STATE OF MINNESOTA
COUNCIL ON ASIAN-PACIFIC MINNESOTANS
BIENNIAL REPORT 2009 - 2010

NOVEMBER 2010

Submitted to the Governor & the Minnesota State Legislature in compliance with Minnesota Statute 3.9226 subdivision 7.

Executive Summary

Part of State Government | Part of the Solution

November 2010

For the past two years, the Council on Asian-Pacific Minnesotans (CAPM) has been submerged in assessing our previous works and efforts in the hope of building our future. The result of this reflection is held within a strategic plan of this Biennial Report which we firmly believe provides a new perspective on our work and a sharpened focus on how and where we should expend valuable and limited resources. The strategic plan is built around our mission, "To be an advisor to policymakers, advocate for the community, and builder of bridges." This mission represents and is supported by all of the mandated statutory activities defined in our enabling statute. Ultimately, we hope that this mission is a reflection of and an homage to those that worked tirelessly for our creation.

The strategic plan serves as the agency's road map for the next 5 years. Our strategic plan lays out CAPM's three long-term goals and will guide us in establishing the annual goals we will need to meet along the way. It will help us to measure how far we have come towards achieving our goals and to recognize where we need to adjust our approaches or directions to achieve better results. Finally, it will provide a basis from which we can focus on the highest priority issues and ensure that we use taxpayer dollars effectively.

2011 promises many challenges and trials. The country is in economic disarray and the state is facing a huge budget deficit. There is just not enough money to pay for all the good things that government provides for its citizens: quality schools, police and fire protection, public health and healthcare, and help and assistance to the poor, needy, and elderly.

How the Asian American and Pacific Islander community will fare in this process is up to community members and the Council must take leadership in this endeavor both at the staff and board levels. It is for challenging times such as this that the Council was created. We are to be the voice for the community. Their concerns are our concerns. And we must work with them and for them. Daily we hear from the community about lost jobs, foreclosed homes, lost savings and health coverage, the cost of food, and of elders who cannot pay their co-pays for needed medicine. The Council does not provide direct service, but we are a part of state government that funds and oversees many of these issues. We as part of the state have a voice in the policy and direction of these issues and working together and with the community, we can make a huge impact and the Council must seize upon our "insider" and public agency status to affect change.

In the upcoming years, we look forward to engaging with all of our stakeholders to help us realize a great state that serves and better the lives of its people.

Sincerely,

Terry Cheng, Chair

Ilean Her, Executive Director

Part I: Summary of Activities

Agency Purpose

The Council on Asian-Pacific Minnesotans ('Council' or 'CAPM') was created by the Minnesota State Legislature in 1985 pursuant to Minn. Stat. 3.9226 to fulfill the following primary objectives: advise the governor and state legislators on issues pertaining to Asian Pacific people; ensure Asian Pacific Minnesotans are more incorporated and engaged in the governmental and policymaking process; see that residents of Asian Pacific descent have sufficient access to state government services; promote the talents and resources of Asian Pacific people where appropriate; and act as a broker between the Asian Pacific community in Minnesota and mainstream society.

Serving as a conduit to state government for Asian Pacific organizations and individuals, the Council recommends bills to the governor and state legislature designed to improve the economic and social condition of all Asian Pacific Minnesotans. Furthermore, the Council may provide comment and/or recommendations regarding any application for federal funds submitted by state departments or agencies that stand to impact programs pertinent to Asian-Pacific Minnesotans.

Core Functions

On behalf of this population; the Council plays the role of advisor, advocate, and broker. In these capacities, it deals with problems unique to non-English speaking immigrants and refugees; administrative and legislative barriers blocking Asian-Pacific people's access to benefits and services; opportunities for affordable housing and health care; and taking appropriate measures to increase Asian Pacific peoples' level of preparedness for, and overall presence in, the state's ever-evolving workforce.

The Council may perform its own research or contract for studies to be conducted for use in developing policy recommendations intended to benefit the Asian Pacific community. Areas of focus may include education, work-force development, human rights, mental health, affordable housing, economic development, violence prevention/intervention, immigration and refugee issues, social welfare, or any other timely subject matter. For a more thorough understanding of these issues or to facilitate a community dialogue, the Council frequently hosts roundtable discussions, forums, and workshops. It also convenes workgroups, taskforces, and special committees focusing on issues of particular importance -- issues that require more detailed examination or ones where the need for solutions is conveyed with a sense of urgency by the community.

Operations

The CAPM consists of 23 members, 19 of whom are appointed by the governor and represent a broad cross section of the Asian-Pacific community. In addition, two members of the House of Representatives and two members of the Senate are appointed under the rules of their respective bodies. They serve as non-voting members. The Council maintains a staff of four under the leadership of the executive director.

The Council serves individuals and ethnic groups from over 40 countries, including Afghanistan, Australia, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Brunei, Burma (Myanmar), Cambodia, China, Cook Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, Federated States of Midway Islands, Fiji, French Polynesia, Guam, Hawaii's, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Iran, Japan, Kazakhstan, Kiribati, Kyrgyzstan, Laos (Hmong and Lao), Macau, Malaysia, Maldives, Marshall Islands, Mongolia, Nauru, Nepal, New Caledonia, New Zealand, North Korea, Northern Mariana Islands, Pakistan, Palau, Papua New Guinea, Philippines, Pitcairn Islands,

The success and wellbeing of every citizen is crucial to the vitality and success of the state. It is in furthering this belief that the state invests much of its resources providing for the educational, health care, human services and other basic needs of its citizens. The work of the Council on Asian-Pacific Minnesotans (CAPM) is an extension of this state service to its citizenship and has been since its inception an effective and efficient vehicle for the state to work with the Asian Pacific American community. Over the years, CAPM has established itself as a viable and credible state agency working with the Asian Pacific community in Minnesota. Our work fills a unique niche that no other state agency has the capacity and or credibility to fulfill. The community looks to us to help them give voice to their issues and concerns. State and Federal government units look to us to help them connect and build bridges to the Asian Pacific community. We have become an indispensable arm of government in its outreach to the community. In this time of economic uncertainty and challenges, the role of the CAPM to work with the community to find solutions and hope is needed more than ever.

(All information herein extracted from 2009 American Communities Survey data – 1 year data)
Note: The 2009 ACS data only surveyed populations greater than 65,000 and is not generalizable to smaller populations. The 2009 ACS data are estimates and is not the 2010 Census data.

Age

When compared to the total MN population, Asian Americans(AsAm) are younger.

- Median age of AsAms is 28.1, compared to 37.5 for the total MN population.
- AsAm have a higher percentage of 0-44 year olds and a lower percentage of 45-75+ year olds.
- Only 1.5% of AsAms are 75 years and old, compared to 6.2% for the total MN population

Households

When compared to the total MN population, AsAm households tend to:

- Be a family household, (as opposed to an individual's household) 76.5% of AsAms households are family households, compare to 64.7% for the total MN population.
- Larger (includes both more relatives and children) AsAm household sizes are 3.4, compared to 2.46 for the total MN population.

Educational Attainment

AsAm tend to have a higher % of the population without a HS diploma.

- Between 19-20% of AsAm have less than a HS diploma compared to 8.5-8.9% of the total MN population.
- About 18% of AsAm only have a HS diploma as the highest level of education compared to 28% of the total MN population.

However, AsAm are more likely to have a B.A. or graduate degree when compared to the total population.

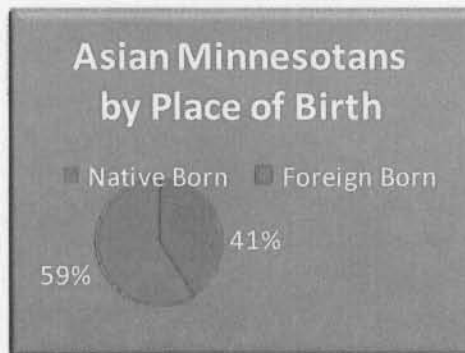

- Has B.A.: 23% of AsAms vs. 21% of total MN
- Has Grad. Degree: 17.9-20% of AsAms vs. 9.9 % of total MN population.

Comment: The wide spread in educational attainment among AsAms highlights the variance in the AsAm population and the importance of disaggregating demographic data by ethnicity and other variables. For example, more than 90 percent of the adults in the Twin Cities have a high school degree—the highest rate in the nation. However, fewer than half of Hmong adults have a high school education.

Place of Birth and Citizenship

- About 59% of Asian Minnesotans are foreign-born (approximately 120,000).
- About 26% of Asian Minnesotans are foreign born and not naturalized US Citizens (about 52,700).
- About 33% of Asian Minnesotans are foreign born naturalized US Citizens (about 67,300).
- About 41% of Asian Minnesotans are native born (approximately 81,500).
- About 74% of Asian Minnesotans are US Citizens (about 148,800).

English Proficiency and Language Use

About 24% of AsAms reported they speak English “less than well.”

About 26% of AsAms reported they only speak English at home.

About 73% of AsAms reported they speak a language other than English at home.

Employment

While AsAms had similar employment and unemployment rates as the total MN population, AsAm women are less likely to be working (not seeking employment) and more likely to be unemployed (actively seeking and unable to find employment) when compared to the total MN population.

- 64.9% of AsAm women were in the labor force, compared to 66.7% of the total MN population.
- 7.3% of AsAm women were unemployed, compared to 4.2% of the total MN population.

By Occupation

As a whole, AsAms are more likely than the total MN population to work in the sectors of:

- Management, professional, and related occupations (43.6% compared to 37.9% for total MN population.)
- Production, transportation, and material moving occupations (19.1% compared to 12.5% for total MN population.)

AsAms are less likely than the total MN population to be working in the sectors of:

- Construction, extraction, maintenance, and repair occupations (1.9% compared to 7.6% for total MN population.)
- Farming, fishing, and forestry occupations (0.3% compared to 0.8% for total MN population.)
- Sales and office occupations (18.6% compared to 24.8% for total MN population.)

AsAms are as likely as the total MN population to work in the sectors of:

- Service occupations (about 16.5% for both AsAm and total MN population)

By Industry

As a whole, AsAms are more likely than the total MN population to be employed in:

- Manufacturing (24.6% compared to 13.6% for total MN population.)
- Professional, scientific, and management, and administrative and waste management services (13.1% compared to 9.3% for total MN population.)

Aside from the two areas mentioned above, AsAm also tend to work in industry areas of:

- Retail Trade (9.3%)
- Finance and insurance, and real estate and rental and leasing (6.9%)
- Educational services, and health care and social assistance (24.2%)
- Arts, entertainment, and recreation, and accommodation and food services (8.2%)

Income

When measured as a household, AsAms have a higher income ($60,068 vs. $55,616 for total MN population.)

However, Asian Minnesotans are also more likely to have:

- Cash Public Assistance (6.3% vs. 3.2% for total MN population.)
- Food Stamps/SNAP benefits (13.7% vs. 6.3% for total MN population.)

Comment: Along with the finding that AsAms have larger households, this data on AsAm income highlights the fact that AsAms are likely to have a higher household income due to having more earners in the household than the total MN population.

When measured as a family or individual, AsAms have a lower income ($66,586 vs. $69,374 for total MN population.) AsAm individuals also have a lower per capital income ($21,091 vs. $28,800 for total MN population.)

Poverty Rate

AsAms families have a higher rate of poverty: 12.2% vs. 7% of the total MN population.

This figure increases for AsAm families with only a female householder, no husband present: 28% vs. 25.4% of the total MN population. When measuring all people (non-family included), AsAms have a poverty rate of 16.4% compared to 11% for all Minnesotans.

Health Disparities:

There are health disparities for the Asian American and Pacific Islander community and their health care needs are often overlooked by policy makers and officials. Part of the reason is because of the lack of data representing Asian communities in research and reports, thus policy makers do not understand their needs and thus, cannot craft solutions to address them. One of the main problems with any existing health data on the API communities is that the API data is aggregated. Data labeled "Asian" or "Asian Pacific" is too consolidated and massed together. Lumping together such widely different populations as Chinese, Asian Indian, Hmong or Lao distorts the situation for a specific population. Each one of these communities has a very different culture and history and health profile. The Council in partnership with the community advocate for the collection of ethnic specific data where possible so that proper health promotion and outreach can be created to assist and help the community improve their health conditions.

Subdivision 1.Membership.

The state Council on Asian-Pacific Minnesotans consists of 23 members. Nineteen members are appointed by the governor and must be broadly representative of the Asian-Pacific community of the state. Each Asian-Pacific ethnic community from the area described in subdivision 2 may be represented by no more than one council member. In making appointments, the governor shall consider an appointee's proven dedication and commitment to the Asian-Pacific community and any special skills possessed by the appointee that might be beneficial to the council, including at a minimum experience in public policy, legal affairs, social work, business, management, or economics. Terms, compensation, and filling of vacancies for appointed members are as provided in section 15.0575. Because the council performs functions that are not purely advisory, the council is not subject to the expiration date in section 15.059. Two members of the house of representatives appointed under the rules of the house of representatives and two members of the senate appointed under the rules of the senate shall serve as nonvoting members of the council. In making legislative appointments, the speaker of the house and the Subcommittee on Committees of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the senate shall consult with the council in an effort to select appointees knowledgeable and interested in the affairs of the Asian-Pacific community. The council shall annually elect from its membership a chair and other officers it deems necessary. The council shall encourage Asian-Pacific ethnic communities and organizations to designate persons to serve as liaisons with the council.
