What's Next

Direct pay (also known as Elective Pay) allows non-taxed entities to claim and receive the cash value of certain clean energy and related tax credits for eligible projects. Eligible projects fall into four categories:

- Energy generation & carbon capture
- Manufacturing
- Vehicles
- Fuels

Direct pay is non-competitive and uncapped: if an entity satisfies the credit requirements, the entity will receive payment in the form of a tax return.

Direct Pay Resources

The Federal Funds Implementation team offers support for tax-exempt entities—including local units of government, tribal governments, and non-profits—as they navigate the new tax provisions. These services include:

- Educational opportunities about specific filing requirements and best practices,
- Connections to guidance and resources about specific credits and filing processes,
- In the near future, will include one-on-one consultation with tax experts, including filing assistance.

Bridge Financing

Minnesota Climate Innovation Finance Authority (MnClFA) was established during the 2023 legislative session to remove barriers to and create financial tools for the adoption of qualified clean energy and greenhouse gas reduction projects.

Example projects funded include:

- $4.7M loan to the Heights Community Energy to contract and operate a district geothermal energy system at the Heights development on the East Side of St. Paul.
- $4.5M loan to Avenues for Youth to purchase and install a geothermal renewable energy system and associated HVAC components at one of its facilities in North Minneapolis.
- $1.2M loan to fund solar and battery storage on four Minneapolis school district buildings in North Minneapolis.
