

PROCLAMATION

Our children are this nation's one priceless asset, and one of the more prevalent diseases threatening their lives is cystic fibrosis.

Today, there is no known cure for this often fatal disease, which every year takes the lives of thousands of our youngsters.

The recently founded National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation has designated September 12 - 19 this year as cystic fibrosis week, and it is fitting that we all join in efforts to find ways of preventing and curing this dread disease.

HOU, THEREFORE, I, Orville L. Freeman, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim September 12 - 19, 1960, as in the State of Minnesota and call upon our people to observe the occasion in every appropriate way.
