

Proclamation

- EREAS: Technology based business and government activity can improve the quality of Minnesota's economic and social environment; and
- EREAS: There is a direct relationship between the condition of a state's educational system and the development and maintenance of technology enterprises; and
- EREAS: Minnesota's technology-based companies have provided a strong source of jobs and income for the state; and
- EREAS: Technology-intensive companies within the manufacturing sector in 1980 accounted for wages, salaries and proprietors income in excess of 4 billion dollars in Minnesota; and
- EREAS: The seed bed for the emergence of similar companies in the future must be nurtured and cultivated if this record of accomplishment is to continue;

W, THEREFORE, I, Rudy Perpich, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim Thursday, March 29, 1984, to be
