

Proclamation

WHEREAS: Since the founding of this great nation and state, engineers have consistently worked for the development and improvement of physical facilities of our land for the benefit of all; and

WHEREAS: The engineering profession has been a major element of the progress of the past, and

WHEREAS: The engineering profession will be looked to for their expected significant contributions to the challenge of the present and the future, not the least of these challenges being the need for energy-thrifty structures, products, and devices; and

WHEREAS: The engineering profession is already leading the way toward a variety of near-term and long-term solutions to these challenges;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Albert H. Quie, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the week of February 18 through February 24, 1979, to be in Minnesota, and urge all citizens to reflect on the contributions of the engineering profession to their personal well-being and their society's progress.
