1.2 Page 2, after line 7, insert:

1.3 "Sec. 3. [216B.1697] EMERGENCY BACKUP GENERATORS.

1.4 Subdivision 1. Definitions. (a) For the purpose of this section, the following terms have
1.5 the meanings given to them.

1.6 (b) "Biodiesel fuel" has the meaning given in section 239.77, subdivision 1.

1.7 (c) "Emergency backup generator" has the meaning given in section 216B.02, subdivision
1.8 11.

1.9 Subd. 2. Air permit process. A combination of emergency backup generators at a single
1.10 site with a combined capacity of 50,000 kilowatts or more are not eligible for a waiver to 1.11 existing air permitting requirements required by a state or federal agency.

1.12 Subd. 3. Limited use. (a) An emergency backup generator that is diesel fueled is limited
1.13 to 50 hours of run time, unless the emergency backup generators are needed to prevent a
1.14 loss of service to customers.

1.15 (b) A location which uses a combination of emergency backup generators at a single
1.16 site with a combined capacity of 50,000 kilowatts or more must not use the emergency
1.17 backup generators to reduce costs when power is at its highest usage. The commission may 1.18 authorize a location to use the emergency backup generators to prevent a loss of service to
1.19 customers.

1.20 Subd. 4. Diesel requirements. A location which uses a combination of emergency
1.21 backup generators at a single site with a combined capacity of 50,000 kilowatts or more
1.22 must use biodiesel fuel.

1.23 Subd. 5. Report required. The commission must examine the cost and feasibility of 1.24 locations using onsite backup and primary generation that is not diesel-fueled. The 1.25 commission must submit a report of its findings and recommendations to the chair and 1.26 ranking minority members of the committees with jurisdiction over energy policy and
1.27 finance.

1.28 EFFECTIVE DATE. This section is effective the day following final enactment."
