

Service-learning is a valuable tool that can benefit every student in our schools. Students learn work ethic along with being civic minded. These students begin to take more pride and ownership in their communities and become better citizens overall. Service learning greatly benefits our communities and our young people and should be part of every school.

Tony Zahradka

Construction Program Manager, GAP School, St Paul, Mn