

By me, Horace Dickinson Nugent, Esquire, a Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, His Britannic Majesty's Consul General residing at Chicago, United States of America.

Be it known to all to whom these presents shall come that, by virtue of the powers vested in me by His Majesty's Commission, I do hereby constitute and appoint William J. Wright, Esquire, to be Acting British Vice Consul at Minneapolis, Minnesota, with full power and authority by all lawful means, to aid and protect His Majesty's subjects trading in, visiting, or residing in his district.

Witness my hand and seal of office at Chicago, this 26th day of August, 1921.

(Signed) Horace Nugent.

I hereby certify to the above true copy of a letter of authority given by me to Mr. William J. Wright authorising him to act in the capacity of Probationer Vice Consul in His Majesty's Consular Service.

Horace Nugent

H.M.'s Consul-General.
