

Proclamation

- WHEREAS: Museums hold in trust for future generations a substantial part of humankind's material patrimony produced by the skill of our ancestors and our contemporaries; and
- WHEREAS: Museums encourage curiosity in the very young, offer enlightenment and education to the students, and provide a continuing source of enjoyment and cultural enrichment for all; and
- WHEREAS: Museums are centers of research for scholars and contribute to our knowledge of history, science, and the arts; and
- WHEREAS: Museums enhance the quality of life in our communities and provide a sense of continuity and perspective which reinforces the cultural opportunities offered by schools, colleges, universities, libraries, and other institutions of learning; and
- WHEREAS: The museums of Minnesota deserve recognition for their contributions to the preservation of the heritage of our state and the furtherance of our understanding concerning the peoples of the United States and the peoples of other countries in the past, present, and future;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Rudy Perpich, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the third week of May, 1990 to be in Minnesota.
