

Proclamation

WHEREAS: The Minnesota Future Problem Solving Program continues to train elementary and secondary teachers, administrators, and school board members in the use of the Parnes-Osborne problem solving process; and

WHEREAS: These Future Problem Solving experts in turn teach the process to hundreds of students throughout Minnesota's elementary and secondary schools; and

WHEREAS: Minnesota's student teams compete throughout the fall and winter at building, district, regional, and state levels to sharpen their critical thinking and creative problem solving skills; and

WHEREAS: The top 36 teams in elementary, middle school, and senior high divisions will compete at the State Future Problem Solving Bowl, held at Robbinsdale Armstrong High School on April 19, 1986; and

WHEREAS: The Minnesota winners from each division will be invited to the International Future Problem Solving Conference to compete with teams from forty states and five other countries; and

WHEREAS: All the parents, professional staff, community helpers and students involved in the Future Problem Solving Program of Minnesota deserve commendations for making so many so much better equipped to solve tomorrow's problems;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Rudy Perpich, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the third week of April to be
