

Proclamation

WHEREAS: It is through positive international cooperation that national governments maintain peaceful relations with one another; and

WHEREAS: These relations are diligently supported and supplimented by the endeavors of private citizens by welcoming international students, professionals and visitors to their communities, churches, schools, businesses, homes and families; and

WHEREAS: These cross-cultural endeavors cut across all boundaries of race, religion, and political persuasions to serve all mankind through providing a unique opportunity to share ideas and to learn and understand cultural differences and similarities; and

WHEREAS: Our international visitors give us the invaluable opportunity to share friendships and philosophies, as well as to share national beliefs and personal expectations;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Albert H. Quie, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim April 23, 1980 to be
