

STATE OF MINNESOTA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
ST. PAUL

PROCLAMATION

We are approaching the season when Minnesota is most charming. People elsewhere will need only our invitation to induce them to come and enjoy its beauties. It is appropriate that at this time, Minnesota people should give special heed to the resources of the State and their responsibility therefor.

Ours is a rich and beautiful domain. Consideration of its many advantages cannot but inspire pride and grateful appreciation. Comparison will show that we have infinitely more than many states and even more than many nations. We have unsurpassed wealth in a land of rare scenic attraction. We have a duty to perform in attending to the wise and constructive use of all that Nature has given us. This duty we can fulfill with full assurance of reward, as proper development proceeds.

The time is opportune to make our advantages more widely known, so that more people will come here to join with us in building a yet greater and better Minnesota. The Ten Thousand Lakes Association has rendered exceptional service in this direction during the past eleven years. Now that it has merged with the Greater Minnesota Association, it aims to even greater achievements. It proposes this year an aggressive campaign to attract new farmers to Minnesota, as well as summer visitors. This promises much to every community throughout our commonwealth and justifies the additional support the Association is seeking.

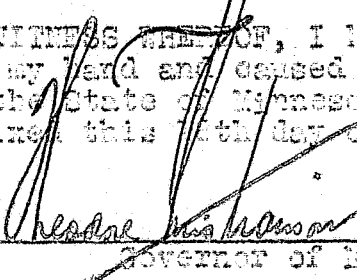

THEREFORE, believing thoroughly in the practicability of the work of this organization, which has the endorsement and the active counsel of leading citizens representative of every county in the state, I, Theodore Christianson, Governor of Minnesota, do hereby designate and proclaim the week beginning MAY 5th, 1933, as and do hereby urge that all citizens lend their moral and financial support to the Ten Thousand Lakes-Greater Minnesota Association, to the end that it may be better able to carry on its program for a greater and better Minnesota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Minnesota to be affixed this 11th day of April, 1933.

(Great Seal)
