A bounteous harvest and prevailing good prices for the farmer's crops are combining to bring about a more prosperous agriculture in the Northwest and a note of optimism prevails in this section. This new prosperity, the resources of Minnesota and the enterprise of its people will be reflected in the sixty-sixth annual Minnesota State Fair and third annual Northwest Dairy Exposition which will open Saturday, September 5th, and continue for one week.

This great exposition constitutes one of the state's most effective educational and social agencies. Here the best products of the field, the factory and the home will be on exhibition for study and comparison. Our citizens from every section of the state will be brought together in annual reunion in greater numbers than are attracted by any other event of the year. The advantages of diversified farming will be emphasized in graphic exhibits. Fifty-two state departments and institutions will present a joint exhibit of great educational value, informing the taxpayer of the service rendered by the state and how the tax dollar is expended.

Therefore, as Governor of Minnesota, I urge the people of our state to attend the Fair and Dairy Exposition, September 5 to 12, thereby benefitting themselves and contributing to the upbuilding of an institution in which as joint owners they take a justifiable pride.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed this 2nd day of September, 1925.

Attest:
