PROCLAMATION

- WHEREAS, the purpose of Clean Air Week is to promote a united educational program for cleaner air and to help build a better, stronger American; and
- WHEREAS, air pollution is a serious community problem brought about through industrial expansion and increasing population, and since industry and populations give every indication of continuing to increase at an impressive rate; soot, smoke, flyash and noxious fumes and gases promise to become a greater hazard to the health and welfare of the people of our Sovereign State, as well as a source of grave economic waste; and
- WHEREAS, in these days when the Nation's security is threatened, air pollution abatement assumes increasing importance in its prevention of waste of materials and energy, its cutting the cost of fuel, factory upkeep and maintenance, and its reduction of illness and absenteeism; and
- WHEREAS, the hazard of air pollution can be greatly diminished through intelligent action involving engineering equipment, research and education; and
- WHEREAS, with some of the mechanical means already available combined with the enlightened attitude of industry, air pollution control is forging ahead, but these measures must be continued and further measures instituted to win the race against air pollution; and
- WHEREAS, for these reasons the abatement of air pollution in all its various forms is of utmost concern to American citizens;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Harold LeVander, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the week beginning October 25, 1970, as in Minnesota, and request that during that week all citizens cooperate fully in the observance of this week and undertake a year-round campaign to abate destructive air pollution from all sources, and direct the appropriate agencies of state government to assist in arousing the public awareness of the need for active participation in the fight for clean air.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Minnesota to be affixed at the State Capitol this twenty-first day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy, and of the State, the one hundred thirteenth.
