Introduction

History

In 1967, the legislature began regulating the practice of law enforcement by creating the Minnesota Peace Officer Training Board (MPOTB). The Board's main responsibility was to certify agencies offering police academy training in hopes that police training would become standardized across the state.

In 1977 several amendments to the original legislation were passed abolishing the MPOTB and replacing it with the Minnesota Board of Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST).

The mission of the POST Board was to create the first law enforcement occupational licensing system in the United States. The system established licensing and training requirements and set standards for law enforcement agencies and officers. Today, the Board continues to develop, maintain and enforce standards for selection, education and licensing.

Compared to other states, Minnesota's licensing system is unique because it requires all peace officers to obtain a post-secondary degree. Also, there is no state-sponsored police training academy as in most other states. Since its inception, POST's standards have been recognized as a model for many other states that have subsequently adopted similar systems.

Mission

The mission of the POST Board is to regulate and enhance the profession of law enforcement across the state of Minnesota through the selection, education and licensing standards of peace officers.

The Board licenses and regulates more than 10,300 peace officers, 199 part-time peace officers and 452 state, county and local law enforcement agencies. POST also certifies colleges and universities throughout the state that provide professional peace officer education programs.

Like other state regulatory agencies, POST implements policies and procedures enacted by the legislature. The Board and committee meetings often focus on developing practices to clarify statutory requirements impacting officers, law enforcement agencies, higher education providers and students. POST's philosophy is to serve as a resource and partner with stakeholders to ensure compliance with state policies and training mandates.

POST Board's Key Service Components

Board and Committees

The board of an organization establishes and maintains the policies and procedures necessary to fulfill their mission. The POST Board responds to their members' constituencies as well as the governor's office, legislature, other state agencies, law enforcement-related professional organizations and stakeholder and community groups.

The full Board meets four times per year. In addition, committees of the Board meet as needed and are called by the committee's chairperson. The committees are subordinate to the Board and must report their recommendations to the Board for authority to act. For the full Board and all committees, a majority vote of members present and voting is needed to take action.

Board

- The chair is a Board member appointed by the governor. In the absence of the chair, the vice-chair serves. The vice-chair is elected for a twelve month term by the entire Board with a majority vote at the first meeting after new Board members are appointed each year. The Board functions as a voting body and each member has one vote.
- Members are expected to have a working knowledge of state government, the Board's scope and mission, administrative rules, the Board's bylaws, and rules of the organization.

Executive Committee

- The Executive Committee consists of the Board chair, vice-chair and four other members. The Executive Committee advises and assists the administrative staff.
- The purpose of the Executive Committee is to act on matters that require immediate action, except when such action might affect or modify existing Board policies and procedures.

Bylaws Committee

- The Bylaws Committee is comprised of three members, including the chair. The bylaws define and control the conduct of the Board.
- The purpose of the Bylaws Committee is to review the language of the current bylaws and, if necessary, recommend changes to the full Board.

Standards Committee

- The Standards Committee is comprised of seven members including the Committee chair and vice-chair.
- The purpose of the Standards Committee is to review and make recommendations relating to minimum selection standards and standards of conduct for peace officers.

Training Committee

- The Training Committee has seven members including the Committee chair and vice-chair.
- The purpose of the Training Committee is to review and make recommendations to the Board on the certification of post-secondary law enforcement programs in Minnesota, licensing exams and continuing education of peace officers.

Complaint Committee

- The Complaint Committee consists of three Board members, two of whom must be peace officers. All three members must be present for a quorum.
- The purpose of the Complaint Committee is to regulate the management and processing of complaints relative to allegations of administrative rule violations by chief law enforcement officers and for any alleged violation of the standards of conduct for licensed peace officers as defined in Minn. R. 6700.1600.

Special Committees

- The Board chair may create and empower special committees consisting of at least three members.

Dedicated Receipts

POST receives an appropriation to reimburse law enforcement agencies to help defray their peace officer training costs. Continuing education is essential for law enforcement to learn the skills necessary to ensure public safety. In recent years, training needs have become increasingly more complex and costly while the reimbursement amount has remained stagnant.

The 2005 Omnibus Public Safety bill included a dedicated fee to increase the reimbursement amount to local units of government for continuing education training of peace officers. The $20 fee is paid for the reinstatement of a driver's license in two non-DWI related instances – suspension for failure to appear and suspension for unpaid fines.

Website

The POST Board website is a widely used resource by potential peace officers, students in the professional peace officer education programs, licensed officers and members of the public. Current highlights include:

- How to become a peace officer
- Upcoming continuing education courses around the state
- Current job opportunities for peace officers
- General information for officers and agencies

Below is a snapshot of the home page featuring “What’s New,” Online Services, Rules, Statistics etc.

Functions

Licensed Peace Officers and Part-time Peace Officers

In Minnesota there are two types of licenses: peace officer and part-time peace officer, and two status categories: active and inactive. A licensed peace officer must graduate from a two- or four-year professional peace officer education program. A part-time licensed peace officer must complete an 80-hour educational curriculum, be supervised by a licensed peace officer and work no more than 1,040 hours annually. An officer's license is active if they are employed by a law enforcement agency. An inactive license indicates the officer is not currently employed by a law enforcement agency.

A total of 11,738 officers were licensed in Minnesota as of June 30, 2012. Of the licensed peace officers, there were 10,162 active and 1305 inactive. The number of active part-time licensed peace officers was 204 and 67 were inactive.

Licensing Examinations

The Board's rules require candidates for peace officer licensing meet minimum selection standards including educational, non-conviction of certain crimes and job-related physical and psychological fitness. The rules also require candidates to pass a written examination to be eligible for licensure. Individuals who become eligible to be licensed do not receive their license until hired by a law enforcement agency.

The three licensing exams administered by the POST Board are peace officer, reciprocity and part-time peace officer. Candidates who pass a licensing exam are eligible to be licensed for a period of three years.

Peace Officer Licensing Examination

- For candidates who have successfully completed a professional peace officer education program.

The peace officer licensing examination is administered a minimum of six times annually. The exam is always offered in the metropolitan area. When a second site is justified by the demand, the exam is also offered in greater Minnesota.

Reciprocity Examination

- For individuals who are certified peace officers in another state, a federal jurisdiction or who have served in the military as military police officers for a period of five or more years of active duty and have received an honorable discharge.
- Eligibility is based on a combination of basic police training and experience.

Part-time Peace Officer Examination

- For individuals who have completed selection and training standards for part-time peace officers.
- Must be under the sponsorship of a law enforcement agency that intends to hire the candidate when he/she has passed the exam.

Both the reciprocity and part-time peace officer examinations are scheduled by individual appointment and conducted at the Board's office.

State of Residence for Reciprocity Examination Applicants

Peace officer licensing exam applicants must successfully complete a professional peace officer education program in Minnesota; therefore, their state of residence is not recorded. Candidates from other states who meet educational and/or years of experience requirements can apply for the reciprocity licensing exam.

The following table indicates the gender and the states where reciprocity candidates were last certified or licensed. Former federal law enforcement applicants are categorized separately because their last certification or licensing is not necessarily state-related.

Other POST Board Information

Unlike other licensing boards, the POST Board does not issue licenses immediately to individuals who pass the Board's examinations. They are considered "eligible to be licensed" at that point. The license certificate is issued when a law enforcement agency notifies the Board that it has hired an individual who is eligible and that the individual has met all of the selection standards prescribed in POST Board's rules.

The following tables illustrate the number of individuals issued a peace officer and part-time peace officer license by gender and age as distinguished in the testing application data.

Professional Peace Officer Education (PPOE)

Peace officer education in Minnesota is unique in two ways. First, all peace officers educated in Minnesota must obtain a higher education degree from a regionally accredited college or university; this standard has been in place since 1978 and still no other state holds this high standard for all its peace officers. Second, the professional peace officer education required for peace officer license eligibility is only offered through Minnesota POST Board certified colleges and universities. We have no stand alone police academies. This system of education is a reflection of Minnesota's dedication to highly educated, competent peace officers.

The PPOE Learning Objectives

The PPOE is based on 154 learning objectives developed and regularly reviewed by the Board. The objectives are broken down into five broad categories including: 1) Practical Applications and Techniques, 2) Criminal Justice System: Civil and Criminal Law, 3) Community Policing, 4) Victims and Victims' Rights, and 5) Leading, Managing and Communicating. These objectives are available on the POST Board's website.

Minnesota's Professional Peace Officer Education System

The POST Board certifies twenty-seven colleges and universities in Minnesota to provide the professional education necessary to prepare students for a career in law enforcement. Successful completion of the PPOE is required for students who wish to take the State's Peace Officer License Examination. School certification is based on standards and requirements set forth in Minnesota Rules and coordinated and overseen by POST.

The PPOE is offered at thirty-eight locations throughout the state though not every location provides all of the practical/skills components of the education on-site. Training in areas like firearms, emergency vehicle operations, etc. are offered at twelve locations statewide. Some schools also offer the academic component of the PPOE on-line. Two new schools were certified to provide the PPOE in 2012; Northwestern College in Roseville and Inver Hills Community College in Inver Grove Heights.

PPOE programs at certified schools are monitored regularly. Each program has a coordinator with whom POST Board staff is in frequent communication. Staff also conducts regular site visits to the schools and hosts a PPOE coordinators conference annually. In addition and per Minn. R. 6700.0400, subp. 3., C., the certified schools are required to apply to the Board for recertification every five years.

The most recent PPOE recertification began in April of 2010. The recertification process includes a thorough evaluation and on-site inspection of each program to ensure all of the PPOE related requirements of Minn. R. 6700.0300 – 6700.0700 are met. The recertification application requires the supporting signature from the Chancellor of the Minnesota State College and University Board, or, for private schools, the signature of the school's president. The application also requires the school provide answers to questions in 20 categories and submit supporting documentation including a matrix showing how each of the POST required learning objectives is covered in the program's coursework. The recertification of the POST Board certified PPOE schools was completed when the Board recertified the last program at its October 2011, meeting.

PPOE Job Task Analysis and Learning Objectives Revision Project

The POST Board's Learning Objectives for Professional Peace Officer Education, first developed in the late 1970's, was completely rewritten in 1997 and has been modified occasionally over the last fifteen years. Late in 2011, POST Board staff began work on a long-term project to determine how these learning objectives compare with entry level peace officer job tasks in the year 2012 and beyond. Begun with a small Perkins grant from Century College, the project is being conducted in collaboration with Minnesota's higher education and law enforcement communities.

The first major step in the project took place in May 2012, when curriculum development experts from Ohio State University spent two days interviewing a panel of Minnesota peace officers with eight or fewer years of service to determine what duties and tasks entry level officers perform. Panelists were also asked what they believe are the critical knowledge and skills peace officers need today, what tools and equipment officers use, and what they believe are the future trends and concerns that will most impact future peace officers. Validation of the findings of the panel has begun and analysis of the tasks will follow. It is anticipated the project will result in modification of the learning objectives which will in turn impact the peace officer license examination. Another goal is the development of rubrics based on the new learning objectives to aid in setting educational standards.

Continuing Education

Every licensed peace officer and part-time peace officer must complete a minimum of forty-eight hours of continuing education within the three-year licensing period in order to maintain and renew their license. Active peace officers and part-time peace officers must complete use of force training every year and an eight hour course in emergency vehicle operations and in the conduct of police pursuit every five years. It is the officer's discretion which law enforcement related courses they complete to satisfy the remainder of the required forty-eight hours. Inactive officers are not required to complete mandated training, however are required to have forty-eight hours of law enforcement training.

To gain POST-approval for continuing education courses, sponsors submit an application outlining the course content and instructor qualifications. To be accepted for continuing education training credit, the course must be law enforcement-related, promote professional peace officer competence, and be related to the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to perform peace officer duties.

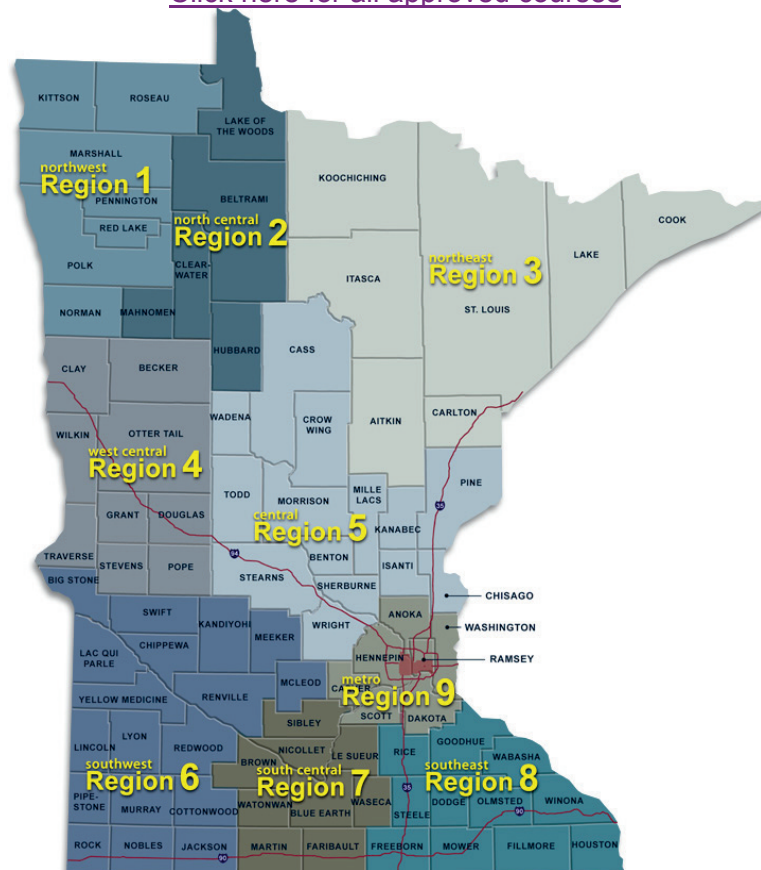

When the course is approved the sponsor can request the course be advertised on the POST Board website. The approved course list is updated weekly and divided into nine regions across the state for ease of locating training in a specific area (see below).

Continuing Education Expenditures

To qualify for reimbursement, law enforcement agencies must submit their continuing education expenses to the POST Board. Agencies are asked to list their actual costs although reimbursement is no more than the per-officer share or the amount expended on training.

The categories of continuing education expenditures are cost of course, officer's salary while in training, lodging and meals per diem, transportation to and from course, fees paid to training organization, and other costs including facility rental and training vehicle maintenance. The costs do not include expenses paid for by officers themselves, membership dues to training association, training officer or support staff salaries, or expenditures from state agencies. The table below reflects the continuing education expenditures submitted to POST over the past sixteen years.

Reimbursement

Over seventy-five percent of the POST Board's budget is distributed each year to local units of government. The payment is a partial reimbursement to the law enforcement agency for costs of continuing education for their officers. POST's reimbursement account is funded by a surcharge on criminal and traffic violations and fees collected for the reinstatement of a driver's license in non-DWI related instances (suspension for failure to appear or unpaid fines). Although the law (Minn. Stat. 357.021, subds 6. and 7.) dictates the percentage of the surcharge the Board is to receive, the legislature has the prerogative to set the Board's budget.

The reimbursement rate is calculated based on the total amount allocated by the legislature divided by the number of eligible officers. A law enforcement agency is able to request reimbursement for training costs if an officer has been employed for eight months. To receive a reimbursement, a law enforcement agency must submit an application detailing the costs of continuing education and a list of all eligible officers.

The per-officer share varies from year to year depending on the number of eligible officers submitted by agencies for reimbursement and the account amount. The table below shows the per-officer share for the past eighteen years.

Reimbursement by Law Enforcement Agency

In 2012, 407 local units of government were reimbursed for continuing education expenses. Generally, the reimbursement rate is almost a third of an agency's cost for providing officer training.

License Sanctions

The POST Board has licensing jurisdiction when a peace officer has been criminally convicted and when the chief law enforcement officer fails to implement a mandated policy or follow a directive of the Board.

Based on legislation passed in 1995, a peace officer's license is automatically revoked if the officer is convicted of a felony. Convictions include a finding of guilt, whether or not the adjudication of guilt is stayed or executed, an admission of guilt, or a no contest plea. The Board's Complaint Committee procedure provides due process for licensees.

According to Minn. R. 6700.1610, licensees themselves or persons with knowledge of the licensee's conduct which could be grounds for disciplinary action, must report the violation to the Board.

It is mandatory for all law enforcement agencies to adopt policies and procedures for the investigation of allegations of misconduct against their licensed peace officers. In 2001, the legislature mandated all agencies adopt a policy to prevent racial profiling governing the conduct of peace officers engaged in stops of citizens. Since then, complaints against peace officers received by the POST Board are separated by general allegations and impartial policing allegations.

Agency Compliance Reviews

Per Minn. Stat. 626.8459, the Board is directed to conduct annual compliance reviews of all state, county and local law enforcement agencies. The reviews ensure law enforcement agencies meet the minimum state standards set for policy and procedure, training and recordkeeping as well as ensuring all officers meet minimum standards for hiring.

Every September, a policy and training compliance review form is sent to each agency's Chief Law Enforcement Officer (CLEO) requesting affirmation that their agency's policy and training requirements have been met.

In addition to the annual forms, POST's Standards Coordinators make random on-site reviews of agencies. The Board's practice is to review 50 randomly selected law enforcement agencies. The agencies chosen are generated by a computer program which calculates geographic regions to ensure representation across the state each year. In addition to the ones randomly selected, the Standards Coordinators have the discretion to review other law enforcement agencies.
