

Proclamation

WHEREAS: Computer-based technologies are playing a great role in the social, educational and economic development of our country and its citizens; and

WHEREAS: Expanding the understanding and application of computers is essential to maintaining our country's competitiveness in commerce, industry and international trade; and

WHEREAS: Educators at all levels are increasingly incorporating computers into their curriculums as a teaching tool; and

WHEREAS: Students of all ages are beginning to utilize computers in all subjects of study; and

WHEREAS: Present and future generations of Americans should attempt to familiarize themselves with the computer-based technology that has become such an integral part of society, in order to actively participate in an increasingly complex and technologically dependent world; and

WHEREAS: The United States should take every opportunity to encourage all parents, students, educators, public officials and businessmen to better understand computers to accomplish integration of computer-based technology into our diverse society;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Rudy Perpich, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the month of October to be in Minnesota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Minnesota to be affixed at the State Capitol this twentieth day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighty-seven, and of the State the one hundred twenty-ninth.
