2 TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN AND PARTICULARLY TO P. E. KATON, SECRETARY of State OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA:

Whereas, at the last general election duly held in the State of Minnesota, on, to-wit: the sixth day of November A.D. 1906, the said constitutional amendment was duly submitted to the people of the State of Minnesota, for their approval or rejection; to-wit: an amendment to article nine (9) of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, relating to taxation which said constitutional amendment was by the legislature of said State proposed, by an act of said legislature duly approved on April 13, 1905.

3 And whereas the State Canvassing Board of the State of Minnesota did thereafter and heretofore on, to-wit: the 18th day of December A.D. 1906, that day being the third Tuesday in December following the said general election, duly meet and proceed, after taking the usual oath of office, to openly and publicly canvass the returns and statements of said election, which had theretofore been made by the county auditors of the respective counties of the State of Minnesota, and duly forwarded to, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State of Minnesota, as provided by law.

4 And, Whereas, said State Canvassing Board did complete said canvass and thereafter did file its statement and report of said canvass with the Secretary of State of the State of Minnesota on the 21st day of December, A.D. 1906, and, in and by said statement and report, did certify and declare that "A majority of the voters present and voting at said election having voted 'yes' said amendment is hereby duly declared adopted."

And whereas the said Samuel G. McConoughy who is now and for more than one year last past, has been a citizen of the United States and a citizen and a duly qualified elector of the county of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and who was duly registered as such, as required by law, prior to said November 1906, general election, claims, and has good reason to believe, that in and about the polling, counting, canvassing and returning of said votes by the judges of election, the county canvassing boards in the various counties of said state, the county auditors in the various counties of said state and the State Canvassing Board of said state, numerous mistakes, errors, miscounts, wrongs and omissions occurred and that in truth and in fact the said proposed amendment to article nine, (9) of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, relating to taxation failed to pass and was not approved or adopted, but was rejected by the people of the State of Minnesota, and the qualified electors thereof, as will more fully appear from the points of contest attached hereto, incorporated herein and made a part hereof, and that by reason only of said miscounts, mistakes, errors, omissions and wrongs the said constitutional amendment, to-wit: the said proposed amendment to article nine (9) of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota relating to taxation, was declared to have been adopted and passed.

NOW THEREFORE, be it known that, to the end said mistakes, miscounts, errors, wrongs and omissions may be corrected, and justice and right done in the premises, the said Samuel G. McConoughy pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, hereby appeals to the aforesaid District Court of the State of Minnesota, in and for the Eleventh Judicial District and County of St. Louis from the action and decision of the State Canvassing Board of the said State of Minnesota declaring that said proposed amendment to article nine (9) of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota relating to taxation was adopted by the people of the State of Minnesota or by a majority of the voters present and voting at said election.

CLARING THE AMENDMENT OF ARTICLE NINE (9) OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE 9 OF MINNESOTA, RELATING TO TAXATION, TO TAKE THE PLACE OF SECTIONS ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR AND THE AMENDMENT ADDED AT THE END OF SAID ARTICLE ADOPT-

NOTICE OF POINTS OF CONTENT.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN AND PARTICULARLY TO P. B. HANSON, SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA:

The above named contestant and appellant who is and for more than one year last past has been a duly qualified elector and voter of the State 10 of Minnesota, duly registered as such as required by law prior to voting at the general election held on the sixth day of November 1906, having appealed to the District Court of said County of St.Louis from that certain action, decision, return and certificate of the State Canvassing Board of the State of Minnesota, whereby said State Canvassing Board certified and declared the amendment of Article nine (9) of the Constitution, relating to taxation, to take the place of sections one, two, three, four and the amendment added at the end of said article adopted in 1890, adopt-11 ed by a majority of the voters present and voting at the last general election, held in said State on the 6th day of November A.D. 1906.

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that the said action, decision, return and certificate of said State Canvassing Board, will be contested by the said Samuel G. McConoughy on the following grounds, to-wit:

That the tally books and tally sheets duly furnished to and used by the judges and clerks of the several election districts of the several counties of the State of Minnesota, at the general election held on the 12 6th day of November A.D. 1906 had printed thereon the said amendment of article nine (9) of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, relating to taxation, as the first in order, and an amendment of section thirteen of article nine (9) of the Constitution of said State, establishing the road and bridge fund, and authorizing the Legislature to levy an annual tax for the purpose of constructing and improving roads and bridges within said State, was printed upon said tally books and tally sheets as second in order, whereas, upon the official ballots used at said election the 13 said constitutional amendment relating to the road and bridge fund appeared as the first in order, and the constitutional amendment relating to taxation appeared as second in order, as more fully appears from the copy of the official ballot hereto attached and marked Exhibit A, and from the copy of the official tally sheet hereto attached and marked Exhibit B, both of which exhibits are hereby incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

Second: That the tally books and tally sheets duly furnished to and used by the judges and clerks of the several election districts of the several counties of the State of Minnesota at the general election held on the 6th day of November A.D. 1906 had printed thereon the said amendment of article nine (9) of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, relating to taxation, as the first in order, and an amendment to section sixteen of article nine (9) of the Constitution of said State establishing the road and bridge fund and authorizing the Legislature to levy an annual tax for the purpose of constructing and improving roads and bridges 15 within said State was printed upon said tally books and tally sheets as second in order, whereas upon the official ballots used at said election, said constitutional amendment relating to the road and bridge fund appeared as first in order and the constitutional amendment relating to taxation appeared as second in order, and that upon the official return sheets of the several election districts of said State the said constitutional amendments were printed in the same order as that in which they were printed upon the said tally sheets.

16 That said constitutional amendments were printed upon said official tally sheets in very small type, and by reason of said transposition, many ballots cast and votes for the said constitutional amendment, relating to roads and bridges were by mistake counted and returned by the clerks and judges of the several precincts of the several counties, of the State aforesaid, as having been cast in favor of the said amendment relating to taxation, and were so canvassed by the County Canvassing Board and so returned to the County Auditors of the several counties of the State of Minnesota, by whom they were likewise erroneously returned to the Secretary of State, and that thereafter said votes were likewise erroneously counted and returned by the State Canvassing Board, as being in favor of the said Constitutional amendment relating to taxation, and said Canvassing Board certified and declared that said amendment relating to taxation had received a majority of the votes cast at said election, and that said amendment was approved and adopted at said election, whereas, in truth and in fact many of said votes were cast in favor of, and should have been counted, returned and canvassed in favor of the said constitutional amendment relating to the road and bridge fund and not in favor of said tax amendment.

That as a result of said errors, the said amendment relating to roads and bridges, which was a popular amendment throughout said State, was, by the State Canvassing Board declared to have been not adopted but rejected by a majority of the voters of said State, present and voting at said election and the said amendment relating to taxation was, by said Board, declared to have been adopted. That if the votes cast in favor of said amendment relating to taxation had been correctly counted, returned and canvassed, said amendment would have been, by said Board, returned and declared to have been not adopted, but rejected, by a majority of the voters present and voting at said election.

The contentent above named is informed and verily believes and therefore alleges that in the County of St. Louis, in said State, the votes so erroneously counted and returned and canvassed as in favor of the said amendment relating to taxation were in number 2500; in the County of Ramsey, in said State, were 4034; in the county of Hennepin in said State, 3993; in the other several counties of said State they were, in aggregate 15,000, whereas in truth and in fact none of said 28,547 votes should have been counted, returned or canvassed for said constitutional amendment, relating to taxation; and, if said errors and mistakes were duly corrected, it would appear that said constitutional amendment relating to taxation was not adopted, but was rejected, by a majority of the voters present and voting at said election.

THIRD: That in each one of the election districts of the several counties of the State of Minnesota, there were cast at said general election held on November sixth, 1906, many votes and ballots in favor of the constitutional amendment relating the road and bridge fund and all of which votes and ballots were by the judges of election of their respective election districts not counted or returned as votes and ballots cast for the said constitutional amendment relating to the road and bridge fund but 22 which by said judges of election were all wrongfully and by mistake and inadvertence counted and returned as votes and ballots cast for the said constitutional amendment relating to taxation and that said votes and ballots were so canvassed by the county canvassing boards of the respective counties of Minnesota and said State Canvassing Board of the State of Minnesota, as votes and ballots cast for said Constitutional Amendment relating to taxation, when in truth, and by right, none of said votes and ballots should have been counted, returned or canvassed for said consti-23 tutional amendments relating to taxation and all of said votes should have been counted, returned and canvassed for said constitutional amendment relating to the road and bridge fund and this contestant alleges upon information and belief that when said errors and mistakes ~~were~~ occur-tained and corrected, it will appear that said constitutional amendment relating to taxation was not adopted but was rejected by a majority of the voters present and voting at said general election.

FOURTH: That in each of the election districts of the several coun-24 ties of the State of Minnesota there were cast at said election, many ballots, upon which no constitutional amendment was voted for and that the Judges of Election in their respective election districts aforesaid, wrongfully and by mistake and inadvertence counted, and returned all of said ballots as cast for said constitutional amendment relating to taxation and all of said votes, counted and returned as aforesaid, were canvassed by said State Canvassing Board of the State of Minnesota as those cast for said Constitutional Amendment relating to taxation and this con-

25 testant alleges upon information and belief that when said errors and mistakes are ascertained it will appear that said constitutional amendment relating to taxation was not adopted but was rejected by a majority of the voters present and voting at said general election.

FIFTH: That in each of the election districts of the several counties of the State of Minnesota there were cast at said election for said constitutional amendment relating to taxation many votes and ballots which said votes and ballots were cast by persons, who were not then and there duly qualified electors of the State of Minnesota and of the several wards and election districts of the several counties of the State of Minnesota in which said votes and ballots were cast, and all of which illegal votes and ballots so cast by unqualified persons aforesaid, were wrongfully, unlawfully counted and returned by the Judges of said respective election districts and were canvassed by said State Canvassing Board of the State of Minnesota as votes and ballots cast for said Constitutional Amendment relating to taxation and this contestant alleges upon information and belief that when said illegal votes are ascertained, it will appear that said constitutional amendment relating to taxation received a less number of votes than were counted, returned and canvassed for it and that said constitutional amendment relating to taxation was not adopted, but was rejected by a majority of the voters present and voting at said general election.

SIXTH: That said State Canvassing Board of the State of Minnesota canvassed and returned as having been cast for said Constitutional Amendment relating to Taxation at said general election, 166,062 votes, when in truth and in fact there were no more than 130,604 votes cast at said election in favor of the adoption of said Constitutional Amendment relating to Taxation.

Seventh: And said appellant and contestant believes and so alleges that if said errors and mistakes are duly corrected it will appear that said constitutional amendment relating to taxation was not adopted but was rejected by a majority of the voters present and voting at the general election held on the 6th day of November A.D. 1906, all of which the above and foregoing facts will more fully appear upon an examination and inspection of the ballots cast at said election.

For the foregoing, and such other good and sufficient reasons as shall appear upon the hearing, and upon the examination and inspection of the ballots cast at said election, this contestant prays a judgment and decree of the District Court aforesaid, adjudging and decreeing that said constitutional amendment relating to taxation was not adopted, but was rejected, by a majority of the voters of the State of Minnesota, present and voting at said general election, and for the costs and disbursements of this proceeding.
