Proclamation

WHEREAS: The fundamental freedoms of the citizens of Minnesota, and their fellow Americans are embodied in the concept of "Private Property Rights-Protect Them"; and

WHEREAS: In the entire American free enterprise system, this concept is perhaps nowhere more personally meaningful than in the fight of every citizen to own real property; and

WHEREAS: It is only by sustaining the land and perpetuating our Constitutional rights to it that each of us can continue to enjoy its bounty and ensure the same privileges for the generations that will succeed us; and

WHEREAS: The fulfillment of this obligation is consistently demonstrated by the commitment and concern of the Minnesota Association of Realtors in assisting Minnesota residents who wish to exercise their rights to own real property; and

WHEREAS: Realtors nationwide have, since 1956, participated in an annual observance to celebrate the right of Americans to own real property and enjoy the benefits it bestows; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Albert H. Quie, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the week of April 13 through April 19, 1980, to be in Minnesota, and have asked Lieutenant Governor Lou Wangberg to prepare this proclamation for my signature and disseminate the same. I further encourage all Minnesotans to join with the Minnesota Association of Realtors and the 700,000 members of the National Association of Realtors throughout America during this meaningful observance and take an active part in appropriate and significant programs of state and civic betterment during this week and throughout the year.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and caused the Great Seal of the State of Minnesota to be affixed at the State Capitol this eleventh day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred eighty, and of the State the one hundred twenty-second.
