without reserves, which is provided to the person by virtue of employment by that employer and which is financed in whole or in part by the employer.

If an employee may be eligible for these benefits but has not made application, then the employer shall notify the employee of the possible eligibility and if no application has been made within 30 days of the notice, the payment of benefits under this chapter shall be interrupted until application is made. These benefits shall be paid in full after the application has been made. Mr. Johnson, D.E. moved to amend S.F. No. 265 as follows:

Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

“Section 1. [252.291] [LIMITATION ON DETERMINATION OF NEED.]

Subdivision 1. [MORATORIUM.] Notwithstanding section 252.28, subdivision 1, or any other law or rule to the contrary, the commissioner of public welfare shall deny any request for a determination of need and refuse to grant a license pursuant to section 245.782 for any new intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons or for an increase in the licensed capacity of an existing facility if the total of certified intermediate care beds for mentally retarded persons in community facilities and state hospitals would exceed 7,500 beds. “Certified bed” means an intermediate care bed for the mentally retarded certified by the commissioner of health for the purposes of the medical assistance program under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982.

Subd. 2. [MONITORING.] The commissioner of public welfare, in coordination with the commissioner of health, shall implement mechanisms to monitor and analyze the effects of the bed moratorium in the different geographic areas of the state. The commissioner of public welfare shall submit to the legislature annually beginning January 15, 1984, an assessment of the impact of the moratorium by geographic areas.

Sec. 2. [256B.092] [HOME AND COMMUNITY SERVICES FOR MENTALLY RETARDED PERSONS.]

Subdivision 1. [FEDERAL WAIVERS.] The commissioner shall apply for any federal waivers necessary to secure, to the extent allowed by law, federal financial participation under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982, for the provision of services to persons who, in the absence of the services, would need the level of care provided in a state hospital or a community intermediate care facility for mentally retarded persons.

A “service under waiver” means home or community based service authorized under the United States Code, title 42, section 1396n(c), as amended through December 31, 1982, and defined in the Minnesota state plan for the provision of medical assistance services. "Services under waiver" include at least: case management, family training and support, developmental training homes, supervised living arrangements, semi-independent living services, respite care, and training and habilitation services.

The commissioner may seek amendments to the waivers or apply for additional waivers under United States Code, title 42, sections 1396 to 1396p, as amended through December 31, 1982, to contain costs. The commissioner shall ensure that payment for the cost of providing home and community based alternative services under the federal waiver plan does not exceed the cost of intermediate care services that would have been provided in the absence of the services authorized by the waivers. The commissioner shall report to the legislature by the beginning of the 1984 regular session regarding legislation required to implement the waiver or waivers.

Subd. 2. [FEDERAL REQUIREMENTS.] If any provision of the approved waiver is determined by the United States government to be in conflict with existing or future requirements of the United States government with respect to federal participation in medical assistance, the federal requirements shall prevail.

Subd. 3. [RULES.] After the waiver is approved the commissioner shall adopt an implementation plan and temporary and permanent rules to establish required controls, procedures, documentation, and reporting of services provided in order to assure proper administration of the approved waiver plan. Immediately after application for the waiver is submitted, the proposed implementation plan and the proposed rules shall be written in cooperation with representatives of the counties, providers, and advocates of mentally retarded persons.

$400,000 is appropriated from the general fund to the commissioner of public welfare for the biennium ending June 30, 1985 to match federal money available for costs in establishing a client information system and positions needed to administer the mental retardation program.

(a) The approved complement of the department of public welfare is increased by 15 full-time positions for the home and community based services waiver program, assisting county agencies in screening clients for medical assistance services, technical assistance in developing community based alternatives, and management of the mental retardation medical assistance program.

(b) This appropriation for development and implementation shall be expended only with the approval of the governor after consulting with the legislative advisory commission as provided in section 3.30. Release of this money is also contingent upon submission of a plan prepared by the commissioner. The plan must describe the following:

(1) the organization, deployment, and responsibilities of requested staff;

(2) specification of all other administrative costs associated with the program;

(3) how the information system will be integrated into the community services information system, the medicaid management information system, and any other data processing operations of the department;

(4) the methods for implementing the system; and

Sec. 5. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 559.21, subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. [NOTICE; TIME OF TERMINATION.] When default is made in the conditions of any contract for the conveyance of real estate or any interest ~~therein~~ in it executed on or after May 1, 1980, whereby the vendor has a right to terminate ~~the same~~ it, he may do so by serving upon the purchaser, his personal representatives or assigns, either within or without the state, a notice specifying the conditions in which default has been made, and stating that the contract will terminate (1) 30 days after the service of the notice if the purchaser has paid less than ten percent of the purchase price, exclusive of interest ~~thereon~~ on it, and any mortgages or prior contracts for deed which are assumed by the purchaser, (2) 60 days after service of the notice if (a) the property is a homestead as defined in section 9 provided that this clause does not apply to earnest money contracts, purchase agreements, or exercised options, or to property which is subject to clause (3), or (b) the purchaser has paid ten percent, or more, but less than 25 percent of the purchase price, exclusive of interest thereon on it, and any mortgages or prior contracts for deed which are assumed by the purchaser, (3) 90 days after service of the notice if the purchaser has paid 25 percent, or more, of the purchase price, exclusive of interest thereon on it, and any mortgages or prior contracts for deed which are assumed by the purchaser, unless prior thereto the purchaser complies with the conditions and makes all payments due and owing to the vendor under the contract through the date payment is made and pays the costs of service, the mortgage registration tax, if actually paid by the vendor, together with an amount to apply on attorneys' fees actually expended or incurred, of $125 when the amount in default is less than $750, and of $250 when the amount in default is $750 or more; provided, however, that . No amount is required to be paid for attorneys' fees as provided hereunder, unless some part of the conditions of default has existed at least 45 days prior to the date of service of the notice.

Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 580.03, is amended to read:

580.03 [NOTICE OF SALE; SERVICE ON OCCUPANT.]

~~Six weeks~~ Sixty days published notice shall be given that ~~such the~~ mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the mortgaged premises or some part thereof, and at least ~~four weeks~~ 40 days before the appointed time of sale a copy of ~~such the~~ notice shall be served in like manner as a summons in a civil action in the district court upon the person in possession of the mortgaged premises, if ~~the same~~ they are actually occupied. Subd. 2. [SPECIAL REDEMPTION PERIOD.] Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision 1 ~~hereof~~, when lands have been sold in conformity with the ~~preceding sections~~ provisions of this chapter the mortgagor, his personal representatives or assigns, within 12 months after ~~such the~~ sale, may redeem ~~such the~~ lands in accordance with the provisions of payment of subdivision 1 ~~thereof~~, if:

(c) The mortgaged premises, as of the date of the execution of the mortgage, exceeded ten acres in size; or

(d) The mortgaged premises are a homestead as defined in section 9.

Sec. 8. [583.01] [LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS.]

The legislature finds that the number of unemployed persons in this state has reached the highest level since the Depression of the 1930's; that farm commodity prices are below the break even point for the cost of production; that the number of mortgage loans currently in default due to the unemployment of the principal wage earner has reached critical levels; and that by reason of these conditions and the high rates of interest on mortgage loans, many of the citizens of this state will be unable for extended periods of time, to meet payments of taxes, interest, and principal of mortgages on their properties and are, therefore, threatened with loss of their real property through mortgage foreclosure, contract termination, and judicial sales. The legislature further finds that these conditions have resulted in an emergency of a nature that justifies and validates legislation for the extension of the time prior to foreclosure and execution sales and for other relief.

Sec. 9. [583.02] [DEFINITION.]

The term "homestead" means residential or agricultural real estate, a portion or all of which is entitled to receive homestead credit under section 273.13, subdivision 15a.

Subdivision 1. [PROPERTY COVERED.] The provisions of sections 8 to 17 apply to first mortgages secured by and contracts for deed conveying, homesteads within the meaning of section 9, including: (a) mortgages held by the United States or by any agency, department, bureau, or instrumentality of the United States, as security or pledge of the mortgagor, its successors or assigns; and (b) mortgages held as security or pledge to secure payment of a public debt or to secure payment of the deposit of public funds.

Subd. 2. [GENERAL EXCLUSION.] The provisions of sections 8 to 17 do not apply to mortgages or contracts for deed made after the effective date of sections 8 to 17, nor to mortgages or contracts for deed made before the effective date of sections 8 to 17, which are renewed or extended after the effective date of sections 8 to 17 for a period longer than one year, nor to mortgages, judgments, or contracts for deed, regardless of when made, if a second or subsequent mortgage is made against the property after the effective date of sections 8 to 17.

Sec. 11. [583.04] [MORTGAGOR MAY APPLY TO DISTRICT COURT FOR RELIEF.]

Subdivision 1. [PRIOR TO SALE.] Any mortgagor, or owner in possession of the mortgaged premises, or anyone claiming under the mortgage, or anyone liable for the mortgage debt, may at any time after the issuance of the notice of the foreclosure proceedings and prior to the sale, petition the district court of the county where the foreclosure proceedings are pending, serving a summons and verified complaint requesting that the sale in foreclosure of a homestead be postponed for up to one year. A contract for deed vendee or anyone claiming under the contract or liable for the contract payment, in any case where the contract has not yet been terminated as of the effective date of sections 8 to 17, may petition the district court in the same manner, requesting that the contract termination be delayed for up to 180 days. Upon receiving the petition, the court shall order a stay in the foreclosure proceedings until after the hearing on the petition. As a condition precedent to the postponement of the foreclosure sale, the party serving the verified complaint shall file it and pay to the clerk for the person foreclosing the mortgage the actual costs incurred, including attorney's fees, in the foreclosure proceeding before postponement. As a condition precedent to delay of the contract termination, the party seeking relief shall file the verified complaint and pay to the clerk for the person canceling the contract, the actual costs, including attorney's fees incurred in the cancellation. If payment is made by other than cash or certified check, the order postponing the sale or termination is not final until after the check or other negotiable instrument has been paid.

Subd. 2. [SUBSEQUENT TO SALE.] If prior to the effective date of sections 8 to 17 a mortgage on a homestead is foreclosed and the period of redemption has not expired, the period of redemption may be extended for up to 180 days. The mortgagor or owner in possession of the property shall petition the district court on not less than ten days' written notice to the mortgagee or his attorney before the expiration of the period of redemption for an order extending the period of redemption. Upon service of the petition, the running of the period of redemption is tolled and is stayed until the court makes its order upon the petition.

Subd. 3. [LIMITATION.] No court shall allow a delay, postponement, or extension of time that would cause any right to be lost or adversely affected by any statute of limitation.

Subd. 4. [HEARING TO BE HELD WITHIN 30 DAYS.] The hearing on the petition must be held within 30 days after the filing of the petition. The order must be made and filed within five days after the hearing. Review by the supreme court may be had by certiorari, if application for the writ is made within 15 days after notice of the order. The writ is returnable within 30 days after the filing of the order.

Sec. 12. [583.05] [REQUIRED FINDINGS.]

The court may grant the relief provided in sections 8 to 11 only if it finds:

(1) that the petitioner is unemployed, underemployed or facing economic problems due to low farm commodity prices;

(2) that the petitioner has an inability to make payments on the mortgage or contract for deed; and

(3) that the relief requested is necessitated by general economic conditions.

If the court grants or denies a delay in the sale, the mortgagee shall publish notice of the new sale date as provided in section 580.03.

Sec. 13. [583.06] [PARTIAL PAYMENT REQUIRED.]

Subdivision 1. [DETERMINATION OF AMOUNT.] A petition pursuant to section 11 must also request the court to determine the reasonable value of the income on the property, or, if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of the property subject to the contract for deed or mortgage and must direct the contract vendee or mortgagor to pay all taxes and interest and all or a reasonable part of the income or rental value for the payment of interest or principal at the times and in the manner determined by the court. In determining the amount of income or rental value to be paid, the court may consider the relative financial conditions and resources of the parties and the ability of the mortgagor or contract vendee to pay. The court shall hear the petition and after the hearing shall make and file its order directing the payment by the contract vendee or mortgagor of an amount at the times and in the manner that the court determines just and equitable. In the case of contracts for deed, the court shall insure that the level of payment required by the contract vendee does not cause undue hardship to the vendor.

Subd. 2. [DEFAULT; WASTE.] If the mortgagor or contract vendee commits waste or defaults in the payments ordered, the mortgagee may immediately commence foreclosure proceedings as provided in section 580.03, and the contract vendor may terminate the contract 30 days after the default. If default is claimed because of waste, the mortgagee or contract vendor may commence foreclosure proceedings or terminate the contract immediately after the filing of an order of the court finding the waste. No action shall be maintained for a deficiency judgment until the period of redemption as allowed by section 580.23, or by sections 8 to 17, has expired.

Subd. 3. [MODIFICATION.] Upon the application of either party before the expiration of the extended period prior to the sale, contract termination, or termination of redemption period and upon the presentation of evidence that the terms for partial payment fixed by the court are no longer just and reasonable, the court may modify the terms, in the manner the changed circumstances and conditions require.

Subd. 4. [HEARING TO BE HELD WITHIN 30 DAYS.] The hearing on the request for modification must be held within 30 days after the filing of the petition. The order must be made and filed within five days after the hearing. Review by the supreme court may be had by certiorari, if application for the writ is made within 15 days after notice of the order. The writ is returnable within 30 days after the filing of the order.

If the parties to a foreclosure action agree in writing to a compromise settlement of it, or of composition of the mortgage indebtedness, or both, the court shall have jurisdiction and may by its order confirm and approve the settlement or composition, or both, as the case may be.

Sec. 15. [583.08] [REDUCTION OF REDEMPTION PERIOD.]

If the court grants a postponement in the foreclosure sale pursuant to section 11, the redemption period pursuant to section 580.23 shall be reduced by an equivalent period of time provided, that in no event shall the redemption period be less than 30 days.

Sec. 16. [583.09] [LIMITATIONS.]

No delay, postponement, or extension shall be ordered under conditions which would substantially diminish or impair the value of the contract or obligation of the person against whom the relief is sought without reasonable allowance to justify the exercise of the police power authorized in sections 8 to 17, or which would cause irreparable harm or undue hardship to any mortgagor, contract vendor, judgment creditor, or their successors or assigns. The remedies authorized by sections 8 to 17 are available to a mortgagor or contract vendee only one time on any piece of property.

Sec. 17. [583.10] [INCONSISTENT LAWS SUSPENDED.]

With respect to property for which relief is granted under sections 8 to 17, every law, to the extent that it is inconsistent with sections 8 to 17, is suspended during the effective period of sections 8 to 17.

Sec. 18. [REPEALER.]

Sections 8 and 10 to 17 are repealed effective July 1, 1984. Any relief ordered by a court pursuant to sections 8 to 17 continues in effect for the period ordered by the court, but not more than one year after the date of the initial order.

Sec. 19. [EFFECTIVE DATE.]

This act is effective the day following final enactment. The provisions of sections 1 to 7 apply to all proceedings initiated on or after the effective date of this act. Section 7 also applies to any redemption period for a homestead which has not expired prior to the effective date of this act."

Amend the title as follows:

Delete the title and insert:

"A bill for an act relating to agricultural and residential real estate; requiring 60 days notice of default on a real estate mortgage, notice of termination of a real estate contract for deed, and notice of commencement of a sale and foreclosure proceeding; providing that a court may order a delay in a foreclosure sale or contract termination under certain circumstances; extending the redemption period for homesteads; limiting the right to maintain actions for deficiency judgments; amending Minnesota Statutes 1982, sections 47.20, subdivision 8; 550.18; 559.21, subdivisions 1, 1a, and 2; 580.03; and 580.23, subdivision 2; proposing new law coded as Minnesota Statutes, chapter 583."

Messrs. Knaak and Storm voted in the negative.

The motion prevailed. So the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Stumpf moved to amend H.F. No. 102 as follows:

Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Subd. 15. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, any notice of default on homestead property as defined in section 5, mailed after the effective date of this section and prior to May 1, 1984, shall indicate that the borrower has 60 days from the date the notice is mailed in which to cure the default.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 559.21, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

Subd. 6. [TEMPORARY MINIMUM NOTICE.] Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, no contract for conveyance of homestead property, as defined in section 5, shall terminate until 60 days after service of notice if the notice is served after the effective date of this section and prior to May 1, 1984 or 90 days after service of notice if the contract was entered into after May 1, 1980 and the contract vendee has paid 25 percent or more of the purchase price. The notice shall specify this 60 or 90 day period. This subdivision shall not apply to earnest money contracts, purchase agreements, or exercised options.

Sec. 3. [580.181] [TEMPORARY MINIMUM NOTICE.]

Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, the sale on execution or on judgment of homestead property as defined in section 5, after the effective date of this section and prior to May 1, 1984, may be held only after posted and published notice for eight weeks of the time and place of the sale, describing the property with sufficient certainty to enable a person of common understanding to identify it.

Sec. 4. [583.01] [LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS.]

The legislature finds that the number of unemployed persons in this state has reached the highest level since the Depression of the 1930's; that farm commodity prices are below the break even point for the cost of production; that the number of mortgage loans currently in default due to the unemployment of the principal wage earner has reached critical levels; and that by reason of these conditions and the high rates of interest on mortgage loans, many of the citizens of this state will be unable for extended periods of time, to meet payments of taxes, interest, and principal of mortgages on their properties and are, therefore, threatened with loss of their real property through mortgage foreclosure, contract termination, and judicial sales. The legislature further finds that these conditions have resulted in an emergency of a nature that justifies and validates legislation for the extension of the time prior to foreclosure and execution sales and for other relief.

Sec. 5. [583.02] [DEFINITIONS.]

As used in sections 4 to 15, the term "homestead" means residential or agricultural real estate, a portion or all of which is entitled to receive homestead credit under section 273.13, subdivision 15a.

Sec. 6. [583.03] [APPLICATION.]

Subdivision 1. [PROPERTY COVERED.] The provisions of sections 1 to 15 apply to first mortgages secured by and contracts for deed conveying, homesteads within the meaning of section 5, including: (a) mortgages held by the United States or by any agency, department, bureau, or instrumentality of the United States, as security or pledge of the mortgagor, its successors or assigns; and (b) mortgages held as security or pledge to secure payment of a public debt or to secure payment of the deposit of public funds.

Subd. 2. [GENERAL EXCLUSION.] The provisions of sections 1 to 15 do not apply to mortgages or contracts for deed made after the effective date of sections 1 to 15, nor to mortgages or contracts for deed made before the effective date of sections 1 to 15, which are renewed or extended after the effective date of sections 1 to 15 for a period longer than one year, nor to mortgages, judgments, or contracts for deed, regardless of when made, if a second or subsequent mortgage is made against the property after the effective date of sections 1 to 15. No court shall allow a stay, postponement, or extension of time that would cause any right to be lost or adversely affected by any statute of limitation.

Sec. 7. [583.04] [MORTGAGOR MAY APPLY TO DISTRICT COURT FOR RELIEF.]

Any mortgagor, or owner in possession of the mortgaged premises, or anyone claiming under the mortgage, or anyone liable for the mortgage debt, may at any time after the issuance of the notice of the foreclosure proceedings and prior to the sale, petition the district court of the county where the foreclosure proceedings are pending, serving a summons and verified complaint requesting that the sale in foreclosure be postponed for up to six months or, in the case of a farm homestead located on more than ten acres, for up to 12 months. A contract for deed vendee or anyone claiming under the contract or liable for the contract payment, in any case where the contract has not yet been terminated as of the effective date of sections 4 to 15, may petition the district court in the same manner, requesting that the contract termination be delayed for up to 90 days. Upon receiving the petition, the court shall order a stay in the foreclosure proceedings until after the hearing on the petition. As a condition precedent to the postponement of the foreclosure sale, the party serving the verified complaint shall file it and pay to the clerk for the person foreclosing the mortgage the actual costs incurred, including attorney's fees, in the foreclosure proceeding before postponement.

As a condition precedent to delay of the contract termination, the party seeking relief shall file the verified complaint and pay to the clerk for the person canceling the contract, the actual costs, including attorney's fees incurred in the cancellation. If payment is made by other than cash or certified check, the order postponing the sale or termination is not final until after the check or other negotiable instrument has been paid.

Sec. 8. [583.05] [COURT MAY ORDER DELAY IN SALE; FINDINGS.]

The court may order a delay in the sale or contract termination as provided in sections 4 to 15 only if it finds:

(1) that the petitioner is unemployed, underemployed or facing economic problems due to low farm commodity prices;

(2) that the petitioner has an inability to make payments on the mortgage or contract for deed; and

(3) that there is a reasonable probability the petitioner will be able to reinstate the mortgage or contract for deed.

If the court grants or denies a delay in the sale, the mortgagee shall publish notice of the new sale date as provided in section 580.03.

Sec. 9. [583.06] [COMPROMISES.]

If the parties to a foreclosure action agree in writing to a compromise settlement thereof, or of composition of the mortgage indebtedness, or both, the court shall have jurisdiction and may by its order confirm and approve the settlement or composition, or both, as the case may be.

Sec. 10. [583.07] [REDUCTION OF REDEMPTION PERIOD.]

If the court grants a delay in the foreclosure sale pursuant to sections 4 to 15, the redemption period pursuant to section 580.23 shall be reduced by an equivalent period of time provided, that in no event shall the redemption period be less than 30 days. If the court does not grant a delay in the foreclosure sale, the redemption period shall be as provided in section 580.23.

Sec. 11. [583.08] [PARTIAL PAYMENT.]

The petition must also request the court to determine the reasonable value of the income on the property, or, if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of the property subject to the contract for deed or mortgage and must direct the contract vendee or mortgagor to pay all or a reasonable part of the income or rental value for the payment of taxes, insurance, interest or principal at the times and in the manner determined by the court. The court shall hear the petition and after the hearing shall make and file its order directing the payment by the contract vendee or mortgagor of an amount at the times and in the manner that the court determines just and equitable. In the case of contracts for deed, the court shall insure that the payment required by the contract vendee is sufficient to adequately maintain the vendor's standard of living. If the mortgagor or contract vendee defaults in the payments ordered, the mortgagee may immediately commence foreclosure proceedings as provided in section 580.03, and the contract vendor may terminate the contract 30 days after the default. If default is claimed because of waste, the mortgagee or contract vendor may commence foreclosure proceedings or terminate the contract immediately after the filing of an order of the court finding the waste. No action shall be maintained for a deficiency judgment until the period of redemption as allowed by section 580.23, or by sections 4 to 15, has expired.

Sec. 12. [583.09] [COURT MAY REVISE AND ALTER TERMS.]

Upon the application of either party before the expiration of the extended period prior to the sale or contract termination and upon the presentation of evidence that the terms for partial payment fixed by the court are no longer just and reasonable, the court may revise and alter the terms, in the manner the changed circumstances and conditions require.

Sec. 13. [583.10] [HEARING TO BE HELD WITHIN 30 DAYS.]

The hearing on the petition must be held within 30 days after the filing of the petition. The order therein must be made and filed within five days after the hearing. Review by the supreme court may be had by certiorari, if application for the writ is made within 15 days after notice of the order. The writ is returnable within 30 days after the filing of the order.

Sec. 14. [583.11] [LIMITATIONS.]

No postponement or extension shall be ordered under conditions which would substantially diminish or impair the value of the contract or obligation of the person against whom the relief is sought without reasonable allowance to justify the exercise of the police power authorized in sections 4 to 15, or which would cause irreparable harm or undue hardship to any mortgagee, contract vendor, judgment creditor, or their successors or assigns. The remedy authorized by sections 4 to 15 shall be available to a mortgagor or contract vendee only one time on any piece of property.

Sec. 15. [583.12] [INCONSISTENT LAWS SUSPENDED.]

Every law, to the extent that it is inconsistent with sections 4 to 15 is suspended during the effective period of sections 4 to 15.

Sec. 16. [REPEALER.]

Sections 1 to 15 are repealed effective July 1, 1984.

Sec. 17. [EFFECTIVE DATE.]

Sections 1 to 15 are effective seven days following final enactment. Section 16 is effective July 1, 1984."

Delete the title and insert:

"A bill for an act relating to agricultural and residential real estate; requiring 60 days notice of default on a real estate mortgage, notice of termination of a real estate contract for deed, and eight weeks notice of commencement of a sale and foreclosure proceeding; providing that a court may order a delay in a foreclosure sale or contract termination under certain circumstances; limiting the right to maintain actions for deficiency judgments; amending Minnesota Statutes 1982, sections 47.20, by adding a subdivision; 559.21, by adding a subdivision; proposing new law coded in Minnesota Statutes, chapter 580; proposing new law coded as Minnesota Statutes, chapter 583."

Mr. Benson moved to amend the Dicklich amendment to H.F. No. 102 as follows:

“Sec. 7. [LOAN GUARANTEES.]

Subdivision 1. [DEFINITIONS.] (a) For the purposes of this section, the terms defined in this subdivision have the meanings given them.

(h) “Lender” means a bank, savings bank, mutual savings bank, building and loan association, or savings and loan association, organized under the laws of this state or the United States, a trust company, a trust company acting as a fiduciary, and any other financial institution subject to the supervision of the commissioner of banks, and a financial institution operating under the supervision of the farm credit administration.

Subd. 2. [APPLICANT CRITERIA.] An applicant for a loan guarantee under this section must meet the following criteria:

(a) the applicant must be an individual Minnesota farmer or a Minnesota family farm corporation all members of which live on the farm and are engaged in farming, or a partnership all members of which are engaged in farming; or

(b) an owner of a small business as defined in section 645.445 who is threatened with bankruptcy due to economic circumstances beyond his control; or

(c) in the case of an applicant for a homestead loan guarantee, the applicant is unemployed or underemployed.

In addition to (a), (b), or (c), the applicant must also have applied for a loan for the same purposes to at least one lender within the preceding 60 days and been rejected.

Subd. 3. [LOAN CRITERIA.] A loan guarantee under this section may be granted only if:

(a) the loan is being made by a lender to an applicant who is already a customer of that lender for existing loans;

(b) the loan is used only for working capital needed for the operation of a farm or small business, or in the case of homestead guaranteed loans, for mortgage reinstatements or redemptions or to avoid cancellation of a contract for deed;

(c) the term of the loan to be guaranteed is no more than 18 months;

(d) there is a reasonable probability that the applicant will be able to repay the guaranteed loan at the end of its term;

(e) the parties to the loan agree that all payments made by the applicant to the lender during the term of the loan will first be applied to any portion of the guaranteed loan still outstanding and then to previous or subsequent loans made by the lender to the applicant;

The loan application shall be on forms supplied by the commissioner, including a net worth statement, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the applicant's 1982 federal and state income tax returns. If the applicant, the lender, and the terms of the loan meet the criteria in this section, the lender may apply to the commissioner for a guarantee of the loan. If the commissioner agrees that the applicant, the lender, and the terms of the loan meet the criteria in this section, the commissioner shall guarantee payment of 50 percent of the amount of the loan. Otherwise, the commissioner shall deny the guarantee. The form of the guarantee is subject to the approval of the attorney general, but not subject

Subd. 5. [CLAIMS UNDER GUARANTEE.] A claim for payment of an amount guaranteed under this section arises when the term of a guaranteed loan expires with less than 50 percent of the original amount of the loan repaid. The state is not obligated to pay any claim under a guarantee unless the lender notifies the commissioner of the claim within three days after it arises. The lender shall provide the commissioner with a current financial statement of the borrower within ten days after notification of the claim. When a claim is made as provided in this subdivision, the commissioner shall pay to the lender the difference between 50 percent of the original amount of the loan and the amount that has been repaid by the borrower.

Subd. 6. [RECOVERY OF STATE FUNDS.] The commissioner shall diligently attempt to recover amounts paid to lenders because of defaults on loans guaranteed under this section, exercising, as appropriate, all the state's rights of subrogation, payment priorities, and other available remedies.

Subd. 7. [GUARANTEE VOID.] A loan guarantee under this section is void if the guarantee was obtained by fraud or material misrepresentation of which the lender had actual knowledge.

Subd. 8. [RESERVE FOR DEFAULTED LOANS.] Up to $10,000,000 of the amount set aside in the special account created under Minnesota Statutes 1982, section 41.61, subdivision 1, for defaulted family farm security loans is appropriated to pay lenders for defaulted farm working capital loans made under this section. The sum of all outstanding farm working capital loans guaranteed by the commissioner at any time shall not exceed eight times the balance in this $2,000,000 account. This appropriation reduces the amount of new family farm security loans that may be guaranteed during the time when guaranteed loans under this section are outstanding. When all working capital guarantees have expired, the appropriation will again be available to guarantee family farm security loans.

Subd. 9. [EXPIRATION.] The authority of the commissioner to make loan guarantees under this section applies to loan applications received by lenders before September 1, 1983.

Subd. 10. [STAFFING.] The commissioner shall coordinate staffing among the departments of agriculture and energy, planning and development and the housing finance agency for the purposes of implementing this section. The commissioner of agriculture shall oversee farm working capital loan guarantees, the commissioner of energy, planning and development shall oversee small business working capital loan guarantees, and the director of the housing finance agency shall oversee homestead loan guarantees.

Sec. 8. [EFFECTIVE DATE.]

Sections 1 to 7 are effective the day following final enactment. Sections 1 to 7 are repealed July 1, 1985. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 645.34, the repeal of sections 1 to 7 shall revive the corresponding provision or section of the original law."
