A Black Business Ecosystem

The Camden Park State Bank, identified now as the Northside Epicenter is another building block added to the already valuable projects being erected in the North Minneapolis Community by Black developers. The small black owned businesses that will land here will be handpicked to bring in products in services that are reflective of our community, while simultaneously creating opportunity for ownership and power for black members of the community. Here’s a few highlights of the project!

- Brick and mortar for small black businesses
- Communal space for business owners to connect and grow
- Recirculation of the black dollar in the North Minneapolis community
- Products and services provided that are not already readily accessible in the community
- Placemaking and the reimagining of a North Minneapolis historic landmark.
