THE STATE OFFICE BUILDING

The new state office building, a picture of which is shown on an adjoining page, was completed November 15, 1932, and is now occupied by the following state departments and other state agencies: Insurance, Banking, Industrial Commission, Board of Control, Securities, Live Stock Sanitary Board, Education, Conservation, Railroad and Warehouse Commission, Board of Health, Agriculture, Dairy and Food, Rural Credit, Criminal Apprehension, Surveyor General, Compensation Insurance Board, Employees Retirement Association, also several ex-service men's organizations and semi-state activities.

The building required one year to construct. Its cost including site is $1,485,000.00. It is seven stories in height not including the basement. Its exterior is faced with granite from the St. Cloud granite district to harmonize with the Historical building, which is directly east of it and across the capitol plaza. The elevator lobbies and public corridors are finished in Mankato Travertine stone. The building has a total gross floor area of 230,238 square feet. The net office space is 177,397 square feet, or 77% of the total, which is considerably greater than modern office building standards.

It is expected that this new building together with the available office space in the State Capitol and the Historical building, will take care of the state requirements for many years.

THE HISTORICAL BUILDING

The Historical Building, which was erected by the state for the use of the Minnesota Historical Society, was dedicated on May 11, 1918, the sixtieth anniversary of the admission of Minnesota into the Union. The legislature of 1913 appropriated $500,000 for the building, but the work of construction was not begun until December, 1915.

The building is located on a commanding eminence adjacent to the Capitol on the northeast corner of Cedar Street and Central Avenue, St. Paul. It contains five floors, including a basement and ground floor. On the first floor are the main library reading room, the newspaper reading room, the editorial offices, and a museum room; on the second floor are the offices of the society, the reading room and office of the manuscript division, and the catalogue rooms; the third floor is occupied by the museum.

The architectural style of the Historical Building is Roman Renaissance reduced to its simplest elements, the central motive being an Ionic colonnade projected over a recessed loggia. All the stone used in the construction of the building was quarried in Minnesota. The exterior walls are a warm gray granite from quarries at Sauk Rapids; the marble of the main staircase and of the floors of the corridors is from Kasota; and the stone for the walls of the vestibule and the entrance hall on the first floor is from Frontenac.

The reading room, newspaper room, manuscript division, and museum are open to the public daily from 9:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M., except Sundays and holidays.

ORGANIC ACT OF MINNESOTA

An act to establish the Territorial Government of Minnesota.
[Passed March 3, 1849.]

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, all that part of the territory of the United States which lies within the following limits, to-wit: Beginning in the Mississippi river at the point where the line of forty-three degrees and thirty minutes of north latitude crosses the same; thence running due west on said line, which is the northern boundary of the state of Iowa, to the northwest corner of the said state of Iowa; thence southerly along the western boundary of said state to the point where said boundary strikes the Missouri river; thence up the middle of the main channel of the Missouri river to the mouth of White Earth river; thence up the middle of the main channel of the White Earth river to the boundary line between the possessions of the United States and Great Britain, thence east and south of east along the boundary line between the possessions of the United States and Great Britain to Lake Superior; thence in a straight line to the northernmost point of the state of Wisconsin in Lake Superior; thence along the western boundary line of said state of Wisconsin to the Mississippi river; thence down the main channel of said river to the place of beginning, be and the same is hereby erected into a temporary government by the name of the Territory of Minnesota; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to inhibit the government of the United States from dividing said Territory into two or more territories, in such manner and at such times as Congress shall deem convenient and proper, or from attaching any portion of said Territory to any other state or territory of the United States.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the executive power and authority in and over said Territory of Minnesota shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States. The governor shall reside within said Territory; shall be commander-in-chief of the militia thereof; shall perform the duties and receive the emoluments of superintendent of Indian affairs. He may grant pardons for offenses against the law of said Territory, and reprieves for offenses against the laws of the United States until the decision of the president can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of the said Territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a secretary of said Territory, who shall reside therein, and hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States; he shall record and preserve all the laws and proceedings of the legislative assembly hereinafter constituted, and all the acts and proceedings of the governor in his executive department; he shall transmit one copy of the laws and one copy of the executive proceedings, on or before the first day of December in each year, to the president of the United States, and at the same time two copies of the laws to the speaker of the house of representatives, and the president of the senate for the use of Congress. And in case of the death, removal, resignation, or necessary absence of the governor from the Territory, the secretary shall be and he is hereby authorized and required to execute and perform all the powers and the duties of the governor during such vacancy or necessary absence, or until another governor shall be duly appointed to fill such vacancy.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power and authority of said Territory shall be vested in the governor and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly shall consist of a council and house of representatives. The council shall consist of nine members having the qualifications of voters, as hereinafter prescribed, whose term of service shall continue two years. The house of representatives shall, at its first session, consist of eighteen members, possessing the same qualifications as prescribed for members of the council, and whose term of service shall continue one year. The number of councilors and representatives may be increased by the legislative assembly, from time to time, in proportion to the increase of population; provided, that the whole number shall never exceed fifteen councilors and thirty-nine representatives. An apportionment shall be made, as nearly equal as practicable, among the several counties or districts for the election of the council and representatives, giving to each section of the Territory representation in the ratio of its population, Indians excepted, as nearly as may be. And the members of the council and of the house of representatives shall reside in and be inhabitants of the districts for which they may be elected, respectively. Previous to the first election, the governor shall cause a census or enumeration of the inhabitants of the several counties and districts of the Territory to be taken, and the first election shall be held at such time and places and be conducted in such manner as the governor shall appoint and direct, and he shall, at the same time, declare the number of members of the council and house of representatives to which each of the counties and districts shall be entitled under this act.

The number of persons authorized to be elected having the highest number of votes, in each of said council districts for members of the council, shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected to the council, and the person or persons authorized to be elected, having the greatest number of votes for the house of representatives, equal to the number to which each county or district shall be entitled, shall also be declared by the governor to be duly elected members of the house of representatives; provided, that in case of a tie between two or more persons voted for, the governor shall order a new election to supply the vacancy made by such tie. And the persons thus elected to the legislative assembly shall meet at such place on such day as the governor shall appoint, but thereafter the time, place and manner of holding and conducting all elections by the people, and the apportioning of the representation in the several counties or districts to the council and house of representatives, according to the population, shall be prescribed by law, as well as the day of the commencement of the regular session of the legislative assembly; provided, that no one session shall exceed the term of sixty days.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That every free white male inhabitant above the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of said Territory at the time of the passage of this act, shall be entitled to vote at the first election, and shall be eligible to any office within the said Territory; but the qualifications of voters and of holding office at all subsequent elections shall be such as shall be prescribed by the legislative assembly; provided, that the right of suffrage and of holding office shall be exercised only by citizens of the United States and those who shall have declared on oath their intention to become such, and shall have taken an oath to support the constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the Territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation, consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act; but no law shall be passed interfering with the primary disposal of the soil; no tax shall be imposed upon the property of the United States; nor shall the lands or other property of non-residents be taxed higher than the lands or other property of residents. All the laws passed by the legislative assembly and governor shall be submitted to the Congress of the United States, and if disapproved shall be null and of no effect.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That all township, district and county officers, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of Minnesota. The governor shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council, appoint all officers not herein otherwise provided for, and, in the first instance, the governor alone may appoint all said officers, who shall hold their offices until the end of the next session of the legislative assembly.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold or be appointed to any office which shall have been created, or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased, while he was a member, during the term for which he was elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; and no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, except postmasters, shall be a member of the legislative assembly, or shall hold any office under the government of said Territory.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That the judicial power of said Territory shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall hold a term at the seat of government of said Territory annually; and they shall hold their offices during the period of four years. The said Territory shall be divided into three judicial districts, and a district court shall be held in each of said districts by one of the justices of the supreme court, at such time and places as may be prescribed by law; and the said judges shall, after their appointment, respectively, reside in the districts which shall be assigned them. The jurisdiction of the several courts herein provided for, both appellate and original, and that of probate courts and justices of the peace, shall be as limited by law; provided, that the justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any matter in controversy when the title or boundaries of land may be in dispute, or where the debt or sum claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars; and the said supreme and district courts, respectively, shall possess chancery as well as common law jurisdiction. Each district court, or the judges thereof, shall appoint its clerk, who shall also be the register in chancery, and shall keep his office at the place where the court may be held. Writs of error, bills of exception and appeals shall be allowed in all cases from the final decisions of said district courts to the supreme court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, but in no case removed to the supreme court shall trial by jury be allowed in said court. The supreme court, or the justices thereof, shall appoint its own clerk, and every clerk shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court for which he shall have been appointed. Writs of error and appeals from the final decisions of said supreme court shall be allowed, and may be taken to the supreme court of the United States, in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit courts of the United States, where the value of the property or the amount in controversy, to be ascertained by the oath or affirmation of either party, or other competent witness, shall exceed one thousand dollars; and each of the said district courts shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction, in all cases arising under the constitution and laws of the United States, as is vested in the circuit and district courts of the United States; and the first six days of every term of said courts, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be appropriated to the trial of causes arising under the said constitution and laws; and writs of error and appeal in all such cases shall be made to the supreme court of said Territory, the same as in other cases. The said clerk shall receive in all such cases the same fees which the clerks of the district courts of the late Wisconsin Territory received for similar services.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed an attorney for said Territory, who shall continue in office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, and who shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the late Territory of Wisconsin received. There shall also be a marshal for the Territory appointed, who shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts, when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States; he shall perform the duties, be subject to the same regulations and penalties, and be entitled to the same fees as the marshal of the district court of the United States for the late Territory of Wisconsin; and shall, in addition, be paid two hundred dollars annually as a compensation for extra services.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, chief justice and associate justices, attorney and marshal, shall be nominated and by and with the advice and consent of the senate, appointed by the president of the United States. The governor and secretary to be appointed as aforesaid shall, before they act as such, respectively, take an oath or affirmation, before the district judge, or some justice of the peace in the limits of said Territory, duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations by the laws now in force therein, or before the chief justice, or some associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, to support the constitution of the United States, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices, which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person by whom the same shall have been taken, and such certificates shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings; and the chief justice and associate justices, and all other civil officers in said Territory, before they act as such, shall take a like oath or affirmation, before the said governor or secretary, or some judge or justice of the peace of the Territory, who may be duly commissioned and qualified, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted, by the person taking the same, to the secretary, to be by him recorded as aforesaid; and afterwards, the like oath or affirmation shall be taken, certified and recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law. The governor shall receive an annual salary of $1,500 as governor, and $1,000 as superintendent of Indian affairs. The chief justice and associate justice shall each receive an annual salary of $1,800. The secretary shall receive an annual salary of $1,800. The said salaries shall be paid quarter-yearly, at the treasury of the United States. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive three dollars each per day during their attendance at the session thereof, and three dollars each for every twenty miles traveled in going to and returning from the said sessions, estimated according to the nearest usually traveled route. There shall be appropriated, annually, the sum of $1,000, to be expended by the governor to defray the contingent expenses of the Territory; and there shall also be appropriated, annually, a sufficient sum to be expended by the secretary of the Territory, and upon an estimate to be made by the secretary of the treasury of the United States, to defray the expenses of the legislative assembly, the printing of the laws, and other incidental expenses, and the secretary of the Territory shall annually account to the secretary of the treasury of the United States for the manner in which the aforesaid sum shall have been expended.

SEC. 12. And be it further enacted, That the inhabitants of the said Territory shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities heretofore granted and secured to the Territory of Wisconsin and to its inhabitants; and the laws in force in the Territory of Wisconsin at the date of the admission of the State of Wisconsin shall continue to be valid and operative therein, so far as the same be not incompatible with the provisions of this act, subject, nevertheless, to be altered, modified or repealed by the governor and legislative assembly of the said Territory of Minnesota; and the laws of the United States are hereby extended over and declared to be in force in said Territory, so far as the same, or any provision thereof, may be applicable.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly of the Territory of Minnesota shall hold its first session in St. Paul; and at said first session the governor and legislative assembly shall locate and establish a temporary seat of government for said Territory, at such place as they may deem eligible; and shall at such time as they shall see proper prescribe by law the manner of locating the permanent seat of government of said Territory by a vote of the people. And the sum of twenty thousand dollars, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, is hereby appropriated and granted to said Territory of Minnesota, to be applied by the governor and legislative assembly to the erection of suitable public buildings at the seat of government.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That a delegate of the house of representatives of the United States, to serve for the term of two years, may be elected by the voters qualified to elect members of the legislative assembly, who shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are exercised and enjoyed by the delegates from the several other territories of the United States to the said house of representatives. The first election shall be held at such times and places and be conducted in such manner as the governor shall appoint and direct; and at all subsequent elections the times, places and manner of holding the elections shall be prescribed by law. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected, and a certificate thereof shall be given accordingly.

SEC. 15. And be it further enacted, That all suits, process and proceedings, civil and criminal, at law or in chancery, and all indictments and informations, which shall be pending and undetermined in the courts of the Territory of Wisconsin, within the limits of said Territory of Minnesota, when this act shall take effect, shall be transferred to be heard, tried, prosecuted and determined in the district courts hereby established, which may include the counties or districts where any such proceedings may be pending. All bonds, recognizances, and obligations of every kind whatsoever, valid under the existing laws, within the limits of said Territory, shall be valid under this act; and all crimes and misdemeanors against the laws, in force within said limits, may be prosecuted, tried, and punished in the courts established by this act; and all penalties, forfeitures, actions and causes of action may be recovered under this act the same as they would have been under the laws in force within the limits composing said Territory at the time this act shall go into operation.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That all justices of the peace, constables, sheriffs, and all other judicial and ministerial officers, who shall be in office within the limits of said Territory, when this act shall take effect, shall be and they are hereby authorized and required to continue to exercise and perform the duties of their respective offices as officers of the Territory of Minnesota, temporarily, and until they or others shall be duly appointed and qualified to fill their places, in the manner herein directed, or until their offices shall be abolished.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That the sum of $5,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by and under the direction of the said governor of the Territory of Minnesota, in the purchase of a library, to be kept at the seat of government for the use of the governor, legislative assembly, judges of the supreme court, secretary, marshal, and attorneys of said Territory, and such other persons and under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 18. And be it further enacted, That when the lands in said Territory shall be surveyed under the direction of the government of the United States, preparatory to bringing the same into market, sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in each township in said Territory shall be and the same are hereby reserved for the purpose of being applied to schools in said Territory, and in the state and territories hereafter to be erected out of the same.

SEC. 19. And be it further enacted, That temporarily, and until otherwise provided by law, the governor of said Territory may define the judicial districts of said Territory, and assign the judges who may be appointed for said Territory to the several districts, and also appoint the times and places for holding courts in the several counties or subdivisions in each of said judicial districts, by proclamation to be issued by him; but the legislative assembly, at their first or any subsequent session, may organize, alter or modify such judicial districts, and assign the judges, and alter the times and places of holding the courts, as to them shall seem proper and convenient.

SEC. 20. And be it further enacted, That every bill which shall or may pass the council and house of representatives, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the Territory; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated; which shall cause the objections to be entered at large upon their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall also be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law; but in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house, respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislative assembly, by adjournment, prevent it, in which case it shall not become a law.

MINNESOTA STATE SEAL

The state seal is similar in design to the territorial seal, although various other devices were proposed and even adopted as laws.

First official reference to the seal appears in the message of Governor Ramsey to the first territorial legislature, September 9, 1849. A legislative committee, October 31, recommended as a seal device, "an every-day scene, consisting of an Indian family with their lodge, canoe, etc., and a single white man visiting them, with no other protection than the feeling of hospitality and friendship existing between the two people. The white man is receiving from the Indian the pipe of peace." That seal was authorized by law but never used.

The territorial seal depicted instead a scene at St. Anthony Falls, as shown in the accompanying engraving. The earlier proposal may have influenced the design, but substitution of the musket and powderhorn for the pipe of peace may have had special significance. The motto, "Quo sursum velo videre," the third word a misprint for "volo," meaning "I wish to see what lies beyond," was selected by H. H. Sibley, while a delegate in Congress. Governor Ramsey commissioned D. O. Hare of Washington to engrave the seal and the cost was $157.

Although ridiculed by journalists as representing "a scared white man and an astonished Indian," and "a man plowing one way and looking another," this territorial seal was used until the adoption of the state seal in 1858.

During the first session of the state legislature, assembled December 2, 1857, Charles F. Lowe, a member of the convention of 1857 which drafted the state constitution, including a provision for a state seal, procured from Mr. Buechner, a St. Paul artist, a design shown on page 658 of W. H. C. Folsom's "Fifty Years in the Northwest."

The state government upon beginning operations in May, 1858, was without a state seal. Authorizing temporary use of the territorial seal, Governor Sibley brought up the subject at the adjourned legislative session in June and a special committee was named. W. H. C. Folsom, chairman, submitted the design mentioned, which on July 16 was adopted by joint resolution. When the new seal was delivered, however, it was found that the legislative intent had failed, and in place of that elaborate design one resembling the territorial seal was used, as it appears in the illustration. The word "state" was added and the date of admission substituted for the territorial year. The motto was changed to "L'Etoile du Nord," translated "The North Star," and this state seal has ever since been in official use. The Minnesotian published articles ridiculing the French motto and declaring that Governor Sibley had chosen it simply because he spoke that language.

AMERICAN

ACT AUTHORIZING A STATE GOVERNMENT

[Passed Feb. 26, 1857.]

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the inhabitants of that portion of the Territory of Minnesota which is embraced within the following limits, to-wit: Beginning at the point in the center of the main channel of the Red River of the North, where the boundary line between the United States and the British Possessions crosses the same; thence up the main channel of said river to that of the Bois de Sioux river; thence up the main channel of said river to Lake Traverse; thence up the center of said lake to the southern extremity thereof, thence in a direct line to the head of Big Stone lake; thence through its center to its outlet; thence by a due south line to the north line of the State of Iowa; thence along the northern boundary of said state to the main channel of the Mississippi river; thence up the main channel of said river, and following the boundary line of the State of Wisconsin, until the same intersects with the St. Louis river; thence down the said river to and through Lake Superior, on the boundary line of Wisconsin and Michigan, until it intersects the dividing line between the United States and the British Possessions; thence up Pigeon river and following said dividing line to the place of beginning, be and they hereby are authorized to form for themselves a constitution and state government by the name of the State of Minnesota, and to come into the Union on an equal footing with the original states, according to the Federal Constitution.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the State of Minnesota shall have concurrent jurisdiction on the Mississippi and all other rivers and waters bordering on the said State of Minnesota, so far as the same shall form a common boundary to said state and any state or states now or hereafter to be formed or bounded by the same; and said river or waters leading into the same shall be common highways, and forever free, as well to the inhabitants of said state as to all other citizens of the United States, without any tax, duty, impost, or toll therefor.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That on the first Monday in June next, the legal voters in each representative district then existing within the limits of the proposed state, are hereby authorized to elect two delegates for each representative to which said district shall be entitled according to the apportionment for representatives to the territorial legislature; which election for delegates shall be held and conducted, and the returns made, in all respects in conformity with the laws of said Territory regulating the election of representatives, and the delegates so elected shall assemble at the capitol of said Territory on the second Monday in July next, and first determine by a vote whether it is the wish of the people of the proposed State to be admitted into the Union at that time; and if so, shall proceed to form a constitution, and take all necessary steps for the establishment of a state government, in conformity with the Federal Constitution, subject to the approval and ratification of the people of the proposed State.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That in the event said convention shall decide in favor of the immediate admission of the proposed State into the Union, it shall be the duty of the United States marshal for said Territory to proceed to take a census or enumeration of the inhabitants within the limits of the proposed State, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the secretary of the interior, with the view of ascertaining the number of representatives to which said State may be entitled in the Congress of the United States. And said State shall be entitled to one representative, and such additional representatives as the population of the State shall, according to the census, show it would be entitled to according to the present ratio of representation.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That the following propositions be and the same are hereby offered to the said convention of the people of Minnesota for their free acceptance or rejection, which, if accepted by the convention, shall be obligatory on the United States, and upon the said State of Minnesota, to-wit:

First—That sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in every township of public lands in said State, and where either of said sections, or any part thereof, has been sold or otherwise been disposed of, other lands, equivalent thereto, and as contiguous as may be, shall be granted to said State for the use of schools.

Second—That seventy-two sections of land shall be set apart and reserved for the use and support of a state university, to be selected by the governor of said State, subject to the approval of the commissioner at the general land office, and to be appropriated and applied in such manner as the legislature of said State may prescribe; for the purpose aforesaid, but for no other purpose.

Third—Ten entire sections of land to be selected by the governor of said State, in legal subdivisions, shall be granted to said State for the purpose of completing the public buildings, or for the erection of others at the seat of government, under the direction of the legislature thereof.

Fourth—That all salt springs within said State, not exceeding twelve in number, with six sections of land adjoining or as contiguous as may be to each, shall be granted to said State for its use; and the same to be selected by the governor thereof within one year after the admission of said State, and, when so selected, to be used or disposed of on such terms, conditions and regulations as the legislature shall direct; provided, that no salt spring or land the right whereof is now vested in any individual or in individuals, or which may be hereafter confirmed or adjudged to any individual or individuals, shall by this article be granted to said State.

Fifth—That five per centum of the net proceeds of sales of all public lands lying within said State, which shall be sold by Congress after the admission of said State into the Union, after deducting all the expenses incident to the same, shall be paid to said State for the purpose of making public roads and internal improvements as the legislature shall direct; provided, the foregoing propositions herein offered are on the condition that the said convention which shall form the constitution of said State shall provide, by a clause in said constitution, or an ordinance, irrevocable without the consent of the United States, that said State shall never interfere with the primary disposal of the soil within the same by the United States, or with any regulations Congress may find necessary for securing the title in said soil to bona fide purchasers thereof; and that no tax shall be imposed on lands belonging to the United States, and that in no case shall non-resident proprietors be taxed higher than residents.

MINNESOTA STATE FLAG

The State Legislature of 1893, by Chapter 16, provided for the adoption of a state flag.

Mrs. Franklyn L. Greenleaf, Mrs. A. A. White, Mrs. Edward Durant, Mrs. F. B. Clarke, Mrs. H. F. Brown and Mrs. A. T. Stebbins were by this act named and designated a commission to select and adopt an appropriate design for a state flag.

Conformably to the provision of this act, this commission called for designs, and on Tuesday, Feb. 28, 1893, met, selected and adopted the design presented by Mrs. Edward H. Center, of Minneapolis.

Following is a description of the flag: "The ground is of white silk, and the reverse side of blue silk, bordered with bullion fringe. In the center is the state seal, wreathed with white moccasin flowers, on a blue ground. The red ribbon of the seal bearing the motto is continued through the wreath, entwining the blossoms and floating carelessly over the lower portion of the flag. It bears, in gold, the dates 1819, the time of the settlement of Minnesota, and 1893. Above, also in gold, is the date 1858, the time of the admission of Minnesota to the Union. Below the design, in gold letters, is wrought 'Minnesota.' Grouped around the seal are nineteen stars in the design of star points, with the North Star, significant of the North Star State, in a group of three at the top."

The choice of the number nineteen is a peculiarly happy one, as Minnesota was the nineteenth state, after the original thirteen, to be admitted to the Union. The standard to the flag was surmounted by a golden gopher, and tied with a gold cord and tassel. The execution of the design is entirely in needle work.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Under the enabling act of Congress, approved March 3, 1857, a constitutional convention of one hundred and eight members (each council district to elect two for each councilman and representative it was entitled to) was authorized to meet at the capitol on the second Monday in July, to frame a state constitution, and submit it to the people of the territory. The election was held on the first Monday in June. On July 13th the delegates met, but, a disagreement arising in the organization, the Republican members organized one body, and the Democratic members organized separately. Each of these bodies, claiming to be the legal constitutional convention, proceeded with the work of forming an instrument to be submitted to the people. After some days an understanding was effected between them, and, by means of committees of conference, the same constitution was framed and adopted by both bodies. On being submitted to the people October 13th, it was ratified.

Preamble. We, the people of the State of Minnesota, grateful to God for our civil and religious liberty, and desiring to perpetuate its blessings and secure the same to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution:

ARTICLE I.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

Object of government. SECTION 1. Government is instituted for the security, benefit and protection of the people, in whom all political power is inherent, together with the right to alter, modify or reform such government, whenever the public good may require it.

Rights and Privileges. SEC. 2. No member of this State shall be disfranchised, or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to any citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land, or the judgment of his peers. There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in the State otherwise than the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.

Liberty of the press. SEC. 3. The liberty of the press shall forever remain inviolate, and all persons may freely speak, write and publish their sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of such right.

Trial by jury. SEC. 4. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, and shall extend to all cases at law without regard to the amount in controversy, but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all cases in the manner prescribed by law; [and the legislature may provide that the agreement of five-sixths of any jury in any civil action or proceeding, after not less than six (6) hours' deliberation, shall be a sufficient verdict therein.]*

No excessive bail or unusual punishments. SEC. 5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor shall excessive fines be imposed; nor shall cruel or unusual punishments be inflicted.

*The clause in brackets was adopted Nov. 4, 1890.

Rights of accused in criminal prosecutions. SEC. 6. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the county or district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which county or district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel in his defense. (a)

Further rights of accused—when bailable. SEC. 7. No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense without due process of law, and no person for the same offense shall be put twice in jeopardy of punishment, nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. All persons shall before conviction be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require.

Redress of injuries or wrongs. SEC. 8. Every person is entitled to a certain remedy in the laws for all injuries or wrongs which he may receive in his person, property or character; he ought to obtain justice freely and without purchase; completely and without denial; promptly and without delay, conformable to the laws.

Treason defined. SEC. 9. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against the same, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

Right against unreasonable searches. SEC. 10. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized.

Prohibits ex post facto laws, or laws impairing contracts. SEC. 11. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, nor any law impairing the obligation of contracts shall ever be passed, and no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

Imprisonment for debt—property exemption. SEC. 12. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in this state, (b) but this shall not prevent the legislature from providing for imprisonment, or holding to bail, persons charged with fraud in contracting said debt. A reasonable amount of property shall be exempt from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability. The amount of such exemption shall be determined by law. [Provided, however, that all property so exempted shall be liable to seizure and sale for any debts incurred to any person for work done or materials furnished in the construction, repair or improvement of the same, and provided further, that such liability to seizure and sale shall also extend to all real property for any debt incurred to any laborer or servant for labor or service performed.]*

Private property for public use. SEC. 13. Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use without just compensation therefor, first paid or secured.†

(a) The jury contemplated by article 1, section 6, securing the right to jury trial in criminal cases, is a body of twelve men, and it is error to try a party charged with crime in a justice court, against his objection, with a jury of six. The fact that he may appeal to the district court, on entering into recognizance with sureties, does not change the rule. 14 Minn. 330.

(b) 23 Minn. 1; 23 Minn. 411.

*The clause in brackets was adopted Nov. 6, 1888.

†The words "destroyed or damaged" inserted by amendment adopted Nov. 3, 1896.

Military power subordinate. SEC. 14. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power, and no standing army shall be kept up in this State in times of peace.

Lands declared allodial—leases, when void. SEC. 15. All lands within the State are declared to be allodial, and feudal tenures of every description, with all their incidents, are prohibited. Leases and grants of agricultural lands for a longer period than twenty-one years hereafter made, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be void.

Freedom of conscience—no preference to be given to any religious establishment or mode of worship. SEC. 16. The enumeration of rights in this constitution shall not be construed to deny or impair others retained by and inherent in the people. The right of every man to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience shall never be infringed, nor shall any man be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any religious or ecclesiastical ministry, against his consent; nor shall any control of or interference with the rights of conscience be permitted, or any preference be given by law to any religious establishment or mode of worship; but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness, or justify practices inconsistent with the peace or safety of the State, nor shall any money be drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious societies, or religious or theological seminaries.

No religious test or property qualifications to be required. SEC. 17. No religious test or amount of property shall ever be required as a qualification for any office of public trust under the State. No religious test or amount of property shall ever be required as a qualification of any voter at any election in this State; nor shall any person be rendered incompetent to give evidence in any court of law or equity in consequence of his opinion upon the subject of religion.

No license to peddle. SEC. 18. Any person may sell or peddle the products of the farm or garden occupied and cultivated by him without obtaining a license therefor.*

ARTICLE II.

ON NAME AND BOUNDARIES.

Name and boundaries. SECTION 1. This State shall be called and known by the name of the State of Minnesota, and shall consist of and have jurisdiction over the territory embraced in the following boundaries, to-wit: Beginning at the point in the center of the main channel of the Red River of the North, where the boundary line between the United States and British Possessions crosses the same; thence up the main channel of said river to that of the Bois des Sioux river; thence up the main channel of said river to Lake Traverse; thence up the center of said lake to the southern extremity thereof; thence in a direct line to the head of Big Stone lake; thence through its center to its outlet; thence by a due south line to the north line of the State of Iowa; thence east along the northern boundary of said State to the main channel of the Mississippi river; thence up the main channel of said river and following the boundary line of the State of Wisconsin until the same intersects the St. Louis river; thence down the said river to and through Lake Superior, on the boundary line of Wisconsin and Michigan, until it intersects the dividing line between the United States and British Possessions; thence up Pigeon river and following said dividing line to the place of beginning.**

*Adopted Nov. 6, 1906.

**The northern boundary of the state at the Lake of the Woods is projected beyond the 49th parallel a distance of about twenty miles, making a wedge-shaped jog through the lake until it strikes firm ground on the west bank of the lake; thence in a due south line to the 49th parallel. The explanation of this jog is found in the subjoined paragraphs. In the seventh article of the treaty of Ghent, section 19 reads as follows: Sec. 19. Resolved that the fol-

Jurisdiction on bordering rivers. SEC. 2. The State of Minnesota shall have concurrent jurisdiction on the Mississippi and on all other rivers and waters bordering on the said State of Minnesota, so far as the same shall form a common boundary to said State, and any other state or states now or hereafter to be formed by the same; and said rivers and waters, and navigable waters leading into the same, shall be common highways and forever free, as well to the inhabitants of said State as to other citizens of the United States, without any tax, duty, impost, or toll therefor.

Acceptance of propositions in enabling act. SEC. 3. The propositions contained in the act of Congress entitled, "An act to authorize the people of the Territory of Minnesota to form a constitution and state government, preparatory to their admission into the Union on equal footing with the original states," are hereby accepted, ratified and confirmed, and shall remain irrevocable without the consent of the United States; and it is hereby ordained that this State shall never interfere with the primary disposal of the soil within the same, by the United States, or with any regulations Congress may find necessary for securing the title to said soil to bona fide purchasers thereof; and no tax shall be imposed on lands belonging to the United States and in no case shall non-resident proprietors be taxed higher than residents.

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE POWERS OF GOVERNMENT.

Division of powers. SECTION 1. The powers of government shall be divided into three distinct departments—legislative, executive, and judicial; and no person or persons belonging to or constituting one of these departments shall exercise any of the powers properly belonging to either of the others, except in the instances expressly provided in this constitution. (a)

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Legislature meets biennially—length of session. SECTION 1. The legislature shall consist of the Senate and House of Representatives, which shall meet biennially at the seat of government of the State, at such time as shall be prescribed by law, but no session shall exceed the term of ninety (90) legislative days; and no new bill shall be introduced in either branch, except on the written request of the governor, during the last twenty (20) days of lowing described (also represented on said map as before mentioned), is, in the opinion of the commissioners, so far as the same extends, the true boundary intended by the before mentioned treaties, namely: * * * thence through the middle of the waters of this bay to the northwest extremity of the same; being the most northwestern point of the Lake of the Woods, and from a monument in this bay, on the nearest firm ground to the above northwest extremity of said bay, the courses and distances are as follows: 56° W. 1,565½ feet; 2nd, N. 6° W. 861½ feet; 3rd, N. 28° W. 615.4 feet; 4th, N. 27° 10' W. 495.4 feet; 5th, N. 5° 10' E. 1,322½ feet; 6th, N. 70° 45' W. 493 feet, the variation being 12° east. The termination of this 6th and last course and distance being the above said most northwestern point of the Lake of the Woods, as designated by the seventh article of the treaty of Ghent, and being in latitude 49° 23' 55" north of the equator, and in longitude 95° 14' 38" west from Greenwich. The second article of the convention of 1818 is as follows: Article 2. It is agreed that a line drawn from the most northwestern point of the Lake of the Woods along the 49th parallel of north latitude, or, if the said point shall not be in the 49th parallel of north latitude, then that a line drawn from the said point due north or south, as the case may be, until the said line shall intersect the said parallel of north latitude, and from the point of such intersection due west, along and with the said parallel, shall be the line of demarkation between the territories of the United States and His Britannic Majesty, and that the said line shall form the northern boundary of the said territories of the United States and the southern boundary of His Britannic Majesty, from the Lake of the Woods to the Stony Mountains. This boundary was re-established and determined by a commission authorized by congress, and the surveys embracing four years were made and reported to congress in 1877.

(a) Courts cannot control or interfere with an executive officer of the state in his official acts, even though they are such that the duty to perform them might have been entrusted to some other officer. 28 Minn. 50.

such sessions, except the attention of the legislature shall be called to some important matter of general interest by a special message from the governor.

Apportionment of members. SEC. 2. The number of members who compose the Senate and House of Representatives shall be prescribed by law, but the representation in the Senate shall never exceed one member for every 5,000 inhabitants, and in the House of Representatives one member for every 2,000 inhabitants. The representation in both houses shall be apportioned equally throughout the different sections of the State, in proportion to the population thereof, exclusive of Indians not taxable under the provisions of law.

Eligibility of members—quorum. SEC. 3. Each house shall be the judge of the election returns and eligibility of its own members; a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as it may provide.

Rules of government. SEC. 4. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, sit upon its own adjournment, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member; but no member shall be expelled the second time for the same offense.

Officers—journal of proceedings. SEC. 5. The House of Representatives shall elect its presiding officer and the Senate and House of Representatives shall elect such other officers as may be provided by law; they shall keep journals of their proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, and the yeas and nays, when taken on any question, shall be entered on such journals.

Length of adjournments. SEC. 6. Neither house shall, during a session of the legislature, adjourn for more than three days (Sundays excepted), nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be assembled, without the consent of the other house.

Compensation. SEC. 7. The compensation of senators and representatives shall be three dollars per diem during the first session, but may afterwards be prescribed by law. But no increase of compensation shall be prescribed which shall take effect during the period for which the members of the existing House of Representatives may have been elected.

Privileged from arrest. SEC. 8. The members of each house shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the session of their respective houses, and in going to or returning from the same. For any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Restriction as to holding office. SEC. 9. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he is elected, hold any office under the authority of the United States or the State of Minnesota, except that of postmaster, and no senator or representative shall hold an office under the state which has been created or the emoluments of which have been increased during the session of the legislature of which he was a member, until one year after the expiration of his term of office in the legislature.

Bills of revenue to originate in House. SEC. 10. All bills for raising a revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose and concur with the amendments as on other bills.

Approval of bills by Governor—action on non-approval. SEC. 11. Every bill which shall have passed the Senate and House of Representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the State. If he approves, he shall sign and deposit it in the office of secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house, respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by adjournment within that time, prevents its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law.

Governor may cut out items of appropriation bills and otherwise approve.

If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Money appropriations, how made. SEC. 12. No money shall be appropriated except by bill. Every order, resolution or vote requiring the concurrence of the two houses (except such as relate to the business or adjournment of the same) shall be presented to the governor for his signature, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being returned by him with his objections, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the members of the two houses, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in case of a bill.

Majority vote of all members-elect to pass a law. SEC. 13. The style of all laws of this State shall be: "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota." No law shall be passed unless voted for by a majority of all the members elected to each branch of the legislature, and the vote entered upon the journal of each house.

Impeachment powers. SEC. 14. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, through a concurrence of a majority of all the members elected to seats therein. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate; and when sitting for that purpose the senators shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to law and evidence. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Exclusion from civil rights. SEC. 15. The legislature shall have full power to exclude from the privilege of electing or being elected any person convicted of bribery, perjury, or any other infamous crime.

Protest and dissent of members. SEC. 16. Two or more members of either house shall have liberty to dissent and protest against any act or resolution which they may think injurious to the public or to any individual, and have the reason of their dissent entered on the journal.

Vacancies in legislature. SEC. 17. The governor shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies as may occur in either house of the legislature. The legislature shall prescribe by law the manner in which evidence in cases of contested seats in either house shall be taken.

Punish for disorderly conduct. SEC. 18. Each house may punish by imprisonment, during its session, any person, not a member, who shall be guilty of any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in their presence, but no such imprisonment shall at any time exceed twenty-four hours.

Open sessions. SEC. 19. Each house shall be open to the public during the sessions thereof, except in such cases as in their opinion may require secrecy.

Reading of bills. SEC. 20. Every bill shall be read on three different days in each separate house, unless, in case of urgency, two-thirds of the house where such bill is depending shall deem it expedient to dispense with this rule; and no bill shall be passed by either house until it shall have been previously read twice at length.

Enrollment of bills. SEC. 21. Every bill having passed both houses shall be carefully enrolled, and shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house. Any presiding officer refusing to sign a bill which shall have previously passed both houses shall thereafter be incapable of holding a seat in either branch of the legislature, or hold any other office or honor of profit in the State, and in case of such refusal, each house shall, by rule, provide the manner in which such bill shall be properly certified for presentation to the governor.

Passage of bills on last day of session prohibited. SEC. 22. No bill shall be passed by either house of the legislature upon the day prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses. But this section shall not be so construed as to preclude the enrollment of a bill, or the signature and passage from one house to the other, or the reports thereon from committees, or its transmission to the executive for his signature.

Census enumeration — apportionment. SEC. 23. The legislature shall provide by law for an enumeration of the inhabitants of this State in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, and every tenth year thereafter. At their first session after each enumeration so made, and also, at their first session after each enumeration made by the authority of the United States, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe the bounds of congressional, senatorial and representative districts, and to apportion anew the senators and representatives among the several districts according to the provisions of section second of this article.

Senatorial districts — term of office of senators and representatives. SEC. 24. The senators shall also be chosen by single districts of convenient contiguous territory, at the same time that members of the house of representatives are required to be chosen, and in the same manner; and no representative district shall be divided in the formation of a senate district. The senate districts shall be numbered in a regular series. The terms of office of senators and representatives shall be the same as now prescribed by law until the general election of the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight (1878), at which time there shall be an entire new election of all senators and representatives. Representatives chosen at such election, or at any election thereafter, shall hold their office for the term of two years, except it be to fill a vacancy; and the senators chosen at such election by districts designated as odd numbers shall go out of office at the expiration of the second year, and senators chosen by districts designated by even numbers shall go out of office at the expiration of the fourth year; and thereafter senators shall be chosen for four years, except there shall be an entire new election of all the senators at the election of representatives next succeeding each new apportionment provided for in this article.

Qualification of legislators. SEC. 25. Senators and representatives shall be qualified voters of the State, and shall have resided one year in the State and six months immediately preceding the election in the district from which they are elected.

Senators to Congress. SEC. 26. Members of the Senate of the United States from this State shall be elected by the two houses of the legislature in joint convention, at such time and in such manner as may be provided by law. [While still law, this is of no effect because of passage of Federal Constitution No. 17 in 1913.]

Laws to embrace only one subject. SEC. 27. No law shall embrace more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.

Divorces. SEC. 28. Divorces shall not be granted by the legislature.

Oath of office. SEC. 29. All members and officers of both branches of the legislature shall, before entering upon the duties of their respective trusts, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, and faithfully and impartially to discharge the duties devolving upon him as such member or officer.

Elections viva voce. SEC. 30. In all elections to be made by the legislature, the members thereof shall vote viva voce, and their votes shall be entered on the journal.

Prohibition of lotteries. SEC. 31. The legislature shall never authorize any lottery or the sale of lottery tickets.

Change of form of taxation of railroads to be voted upon. SEC. 32. [a] Any law providing for the repeal or amendment of any law or laws heretofore or hereafter enacted, which provides that any railroad company now existing in this State or operating its road therein, or which may be hereafter organized, shall, in lieu of all other taxes and assessments upon their real estate, roads, rolling stock, and other personal property, at and during the time and periods therein specified, pay into the treasury of this State a certain percentage therein mentioned of the gross earnings of such railroad companies now existing or hereafter organized, shall, before the same shall take effect or be in force, be submitted to a vote of the people of the State, and be adopted and ratified by a majority of the electors of the State voting at the election at which the same shall be submitted to them.

Internal improvement lands—investment of proceeds in bonds. SEC. 32. [b] All lands donated to the State of Minnesota for the purpose of internal improvement, under the eighth section of the act of Congress, approved September fourth, eighteen hundred and forty-one, being "An act to appropriate the proceeds of the sale of the public lands, and to grant pre-emption rights," shall be appraised and sold, in the same manner and by the same officers, and the minimum price shall be the same as is provided by law for the appraisement and sale of the school lands, under the provisions of title one (1), chapter thirty-eight, of the General Statutes, except the modifications hereinafter mentioned. All moneys derived from the sales of said lands shall be invested in the bonds of the United States, or of the State of Minnesota issued since 1860; and the moneys so invested shall constitute the Internal Improvement Land Fund of the State. All moneys received by the county treasurer under the provisions of title one (1), chapter thirty-eight (38), aforesaid, derived from the sale of internal improvement lands, shall be held at all times subject to the order and direction of the state treasurer, for the benefit of the fund to which it belongs; and on the fifteenth day of June in each year, and at such other times as he may be requested so to do by the state treasurer, he shall pay over to the said state treasurer all moneys received on account of such fund.

The bonds purchased in accordance with this amendment shall be transferable only upon the order of the governor, and on each bond shall be written "Minnesota Internal Improvement Land Fund of the State, transferable only on the order of the governor."

Principal not to be reduced. The principal sum from all sales of internal improvement lands shall not be reduced by any charges or costs of officers, by fees, or by any other means whatever; and section fifty (50), of title one (1), chapter thirty-eight (38), of the General Statutes, shall not be applicable to the provisions of this amendment, and wherever the words "school lands" are used in said title, it shall read as applicable to this amendment, "Internal Improvement Lands."

Appropriations therefrom to be voted upon before valid. The moneys belonging to the Internal Improvement Land Fund shall not be appropriated for any purpose whatever until the enactment for that purpose shall have been approved by a majority of the electors of the State voting at the annual general election following the passage of the act. (a)

The force of this amendment shall be to authorize the sale of the internal improvement lands, without further legislative enactment.

Against special legislation. SEC. 33. In all cases when a general law can be made applicable, no special law shall be enacted; and whether a general law could have been made applicable in any case is hereby declared a judicial question, and as such shall be judicially determined without regard to any legislative assertion on that subject. The legislature shall pass no local or special law regulating the affairs of, or incorporating, erecting or changing the lines of, any county, city, village, township, ward or school district, or creating the offices, or prescribing the powers and duties of the officers of, or fixing or relating to the compensation, salary or fees of the same, or the mode of election or appointment thereto, authorizing the laying out, opening, altering, vacating or maintaining roads, highways, streets or alleys; remitting fines, penalties or forfeitures; regulating the powers, duties and practice of justices of the peace, magistrates and constables; changing the names of persons, places, lakes or rivers; for opening and conducting of elections, or fixing or changing the places of voting; authorizing the adoption or legitimation of children; changing the law of descent or succession; conferring rights upon minors; declaring any named person of age; giving effect to informal or invalid wills or deeds, or affecting the estates of minors or persons under disability; locating or changing county seats; regulating the management of public schools, the building or repairing of schoolhouses, and the raising of money for such purposes; exempting property from taxation, or regulating the rate of interest on money; creating corporations, or amending, renewing, extending or explaining the charters thereof; granting to any corporation, association or individual any special or exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever, or authorizing public taxation for a private purpose. Provided, however, That the inhibitions of local or special laws in this section shall not be construed to prevent the passage of general laws on any of the subjects enumerated.

Repeal of existing special laws. The legislature may repeal any existing special or local law, but shall not amend, extend or modify any of the same.

Refers to amendment of 1881, superseded as above. SEC. 34. The legislature shall provide general laws for the transaction of any business that may be prohibited by section one (1) of this amendment, and all such laws shall be uniform in their operation throughout the State.

Against combinations or pools to affect markets. SEC. 35. Any combinations of persons, either as individuals or as members or officers of any corporation, to monopolize the markets for food products in this State, or to interfere with, or restrict the freedom of, such markets, is hereby declared to be a criminal conspiracy, and shall be punished in such manner as the legislature may provide.

City or village may frame its own charter—charter to be submitted to voters. SEC. 36. Any city or village in this State may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this State, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charters shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established.

(a) By chapter 71, G. L. of 1881, extra session, the proceeds of this fund were pledged to the payment of Minnesota State Railroad adjustment bonds, and the law was voted upon and approved at the general election of 1884, by 31,011 votes in favor and 13,589 votes against.

Legislature to prescribe general limits of charter—amendment of charter—upon application of 5 per cent of legal voters. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election, and not otherwise, but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the Constitution and laws of the State of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members.

Mayor and legislative body. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors.

Articles of amendment may be submitted separately. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village, any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto.

General laws for cities by divisions of population. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the State defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Officers in executive department. SECTION 1. The executive department shall consist of a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general, who shall be chosen by the electors of the State. (a)

Election returns to be sent to secretary of state. SEC. 2. The returns of every election for the officers named in the foregoing section shall be made to the secretary of state, who shall call to his assistance two or more of the judges of the supreme court, and two disinterested judges of the district courts of the State, who shall constitute a board of canvassers, who shall open and canvass said returns and declare the result within three days after such canvass.

Official term of governor and lieutenant governor — qualifications. SEC. 3. The term of office for the governor and lieutenant governor shall be two years, and until their successors are chosen and qualified. Each shall have attained the age of twenty-five (25) years, and shall have been a bona fide resident of the State for one year next preceding his election. Both shall be citizens of the United States.

Powers and duties of governor. SEC. 4. The governor shall communicate by message to each session of the legislature such information touching the state and condition of the country as he may deem expedient. He shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces, and may call out such forces to execute the laws, suppress insurrection and repel invasion. He may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices; and he shall have power, in conjunction with the board of pardons, of which the governor shall be ex officio a member, and the other members of which shall consist of the attorney general of the State of Minnesota and the chief justice of the supreme court of the State of Minnesota, and whose powers and duties shall be defined and regulated by law, to grant reprieves and pardons after conviction for offenses against the State, except in cases of impeachment. He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint a state librarian and notaries public, and such other officers as may be provided by law. He shall have power to appoint commissioners to take the acknowledgment of deeds or other instruments in writing, to be used in the State. He shall have a negative upon all laws passed by the legislature, under such rules and limitations as are in this Constitution prescribed. He may on extraordinary occasions convene both houses of the legislature. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, fill any vacancy that may occur in the office of secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, and such other state and district offices as may be hereafter created by law, until the next annual election, and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Official term of other executive officers. SEC. 5. The official term of the secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general shall be two (2) years. The official term of the state auditor shall be four (4) years, and each shall continue in office until his successor shall have been elected and qualified. The further duties and salaries of said executive officers shall each be prescribed by law.

(a) An executive officer of the state is not subject to the control or interference of the judiciary in the performance of duties belonging to him as an executive officer, and no act done, or threatened to be done, by him in his official capacity can be brought under judicial control or interference by mandamus or injunction, even when the act is purely ministerial. 29 Minn. 555.

Duties of lieutenant governor. SEC. 6. The lieutenant governor shall be ex officio president of the Senate; and in case a vacancy should occur, from any cause whatever, in the office of governor, he shall be governor during such vacancy. The compensation of lieutenant governor shall be double the compensation of a state senator. Before the close of each session of the Senate they shall elect a president pro tempore, who shall be lieutenant governor in case a vacancy should occur in that office.

Official terms of first State officers—(Obsolete). SEC. 7. The term of each of the executive officers named in this article shall commence on taking the oath of office on or after the first day of May, 1858, and continue until the first Monday of January, 1860, except the auditor, who shall continue in office till the first Monday in January, 1861; and until their successors shall have been duly elected and qualified; and the same above mentioned time for qualification and entry upon the duties of their respective offices shall extend and apply to all other officers elected under the State Constitution, who have not already taken the oath of office, and commenced the performance of their official duties.

Oath of office to be taken by State officers. SEC. 8. Each officer created by this article shall, before entering upon his duties, take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and faithfully discharge the duties of his office to the best of his judgment and ability.

(Obsolete). SEC. 9. Laws shall be passed at the first session of the legislature after the State is admitted into the Union to carry out the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE VI.

JUDICIARY.

Judicial powers. SECTION 1. The judicial power of the State shall be vested in the supreme court, district courts, courts of probate, justices of the peace, and such other courts, inferior to the supreme court, as the legislature may from time to time establish by a two-thirds vote.

*Supreme court—jurisdiction and powers—reporter of decisions—clerk of supreme court. SEC. 2. The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and six associate justices. It shall have original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law, and appellate jurisdiction in all cases, both in law and equity, but there shall be no trial by jury in said court. It shall hold one or more terms in each year, as the legislature may direct, at the seat of government, and the legislature may provide, by a two-thirds vote, that one term in each year shall be held in each or any judicial district. It shall be the duty of such court to appoint a reporter of its decisions. There shall be chosen, by the qualified electors of the state, one clerk of the supreme court, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; and the judges of the supreme court, or a majority of them, shall have the power to fill any vacancy in the office of clerk of the supreme court until an election can be regularly had.

Election and term of office for judges. SEC. 3. The judges of the supreme court shall be elected by the electors of the State at large, and their term of office shall be six years, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

District judges may act where supreme judges are disqualified. Whenever all or a majority of the judges of the supreme court shall, from any cause, be disqualified from sitting in any case in said court, the governor, or, if he shall be interested in the result of such case, then the lieutenant governor, shall assign judges of the district court of the State, who shall sit in such case in place of such disqualified judges, with all the powers and duties of judges of the supreme court.

Judicial districts for district courts—election of judges—term of office and residence. SEC. 4. The State shall be divided by the legislature into judicial districts, which shall be composed of contiguous territory, be bounded by county lines, and contain a population as nearly equal as may be practicable. In each judicial district, one or more judges, as the legislature may prescribe, shall be elected by the electors thereof, whose term of office shall be six years, and each of said judges shall severally have and exercise the powers of the court, under such limitations as may be prescribed by law. Every district judge shall, at the time of his election, be a resident of the district for which he shall be elected, and shall reside therein during his continuance in office. In case any court of common pleas heretofore established shall be abolished, the judge of said court may be constituted by the legislature one of the judges of the district court of the district wherein such court has been so established for a period not exceeding the unexpired term for which he was elected.

Jurisdiction of district courts. SEC. 5. The district courts shall have original jurisdiction in all civil cases, both in law and equity, where the amount in controversy exceeds one hundred dollars, and in all criminal cases where the punishment shall exceed three months' imprisonment or a fine of more than one hundred dollars, and shall have such appellate jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law. The legislature may provide by law that the judge of one district may discharge the duties of judge of any other district not his own, when convenience or the public interest may require it.

Qualifications. SEC. 6. The judges of the supreme and district courts shall be men learned in the law, and shall receive such compensation at stated times as may be prescribed by the legislature; which compensation shall not be diminished during their continuance in office, but they shall receive no other fee or reward for their services.

Probate court—judges to be elected—jurisdiction. SEC. 7. There shall be established in each organized county in the State a probate court, which shall be a court of record, and be held at such time and place as may be prescribed by law. It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four* years. He shall be a resident of such county at the time of his election, and reside therein during his continuance in office; and his compensation shall be provided by law. He may appoint his own clerk where none has been elected; but the legislature may authorize the election, by the electors of any county, of one clerk or register of probate for such county, whose powers, duties, term of office and compensation shall be prescribed by law. A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this Constitution.

Justices of the peace to be elected—jurisdiction. SEC. 8. The legislature shall provide for the election of a sufficient number of justices of the peace in each county, whose term of office shall be two years, and whose duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law. Provided, That no justice of the peace shall have jurisdiction of any civil cause where the amount in controversy shall exceed one hundred dollars, nor in a criminal cause where the punishment shall exceed three months' imprisonment, or a fine over one hundred dollars, nor in any cause involving the title to real estate.

Judges for other courts to be elected. SEC. 9. All judges other than those provided for in this Constitution shall be elected by the electors of the judicial district, county, or city, for which they shall be created, not for a longer term than seven years.

*Amendment adopted Nov. 2, 1920, extended to four years from two years.

Vacancies—appointment by governor. SEC. 10. In case the office of any judge become vacant before the expiration of the regular term for which he was elected, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the governor, until a successor is elected and qualified. And such successor shall be elected at the first annual election that occurs more than thirty days after the vacancy shall have happened.

Prohibition, supreme or district judges to hold other offices or to be voted for office while in office. SEC. 11. The justices of the supreme court and the district courts shall hold no office under the United States, nor any other office under this State. And all votes for either of them for any elective office under this Constitution, except a judicial office given by the legislature or the people, during their continuance in office, shall be void.

Change of judicial districts. SEC. 12. The legislature may at any time change the number of judicial districts or their boundaries, when it shall be deemed expedient; but no such change shall vacate the office of any judge.

Clerk of court. SEC. 13. There shall be elected in each county where a district court shall be held, one clerk of said court, whose qualifications, duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law, and whose term of office shall be four years.

Legal pleadings. SEC. 14. Legal pleadings and proceedings in the courts of this State shall be under the direction of the legislature. The style of all process shall be, "The State of Minnesota," and all indictments shall conclude, "against the peace and dignity of the State of Minnesota."

Court commissioner—powers and jurisdiction. SEC. 15. The legislature may provide for the election of one person in each organized county in this State, to be called a court commissioner, with judicial power and jurisdiction not exceeding the power and jurisdiction of a judge of the district court at chambers; or the legislature may, instead of such election, confer such power and jurisdiction upon the judges of probate in the State.

ARTICLE VII.

ELECTIVE FRANCHISE.

Elective franchise. SECTION 1. What persons are entitled to vote:

Residence required. Every male* person of the age of twenty-one (21) years or upwards belonging to either of the following classes who has resided in this State six (6) months next preceding any election shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time have been for thirty (30) days a resident, for all officers that now are, or hereafter may be, elective by the people.

Citizens of the United States. First—Citizens of the United States who have been such for the period of three (3) months next preceding any election.

Mixed Indians. Second—Persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs and habits of civilization.

Pure Indians having adopted habits of civilization. Third—Persons of Indian blood residing in this State, who have adopted the language, customs and habits of civilization, after an examination before any district court of the State, in such manner as may be provided by law, and shall have been pronounced by said court capable of enjoying the rights of citizenship within the State.

Non-eligible. SEC. 2. No person not belonging to one of the classes specified in the preceding section; no person who has been convicted of treason or any felony, unless restored to civil rights; and no person under guardianship, or who may be non compos mentis or insane, shall be entitled or permitted to vote at any election in this State.

*Right to vote extended regardless of sex by Federal Constitution Amendment.

Residence not lost in certain cases. SEC. 3. For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have lost a residence by reason of his absence while employed in the service of the United States; nor while engaged upon the waters of this State or of the United States; nor while a student in any seminary of learning; nor while kept at any almshouse or asylum; nor while confined in any public prison.

Soldiers and sailors—restriction. SEC. 4. No sailor, seaman or marine in the army or navy of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this State in consequence of being stationed within the same.

Civil process suspended on election day. SEC. 5. During the day on which any election shall be held, no person shall be arrested by virtue of any civil process.

Elections by ballots. SEC. 6. All elections shall be by ballot, except for such town officers as may be directed by law to be otherwise chosen.

Right to hold office. SEC. 7. Every person who by the provisions of this article shall be entitled to vote at any election shall be eligible to any office which now is, or hereafter shall be, elective by the people in the district wherein he shall have resided thirty days previous to such election, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, or the Constitution and law of the United States. (a)

Women may vote (Obsolete). SEC. 8. Women may vote for school officers and members of library boards, and shall be eligible to hold any office pertaining to the management of schools or libraries.

Any woman of the age of twenty-one (21) years and upward and possessing qualifications requisite to a male voter may vote at any election held for the purpose of choosing any officer of schools or any members of library boards, or upon any measure relating to schools or libraries, and shall be eligible to hold any office pertaining to the management of schools and libraries.

Official year of the State. SEC. 9. The official year for the State of Minnesota shall commence on the first Monday in January in each year, and all terms of office shall terminate at that time; and the general election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The first general election for State and county officers, except judicial officers, after the adoption of this amendment, shall be held in the year A. D. one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four (1884), and thereafter the general election shall be held biennially. All state, county or other officers elected at any general election, whose terms of office would otherwise expire on the first Monday of January, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six (1886), shall hold and continue in such offices, respectively, until the first Monday in January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (1887).

ARTICLE VIII.

SCHOOL FUNDS, EDUCATION AND SCIENCE.

Uniform system of public schools. SECTION 1. The stability of a republican form of government depending mainly upon the intelligence of the people, it shall be the duty of the legislature to establish a general and uniform system of public schools. (b)

Proceeds of school lands to be a perpetual fund. SEC. 2. The proceeds of such lands as are or hereafter may be granted by the United States for the use of schools within each township of this State shall remain a perpetual school fund to the State; and not more than one-third ( $\frac{1}{3}$ ) of said lands may be sold in two (2) years, one-third ( $\frac{1}{3}$ ) in five (5) years, and one-third ( $\frac{1}{3}$ ) in ten (10) years; but the lands of the greatest valuation shall be sold first; provided, that no portion of said lands shall be sold otherwise than at public sale. The principal of all funds arising from sales or other disposition of lands or other property, granted or entrusted to this State in each township for educational purposes, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished; and the income arising from the lease or sale of said school land shall be distributed to the different townships throughout the State, in proportion to the number of scholars in each township, between the ages of five and twenty-one years; and shall be faithfully applied to the specific objects of the original grants or appropriations.

(a) Held restrictive and to disqualify a person from holding an elective office who was not eligible at the date of his election, though eligible at the beginning of the term. 45 Minn. 309.

(b) Article 8, section 1, which directs the establishment of a general and uniform system of public schools, does not prohibit the legislature from providing public schools other than those included in the general system, or creating exceptional districts, to meet particular and exceptional cases; and the exception from the operation of a general law relating to public schools of independent school districts, and schools specially provided for, does not violate the constitutional provision. 25 Minn. 1.

*A revolving fund of not over two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) may be set apart from the fund derived from the sale of school and swamp lands, to be used in constructing roads, ditches and fire breaks in, through and around unsold school and swamp lands and in clearing such lands, such fund to be replenished as long as needed from the enhanced value realized from the sale of such lands so benefited.

Investment of funds. Suitable laws shall be enacted by the legislature for the safe investment of the principal of all funds which have heretofore arisen or which may hereafter arise from the sale or other disposition of such lands, or the income from such lands accruing in any way before the sale or disposition thereof, in interest-bearing bonds of the United States, or of the State of Minnesota, issued after the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty (1860), or of such other state as the legislature may, by law, from time to time direct.

Swamp lands—division of proceeds. All swamp lands now held by the State, or that may hereafter accrue to the State, shall be appraised and sold in the same manner and by the same officers, and the minimum price shall be the same less one-third ( $\frac{1}{3}$ ), as is provided by law for the appraisement and sale of the school lands under the provisions of title one (1) of chapter thirty-eight (38) of the General Statutes. The principal of all funds derived from sales of swamp lands, as aforesaid, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished. One-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of the proceeds of said principal shall be appropriated to the common school fund of the State. The remaining one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) shall be appropriated to the educational and charitable institutions of the State in the relative ratio of cost to support said institutions.

Public schools in each township to be established. SEC. 3. The legislature shall make such provisions, by taxation or otherwise, as, with the income arising from the school fund, will secure a thorough and efficient system of public schools in each township in the State.

Prohibition as to aiding sectarian school. But in no case shall the moneys derived as aforesaid, or any portion thereof, or any public moneys or property, be appropriated or used for the support of schools wherein the distinctive doctrines, creeds or tenets of any particular Christian or other religious sect are promulgated or taught.

University of Minnesota—location confirmed. SEC. 4. The location of the University of Minnesota, as established by existing laws, is hereby confirmed, and said institution is hereby declared to be the University of the State of Minnesota. All the rights, immunities, franchises and endowments heretofore granted or conferred are hereby perpetuated unto the said university; and all lands which may be granted hereafter by Congress, or other donations for said university purposes, shall vest in the institution referred to in this section.

Permanent school funds may be loaned to districts or counties for school purposes. SEC. 5. The permanent school funds of the State may be loaned upon interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum to the several counties or school districts of the State, to be used in the erection of county or school buildings. No such loan shall be made until approved by a board consisting of the governor, the state auditor and the state treasurer, who are hereby constituted an investment board for the purpose of the loans hereby authorized; nor shall any such loan be for an amount exceeding three (3) per cent of the last preceding assessed valuation of the real estate of the county or school district receiving the same. The state auditor shall annually, at the time of certifying the state tax to the several county auditors, also certify to each auditor to whose county, or to any of the school districts of whose county, any such loan shall have been made, the tax necessary to be levied to meet the accruing interest or principal of any such loan, and it shall be the duty of every such county auditor forthwith to levy and extend such tax upon all the taxable property of his county, or of the several school districts, respectively, liable for such loans—as the case may be—and in all such cases the tax so assessed shall be fifty (50) per cent in excess of the amount actually necessary to be raised on account of such accruing principal or interest. It shall be levied, collected and paid into the county and state treasuries in the same manner as state taxes, and any excess collected over the amount of such principal or interest accruing in any given year shall be credited to the general funds of the respective counties or school districts. No change of the boundaries of any school district after the making of any such loan shall operate to withdraw any property from the taxation herein provided for; nor shall any law be passed extending the time of payment of any such principal or interest, or reducing the rate of such interest, or in any manner waiving or impairing any rights of the State in connection with any such loan. Suitable laws, not inconsistent with this amendment, may be passed by the legislature for the purpose of carrying the same into effect. (a)

Investment of permanent school and university funds — approval — bonded indebtedness not to exceed 15 per cent, draw not less than 3 per cent, run not less than 5 nor more than 20 years. *SEC. 6. The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, and in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands of this state. But no such investment or loan shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall any farm loan or investment be made when such investment or loan would exceed 30 per cent of the actual cash value of the farm land mortgage to secure said investment, nor shall such investments or loans be made at a lower rate of interest than 3 per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five years, nor for a longer period than thirty years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds.

**Sec. 7. Such of the school and other public lands of the state as are better adapted for the production of timber than for agriculture, may be set apart as state school forests, or other state forests, as the legislature may provide, and the legislature may provide for the management of the same on forestry principles. The net revenue therefrom shall be used for the purposes for which the lands were granted to the State.

(a) Chapter 193, G. L. of 1887, made the necessary provision for giving effect to this section.

ARTICLE IX.

FINANCES OF THE STATE AND BANKS AND BANKING.

Power of taxation—legislature may authorize. SECTION 1. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away. Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, and shall be levied and collected for public purposes, but public burying grounds, public school houses, public hospitals, academies, colleges, universities, and all seminaries of learning, all churches, church property, and houses of worship, institutions of purely public charity, and public property used exclusively for any public purpose, shall be exempt from taxation, and there may be exempted from taxation personal property not exceeding in value $200, for each household, individual or head of a family, as the legislature may determine: Provided, that the legislature may authorize municipal corporations to levy and collect assessments for local improvements upon property benefited thereby without regard to a cash valuation, and, provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect, modify or repeal any existing law providing for the taxation of the gross earnings of railroads.

Occupation tax. *Sec. 1A. Every person, co-partnership, company, joint stock company, corporation, or association however or for whatever purpose organized, engaged in the business of mining or producing iron ore or other ores in this State, shall pay to the State of Minnesota an occupation tax on the valuation of all ores mined or produced, which tax shall be in addition to all other taxes provided by law, said tax to be due and payable from such person, co-partnership, company, joint stock company, corporation, or association however or for whatever purpose organized, on May first of the calendar year next following the mining or producing thereof. The valuation of ore for the purpose of determining the amount of tax to be paid shall be ascertained in the manner and method provided by law. Funds derived from the tax herein provided for shall be apportioned: fifty per cent to the State General Revenue Fund, forty per cent to the Permanent School Fund and ten per cent to the Permanent University Fund. The Legislature shall by law make the necessary provisions for carrying out the provisions of this section.

N. B.—Sections 2, 3 and 4 obsolete, because in 1906 there was adopted the section which now is Section 1 in this article. It supplanted Sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 and the unnumbered section of 1896. This amendment is sometimes called the wide open tax amendment. No amendments have been adopted to take the place of the old Sections 2, 3 and 4. There is therefore a gap in the numbering from 1 to 5.

State debt limited—how contracted ***Sec. 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvements, or to be a party in carrying on such works, except as authorized by Section 16 of Article 9, and by Article 16 of this Constitution, but it may levy an excise tax upon any substance, material, fluid, force or other means or instrumentality, or the business of dealing in, selling or producing any or all thereof, used or useful, in producing or generating power for propelling motor or other vehicles used on the public highways of this State, and shall place two-thirds of the proceeds of such tax in the Trunk Highway Fund provided for in Section 2 of said Article 16, and one-third thereof in the State Road and Bridge Fund, and further except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the State, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate for revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion.

Issue of bonds for created debt. SEC. 6. All debts authorized by the preceding section shall be contracted by loan on State bonds of amounts not less than five hundred dollars each on interest, payable within ten years after the final passage of the law authorizing such debt; and such bonds shall not be sold by the State under par. A correct registry of all such bonds shall be kept by the treasurer, in numerical order, so as always to exhibit the number and amount unpaid and to whom severally made payable.

Limitation as to when debt may be contracted. SEC. 7. The State shall never contract any public debt, unless in time of war, to repel invasion or suppress insurrection, except in the cases and in the manner provided in the fifth and sixth sections of this article.

Disposition of funds received for bonds. SEC. 8. The money arising from any loan made, or debt or liability contracted, shall be applied to the object specified in the act authorizing such debt or liability, or to the repayment of such debt or liability, and to no other purpose whatever.

Money drawn from the State treasury. SEC. 9. No money shall ever be paid out of the treasury of this State except in pursuance of an appropriation by law.

Credit of the State limited. SEC. 10. The Credit of the State shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association or corporation, except as hereinafter provided. Nor shall there be any further issue of bonds denominated "Minnesota State Railroad Bonds," under what purports to be an amendment to Section ten (10) of Article nine (9) of the Constitution, adopted April 15th, 1858, which is hereby expunged from the Constitution, saving, excepting and reserving to the State, nevertheless, all rights, remedies and forfeitures accruing under said amendment. **Provided*, however that for the purpose of developing the agricultural resources of the state, the State may establish and maintain a system of rural credits and thereby loan money and extend credit to the people of the State upon real estate security in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by law, and to issue and negotiate bonds to provide money to be so loaned. The limit of indebtedness contained in Section 5 of this Article shall not apply to the provisions of this Section, and the purposes for which the credit of the State or the aforesaid municipal subdivisions thereof may be given or loaned as herein provided are declared to be public purposes.

Publication of receipts and expenditures by treasurer. SEC. 11. There shall be published by the treasurer, in at least one newspaper printed at the seat of government, during the first week in January in each year, and in the next volume of the acts of legislature, detailed statements of all moneys drawn from the treasury during the preceding year, for what purpose and to whom paid, and by what law authorized; and also of all moneys received, and by what authority and from whom.

State school fund—investment—safe keeping—All State funds to be deposited in name of State. SEC. 12. Suitable laws shall be passed by the legislature for the safe keeping, transfer and disbursements of the State and school funds; and all officers and other persons charged with the same or any part of the same, or the safe keeping thereof, shall be required to give ample security for all moneys and funds of any kind received by them; to make forthwith and keep an accurate entry of each sum received, and of each payment and transfer; and if any of said officers or other persons shall convert to his own use in any manner or form, or shall loan, with or without interest, or shall deposit in his own name, or otherwise than in the name of the State of Minnesota; or shall deposit in banks or with any person or persons, or exchange for other funds or property, any portion of the funds of the State or the school funds aforesaid, except in the manner prescribed by law, every such act shall be and constitute an embezzlement of so much of the aforesaid State and school funds, or either of the same, as shall thus be taken, or loaned, or deposited or exchanged, and shall be a felony; and any failure to pay over, produce or account for the State school funds, or any part of the same entrusted to such officer or persons as by law required on demand, shall be held and be taken to be prima facie evidence of such embezzlement.

General banking law—provision and restrictions. SEC. 13. The legislature may, by a two-thirds vote, pass a general banking law, with the following restrictions and requirements, viz.:

First—The legislature shall have no power to pass any law sanctioning in any manner, directly, or indirectly, the suspension of specie payments by any person, association or corporation issuing bank notes of any description.

Second—The legislature shall provide by law for the registry of all bills or notes issued or put in circulation as money, and shall require ample security in United States stock or State stocks for the redemption of the same in specie; and in case of a depreciation of said stocks, or any part thereof, to the amount of ten per cent or more on the dollar, the bank or banks owning said stocks shall be required to make up said deficiency by additional stocks.

Third—The stockholders in any corporation and joint association for banking purposes, issuing bank notes, shall be individually liable in an amount equal to double the amount of stock owned by them for all the debts of such corporation or association; and such individual liability shall continue for one year after any transfer or sale of stock by any stockholder or stockholders.

Fourth—In case of the insolvency of any bank or banking association, the bill holders thereof shall be entitled to preference in payment over all other creditors of such bank or association.

Fifth—Any general banking law which may be passed in accordance with this Article shall provide for recording the names of all stockholders in such corporation, the amount of stock held by each, the time of transfer, and to whom transferred.

Special provision for a loan for hospital building for insane. SEC. 14.

(a) For the purpose of erecting and completing buildings for a hospital for the insane, a deaf, dumb and blind asylum, the state prison, the legislature may by law increase the public debt of the State to an amount not exceeding $250,000, in addition to the public debt already heretofore authorized by the Constitution; and for that purpose may provide by law for issuing and negotiating the bonds of the State, and appropriate the money only for the purpose aforesaid; which bonds shall be payable in not less than ten nor more than thirty years from the date of the same, at the option of the State.

Superseded by section 15 but not repealed in express terms. SEC. 14.

(b) The legislature shall not authorize any county, township, city, or other municipal corporation to issue bonds or to become indebted in any manner to aid in the construction or equipment of any or all railroads to any amount that shall exceed ten per centum of the value of the taxable property within such county, township, city, or other municipal corporation; the amount of such taxable property to be ascertained and determined by the last assessment of said property made for the purpose of State and county taxation previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.*

County, city or township aid to railroads limited. SEC. 15. The legislature shall not authorize any county, township, city, or other municipal corporation to issue bonds, or to become indebted in any manner, to aid in the construction or equipment of any or all railroads to any amount that shall exceed five (5) per centum of the value of the taxable property within such county, township, city, or other municipal corporation. The amount of such taxable property to be ascertained, and determined by the last assessment of said property made, for the purpose of state and county taxation, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.*

State Road and Bridge Fund. Sec. 16. For the purpose of lending aid in the construction and improvement of public highways and bridges, there is hereby created a fund, to be known as the "State road and bridge fund," said fund shall include all moneys accruing from the income derived from investments in the internal improvement land fund, or that may hereafter accrue to said fund, and shall also include all funds accruing to any State road and bridge fund however provided.

The legislature is authorized to add to such fund, for the purpose of constructing or improving roads and bridges of this State, by providing, in its discretion, for an annual tax levy upon the property of this State of not to exceed in any one year one mill on all the taxable property within the State. Provided, that no county shall receive in any year more than three (3) per cent, or less than one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of one (1) per cent of the total fund thus provided and expended during such year.\*\*

ARTICLE X.

OF CORPORATIONS HAVING NO BANKING PRIVILEGES.

Corporation for general purposes. SECTION 1. The term "Corporation," as used in this Article, shall be construed to include all associations and joint stock companies having any of the powers and privileges not possessed by individuals or partnerships, except such as embrace banking privileges and all corporations shall have the right to sue, and shall be liable to be sued in all courts, in like manner as natural persons.

Not to be created by special act. Sec. 2. No corporations shall be formed under special acts, except for municipal purposes.

***Liability of Stockholders. Sec. 3. The legislature shall have power from time to time to provide for, limit and otherwise regulate the liability of stockholders or members of corporations and co-operative corporations or associations, however organized. Provided every stockholder in a banking or trust corporation or association shall be individually liable in an amount equal to the amount of stock owned by him for all debts of such corporation contracted prior to any transfer of such stock and such individual liability shall continue for one year after any transfer of such stock and the entry thereof on the books of the corporation or association.

Lands may be taken for public use. Sec. 4. Lands may be taken for public way, for the purpose of granting to any corporation the franchise of way for public use. In all cases, however, a fair and equitable compensation shall be paid for such land, and the damages arising from the taking of the same; but all corporations being common carriers enjoying the right of way in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be bound to carry the mineral, agricultural and other productions of manufacturers on equal and reasonable terms.

ARTICLE XI.

COUNTIES AND TOWNSHIPS.

County organization. SECTION 1. The legislature may from time to time establish and organize new counties; but no new county shall contain less than four hundred square miles; nor shall any county be reduced below that amount; and all laws changing county lines in counties already organized, or for removing county seats, shall, before taking effect, be submitted to the electors of the county or counties to be affected thereby, at the next general election after the passage thereof, and be adopted by a majority of such electors. Counties now established may be enlarged, but not reduced below four hundred (400) square miles.

Cities of 20,000 population may be organized into separate counties. SEC. 2. The legislature may organize any city into a separate county, when it has attained a population of 20,000 inhabitants, without reference to geographical extent, when a majority of the electors of the county in which such city may be situated, voting thereon, shall be in favor of a separate organization.

Township organization. SEC. 3. Laws may be passed providing for the organization for municipal and other town purposes, of any congressional or fractional townships in the several counties in the State, provided that when a township is divided by county lines or does not contain one hundred inhabitants, it may be attached to one or more adjoining townships or parts of townships for the purposes aforesaid.

Election of county and town officers. SEC. 4. Provisions shall be made by law for the election of such county or township officers as may be necessary.

Local taxation may be authorized. SEC. 5. Any county and township organization shall have such powers of local taxation as may be prescribed by law.

Money drawn from county or town treasuries. SEC. 6. No money shall be drawn from any county or township treasury except by authority of law.

County of Manomin abolished. SEC. 7. That the county of Manomin is hereby abolished, and that the territory heretofore comprising the same shall constitute and be a part of the county of Anoka.*

ARTICLE XII.

OF THE MILITIA.

Militia organization. SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the legislature to pass such laws for the organization, discipline and service of the militia of the State as may be deemed necessary.

ARTICLE XIII.

IMPEACHMENT AND REMOVAL FROM OFFICE.

Impeachment and removal from office. SECTION 1. The governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, and the judges of the supreme and district courts, may be impeached for corrupt conduct in office, or for crimes and misdemeanors; but judgment in such case shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit in this State. The party convicted thereof shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

SEC. 2. The legislature of this State may provide for the removal of inferior officers from office, for malfeasance or nonfeasance in the performance of their duties.

SEC. 3. No officer shall exercise the duties of his office after he shall have been impeached and before his acquittal.

SEC. 4. On the trial of an impeachment against the governor, the lieutenant governor shall not act as a member of the court.

SEC. 5. No person shall be tried on impeachment before he shall have been served with a copy thereof at least twenty days previous to the day set for trial.

ARTICLE XIV.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Amendments to constitution—majority vote of electors voting makes amendment valid. SECTION 1. Whenever a majority of both houses of the legislature shall deem it necessary to alter or amend this Constitution, they may propose such alterations or amendments, which proposed amendments shall be published with the laws which have been passed at the same session, and said amendments shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at any general election, and if it shall appear, in a manner to be provided by law, that a majority of all the electors voting at said election shall have voted for and ratified such alterations or amendments, the same shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of this Constitution. If two or more alterations or amendments shall be submitted at the same time, it shall be so regulated that the voters shall vote for or against each separately.

Revision of constitution. SEC. 2. Whenever two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the legislature shall think it necessary to call a convention to revise this Constitution, they shall recommend to the electors to vote at the next general election for members of the legislature, for or against a convention; and if a majority of all the electors voting at said election shall have voted for a convention, the legislature shall, at their next session, provide by law for calling the same. The convention shall consist of as many members as the House of Representatives, who shall be chosen in the same manner, and shall meet within three months after their election for the purpose aforesaid.

ARTICLE XV.

MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS.

Seat of government. SECTION 1. The seat of government of the State shall be at the city of St. Paul, but the legislature, at their first or any future session, may provide by law for a change of the seat of government by a vote of the people, or may locate the same upon the land granted by Congress for a seat of government to the State; and in the event of the seat of government being removed from the city of St. Paul to any other place in the State, the capitol building and grounds shall be dedicated to an institution for the promotion of science, literature and the arts, to be organized by the legislature of the State, and of which institution the Minnesota Historical Society shall always be a department.

Residents on Indian lands. SEC. 2. Persons residing on Indian lands within the State shall enjoy all the rights and privileges of citizens, as though they lived in any other portion of the State, and shall be subject to taxation.

Uniform oath at elections. SEC. 3. The legislature shall provide for a uniform oath or affirmation to be administered at elections, and no person shall be compelled to take any other or different form of oath to entitle him to vote.

State seal. SEC. 4. There shall be a seal of the State, which shall be kept by the secretary of state, and be used by him officially, and shall be called the great seal of the State of Minnesota, and shall be attached to all the official acts of the governor (his signature to acts and resolves of the legislature excepted) requiring authentication. The legislature shall provide for an appropriate device and motto for said seal.

State prison location. SEC. 5. The territorial prison, as located under existing laws, shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, be and remain one of the state prisons of the State of Minnesota.

ARTICLE XVI.*

TRUNK HIGHWAY SYSTEM.

SECTION 1.—There is hereby created and established a trunk highway system, which shall be located, constructed, reconstructed, improved and forever maintained as public highways, by the State of Minnesota. The said highways shall extend as nearly as may be along the following described routes, the more specific and definite location of which shall be fixed and determined by such boards, officers or tribunals, and in such manner as shall be prescribed by law, but in fixing such specific and definite routes there shall not be any deviation from the starting points or terminals set forth in this bill, nor shall there be any deviation in fixing such routes from the various villages and cities named herein, through which such routes are to pass.

Additional Routes.—Whenever, either by reason of the creation of a new county, or by reason of the change of the county seat of any existing county, any city or village not a county seat at the time of the adoption of this amendment is lawfully constituted the county seat of any county, the legislature is authorized to add to the trunk highway system such additional routes connecting such newly constituted county seats with other county seats and other points in the state.

When after at least seventy-five (75) per cent of the total number of the miles of the routes embraced in the trunk highway system hereinbefore specified shall have been constructed and permanently improved, the legislature shall have authority to add new routes to such trunk highway system; provided, however, that no such new routes shall be added until and unless the funds available for the construction, improvement and maintenance of such additional routes shall be sufficient therefor in addition to the construction, improvement and maintenance of the several routes hereinbefore specifically described.

SECTION 2. There is hereby created a fund which shall be known as the trunk highway sinking fund. Said fund shall consist of the proceeds of any tax imposed on motor vehicles as herein authorized. The moneys in said fund shall be used for the payment of the principal and interest of any bonds which may be issued under the authority of this article; and any moneys in excess of such requirements shall be transferred to a fund which is hereby created and which shall be known as the trunk highway fund. The trunk highway fund shall be used solely for the purposes specified in section 1 of this article, and when duly authorized by legislative enactment to reimburse any county for the money expended by it subsequent to February 1st, 1919, in permanently improving any road hereinbefore specifically described, in accordance with plans and specifications therefore approved by the commissioner of highways.

† SECTION 3. The legislature is hereby authorized to provide, by law, for the taxation of motor vehicles, using the public streets and highways of this state, on a more onerous basis than other personal property; provided, however, that any such tax on motor vehicles shall be in lieu of all other taxes thereon, except wheelage taxes, so-called, which may be imposed by any borough, city or village, and except that the legislature may impose such tax upon motor vehicles of companies paying taxes under gross earnings system of taxation and upon the right to use such vehicles upon the public highways notwithstanding the fact that earnings from such vehicles may be included in the earnings of such companies upon which such gross earnings taxes are computed. Any such law may, in the discretion of the legislature, provide for the exemption from taxation of any motor vehicle owned by a nonresident of the state, and transiently or temporarily using the streets and highways of the state. The proceeds of such tax shall be paid in to said trunk highway sinking fund.

SECTION 4. The legislature may provide by law for the issue and sale of the bonds of the state in such amount as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of section 1 of this article, provided, however, that the amount of bonds which may be issued in any one calendar year shall not exceed, in the aggregate, ten million dollars, par value, and provided, further, the total amount of such bonds issued and unpaid shall not at any time exceed seventy-five million dollars, par value. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be paid into the treasury of the state and credited to the trunk highway fund. Any bonds so issued and sold shall be for a term not exceeding twenty (20) years. They shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest and shall not bear interest at a greater rate than five per cent per annum. In case the trunk highway sinking fund shall not be adequate to meet the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds authorized by the legislature as hereinbefore provided, the legislature may provide by law for the taxation of all taxable property of the state in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency, or it may, in its discretion, appropriate to such sinking fund moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SECTION 5. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota are hereby repealed, inconsistent with the provisions of this article, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized.

ARTICLE XVII.*

SECTION 1. The state and (or) any of its political subdivisions, if and whenever authorized by the legislature, may contract debts and pledge the public credit for and engage in any work reasonably tending to prevent or abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improvement of wild lands (whether belonging to the public or privately owned) and the assessment against such lands of the value of all benefits so conferred and the payment of damages so sustained in excess of such benefits.

SEC. 2. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article, are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized.

*Adopted Nov. 8, 1932.

ARTICLE XVIII.*

SECTION 1. Laws may be enacted for the purpose of encouraging and promoting forestation and reforestation of lands in this state, whether owned by private persons or the public, including the fixing in advance of a definite and limited annual tax on such lands for a term of years and a yield tax at or after the end of such term upon the timber and other forest products so grown, but the taxation of mineral deposits shall not be affected by this amendment.

SEC. 2. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota, inconsistent with the provisions of this article, are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized.

SCHEDULE.

Territorial laws valid in change to State organization. SECTION 1. That no inconvenience may arise by reason of a change from a territorial to a permanent state government, it is declared that all rights, actions, prosecutions, judgments, claims and contracts, as well of individuals as of bodies corporate, shall continue as if no change had taken place; and all process which may be issued under the authority of the Territory of Minnesota previous to its admission into the Union of the United States shall be as valid as if issued in the name of the State.

Territorial laws not repugnant to constitution to be in force. SEC. 2. All laws now in force in the Territory of Minnesota not repugnant to this Constitution shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitation, or be altered or repealed by the legislature.

SEC. 3. All fines, penalties or forfeitures accruing to the Territory of Minnesota shall inure to the State.

Civil rights under territorial government secured in the change to State government. SEC. 4. All recognizances heretofore taken, or which may be taken before the change from a territorial to a permanent state government shall remain valid, and shall pass to and may be prosecuted in the name of the State; and all bonds executed to the governor of the Territory, or to any other officer or court in his or their official capacity, shall pass to the governor or state authority and their successors in office, for the uses therein respectively expressed, and may be sued for and recovered accordingly; and all the estate of property, real, personal or mixed, and all judgments, bonds, specialties, choses in action, and claims and debts, of whatsoever description, of the Territory of Minnesota, shall inure to and vest in the State of Minnesota, and may be sued for and recovered in the same manner and to the same extent by the State of Minnesota as the same could have been by the Territory of Minnesota. All criminal prosecutions and penal actions which may have arisen, or which may arise before the change from a territorial to a state government, and which shall then be pending, shall be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the name of the State. All offenses committed against the laws of the Territory of Minnesota, before the change from a territorial to a state government, and which shall not be prosecuted before such change, may be prosecuted in the name and by the authority of the State of Minnesota with like effect as though such change had not taken place, and all penalties incurred shall remain the same as if this Constitution had not been adopted. All actions at law and suits in equity which may be pending in any of the courts of the Territory of Minnesota, at the time of a change from a territorial to a state government, may be continued and transferred to any court of the State which shall have jurisdiction of the subject matter thereof.

*Adopted Nov. 2, 1926.

Territorial officers continued until superseded. SEC. 5. All territorial officers, civil or military, now holding their offices under the authority of the United States, or of the Territory of Minnesota shall continue to hold and exercise their respective offices until they shall be superseded by the authority of the State.

The counties of Le Sueur, Sibley, Nicollet, Blue Earth, Faribault, McLeod, Renville, Brown, and all other counties in the State not included within the other districts, shall constitute the Sixth judicial district.

SEC. 15. Each of the foregoing enumerated judicial districts may, at the first election, elect one prosecuting attorney for the district.

First State election. SEC. 16. Upon the second Tuesday, the thirteenth day of October, 1857, an election shall be held for members of the House of Representatives of the United States, governor, lieutenant governor, supreme and district judges, members of the legislature, and all other officers designated in this Constitution, and also for the submission of this Constitution to the people, for their adoption or rejection.

Voters at the first election. SEC. 17. Upon the day so designated as aforesaid every free white male inhabitant over the age of twenty-one years, who shall have resided within the limits of the State for ten days previous to the day of said election, may vote for all officers to be elected under this Constitution at such election, and also for or against the adoption of this Constitution.

Vote on the constitution. SEC. 18. In voting for or against the adoption of this Constitution, the words, "For Constitution," or "Against Constitution," may be written or printed on the ticket of each voter, but no voter shall vote for or against the Constitution, on a separate ballot from that cast by him for officers to be elected at said election under this Constitution; and if upon the canvass of the vote so polled it shall appear that there was a greater number of votes polled for than against said Constitution, then this Constitution shall be deemed to be adopted as the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, and all the provisions and obligations of this Constitution, and of the schedule thereunto attached, shall thereafter be valid to all intents and purposes as the Constitution of said State.

Election—how conducted. SEC. 19. At said election the polls shall be opened, the election held, returns made, and certificates issued, in all respects as provided by law for opening, closing and conducting elections and making returns of the same, except as hereinbefore specified, and excepting also that polls may be opened and elections held at any point or points in any of the counties where precincts may be established as provided by law, ten days previous to the day of election, not less than ten miles from the place of voting in any established precinct.

Returns of election. SEC. 20. It shall be the duty of the judges and clerks of election, in addition to the returns required by law for each precinct, to forward to the secretary of the Territory, by mail, immediately after the close of the election, a certified copy of the poll book containing the name of each person who has voted in the precinct and the number of votes polled for and against the adoption of this Constitution.

Canvassing returns. SEC. 21. The returns of said election for and against this Constitution, and for all state officers and members of the House of Representatives of the United States, shall be made, and certificates issued in the manner now prescribed by law for returning votes given for delegates to Congress; and the returns for all district officers, judicial, legislative or otherwise, shall be made to the register of deeds of the senior county in each district, in the manner prescribed by law, except as otherwise provided. The returns for all officers elected at large shall be canvassed by the governor of the Territory, assisted by Joseph R. Brown and Thomas J. Galbraith, at the time designated by law for canvassing the vote for delegates to Congress.

SEC. 22. If, upon canvassing the votes for and against the adoption of this Constitution, it shall appear that there has been polled a greater number of votes against than for it, then no certificate of election shall be issued for any State or district officer provided for in this Constitution, and no State organization shall have validity within the limits of the Territory, until otherwise provided for and until a Constitution for a State government shall have been adopted by the people.

MINNESOTA STATE FLOWER

The state flower is the showy pink and white moccasin flower, the largest blossom pictured in the accompanying illustration, and known as the Cypripedium Spectabile and the earlier name of Cypripedium Reginae.

The state legislature adopted a state flower or floral emblem during February, 1892, on a petition signed by Mrs. A. L. Stebbins of Rochester and other members of the Woman's Auxiliary, Board of World's Fair Managers, urging adoption of the "Wild Lady Slipper or Moccasin Flower," Cypripedium Calceolus, which was followed.

Women of the St. Anthony Study Circle, through Mrs. E. C. Chatfield of Minneapolis, announced later that the calceolus was not found in Minnesota and in February, 1902, the legislature changed the designation to the reginae.

Thus the Cypripedium Reginae became the Minnesota state flower. The name Cypripedium, from the Greek words meaning the shoe of Venus, published for this genus in 1737 by Linnaeus, and its common English and American popular names, as Lady's Slipper, Moccasin Flower and Indian Shoe, refer to the saccate and somewhat shoe-like form of the most conspicuous petal (in this Orchis family called the lip) of the flower. The plants grow preferably in cool and moist woods and in bogs, flowering from May to July. The reginae is one of six species found in Minnesota.

NOTE.—Minnesota has fourteen genera, including forty-one species, of the Orchis family, to which the Cypripediums belong. In total, 1583 species of flowering plants, and sixty-eight ferns and their allies, making together 1,650 species, were tabulated, as known to grow without cultivation in this state, by Warren Upham in the Catalogue of the Flora of Minnesota, published in the Twelfth Annual Report of the Geological and Natural History Survey for the year 1883 (193 pages, with a map showing the areas of forest and prairie). Within the basin of the Minnesota river, according to the report in 1892 by Prof. Conway MacMillan, the state botanist, 1,174 species and varieties of flowering plants, including all our Cypripediums, are known and have been collected for the Herbarium of the State University. The State Flower is thus chosen from among more than a thousand others which bloom on our prairies, in the northern woods, in their cool bogs, and in our streams and lakes.

ACT OF ADMISSION INTO THE UNION

An Act for the admission of Minnesota into the Union.
[Passed May 11, 1858.]

WHEREAS, An act of Congress was passed February twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, entitled "An act to authorize the people of the Territory of Minnesota to form a constitution and state government preparatory to their admission into the Union on an equal footing with the original states"; and, whereas, the people of said Territory did, on the twenty-ninth day of August, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, by delegates elected for that purpose, form for themselves a constitution and state government, which is republican in form, and was ratified and adopted by the people at an election held on the thirteenth day of October, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, for that purpose; therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the State of Minnesota shall be one, and is hereby declared to be one, of the United States of America, and admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states in all respects whatever.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That said State shall be entitled to two representatives in Congress, until the next apportionment of representatives among the several states.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That from and after the admission of the State of Minnesota, as hereinbefore provided, all the laws of the United States which are not locally inapplicable shall have the same force and effect within that State as in other States of the Union; and the said State is hereby constituted a judicial district of the United States, within which a district court, with like powers and jurisdiction as the district court of the United States for the district of Iowa, shall be established; the judge, attorney and marshal of the United States of the said district of Minnesota shall reside within the same, and shall be entitled to the same compensation as the judge, attorney and marshal of the district of Iowa; and in all cases of appeal or writ of error heretofore prosecuted and now pending in the supreme court of the United States, upon any record from the supreme court of Minnesota Territory, the mandate of execution or order of further proceedings shall be directed by the supreme court of the United States to the district court of the United States for the district of Minnesota, or to the supreme court of the State of Minnesota, as the nature of such appeal or writ of error may require; and each of those courts shall be the successor of the supreme court of Minnesota Territory, as to all such cases, with full power to hear and determine the same, and to ward mesne or final process therein.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal; that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable and distant from the repository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time after such dissolutions to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large, for their exercise, the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering, fundamentally, the forms of our government:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has incited domestic insurrections among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind—enemies in war, in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in general congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which INDEPENDENT STATES may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of DIVINE PROVIDENCE, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

THE ARTICLES OF CONFEDERATION

IN CONGRESS, JULY 9. 1778.

Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union between the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

ARTICLE 1. The style of this confederacy shall be "THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA."

ART. 2. Each state retains its sovereignty freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right, which is not by this confederation expressly delegated to the United States in Congress assembled.

ART. 3. The said states hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other for their common defense, the security of their liberties, and their mutual, and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other against all force offered to or attacks made upon them, or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade, or any other pretence whatever.

ART. 4. § 1. The better to secure and perpetuate mutual friendship and intercourse among the people of the different states in this Union, the free inhabitants of each of these states (paupers, vagabonds, and fugitives from justice excepted) shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of free citizens in the several states, and the people of each state shall have free ingress and egress to and from any other state, and shall enjoy therein all the privileges of trade and commerce, subject to the same duties, impositions and restrictions as the inhabitants thereof respectively; provided, that such restrictions shall not extend so far as to prevent the removal of property imported into any state, to any other state of which the owner is an inhabitant; provided, also, that no imposition, duties, or restriction shall be laid by any state on the property of the United States, or either of them.

§ 2. If any person guilty of, or charged with, treason, felony, or other high misdemeanor, in any state, shall flee from justice, and be found in any of the United States, he shall, upon the demand of the governor or executive power of the state from which he fled, be delivered up and removed to the state having jurisdiction of his offense.

§ 3. Full faith and credit shall be given in each of these states to the records, acts and judicial proceedings of the courts and magistrates of every other state.

ART. 5. § 1. For the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States, delegates shall be annually appointed in such manner as the legislature of each state shall direct, to meet in congress on the first Monday in November, of every year, with a power reserved to each state to recall its delegates, or any of them, at any time within the year, and to send others in their stead, for the remainder of the year.

§ 2. No state shall be represented in congress by less than two, nor more than seven, members; and no person shall be capable of being a delegate for more than three years, in any term of six years; nor shall any person, being a delegate, be capable of holding any office under the United States, for which he, or any other for his benefit, receives any salary, fees, or emoluments of any kind.

§ 3. Each state shall maintain its own delegates in a meeting of the states, and while they act as members of the committee of these states.

§ 4. In determining questions in the United States in congress assembled, each state shall have one vote.

§ 5. Freedom of speech and debate in congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of congress, and the members of congress shall be protected in their persons from arrests and imprisonments during the time of their going to and from, and attendance on, congress, except for treason, felony, or breach of the peace.

ART. 6. § 1. No state, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, shall send any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance or treaty with, any king, prince or state; nor shall any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States, or any of them, accept any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince, or foreign state; nor shall the United States in congress assembled, or any of them, grant any title of nobility.

§ 2. No two or more states shall enter into any treaty, confederation, or alliance whatever, between them, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.

§ 3. No state shall lay any imposts or duties which may interfere with any stipulations in treaties entered into by the United States, in congress assembled, with any king, prince, or state, in pursuance of any treaties already proposed by congress to the courts of France and Spain.

§ 4. No vessels of war shall be kept up in time of peace by any state, except such number only as shall be deemed necessary by the United States in congress assembled, for the defense of such state, or its trade; nor shall any body or forces be kept up by any state, in time of peace, except such number only as, in the judgment of the United States in congress assembled, shall be deemed requisite to garrison the forts necessary for the defense of such state; but every state shall always keep up a well regulated and disciplined militia, sufficiently armed and accoutered, and shall provide and constantly have ready for use, in public stores, a due number of field pieces and tents, and a proper quantity of arms, ammunition and camp equipage.

§ 5. No state shall engage in any war without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, unless such state be actually invaded by enemies, or shall have received certain advice of a resolution being formed by some nation of Indians to invade such state, and the danger is so imminent as not to admit a delay till the United States in congress assembled can be consulted; nor shall any state grant commissions to any ships or vessels of war, nor letters of marque or reprisal, except it be after a declaration of war by the United States in congress assembled, and then only against the kingdom or state, and the subjects thereof, against which war has been so declared, and under such regulations as shall be established by the United States in congress assembled, unless such state be infested by pirates, in which case vessels of war may be fitted out for that occasion, and kept so long as the danger shall continue, or until the United States in congress assembled shall determine otherwise.

ART. 7. When land forces are raised by any state for the common defense, all officers of or under the rank of colonel shall be appointed by the legislature of each state, respectively, by whom such forces shall be raised, or in such manner as such state shall direct, and all vacancies shall be filled up by the state which first made the appointment.

ART. 8. All charges of war, and all other expenses that shall be incurred for the common defense or general welfare, and allowed by the United States in congress assembled, shall be defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be supplied by the several states, in proportion to the value of all lands within each state, granted to or surveyed for any person, as such land and the buildings and improvements thereon shall be estimated, according to such mode as the United States in congress assembled shall, from time to time, direct and appoint. The taxes for paying that proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the legislatures of the several states within the time agreed upon by the United States in congress assembled.

ART. 9. § 1. The United States in congress assembled shall have the sole and exclusive right and power of determining on peace and war, except in the cases mentioned in the sixth article; of sending and receiving ambassadors, entering into treaties and alliances; provided, that no treaty of commerce shall be made whereby the legislative power of the respective states shall be restrained from imposing such imposts and duties on foreigners as their own people are subjected to, or from prohibiting the exportation or importation of any species of goods or commodities whatsoever, of establishing rules for deciding in all cases what captures on land or water shall be legal, and in what manner prizes taken by land or naval forces in the service of the United States shall be divided or appropriated; of granting letters of marque and reprisal in times of peace; appointing courts for the trial of piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and establishing courts for receiving and determining finally appeals in all cases of captures; provided, that no member of congress shall be appointed a judge of any of the said courts.

§ 2. The United States in congress assembled shall also be the last resort on appeal in all disputes and differences now subsisting, or that may hereafter arise, between two or more states concerning boundary, jurisdiction, or any other cause whatever; which authority shall always be exercised in the manner following: Whenever the legislative or executive authority or lawful agent of any state in controversy with another shall present a petition to congress, stating the matter in question, and praying for a hearing, notice thereof shall be given by order of congress to the legislative or executive authority of the other state in controversy, and a day assigned for the appearance of the parties by their lawful agents, who shall then be directed to appoint, by joint consent, commissioners or judges to constitute a court for hearing and determining the matter in question; but if they cannot agree, congress shall name three persons out of each of the United States, and from the list of such persons each party shall alternately strike out one, the petitioners beginning, until the number shall be reduced to thirteen; and from that number not less than seven nor more than nine names, as congress shall direct, shall, in the presence of congress, be drawn out by lot; the persons whose names shall be so drawn, or any five of them, shall be commissioners or judges to hear and finally determine the controversy, so always as a major part of the judges who shall hear the cause shall agree in the determination; and if either party shall neglect to attend at the day appointed, without showing reasons which congress shall judge sufficient, or being present shall refuse to strike, the congress shall proceed to nominate three persons out of each state, and the secretary of congress shall strike in behalf of such party absent or refusing; and the judgment and sentence of the court, to be appointed in the manner before described, shall be final and conclusive; and if any of the parties shall refuse to submit to the authority of such court, or to appear to defend their claim or cause, the court shall nevertheless proceed to pronounce sentence or judgment, which shall in like manner be final and decisive; the judgment or sentence and other proceedings being in either case transmitted to congress and lodged among the acts of congress, for the security of the parties concerned; provided, that every commissioner, before he sits in judgment, shall take an oath, to be administered by one of the judges of the supreme or superior court of the state where the cause shall be tried, "well and truly to hear and determine the matter in question, according to the best of his judgment, without favor, affection, or hope of reward"; provided, also, that no state shall be deprived of territory for the benefit of the United States.

§ 3. All controversies concerning the private right of soil claimed under different grants of two or more states, whose jurisdiction, as they may respect such lands, and the states which passed such grants are adjusted, the said grants or either of them being at the same time claimed to have originated antecedent to such settlement or jurisdiction, shall, on the petition of either party to the congress of the United States, be finally determined, as near as may be, in the same manner as is before prescribed for deciding disputes respecting territorial jurisdiction between different states.

§ 4. The United States in congress assembled shall also have the sole and exclusive right and power of regulating the alloy and value of coin struck by their own authority, or by that of the respective states; fixing the standards of weights and measures, throughout the United States; regulating the trade and managing all affairs with the Indians, not members of any of the states; provided, that the legislative right of any state, within its own limits, be not infringed or violated; establishing and regulating postoffices from one state to another, throughout all the United States, and exacting such postage on the papers passing through the same as may be requisite to defray the expenses of the said office; appointing all officers of the land forces in the service of the United States, excepting regimental officers; appointing all the officers of the naval forces, and commissioning all officers whatever in the service of the United States; making rules for the government and regulation of the said land and naval forces, and directing their operations.

§ 5. The United States in congress assembled shall have authority to appoint a committee, to sit in the recess of congress, to be denominated "A Committee of the States," and to consist of one delegate from each state; and to appoint such other committees and civil officers as may be necessary for managing the general affairs of the United States under their direction; to appoint one of their number to preside; provided, that no person be allowed to serve in the office of president more than one year in any term of three years; to ascertain the necessary sums of money to be raised for the service of the United States, and to appropriate and apply the same for defraying the public expenses; to borrow money or emit bills on the credit of the United States, transmitting every half year to the respective states an account of the sums of money so borrowed or emitted; to build and equip a navy; to agree upon the number of land forces, and to make requisitions from each state for its quota, in proportion to the number of white inhabitants in such state, which requisition shall be binding; and thereupon the legislature of each state shall appoint the regimental officers, raise the men, and clothe, arm and equip them, in a soldier-like manner, at the expense of the United States; and the officers and men so clothed, armed and equipped shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on by the United States in congress assembled; but if the United States in congress assembled shall, on consideration of circumstances, judge proper that any state should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than its quota and that any other state should raise a greater number of men than the quota thereof, such extra number shall be raised, officered, clothed, armed and equipped in the same manner as the quota of such state, unless the legislature of such state shall judge that such extra number cannot be safely spared out of the same, in which case they shall raise, officer, clothe, arm and equip as many of such extra number as they judge can be safely spared, and the officers and men so clothed, armed, and equipped shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on by the United States in congress assembled.

§ 6. The United States in congress assembled shall never engage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances, nor coin money, nor regulate the value thereof, nor ascertain the sums and expenses necessary for the defense and welfare of the United States, or any of them, nor emit bills, nor borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor appropriate money, nor agree upon the number of vessels of war to be built or purchased, or the number of land or sea forces to be raised, nor appoint a commander-in-chief of the army or navy, unless nine states assent to the same; nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day, be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the United States in congress assembled.

§ 7. The congress of the United States shall have power to adjourn to any time within the year, and to any place within the United States, so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of six months, and shall publish the journal of their proceedings monthly, except such parts thereof relating to treaties, alliances, or military operations as in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the delegates of each state, on any question, shall be entered on the journal, when it is desired by any delegate; and the delegates of a state, or any of them, at his or their request, shall be furnished with a transcript of the said journal, except such parts as are above excepted, to lay before the legislatures of the several states.

ART. 10. The committee of the states, or any nine of them, shall be authorized to execute, in the recess of congress, such of the powers of congress as the United States in congress assembled, by the consent of nine states, shall, from time to time, think expedient to vest them with; provided, that no power be delegated to the said committee, for the exercise of which, by the articles of confederation, the voice of nine states, in the congress of the United States assembled, is requisite.

ART. 11. Canada acceding to this confederation, and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into and entitled to all the advantages of this Union; but no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine states.

ART. 12. All bills of credit emitted, moneys borrowed, and debts contracted by or under the authority of congress, before the assembling of the United States, in pursuance of the present confederation, shall be deemed and considered as a charge against the United States, for payment and satisfaction whereof the said United States and the public faith are hereby solemnly pledged.

ART. 13. Every state shall abide by the determination of the United States in congress assembled, on all questions which by this confederation are submitted to them. And the articles of this confederation shall be inviolably observed by every state, and the Union shall be perpetual; nor shall any alteration at any time hereafter be made in any of them, unless such alteration be agreed to in a congress of the United States, and be afterward confirmed by the legislature of every state.

And whereas, it has pleased the great Governor of the world to incline the hearts of the legislatures we respectfully represent in congress to approve of and to authorize us to ratify the said articles of confederation and perpetual union, Know ye, that we, the undersigned delegates, by virtue of the power and authority to us given for that purpose, do by these presents, in the name and in behalf of our respective constituents, fully and entirely ratify and confirm each and every of the said articles of confederation and perpetual union, and all and singular the matters and things therein contained. And we do further solemnly plight and engage the faith of our respective constituents, that they shall abide by the determinations of the United States in congress assembled, on all questions which by the said confederation are submitted to them; and that the articles thereof shall be inviolably observed by the states we respectively represent, and that the Union shall be perpetual. In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands in congress. Done at Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, the ninth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, and in the third year of the Independence of America.

Ratified by the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia.

Preamble. We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and a house of representatives.

SEC. 2. The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every 30,000, but each state shall have at least one representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose 3; Massachusetts, 8; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 1; Connecticut, 5; New York, 6; New Jersey, 4; Pennsylvania, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 6; Virginia, 10; North Carolina, 5; South Carolina, 5; Georgia, 3.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any state the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

*SEC. 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided, as equally as may be, into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year; and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year. *When vacancies happen in the representation of any state in the Senate, the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen.

The vice president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

The senate shall choose their own officers, and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the vice president, or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments.

When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment according to law.

*Amendments ratified 1913. See Amendment No. 17.

SEC. 4. The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meetings shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall, by law, appoint a different day.

SEC. 5. Each house shall be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same; excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 6. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SEC. 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives, but the senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and, if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return; in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the president of the United States, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SEC. 8. The Congress shall have power:

To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform through the United States:

To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states, and with the Indian tribes;

To establish a uniform rule of naturalization and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin money, regulate the value thereof and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures.

To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

To establish postoffices and postroads;

To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times, to authors and inventors, the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

To constitute tribunals inferior to the supreme court;

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses, against the laws of nations;

To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

To raise and support armies; but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

To provide and maintain a navy;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the states, respectively, the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of the government of the United States; and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock yards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SEC. 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the states now existing shall think proper to admit shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight; but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when, in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder, or ex post facto law, shall be passed.

No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.

No preference shall be given, by any regulation of commerce or revenue, to the ports of one state over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to or from one state be obliged to enter, clear or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States, and no person holding any office of profit and trust under them shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign state.

SEC. 10. No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts laid by any state on imports or exports shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the vice president, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the Congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

[The electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates; and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be appointed, if such a number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the house of representatives shall immediately choose, by ballot, one of them for president; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said house shall, in like manner, choose the president. But in choosing the president the vote shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case after the choice of the president, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the vice president. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the senate shall choose from them, by ballot, the vice president.]*

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of president; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president; and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed, or a president shall be elected.

The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected; and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the execution of his office he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

SEC. 2. The president shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several states, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices; and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur, and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the senate shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, judges of the supreme court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law. But the Congress may, by law, vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the president alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

The president shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SEC. 3. He shall, from time to time, give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them; and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

SEC. 4. The president, vice president, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may, from time to time, ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more states, between a state and citizens of another state, between citizens of different states, between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants of different states, and between a state or the citizens thereof and foreign states, citizens or subjects.*

*See the 11th amendment.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state shall be party, the supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury, and such trial shall be held in the state where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any state, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

SEC. 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attained.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings of every other state. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SEC. 2. The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states.

A person charged in any state with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another state, shall on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one state under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SEC. 3. New states may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States, and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States or of any particular state.

SEC. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every state in the Union a republican form of government; and shall protect each of them against invasion, and, on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; provided, that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution, but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the conventions of nine states shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the states so ratifying the same.

ARTICLES

In addition to, and amendment of, the Constitution of the United States of America, proposed by Congress and ratified by the Legislatures of the several states, pursuant to the fifth article of the original Constitution.

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, or to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war and public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be witness against himself; nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court in the United States than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states, respectively, or to the people.

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another state, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign state.

ARTICLE XII.

The electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for president and vice president, one of whom at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as president, and in distinct ballot the person voted for as vice president; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as president and of all persons voted for as vice president, and of the number of votes for each; which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate; the president of the senate shall, in presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for president shall be the president; if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as president, the house of representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the president. But in choosing the president the vote shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote: a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states; and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the house of representatives shall not choose a president whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the vice president shall act as president, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the president.

The person having the greatest number of votes as vice president shall be the vice president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then, from the two highest numbers on the list, the senate shall choose the vice president; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice.

But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of president shall be eligible to that of vice president of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for president and vice president of the United States, representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a state, or the members of the legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such state, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such state.

SEC. 3. No person shall be a senator or representative in Congress or elector of president and vice president, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any state, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any state legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any state, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each house remove such disability.

SEC. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any state shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SEC. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any state, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

SEC. 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XVI.

The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

ARTICLE XVII.

The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each state, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

When vacancies happen in the representation of any state in the Senate, the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointment until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.

ARTICLE XVIII.

SECTION 1. After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

SEC. 2. The Congress and the several states shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XIX.

SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on account of sex.

SEC. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

NOTE.—The Constitution was adopted Sept. 17, 1787, by the unanimous consent of the states present in the convention appointed in pursuance of the resolution of the Congress of the confederation, of the twenty-first of February, 1787, and was ratified by the conventions of the several states, as follows, viz.: By convention of Delaware, Dec. 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, Dec. 12, 1787; New Jersey, Dec. 18, 1787; Georgia, Jan. 2, 1788; Connecticut, Jan. 9, 1788; Massachusetts, Feb. 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; New York, July 26, 1788; North Carolina, Nov. 21, 1787; Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

The first ten of the amendments were proposed at the first session of the First Congress of the United States, Sept. 25, 1789; and were finally ratified by the constitutional number of states Dec. 15, 1791. The eleventh amendment was proposed at the first session of the Third Congress, March 5, 1794, and was declared in a message from the president of the United States to both houses of Congress, dated Jan. 8, 1798, to have been adopted by the constitutional number of states. The twelfth amendment was proposed at the first session of the Eighth Congress, Dec. 12, 1803, and was adopted by the constitutional number of states in 1804, according to a public notice thereof by the secretary of state, dated Sept. 25, 1804.

The thirteenth amendment was proposed at the second session of the Thirty-eighth Congress, Feb. 1, 1865, and was adopted by the constitutional number of states in 1865, according to a public notice thereof by the secretary of state, dated Dec. 18, 1865.

PERMANENT RULES OF SENATE

1933

CALLING SENATE TO ORDER

1. The President shall take the chair at the hour to which the Senate shall have adjourned, and shall immediately call the members to order, and, on the appearance of a quorum, shall proceed with the regular order of business. He shall preserve order and decorum; may speak on points of order in preference to members, and shall also decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member but such appeal shall be decided by a majority vote of those present and voting thereon.

APPOINTING OF COMMITTEES

2. All committees of the Senate authorized by rule, statute, resolution or otherwise shall be appointed by a Committee on Committees consisting of five (5) members appointed by the Rules Committee, subject to confirmation by the Senate and all members of committees appointed by said Committee on Committees shall likewise be subject to confirmation by the Senate.

QUESTIONS—HOW STATED AND DECIDED

3. He shall rise to put the question, but may state it sitting.

4. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to-wit: "As many as are of the opinion that (as the question may be) say Aye," and after the affirmative voice is expressed, "As many as are of the contrary opinion say No." The President shall declare all votes, but if any member rise to doubt a vote, he shall order a division.

When nominations or appointments made by the Governor which require confirmation by the Senate have been transmitted to the Senate, the final question on every nomination shall be, "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" which question shall not be put on the same day on which the nomination is received, nor on the day on which it may be reported by a committee unless by unanimous consent.

PRESIDENT PRO TEM.

5. The President shall call some member to the chair when the Senate goes into Committee of the Whole. In the absence of the President, the President Pro Tem. shall preside, and in the absence of both the President and President Pro Tem. a member may be called to perform the duties of the chair; but substitution shall not extend beyond adjournment.

FURTHER DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT

6. The President of the Senate shall sign all acts, memorials, addresses and resolutions; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by the Senate shall be signed by him and attested by the Secretary.

7. The President is authorized to administer all oaths required in the discharge of his duties.

DISTURBANCE IN LOBBY

8. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobbies or galleries, the President or chairman of the Committee of the Whole shall have power to order the same cleared.

PRIVILEGES OF REPORTERS

9. Because of the limited space available on the floor of the Senate, the Associated Press, United Press, the St. Paul Pioneer Press, the St. Paul Dispatch, the St. Paul Daily News, the Minneapolis Journal, the Minneapolis Tribune, the Minneapolis Star, the Duluth News-Tribune, and the Duluth Herald, shall each be permitted representation at the press table by one regular reporter whose credentials are approved by the Rules Committee. Any person wishing to report proceedings of the Senate may apply to the Rules Committee for assignment to suitable, available place.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

10. The order of business shall be as follows:

1. Petitions, letters, remonstrances.
2. Executive and official communications.
3. Introduction and first reading of Senate bills.
4. Messages from the House of Representatives.
5. First reading of House bills.
6. Reports of committees.
  - (a) From standing committees.
  - (b) From select committees.
7. Second reading of Senate bills.
8. Second reading of House bills.
9. Motions and resolutions.
10. Third reading of Senate bills.
11. Third reading of House bills.
12. General orders of the day.

REFERRING OF BILLS

11. All bills shall be referred by the President of the Senate without motion to the proper standing committee, on the first reading, unless otherwise referred by the Senate; and all bills providing for the appropriation of money, or obligating the State to pay or expend money, when referred to and reported by any other than the Committee on Finance, shall, before passage, be referred to the Committee on Finance, provided that when any question shall arise concerning the proper reference of a bill the bill shall be referred without debate to the Committee on Rules to report the proper reference thereof, and upon adoption of such report it shall be referred accordingly.

ORDER IN DEBATE

12. When any member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise to his feet, and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President," and shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personality. In discussing any resolution, senators shall be limited to five minutes each.

13. When any member is called to order he shall sit down until it is determined whether he is in order or not, and if a member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the words excepted to shall be taken down in writing immediately.

14. When two or more members shall happen to rise at once, the President shall name the member who is to speak.

15. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question on the same day without leave of the Senate.

CONDUCT DURING BUSINESS

16. When the President is putting any question, or addressing the Senate, no one shall walk out of, or cross, the room; nor when a member is speaking shall any one pass between the member speaking and the chair. No member, or other person, shall proceed to or remain by the Secretary's desk while the ayes and noes are being called or counted.

17. Upon a division and count of the Senate on any question no member without the Senate chamber shall be counted.

SENATORS TO VOTE UNLESS EXCUSED

18. Every member who shall be in the Senate when the question is put shall give his vote unless the Senate for special reasons shall excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting shall be made before the Senate divides or before he gives his vote upon a call of the ayes and noes. Any member wishing to be excused from voting may make a brief statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

MOTIONS

19. When a motion is made and seconded it shall be stated by the President; or, being in writing it shall be handed to the Secretary and read aloud for debate.

20. Every motion or amendment shall be reduced to writing if the President or any member desires it. In such case it must be signed by the member or committee offering it.

21. After a motion is stated by the President or read by the Secretary, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn by the author at any time before decision or amendment.

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

22. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received, but

To adjourn.

To lay on the table.

For the previous question.

Which three motions shall be decided without debate.

To commit.

To postpone to a day certain.

To amend, or

To postpone indefinitely.

These and several motions have precedence in the foregoing order; but a motion for the previous question having been seconded, or the main question ordered, a motion to lay on the table shall not be in order.

A motion to postpone to a certain day, to commit, to postpone indefinitely, or to amend, being decided, shall not again be allowed on the same day, nor at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

23. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, and also a motion to adjourn to a time certain. The latter motion is debatable. When either motion is refused it shall not be renewed until further business shall be transacted.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

24. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate, and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon amendments reported by a committee, if any, then upon all pending amendments in their order and then upon the main question. On a motion for the previous question, and prior to the ordering of the same, a call of the Senate shall be in order, but after a majority shall have ordered such motion, no call shall be in order prior to the decision of the main question.

25. On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

RECONSIDERATION

26. When a motion or question has been once put and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for reconsideration thereof, on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the next two days of actual session of the Senate thereafter; and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn. A motion for reconsideration being put and lost, shall not be renewed.

DIVISION OF QUESTION

27. Any member may call for a division of the question, when the same will admit of it. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed to be indivisible. A motion to strike out being lost shall not preclude an amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

PETITIONS AND OTHER COMMUNICATIONS

28. In presenting a petition, memorial, remonstrance or other communication addressed to the Senate, the members shall only state the general purpose of it.

29. Every petition, memorial, remonstrance, resolution, bill and report of committee, shall be indorsed with its appropriate title, and immediately under the indorsement the name of the member presenting the same shall be written or printed.

CALL OF THE SENATE

30. Any member may make a call of the Senate, and require absent members to be sent for, but a call of the Senate cannot be made after the voting has commenced; and the call of the Senate being ordered and the absentees noted, the doors shall be closed, and no member permitted to leave the room until further proceedings under the call be dispensed with by a majority vote of all the members of the Senate and the matter or question, if any, under consideration at the time of the call be disposed of, or the Senate adjourns.

COMMITTEES

31. The Standing Committees of the Senate are as follows:

Agriculture, 15; Aviation, 9; Banks and Banking, 11; Cities of the First Class, 17; Corporations, 11; Civil Administration, 15; Crime and Crime Prevention, 11; Dairy Products and Live Stock, 15; Drainage, 11; Education, 15; Elections, 13; Finance, 21; Game and Fish, 19; General Legislation, 15; Insurance, 13; Judiciary, 27; Labor, 11; Markets and Marketing, 13; Military Affairs, 9; Motor Vehicles and Motor Tax Laws, 15; Municipal Affairs, 13; Public Domain, 15; Public Health, 11; Public Highways, 21; Public Institutions and Buildings, 11; Public Welfare, 15; Railroads, 13; Reapportionment, 21; Reforestation, 13; Rules and Legislative Expense, 11; Rural Credits and State Development, 11; Soldiers' Home, 9; State and County Fairs, 11; State Parks, Memorials and Monuments, 9; Taxes and Tax Laws, 23; Telephone and Telegraph, 11; Temperance, 13; Towns and Counties, 15; University, 11; Workmen's Compensation, 11.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

32. The rules observed in the Senate shall govern, as far as practicable, the proceedings of the Committee of the Whole, except that a member may speak more than twice on the same subject, and that a call for the ayes and noes, or for the previous question cannot be made.

33. Amendments made in the Committee of the Whole shall be entered on a separate piece of paper, and so reported to the Senate by the chairman standing in his place, which amendment shall not be read by the President unless required by one or more of the members. On adoption of the report by the Committee of the Whole, all bills recommended to pass, shall be placed upon the calendar.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

34. Bills, memorials and joint resolutions may be introduced by any member in his place, or by order of the Senate on a report of a committee. Each member so introducing such bill, memorial or joint resolution shall, at the time of such introduction thereof, furnish to the Secretary of the Senate two copies thereof, which shall be endorsed "copies."

Every bill, memorial or joint resolution shall have prefixed thereto the name of the person introducing it, and when reported from a committee, the name of said committee shall be endorsed thereon. Every proposed amendment to any bill, memorial or joint resolution, and every committee report, shall be in triplicate form, and shall be written on only one side of the paper.

The title of every bill must give its single subject and briefly state its purpose as far as practicable.

If the bill be for an amendment of a present statute, it shall contain the full text of the chapter or section or subdivision to be amended. Then in the proper place shall be inserted the words and characters constituting the new amending matter which shall be underscored, and when printed, put in italics. The words and characters to be eliminated by the amendment shall be stricken out by a line drawn through the eliminated matter, and when the bill is printed such eliminated matter shall be capitalized and inclosed in brackets. The chairman of each committee to which such bill is referred shall see that the bill conforms to this rule before it is favorably reported.

Bills should refer to the various compilations of the laws of this state as follows:

"Laws 1929, Chapter _____, Section _____."
 "Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Section _____."
 "General Statutes 1923, Section _____."
 "Revised Laws 1905, Section _____."

When referring to laws passed at the session of 1891 and prior years, and in those cases only, references shall be as follows:

"Special Laws 1887, Chapter——, Section——."

"General Laws 1887, Chapter——, Section——."

Whenever possible, reference shall be made to Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927 rather than to the General Statutes 1923.

Whenever an existing law is sought to be amended or repealed the title of the amendatory act shall contain a proper reference to the law or laws amended and in addition thereto shall briefly express the subject matter thereof.

All numbers in the titles shall be expressed in figures. All numbers of sections or chapter of laws shall be in figures. In the body of the bill numbers in excess of 10 should be in figures except for a special reason they may be written, but when written they should not be followed by numbers in parentheses.

READING OF BILLS

35. Every bill, memorial, order, resolution or vote requiring the approval of the Governor shall receive three several readings previous to its passage; the first and third readings shall be at length; and no such bill, memorial, order or resolution shall be read twice on the same day.

COMMITMENT

36. No bill or joint resolution shall be committed or amended until it has been once read at length. If objections are made to a bill on its first reading the question shall be: "Shall the bill be rejected?" If no objection be made or the question to reject be lost, the bill shall go on its second reading.

ALL BILLS TO GO TO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

37. All bills, memorials, orders, resolutions and votes requiring the approval of the Governor shall, after a second reading, be considered in Committee of the Whole before they shall be finally acted upon by the Senate.

PRINTING OF BILLS

38. All bills of general nature, including all bills appropriating money or lands shall be printed; provided, that no bills shall be printed until the same shall have been reported upon favorably by the committee to whom the same shall be referred, or such committee shall recommend such printing.

FINAL PASSAGE

39. The final question upon a bill or other paper requiring action by both houses after the first and second reading thereof, and after the consideration in Committee of the Whole, shall be upon its final passage.

AMENDMENT ON THIRD READING

40. No amendment shall be received on third reading except to fill blanks without the unanimous consent of the Senate. In filling blanks, the largest sum, the longest time and the greatest distance shall be first taken.

41. A bill or resolution may be committed at any time, prior to its passage, and if any amendment be reported on such commitment to any other than a Committee of the Whole, it shall be again read the second time, considered in Committee of the Whole, and the question for third reading and passage again put.

ENGROSSMENT

42. Every bill, memorial, order or resolution originating in the Senate shall be carefully engrossed in typewriting before being transmitted to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

TRANSMITTING OF BILLS TO THE HOUSE

43. Immediately after the passage of any bill or other paper to which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is to be asked it shall be the duty of the Secretary to transmit the same to the House, unless some member of the Senate shall make a motion to reconsider the vote by which the Senate passed the said bill or other paper; in which case the Secretary shall not transmit said bill or other paper until a motion to reconsider has been put; and on the concurrence of any bill or other paper of the House of Representatives by the Senate, or on the concurrence or disagreement in any vote of the House it shall also be the duty of the Senate to notify the House thereof.

MEMORIALS TO THE UNITED STATES OR ANY STATE OR FOREIGN GOVERNMENT

44. Memorials or petitions to the President or Congress of the United States, or any branch or member thereof, or any department or officer of the United States, or any state or foreign government, including all motions, resolutions, joint or concurrent resolutions in relation thereto, shall follow the same course of procedure as bills before being adopted.

ANY SENATOR MAY DEMAND AYES AND NOES

45. It shall be competent for any member, when a question is being taken to call for the ayes and noes, which shall be entered on the Journal. A call for the ayes and noes cannot be interrupted in any manner whatever.

COMMITTEE NOT TO BE ABSENT

46. Committees shall not absent themselves from the Senate, by reason of their appointment, without special permission for that purpose be first obtained.

ENROLLMENT.

47. All bills shall be carefully enrolled in typewriting under the supervision of the Committee on Rules and Legislative Expense. Said committee may report to the Senate at any time on the enrollment of bills.

DUTIES OF SECRETARY.

48. The Secretary shall keep a correct journal of the proceedings of the Senate and shall perform such other duties as shall be assigned to him as such Secretary. He shall permit no journal records, accounts or papers to be taken from the table or out of his custody, other than in the regular mode of business. If any paper in his charge shall be missing, he shall report the fact to the President, that inquiry may be made. He shall superintend the recording of proceedings in the Journal, the engrossing, transcribing and copying of the bills and resolutions, supervise the assistants, clerks and stenographers under the direction of the Committee on Rules, and generally perform the duties of Secretary, under direction of the President. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep the books to be called "Minute Books," in which he shall enter under the appropriate marginal numbers, all Senate and House bills, and correct notes, with the dates thereof, of the state, condition and progress of each bill pending, until its final passage.

Any officer or employee receiving compensation or moneys for the distribution of the Journal records or the certifying of any bills or documents shall report such proceeds and pay the same into the State Treasury.

CERTIFICATE FOR MONEY

49. No certificate authorizing the payment of any money appropriated by the Legislature shall be issued by the Secretary, by virtue of any motion or resolution, unless such a motion or resolution shall be voted for by a majority of all members of the Senate. All motions or resolutions authorizing the issuing of certificates by the Secretary for the payment of money shall be upon a call of the ayes and noes.

JOURNAL OF EXECUTIVE SESSION

50. The proceedings of the Senate on executive business shall be kept in a separate book of record to be provided by the Secretary of the Senate, and published with the proceedings of the Senate, unless the public good requires secrecy, which shall be determined by a vote of the Senate.

JEFFERSON'S MANUAL

51. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Jefferson's Manual shall govern the Senate in all cases in which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with these rules and orders of the Senate, and the joint rules and orders of the Senate and House of Representatives.

HOURS OF MEETING

52. The standing hour of the daily meeting of the Senate shall be 10 o'clock in the morning, unless the Senate direct otherwise.

ABSENCE OF SENATORS

53. No Senator or officer of the Senate shall absent himself from any session of the Senate without having first obtained leave of absence.

PERSONS PRIVILEGED TO THE FLOOR OF THE SENATE

54. No person shall be admitted within the Senate chamber, but the executive or ex-Governors of the State of Minnesota, members of the House, heads of departments of the state government, judges of the Supreme and District Courts and members of Congress and, when personally introduced by members of the Senate, those who have been members of Congress or of the State Legislature or other visitors who are not interested in any claim or directly in any bill pending before the Legislature. No lobbyist shall be permitted on the floor of the Senate or in the retiring room or corridors during the session of the Senate. The retiring room of the Senate shall be reserved for the exclusive use of the members of the Senate at all times during the session. The Sergeant-at-Arms is charged with the duty of strict enforcement of this rule.

AMENDMENTS, RULES AND SUSPENSION OF RULES

55. Every proposition to amend any rule of the Senate shall be referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Expense, and shall not be acted upon until the report of such committee is received by the Senate; nor shall any rule be suspended except by at least two-thirds vote of the full Senate; provided that a motion to suspend the rules for the purpose of advancing a bill shall be made only under the order of business, "Motions and Resolutions."

AMENDMENTS TO BILLS

56. In drawing any amendment to any bill or resolution reference shall be made therein, first to the number of the bill, then to the section, and then to the line or lines from which matter is to be stricken or in which new matter is to be inserted.

NOTICE TO DEBATE

57. Upon any member giving notice of his intention to debate any resolution, the same shall lie over one day without debate or other action.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

58. When in executive session, the Senate may, in all cases, sit with closed doors, and the Senate chamber may be cleared of all persons except the officers and members of the Senate.

NO SMOKING

59. No Senator or officer of the Senate, or other person, shall be permitted to smoke in the Senate chamber.

SECRETARY MAY CORRECT ERRORS

60. The Secretary and Engrossing Clerk, in all proper cases, shall correct all mistakes in numbering the sections and reference thereto, whether such errors occur in the original bill or are caused by amendments thereto.

DUTIES OF THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

61. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to execute all orders of the President of the Senate, and to perform all duties they may assign to him connected with the police and good order of the Senate chamber; to exercise a supervision over the ingress and egress of all persons to and from the chamber; to see that messages, etc., are promptly executed; that the hall is properly ventilated and the temperature thereof properly regulated, and open for the use of members of the Senate at the time fixed; and to perform all other services pertaining to his office.

REPORT ON AMENDED BILLS

62. No committee nor any member thereof shall report any substitute for any bill or bills referred to such committee, which substitute relates to a different subject, or is intended to accomplish a different purpose than that of the original bill for which it is reported, or which, if adopted and passed, would require a title essentially different from the title of the original bill; and every substitute bill so reported shall be rejected whenever the Senate is advised that the same is in violation of this rule.

GENERAL ORDERS

63. The Secretary shall make a list of all bills, resolutions, reports of committees, and other proceedings of the Senate, which are referred to the Committee of the Whole, and which are not made the order of the day, for any particular day, and to number the same, which lists shall be called the "General Orders of the Day," and they shall be taken up in the order in which they are numbered unless otherwise ordered by a majority of the committee.

Such general orders, together with all bills included therein required to be printed under the rules or orders of the Senate, shall be printed and placed upon the members' desks at least one day before the same shall be considered in Committee of the Whole.

CALENDAR

64. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to make a list of all bills, resolutions and other matters coming before the Senate for final action and place the same upon the calendar in the order in which they have been acted upon in Committee of the Whole, and such calendar shall be printed and placed upon the members' desks at least one day before the matters included therein shall be considered.

EMPLOYEES AUTHORIZED IN THE SENATE

65. The Senate shall employ for the Session, at the compensation of $5.00 per day, unless otherwise specified, the following:

Three Assistant Secretaries of the Senate at $7.00 per day.

One Bill Clerk at $6.00 per day.

One Index Clerk at $6.00 per day.

One Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms.

One Clerk to the Finance Committee at $9.00 per day.

One Clerk to the Judiciary Committee at $9.00 per day.

One Clerk to the Committee on Taxes and Tax Laws at $7.00 per day.

One Clerk for the Committee on Cities of the First Class at $9.00 per day.

One Clerk to the Committee on Reapportionment at $7.00 per day.

One Clerk for the Committee on Rules and Legislative Expense at $9.00 per day.

One Clerk for the Secretary's Office at $6.00 per day.

One Stenographer for the Engrossing Clerk at $6.00 per day.

One Stenographer for the Enrolling Clerk at $6.00 per day.

One Stenographer for the Judiciary Committee at $6.00 per day.

One Stenographer for the Secretary of the Senate at $6.00 per day.

One File Clerk at $7.00 per day.

One Assistant File Clerk.

One Janitor.

Five Assistant Janitors to be named by the Rules Committee.

One Printing Messenger, One Telegraph Messenger and one Mail Messenger, each at $3.00 per day.

Six General Committee Clerks at $5.00 per day to be assigned to their respective positions and duties by the Committee on Rules, and such additional Committee Clerks who shall also be Stenographers at $6.00 per day, as shall be determined by the Rules Committee.

Fifteen Sergeants of galleries, committee rooms, retiring rooms, cloak rooms, doorkeepers and messengers, to be assigned to their respective positions and duties by the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Such general stenographers at $5.00 and such special stenographers for particular assignments at $6.00 per day, as the Committee on Rules may from time to time determine, one of such special stenographers to be assigned as Supervisor of Stenographers.

That appointment to the foregoing positions shall be made by resolution specifying the names of such appointees and the position to which the same are appointed, adopted by a majority of all the members of the Senate.

The President of the Senate is authorized to appoint a Secretary at $7.00 per day, also a Stenographer at $6.00 per day, and four Pages at a salary of $3.00 per day, and two additional Pages at such time as the Committee on Rules may deem necessary.

The Secretary of the Senate shall receive $12.50 per day for this Session and the sum of $1,000.00 for extra work after the Session and for compensation of clerical help for such Post-Session work.

The Sergeant-at-Arms shall receive $9.00 per day and the First Assistant Secretary shall receive $7.00 per day.

ADDITIONAL EMPLOYEES—GRATUITIES

66. All propositions for the appointment of employees of the Senate or for expenditures on account of the legislature, other than those provided by law, shall be referred to the Committee on Rules, without debate, and no appointment shall be made or expense incurred unless reported favorably by said committee, or unless its report be overruled by a three-fourths ( $\frac{3}{4}$ ) vote of the whole Senate. Said committee shall report to the Senate the amount of compensation that shall be paid to each employee whose appointment is recommended by it. All propositions for extra compensations or gratuity shall be referred to said committee, and no extra compensation or gratuity shall be paid to any officer, employee or other person unless reported upon favorably by said committee or unless its report be reversed by a three-fourths ( $\frac{3}{4}$ ) vote of the whole Senate.

SPECIAL ORDER

67. On two days' notice it shall require a two-thirds vote of the whole Senate to designate a Special Order and when a time has been designated by the Senate, whether by adoption of a report of the Committee or otherwise, for a particular or Special Order, the Senate shall at such time proceed to the consideration of such order, and shall at such time so designated, after considering the bill, resolution, or measure included therein, unless the same shall be otherwise disposed of or the Special Order postponed to a day certain, immediately proceed to the third reading and final passage of the same and during the consideration of such Special Order Rule No. Fifteen (15) shall be suspended, and the debate thereon and all proceedings thereunder, including amendments and substitutions, shall be, as nearly as applicable, that of the Committee of the Whole, except that it shall be competent for any member when a question is being taken, to call for ayes and noes, which shall be entered on the Journal.

JOURNAL—HOW APPROVED

68. The Journal of each day's proceedings shall be open for correction at any time during the session of the succeeding day, and unless corrected on that day, shall stand approved.

AUTHORITY OVER EMPLOYEES

69. Except as otherwise provided in these rules, the Committee on Rules shall have full and exclusive authority over, and charge of all employees, officers and clerks of the Senate both elective and appointive. Such committee shall have the sole and exclusive power and authority to assign them to such duties other than for which they were elected or appointed as such committee may from time to time provide. Such committee shall have power to appoint such of said employees, officers or clerks as they shall deem proper to exercise the power to them granted by this rule. They may make such rules and regulations for the government of the employees, officers and clerks as they shall see fit and proper. In case of violation of any of the orders of said Committee by any employee, officer or clerk, or in case of any violation of any such rule or regulation made by such committee, or in case of any misconduct or omission of any such employee, officer or clerk, the Rules Committee shall have power to hear complaints and to discharge any such employee, officer or clerk or impose such other punishment by way of fine or otherwise upon such employee, officer or clerk as to such committee may seem just and proper.

AMENDMENTS TO TITLE

70. The title to any bill may be amended at any time during its pendency in the Senate.

WHEN COMMITTEE MUST REPORT

71. Every bill referred to a standing committee shall be reported therefrom within twenty-five (25) days after its reference to such committee except all bills referred to the Finance Committee.

A majority of the Senate may at any time recall a bill from any committee or take a bill from the table and place such bill on General Orders.

SENATE EMPLOYEES TO ENROLL AND ENGROSS BILLS

72. All enrolling and engrossing of bills shall be done by enrolling and engrossing clerks and stenographers regularly in the employ of the Senate and shall not be paid for per folio.

JOINT RESOLUTIONS

73. Except as provided in Rule 44 joint resolutions not requiring the signature of the Governor need not take the regular course of bills and memorials, but may be acted upon in the same manner as resolutions.

PURCHASING SUPPLIES

74. The Secretary of the Senate shall be the agent of the Senate for the purchase of supplies. Before making purchases, however, it shall be his duty to consult with and get prices from the Commissioner of Purchases of the State of Minnesota and then submit the same to the Rules Committee together with a list of necessary supplies, and the prices for which the same can be secured, which supplies shall then be purchased by the Secretary upon the approval of the Rules Committee.

REPORT OF VOTE IN COMMITTEE

75. Upon the request of any member of any standing committee of the Senate, or upon the request of the author of any bill, a record shall be made of the vote on such bill in any committee, including the vote of any amendment or proposed amendments thereto in the committee to which the bill was referred, and such vote of the members of such committee shall accompany the report of the committee on the bill and shall be printed in the Journal as a part of the report of the committee.

QUORUM IN COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

76. Ten (10) members shall constitute a quorum of the Committee on Judiciary.

COMPARISON OF BILLS

77. No House bill shall be substituted in the Senate for any Senate bill, except by adopting a report of a proper committee, until the same shall have been compared with the Senate bill by a comparison clerk, and any dissimilarities noted in a written memorandum signed by the clerk and attached to the bill. Such comparison shall be made by the clerk upon request of a member or order of the Senate.

PERMANENT RULES OF THE HOUSE 1933

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE MEETING, ROLL CALL, ETC.

1. The Speaker shall take the chair at the hour at which the House stands adjourned. The House shall then be called to order, and after prayer by the Chaplain, a roll of members shall be called and the names of the members present and those excused shall be entered on the Journal of the House. Unless otherwise ordered by the House, regular sessions thereof shall convene at two o'clock P. M.

READING OF THE JOURNAL

2. Upon the appearance of a quorum, the Journal of the preceding day shall be read by the Chief Clerk, unless otherwise ordered, and any errors therein may be corrected by the House.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

3. After the reading of the Journal, the order of business of the day shall be as follows:

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| 1. Presentation of Petitions or other communications. | 7. Motions and Resolutions.                   |
| 2. Reports of Standing Committees.                    | 8. Consideration of messages from the Senate. |
| 3. Second reading of House Bills.                     | 9. First reading of Senate Bills.             |
| 4. Second reading of Senate Bills.                    | 10. Calendar for the day.                     |
| 5. Reports of Select Committees.                      | 11. General Orders.                           |
| 6. Introduction and first reading of Bills.           |   |

BILLS—HOW INTRODUCED

4a. A member or committee desiring to introduce a bill shall place the same in the hands of the Speaker before the opening of the session.

All bills introduced shall as soon as may be after introduction be examined by the Revision Clerk who shall recommend any necessary changes in the form thereof to make the same comply with the Rules of the House, and communicate any such recommendation to the member or members introducing the same.

All memorials and joint resolutions shall be presented, received and considered in the same manner as bills; shall be bound in the regular House file binder, and take the same course as a bill.

No bill shall be introduced after the forty-fifth (45th) legislative day of the session except its reception be authorized by two-thirds ( $\frac{2}{3}$ ) vote of the House. This vote shall not apply to committee bills or bills introduced by request of the Governor under the constitutional provision as provided for in Article 4, Section 1, of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota.

Any standing or special committee of the House may introduce a bill as a committee bill which shall be read the first time, laid over for one day, when it shall be read for the second time and placed upon General Orders.

Every bill and resolution shall be introduced in triplicate and shall have prefixed thereto the name of the member, members or committee introducing it.

BILLS—HOW DRAFTED

4b. The title of every bill must give its single subject and briefly state its purpose as far as practicable.

If the bill be for an amendment of a present statute, it shall contain the full text of the chapter or section or sub-division to be amended. Then in the proper place shall be inserted the words and characters constituting the new amending matter which shall be underscored, and when printed put in italics. The words and characters to be eliminated by the amendment shall be stricken out by a line drawn through the eliminated matter, and when the bill is printed such eliminated matter shall be capitalized and inclosed in brackets. The chairman of each committee to which such bill is referred shall see that the bill conforms to this rule before it is favorably reported to the House.

Bills should refer to the various compilations of the laws of this state as follows:

- "Laws 1929, Chapter—, Section—.
- "Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Section—.
- "General Statutes 1923, Section—.
- "Revised Laws 1905, Section—."

When referring to laws passed at the sessions of 1891 and prior years, and in those cases only, references shall be as follows:

- "Special Laws 1887, Chapter—, Section—.
- "General Laws 1887, Chapter—, Section—."

Whenever possible, reference shall be made to Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927 rather than to the General Statutes 1923.

All numbers in the titles shall be expressed in figures. All numbers of sections or chapters of laws shall be in figures. In the body of the bill numbers in excess of 10 should be in figures except for a special reason they may be written, but when written they should not be followed by numbers in parentheses.

A copy of this rule shall be furnished the stenographers or others copying bills, and they are specifically enjoined to observe the same.

The author of a bill may attach thereto a memorandum of information headed "memorandum," which shall constitute no part of the bill, and shall not be printed in connection with the bill unless otherwise ordered by a vote of the House.

FIRST READING AND REFERENCE OF BILLS

5. All bills, memorials and joint resolutions shall be read at length upon their introduction, unless objected to. If objection is made to the introduction of a bill, the question shall be:

"Shall the bill be rejected?"

A majority vote of the whole House shall be required for rejection. If no objection be made, or if the question to reject be lost, the bill shall after reading be referred by the Speaker to its appropriate standing committee, except when introduced by such committee. Every bill introduced, except when introduced by a committee as above provided, containing an amendment to an existing law of the state, shall first be referred by the Speaker to the appropriate committee of the House appointed with reference to the subject matter contained in the law proposed to be amended.

After a reference of a bill by the Speaker, a majority vote of the whole House, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be required for a re-reference or re-commitment thereof by the House.

Any bill whether emanating from the House or the Senate carrying an appropriation or which may involve any financial obligation either present or future on the part of the State, which has been previously referred by the Speaker under the Rules to any Committee of the House other than the Committee on Appropriations shall, after the same has been reported back to the House, be referred, or if originally introduced by a Committee, referred to the Committee on Appropriations for action by that committee before the second reading of the bill, and the fact that any such bill referred to any committee other than the Committee on Appropriations carries an appropriation shall be noted by the committee to which it was referred in the report of such committee returning the same.

Any bill whether emanating from the House or the Senate which in any way relates to or affects the organization of state government or the organization of any department or agency thereof or in any way relates to or affects the official rights, powers or duties of any official, department or agency of the state government or any institution under its control, except the University of Minnesota, which has been previously referred by the Speaker under the Rules to any Committee, other than the Committee on Civil Administration, shall after the same has been reported back to the House, be re-referred, or if originally introduced by a Committee, referred to the Committee on Civil Administration for action by that Committee before the second reading of the bill, and the fact that any such bill referred to any Committee other than the Committee on Civil Administration, relates to or affects any matters specified in this paragraph shall be noted by the Committee to which it was referred in the report of such Committee returning the same.

RECORDS AND REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

6. The Chairman, or Acting Chairman, of each committee shall keep, or cause to be kept, a record on which shall be entered:

(a) The time and place of each hearing and of each meeting of the committee.

(b) The attendance of committee members at each meeting.

(c) The name of each person, except members of the House and Senate, appearing before the committee, with the name of the person or persons, association, firm or corporation in whose behalf the appearance is made.

(d) Any member of any committee may demand a roll call on any bill, resolution, or amendment before the committee and upon such demand being made and not otherwise the roll call shall be called on such bill, resolution or amendment, and a record of the vote of each member thereon made and kept; and the name of the member making such demands shall also be recorded.

Such record shall be approved at the next regular meeting of the committee.

Such record shall be filed with the Chief Clerk during the session of the Legislature and at the expiration thereof shall be filed with the Secretary of State; and such records shall be open to the public inspection at all times.

The chairman of a committee reporting the action taken by his committee upon bills submitted to it shall do so upon the form provided for such reports, stating the date of the meeting when such action was taken, and shall authenticate the same by his signature. Any number of bills may be embodied in one report; but at the request of any member the report may be divided by excepting any bill therefrom and if this be done the bill so excepted may be acted upon independently from the report as a whole.

The report of any committee, or any part thereof, may be laid upon the table for a day and printed in the Journal, if so ordered by the House.

In the event of a minority report, the majority and minority reports shall be made separately from the regular committee reports.

QUORUM ON COMMITTEES

7. A majority of the members of any standing or special committee shall constitute a quorum. This rule shall not apply to the Committee on Judiciary, where nine members shall constitute a quorum.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

8. All bills, concurrence reports, memorials, orders, resolutions and votes requiring the approval of the Governor, shall after a second reading, be considered in a Committee of the Whole before they shall be finally acted upon by the House. Unless otherwise ordered bills, or resolutions authorizing the expenditure of money, and joint memorials to Congress only, shall require a second and third reading.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

9. No amendment shall be received on the third reading except to fill blanks or amend titles, without the unanimous consent of the House; and all bills and resolutions made, at any time previous to their passage, be committed or re-committed only by majority votes of the whole House. If any amendment be reported upon by such commitment or re-commitment by any other than a Committee of the Whole, it shall be read a second time, considered in the Committee of the Whole and question for third reading and passage again put.

DISPOSITION OF SENATE BILLS

10. When a Senate file has been received by the House, with a message announcing that the same has passed the Senate, such bill shall be referred to the appropriate standing committee; provided, however, that when a Senate file is received the provisions of which are stated by a member to be identical with those of a House file, which has already been considered by one of the Committees of the House and is on General Order or the Calendar, such Senate file shall be referred to the Committee on Enrollment and Engrossment for comparison, which committee shall report forthwith whether the said Senate file is identical with the House file. And, if reported identical, such Senate file may, by majority vote, be substituted for the House file (the latter in such case being considered withdrawn) and shall take the place of the House file; provided, however, that the fact that the bills are identical shall be entered on the Journal.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

11. When the House has arrived at the General Orders of the Day, they shall go into a Committee of the Whole upon General Orders. And unless a particular bill is ordered up, the Committee of the Whole shall consider, act upon or pass the General Orders according to order of their reference.

In forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall appoint a chairman to preside.

Bills committed to the Committee of the Whole House shall, in the Committee of the Whole thereon, be first read through, unless the Committee shall otherwise order, and then read and debated by sections, leaving the title to be last considered. All amendments shall be in writing, in duplicate, and reported to the House by the Chairman.

RULES OF THE HOUSE TO APPLY TO THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

12. The Rules of the House shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole, so far as may be applicable, except that the yeas and nays shall not be called, the previous question forced, and speaking limited.

A motion that the committee arise shall always be in order and shall be decided without debate.

GENERAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

13. The Speaker shall cause the Chief Clerk to make out a list of all bills, resolutions and reports of committees, and which are not made a Special Order, and to number the same. This list shall be called "General Orders of the Day"; and items listed thereon shall be taken up in the order in which they are numbered, unless otherwise ordered by a majority of the Committee. General Orders, together with all bills included therein required to be printed under the Rules or Orders of the House, shall be printed and placed upon the members' desks at least two days before the same are to be considered in the Committee of the Whole.

Each member of the House shall leave on or under the desk, each time the House adjourns for the day, his file binder for bills. It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the House to have placed in each binder one copy of each bill to be printed under the Rules or Orders of the House at least forty-eight hours before the same shall be considered in the Committee of the Whole, and under the first Order of Business each day said Clerk shall report to the House what bills he has placed in the binders.

If progress is reported on a bill by the committee for three days, such bill shall go to the foot of General Orders, unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote.

SPECIAL ORDERS

14. Bills may be made the Order of the Day for a special time. Such bills shall be entered upon a separate list known as "Special Orders." Bills may be made a Special Order by a two-thirds vote of the whole House upon two days' notice. The motion pursuant to said notice may be made only by the member giving the same or another member designated by him in writing in possession of the Speaker. Such notice shall state the House File number or Senate File number, as the case may be, and the substance of the title of the bill to be made a Special Order and shall specify the day upon which the motion for such Special Order is to be made and that such Special Order will be set for a day certain. The time within which said motion may be made pursuant to said notice shall not be extended and if the member giving such notice or the person so designated by him, as the case may be, shall fail to make the motion for a Special Order on the day specified therein, his right to make the same pursuant to said notice shall expire. Appropriation bills introduced by the Appropriations Committee of the House or by the Finance Committee of the Senate coming into the possession of the House during the last ten days of the Session, may be made a Special Order without notice. A motion to make a bill a Special Order shall be a privileged motion, shall take precedence over all other motions except the motion to fix the time to adjourn, the motion to adjourn and questions of personal privilege, and may be made at any time and shall not be suspended except by a three-fourths vote of the whole House.

Any Special Order, or any part thereof, may be continued or postponed by two-thirds vote of the whole House at the time of such Special Order.

When the time arrives for the consideration of any Special Order, the House shall proceed to the consideration of the bill or bills upon the said Special Order in the order in which they are respectively listed; and after consideration they shall immediately be read the third time and placed upon final passage.

DUTIES AND PRIVILEGES OF OFFICERS AND MEMBERS

DUTIES OF THE SPEAKER

15. (a) The Speaker shall preside over the House, and be charged with all the powers and duties pertaining to such presiding officer.

(b) He shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of disorderly conduct or disturbance in the galleries or the lobby, he or the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House may order the same to be cleared.

(c) He shall have general control, except as provided by rule or law, of the hall of the House and of the corridors and the passages and of the rooms assigned to the use of the House, until further ordered.

(d) He shall sign all acts, addresses, joint resolutions, writs, warrants and subpoenas of or issued by order of the House and all vouchers for the payment of money out of the legislative expense fund of the House, and except as otherwise ordered by the House, money shall be paid out of said fund only upon voucher signed by the Speaker.

The Speaker shall not vote on appeals from his own decisions.

SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

16. The presiding officer may call a member to the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment. In the absence of the presiding officer, one of the members shall be selected by a majority vote to preside temporarily, until the return of the regular presiding officer.

DUTIES OF MEMBERS

17. When the House adjourns, the members shall keep their seats until the Speaker announces the adjournment.

Every member, before speaking, shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker, but shall not proceed to speak further until recognized by the Chair. When two or more members rise at once, the Speaker shall designate which shall speak first.

EXPLAINING OR CHANGING VOTE

18. No member shall be allowed to explain his vote or discuss the question while the yeas and nays are being called; and no member shall be allowed to change his vote after the same is announced from the Chair.

NAME OF MEMBER OFFERING BILLS, ETC., TO GO ON JOURNAL

19. In all cases where a bill, order, resolution or motion shall be entered on the Journal of the House, the name or names of the member, or members, offering the same, shall be entered on the Journal.

ABSENCE OF MEMBERS AND OFFICERS

20. No member or officer of the House shall, unless from illness or some other sufficient cause he be unable to attend, absent himself from any session of the House during the entire day without having first obtained leave of absence from the Speaker.

DUTIES OF THE CHIEF CLERK AND ASSISTANTS OR EMPLOYES

21. Neither the Chief Clerk nor his assistants or employes shall permit any records or papers belonging to the House to be taken out of their custody otherwise than in the regular course of business. The Chief Clerk shall report any missing papers to the Speaker. He shall have general supervision of all clerical duties appertaining to the business of the House; shall perform under the direction of the Speaker, all the duties pertaining to his office, and shall keep a book showing the situation and progress of bills, memorials, and joint resolutions.

CLERICAL CORRECTIONS TO BILLS

22. (a) Minor clerical errors in any bill, memorial or resolution, such as errors in orthography or grammar, or the incorrect use of one word for another (as "affect" for "effect"), or wrong numbering of references, whether such errors occur in the original bill or any amendment thereto, shall be corrected by the Chief Clerk, as a matter of course, upon the approval of the Chairman of any committee to which the bill was referred.

(b) The Chief Clerk shall insert the enacting clause in any bill before its passage if the same shall have been omitted.

(c) Any corrections made by the Clerk under this rule shall be noted by him in the Journal.

(d) Webster's New International Dictionary shall be the standard authority in matters falling under the above rules.

NO ONE TO REMAIN BY THE CLERK'S DESK

23. No member, or other person, shall remain by the Clerk's desk when the yeas and nays are being called.

DUTIES OF THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

24. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to execute all orders of the House or its presiding officer; to perform all duties that may, from time to time, be assigned to him connected with the police and good order of the House; to exercise supervision over the ingress and egress of all persons to and from the Chamber; to see that all messages, etc., are promptly executed; and that the hall is properly ventilated and open for the use of the members; and to perform all other services pertaining to the office of Sergeant-at-Arms.

SMOKING PROHIBITED

25. No person shall be permitted to smoke in the House Chamber while that body is in session. The Sergeant-at-Arms is charged with the duty of enforcing observance of this rule.

ORDER IN DEBATE

26. No member shall speak more than twice on the same subject without leave of the House, nor more than once until every other member wishing to speak on the pending question shall have spoken.

MOTIONS

27. No motion shall be debated or put unless the same be seconded. It shall be stated by the Speaker before debate, and any such motion shall be reduced to writing if the Speaker or any other member requires it.

After a motion has been stated by the Speaker, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the House, but may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before amendment or decision; but all motions, resolutions or amendments shall be entered in the Journal unless withdrawn the same day.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

28. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order except during roll call.

When a motion to adjourn is made and seconded it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit any member to state any fact to the House, relative to the condition of the business of the House, which would seem to render it improper to adjourn at that time. Such statement, however, shall not be debatable and shall not, in any case, occupy more than two minutes.

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

29. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but:

1. Fix time to which to adjourn.
2. To adjourn.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
(Which four motions shall be decided without debate.)
5. To commit.
6. To postpone to a day certain.
7. To amend.
8. To postpone indefinitely.

These several motions shall have precedence in the foregoing order; but the previous question having been seconded, and the main question ordered, a motion to lay on the table shall not be in order.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

30. (a) The previous question shall be in this form: "The Gentleman from..... moves the previous question. Do fifteen members second the motion?" If the motion be properly seconded, the question shall be stated as follows: "As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'no'." There shall be a motion for the previous question, which, being ordered by a majority of all members present, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions upon which it has been ordered.

The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the rules or an amendment or amendments; or it may be made to embrace all authorized motions or amendments and include the bill to its passage or rejection.

(b) On a motion for the previous question, and prior to the ordering of the same, a call of the House shall be in order, but after a majority shall have ordered such motion, no call shall be in order prior to the decision of the main question.

(c) When the previous question is decided in the negative it shall leave the main question under debate for the residue of the sitting, unless sooner disposed of by taking a vote, on the question or in some other manner.

INCIDENTAL QUESTIONS OF ORDER

31. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, during the pendency of such motion, or after the House shall have determined that the main question now be put, shall be decided whether on appeal or otherwise without debate.

PETITIONS, ETC.—HOW PRESENTED

32. Petitions, memorials and other papers presented to the House shall be presented by the Speaker or member in his place, and a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made verbally and endorsed thereon, together with the name of the member introducing the same.

EVERY MEMBER TO VOTE UNLESS EXCUSED

33. Every member who shall be present before the vote is declared from the chair, shall vote for or against the matter before the House, unless the House shall excuse him, or unless he is immediately interested in the question, in which case he shall not vote.

PROCEDURE IN EXCUSING MEMBER FROM VOTING

34. When a member declines to vote on a call of his name, he shall be required to assign his reasons therefor; and having assigned them, the presiding officer shall submit the question to the House, "Shall the member, for the reasons assigned by him, be excused from voting?" which shall be decided without debate. And these proceedings shall be had after the roll call and before the result is announced, and any further proceedings in reference thereto shall be after such announcement.

ORDER DURING SESSION

35. When the Speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk out of or across the House, nor when a member is speaking shall any other member entertain any private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the chair.

ORDER OF PUTTING QUESTION

36. All questions, whether in committee or in the House, shall be put in order in which they are moved, except in the case of privileged questions, and in filling up blanks the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

DIVISION OF A QUESTION

37. If the question in debate contains several points any member may have the said question divided. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

QUESTIONS OF ORDER

38. If any member of the House, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules, the Speaker shall (or any member may) call him to order, in which case he shall immediately sit down unless permitted on motion of another member to explain, and the House, if appealed to, shall decide in either case without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, but not otherwise; and if the case require it, he shall be liable to censure or such punishment as the House may deem proper.

CALLED TO ORDER FOR OFFENSIVE WORDS IN DEBATE

39. If any member be called to order for offensive words in debate the person calling him to order shall report the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's desk and no member shall be held to answer, or be subjected to the censure of the House, for language used in debate if any other member has spoken or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exception to them shall have been taken.

MEMBERS MAY DEMAND YEAS AND NAYS

40. The yeas and nays shall not be ordered unless demanded by ten members, except upon final passage of bills, joint resolutions, and motions directing the payment of money. In these cases yeas and nays shall be ordered without demand.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DEBATE

41. Upon any member giving notice of his intention to debate any resolution, the same shall lie over one day without debate or any other action. This notice of intention to debate may be given at any time before vote is taken on the resolution.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

42. Ten members may demand a call of the House and require absent members to be sent for: but a call of the House cannot be made after the voting has commenced, and such call being ordered, the doors shall be closed and no member permitted to leave the chamber until the call is suspended. And, pending to the call, no motion shall be made in order except it pertains to matters incidental to the call or motion to suspend further proceedings under the same, provided that the call shall not be suspended until the calling of the roll has been completed. Thereafter the call may be suspended by majority vote of the whole House only when all members are present or at any time by a two-thirds vote of the whole House. After the call of the House has been ordered and proceedings thereunder are suspended, the Sergeant-at-Arms shall not permit any member to leave the chamber unless excused by the Speaker.

SUSPENSION OF THE RULES TO HASTEN A BILL

43. Every bill shall be read on the three different days, unless, in case of urgency, two-thirds of the whole House deem it expedient to dispense with this rule; and no bill shall be passed until it shall have been read at length twice, provided that no motion for suspension of the rules to advance a bill for consideration out of its regular order shall be made or entertained unless presented to the Speaker in writing stating the present position of the bill and then only under the order of business "Motions and Resolutions," as such order of business is reached under Rule 3. Unanimous consent must be first obtained by the member making the motion before the Speaker can entertain the motion to suspend the rules at any other time.

A motion to suspend the rules together with the subject matter to which it pertains shall be open to debate but the previous question may be applied thereto.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO MAKE A MOTION

44. Whenever unanimous consent to make a motion is requested by a member, the member as a part of such request shall state briefly the purpose of such motion and the subject matter involved.

PROCEEDINGS ON THE PASSAGE OF BILLS

45. No resolution involving the expenditure of money out of the legislative expense fund or otherwise, or joint resolution, shall be declared passed until voted for by a majority of all members elected to the House, to be determined by a roll call. All resolutions and motions involving the expenditure of money out of the legislative expense fund shall be referred to the Rules Committee before being acted upon by the House. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of its being an amendment. No bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the House.

AMENDMENTS TO APPROPRIATION BILLS

46. No amendment increasing the amount or amounts carried by any appropriation bill shall be declared passed until voted for by a majority of all members elected to the House.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

47. When a question has once been made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for the reconsideration thereof; but no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, message, report, amendment or motion upon which the vote was taken shall have gone out of the possession of the House, announcing their decision. Nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless made on the same day upon which the vote was taken, or within the next two days of actual session of the House thereafter.

Such motion shall take precedence over all other questions, except the motion to adjourn; provided, that when notice of the intention to move such reconsideration shall be given by such member, the Clerk of the House shall retain the said bill, resolution, message, report, amendment or motion until after the expiration of the time during which such motion can be made, as hereinbefore provided, unless the same is previously disposed of. A motion for reconsideration having been put and lost shall not be renewed.

THE MOTION TO RESCIND

48. The motion to rescind shall not be in order at any time in any proceeding of the House or of any committee thereof.

AUTHORIZED MANUAL OF PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE

49. The rules of parliamentary practice embraced in Robert's Rules of Order shall govern the House in all cases where they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules of the House and joint rules and orders of the Senate and House of Representatives.

COMMITTEES STANDING COMMITTEES

50. Standing Committees shall be appointed by the Speaker as follows:

PURCHASING SUPPLIES

51. Unless and except as otherwise ordered by the Rules Committee the Commissioner of Purchases of the State, shall, under the supervision and direction of said Committee, be the agent of the House for the purchase of supplies.

COMMITTEE ON ENGROSSMENT AND ENROLLMENT

52. The Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment shall examine all bills after they are engrossed, and report the same to the House "correctly engrossed" before the third reading. The said Committee may report at any time, and all bills shall be engrossed in typewriting. The Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment shall examine all House bills, memorials, and joint resolutions which have passed the two houses and when reported "correctly enrolled" they shall be presented to the presiding officers of the two houses for their signatures; and when so signed, to the Governor for his approval. The said Committee may report at any time, but it shall not report any bill as correctly enrolled which has the words interlined therein; or when any words have been erased therefrom and all bills shall be enrolled in typewriting. The Chairman of said Committee shall keep, or cause to be kept, a record showing the hour and date of the receipt by it of each bill and its return to the House and all bills shall be returned in the same order as that in which they are received.

COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE

53. A Committee of Conference may report at any time. No committee except the Committee of Conference and the Committee on Rules shall sit during the sitting of the House without leave.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES

54. Special committees to whom reference shall be made shall in all cases report a state of facts and their opinions thereupon, to the House.

MEETING OF COMMITTEES

55. The Chief Clerk of the House after conference with the chairmen of the various committees of the House shall prepare a schedule of committee meetings, fixing as far as practicable the date and hour which will be the regular meeting time of each committee to be first approved by a majority of the House. Should it be necessary to hold a special meeting or for any reason change temporarily the regular meeting of the committee, the notice by the chairman of said committee of such change shall be read from the desk at least one day in advance thereof, and also posted upon the bulletin board at the same time, or on a majority vote of the House, fixing the time therefor at any time. Provided that committee sessions shall be held in the forenoon and shall convene at 10 o'clock A. M. unless otherwise ordered by the House, subject, however, to the right of any committee to change the time of its meeting.

TIME LIMIT FOR CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

56. Fifteen legislative days after a bill has been referred to a committee (other than a bill for appropriations or claims) and no report has been made upon the same by such committee, any author thereof may request that such bill be returned to the House and such request shall be entered in the Journal for the day. Such committee shall then have seven calendar days thereafter in which to report back the bill requested. If the committee shall fail to report such bill back within such seven days, such author may at any time during a legislative session within five calendar days after the expiration of such seven days in writing presented to the Speaker, demand the return forthwith to the House of the bill in question, which demand shall forthwith be entered in the Journal for the day and shall constitute the demand of the House and thereupon such bill shall at once be considered to be in possession of the House and shall be placed at the foot of General Orders for the following day in the manner prescribed by Rule 13 subject to re-reference by the House. A motion for such re-reference if made on the day of such demand or within one legislative day thereafter shall take precedence over all other motions except privileged motions and shall be in order at any time.

The House may recall any bill from any committee at any time, give the same its second reading and advance the same to General Orders by a majority vote of the whole House.

SUBSTITUTION OF BILLS

57. No standing or special committee, nor any member or members thereof, shall report any substitute for any bill or bills referred to such committee, which substitute relates to a different subject or is intended to accomplish a different purpose from that of the original bill for which it is reported or which, if adopted and passed, would require a title essentially different from the title of the original bill; and every substitute bill so reported shall be rejected whenever the House is advised that the same is in violation of this rule. The rule shall not be suspended without the unanimous consent of the House.

EMPLOYEES

58. All propositions for the appointment of employees of the House, other than those provided by law, shall be referred to the Committee on Rules. No appointments shall be made unless favorably reported upon by such Committee or its report be overruled by three-fourths vote of the House. The said Committee shall report to the House the amount of compensation that shall be paid to each of said employees.

- Assistant Postmaster, $7.00 per day.
- Chaplain, $5.00 per day.

Any employee of the House may be assigned to other duties, suspended or discharged at any time by the Committee on Rules.

All employees shall be paid upon the basis of six days a week, except the following who shall be paid upon the basis of seven days a week:

- Chief Clerk.
- First Assistant Clerk.
- Second Assistant Clerk.
- Enrolling Clerk.
- Engrossing Clerk.
- Sergeant-at-Arms.
- First Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms.
- Postmaster.
- Assistant Postmaster.
- Chaplain.
- Speaker's Secretary.
- Desk Clerk.
- Synopsis Clerk.

Rule 58 shall not be construed as authorizing the employment or appointment of any employee named therein in case any employee has been appointed or authorized to be appointed or engaged by this House for such position by any rule or resolution heretofore adopted. No clerk shall be appointed for any of the committees named in Rule 58 unless the necessity for the same is recommended by the Committee on Rules; and no clerk of the said Committee and no employee of this House shall receive any pay for any time prior to the date of appointment; and no employee or clerk mentioned in Rule 58 shall receive any pay, compensation, gratuity or reward over and above the salary named therein except upon approval of a three-fourths vote of the whole House.

No employee shall make or permit to be made any copy of copies of any journals, bills, papers, files, records or documents in his or her possession or custody or to which he or she has access, except it be upon the request of some member of the House. No journal, bill, paper, file, record or document, or copy thereof, belonging to or in the possession or custody of the House shall be furnished, or delivered to any person other than a member of the House except by or through the Chief Clerk with the approval and under the direction of the Rules Committee, and upon such terms as the Rules Committee shall prescribe and otherwise in accordance with the rules of the House, provided that this rule shall not apply to members of the House. All moneys received for any matter or service herein referred to shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the Legislative Expense Fund of the House. Any violation of this rule shall operate as a removal or discharge of the person offending.

MISCELLANEOUS RULES

VOTE REQUIRED TO SUSPEND RULES

59. No rule of the House shall be suspended, altered or amended without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members of the whole House, except Rules 57 and 58, which shall require the concurrence of three-fourths of all the members of the whole House. But the Committee on Rules may report at any time and any rule so reported may be adopted by the majority of the House.

WEEKLY SYNOPSIS OF ALL ENTRIES IN JOURNAL

60. On February 6, 1933, the Chief Clerk shall, as soon as practicable, prepare a synopsis of all entries in the Journal affecting bills for the entire legislative period immediately preceding such date, and shall at the end of each bi-weekly period thereafter, prepare a similar synopsis for such bi-weekly period. Such synopsis shall specify clearly and briefly the proceedings had and actions taken, giving dates.

H. F. No. 11, A bill to, etc., etc.
 Jan. 10. Int. by Mr. Doe, Ref. to Jud.
 Jan. 12. Jud. Rep. with amdt. passed.
 Jan. 14. On General Orders.
 Jan. 15. On Calendar.
 Jan. 16. Passed.

The synopsis so prepared shall be of the same size and form as the Journal and shall be distributed on the desks of the members as soon as practicable.

PRINTING OF BILLS

61. All bills of general nature, including all bills appropriating money or lands, shall be printed, provided that no bill shall be printed until after the same shall have been favorably reported by the committee to which it shall have been referred unless ordered printed by a majority vote of the House.

In case of bills received from the Senate which have been amended in the Senate after having been printed by that body, it shall be the duty of the Committee of the House to which the same are referred to make a report to the House as to advisability or inadvisability of having the same printed. All Committee Chairmen shall be furnished with a copy of this Rule.

NEWSPAPER REPORTERS

62. On account of the limited space available on the floor of the House, the Associated Press, United Press, The St. Paul Pioneer Press, The St. Paul Dispatch, The St. Paul Daily News, The Minneapolis Journal, The Minneapolis Tribune, The Minnesota Daily Star, The Duluth News-Tribune, and The Duluth Herald, and any other daily or weekly newspaper published in this state in the English language having a bona fide circulation of more than twenty thousand subscribers, and no other, shall each be permitted to be represented at the press table by one regularly employed reporter who shall file with the Chief Clerk credentials to be approved by the Rules Committee.

WHO MAY BE ADMITTED ON THE FLOOR

63. No person or persons shall be admitted within the House Chamber, corridors, or retiring room, except the members themselves, the properly authorized employees, the Chief Executive and ex-governors of the State of Minnesota, members of the Senate, the heads of departments of the state government, judges of the Supreme and District Courts, members of Congress, the properly accredited representatives of the newspapers and press associations, as herein provided for, and none other, former members of Congress or Minnesota Legislature, or any other persons when personally introduced to the Speaker by members of the House. The Speaker may issue a permit good for the day to such persons, after having satisfied himself that such person does not seek the floor of the House for the purpose of directing or using his influence upon any measure pending or otherwise before the House. It is expressly directed that the Sergeant-at-Arms shall keep the alcoves cleared (the alcoves shall be kept for members only) and at no time when the House is in session can visitors on the floor of the House who are guests or members thereof occupy the alcoves, but a visiting member shall be provided with a seat near the member who has recommended him, and at no time shall a conversation be carried on to disturb the business of the House.

It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a request for the suspension of this rule, or to present from the chair the request of any member for unanimous consent unless, however, an extraordinary condition exists, in which event he may consent to entertain a motion for its suspension.

CONSTRUCTION, RULE AS TO

64. In consideration of the terms "majority vote," "vote of the House," and "vote of the whole House," as used in these rules, the first two phrases shall be deemed a majority of the members present at the particular time, and the last phrase to mean a majority vote of all the members elected to the House at the particular session of the Legislature.

BULLETIN BOARD

65. The Chief Clerk shall prepare a bulletin board, upon which shall be posted a list of committee meetings and any other announcements or notice the House may require.

TOPICAL INDEX

66. The Chief Clerk shall prepare a topical card index, in which bills may be indexed by number, author, subject, section of the code amended, the committees and any other subject that will make it a complete and comprehensive index, and to be made a permanent file to be used by all succeeding Chief Clerks. The topical index shall be filed with the Secretary of State after the expiration of the session of the Legislature and the cards, constituting the record shall be retained open for the public inspection at all times.

VISITING PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

67. No leave of absence shall be granted any committee, special or standing, to visit any public institution of the state, or for any other purpose. Whenever any committee shall report to the House that it is desirable that such committee receive information concerning a public institution, the House may, by a majority vote of the whole House, grant a leave of absence to not more than three members of such committee, to be designated by the chairman thereof. Application for a leave of absence of such members of a committee shall be made to the House in writing, by the chairman thereof, and such application shall give the name of the institution or institutions to be visited and to briefly recite the occasion and necessity for visiting the same, together with the names of the committee-men designated for that purpose and the name of the stenographer to accompany such committee-men if one is necessary. Such application shall immediately and without debate be referred to the Committee on Rules, with instructions to report upon the same on the next legislative day. Said members and their stenographers, if any, shall be allowed their actual expenses.

I. HISTORY.

MINNESOTA

A BRIEF SKETCH OF MINNESOTA HISTORY*

The development of Minnesota has been conditioned to no slight degree by the action of the glaciers that in the ice ages covered every portion of its area save the extreme southeastern section. Their story is written in the thousands of lakes left in their wake; in the terminal moraines that rise as bluffs and mounds to give a varied aspect to the scenery; and in the deep rich soil, ground fine by the age-long passage of ice rivers. Glacial action may even explain the presence in eastern and northern Minnesota of splendid pine and hardwood forests; and it may account for the absence of trees on the prairies that stretch away to the south and west.

Certain it is that French, English and American explorers found their way into the region at surprisingly early dates because of the access afforded by almost innumerable waterways left as glacial imprints. Three highways of water lead into the heart of Minnesota—the Red River of the North, flowing toward Hudson Bay; the St. Louis River, emptying into the westernmost of the inland seas, which with the St. Lawrence River make an avenue of water from the Atlantic to Minnesota; and the majestic Mississippi, flowing to the Gulf. By these highways came traders in their light birch canoes, lured by treasures of furs and skins that brought fortunes in distant European and Asiatic markets. Along these waters traveled explorers to seek the elusive Northwest Passage or to set up claims to an inland empire. Over these routes passed settlers who were to build the foundations of a commonwealth. Not only have these lakes and streams influenced the course of Minnesota's history; they have also by their beauty entered into the very concept of Minnesota, an Indian name probably meaning "cloud-tinted water."

Scarcely were the Pilgrim Fathers settled on their rocky shore when the exploration of the Minnesota region began. Who the white man was that first trod its soil may never be known, but Radisson and Groseilliers, seem to have been the first to leave written records of their visits. Radisson's narratives of his "voyages" into the "upper country" not long after the middle of the seventeenth century record vividly the life of the native tribes at the beginning of their contacts with white men and before the clashes between the Dakota (Sioux) and Ojibway (Chippewa) Indians that pushed the former back from Lake Superior and from the region now called Wisconsin. The Ojibway, armed with white men's guns and ammunition, forced the fierce Dakota to retreat continually toward the west and south, until, when British and American traders reached the headwaters of the Mississippi after the close of the French régime in 1763, the Ojibway were living in the former habitat of the Dakota, and the latter had become a prairie tribe with an inveterate hatred for their Ojibway aggressors.

The travels of Radisson and Groseilliers, and perhaps especially the furs that they carried out of the north country, seem to have impressed the French with the wealth of the Minnesota region. Thereafter many Frenchmen reached the head of Lake Superior and made their way to the upper waters of the Mississippi. Among the most famous of these were Nicholas Perrot, who as early as 1686 built a fort on the shores of Lake Pepin and took possession of the region in the name of the King of France; Daniel Greysolon, sieur DuLhut, who between the years 1679 and 1689 explored the country between the Kaministiquia, the Mississippi, and the St. Croix rivers and exercised a wise restraint over the savage tribes of the region; Michel Accault and the famed Louis Hennepin, who under LaSalle's direction explored the upper Mississippi in 1680, the latter discovering and naming the Falls of St. Anthony; Pierre Charles Le Sueur, companion of Perrot at Lake Pepin in 1686, builder of a post on Prairie Island in 1695 and of Fort L'Huillier on the Blue Earth River in 1700, and miner of "blue earth," which he mistakenly supposed to be copper ore at the latter place; and the knightly Pierre Gautier de Varennes, sieur de La Verendrye, who with his devoted sons opened up the great canoe route from Lake Superior to Lake Winnipeg between 1731 and 1743. Of the exploits of these and other Frenchmen who early made their way into the wilderness records have been preserved; but doubtless there were many other sons of France whose comings and goings in the fur country have left no trace.

Peace between Great Britain and France in 1763 brought eastern Minnesota under the British flag, and English and Scotch names soon thereafter appear in the record of Minnesota history. Jonathan Carver was a colonial who was sent by Robert Rogers, the superintendent of Indian affairs at Mackinac, to winter among the Sioux in 1766-1767. He spent the winter in the lower valley of the St. Peter's, or Minnesota River, and at Prairie du Chien, in the spring joined Rogers' emissaries in Captain James Tute's expedition on its way to the Pacific Ocean in quest of the Northwest Passage. Though the main purpose of the expedition was thwarted and the explorers were obliged to turn back after a tedious canoe trip by rivers and on Lake Superior to Grand Portage, the scheme had a very important result in the writing and subsequent publication by Carver of an account of his travels. This became a "best seller" of its day and gave thousands of persons on both sides of the Atlantic their first information about the region later to be known as Minnesota. Another colonial whose name stands out in this period was Peter Pond, a native of Connecticut, who spent two successive winters as a fur trader on the St. Peter's River, beginning in 1773, and later passed on to the northward to become a famous trader in western Canada.

After the peace of 1763 came freer trade with the Indians, and as a consequence many traders built their palisaded forts on Minnesota rivers and lakes. Among these was Jean Baptiste Perrault, who from 1783 to 1800 was an almost constant sojourner in this promised land of the fur traders. Contemporaneous with Perrault and perhaps of a greater historical importance was Jean Baptiste Cadotte, who is believed to have opened to British traders the contested territory between the Dakota and the Ojibway in central and western Minnesota. Another famous trader was David Thompson. He is best known for his explorations and map of northwestern North America, which were made while determining scientifically for the Northwest Company the location of the forty-ninth parallel. In accomplishing this work he crossed from the Red River to Lake Superior in the winter of 1797-98. His diaries are the first scientific data known to be extant on Minnesota topography.

Though the treaty of peace of 1783 had granted to the United States the region between the Mississippi River and Lake Superior, the British fur traders continued to ply their trade and to maintain their forts in this area for many years. In 1805 Captain Zebulon Montgomery Pike was sent by the United States government to the headwaters of the Mississippi to determine among other things the extent to which the region was still under the influence of the British traders. He found the Union Jack flying over the fort at Sandy Lake and a Canadian in charge of the Northwest Company's trading post at that place. Similar conditions prevailed at Leech Lake. To remedy the situation and in general to fortify this portion of the American frontier—part of which had just become American territory through the Louisiana Purchase—he made a treaty with the Sioux for the purchase of two tracts of land at the mouths of the St. Croix and St. Peter's rivers. This treaty served in 1819 as the basis for the establishment of Fort St. Anthony, later Fort Snelling.

Meanwhile two events of considerable importance for the Minnesota region occurred. In 1808 John Jacob Astor incorporated the American Fur Company; and at the close of the War of 1812 Congress passed an act prohibiting foreigners from serving as chief traders in the fur trade of the United States. Consequently, after 1816 the interest of the Northwest Company in this territory practically ceased. Until the middle forties the story of Minnesota is to a large extent that of the exploitation of its fur resources through the many traders of the American Fur Company.

A new era begins with the establishment of Fort St. Anthony in 1819, two years after a government reconnaissance by Major Stephen H. Long had made a second report on the region where the proposed fort was to be located. Trade relations were established at once with the struggling colony planted in 1812 by Lord Selkirk on the lower waters of the Red River of the North; steamboats became a common sight after 1823; expeditions sent out by the War Department made the fort the objective or point of departure for their explorations; and not least important, an Indian agent, Lawrence Taliaferro, settled at the fort and exercised a wise influence over the savage tribes for twenty years. Among the government exploring expeditions that visited the fort in the twenty years following its establishment may be mentioned Long's second exploring party, which in 1823 passed up the Minnesota River and down the Red River of the North to establish a portion of the boundary line between Canada and the United States; Governor Cass' of the year 1820, which attempted to find the source of the Mississippi River; Henry R. Schoolcraft's in 1832, which did discover the source of that stream; and Joseph N. Nicollet's tours in the late thirties, which resulted in the first scientifically accurate map of the present area of Minnesota.

Just at the time of the founding of the fort missionaries began to appear among the Sioux and Chippewa Indians. First on the ground, at Rainy Lake and Pembina in 1818, were the Catholics, Dumoulin and Edge. These were followed in 1829 by the Presbyterians, Coe and Stevens, and in 1831 and 1833 by the Congregationalists, Ayer, Ely, and Boutwell. In 1836 three Swiss Protestants, Gavin, Dentan, and Rossier, began a mission station at Red Wing's village; and the following year the Methodist elder, Brunson, with three natives, Marksman, Copway, and Johnson, opened a station at Kaposia. Other prominent missionaries were Dr. Williamson, Stephen Riggs, and Father Ravoux, who worked with the Sioux in the Minnesota Valley; Gideon and Samuel Pond, who labored at first among the Lake Calhoun band of Sioux; and Father Pierz, who established a church and school at Grand Portage in the early forties.

For some years before Father Ravoux' arrival at St. Peter's settlers had been collecting about the fort. Many of these were old voyageurs; others were colonists from the Red River Settlements, dissatisfied with the hard life in that region. Hither in 1834 came a man who was destined for an important rôle in Minnesota history—Henry H. Sibley, the agent of the great American Fur Company. In 1840 the Reverend Lucian Galtier came as priest to the Catholic populace and built a little log church across the river from St. Peter's, by this time called Mendota. This chapel he dedicated to the great missionary apostle, and from the church the settlement round about took the name of St. Paul.

Meanwhile other settlements of whites had begun. In 1837 the United States government had purchased from the Indians the triangle of land between the lower St. Croix and the Mississippi, and at once lumbering camps began to dot the pine forests. Settlements began at Dakota (Stillwater), Marine, and St. Croix Falls; and in 1848 a land boom began at St. Paul. Within a year immigration had increased to such a degree that the region held the requisite number of residents to form a territory. Thus in 1849 this region, which, in whole or in part had been successively a portion of the French, English, and Spanish empires, the Northwest Territory, and the territories of Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Iowa, and Wisconsin, came into the Union as the territory of Minnesota.

From 1849 to 1858 Minnesota remained a territory. This period witnessed the establishment of counties, the building of roads, the survey and sale of large tracts of the public domain, the extensive development of the lumber industry, and, in general, the laying of the foundations of a frontier state. One of the usual prerequisites for such a foundation, however, is land, and until 1851 most of the land in Minnesota had not been secured from the Indians. In that year the famous treaty of Traverse des Sioux opened for settlement a large tract of land in the southern and western portions of the territory, which had been formerly occupied by several bands of the Sioux; and in 1854 and 1855 the Chippewa Indians likewise yielded up a large area in the northeastern and north central parts of the territory. The former region was needed by settlers, the latter by lumber interests.

After 1851 the settlement of southeastern Minnesota was rapid, especially along the valleys of the Mississippi and Minnesota rivers. The majority of settlers in the years prior to the Civil War were native Americans, largely New Englanders, New Yorkers, and Pennsylvanians. Many of them came in colonies or townsites parties, and the new hamlets had much of the tone of Eastern villages. Education was stressed from the start, both by the territorial legislature, which in its first session evolved a comprehensive system of free public schools and in 1851 passed an act to incorporate the University of Minnesota; and by religious bodies like the Methodists and the Benedictine monks who in 1854 and 1857, respectively, established Hamline University and St. John's University. Another characteristic of these frontier settlements was the prevalence of lyceums, reading circles, and lecture programs. A high standard was set for journalism by the early newspapers, particularly by the first newspaper, The Minnesota Pioneer, established in 1849 at St. Paul by James M. Goodhue.

Immigration was stimulated by the territorial government, which appointed a board of immigration, and by transportation agencies. This was the heyday of the steamboat on the upper Mississippi, most of the settlers coming up the river from Galena, Dunleith or St. Louis. A great desire for railroads was felt and expressed, but the panic of 1857 and the Civil War retarded the early movement in this direction. Even before the war, however, the immigration of Germans, Irish, Scandinavians and other nationalities had begun, and the movement increased for many years.

By 1857 settlement had progressed so far that statehood was a possibility. The desire for land grants, which Congress could be expected to make only to states, and the need of representatives in Congress to urge the building of a Pacific railroad through Minnesota led in that year to a demand to be admitted as a state. The story of the rival conventions, Democratic and Republican, that met in St. Paul, in July in 1857, held separate sessions, and produced two constitutions almost identical in phrasing is a dramatic one. Even more so is that of how Congress kept Minnesota standing before the portals until "Bleeding Kansas" had been ministered unto, despite all Stephen A. Douglas' efforts in Minnesota's behalf. Finally a telegram forwarded to St. Paul from Prairie du Chien brought the good news on May 13, 1858, that Congress had admitted Minnesota to the Union two days earlier. Thus after almost a year of waiting Minnesota took her place among her sister states.

Immigration from the East and from Europe went on apace, even after the outbreak of the Civil War, but in 1862 a rude setback was experienced. In August of that year the Sioux Indians, goaded on by lack of food and the tardiness of their annual payment, rose against the whites and massacred scores of helpless settlers in the Minnesota Valley. Fort Ridgely and New Ulm were besieged and many cabins and settlements were attacked. Even two important engagements with the soldiers sent out from St. Paul under Brigadier General Sibley were necessary before the Sioux were quelled. Those Indians who did not escape to the plains or to Canada were captured and sent to a reservation beyond the boundaries of the state. Thirty-eight of those who had committed gross offenses were hanged. Many of the newer settlements were almost depopulated as a result of this uprising and many years were required to obliterate the hysteria and hatred of the Indian to which it gave rise.

The years since the Civil War have been too full of events and marked by too many changes to be dealt with in detail. Until 1900 the outstanding fact was that the state was being settled—first the southeast and middle portions, then the south and west; finally the northeast, though it still remains sparsely populated. Almost as significant has been the exploitation of natural resources. At first the state devoted itself to raising wheat and to cutting and marketing its forests. By 1880 wheat was giving way to corn as the staple produce, and by 1905 the peak of the lumber industry in the state had been reached. Meantime the rich beds of iron ore in the northeastern part of the state had been discovered. Their output has now become so great that Minnesota at the present time produces more iron ore per year than all the rest of the United States. Another important development has been the increase of dairy farming, Minnesota now producing more butter than any other state. To market all this produce railroads were begun in the infancy of the state and have covered its area with a network of lines and feeders.

With these economic changes have gone alterations in the character, temper, and customs of the population. In such an agricultural region one would expect to find many adherents of political parties that have favored farm relief measures. Accordingly Minnesota was one of the strongholds of the Granger movement, the Farmers' Alliance, the Populist party, and the Nonpartisan League. One would also expect from such a melting-pot of nationalities the emergence of a type different in many particulars from the American of the eastern seaboard; and such has been the case. Moreover, the predominance of Scandinavians has given an individual tone to the state. In most respects, however, the Minnesotan is true to the type of American that the modern age of quick transportation, material wealth, easy communication, and labor-saving devices has produced. Such could hardly fail to be the case, for Minnesota has reproduced in miniature as perfectly as any single state in the Union the successive stages of American life from the days of the explorers to the present time.

MINNESOTA CHRONOLOGY

1635. Jean Nicolet, a French explorer, spent the winter in the neighborhood of Green Bay on Lake Michigan. He took back to Montreal the first information about the Minnesota Indians.
- 1654-60. Radisson and Groseilliers, two French traders, made two expeditions into the West, reaching the Wisconsin region and possibly the Minnesota country. In 1654-56 some suppose that they went as far west as Prairie Island, in the Mississippi River between Red Wing and Hastings. In 1659-60 they again traveled in the West and came in contact with Sioux Indians.
1661. Father Rene Menard left Keweenaw, on Lake Superior, to visit the Hurons, then in northern Wisconsin, and was lost near the sources of the Black and Chippewa rivers. His breviary and cassock were said to have been found among the Sioux.
1665. Father Claude Allouez, a Jesuit, established a mission at La Pointe, near Ashland, Wisconsin.
1680. Louis Hennepin, after being held as a captive in a village of the Mille Lacs Sioux, discovered the Falls of St. Anthony, which he named in honor of his patron saint.
1689. May 8th, Nicholas Perrot, at his Fort St. Antoine, on the Wisconsin shore of Lake Pepin, laid formal claim to the surrounding country for France. He built a fort also on the Minnesota shore of this lake, near its outlet.
1695. Le Sueur built a fort or trading post on Isle Pelee, now called Prairie Island, above Lake Pepin.
1700. Le Sueur established Fort L'Huilier, on the Blue Earth river (near the mouth of the Le Sueur).
1727. The French established Fort Beauharnois near the site of Frontenac on Lake Pepin, with the Sieur de La Perriere as commander.
1728. Great flood in the Mississippi.
- 1731-32. La Vérendrye, his sons, and his nephew, La Jemeraye, established on the present north boundary of Minnesota two trading posts, Fort St. Pierre, near the mouth of Rainy lake, and Fort St. Charles, on the Lake of the Woods, within the present area of Minnesota.
1736. June 6th, the eldest son of La Vérendrye, Father Aulneau, and nineteen French voyageurs, were massacred by a war party of the Sioux on an island in the Lake of the Woods.
- 1750-56. Joseph Marin and his son maintained the last French post on the upper Mississippi. It was located on Lake Pepin near the present site of Frontenac.
1763. By the Treaty of Versailles, France ceded the part of Minnesota, east of the Mississippi to England, the country west of the river having been ceded to Spain the previous year.

- 1766-67. Captain Jonathan Carver visited St. Anthony Falls and the Minnesota river. He claimed to have made a treaty with the Indians in the following spring, at a cave afterward called "Carver's Cave," within the present limits of St. Paul, by which he said they ceded to him a very large tract of land, long known as "Carver's Claim," but it was never recognized by the government.
- 1784-1816. The Northwest Company carried on extensive fur-trading operations in the Minnesota country and established many posts in the region. During much of the period the company's headquarters were at Grand Portage.
1800. May 7th, that part of Minnesota east of the Mississippi became a part of Indiana by the division of Ohio.
1803. April 30th, the area of Minnesota west of the Mississippi, for the preceding forty years in possession of Spain as a part of Louisiana, was ceded to the United States by Napoleon Bonaparte, who had just obtained it from Spain.
- 1805-06. Lieutenant Z. M. Pike visited Minnesota to establish government relations here, and obtained cessions, including the subsequent Fort Snelling reservation, from the Sioux.
1812. The Sioux, Chippewa, and Winnebago under the leadership of hostile traders, joined the British during the war. Red river colony established by Lord Selkirk. June 4th the area of this state west of the Mississippi was included in Missouri Territory.
1817. The American Fur Company, under the leadership of John Jacob Astor, began trading operations in the Minnesota country.
1819. Minnesota east of the Mississippi became a part of Crawford county, Michigan. Fort St. Anthony (renamed Fort Snelling in 1825) established, beginning as a post at Mendota occupied by troops on August 24th, under command of Colonel Henry Leavenworth. Major L. Taliaferro appointed Indian agent at the new post.
1820. Cornerstone of Fort St. Anthony, later called Fort Snelling, laid September 10th. Governor Cass visits Minnesota and makes a treaty of peace between the Sioux and Chippewa at Fort St. Anthony, August 1st. Colonel Josiah Snelling took command of the post.

1900. Death of Senator Cushman K. Davis, November 27th.
1901. In the Pan-American Exposition, at Buffalo, N. Y., the superior exhibits of wheat, flour, and dairy products of Minnesota caused her to be called "the Bread and Butter State."
1902. August 23rd, the fortieth anniversary of the Sioux war celebrated at New Ulm. Monuments and tablets erected there and at other places in the Minnesota valley.
1903. Tide of immigration into Minnesota, particularly in northern and western sections. April 22d, death of Alexander Ramsey, first territorial governor, later governor of the state, United States senator, and secretary of war.
1905. January 3d, the legislature convened for the first time in the new capitol.
1908. The fiftieth anniversary of the admission of Minnesota to statehood was celebrated in connection with the State Fair, its attendance during the week being 326,753.
1909. Death of Gov. John A. Johnson on September 21st. Lieut. Gov. Adolph O. Eberhart sworn in as governor by Chief Justice Start, in the Supreme Court retiring room, at 11 o'clock the same day.
1910. Forest fires in northern Minnesota during the second and third weeks of October, in the driest autumn season of record, result in death to 29 people and the destruction of about $2,661,265 of property. Spooner and Baudette villages were almost entirely wiped out. Development of highways begins on large scale.
1911. The legislature ratified the proposed amendment to the United States constitution for election of U. S. senators by popular vote. George E. Vincent became president of the University of Minnesota. On October 17th, Hugh Robinson attempted the first air mail flight from Minneapolis to New Orleans, completing the portion of the journey from Minneapolis to Rock Island, Illinois, a distance of 371 miles, and carrying 25 pounds of mail.
1912. The legislature in special session enacted a new primary election law and "corrupt practices" act. October 19th, the statue of Governor Johnson on the Capitol ground was unveiled.
1915. In November, the last bonds of indebtedness of the state resulting from the five million loan bill for railroad building, enacted in 1858, readjusted by legislation in 1881, were paid and burned. December 30th, Governor Hammond died and Lieutenant Governor Burnquist took the oath of office as his successor.
1916. In February, iron and steel manufacture and production of Portland cement, each on a very large scale, were begun at Duluth. May 29th, James J. Hill, railway builder, organizer of the Great Northern Railway system, died at his home in St. Paul. July 19-21, the National Prohibition convention was held in St. Paul, for the presidential campaign.

- 1917. April 6th, the United States entered the World War, which began in the last days of July, 1914. During nineteen months until the war closed, Minnesota gave 107,902 men in the army service, and 15,423 in the navy, the marine corps and coast guard, an aggregate of 123,325 troops. July 1st, Marion LeRoy Burton became president of the University of Minnesota.
- 1918. May 11th, dedication of the building of the Minnesota Historical Society, erected by the state at a cost of $500,000. September 25th, death of Archbishop John Ireland, archbishop of St. Paul since 1888. October 12-13, forest fires after a long draught, driven by a great wind, spread over large areas in Carlton county and the south part of St. Louis county, inflicting loss of 432 lives of agricultural settlers and residents in many villages, with vast destruction of property. November 11th, signing of an armistice terminated the World War and opened a new era of reconstruction.
- 1920. Population of Minnesota, by the national census, 2,387,125; of Minneapolis, 380,582; of St. Paul, 234,698; of Duluth, 98,917. July 1st, Lotus D. Coffman became president of the University of Minnesota, which for the year 1918-19 had an enrollment of 7,379 students.
- 1921. About 300,000 tourists spend parts of the summer in the "State of Ten Thousand Lakes."
- 1922. Cyrus Northrop, president of the State University from 1884 to 1911, died April 3rd, at his home in Minneapolis. The sixtieth anniversary of the Sioux massacre and war, in August, was celebrated at New Ulm, and at the State Park on the site of Fort Ridgely.
- 1923. April 28th, death of Knute Nelson, who was governor of this state in 1893-95, and later through twenty-eight years a United States senator.
- 1924. The new library building of the University of Minnesota was opened to public use in June with about 425,000 volumes and space for two million volumes. November 15th, dedication of the stadium of the University, with capacity for an audience of 51,000, "in remembrance of the thousands of Gopher soldiers who answered the great call in 1917."
- 1929. September 18, death of Dr. William W. Folwell, first president of the University of Minnesota.
- 1932. New State Office Building occupied.

NAME.

This state derives its name from the river called "Minisota" by the Dakotas, pronounced "Min-nee-sotah" (Mini, water; sotah, whitishly clouded, sky-colored). For correct pronunciation, the convention held at Stillwater in 1848, to secure a territorial organization, instructed their delegates that the name of the Territory be written Minnesota.

GEOGRAPHY.

Minnesota includes the geographic center of North America. The state is bounded on the south by Iowa, on the west by South and North Dakota, on the north by Manitoba and Ontario, and on the east by Wisconsin. It extends from latitude 43 degrees 30 minutes to 49 degrees 23 minutes, and from 89 degrees 29 minutes to 97 degrees 13 minutes west longitude. It is about 406 miles long, and from its most eastern point to the extreme western point about 358 miles wide. In a foot-note on article 2 of the State constitution, the boundaries are fully defined, with explanation of the part projecting twenty-six miles north beyond the forty-ninth parallel, at the west side of the Lake of the Woods.

AREA.

In area Minnesota is the eleventh state of the Union. It contains 84,286.53 square miles, or 53,943,379 acres, of which 5,637 square miles, or 3,607,680 acres, are water. The headwaters of three great river systems are found in its limits, those of streams flowing northward to Hudson bay, eastward to the Atlantic ocean, and southward to the Gulf of Mexico. About a third of this surface, on the south and west, consists of rolling prairie. The district north and west of Lake Superior has rich iron ore ranges. On the northwest border of this state, reaching also west into North Dakota and north into Manitoba, is the very fertile and broad Red river valley, formerly the bed of the Glacial Lake Agassiz, famed for its great harvests of wheat. This ancient lake, also its large Beltrami island, are shown by the map on page 146.

RIVERS.

Few states are so well watered as Minnesota. Its navigable rivers are the Mississippi, the Minnesota, the St. Croix, the Rainy river, the St. Louis, the Red River of the North, and the Red Lake river, all of which, near their sources, have valuable water powers. Smaller streams include the Rum river and Snake river, the Cannon, Zumbro and Root rivers, the Vermilion, Crow Wing, Sauk and Elk rivers, the Blue Earth, Le Sueur, Des Moines, Cottonwood and Chipewewa rivers.

LAKES.

Minnesota has about ten thousand lakes, the largest of which is Red Lake, with an area of 440 square miles, in the central northern part of the State. On the same northern slope, in St. Louis county, is the beautiful Vermilion lake. Adjoining the northeast part of the State for one hundred and fifty miles, the waters of the great Lake Superior wash its shores. On the southward slope of the State is Itasca lake, the source of the Mississippi, with Bemidji and Cass lakes, Lake Winnebagoishish, Leech Lake, and a multitude of others, all adding volume to the water of the Mississippi, eventually flowing into the Gulf of Mexico. There we have also Mille Lacs, about 200 square miles in area, the source of Rum river. The picturesque Lake Minnetonka, White Bear, Bald Eagle, the Chisago lakes, and very many more, have been much utilized as summer resorts. The northeastern and southwestern sections, likewise, have many lakes to attract the summer visitor.

ELEVATION.

The shore of Lake Superior is the lowest land in the State, 602 feet above sea level. The waters of the northeastern part of the State south of the Mesabi iron range, flow into Lake Superior, and are carried east to the Atlantic ocean. The Mississippi river, having its chief source in Lake Itasca, at 1,462 feet elevation, leaves the State at 620 feet above sea level.

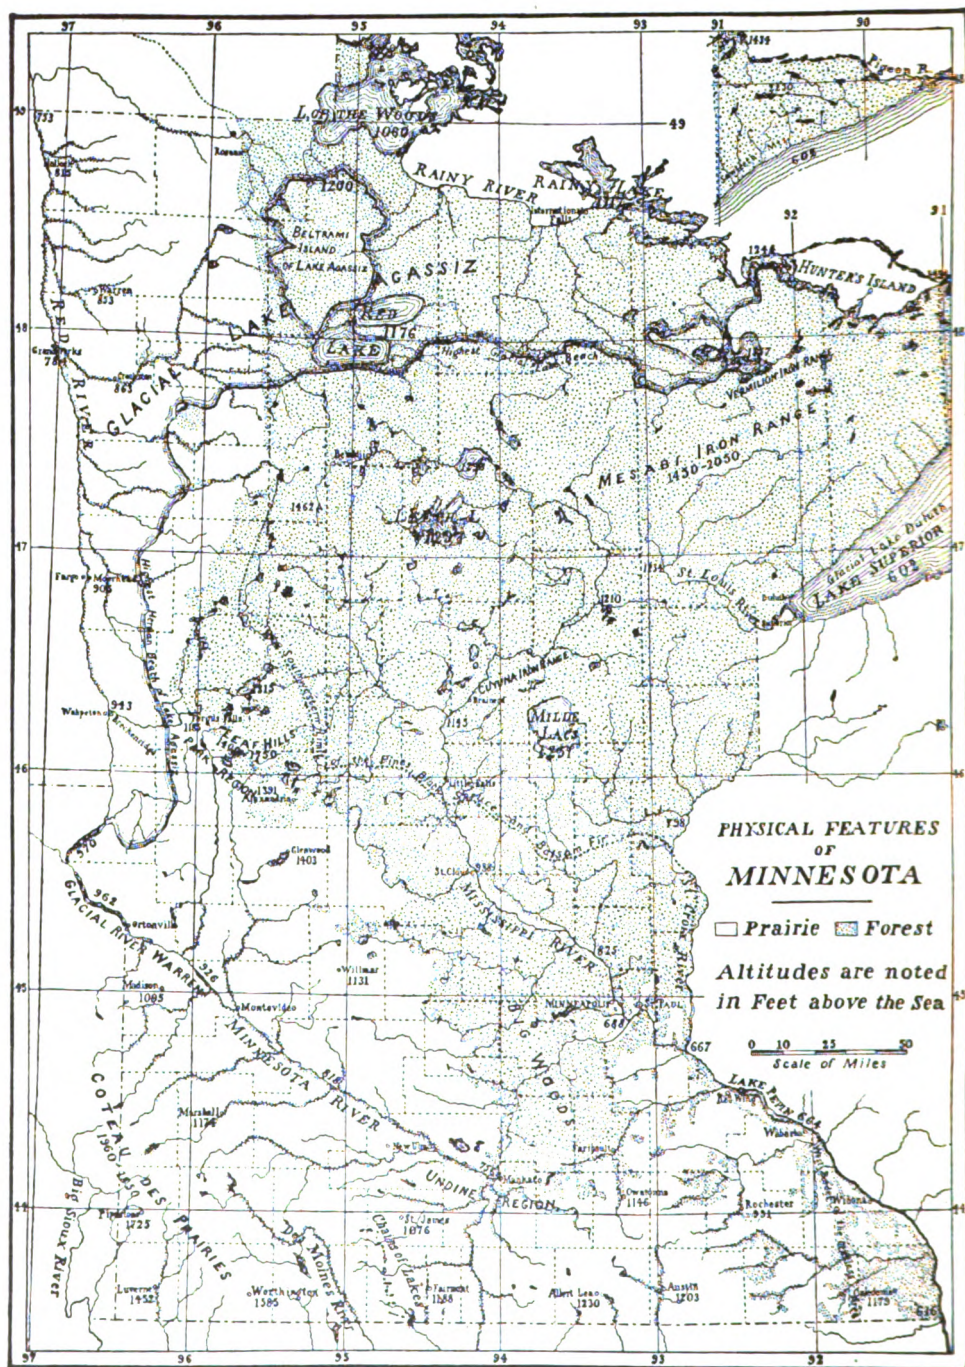

The Red River of the North, beginning near Itasca, at a height of 1,500 feet above the ocean, leaves the State at an elevation of 750 feet. The average altitude of the State is about 1,250 feet. The highest elevations are the tops of the Misquah hills, near the center of Cook county, which rise about 1,630 feet above Lake Superior, or 2,230 feet above the sea.

CLIMATE.

Recorded observations through long series of years show that Minnesota has an annual mean temperature of 44 degrees, and its mean summer temperature is about 70 degrees, like that of middle Illinois, Ohio, and southern Pennsylvania. The high latitude gives longer days in summer than in states farther south, and during the middle part of the growing season there are two and a half hours more of sunshine than in the latitude of Cincinnati. The winters are not severe, and the rainfall during the summer is usually abundant.

Through all the eighty-nine years since considerable agricultural settlements were first made within the area of this State, its temperature and rainfall, though showing marked contrasts in different years, have always been so favorable for farming that there has been no instance of failure to secure at least a generally remunerative harvest, while most of the years have yielded very abundantly.

All of these Forests and Parks are under the supervision of the Department of Conservation.

Minnesota, "land of sky-blue waters," with thousands of clear lakes set in virgin pine and other great forests and noted for scenic beauties, is developing rapidly as a recreation state. Every summer brings increases in numbers of tourists and vacationists from virtually all parts of the country to enjoy Minnesota's playground attractions.

Minnesota forests, counted an important asset, stretch over hundreds of thousands of acres and are unbroken save where lakes or hogbacks split the areas. They abound with wild life which with the fish found in the lakes attract thousands of sportsmen.

For the small boy who bobs for perch or sunfish in the shallow lake waters, or for the scientific angler who drops deep for pike or casts for the great muskallonge, bass or other game fish, there is sport galore. The black bass specialist finds good sport in the lakes in the southern and north central sections. Streams and lakes in the northeastern part abound in speckled and lake trout. Pike, crappies, sunfish and other varieties can be pulled out of the waters almost anywhere in Minnesota. Extensive commercial fisheries are located on the larger lakes in the north.

Big game is plentiful in northern districts; duck shooting is good on most lakes and marshes and every season in Minnesota furnishes sport for the man with gun or rod.

Accommodations ranging from modern hotels to mere hunting lodges and fishing camps, and including summer cottages and log cabins, are located less than a day's ride apart. Good roads are equipped with signposts to guide tourists and thousands find motoring in Minnesota a pleasure in the summer and fall months. Maps of roads, canoe routes and other like literature are easily procurable.

The state, through its state officials, has been engaged for years in exploiting Minnesota's recreational advantages. It is continuing the work and has been joined by the Tourist Bureau and the Minnesota Ten Thousand Lakes Association. All are ready to assist tourists and vacation parties to make their visits to Minnesota resorts most enjoyable.

Minnesota now has a number of state parks, acquired for their peculiar attractions and historical value, being improved and made available for recreational purposes, and there are also important federal reserves within its borders.

The Badoura State Forest located southeast of Park Rapids approximately twenty seven miles also contains a State Forest Nursery. This forest consists of only 200 acres but because of the ideal conditions for growing pine and the fact that the Forest Nursery is established there makes it of outstanding value among state forests.

Beltrami Island State Forest is located in Lake of the Woods County approximately 20 miles south of Williamson. The name Beltrami Island was chosen for this location because the Sandy Ridge on which the forest is located was formerly known as Beltrami Island. It is not truly an island but an area of highland almost entirely surrounded by swamp. The state does not have title to any of the land in this forest at the present time but in 1933 most of the land will become the property of the state.

Burntside State Forest is a grant from the United States to the State of Minnesota and was granted with the express provision that it be used for tree propagation and playground purposes. It consists of 20,000 acres of rocky non-agricultural land containing 43 connected lakes. It is located 10 miles from Ely near Burntside Lake in a region famed for big game and good fishing. It was granted to the state by an act of Congress, April 28, 1904 and was accepted by the state on March 30, 1905.

Chippewa State Forest—The 1927 Legislature designated the state owned land consisting of 69,000 acres within the boundary of the Chippewa National Forest as a state forest and it is now generally known as the Chippewa State Forest.

Cloquet Valley State Forest—In 1931, 9,200 acres in the Cloquet Valley was declared a state forest by legislative act. The land included is almost entirely non-agricultural and due to its location near the cities of Duluth and Cloquet it undoubtedly will have exceptional value in providing wood supplies for these two cities. It has been named the Cloquet Valley Forest because of its location.

In Cass County, the Foot Hills State Forest, consisting of 1,600 acres, was made a forest also by the 1931 Legislature. The name Foot Hills was chosen as being very suitable because local residents have for many years applied this name to the range of hills in which the forest is located.

The Fond Du Lac State Forest in Carlton County consists of only 240 acres at this time. The conditions for a forest in this locality are ideal and undoubtedly the actual area of this forest will be increased from time to time. This was made a state forest by the 1931 Legislature and the name Fond du Lac was chosen because it is a portion of what was formerly the Fond du Lac Indian Reservation.

The George Washington Memorial State Forest, located in Itasca and St. Louis Counties and consisting of 63,750 acres, was made a state forest by the 1931 Legislature. This undoubtedly is one of the most important state forests because of its location on the Iron Range and the timber producing quality of the soil. It is located in one of the best big game areas of the state and will have unusual value both for timber production and recreation as time goes on and these values are more fully developed.

The Kabetogama State Forest is a portion of the original Minnesota State Forest and was created by the 1917 State Legislature. It has, however, been designated as a separate forest because of its location being more or less segregated from other parts of the Minnesota State Forest. It has exceptional values in its abundance of fish and game. At the present time most of the lands included are suitable but as time goes on and the forests mature it will undoubtedly be one of the best timber producing regions of the state. The 1931 Legislature added the state land in three townships to this forest increasing the area by some 32,000 acres.

The Minnesota State Forest was created by the 1917 Legislature. It consists of the state land in the northern portion of St. Louis, Lake and Cook Counties and extends roughly from range 22 west, to range 7 east, a distance of approximately 162 miles. The average width of this immense tract is 40 miles. A large portion of it covers the same territory that is covered by the Superior National Forest. In both instances the actual state and national forest area is limited to the lands actually owned by these two governmental provisions. Although this forest covers such an immense area, the land included is practically all non-agricultural. Because of the large number of beautiful lakes, rugged topography and relative inaccessibility, the region is becoming nationally known as a wilderness area and summer vacation ground.

The old Pillsbury State Forest consisting of 990 acres, is the oldest state forest in Minnesota and is a gift from former Governor Pillsbury. It was accepted as a forest by the State Legislature in 1899. The 1931 State Legislature added 270 acres to this forest.

Pine Island State Forest—The 1931 State Legislature set aside 500,646 acres of state land in Koochiching County as a state forest. This was later named the Pine Island State Forest because it surrounds a large island area locally known as Pine Island. Much of this forest consists of deep peat bogs supporting only a dwarfed stand of timber but the remainder has an exceptionally high timber producing value. As much of this area still supports a virgin stand of timber it is one of the best state forests from a forest management standpoint. It is quite different from the Minnesota State Forest because it has few or no lakes and the topography is relatively level.

Savanna State Forest—The 1931 State Legislature also created the Savanna State Forest in Aitkin County. This consists of 2,741 acres of forest land adjacent to the well known Sandy Lake. The name Savanna originated with the early voyageurs who used the Mississippi River and Savanna Lake as one of their main routes of travel. In the early days a trading post existed near the point where the Mississippi River enters Sandy Lake. The ruins of this old fort are still visible.

St. Croix State Forest—In Pine County east of Sandstone and adjoining the Wisconsin boundary we find the St. Croix State Forest. This was created by the 1931 Legislature and at the present time consists of only 1,131 acres. The area is ideal for production of timber and will undoubtedly have great importance in the future both for recreational and timber production.

The White Earth State Forest is located immediately west of and adjoining Itasca State Park. It was created by the 1931 Legislature and consists of 3,392 acres. It is an area of extremely rugged topography almost entirely unsuited for agricultural purposes but very well adapted to timber production. Its location in a sparsely settled territory far from any large city as well as its rugged topography favor it as a state forest and timber producing area.

STATE PARKS

Alexander Ramsey State Park at the junction of Ramsey Creek and Redwood River, is at Redwood Falls on Highway No. 14. With its winding streams and magnificent falls, it is one of the prettiest of the state parks.

Many improvements, such as fully equipped camp grounds, band stand, good roads and a collection of wild animals add to the natural attractiveness of the park. In the neighborhood of the park are many points of interest connected with the Indian outbreak of 1862.

Birch Coulee Park is located 1½ miles north of Morton on a good gravel road. It is on the site of one of the hardest fought battles of the 1862 Indian uprising. The location of the tents and barricade of wagons used by the troops is known and will be shown by suitable markers. Two impressive monuments will be erected in the near future near the actual battleground in the park. At present they are located closer to Morton. Near the monuments is a natural wooded valley equipped for camping and picnics. Morton is on Highway No. 14.

Camp Release State Park, located one mile southwest of Montevideo on Highway No. 12 is a spot where one of the battles between the Indians and the whites took place in 1862. Here an area of 14 acres has been designated as Camp Release State Park. In it is located a granite monument fifty-one feet high, commemorating the release September 26, 1862, of 269 prisoners, mostly women and children from captivity among the Sioux Indians. The outline of one of the old trenches is still visible across the top of the hill. The park has been well planted to conifers and hardwoods and is an ideal location to spend a warm summer day. Tables, benches, water and firewood are available for the camper.

Chippewa Lac qui Parle Indian Mission Park was created by the 1931 Legislature and consists of 17 acres of wooded land in the Minnesota River Valley. The park is located one mile north and two miles west of Watson and contains the site of the first Indian Mission in Minnesota which was erected in 1835. This Mission had the first church bell in the state and manufactured the first cloth. The park is used for picnics and large gatherings although there is no camping equipment. Watson is on Highway No. 66 north of Montevideo.

Fort Ridgley Park is on the battlefield of the first engagement of the 1862 Indian uprising and is located 6 miles south of Fairfax just off Highway No. 70. In the park are a number of markers and monuments commemorating the various historical events that took place on the ground and in the vicinity. In the Fort Ridgley Cemetery is a monument dedicated to Mouzoo-mau-nee, an Ojibway Chief of the Mille Lacs band, who with other Ojibways persuaded the northern Minnesota tribe from joining the Sioux outbreak and massacre in 1862. The park contains the site Old Fort Ridgley. Good accommodations are provided for campers and picnickers. A golf course is maintained in the park by local organizations.

Horace Austin State Park is located at Austin and named in honor of the sixth governor of Minnesota. It consists of 50 acres on the Red Cedar River and includes a number of deeply wooded islands. The park marks the historical site where camped Companies B, H and I of the First U. S. Dragoons in 1835. The following year it was visited by a party of hunters from Fort Snelling, headed by Major Laurence Taliaferro and Dr. John Emerson, with whom was a slave, Dred Scott, who later became famous through the "Dred Scott" decision. In 1841 General Sibley, as Agent for the American Fur Company, with Sioux Indians camped on the site and spent the winter trapping and hunting. Sibley's diary shows they got 2,000 deer, 50 elk, 50 bear and a few buffalo. During the past summer a bridge was constructed across the river making a larger portion of the park accessible. Austin is on Highways 40 and 9. A swimming pool and bathhouses are provided for public use.

About 11 miles north of Brand lies a rough wooded area of 84 acres which the 1931 Legislature designated as Inspiration Peak State Park. From the top of the peak which provides the name given the park one gets a very exceptional view of the surrounding country. The park has ample parking space and picnic grounds but there are no camping facilities or water.

Inter-State Park is located at the dalles of the St. Croix River adjacent to Taylors Falls. This consists of 154 acres of land lying parallel to the beautiful St. Croix River. On the opposite side of the river is a Wisconsin Park of 6,000 acres, with which it shares the scenic grandeur of a chasm where the cliffs are from 75 to 150 feet high. State Highway No. 46 has been rerouted so that it now passes through the park. From the highway the view of the St. Croix Valley and the surrounding country is exceptionally good.

In the park are the largest known pot holes in the world. The largest that has been opened is approximately 12 feet in diameter and 60 feet deep. Other items of interest are: the devil's chair, the old man of the dalles, the dalles, and about 45 varieties of native trees. The park has free camping accommodations and comfort stations and a few cabins for rent.

Itasca State Park and Forest of 31,000 acres of land and water includes Lake Itasca the headwaters of the Mississippi. It is located in one of the most popular lake regions of Minnesota, north of Park Rapids and south of Bemidji, and embraces numerous lakes of great beauty. In the park is found some of the state's few remaining stands of virgin white and red pine. For many years the park has been a game refuge and now contains an abundance of wild life including elk, deer, bear, beaver, raccoon and many others, birds and insects as well as animals. For tourist accommodations there is Douglas Lodge at the south end of Lake Itasca, a state owned set of buildings under private lease and a completely equipped state owned public camp ground at the north end of the lake. The neighborhood of the park is well supplied with hotels, stores and camp grounds. State Highway No. 4 passes by the park. Itasca Park was established by the Legislature of 1891 and has since been enlarged by federal grants and purchase of lands by the state.

Jay Cooke State Park is located between Carlton and Duluth near Highway No. 1. It includes part of the St. Louis River with its falls and dalles. The rugged topography and natural beauty of this park together with its nearness to one of the main routes of travel should make it very popular with all travelers when its attractiveness becomes better known. Camping facilities are good at the park and one can always find a cool spot here on a hot summer day. During the past summer the roads in the park have been much improved making the park accessible under all weather conditions. This park of more than 3,200 acres has been secured through gifts and purchase.

Lake Bemidji State Park consisting of 421 acres of forested land on the shores of Lake Bemidji is made up of three distinct tracts. Two of them are on the north and northeast shore of the lake and the third is on the east side near the south end. The new location of Highway No. 4 passes just north of the park. Some of the virgin pine in the park is visible from the highway. The park is maintained by Beltrami County and the Division of Forestry has many fine locations for picnicking and swimming although camping facilities are not fully developed. The 1923 Legislature created the park and appropriated $45,000.00 for the purchase of lands and timber.

John Latsch State Park containing about 600 acres is near the village of Minneka about 12 miles northwest of Winona on Highway No. 3. It is adjacent to the Mississippi River and affords a wonderful view of the river and surrounding country. The park is more than a mile in length and includes three of the highest points along the river as well as some sheltered valleys and benches. Three separate areas have been prepared for camping.

Charles Lindbergh State Park—The childhood home of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh at Little Falls, Minnesota was made a state park by the 1931 Legislature. The park includes the Lindbergh residence and surrounding grounds. This park of approximately 100 acres is a gift to the state from Col. Lindbergh and local people interested in the preservation of Col. Lindbergh's old home. Many objects intimately connected with Col. Lindbergh's childhood are found in the house and on the grounds.

Minneopa State Park, a 66 acre tract of wooded valley and hillside, is located 4 miles west of Mankato on Highway No. 5. Near the highway are two waterfalls a few rods apart where the water drops 50 feet into a gorge surrounded by high hills. The name "Minneopa" is the Indian word meaning "two falls." To the word is attached many Indian legends. A few miles from the park stands an old stone windmill constructed by hand in 1862. Although at some distance from the park proper, the mill and ground around it was made a part of the park by the 1931 Legislature. Near the park is the site of an old Indian village which will probably be added to the park in the near future. In the park are good accommodations for campers, picnickers and tourists.

Sam Brown's Memorial Park was created by the 1929 Legislature in memory of the many who lost their lives in the Indian Uprising of 1862. The park is located in Browns Valley on Highway 28. The old log cabin which was the home of Samuel Jerome Brown has been reconstructed and near it has been placed a monument and plaque in his memory. Within the cabin are many old relics of the pioneer days. The cabin was originally constructed near Fort Sissiton as a barrack for the Indian scouts. Later it was dismantled and taken to Brown's Valley. Most of the original hewn logs are in the cabin today.

Scenic State Park was created by the 1921 Legislature and is located well to the north in Itasca County. It is on a gravel road about 7 miles southeast of Bigfork. The nearest state highway is No. 61 which runs north from Deer River. This park of 1,632 acres has numerous natural advantages for lovers of outdoor recreation. There are two wonderful lakes within the park and all the surrounding country is dotted with lakes, many of which are yet in a state of complete wilderness. Camping facilities are of the best and one could spend many delightful days in outdoor activities in and around Scenic Park.

Sibley State Park of 355 acres is located about 5 miles northwest of New London on the north shore of Lake Andrew. Virgin hardwoods clothe the rugged moraines of the park. On the highest of these "Mount Tom" a flagstaff has been erected. The park was named in honor of the late Governor H. H. Sibley who found much pleasure in hunting and fishing in the district and frequently referred to it in his writings. There are relatively few improvements for the camper but those wishing to camp in the woods on a fine lake will find this park ideal.

Sleepy Eye State Park is located in the city of Sleepy Eye near Highway No. 7. It faces the lake and with its large trees and good equipment makes an ideal spot for camping and picnicking. A modern comfort station for the use of the public has recently been completed. The park and vicinity was a favorite camping place for the Indians during the early settlement of the region. Old Chief Sleepy Eye made this his headquarters and a monument in his memory has been erected near the park.

Toqua Lakes State Park is located one mile south of Graceville on Highway No. 6. Although not a large park, it is well equipped and affords fine camping places for large and small parties. Additional parts of the park are gradually being developed for public use and in time the recreational facilities will be much enlarged. During the past dry years the lakes from which the park receives its name have become dry and the park has lost some of its attractiveness. It is hoped that when normal precipitation returns, these lakes will again be filled with water.

Whitewater State Park is located about 8 miles north of St. Charles in and surrounding the valley of the Whitewater River. Upon entering the park from the relatively level farm land surrounding it, one is pleasantly surprised by the unexpected beauty, and wildness of the park. It has a number of well developed camp grounds, a golf course, maintained by local interests, and in places trout fishing. It was established in 1919 by the State Legislature.

MONUMENT SITES

Acton—This monument is located about five miles southwest of Grove City near highway No. 10. It commemorates victims of the 1862 Indian uprising.

Brook Park—This monument is located near the village of the above name and commemorates the many who lost their lives in the Hinckley fire. It was erected by the State and dedicated October 11, 1915.

The Hinckley Monument is located immediately outside the village of Hinckley near Highway No. 1. The monument was erected in memory of the many who lost their lives in that vicinity during the great Hinckley forest fire.

Lake Shetak—On August 20, 1862, during the Indian Uprising twelve persons were murdered and rudely buried on the prairie in Murray County. In October of the same year Captain Starkey moved these bodies to a location on the shore of Lake Shetak. The 1905 Legislature appropriated money for the disinterment and reinterment of the bodies, acquiring the site where they were buried and erecting a monument. In 1929 money was appropriated for the purchase of lands for a road to the burial grounds and that with the original lands was declared a state park. The park is located north and west of Currie about 2 miles near State Highway No. 17.

The Milford Monument site of one acre was designated as a state park, and the money for a monument provided by the 1929 Legislature. It is located in Milford Township in Brown's County, 2 miles north of Essing. A very unusual monument has been erected in memory of the many who lost their lives in the Indian massacre near that place.

The Moose Lake Fire Monument was authorized by the 1929 Legislature. A fine monument on Highway No. 1 just outside of Moose Lake has been erected in memory of the 183 people who lost their lives in that region in the great forest fire of 1918.

The Schwandt Monument and monument site is located north of Delhi on Timm Creek. The monument commemorates those who lost their lives near this place in the Indian Uprising of 1862.

Traverse Des Sioux State Park and Monument Site is located  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles north of St. Peter on Highway No. 5. It is near a ford of the Minnesota River where a treaty with the Sioux was made in 1841 by Governor J. D. Doty of Wisconsin. This treaty failed of ratification in the United States Senate, but ten years later, on July 23, 1851, a treaty was concluded by Governor Ramsey and Colonel Luke Lea where the Indians ceded the greater part of their lands in southern Minnesota. The Park is at the site of the old Indian village of that name. One of the first Indian missions in Minnesota was located near here. In the park is a commemorative tablet of bronze and one of the early log cabins of the District.

The Wood Lake Monument site is located on Highway No. 67, about 7 miles south and 4 miles east of Granite Falls. On this site is erected a fine monument in memory of the many who died in the battle with the Indians near here. Chief Little Crow's warriors ambushed Gen. Sibley's troops near this spot on September 23, 1862. Re-inforcements arrived and the Indians were defeated. 41 whites were killed and wounded.

Pipestone Monument although not a state park or monument is listed here because of the historical interest connected with the location. It is situated  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile north of Pipestone. On July 1, 1838 the J. N. Nicollett expedition passed through here. The inscription is found carved in the rocks near the Winnewissa Falls. The famous pipestone quarry is located near here and numerous Indian legends center around this spot.

EXECUTIVE AND ADMINISTRATIVE.

EXECUTIVE OFFICIALS

---

OFFICERS IN 1933

Hon. Floyd B. Olson, Minneapolis—Governor.
Hon. K. K. Solberg, Clarkfield—Lieutenant Governor.
Hon. Mike Holm, Roseau—Secretary of State.
Hon. Stafford King, St. Paul—State Auditor.
Hon. Julius A. Schmahl, St. Paul—State Treasurer.
Hon. Harry H. Peterson, St. Paul—Attorney General.

The constitution of the state provides that these officers shall be elected for two years, except the state auditor, whose term of office is for four years. They constitute the executive department.

The Governor. The duties of the governor are prescribed by the constitution and the laws of the state. He has the appointment of all appointive state officials, and of elective officials to fill vacancies. Connected with the executive office is the appointment of notaries public.

The Lieutenant Governor is ex-officio president of the senate, and has no other duties to perform, except in a protracted absence of the governor from the state he may be called to act. In case of vacancy in the office he becomes governor during said vacancy.

The Secretary of State is the recording officer of the state and the official custodian of official papers. All private and public corporations of the state are recorded, and the official bonds of all state and county officers are filed in this office. He is the custodian of all the volumes of laws and journals and all the legislative records of whatever nature as well as the United States government surveys of Minnesota, recently turned over to the state. The whole machinery of state elections and the final canvassing of votes is carried forward in his office. The preparation of the volumes of law for publication is part of his duty, and the care and disposition of all printed executive documents of the state. His office is the place of registration of motor vehicles.

The State Auditor has charge of two departments of the government, the auditing department and the land department. The auditing department keeps a record of all public accounts, audits all claims presented, and issues warrants in payment, and he is required to make report of the affairs of his office to the legislature. The duties of the land department are the care and sale of school, university, agricultural, college and swamp lands; the leasing of mineral lands; and the making out and record of all deeds and conveyances for the disposition of lands, besides keeping a classified account of all money transactions connected with these lands.

The Treasurer is the receiving and disbursing officer of the state. His duties are defined by law to keep an accurate account of the receipts and disbursements of the treasury, specifying the names of persons from whom received, to whom paid, on what account the same is received and paid out, and the time of such receipt and payment.

The Attorney General is the chief law officer of the state, appears for the state in all civil actions and in the supreme court in all criminal appeals: is legal adviser to all state officers and departments, renders opinions on legal questions to them and to county, city, village, town and school district attorneys; prepares all state contracts and bonds, and passes upon the form and execution of bonds given by state and county officers and by depositaries of state funds, on applications for loans from the state trust funds, and on requests for the rendition of fugitives from justice. He has charge of the determination and collection of all inheritance taxes. He also has charge of the bureau of criminal apprehension created to assist local peace officers in the investigation of crime and the apprehension of criminals, and to maintain a bureau of identification.

The Executive Council is composed of the executive officers above enumerated, except the Lieutenant Governor. The Governor is the chairman of the council, which performs all the duties formerly imposed upon the state board of deposit, the board of timber commissioners, the Minnesota state land commission, the state board of relief, as well as certain other duties formerly imposed upon certain elective officials. The council passes upon all applications from banks to be designated as state depositories, authorizes all sales of timber, and grants relief under the so-called "Calamity" act.

The State Board of Investment is composed of all the executive officials except the secretary of state, whose place is taken by the president of the board of regents of the state university. The state board of investment invests the permanent trust funds of the state, the sinking funds of the highway department, and the principal of the teachers insurance and retirement fund.

The State Board of Control has general control over 18 state charitable, correctional and penal institutions, and advisory supervision over 14 county tuberculosis sanatoria. It appoints county child welfare boards; promotes the enforcement of all laws for the protection of defective, illegitimate, dependent, neglected and delinquent children; licenses maternity hospitals, infants' homes, and agencies receiving and caring for children; investigates all petitions for the adoption of children; cares for children unsuitable for adoption; and has powers of legal guardianship over the persons of all children committed by the courts to the care of the Board or to institutions under its management. It aids the adult blind of the state by home instruction and training; by assisting them in marketing their products; and by extending care and relief to those not capable of self-support. It administers the soldier welfare fund; assists ex-service men to establish claims for compensation and insurance; and provides emergency relief for such persons. It has general supervision over the state camp for disabled veterans. It inspects jails, lockups, poor-houses and infirmaries; examines all plans for new structures; and has advisory supervision over such institutions. It is charged with deportation of non-resident defectives. It promotes the enforcement of all laws for the prevention of cruelty.

DEPARTMENTS, BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

The Department of Agriculture, Dairy and Food is in charge of a commissioner appointed by the Governor. The duties of this department are regulatory work in connection with the agencies handling Minnesota farm products, the administration of the co-operate law, and the organization of co-operative marketing associations. It administers the cold storage law. Agricultural statistics are collected, and it has power to establish grades for certain farm products. In co-operation with the federal bureau of markets it issues market reports and crop estimates, and in general encourages agricultural development in Minnesota. Under a special act it has conducted investigations relative to costs and trade practices in the necessities of life, issuing reports and recommendations relative to its findings. It has charge of weed inspection work.

It also is charged with the enforcement of the dairy and food laws, also special laws regulating the manufacture and sale of feeds for domestic animals, the sale of commercial fertilizers, the sale of cigarettes and prohibiting of fraudulent advertising. Its aim is to prevent fraud and deception in the manufacture of foods and drinks and of feeds for domestic animals. The commissioner and inspectors have access to all places where foods are manufactured, stored or kept for sale and are authorized to take all proper educational measures to foster and promote the manufacture and sale of pure food products.

The Division of Oil Inspection was transferred to the Commissioner of Agriculture, Dairy and Food by the 1929 Legislature. This division has charge of the inspection of all gasoline, kerosene, and similar products shipped into the state. It imposes the amount of the gas tax provided by the 1925 gas tax law. It also passes upon claims for refund of the tax paid on gasoline which has been used other than upon highways, certifying as to the validity of the claims and issuing checks for same.

Director, Division of Drainage and Waters. The Legislature of 1931 abolished the Department of Drainage and Waters and made it a division under the then created Department of Conservation. The division is headed by a Director appointed by the Commissioner of Conservation with the approval of the Commission of Conservation. Upon the director, subject to the Commissioner of Conservation, devolves the powers, rights and duties previously delegated to and exercised by the Department of Drainage and Waters.

The Department of Health created by the Reorganization Act of 1925 carries on the work and operates under the authority of the State Board of Health created in 1872. The Board may adopt, alter and enforce reasonable regulations for the preservation of the public health in regard to manufacture into articles of commerce, other than food, of diseased animal and vegetable matter; scavenging and disposal of sewage; location of mortuaries and cemeteries, and the removal and burial of the dead; pollution of streams and other waters; construction and equipment in respect to sanitary conditions, of all public institutions, of lodging houses and other public sleeping places kept for gain; lumber camps and other industrial camps and general sanitary conditions of tourist camps and resorts; the collection, recording and reporting of vital statistics; reporting of communicable diseases and measures for control and prevention of same, and exercises general supervision over all local health officers and boards, and advises all state officials and boards in hygienic and medical matters.

Commissioner of Highways. The State Highway Commission, as such, was abolished by the 1917 Legislature and one commissioner was provided for, to be appointed by the Governor and to be known as "Commissioner of Highways" upon whom devolved all powers, rights, duties, privileges and obligations theretofore imposed upon the State Highway Commission. The commissioner administers the Highway Patrol Act passed in 1929. The Commissioner of Highways, State Auditor and State Treasurer constitute a commission to annually allot the moneys in the State Road and Bridge Fund.

The State Live Stock Sanitary Board was established by Chapter 352, Laws of 1903, consists of five members appointed by the governor, three of whom are required to be persons financially interested in the breeding and maintenance of live stock. The remaining two members are required to be graduate veterinarians practicing in the state. The duties of the board are to protect the health of the domestic animals of the state. The board is required to hold quarterly meetings in St. Paul. The secretary and executive officer, together with the field veterinarians, are required to be graduate veterinarians.

Law Library. The state library was originally established by an act of Congress creating the Territory of Minnesota in 1849. It is under the general supervision of the supreme court, and, though the scope of the library is not fixed by law, it has in fact been built up as a law and legislative reference library. It contains a fairly comprehensive collection of books of law, American, English, Canadian and Colonial. It also contains collections of Minnesota public documents and documents of other states and of the United States. It contains approximately 135,000 volumes. The state librarian is appointed by the governor for a term of two years.

The Commission of Administration and Finance was created by the Legislature in 1925 and has supervision and control over all state expenditures except certain expenditures made by the Board of Control. The University is exempted from supervision by reason of certain provisions of the State Constitution. The Commission consists of a Comptroller who succeeds to all the duties of the Public Examiner, which office was abolished by the reorganization act, a Budget Commissioner and a Commissioner of Purchases. The duties of the Printing Commission were transferred to this commission. All state buildings are to be constructed by the Commission, including those erected for the State Board of Control. Supplies and ordinary repairs for the Board of Control do not come under the supervision of the Commission, but it does buy coal for all state institutions. The Comptroller, in addition to his duties as a member of the Commission, has general supervision of all accounting systems in the several departments and the state institutions. The Budget Commissioner has direct charge of the making up of the biennial budget to the Legislature as well as the quarterly budgets required to be submitted to the Commission under the reorganization act. The Commissioner of Purchases has direct charge of the purchasing of all supplies and material and the erection of all buildings.

The Commerce Commission was also created by the reorganization act. This commission is composed of the Insurance Commissioner, Superintendent of Banks and the Commissioner of Securities. The act abolished the Securities Commission and a part of the duties of such commission was conferred upon the Commissioner of Securities and the remainder upon the Commerce Commission. The Commission has authority to grant charters to state banks and other financial institutions; also to authorize insurance companies to do business in this state. The commission is divided into three divisions, viz.: The Banking Division in charge of the Commissioner of Banks; an Insurance Division in charge of the Commissioner of Insurance; and a Securities Division in charge of the Commissioner of Securities.

The Department of Banking has supervisory powers over all state banks, building and loan associations, state trust companies, credit unions and certain other financial institutions. The Commissioner of Banks is also liquidator of all closed state banks. This Department is obliged by law to examine periodically those institutions under its supervision.

The Insurance Department was organized in 1872. The department has supervision of all classes of insurance companies doing business in the state. The commissioner is required to examine each domestic company at least once in three years, and he may examine foreign companies whenever in his opinion such examination is necessary. The commissioner is given authority to pass upon securities issued by insurance companies doing business in this state.

The State Fire Marshal. By the reorganization act of 1925 the office of state fire marshal was abolished and the commissioner of insurance was appointed ex-officio state fire marshal. The duty of this division is to enforce the laws relative to fire prevention, storage, sale and use of combustibles and explosives, the licensing of theatres and dry cleaning establishments, the investigation of suspicious fires, and the institution of prosecutions for arson.

The Commissioner of Securities makes all investigations relative to applications for licenses to sell securities, brokers' licenses and with the Commissioners of Banking and Insurance who compose the Department of Commerce act on the same, together with all applications for Bank charters and Insurance Companies requesting authority to do business in Minnesota.

The Conservation Commission was created by an act of the 1931 legislature. The five members are appointed by the governor for terms of varying length, serving without pay. The commission formulates and directs the policies of the Department of Conservation and appoints the State Commissioner of Conservation.

The Department of Conservation is directly responsible for the conservation and control of the public domain and natural resources of the state and for the organization, powers and duties of the Divisions of Forestry and Fire Prevention, Game and Fish, Lands and Minerals and Waters and Drainage, the Public Relations Division and the Tourist Bureau. The Commissioner of Conservation is the administrative head of the department. He appoints the directors of the several divisions and is responsible for the administration of the department. The creation of the comprehensive conservation department marks the beginning of unified control of Minnesota's natural resources.

The Director, Division of Forestry is charged with the duty of enforcing the forestry and fire prevention laws of the state.

The Game and Fish Director is charged with the duty of administering the laws relative to the protection of wild game and game fish.

The Industrial Commission consists of three members and succeeded the Department of Labor. It has general charge of the administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act, free employment agencies, investigation of strikes, and of the minimum wage law.

The Railroad and Warehouse Commission is made up of three (3) elective Commissioners who serve for six year terms. The commission has general jurisdiction over railroad rates and service and suburban electric lines; a jurisdiction over rates and certain security issues of street railways; a general jurisdiction over rates and service of express companies; the sampling, inspection and weighing of grain at country and terminal points; the licensing and bonding of hay, grain and straw commission merchants; the inspection and weighing of hay and straw; the weighing of commercial coal in carload lots at Duluth; the inspection and sealing of terminal elevator scales; full jurisdiction of weighing and measuring devices; the licensing, bonding and general regulation of local and terminal grain warehouses; the regulation, licensing and bonding of public storage warehousemen (other than grain and cold storage) in cities and villages of 5,000 population and over; the regulation as to rates and service of more than 2,000 telephone companies in the state; the weighing of livestock at the South St. Paul market; the regulation of common carrier motor vehicle operation where the same is afforded between fixed termini and over a regular route; the regulation of the construction, operation and maintenance of telephone lines and the lines of other utilities to prevent induction from one set of wires to another; the inspection of electric meters outside of cities of the first class, and many other incidental matters of importance to the public.

The various departments carrying out the powers of the Commission are the Grain Inspection and Weighing Division, the Live Stock Weighing Department, the Department of Scales, Weights and Measures, in addition to the Engineering, Telephone, Statistical, Railroad Rate and Auto Transportation Company divisions, a part of the General Office of the Commission. The Grain Inspection and Weighing Division, and the Live Stock Weighing Department are self-supporting from fees derived for the service performed.

The Grain Inspection Division is in charge of a Chief Inspector. The state is divided into three principal inspection districts—Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth—the inspection and weighing service, or both, have been established at many other places within the state and at five places outside the state.

The Weights and Measures Division was created by the Legislature in 1911 and it is the duty of those in charge of this department to see that all weights and measures conform to the United States standards.

The Telephone Division exercises powers over the telephone lines of the state similar to those exercised by the Commission over railroads and express companies. Over two thousand telephone companies are supervised and a state-wide investigation and valuation to determine and establish reasonable rates and charges for all classes of telephone services has been completed.

The Stock Yards Division regulates rates and charges and requires proper sanitary facilities, and supervises the weighing in all public yards; the licensing of livestock commission merchants and the control of their trade practices, subject to certain limitations imposed by the Federal Control Act of 1922.

The Boards of Grain Appeals at Duluth and Minneapolis consist of three members each, appointed by the Governor. The boards are required to meet annually in joint session and establish grades of all grains to be known as "Minnesota Grades." Appeals may be taken to these boards from the decision of inspectors of the Grain Inspection Department as to grades and dockage. The board is entirely independent of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission, but its salaries and expenses are paid from the Grain Inspection fund.

The Minnesota Rural Credit Bureau consists of three members, two of whom are appointed by the Governor, the third being appointed by the Attorney General. The bureau has the management and control of the system of rural credits provided for by Chapter 225, Laws of 1923. This act authorizes the making of loans to farmers upon improved farms occupied by the owners thereof. The purpose of the system is to promote agriculture, dairying, livestock raising and the development of farm lands in this state.

The Minnesota Tax Commission, created in 1907, exercises general supervision over the administration of the assessment and tax laws of the state, over assessors, town, village, city and county boards of review and equalization. It administers the laws governing the occupation tax on the mining industry, royalty taxes, and the gross earnings taxes of railroads, express, freight line, sleeping car, trust and telephone companies. It is given power to issue instructions and directions to assessors and other public officers administering the tax laws. County auditors are required to report to it as to the assessment of property and levying of taxes, and such other information as may be required affecting taxation generally.

MISCELLANEOUS BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

State Board of Parole. This board was created by legislative enactment in 1911. It is given power to parole prisoners from the state penal institutions, except such prisoners who have a life sentence. The act creating the board also incorporates the indeterminate sentence law. By this law the board is given power to release on parole prisoners at our state penal institutions when they are fit to take their place in society. The board as now constituted, under the act of 1931, consists of a full time chairman and two citizen or part time members, all appointed by the Governor for six year terms so arranged that only one term expires every two years.

The Board of Pardons. Created by Chapter 23 of the General Laws of 1897, and consists of the governor, chief justice of the supreme court and the attorney general. It has power to grant pardons and to commute the sentence of any person convicted of any offense against the laws of this state. The board meets quarterly, in January, April, July and October.

State Board of Investment. This board consists of the governor, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general and a designated member of the Board of Regents of the University. It invests the permanent trust funds, the state employees' retirement fund, the public employees' retirement fund, the teachers' insurance and retirement fund and the soldiers' welfare fund. It meets the first and third Wednesday of each month.

The Executive Council. Created by Chapter 426 of the General Laws of 1925, and consists of the governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer and the attorney general. It is vested with the powers formerly exercised by the Board of Timber Commissioners, State Board of Deposit, the Minnesota State Land Commission, State Board of Relief, the Capitol Grounds Commission and with other statutory duties. It meets on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

Board of Regents of State University. The State Constitution vests the government and general educational management of the State University in a Board of Regents, consisting of 12 members to be appointed by the Legislature. Its rights and duties are prescribed and fixed by an act of the 1851 Territorial Legislature and confirmed and perpetuated by the State Constitution. This act cannot be repealed or amended by the Legislature.

State Board of Education. This Board was authorized by Chapter 334, Session Laws of 1919, and consists of five representative citizens of the state, who are appointed by the governor, by and with the approval of the Senate, for a term of five years.

State Teachers' College Board. Section 2970, G. S. 1913, vests the educational management of the Teachers Colleges in a board of eight, who, with the Commissioner of Education, shall constitute this board. They are to be appointed by the Governor, subject to the confirmation of the Senate, for a term of four years. There shall be one director-resident in each county in which a normal school is located and no two shall be residents of the same county.

The State Teachers' Insurance and Retirement Fund is organized under authority of Chapter 406 of the laws of 1931 which repealed Chapter 199, Laws of 1915, under which the old Teachers Insurance and Retirement Fund was operated. The management of the Fund is vested in a Board of Trustees composed of the following: The state commissioner of education, the state auditor, the attorney general, and two members elected by the Fund Association.

State Employees Retirement Association. This association was created by the 1929 Legislature for the purpose of providing annuities under certain conditions for state employees, who have reached the age of sixty-five and who have been in the state employ twenty years. Funds are provided by monthly deductions of three and one-half per cent from salary warrants. The management of the association is vested in a State Retirement Board of seven members, consisting of the State Auditor, State Treasurer, Commissioner of Insurance, and four state employees to be chosen one each year from the association membership.

Minnesota Soldiers' Home. Management: Board of Trustees. Resident Manager: The Commandant. The Minnesota Soldiers' Home is located on land at the confluence of Minnehaha Creek with the Mississippi river in Minneapolis. It was established by the Legislature of 1887, acting on recommendations of a committee of the Department Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which made a study of two or more years' duration. The present estimated value of the property as in its going conditions, according to inventory, is $1,100,000.

The Minnesota Historical Society. Incorporated less than two months after the convening of the first territorial legislature in 1849, the Minnesota Historical Society is the oldest institution in the state. It is supported mainly by legislative appropriation. By gift and purchase it has accumulated one of the largest and best historical libraries in the West, containing approximately 174,000 books, pamphlets, and newspaper volumes. An important part of the library consists of materials on Minnesota history—the most comprehensive collection of its kind in existence. The library is strong in the general field of Americana, particularly in the subjects of the West, the Northwest, and Canada. It also has one of the largest collections of genealogical and biographical publications in the United States; and an extensive collection of material relating to the Scandinavians in the United States, which is supplemented by the special library of the Swedish Historical Society of America, on permanent deposit with the state society. In the society's division of manuscripts is a constantly growing body of letters, diaries, and other documents left by men and women who have played some part in the making of Minnesota. Included in this unique collection are the papers of such men as Sibley, Ramsey, Taliaferro, Steele, Donnelly, James W. Taylor, Knute Nelson, and the late Dr. William W. Folwell. Scarcely less important historically are the sixteen thousand bound volumes of Minnesota and other newspapers in the society's library, files extending from the first newspaper published in the territory down to the present. An historical museum, with varied displays, visualizes the external conditions of life in Minnesota's past. Of special interest is an exhibit in the form of a log cabin, which illustrates life on the Minnesota frontier in the middle fifties.

In 1919 the legislature recognized the society in effect as a state department of archives, and since that date non-current archives have been received for custody and administration from ten state departments and nine commissions and boards. These materials include executive records, census schedules, and pension papers from the offices respectively of the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Adjutant General.

The society publishes a quarterly magazine, Minnesota History, which was begun under a slightly different title in 1915. Among its other publications are Dr. William W. Folwell's four-volume History of Minnesota, a two-volume history of Minnesota in the War with Germany, and seventeen volumes in a series of Collections. In 1932 the first volume in a new series of Narratives and Documents, the diary and sketches of an artist—Frank B. Mayer—who visited Minnesota in 1851, appeared.

The society holds an annual meeting in January and conducts each summer an "historic tour" followed by an historical convention. It promotes the organization of local history work, cooperates with county historical societies, sponsors a survey of historic sites in the state, encourages the teaching of Minnesota history in the schools, conducts an "Information Bureau" which has prepared hundreds of reports in response to questions put before it, and in other ways supplements this program of public education. It has co-operated with the Minnesota highway department in the erection of more than eighty historical markers along state highways.

The society has a membership of about fifteen hundred. Dues amount to three dollars for annual, ten dollars for sustaining, and fifty dollars for life members. Membership, which is open to all, may be secured through application and payment of dues. The governing body is an executive council composed of thirty elected members and six state officers ex-officio.

The society occupies the Historical Building adjacent to the Capitol. This building was erected by the state at a cost of $500,000 and was dedicated on May 11, 1918. The reading room, museum, and galleries are open to the public daily from 9:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.

Live Stock Sanitary Board. Section 4690, General Statutes of 1913 authorized the appointment of this board, consisting of five members, each appointed for the term of five years. One is to be a person selected and recommended by the Minnesota Live Stock Breeders Association; two shall be persons financially interested in the breeding of livestock in the state, and the other two practicing veterinarians in the state and graduates of a regularly organized and recognized veterinary college.

State Agricultural Society—Minnesota's chief organization in aid of its principal industry is the Minnesota State Agricultural Society, which dates its corporate existence from the year 1868. It was not the first, as even in territorial days societies existed, the object of which was the advancement of the state's natural resources, but it was the first concrete attempt at consolidation and so marked was its success that its annual exposition has continued unchallenged to this day. Out of it all came the annual Minnesota state fair, regarded as the greatest of its kind on the North American continent. Up to 1885 the annual fairs of the society were held in different localities with varying financial success. That year the county of Ramsey, through the efforts of public-spirited citizens, conveyed to the State of Minnesota for state fair purposes 200 acres of land, located midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis, the same to be under the management of the State Agricultural society. The Legislature of the same year met the donation with an appropriation of $100,000 for permanent improvements, which was supplemented by private subscriptions to the extent of over $31,000. This investment, together with the grounds, might be said to be the real beginning of the largest annual agricultural and industrial meet in the United States, which since, through biennial aid on the part of the Minnesota legislature and its own earnings, has reached proportions in respect to buildings and investment far beyond the wildest dreams of its organizers. Up to 1903 state control of both the society and state fair only extended to such financial aid as was necessary, but the legislature of that year, recognizing the need of more intimate relations, together with a supervision that would place the two beyond the possibility of outside influence and petty interference with its internal affairs, enacted a law practically making both a department of the state government. In 1911, supplemental legislation was adopted defining and regulating membership in the State Agricultural society which was further amended in 1913, 1919, 1921, 1927, and 1931. This membership, together with the right to vote, includes three delegates to the annual meeting to be named by each county and district agricultural society, such honorary members as may be elected by a two-thirds vote at each annual meeting, one delegate from such counties having no county or district agricultural society and to be named by the county board, and two delegates and the president, ex-officio, representing the following societies and associations:

The state horticultural society, the state dairymen's association, the state beekeepers' association, the Minnesota live stock breeders' association, the Minnesota crop improvement association, the Minnesota swine breeders' association, the Minnesota sheep breeders' association, the Minnesota horse breeders' association, the Minnesota veterinary association, the Minnesota cattle breeders' association, the state poultry association, Minnesota implement dealers' association, the Minnesota florists' association, the Minnesota garden flowers association, the Minnesota county exhibitors' association, the Minnesota federation of county fairs, the state forestry association, Minnesota state nurserymen's association, the Minnesota state grange association, the Minnesota farm bureau federation and Minnesota creamery operators' and managers' association.

The following societies and associations shall be entitled to one vote each: Minneapolis market gardeners' association of Minnesota, the state growers' association, Minnesota Shorthorn breeders' association, Minnesota Guernsey breeders' association, Minnesota Jersey cattle club, Minnesota Holstein-Friesian breeders' association, the Minnesota Hereford breeders' association, Minnesota Aberdeen Angus breeders' association, Minnesota Red Polled breeders' association, Minnesota Ayrshire breeders' association, Minnesota Brown Swiss breeders' association, Minnesota Poland China breeders' association, Minnesota Duroc Jersey breeders' association, Minnesota Chester White breeders' association and Minnesota Berkshire breeders' association.

The members of the governing board of the State Agricultural society are entitled to one vote each. The annual meeting of the society occurs in St. Paul or Minneapolis on the Wednesday following the second Tuesday in January each year, and continues for three days, the election of officers occurring upon the last day of the session, when a president is elected for a term of one year; a vice president for a term of two years, and two or three managers as the case may be, for a term of three years. The entire membership of the governing board is one president, two vice presidents and eight managers, one manager being elected from each of the following congressional districts: First, second, third, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth.

The state appropriates $170,000 annually to aid in the payment of premiums at county and other fairs and exhibitions complying with the provisions of the law.

State Horticultural Society has for its work the gathering and dissemination of knowledge pertaining to forestry, fruit and vegetable growing, the culture of flowers, etc., adapted to the soil and climate of Minnesota. The present working membership of the society consists of more than 3,600 professional and amateur horticulturists, throughout the Northwest. The following organizations are auxiliaries to the Horticultural Society: Minnesota Garden Flower Society, Minnesota Beekeepers Association, N. W. Peony & Iris Society, Minnesota State Florists Association, Duluth Garden Flower Society, Minnesota Nurserymen's Association, Goodhue County Horticultural Society, Rochester Garden Club, State Gladiolus Society, Garden Club of Ramsey County, Askov Garden Club, Lac Qui Parle Horticultural Society, Morrison County Flower and Garden Club, The State Growers Association, St. Paul; Lake Minnetonka Garden Club, The Garden Flower Society of Marietta, Woman's Garden Club of New Brighton, The University of Minnesota Faculty Women's Garden Club, Detroit Lakes Garden Club, Women's Community Club of Harris, Annandale Improvement Club, Annandale; Homemakers Study Club, Minneapolis; Montevideo Home Beautification Club, Montevideo; Bird Island Garden Club, Bird Island; Alexandria Women's Club, Alexandria; Paynesville Flower Growers, Paynesville; Aitkin Garden Club, Aitkin; Westside Federation Club, St. Paul; Sylvana Women's Club, Isle; Little Garden Club, Wayzata; Hopkins Garden Club; Saint Paul Garden Club. A vegetable garden for each home, a shelter belt for each farm and trees for each school are sought.

State Athletic Commission. This commission was created at the 1915 session of the Legislature and consists of three members who have charge of boxing in Minnesota as defined under the sections of the act. The members are appointed by the Governor.

The Minnesota Commission on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Project was provided for in a joint resolution of the Legislature of 1919, to promote in conjunction with like commissions in other states the establishment of a deep waterway connection for ocean-going vessels between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic ocean. Three members named by the Governor make up the commission and they serve without pay, but its expenses are provided for by Legislative appropriation.

Upper Mississippi and St. Croix River Improvement Commission. This commission was created by the 1927 Legislature for the purpose of promoting the development of navigation on the Upper Mississippi and the St. Croix Rivers. It is composed of five members appointed by the Governor.

State Board of Law Examiners. This board consists of not less than three nor more than seven attorneys at law, appointed for a term of three years by the justices of the supreme court. Its officers are a president and secretary. It is required to hold public examinations of persons desirous of being admitted to the bar and report to the supreme court at least three times a year. Certificates authorizing the holder to practice law are issued by the court upon recommendation by the board.

State Board of Health. Section 4636, General Statutes of 1913 provide that this board shall consist of nine members, learned in sanitary science, who shall be appointed by the Governor for such periods that the term of three members shall end on the first Monday of January in each year.

State Board of Medical Examiners consists of seven physicians appointed by the Governor. The Board is authorized to grant licenses upon examination to persons desirous of practicing medicine, midwifery or massage, and to revoke such licenses for cause.

The State Board of Pharmacy consists of five registered pharmacists actually engaged in the retail drug business, appointed by the governor for a term of five years. The state pharmaceutical association may recommend five names for each appointment to be made from which the Governor may select. It has general supervision over all places where drugs, medicines and poisons are sold, compounded or manufactured. The board is required to meet at least once in every three months to examine applicants for registration as pharmacists.

The State Board of Dental Examiners consists of five practicing dentists appointed by the Governor, each for a term of five years. At least two regular meetings are held each year at times fixed by the Board and may hold special meetings as occasion demands. All meetings are held at the College of Dentistry of the State University. The board is authorized to revoke licenses for cause.

The State Veterinary Examining Board consists of five qualified veterinarians appointed by the Governor for a term of five years. It is authorized to issue licenses upon examination to persons wishing to practice the veterinary profession.

The State Board of Osteopathy consists of five osteopathic physicians appointed by the Governor. Its officers are a president and secretary. Its regular meetings are the second Tuesday of March and September. It is authorized to examine applicants and grant licenses to practice osteopathy.

The State Board of Examiners of Nurses was provided for by the 1907 session of the Legislature. The board consists of five nurses appointed by the Governor for a term of five years. The board may appoint a Director of Nursing Education. Examinations for the registration of graduate nurses are held semi-annually in Duluth, Rochester and St. Paul.

The State Board of Optometry consists of five optometrists appointed by the Governor for a term of three years. The board is required to meet at least once a year at St. Paul to examine applicants for certificates to practice optometry.

The State Barbers' Board consists of three members appointed by the Governor, each for a term of three years. One of these must be recommended by a barbers' union. The board is required to hold at least one examination yearly in each of four different cities and to grant certificates to successful applicants.

State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, as created in 1919, is made up of five members, graduates of different chiropractic schools and of at least three years' practice in Minnesota. It is authorized to license chiropractors and to revoke or cancel licenses for stated reasons.

State Board of Chiropody Examiners, established under a law of 1917, consists of five members, appointed by the Governor, each for a five-year term. Its duties are to examine and license chiropodists to practice in Minnesota.

The State Board of Electricity consists of five members appointed by the Governor, each for a term of five years. Two members of the board must be master electricians, two journeymen electricians recommended by unions of the craft, and one a consulting engineer or electrical inspector of a city. The board is authorized to issue licenses to persons wishing to engage in the occupation of operating, installing or repairing electrical wires or apparatus after examination.

State Board of Accountancy. Provision for this board is made in Chapter 439, Laws of 1909. Its members are certified public accountants appointed by the Governor for a term of three years. It issues certificates to those successfully passing an examination in practical accounting, accounting theory, auditing, commercial law, economics and public finance and such other subjects pertaining to accounting as the board may deem necessary. The board may revoke certificates for bad moral character, dishonesty, conviction of crime, incompetency or unprofessional conduct.

State Building Commission. This commission was created by Chapter 309, Law of 1929 for the purpose of erecting a State Office Building adjacent to the State Capitol and the cost not to exceed $1,500,000. The building was started December 3, 1931 and completed and occupied before January 1st, 1933. The term of the commissioners expired upon completion of the building.

Board of Registration for Architects. This board was created by Chapter 523, Laws of 1921, and consists of seven members appointed by the Governor, for the registration of architects, engineers and land surveyors.

Board of Commissioners for the Promotion of Uniformity of Legislation. This board, consisting of three members, who are learned in the law, is appointed by the Governor, the Chief Justice and Attorney General, under the provisions of Chapter 68, Session Laws of 1911.

The Stallion Registration Board was created by the 1907 Legislature. It is made up of the professor of animal husbandry of the Minnesota College of Agriculture, the veterinary of the State Experimental Station and the president of the Minnesota Horse Breeders' Association. The act makes suitable provisions for the inspection of all animals subject to registration and provides for a licensing of the animal by the board.

The Board of Basic Sciences was created by the 1927 Legislature, and consists of five members appointed by the Governor. The duties of the board are to pass upon the qualifications of those who desire to treat ailments of the human body, and to issue certificates of registration in the basic sciences to those who pass the prescribed examination.

The Board of Hair Dressers and Beauty Culture was created by the 1927 Legislature. It is composed of three members appointed by the Governor. It is authorized to issue licenses to hair dressers and beauty culturists, after they have taken and passed the prescribed examination.

THE MILITARY DEPARTMENT

Commander-in-Chief

GOVERNOR FLOYD B. OLSON

Executive Officer of the Department

Brigadier General Ellard A. Walsh, The Adjutant General

Lieutenant-Colonel J. E. Nelson, Assistant Adjutant General

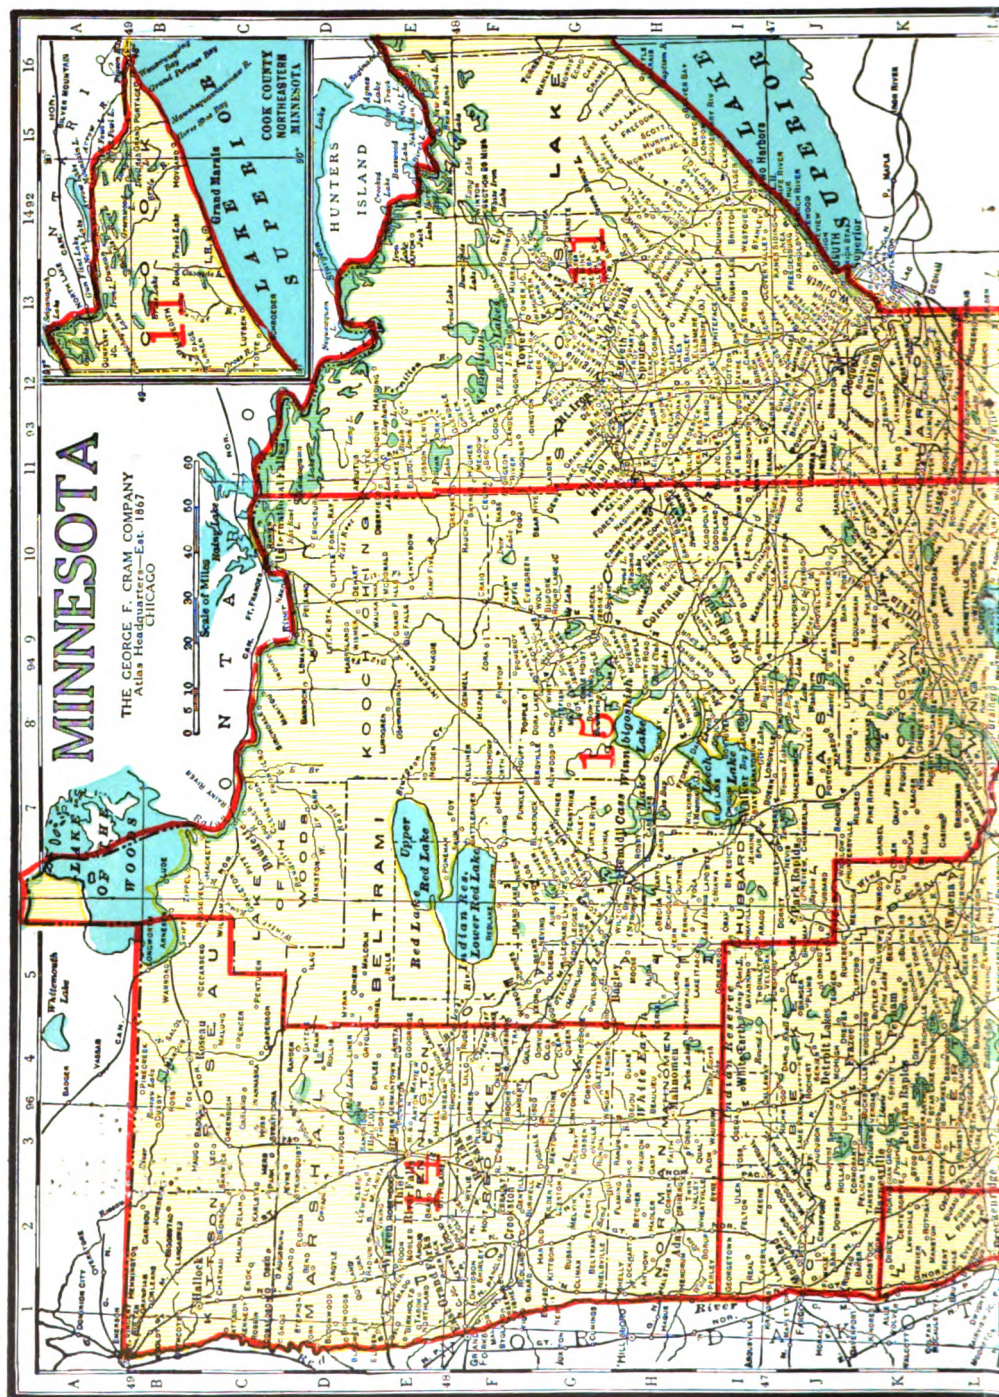

The Adjutant General is charged with the administration, training, discipline and equipping of the military and naval forces of the Commonwealth and in addition with the administration of certain non-military activities relating to the maintenance of the war records, registration of graves of veteran dead, soldier burial, soldier headstones and markers, care of certain cemeteries, the Spanish War Veteran's Relief and the prosecution of all pension claims against the federal government incident to war service and of pensions resulting from the Sioux outbreak of 1862.

The Military Force of the Commonwealth is designated as the National Guard and is equipped and to a large extent maintained by the Federal Government under the provisions of the National Defense Act, as amended. The National Guard consists of the State Staff Corps, State detachment, 92nd Infantry Brigade, and the following elements of the 34th Division: Division Staff, 59th Field Artillery Brigade, 68th Infantry Brigade (less one regiment), 34th Division Aviation, and 118th Motor Repair Section, 34th Division Trains. These organizations contain eighty-seven units located at fifty-one stations throughout the State and each is housed in an armory which, with few exceptions, has been provided by the Commonwealth. On October 31, 1932, the National Guard had a strength of 366 officers, 5 warrant officers, and 4,643 enlisted men, or an aggregate of 5,006. The maximum strength authorized aggregates 5,122. The National Guard is exceptionally well equipped and has ample and satisfactory armory and field training facilities.

The Navy forces are designated as the Naval Militia and are identical in organization and personnel with the United States Naval Reserve Force, in accordance with the Act of February 28, 1925. The Naval Militia consists of the Seventh Naval Regiment and the Naval Aviation. The naval regiment consists of seven divisions organized into three battalions, one each at Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Duluth—the latter station being the headquarters. The Aviation is stationed at the Naval Aviation Base in Minneapolis. The strength of the force on October 31, 1932 was 59 officers and 411 enlisted men assigned to the Fleet Reserve, there being no volunteers enrolled in the Naval Militia.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS

The Judiciary

The constitution vests the judicial power of the state in a supreme court, district courts, courts of probate, justices of the peace, and such other courts, inferior to the supreme court, as the legislature may from time to time establish by a two-thirds vote. Pursuant to this power the legislature has established municipal and conciliation courts.

The Supreme Court

The supreme court consists of a chief justice and six associate justices, each elected for a term of six years.

The supreme court has original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law, and has appellate jurisdiction in all cases both in law and in equity. Appeals may be taken to it from all district courts and from some municipal courts.

One term of court is held in each year, beginning on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January and continues to the end of the year, with such recesses as the court may order.

The clerk of the supreme court, elected for a term of four years, keeps such dockets, journals and other records as may be required.

The reporter of the supreme court is appointed by the court to report all cases decided by it and prepare for publication, in volumes known as "Minnesota Reports," the opinions of the court and appropriate data incident to them.

The Lower Courts

The district courts are divided by the legislature into 19 judicial districts, each having one or more judges elected for a term of six years, and holding terms as provided by law. They are courts of general jurisdiction and have jurisdiction of all civil actions and criminal prosecutions, including appeals from probate courts, municipal courts, and from justices of the peace.

There is a probate court established in each county, presided over by a judge elected for a term of four years. It has exclusive jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction.

Justices of the peace are elected in cities, villages and towns. A justice of the peace has jurisdiction over actions at law arising within his county where the amount involved does not exceed $100, and over criminal prosecutions where the punishment prescribed does not exceed a fine of $100 or imprisonment for not more than three months.

Municipal courts are established in cities and villages, and generally have jurisdiction in civil actions at law where the amount involved does not exceed five hundred dollars, and in criminal prosecutions where the punishment does not exceed a fine of one hundred dollars or imprisonment for not more than three months. The jurisdiction of a municipal court is coextensive with the county wherein it is located. Appeals may be taken direct to the supreme court from the judgments of the municipal courts in some of the larger cities.

STATE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

The constitutional mandate, which makes it the duty of the legislature to establish a general and uniform system of public schools and to provide for their support, has been complied within the building up of a well organized and efficient school system, based on both state and local support and administration. Under its liberal provisions elementary, secondary, and higher education are made available to all residents of the state.

Except for one county (Lake), the district system of local administration and support prevails, and each district is under the direction of a school board elected by the people. With the exception of certain special districts, including among them several of the larger cities, the powers of the school board are independent of municipal or township control. But for certain official reports which are made through his office, the powers and duties of the county superintendent, likewise an elective officer, are confined to the rural schools.

State administration is vested in a Department of Education under the direction of a non-salaried State Board of Education, the members of which are appointed by the Governor with the consent of the senate for overlapping terms of five years. According to the law the Board consists of five representative citizens, none of whom may hold any other state office, elective or appointive, or be employed in any state institution. The Board appoints the Commissioner of Education, who is its executive officer and secretary. The other officials and employees in the Department are nominated by the commissioner and elected by the Board. The State Board of Education is likewise the State Board for Vocational Education, required for purposes of cooperation under the Federal Vocational act. (For personnel of the State Board of Education, see page 448.)

The State Department of Education exercises general supervision over the public schools of the state, including school buildings, teachers' qualifications, curriculum and standards, library and equipment, records and accounting, and directs the distribution of state aid according to law. It advises superintendents and school boards and assists them in their administration, securing for them, when necessary, the advice of the attorney general in their affairs.

It maintains, as one of its divisions, a Teachers' Employment Bureau where teachers desiring positions may register their qualifications and where school boards may be able to secure teachers.

Closely related to its work in the schools, it administers the Traveling and Reference Library, which renders wide service in the state. It also maintains an advisory relationship with the public libraries.

Although not directly related to the public schools, there is maintained in the Department of Education, a Division of Re-education in which, through the use of state and federal funds, it provides vocational education for physically handicapped persons and assists in their placement.

The state's share in school support approximates from year to year a fifth of the cost of school maintenance. There are three state funds for the support of schools, as follows:

- (1) The Endowment fund, which consists of the income from the Permanent School fund.

- (2) The amount derived from a one-mill tax.

- (3) The Special State Aid fund, which consists of the sums appropriated biennially by the legislature from the general revenue fund of the state, for purposes designated in law.

The first two are apportioned to districts on the basis of school attendance. The purposes of the Special State Aid fund and the sums to be paid are to be found in the several state aid laws.

The first purpose announced is to equalize educational opportunities, including (a) payment for transportation of pupils and assistance in the erection of buildings in consolidated districts, (b) payment of tuition in high schools for non-resident pupils, (c) assistance in providing for the school attendance of isolated pupils.

The second purpose is to aid in establishing minimum standards and includes the payment of an amount fixed by law for each high school, graded elementary, or ungraded school which meets the standards established by the State Board of Education.

The third purpose announced is to stimulate educational progress. Under this head is included aid to encourage the maintenance of special departments in high schools, in agriculture, home economics, general industrial training and commercial training. Federal aid is also available for the first three of these subjects.

Under this head also is included aid to encourage the establishment in public schools of special classes for defective children, the blind, crippled, deaf, subnormal, or those with defective speech.

The state likewise, through the payment of half the cost of instruction, encourages school districts to maintain evening schools for adults. This represents Minnesota's method of caring for the problem of educating illiterates and preparing aliens for naturalization.

The fourth purpose stated in the law is to assist school districts with a high tax levy. Under this provision the state supplements the amounts districts with low valuation are able to raise, in order to maintain satisfactory schools.

The fifth purpose makes provision for reimbursement to high schools of the cost of maintaining departments to train teachers for rural schools.

State Teachers' Colleges. Twenty years after the establishment in Massachusetts of the first normal school in the United States, the Minnesota State Legislature at its first session in 1858 provided for three state normal schools "to educate and prepare teachers for teaching in the common schools." These were opened at Winona in 1860, Mankato in 1868, and St. Cloud in 1869. Later, as population extended west and north, three more were provided at intervals and opened at Moorhead in 1888, Duluth in 1902, and Bemidji in 1919.

The State Normal Schools, their title but not their function, changed in 1921 to State Teachers' Colleges, are governed by a board of eight members appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate for terms of four years, and the commissioner of education who is ex-officio a member and secretary. The law provides that one member shall be resident in the county where a college is located. (For personnel of the teachers' college board see page 448.)

The presidents of the six teachers' colleges in 1931 are as follows:

Winona, Guy E. Maxwell, appointed in 1904.
Mankato, Frank D. McElroy, appointed in 1930.
St. Cloud, George A. Selke, appointed in 1927.
Moorhead, Ray B. MacLean, appointed in 1923.
Duluth, Eugene W. Bohannon, appointed in 1901.
Bemidji, Manfred W. Deputy, appointed in 1919.

The teachers' colleges devote themselves entirely to the preparation of teachers for the elementary and secondary schools, mainly the former. Each of the colleges maintains two-year courses for teachers in graded elementary and rural schools and five offer also a partial one-year course for rural teachers. Each maintains four-year courses for elementary and high school teachers, the completion of which the degree, Bachelor of Education, is conferred. Courses in special fields and for supervisors are likewise offered.

The diplomas issued on the completion of the different curriculums furnish the bases on which corresponding certificates are issued by the state department of education, which qualify teachers in the public schools.

Each college maintains a demonstration school for observation and practice teaching and each has cooperative relationships with public schools, town and country, for the same purpose.

The teachers' colleges are supported by appropriations made biennially by the Legislature.

 M. J. THOMPSON, Superintendent Northeast Experiment Station, Duluth.
 R. E. HODGSON, Superintendent Southeast Experiment Station, Waseca.

The University of Minnesota is the most widely known and most broadly serviceable institution maintained by the State of Minnesota.

Offering, as it does, the benefits of higher education and the consequent possibilities of advancement, to every boy and girl born in Minnesota who has the perseverance to complete a high school course or its equivalent, it holds out one of the great hopes for the future Minnesota, both to the young, who look forward to attendance there, and to the parents, who long to see further ambitions of their own fulfilled by the accomplishments of their children.

Although its enrollment at the end of December, 1924, made the University of Minnesota one of the largest institutions of higher education in the entire world, and although its recognized high rank in scholarship and accomplishment has long made it one of the best known universities, education at Minnesota can be obtained at a cost much below that required by conditions at the great endowed institutions of the East. Government statistics show also that cost of living in Minneapolis and St. Paul is consistently lower than it is in most of the other cities or towns where state universities, west or east, are established. Tuition charges at the University of Minnesota are well below those of most endowed universities and colleges.

Official figures compiled by the registrar show that on December 6, 1932, a total of 19,524 men and women were studying in courses directed by the University of Minnesota. Of these 11,999 were students in the sixteen schools and colleges that comprise the University proper. In the five schools of secondary grade, supported and supervised by the University, namely, the University High School, Central School of Agriculture, Northwest School of Agriculture, West Central School of Agriculture, and North Central School of Agriculture, were another 1,003 students. Evening extension classes made up 4,031 of the total, members of classes taught by correspondence added 2,541, and at that particular time 104 students were attending one of the general extension short courses and 107 were attending the agricultural short courses that are offered from time to time during each year.

Between December 22, 1928, and December 6, 1932, the increase in attendance at the sixteen schools and colleges, which are the heart of the University, was from 11,885 to 11,999.

Briefly described, the sixteen colleges which make up the University of Minnesota are as follows:

College of Science, Literature, and the Arts (Academic College): This is the college in which students not specializing in a professional school study to obtain a liberal education in the broad cultural sense. Here also they take the preliminary work fitting them for admission to the professional or semi-professional colleges. (Four year course.)

College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics: This college is to all intents and purposes described by its title. Men and women whose life work is to be agriculture, the allied profession of forestry, or the capable conduct of the home are here given the best possible opportunities to acquire expert knowledge based on the experience and research of generations. (Four year course.)

Law School: A professional school to fit students for admission to the Minnesota bar and for the expert and ethical practice of law. Two years of work in the Academic College are required for admission. (Two, three and four year courses.)

Medical School: A professional school for training physicians and surgeons for service to the people of Minnesota. Two years of work in the Academic College are required for admission. (Five year course.)

As a division of the Medical School, a school of Nursing is conducted for the training of both general and special nurses. A course for Medical Technicians is also maintained.

College of Dentistry: A professional school for training dentists and dental hygienists. Two years of work in the Academic College are required for admission. (Three year course.) A course for Dental Hygienists is also maintained.

School of Mines and Metallurgy: A four year course of training in preparation for the profession of mining engineer.

School of Mines Experiment Station: A state supported research institution working on problems of the extraction and treatment of mineral resources in Minnesota. The United States Bureau of Mines maintains an office and laboratory in the station.

School of Chemistry: A collegiate division of the University specializing in the science of chemistry.

College of Pharmacy: Devoted to the instruction of men and women who desire to become registered pharmacists under the law of the State of Minnesota which now includes graduation from a recognized college of pharmacy, that is from a four year course.

College of Education: A college specializing in the preparation of men and women to serve as teachers in Minnesota high schools, as supervisors, principals or superintendents of Minnesota public schools, or as college teachers.

School of Business Administration: A collegiate division of the University in which are offered the courses in economics, accounting, marketing and allied subjects, together with specialized training that particularly fits the student to enter the business field.

Graduate School: The unit of the University of Minnesota in which students who have been granted the bachelor's degree at the completion of a four year course can continue their studies along some specialized line, leading to graduate degrees.

College of Engineering and Architecture: A college devoted to the technical education of those who desire to make a profession of engineering in any of several branches or of architecture.

Engineering Experimental Laboratories: An experiment station devoted to problems of engineering in its various branches. The Minnesota State Highway Department maintains its division of tests and inspection in this station.

The University Hospitals: Under the act creating the Minnesota General Hospital, the hospitals on the University campus are available for the care and treatment of indigent patients from any Minnesota community, thousands of whom are treated each year. A certificate signed by a county commissioner will warrant admission. Half of the expense of hospitalization is then paid by the state and half by the county.

Minnesota Hospital and Home for Crippled Children: This is a unit of the University Hospitals, created and endowed by the gifts of the late William Henry Eustis of Minneapolis. It will consist eventually of a hospital for the care of children disabled by crippling or other afflictions, and a convalescent home in which these children may be cared for and instructed during the period when it is necessary to keep them under special care after they leave the hospital. The hospital unit recently erected on the Minnesota campus as part of three-unit hospital addition will also care for the Student Health Service and Outpatient Department. The convalescent home will be constructed in the relatively near future when plans for its location and management have been completed.

Minnesota Geological Survey: A continuing state investigation, allotted to the University, which annually conducts an intensive study of some important phase of the state's mineral resources, water, soils, or topography.

The Zoological Museum: A department devoted to the recording and preserving of data and specimens of Minnesota animal life and to the instruction of the public with respect to birds, animals and fish.

Special Services: The Minnesota tax commission employs the expert services of members of the University staff in valuing ore deposits and in placing valuation on the properties of public service corporations of some kinds. The University also provides laboratory space on the campus for the State Highway Department. It conducts at Zumbra Heights, Lake Minnetonka, the state fruit breeding station, operates a Forest Experiment Station at Cloquet and a State Experimental Creamery at Albert Lea. It supervises the work of county agents, wherever situated in the state, and pays their salaries in part. It conducts numerous annual short courses in agriculture, chief among them being Farmers and Homemakers Week, and the yearly short course for Editors. On the main campus short courses are conducted for physicians, dentists, morticians, and the like. The secretary of the League of Minnesota Municipalities is a member of the University staff. Schoolmen's Week, conducted annually by the College of Education, with the co-operation of the State Department of Education, offers special opportunities for teachers, principals, supervisors, and superintendents to hear the ideas of national leaders in education. Statewide athletic events are conducted by the Department of Physical Education and Athletics. The Statewide High School Music Contest has been an event of recent years.

Library Instruction: In 1929 a Division of Library Instruction was instituted, under the direction of the University Librarian, to train workers for duties in high school, college, and public libraries.

Institute of Child Welfare: Under a ten-year grant from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial, a foundation, the Institute of Child Welfare is conducting an effective and practical series of investigations into the habits, abilities, and methods of training and educating young children. Through extension classes, lectures, and bulletins it is giving widespread publicity to information which is of supreme importance to every home in which there is a child and to the citizenship of the future.

University Extension: In addition to giving instructions in all the above schools and colleges, the University renders two very significant services to the people of the state. First, it conducts many instruction services off the campus. During 1931-32 there were 6,160 students received regular instruction in classes of the General Extension Division maintained by the University during the evening hours. Some of these were maintained in Minneapolis, others in St. Paul, others in Duluth, others in Hibbing, and so on throughout the more populous centers of the state. These courses provide credit towards graduation from the University to students who have complied with the entrance requirements.

In addition there were 3,388 who took regular work by correspondence, 433 in general extension short courses and 1,838 others who took work in agricultural short courses.

Finally, primarily in the interest of those students who desire to fit themselves for the pursuit of agriculture and yet have not finished high school and therefore are not entitled to enter the University classes, the University conducts work of less than college grade of five different centers. In these schools there were last year 1,341 students enrolled. This includes 403 in University High School.

Besides the phases of instruction off the campus already mentioned, which carry the University's services throughout the state by means of short courses, extension and correspondence work, visual instruction, community service, and the like, the work of the Four-H clubs and of the Home Demonstration agents of the Department of Agriculture serves further to extend the institution's effectiveness throughout Minnesota.

The University Junior College: This college is made up in its curriculum entirely of broad, survey courses of the various fields of man's knowledge and activity. It is designed to give a two year general education, a foundation in the humanities at the university level which is terminated by the Associate in Arts degree for those who cannot take a longer course. It is, also, purposed that this college shall serve to give a broad foundation of knowledge for further specialized work and to help students arrive at an understanding of themselves and their capacities so that they can make out a reasonable future educational and vocational plan.

University College: This is a college for students who have special objectives not provided for in the regular college curricula. With the advice and sanction of the University College Committee these students may be permitted to pursue programs of work best adapted to their individual needs and purposes. As a rule students enter this college only after one or more years of attendance at the University. The degree B.A. or B.S. is granted upon the satisfactory completion of an approved course of study.

Research: Continuous researches that extend the boundaries of knowledge and solve, or help find solution for, urgent problems of health, agriculture, education, business and the like, are conducted by University specialists. Examples of the effectiveness of research may be found in the development of new crop varieties, fruits and berries; in discovering means to resist plant disease, ways of planting areas with peculiar soils; remedies for animal diseases such as mineral deficiency or contagious abortion, blackleg or hog cholera, or the diseases of fowls. Contributions of research workers under the Medical School and Mayo Foundation are nationally recognized, as are many of the contributions to educational science produced at Minnesota. Researches looking to the solution of the problem of marketing low-grade iron ore as commercial material will eventually add hundreds of millions to the state's resources.

University Administration: The University of Minnesota is governed by a board of twelve regents whose terms of office are six years. The president of the University of Minnesota is the administrative head, and the chief finance officer is the comptroller.

Internal affairs of the University of Minnesota are governed by the University Senate, composed of the president, deans, all professors, including associate and acting professors, the comptroller, certain other administrative officers, and the University Librarian. Some others who do not devote full time to university work are members without power to vote. The registrar of the University is clerk of the Senate and custodian of its records.

MINNESOTA'S GOVERNMENT

Minnesota, known as The North Star State, because of the territory north of the Lake of the Woods being the northernmost land in the entire United States, has a government common to the other states.

Like the national government, the State Constitution, adopted in 1857, changing the Minnesota territory, organized in 1849, to a real unit of the United States, provides for legislative, judicial and executive branches.

As conditions have changed in the past seventy-six years, it has been necessary to broaden the powers and branches of government, especially as to commissions to care for the ever-increasing state institutions and for regulating industries which have sprung into existence since the state was created, such as railroads, street car companies, telephone, heating, lighting and power systems. The Constitution, as amended, provides for the present form of government.

The legislative branch of the state government is the Minnesota Legislature, with its forty-eighth session in 1933. There are 67 legislative districts, each of which has one member in the State Senate and from one to four members per district in the House, making 67 state senators and 131 House members. Senators and representatives are paid $1,000 for each two-year period. The House members are elected every two years, while the State Senators are elected for four years each even year that is not a presidential election year.

The Legislature enacts the statutes, or laws, which in no way conflict with the Constitutional provisions. In case it is considered necessary to pass laws not authorized by the Constitution, the Legislature submits an amendment to the Constitution to the people of the state, which must have a majority of all votes cast at that election.

The Legislature also makes appropriations for expenses of the state departments, the support of schools, the University of Minnesota, state institutions, erection of state buildings and for other expenses. The Legislature delegates to the State Auditor power to fix the state tax rate and to levy a tax for state revenue purposes. The Legislature meets every two years—in January of odd-numbered years.

The executive branch of the state government is headed by the Governor. The other state executives are the lieutenant governor, attorney general, state auditor, secretary of state, and state treasurer. Their duties are fixed by the Constitution and by statute. An executive officer is not subject to the control or interference of the judiciary in the performance of duties belonging to him as an executive officer. The terms of the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general are for two years. The auditor and clerk of the supreme court are elected for four years. The lieutenant governor is ex-officio president of the Senate and receives $2,000 per two-year term. In case of a vacancy in the governor's office the lieutenant governor becomes the state's chief executive. Before the close of each Senate session a president pro tempore is elected, who shall be lieutenant governor in case of a vacancy.

The judicial branch of the state government consists of the Supreme Court, district courts, probate courts, municipal courts, conciliation courts, and justices of the peace. The duties and functions of the courts are detailed under the section headed "The Judiciary."

As times have changed, due to new inventions, discoveries and rapid forward strides in population, it has been necessary for the state government to expand and to create new departments and increase the number of officials to care for the work. Among these departments is the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of three members, elective, in charge of railroads, telephones, street railway systems, the stockyards, grain inspection and other affairs.

Practically all of the other commissioners are appointed by the Governor, with many for six-year terms.

The county governments of the state are similar to those in other states with boards of county commissioners, auditors, treasurers, registers of deeds, county attorneys, judges of probate, surveyors, coroners, clerks of court, court commissioners and superintendents of schools in each county and some additional commissioners in Ramsey and St. Louis counties. Otherwise there are five commissioners in each county. The pay is not uniform, some of the larger counties paying more than the others.

Minnesota is one of the larger states, being the eleventh in area, with an average length of about 350 miles from north to south and an average width of 240 miles from east to west. It comprises 84,286 square miles, having 5,637 square miles of lakes and rivers, about 31,800 square miles of prairie and, until largely cleared for farming, it had nearly 50,000 square miles of forest. It is from 602 to 2,302 feet above the sea level, and Federal reports show Minnesota's larger cities to be near the head of the list as ideal for health. The exploration of this area by white people was begun in 1655 to 1660, and a trading post was established near the outlet of Lake Pepin in 1689.

In the matter of financing, Minnesota is probably the most fortunate state in the union, having the largest trust funds of any state in the country, except Texas, and a reported higher net total than all of the states east of the Mississippi combined.

The various trust funds approximate $80,742,463.50. This includes approximately seven million in land contract bearing 4 per cent interest in the school, internal improvement, swamp and other land funds. The United States gave outright to the state 8,445,961 acres, of which 2,976,454 acres were for the common schools and 91,524 for the University.

The state government has closely guarded this great heritage and every cent ever received from the sale of land, timber and iron ore royalties is still in these funds. The school fund at the start of the fiscal year 1933 was $63,175,470.91 and it is estimated that iron ore now under lease will add at least $50,000,000 more. Much state land also remains to be sold to further increase the funds. The university permanent fund is $5,618,845.06, and ore now leased will almost double it. The internal improvement land fund is $381,762.50. The swamp land fund of $11,566,385.03 also will be about doubled, as well as the other trust funds.

The above permanent trust funds had a cash balance June 30, 1932 of $549,932.86 to be invested. The above corrected figures are the exact amount of securities in the custody of the state treasurer.

There are two ore leases under lakes that will net about $4,000,000 for the state.

During the war as much as 46,189,000 tons of iron ore were shipped from the state in a year, or 62 per cent of the nation's total output. Almost a billion tons have been shipped from the state and more than 1,258,232,624 tons remain. One state-owned mine, the Missabe Mountain, near Virginia, covering 160 acres, contains 23,300,000 tons of commercial ore. This mine alone will yield the state school fund $16,000,000.

While Minnesota is rich as a mineral state, its industries are diversified with agriculture the principal industry, although it has the greatest wheat flour mills in the world at Minneapolis, huge granite quarries, building stone, brick plants, sewer pipe and pottery works, and raw materials for lime and cement. The commercial fisheries are no small item, producing millions of pounds of fish from Lake Superior and other lakes. Prof. E. K. Soper, formerly of the University of Minnesota, has estimated that there are more than 6,800,000,000 tons of peat, which might be made to serve the state as fuel.

The timber industry, while it has seen its best days in central and southern Minnesota, is still an important industry in the north, with the large mills at Cloquet, International Falls, and other places. The reforestation program promises to keep Minnesota in the lumber-producing stage for an indefinite period.

Minnesota state taxes are lighter in comparison to the benefits received than most states—though taxes always are a sore point with the property owner, whether his taxes are low or high.

MINNESOTA STATE INSTITUTIONS

UNDER MANAGEMENT OF STATE BOARD OF CONTROL

(Data given herein are as of June 30, 1932)

Anoka State Asylum. This institution, created by an act of the legislature in 1899, was opened in 1900 with 115 patients transferred from the St. Peter State Hospital. It consists of a main building, including two wings for male patients and ten cottages for female patients, one of which is equipped as an infirmary. The central part of the main building contains the dining room and kitchen for male patients, reception room, and living rooms for employes. Other principal buildings are a service building containing kitchen for the women patients, bakery and dining room, assembly hall and chapel, administration building, greenhouse, a complete set of farm buildings, power plant, and cottages for the chief engineer and the head farmer. All principal buildings are connected by underground tunnels. Inmate population, 1,094; land area, 733 acres; officers and employes, 96; value of land and buildings, $1,140,803. Superintendent, Arthur T. Caine, M.D.

Hastings State Asylum. This asylum, authorized by the legislature in 1899, was opened the following year with 115 patients transferred from the Rochester State Hospital. The institution was originally built for both men and women patients, but now cares for men exclusively. The buildings are a main or administration building, with east and west wings which have recently been reconstructed and fireproofed, nine cottages for patients (one of which is an infirmary), service building, laundry, occupational building, dormitory for employes, superintendent's cottage, and a new central power plant. The farm group consists of four barns, two silos, creamery, greenhouse, etc. Inmate population, 1,083; land area, 749 acres; officers and employes, 134; value of land and buildings, $1,094,524. Superintendent, Wm. J. Yanz.

Willmar State Asylum. This institution was established by the legislature of 1907 as a hospital farm for inebriates. In order to provide funds for the purchase of land and the construction of buildings, the act provided for the levying of a tax of two per cent upon all license fees for the sale of intoxicating liquor. The original institution was opened in 1912. In 1917 the act was amended to provide for the care of the chronic insane, and the same year 91 patients were transferred to the institution from the Fergus Falls, Rochester and St. Peter state hospitals. In 1919 the name of the institution was changed to the Willmar State Asylum. The treatment of inebriates has been continued, but the larger part of the population is composed of insane patients. The buildings include an administration building with two wings for patients, five cottages for men, six cottages for women, superintendent's cottage, service building and assembly hall, power house, laundry, farm buildings and cottages for the farmer and the engineer. Inmate population, 1,235; land area, 706 acres; officers and employes, 104; value of land and buildings, $1,236,149. Superintendent, B. F. Smith, M.D.

Fergus Falls State Hospital. This institution, the newest of the three hospitals for the insane, was authorized by the legislature in 1887, and was opened in 1890 with 80 patients transferred from the St. Peter State Hospital. The hospital consists of an administration building with 12 adjoining wards for the accommodation of male patients and 10 adjoining wards for the accommodation of female patients; a psychopathic hospital divided into two wards, one for the male and one for the female patients; a hospital for contagious diseases; a separate tubercular building for men and a separate pavilion for female tuberculous patients; a building for convalescent patients; an occupational building; a nurses' home and a dormitory for male attendants; central kitchen; laundry; power house; and farm buildings. Inmate population, 1,772; land area, 1,076 acres; officers and employes, 257; value of land and buildings, $1,459,070. Superintendent, W. L. Patterson, M.D.

Rochester State Hospital. This institution was created by an act of the legislature in 1875 as the Asylum for Inebriates. Two years later the law was amended and the name changed to the Second State Hospital for the Insane. The amendment provided for a special department for the treatment of inebriates. This department was abolished by the legislature in 1897. The hospital was opened in 1879 with 68 patients transferred from the St. Peter State Hospital. The buildings comprising the institution include an administration building with wings for patients, two detached ward buildings for patients, detention or psychopathic hospital, isolation hospital, nurses' homes for men and women, laundry, storehouse, industrial pavilion, and a central power plant. The farm group consists of barns, garages, slaughter house, piggery, poultry plant, granary, blacksmith shop, greenhouse and cottages for employes. Inmate population, 1,483; land area, 1,375 acres; officers and employes, 248; value of land and buildings, $1,285,798. Superintendent, Arthur F. Kilbourne, M.D.

St. Peter State Hospital. This is the oldest state institution for the insane. The legislature in 1863 authorized the Governor to place in the Iowa State Hospital not to exceed 25 destitute insane persons. Later on a few patients were sent to St. Vincent's Institution for Insane, St. Louis. In 1866 the legislature enacted a law providing for the establishment and location of a hospital for the insane. A farm of 210 acres was purchased by citizens of St. Peter and conveyed to the state. In order to provide temporary care for the patients, the state purchased an old building that had been used as a hotel in St. Peter. Nineteen patients, previously sent to the Iowa State Hospital, were transferred to St. Peter in December, 1866. The contract for the first building of the present institution was awarded in 1867. The hospital consists of a main building with two wings, detached ward buildings for men and women patients, cottage for women patients, cottage for male workers, detention or psychopathic hospital, tuberculosis hospital, industrial building, three dormitories for men and women employes, superintendent's cottage, steward's building, a complete set of farm buildings, and cottages for the farmer, engineer and assistant engineer. The Asylum for the Dangerous Insane, with accommodations for 287 dangerous and criminal insane, is operated in conjunction with this institution. Inmate population, 1,842; land area, 865 acres; officers and employes, 297; value of land and buildings, $1,699,741. Superintendent, Geo. H. Freeman, M.D.

School for Feeble-Minded and Colony for Epileptics, Faribault. The legislature in 1879 authorized the Board of Directors of the Minnesota Institute for Deaf, Dumb and Blind to open an experimental department for feeble-minded children. In July of that year a small class was organized with 15 children transferred from the Rochester and St. Peter state hospitals. In 1881 the legislature directed that the School for Idiots and Imbeciles be connected with the Minnesota Institute for Deaf, Dumb and Blind, and granted an appropriation of $25,000 for the erection of a building. This building was occupied the following year. In 1887 the school was made a department of the Minnesota Institute for Defectives. The present name was adopted in 1905. The buildings include an administration building with wings, several custodial buildings for boys and girls, a cottage for working boys, a cottage for boys employed at the dairy, Hillcrest Cottage for boys, Riverview Cottage for girls, general hospital, central kitchen and bakery, laundry, power house, superintendent's cottage, and building for women employes. The farm group includes modern dairy barns with accommodations for 120 cows. It is the largest state institution. Inmate population, 2,217; land area, 1,145 acres; officers and employes, 336; value of land and buildings, $2,183,568. Superintendent, J. M. Murdoch, M.D.

School for the Blind, Faribault. This school was created by the legislature in 1864 as a department of the Minnesota Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind. The first class was organized in 1866. A separate building for the blind was authorized in 1874. In 1887 the legislature provided that the school be maintained as a department of the Minnesota Institute for Defectives. The name of the institution was changed to the Minnesota School for the Blind in 1902. It is located on a high bluff overlooking the river and the city, with spacious grounds, pleasant walks and abundant shade trees. Its opportunities are free to all blind persons, or those who have not sufficient sight to pursue their studies in the public schools, who are residents of the state, between the ages of six and 21 years, and who are capable of profiting by instruction. The school year extends from September to June. Schools for adult blind men and women are maintained during the summer months. In these schools the principal emphasis is placed upon industrial and vocational training. The school cooperates with the Division of the Blind of the Board of Control in its work of aiding and assisting the blind of the state. The main building includes the administrative offices, schoolrooms, quarters for employees, kitchen and dining rooms, and dormitories for girls. There are two cottages for boys, a superintendent's cottage, an industrial building, a hospital, and a laundry. Population, 106; land area, 50 acres; officers and employees, 59; value of land and buildings, $265,700. Superintendent, M. R. Vevle.

School for the Deaf, Faribault. This institution was established by act of the legislature in 1858 under the name of the Minnesota State Institute for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb. It was opened in 1863, with eight pupils in attendance the first year. In 1864 the name was changed to the Minnesota Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind. The first class for the blind was organized in 1866. In 1879 the legislature authorized the board of directors to open an experimental department for feeble-minded children. Fifteen children were transferred from the Rochester and St. Peter hospitals to Faribault in July, 1879. In 1887 the name of the institution was changed to the Minnesota Institute for Defectives, the act providing for the maintenance of separate departments for the blind, deaf and feeble-minded. Separate buildings were provided for the blind in 1874 and for the feeble-minded in 1882. The present name of the institution, Minnesota School for the Deaf, was adopted in 1902.

Minnesota has a compulsory education law for the deaf, and all children of the state between six and 20 years of age, too deaf or too dumb or defective of speech to be materially benefited by the methods of instruction in vogue in the public schools, and who are not taught in a private school or in a school having a special teacher for the deaf, are required to attend the School for the Deaf until discharged by the superintendent upon approval of the Board of Control. As in the case of the School for the Blind, the only expense is for clothing, postage and transportation.

The buildings are an administration building with wings (known as Tate Hall), Barron Hall, Noyes Hall (consisting of an auditorium, school building and library), gymnasium, service building, bakery, hospital, trades building, power house and the farm group. Population, 302; land area, 116 acres; officers and employees, 92; value of land and buildings, $666,392. Superintendent, Leonard M. Elstad.

Colony for Epileptics, Cambridge. The legislature in 1919 authorized the State Board of Control to select from the public lands of the state sites for a colony for feeble-minded and a colony for epileptics. In 1923 the law was amended to permit the purchase of a site for a colony for epileptics. Land was secured at Cambridge and the institution opened in 1925. It is the newest state institution. The buildings are an administration center group, consisting of the front main center building for administrative offices and quarters for officers and employees, a rear center building, including dining rooms for patients and employees, kitchen, bakery and quarters for employees, and ward buildings at either side of the front main center for sleeping quarters, day rooms, etc., for inmates; six cottages for patients; central power plant; garage; root cellar; and cottages for the head farmer and the steward.

The first unit of a dairy barn has been completed. Inmate population, 600; land area, 341 acres; officers and employes, 98; value of land and buildings, $953,878. Superintendent, D. E. McBroom, M.D.

State Public School, Owatonna. This school, created by the legislature in 1885, was opened at Owatonna in 1886. Dependent, neglected and ill-treated children under 15 years of age, who are normal mentally and free from disease, are eligible to admission on order of the probate and juvenile courts and by transfer from private institutions which are authorized by the Board of Control to receive and find homes for children. The main building consists of a central section with north and south wings and enlarged dining rooms. There are 13 cottages (including a nursery for babies and younger children), a service building, schoolhouse, gymnasium, superintendent's residence, laundry, power house, cottages for employes, greenhouse and sundry farm buildings. Population, 505; children in homes or under supervision, 987; land area, 325 acres; officers and employes, 126; value of land and buildings, $799,409. Superintendent, Galen A. Merrill.

Training School for Boys, Red Wing. This institution was created by an act of the legislature in 1867. It was first located in St. Paul, but was moved to Red Wing in 1890. It occupies a beautiful site overlooking the Mississippi river. Prior to 1911 both boys and girls were sent to this school. Commitments to the institution cover incorrigibles up to the age of 18 years. All boys committed are under the care of the institution until they attain their majority unless their conduct is such as to warrant a full discharge at an earlier date. The institution maintains a good-sized farm, a dairy herd of 50 cows, and a school of letters with a principal and six teachers. Vocational training, under competent instructors, is given in blacksmithing, carpentry and cabinet-making, baking, cooking and meat-cutting, painting, plumbing and pipe-fitting, printing, truck-driving, and maintenance. The buildings consist of an administration building which houses the offices, storerooms and two families of boys, six cottages for inmates, schoolhouse, auditorium and gymnasium, industrial building, hospital, cottages for the superintendent, the steward and the head farmer, and the farm group. Inmate population, 394; paroled inmates, 406; land area, 560 acres; officers and employes, 84; value of land and buildings, $749,552. Superintendent, J. T. Fulton.

Home School for Girls, Sauk Center. This institution was established by the legislature in 1907. It was opened in 1911. Prior to that time it was conducted in connection with the Training School for Boys at Red Wing. It is admirably located on a tract of wooded and farm land, with Sauk lake, a beautiful body of water, in proximity. Though custodial in character, the institution is a home in every sense of the word. A large farm is operated in connection with the institution. Farming, gardening, dairying, canning of fruits and vegetables, butter-making and cheese-making are extensively carried on by the girls. The buildings include an administration building, receiving cottage and hospital, numerous cottages for girls, chapel, a modern school building containing rooms for regular and special courses, offices and a large auditorium, and adequate farm buildings to house the large dairy herd. The hospital is one of most modern arrangement. Inmate population, 299; inmates on parole, 227; land area, 446 acres; officers and employes, 79; value of land and buildings, $690,801. Superintendent, Inez B. Patterson.

State Reformatory, St. Cloud. The legislature in 1885 appointed a commission to find a location for a second state prison. The site of the present institution, near St. Cloud was selected. The legislature in 1887 enacted a law creating the Minnesota State Reformatory and providing that only first offenders between the ages of 16 and 30 years should be committed to this institution. It was opened in 1889. Located on the extensive grounds is one of the finest granite quarries in the state. From this quarry has been taken practically all the stone used in the construction of the institution buildings, and the quarrying, cutting and placing of the stone have been done entirely by the inmates. The woodworking industry turns out sash, doors, blinds, screens, storm sash and furniture for state institutions. In the factory attached to the institution is made nearly all of the men's clothing used in the state institutions. There are various other shops. An extensive farm is operated in connection with the institution, and the establishment of a farm colony where some 50 men employed in the farm department are housed has proved a decided success. The institution consists of an administration building containing offices and a chapel, five cell houses for inmates, hospital, central power plant, superintendent's residence, and additions, including kitchens, bakery, dining rooms, shops and storerooms. A new cell house containing accommodations for 192 inmates is under construction. The grounds are enclosed by a wall of granite. The walled enclosure, containing 55 acres, is one of the largest in America. Inmate population, 1,108; inmates on parole, 162; land area, 1,057 acres; officers and employes, 133; value of land and buildings, $1,672,850. Superintendent, Chas. E. Vasaly.

State Reformatory for Women, Shakopee. The State Reformatory for Women, created by the legislature in 1915, and located at Shakopee on a beautiful site overlooking the Minnesota river, was opened in 1920. At that time all women inmates of the State Prison were transferred to this institution. It serves as a reformatory and as a prison for women offenders. The institution has a fine farm, a large portion of which is under cultivation. It is planned to interest the women in gardening, dairying, buttermaking, and so on. Women's and children's clothing for other state institutions is now being made by the inmates of this institution, and it is planned to enlarge this industry. The buildings are an administration building and reception hospital, known as Isabel Higbee Hall, which includes offices, hospital and medical section, industrial workrooms, kitchen, dining rooms for officers and inmates, officers' bedrooms, and 20 rooms for inmates; three cottages for inmates; and cottages for the farmer and the engineer. Inmate population, 65; inmates on parole, 10; land area, 167 acres; officers and employes, 15; value of land and buildings, $295,712. Superintendent, Ruth T. Devney.

State Prison, Stillwater. The Minnesota State Prison at Stillwater, the oldest state institution, was originally founded in 1851. The new prison, built on the most approved lines of prison architecture and stated by experts to be the most modern institution of its kind in the world, was opened in 1912. The buildings consist of an administration building and connecting corridors containing offices of the warden and assistants, an office for use of the boards of control and parole, reception room, barber shop, telephone exchange, rooms for officers and guests, officers' kitchen and dining rooms, schoolrooms and lecture halls, library, printing office where the "Mirror," the newspaper published by the inmates, is printed, and space for the Bertillon and fingerprint systems used in the identification of criminals; two large cell houses, each containing 512 cells; a modern prison hospital, chapel, central power plant, greenhouse, and residences for the warden and other officers. Space is provided for two subsidiary cell houses, one of which has been completed, thus providing accommodations for 1,224 inmates. The industrial group includes the twine factory, a three-story and basement building 360 feet in length; a warehouse, 360 feet long, for the storage of raw material and manufactured twine; a main factory building of the same size for the farm machinery plant, containing machine shop, woodworking and assembling departments; foundry, 180 feet by 100 feet; blacksmith shop, steel storage house, and three large warehouses for storage of manufactured machines. Inmate population, 1,363; inmates on parole, 205; land area, 1,000 acres; officers and employes, institution proper, 154, and industries, 119; value of land and buildings, $3,010,383. Warden, J. J. Sullivan.

Sanatorium for Consumptives, Ah-Gwah-Ching. This state institution, created by the legislature in 1903, was opened in 1908. It is situated on a beautiful wooded tract overlooking Leech lake. In 1922 the Board of Control authorized the purchase of 200 acres located about 10 miles from the sanatorium to be used for farm and garden purposes. The charge for board and treatment is $1.40 a day, and in a large number of cases, where the patient or his family is unable to make the payments, the expense is paid by the county of which the patient is a resident. The buildings consist of a main or administration building, infirmary, service building (including kitchen, bakery, dining rooms and quarters for employes), recreation building, numerous cottages for patients, cottages for the superintendent and the assistant superintendent, nurses' home, greenhouse, cottage for head carpenter, and sundry farm buildings. Number of patients, 276; land area, 886 acres; officers and employes, 141; value of land and buildings, $861,331. Superintendent, H. A. Burns, M.D.

Gillette State Hospital for Crippled Children, St. Paul. Minnesota has the distinction of being the first of the states to attempt the treatment of indigent crippled and deformed children at public expense. The legislature in 1897 granted an appropriation of $5,000 to be used for this purpose. Arrangements were made to have the children cared for at the City and County Hospital, St. Paul. The present institution was authorized by act of the legislature in 1907, and was opened in 1911. The medical and surgical staff is made up of the foremost specialists of St. Paul and Minneapolis. These men are on call at all times, and the services given these poor children are entirely gratuitous and unlimited. The resident medical and surgical staff is composed of students from the University of Minnesota graduate and undergraduate schools. The buildings are the main building with large additions, power plant and laundry, and a service building containing central kitchen, bakery, dining room, root cellar, storerooms, steward's office and rooms for 22 employes. A new school building, known as the Michael J. Dowling Memorial Hall, used for the education and training of indigent crippled and deformed children of the state of Minnesota, has been completed and occupied. The sum of $50,000, representing one-half the cost of this building, was donated by the Minnesota Editorial Association and the Minnesota Bankers Association. Number of patients, 249; land area, 23 acres; officers and employes, 170; value of land and buildings, $595,217. Superintendent, Elizabeth McGregor.

PRIMARY ELECTION RETURNS

OF ELECTION HELD

JUNE 20TH, 1932

The returns on the following pages show the votes cast by counties for the various candidates for state offices and Representatives in Congress on the Republican, Farmer-Labor and Democratic Tickets, at the state primaries on June 20, 1932. The amended primary law of 1913 provides that where a candidate for the nomination for a partisan office has no opposition his name is not to appear on the primary ballot, but he is to be deemed the unanimous nominee of his party. Hence, the names of some candidates do not appear in the tables.

VOTE BY COUNTIES ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION

	Total Number of Ballots Cast and Counted	Amendment to Section 1, Article 9, of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, relating to taxation, to authorize the imposing of taxes on incomes, and on franchises and privileges, including income, franchises and privileges of railroad companies, measured by income, which taxes may be classified, and may be graduated and progressive, and providing for exemptions therefrom, and that such taxes may be in lieu, in whole or in part, of other taxes on real or personal property. It shall not be necessary to submit to a vote of the people any law imposing a tax upon the income, franchises or privileges of railroad companies. The legislature may enact any law required to make the taxation of national banking associations conform to the laws of the United States.		Amendment of Article 16, Section 3 of the Constitution, relating to the taxation of motor vehicles of companies paying taxes under the gross earnings system of taxation.		Amendment of Article 8 of the Constitution, authorizing the exchange of public lands of the State for lands of the United States, as the legislature may provide.		Amendment to Section 10 of Article 9 of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, to authorize the taxing of lands acquired by the state through the operation of the system of rural credits and the appropriation of moneys from the funds of the Department of Rural Credits.
