Subject: MCDR Annual Report

The explanation to be noted on the report for higher building permit revenue in 2005 is as follows:

Increased revenue for 2005 includes construction permits for large commercial developments with building continuing during 2006/2007. Inspection expenditures related to these permits will continue to be incurred during the next two years.

Thank you,

Jodi Bursheim

Additional information related to
Municipal Construction and Development Fee Revenue
And Expenses Annual Report
2005 Report

- (1) A significant amount of accumulated infrastructure funds were spent down in 2006 as construction on a water treatment plant and two new wells commenced.
- (2) Park dedication fees were accumulated in 2005 in anticipation of construction of some significant sections of trail and a skateboard park in 2006.
- (3) The City of Cambridge views the functions of development and building permit activities as integrally related. Issuance of building permits does not occur unless certain up-front development activities occur. Therefore, we believe it is more appropriate to consider section III and IV of this report together when evaluating relationships of fee revenue to expenditures related to the generation of the fees. When adding these sections together, fees total $552,679 and expenditures related to the generation of fees total $942,674. This displays a significant level of taxpayer subsidy to encourage growth in the City of Cambridge.

We also believe that it would be a significant deterrent to economic development within the City of Cambridge if we were to bring the fees charged during the development phase more in line with the expenditure levels associated with the cost of development. We believe that if development fees were raised significantly that it would discourage inquiries of potential developers.

SEAL OF ADMIN.
BLDG CODES & STDS. DIV.

Dear Mr. Joachim:

As required by MS 16B.685, the Rochester Olmsted Planning Department (ROPD) is submitting the Municipal Construction and Development Fee Revenue and Expenses Annual Report for 2005. ROPD is a consolidated department providing planning and administers zoning, subdivision, building, well and septic (ISTS) ordinances\codes for Olmsted County and several cities and townships.

ROPD provided services and collected fees in 2005 on behalf of the following cities and townships:

- City of Oronoco
- City of Rochester
- City of Stewartville
- Eyota Township
- Marion Township
- Oronoco Township
- Quincy Township
- Viola Township

ROPD tracks revenues and expenses by function (zoning, development applications, building, well and ISTS permits) but these expenses are not tracked by the individual city or township. Our fees related activities are consolidated onto one form and submitted on behalf of Olmsted County, the cities and townships served by ROPD.

Municipalities may also file their own annual report of revenues and expenses for services not provided by ROPD.

Sincerely,

Larry Klemenhausen, AICP

To Whom It May Concern:

In accordance with MSA 16B.685, cities in Minnesota are to submit by June 30th the Municipal Construction and Development Fee Revenue and Expenses Annual Report.

As you might be aware, the City of Shakopee is a defendant in a lawsuit filed by the Builders Association of the Twin Cities (BATC). Among other things, that lawsuit challenges the building permit fees that the City is presently charging. A hearing on the City's request to dismiss the case was held in Scott County District Court on March 29th. A ruling from the judge is expected shortly. That ruling, along with the ultimate outcome of the lawsuit, could have an impact on how the City calculates the expenses that are required to be included in the Annual Report.

Based on advice from the City's legal counsel, the City intends to defer filing its Annual Report while the lawsuit is pending.

If you have questions, please contact me (952-233-9311).

SPOKE WITH MARK M. TODAY.
THEY ARE NEAR END OF LITIGATION &
WILL SUBMIT REPORTS SOON.

Mark McNeill
