It's a great day to fly!

Your Office of Aeronautics is very pleased to provide this valuable and very useful aviation resource to you. We publish this directory annually for the convenience of Minnesota's aviators, and in support of Minnesota's system of airports, navigational aids, weather-access systems, and state tourism.

The 2010 Directory is packed with detailed information designed to aid you in planning your flights to any of Minnesota's outstanding public airports. We urge you to use it often and take advantage of the amenities our airports and cities have to offer. Did you know that many airports are within a short driving distance of a state park or recreation area?

When you look inside you will discover information unique to each public airport along with information about the surrounding area's lodging, dining, camping and recreational sites, and more!

This is a great time to begin planning your next series of flights as you participate in the Fly Minnesota Airports program. The program is a fun way to visit many of the state's great public airports while also exploring the unique treasures you will find around the state. In addition as a Fly Minnesota Airports participant you will not only increase your flying safety, skills, and awareness, you will be helping aviation in Minnesota to grow! But to add to the fun, you can qualify for some very nice prizes when you have met program criteria and visited a select number of airports!

Program details can be found by navigating to the following URL:
<http://www.dot.state.mn.us/aero/> then click on the "Passport" on the lower left side of the page. We are confident you will enjoy the program and your visits to any of Minnesota's airports.

Have fun. Fly safely, and enjoy exploring Minnesota!

The State of Minnesota, Office of Aeronautics, Navigation Systems Section has installed Automated Weather Observation Systems (AWOS) at the locations listed above. The equipment, installation, and maintenance of these systems is funded entirely by this office.

From an optimum location on the airport, the AWOS measures and reports wind direction and speed, visibility, sky condition, temperature, dew point, type of precipitation, lightning strikes and barometric pressure which is converted into an altimeter setting. Current weather information can be obtained by telephoning the AWOS site. A computer generated voice relays up-to-the-minute observations.

The AWOS data is visually displayed on a remote computer monitor at the airport, and is simultaneously broadcast over the local radio navigation aid or a VHF transmitter for in-flight use. Data is gathered in 20-minute intervals from each AWOS site (ASOS data is gathered hourly with specials) and distributed nationally over an FAA NADIN computer network, allowing these reports to become available through computer weather systems such as MnWAS.

Where installed, the AWOS or ASOS is an official weather reporting source, and is approved without restriction for FAR Part 121 and 135 operations. If you have any questions regarding the AWOS, please contact Bob Milton at 651-234-7250.

Minnesota Weather Access System (MnWAS)

The Mn/DOT, Office of Aeronautics in cooperation with Meteorlogix, provides a computer weather access program that offers textual data, graphic displays, and flight planning capabilities at airports throughout our state.

Hot Spot Charts

The FAA has turned a spotlight on Runway Incursions. Anytime an aircraft, person or vehicle gets into the active runway environment without clearance, there is the possibility of a collision and loss of life. The FAA has been collecting and analyzing data on Runway Incursions at tower-controlled airports. When they identify areas on an airport where there have been Runway Incursions or where pilots and vehicle operators have gotten disoriented, those spots are identified as "Hot Spots."

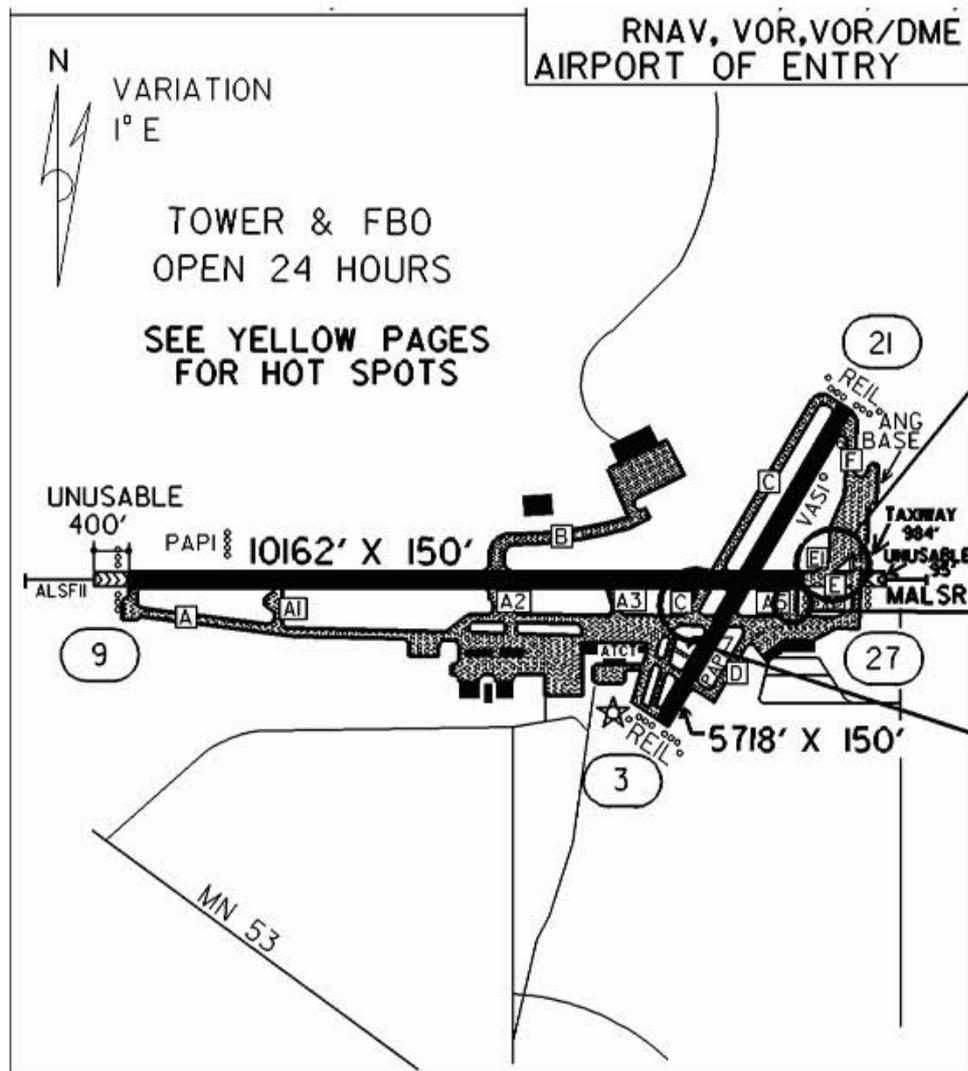

The following pages contain the Hot Spot Charts for the towered airports in Minnesota. These charts were current at the time that this directory went to press. For the most current information contact the airport manager.

Runway Incursions occur at non-towered airports and they are just as dangerous. There isn't any data for non-towered airports, but we can apply some of what we have learned about towered airports at non-towered fields. Runway Incursions are more common at complex intersections where more than two runways or taxiways intersect. Beware of obstructed intersections where the pilot cannot see the entire length of the runway they are entering or crossing. Be cautious when operating at airports with parallel runways.

At both tower-controlled and non-towered airports one of the best tools for fighting Runway Incursions is to use an airport diagram. The airport diagrams in this directory cover all of the Minnesota public airports. This information was current when we went to press, and as we become aware of changes we update the diagrams on our website at: www.mndot.gov (click on the airplane).

For airports outside of Minnesota, many airport diagrams can be found in the Airport Facility Directory or the Instrument Approach Procedures. Airport diagrams for these airports and many more can also be found on the Internet. We cannot guarantee the accuracy of the information found on this or any other website outside of our control.

We hope that you find the additional information included on these pages useful. As always, we welcome your feedback.

TEMPERATURE CONVERSIONS

SUMMER

WINTER

MINNEAPOLIS CLASS "B" AIRSPACE

The requirements of FAR 91.131 must be met before requesting Class "B" clearance. Clearance into MSP Class "B" must be received prior to entering. Flight within the 30 MI "veil" requires operating Mode - C Transponder or a waiver from ATC.

Fire Danger

For your safety
and the safety of aerial firefighters

FLY CLEAR OF WILDFIRES AND SMOKE

- Check NOTAMs for temporary flight restrictions.
- General aviation pilots are asked to stay seven miles away from and 5,000 feet above all fires!
- Even if no fire fighting aircraft are visible, general aviators should assume they are in the airspace around a fire.
- Wildland fire aviators fly in less than ideal conditions; congested airspace, smoke, strong winds, power lines and radio towers. When you combine these conditions with general aviators flying to “check out the fire”, the results could easily be disastrous.

Invasive Species Alert for Seaplane Pilots

Seaplane pilots are asked to be aware of the presence of invasive and exotic species in many bodies of water within and adjacent to the State of Minnesota. These include: Eurasian water milfoil, zebra mussels, and the spiny water flea to name a few. The Department of Natural Resources appreciates any efforts seaplane pilots can provide in preventing the spread of these damaging species. Pilots can help prevent the spread of these species via seaplanes by scrubbing the hull of the plane or floats while still in the water of the infected lake, especially important if the aircraft has been moored on an infested lake for more than a few hours. The removal of water from float compartments prior to departure is encouraged to further limit the possibility of transporting these species which could infect other bodies of water. If possible, just prior to takeoff raise and lower your water rudders a number of times to help clear any aquatic hitchhikers. After takeoff at a safe altitude, if conditions permit, raise and lower your water rudders a number of times while still over the waters that you departed to clear aquatic plants from the water rudders and cables.

For the most current and complete list of lakes that harbor invasive species and how to do your part to prevent transporting them by seaplane, please visit the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources website at www.dnr.state.mn.us/invasives/index.html for guidance. Remember, it is against Minnesota law to transport aquatic species from one body of water to another.
