

Proclamation

- EREAS: The State of Minnesota is noted worldwide for its wealth of clear productive freshwaters; and
- EREAS: The sleek and graceful trout and its required habitats are the gleaming symbols of our nation's highest quality fisheries resources and in Minnesota represent the pinnacle of our freshwater environs; and
- EREAS: Trout and the sport of trout fishing provide tremendous recreational, economic and aesthetic benefits to Minnesota's citizens and tourists, thereby raising the quality of life shared by all; and
- EREAS: A totally committed and dedicated body of trout fishers banded together 25 years ago, forming the organization of Trout Unlimited, with the noble goal to preserve, protect and enhance our nation's valuable and revered trout and salmon resources; and
- EREAS: Minnesota's Trout Unlimited members have invested countless hours and moneys to conduct and promote trout habitat improvement projects, water quality monitoring, increased public awareness, sound management practices and enhanced angler-landowner relations on Minnesota's trout waters;

W, THEREFORE, I, Rudy Perpich, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the month of June 1984, to be
