This document is made available electronically by the Minnesota Legislative Reference Library as part of an ongoing digital archiving project. <http://www.leg.state.mn.us/lrl/lrl.asp>

Mission Statement:

The Interstate Commission for Juveniles, the governing body of the Interstate Compact for Juveniles, through means of joint and cooperative action among the compacting states, preserves child welfare and promotes public safety interests of citizens, including victims of juvenile offenders, by providing enhanced accountability, enforcement, visibility, and communication in the return of juveniles who have left their state of residence without permission and in the cooperative supervision of delinquent juveniles who travel or relocate across state lines.

Vision Statement:

The Interstate Commission for Juveniles will promote public safety, victims' rights, and juvenile accountability that is balanced with safeguarding those juveniles.

Letter from the Chair

Terry L. Clark (PA), Chair

*Summer Foxworth (CO),
Vice Chair*

*Philip Cox (OR),
Treasurer*

Reflecting on the past year, I would like to thank the Commission members who positioned this organization to advance despite tough economic times. The dedicated service of our committees, regions, and national office exemplify the commitment of the Commission to ensure juveniles receive compact services and states receive valuable support and assistance. By accomplishing bold initiatives in fiscal year 2012, the Commission set the foundation for a successful future.

Out of this year's many achievements, I am especially proud of the memorandum of understanding ratified between the Interstate Commission for Juveniles and the Association of Administrators for the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children (AAICPC). With our colleagues at AAICPC, the joint workgroup is developing tools and guidelines that are instrumental in clarifying how to handle cases of mutual concern.

The Commission is also taking steps to ensure our stability and continuity by implementing the Juvenile Interstate Data System (JIDS). The launch of this system will enable states to better serve their populations and fulfill our mission to promote public safety, victims' rights, and juvenile accountability that is balanced with their safeguarding.

We believe the Commission is strengthened by our ex officios' contributions and look forward to working with our newest member, the Conference of Chief Justices (CCJ). This year, ICJ participated in a number of outreach opportunities with ex officio members such as the American Probation and Parole Association, Interstate Commission for Adult Offenders, and the National Conference of Juvenile and Family Court Judges.

The Commission responded to states' pressing issues by distributing advisory opinions in the areas of non-adjudicated juveniles held in secure detention, HIPAA regulations, as well as detention and supervision fees. The remembrances of compact office personnel and the Commission's maturation sparked new policies for posthumous recognition, record retention, and disposing of assets. With the anticipation of JIDS, the Commission also authorized a privacy policy and user agreement.

I am confident the changes and accomplishments of the past year, along with the hard work of the membership, will result in an organization that continues to be a leader in the field of juvenile justice. The Commission takes pride in these achievements while remaining steadfast to its mission. I am grateful to the membership for electing me to serve another term as your chair.

Meetings

- Held the 2011 Annual Business Meeting in Norfolk, Virginia
- Conducted one site visit for the 2013 Annual Business Meeting
- Organized and hosted the Executive Committee face-to-face meetings in Lexington, Kentucky, and Norfolk, Virginia
- Organized and hosted the Rules Committee face-to-face meeting in Lexington, Kentucky
- Organized and hosted two face-to-face meetings for JIDS in Lexington, Kentucky
- Hosted 71 committee and region teleconference meetings

The MOU workgroup finalized a memorandum of understanding between ICJ and AAICPC, establishing a foundation upon which the ICJ and AAICPC could continue working together. The workgroup is working to clarify the role and scope of both compacts and identify specific cases of possible overlap where collaboration between the two compacts could be improved.

The workgroup has fourteen voting members: seven from ICJ and seven from ICPC. In addition to the voting members, there are several very active ex officios and guests who participate in discussions.

The MOU was approved at the 2011 ICJ Annual Business Meeting in October and the 2012 AAICPC Annual Meeting in May. The workgroup continues to develop guidelines to assist states with cases where both compacts could potentially be involved. These three areas include: residential placements, runaways, and family settings. The MOU workgroup is preparing a manual that includes guidelines, best practices, and case scenarios, to assist both compacts as they work together. Moving forward, the ICPC and ICJ are committed to communication, cooperation, and collaboration.

During the 2011 fiscal year, the Compliance Committee met on two occasions to address member states in default. On November 10, 2010, the Committee found four states in non-compliance for failure to pay dues. As a result, California, Illinois, Massachusetts and Oklahoma received default letters from Rick Masters, General Counsel to the Commission. Within thirty days of receiving the default letters, all four states remitted their dues payment and the Committee took no further action.

On February 23, 2011, the Committee met to discuss another dues payment delinquency. Prior to issuing a default letter, the Virgin Islands paid their dues. Additionally, the ICJ Executive Director received three requests for dispute resolution per Rule 8-101. Two disputes were resolved before going to the Compliance Committee: Texas v. Oklahoma and Kentucky v. Maryland. The third, California v. Oklahoma, was also resolved prior to Compliance Committee involvement due to numerous communications between state officials.

The Interstate Commission for Juveniles contracted with InStream, Inc., in January 2012 to develop and implement a nationwide database to track supervision referrals for juvenile offenders and the return of runaway juveniles. The Juvenile Interstate Data System (JIDS) will launch in the fall of 2012, enabling the 49 member states and two territories that constitute the Interstate Compact for Juveniles (ICJ) to manage workflow and communications, as well as provide consistent services to juveniles. JIDS lets users generate ICJ forms, contact compact offices with information requests, and track juvenile returns and supervision cases.

JIDS allows data to be accessed and reports compiled by local offices or at the national level. JIDS' implementation furthers the mission of the compact by promoting public safety interests through the effective tracking and supervision of juveniles. It also enables the uniform collection of data pertaining to juveniles subject to the compact.

“The Juvenile Interstate Data System (JIDS) will launch in the fall of 2012, enabling the 49 member states and two territories that constitute the Interstate Compact for Juveniles (ICJ) to manage workflow and communications, as well as provide consistent services to juveniles.”

In fiscal year 2012, the Rules Committee held nine telephone conferences and one face-to-face meeting that produced amendments to rules, definitions, and forms. The committee was mindful of the effect of rule changes upon the new Juvenile Interstate Data System. The proposed amendments to rules that govern and support the compact were needed for clarification and simplification. A significant portion of the Rules Committee’s time was spent on Rule 4–103, Transfer of Juvenile Sex Offenders.

The Rules Committee will bring these amendments and proposals to the 2012 Annual Business Meeting. They include modifications for clarity and consistency, as well as consolidating Rules with similar processes. The Rules Committee’s goal remains to research and prepare rules that provide for public safety and to develop compact procedures for ICJ offices.

The Finance Committee is responsible for presenting and recommending a budget for approval by the full Commission for the upcoming fiscal year and monitoring the current year's budget. Finance Committee activities include periodic reviews of financial practices, formulation and presentation of recommendations for committees or the full Commission upon request or as appropriate, oversight of revenue collection, and regular review of expenditures.

The fiscal year 2012 budget was forecast using revenue projections based on 48 participating states and territories. The fiscal year ended with 51 member states and territories. In October 2011, the Commission adopted the fiscal year 2013 budget at its annual meeting in Norfolk, Virginia.

The national office continues to be a careful steward of the Commission's finances and is diligent in its efforts to maximize the efficiency of the Commission's operations. The Finance Committee operates under a twofold mission: to be vigilant about good stewardship practices in economic uncertainty and to continue to build a reserve fund, allowing the Commission to carry out its goals. A primary goal is to fund the development of the Juvenile Interstate Data System (JIDS), which is scheduled for national rollout in fiscal year 2013.

In fiscal year 2012, the Commission realized the following accomplishments:

- Elected a new treasurer;
- Saved $57,500 by delaying the replacement of a staff position;
- Did not access reserves to pay for JIDS;
- Finished the fiscal year 30 percent under budget;
- And, in accordance with the Council of State Governments recommendations, the Commission maintained a reserve fund; the current balance of which is $841,829.40.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

To the Governing Board
 The Council of State Governments
 Lexington, Kentucky

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of The Council of State Governments (a nonprofit organization, the Council) as of June 30, 2011 and 2010, and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Council's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Council as of June 30, 2011 and 2010 and the results of its operations, its changes in net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated November 2, 2011 on our consideration of the Council's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements. The supplementary information as listed in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. The schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements as a whole.

2011 State Council Update

Annual Statistics Report

Policy and Administration

- Adopted a posthumous resolution policy
- Adopted a record-retention policy
- Adopted a disposal of assets policy
- Sent out 58 newsletters
- Published three advisory opinions
- Published an age matrix
- Invited the Conference of Chief Justices to join the Commission as an ex officio member
- Entered a memorandum of understanding with the Association of Administrators of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children

These charts reflect the interstate movement of juveniles for fiscal year 2012. The first chart details the return of runaways, escapees, absconders, and juveniles charged delinquent. It includes the number of juveniles coming in (“From Other States Returned”) along with the number of juveniles sent back to the home/demanding state (“From Your State Returned”).

For fiscal year 2012, states reported a total of 2,407 runaways, escapees, absconders, and juveniles charged delinquent returned to the home/demanding state, with 2,881 from other states being returned. In addition, 252 airport supervision requests were met in fiscal year 2012.

The second chart illustrates the movement of juveniles under supervision. Specified by probation or parole and incoming or outgoing, member states also report the number of cases terminated, whether it was sex-offender related, failed placements, or returns based on failed placements.

For probation, 282 cases were reported as failed placements, whether for violations or other reasons; however, only 198 of those cases resulted in a return. Eight-seven percent of parole cases reported for failed placement were returned.

Transfer Data Comparison: Fiscal Year 2011 to Fiscal Year 2012

Fiscal year 2012 experienced a small decrease in incoming probation and parole cases, as well as outgoing probation and parole cases. Several factors may contribute to the decrease in transfers from fiscal year 2011 to fiscal year 2012. One prominent influence on transfer totals is the lack of data with and for the state of Georgia, as it is not a member to the compact.

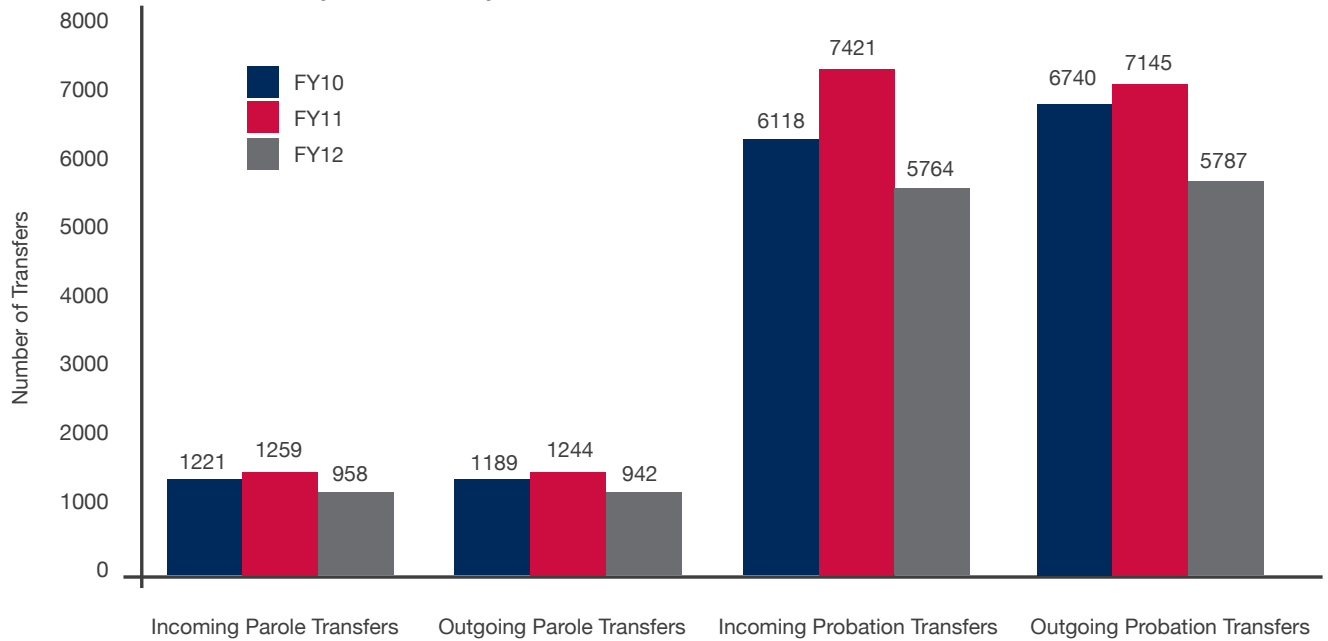

Sex Offender Related Transfers: Parole and Probation

In fiscal year 2011, 14 percent of all parole cases transferred through the compact were sex-offender related. That percentage increased to 15.52 percent in fiscal year 2012.

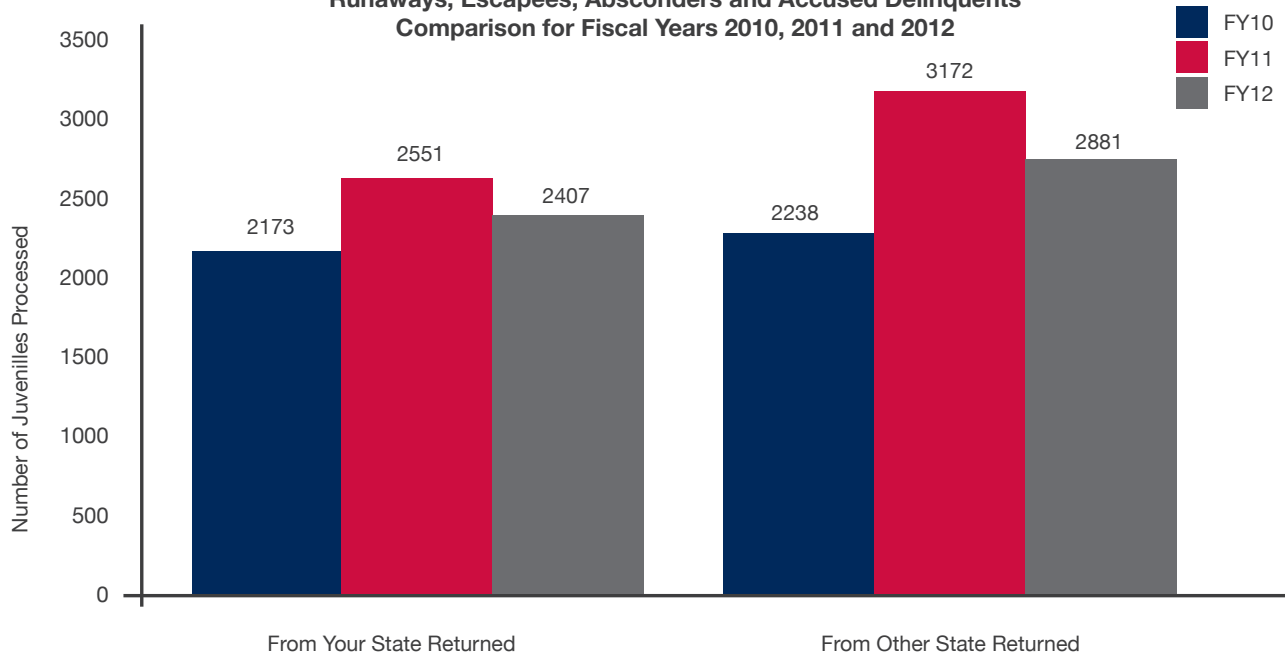

For probation, 9.3 percent of all probation cases were sex-offender related in fiscal year 2011. In fiscal year 2012, the percentage declined to 7.6 percent.

% Change	FY10	FY11	FY12
% of all parole cases that were sex offenders	12.90	13.98	15.52
% of all probation cases that were sex offenders	5.72	9.26	7.62
