

Minnesota Private Colleges: State Impact

Our students graduate ready to contribute to Minnesota's economy.

Our students start careers sooner: Our colleges' four-year graduation rate is #1 in Minnesota and the Midwest. And we're #2 in the nation.

The median earnings of our alumni working full-time in Minnesota four years after graduation is $61,800.

The average return on investment for undergraduate students at our colleges is more than $1 million; this takes into account both education costs and 40 years of future earnings.

We offer the state a great return on its investment.

While our students are 29% of all baccalaureate graduates in the state, they benefit from a small share — less than 4% — of state spending on higher education.

69% of our recent grads stay in Minnesota, strengthening the workforce and tax base.

Our 300,000 alumni living in Minnesota contribute to the vitality of their communities in every corner of the state.

We focus on keeping college affordable.

Our institutions award more than $760 million in institutional grants and scholarships to undergraduates.

Our students come from all income levels. The median family income for Minnesota students at our colleges is $88,800, which is close to the state's median family income of $86,400 and the U of M's median family income of $93,300.

Thanks to grants and scholarships the average actual tuition first-year students pay is 34% of the published tuition.

Our students reflect Minnesota.

30% of our new first-year students are students of color and Native American students. (This figure excludes international students.)

32% of recent Minnesota high school graduates who pursue a bachelor's degree in the state attend our colleges.

23% of our students are "first-generation," meaning that neither of their parents completed college.
