INTRODUCTION

"Actions of the 1961 Minnesota Legislature" is designed to provide members of the Legislature and other interested persons with a summary of major legislation passed during the 1961 regular and special sessions. This publication, by providing a topical reference to enactments and a detailed and historical analysis of major state appropriations, should serve as a sourcebook on the 1961 sessions. Although the report was compiled without benefit of the session laws or the bound permanent journals, the material contained herein is believed to be accurate.

The report includes a summary of changes in existing laws and new laws enacted by the 1961 regular and special sessions. A number of enactments have been excluded because of their minor effect both as to substantive change and limited or local application. The summaries are necessarily brief and in many cases indicate only the general purpose of the law or the major changes effected. Summaries are identified by chapter number and legislative file number. Each enactment is grouped according to its main topic; in some instances summaries are grouped under more than one heading. The headings are identical to those used in previous editions of "Actions", but new categories have been added, including one for cities of the first class, a new subdivision under Gonservation for parks and forests, and a category for laws relating to Hennepin, Ramsey, and St. Louis counties.

Additional information on all of the laws may be obtained by referring to the newspaper edition of the session laws.

Approximately half of this report is devoted to detailed analysis and historical review of major state appropriations and the state building program. Comparative tables, in some instances, go back as far as 1933.

Members of the legislature are urged to submit suggestions to the Legislative Research Committee for improving the usefulness of this summary.

LEGISLATIVE HIGHLIGHTS

The Sixty-Second Session of the Minnesota Legislature convened on January 3, 1961, and adjourned sine die on April 17, 1961. The actual date of adjournment was the same as the journal record of adjournment. During this period 1,948 bills were introduced in the House of Representatives and 1,801 bills were introduced in the Senate. Of the total 3,749 bills introduced in the two chambers (many of which were companion bills), 757 were enacted into law, eight were adopted as resolutions, and four were vetoed by the Governor. No measures became law without the Governor's signature. Two bills were vetoed and returned to the legislature with messages; two bills were vetoed by the pocket veto (without messages). The four vetoed measures are summarized as follows: 1) HF 837 would have granted a liquor license to a resort restaurant in South International Falls (substantially the same bill was enacted during the special session as Extra Session Laws, Chapter 26); 2) SF 355 would have enabled the Rochester city airport to obtain a liquor license; 3) SF 1701 would have limited the use of underground water for airconditioning purposes; and 4) HF 980 related to poor relief settlement and would have made the provisions of Laws 1959, Chapter 171 inapplicable to persons who had established legal settlement prior to the effective date of that law.

The Extra Session convened on April 24, 1961 and both houses met for 33 days of business with the House adjourning on June 7 and the Senate on June 8. There were 255 Senate Files introduced in the Senate and there were 294 House Files. Out of these 549 measures, 100 were enacted into law. There were no votoes by the Governor and no resolutions were adopted during the Extra Session. TABLE OF CONTENTS
