WHEREAS, throughout the entire Christian world there exists a deep and sustaining affection for "Mother" and a recognition of her sacrifice, joys, sorrows and companionship by her sons and daughters and,

WHEREAS, with heavy hearts we observe that mothers in many of the nations of the world are being called upon at this time to make the supreme sacrifice, even as the Mothers of this country were called upon to do not so many years ago,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HAROLD E. STASSEN, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby designate and proclaim

Sunday, May 12, 1940

MOTHER'S DAY

in Minnesota, a day set apart for extraordinary remembrances and respect to Mother whether that endearment can be shown by personal greetings and regards or by reverence of thought and
