THE MINNESOTA CAPITOL

---

Minnesota's first capitol, which stood at Tenth, Cedar, Exchange, and Wabasha streets in St. Paul, served the territory and state from 1854 until 1881, when it was destroyed by fire. A second capitol was immediately erected on the site of the first, but before many years the increase in the activities of state government required a larger building. In 1893 the legislature authorized the appointment of a commission to select a site for and to construct a new building, and provided for the necessary taxation to pay for it.

The original commission appointed by Governor Knute Nelson consisted of Henry W. Lamberton, George A. Du Toit, Charles H. Graves, Eben E. Corliss, John De Laittre, and James McHench, with Channing Seabury as chairman. Vacancies resulting from deaths and resignations of commissioners were filled by Daniel Shell, Edgar Weaver, John Ludwig, and Henry M. Lamberton. Frank E. Hanson was secretary of the commission.

After holding two competitions for architects, the commission adopted the design submitted by Cass Gilbert, who began his career in St. Paul in 1883 and later removed to New York, where he won fame as the designer of many public and other buildings, among them the Woolworth Building. Ground for the new building was broken on May 6, 1896, by Channing Seabury, in the presence of a large gathering of citizens, and the cornerstone was laid on July 17, 1898, by Alexander Ramsey, the first governor of Minnesota Territory. The building, which was completed at a total cost of $4,500,000, including the site and the furnishings, was ready for occupancy by the legislature in 1905. The first governor inaugurated in the new Capitol was John A. Johnson.

Soon after the building was completed, the following statement was made in a leading architectural journal: "It is probable that no other structure in the United States of its size and stability cost as little money"—a tribute to the integrity, loyalty, and efficiency of the Capitol Commission.

MINNESOTA STATE SEAL

The state seal is similar in design to the territorial seal, although various other devices were proposed and even adopted as laws.

First official reference to the seal appears in the message of Governor Ramsey to the first territorial legislature, September 9, 1849. A legislative committee, October 31, recommended as a seal device, "an every-day scene, consisting of an Indian family with their lodge, canoe, etc., and a single white man visiting them, with no other protection than the feeling of hospitality and friendship existing between the two people. The white man is receiving from the Indian the pipe of peace." That seal was authorized by law but never used.

The territorial seal depicted instead a scene at St. Anthony Falls, as shown in the accompanying engraving. The earlier proposal may have influenced the design, but substitution of the musket and powderhorn for the pipe of peace may have had special significance. The motto, "Quo sursum velo videre," the third word a misprint for "volo," meaning "I wish to see what lies beyond," was selected by H. H. Sibley, while a delegate in Congress. Governor Ramsey commissioned D. O. Hare of Washington to engrave the seal and the cost was $157.

Although ridiculed by journalists as representing "a scared white man and an astonished Indian," and "a man plowing one way and looking another," this territorial seal was used until the adoption of the state seal in 1858.

During the first session of the state legislature, assembled December 2, 1857, Charles F. Lowe, a member of the convention of 1857 which drafted the state constitution, including a provision for a state seal, procured from Mr. Buechner, a St. Paul artist, a design shown on page 658 of W. H. C. Folsom's "Fifty Years in the Northwest."

The state government upon beginning operations in May, 1858, was without a state seal. Authorizing temporary use of the territorial seal, Governor Sibley brought up the subject at the adjourned legislative session in June and a special committee was named. W. H. C. Folsom, chairman, submitted the design mentioned, which on July 16 was adopted by joint resolution. When the new seal was delivered, however, it was found that the legislative intent had failed, and in place of that elaborate design one resembling the territorial seal was used, as it appears in the illustration. The word "state" was added and the date of admission substituted for the territorial year. The motto was changed to "L'Etoile du Nord," translated "The North Star," and this state seal has ever since been in official use. The Minnesotian published articles ridiculing the French motto and declaring that Governor Sibley had chosen it simply because he spoke that language.

MINNESOTA STATE FLAG

The State Legislature of 1893, by Chapter 16, provided for a state flag.

Mrs. Franklyn L. Greenleaf, Mrs. A. A. White, Mrs. Edward Durant, Mrs. F. B. Clarke, Mrs. H. F. Brown and Mrs. A. T. Stebbins were by this act named a commission to select an appropriate design.

This commission called for designs, and on Feb. 28, 1893, met, and adopted the design presented by Mrs. Edward H. Center, of Minneapolis.

Following is a description of the flag: "The ground is of white silk, and the reverse side of blue silk, bordered with bullion fringe. In the center is the state seal, wreathed with white moccasin flowers, on a blue ground. The red ribbon of the seal bearing a motto is continued through the wreath, entwining the blossoms and floating carelessly over the lower portion of the flag. It bears, in gold, the dates 1819, the time of the settlement of Minnesota, and 1893. Above, also in gold, is the date 1858, the time of the admission of Minnesota to the Union. Below the design, in gold letters, is wrought 'Minnesota.' Grouped around the seal are nineteen stars in the design of star points, with the North Star, significant of the North Star State, in a group of three at the top."

The choice of the number nineteen is a peculiarly happy one, as Minnesota was the nineteenth state, after the original thirteen, to be admitted to the Union. The standard to the flag was surmounted by a golden gopher, and tied with a gold cord and tassel. The execution of the design is entirely in needle work.

MINNESOTA STATE FLOWER

The state flower is the pink and white moccasin flower, pictured in the accompanying illustration, known as Cypripedium spectabile and by the earlier name of Cypripedium reginae.

The state legislature adopted a state flower during February, 1892, on a petition signed by Mrs. A. L. Stebbins of Rochester and other members of the Woman's Auxiliary, Board of World's Fair Managers, urging adoption of the "Wild Lady Slipper or Moccasin Flower," Cypripedium calceolus, which was followed.

Women of the St. Anthony Study Circle, through Mrs. E. C. Chatfield of Minneapolis, announced later that the calceolus was not found in Minnesota and in February, 1902, the legislature changed the designation to the reginae.

The name Cypripedium, from the Greek words meaning the shoe of Venus, published for this genus in 1737 by Linnaeus, and its common English and American popular names, as Lady's Slipper, Moccasin Flower and Indian Shoe, refer to the saccate and somewhat shoe-like form of the most conspicuous petal (in this Orchis family called the lip) of the flower. The plants grow in cool and moist woods and in bogs, flowering from May to July. Cypripedium spectabile is one of six species of Cypripedium found in Minnesota.

NOTE—Minnesota has fourteen genera, including forty-one species, of the Orchis family, to which the Cypripediums belong. In total, 1,583 species of flowering plants, and sixty-eight ferns and their allies, making together 1,650 species, were tabulated, as known to grow without cultivation in this state, by Warren Upham in the Catalogue of the Flora of Minnesota, published in the Twelfth Annual Report of the Geological and Natural History Survey for the year 1883 (193 pages, with a map showing the areas of forest and prairie). Within the basin of the Minnesota river, according to the report in 1892 by Prof. Conway MacMillan, the state botanist, 1,174 species and varieties of flowering plants, including all our Cypripediums, are known and have been collected for the Herbarium of the State University. The State Flower is thus chosen from among more than a thousand others which blossom on our prairies, in the northern woods, in their cool bogs, and in our streams and lakes.

Chapter 409 L. '25 provides for the protection of the Minnesota State Flower as well as other varieties of wild flowers.

CYPRIPEDIUM REGINAE

ADOLPH OLSON EBERHART

Adolph Olson Eberhart was the seventeenth Governor of the State of Minnesota. He is another outstanding example of a self-made man and of the opportunity which the United States affords an ambitious and industrious youth.

He was born in Sweden on June 23, 1870. At the age of eleven he came to America. His first employment was as cowboy on the plains of Nebraska. Later he engaged in farming, at which he continued until he was twenty-one.

In 1891 he enrolled as a student in the Academy at Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minnesota, and completed the Academy and College courses in four years, graduating in 1895 as valedictorian of his class.

After finishing his college course, he went to Mankato, where he worked at odd jobs and studied law in the office of the late Judge Lorin Gray. In 1898 he was admitted as an attorney at law. Shortly thereafter he was appointed United States Commissioner and Deputy Clerk of the United States District Court at Mankato.

In 1898 he was married to Adele O. M. Koke of Mankato, and is survived by her and by three daughters and two sons, Mrs. Harvey Nelson, Mrs. Harold Shanesy, Mrs. Elmer A. Lampe, Herbert and Eugene Eberhart. Governor Eberhart was a devoted husband, a loving father, and radiated cheer and good will in his home.

While a resident of Mankato he was active in local business and social affairs. He was a director of the First National Bank, vice-president of the Widell Construction Company, a member of the Masonic order, of which at one time he was the Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge of Minnesota. He was also a member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and of the Knights of Pythias.

He entered upon his political career in 1902, when he was elected, without opposition, as a Senator in the Legislature from Blue Earth County. He was the youngest member of the 1903-1905 Senate.

At a Republican state convention held in Duluth in June of 1906, he was nominated as the party candidate for Lieutenant Governor, at which convention Julius A. Schmahl, the present State Treasurer, was first nominated for Secretary of State, and the late Clarence C. Dinehart of Slayton was nominated for State Treasurer. Mr. Eberhart, along with the other candidates on the Republican ticket—with the exception of the Governor—was elected at the November election, John A. Johnson, the Democratic candidate, having been elected as Governor.

Mr. Eberhart was re-elected Lieutenant Governor in 1908; and when Governor Johnson passed away on Sept. 21, 1909, at the Mayo hospital in Rochester, as the result of an operation for internal trouble, Mr. Eberhart was called to St. Paul by Mr. Schmahl, the Secretary of State, and was sworn in as Governor of the State a few hours afterward. He was elected Governor, as the candidate of the Republican party, in 1910 and again in 1912.

It was during those years of his political activity that his appeal for consolidated rural schools ripened into fruition; and those who know that particular period of Minnesota history will always give him a large share of the credit for the development of that system.

In 1916 he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator in Congress, but was defeated by the late Frank B. Kellogg.

In addition to his work for the consolidated rural school system, as well as in other educational fields, he is directly responsible for the direct primary law, he having called an extra session of the Legislature for the enactment of the same. He was also instrumental in bringing about the abolishment of capital punishment in this state.

His ability and his pleasant manner of arguing for what he believed to be right had much to do with bringing about favor for any proposed legislation or official act. He possessed an unusual ability and his public service was always characterized by honesty, good judgment and public interest.

Henry N. Benson.

WALTER H. NEWTON

Walter Hughes Newton was born in South Minneapolis on October 10, 1880, a son of Thomas and Mary E. Newton. The father, Thomas Newton, with his parents, had come to Minnesota from Western New York in 1854, settling in Maple Grove Township. Thomas Newton was one of the first graduates of the University of Minnesota.

Walter Newton, after graduation from Garfield Grade School, Minneapolis, entered South High School. He soon left high school to work, but completed his high school course attending night classes at the Y.M.C.A. He attended night Law School at the University of Minnesota from which he graduated in 1905. Shortly afterwards, he was admitted to the Bar, and formed a law partnership with the late Frank M. Nye who later became a District Judge. The same year he married Cora May Noracon.

In 1914 Mr. Newton became First Assistant County Attorney in Hennepin County. In 1918 Mr. Newton defeated the late Earnest Lundeen for Congress from the 5th Congressional District. Before assuming the duties of his new office, he journeyed to Europe to study first-hand the conditions resulting from the first World War. He was re-elected for five additional consecutive terms. He became increasingly influential from year to year as a result of his activities, both on the floor of the House and in Committee work. He was a member of many important committees, including that on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

Herbert Hoover selected him as head of his entire Speakers' Organization in his campaign for election. After the election of Herbert Hoover as the President of the United States, President Hoover selected Mr. Newton as his Administrative Secretary, which position is practically a cabinet position without formal portfolio. He became in fact, the First Mate on the Ship of State. His selection to this important position by President Hoover was due to his excellent record and qualifications, and the President's appreciation of Mr. Newton's capabilities.

His keen sense of duty and loyalty to the 5th Congressional District was responsible for his declination of a nomination to the Federal Bench by President Coolidge. In 1938 Mr. Newton was appointed Referee in Bankruptcy for the District of Minnesota, 4th Division, where he served with distinction until his untimely death, August 10, 1941.

He was always faithful to his trust and duty, frank and fearless, and apparently indifferent to the political expediency or results of his actions which were uniformly morally right. By reason of his characteristic zeal in support of righteousness, and his well-known aversion and abhorrence of immorality, he at times incurred a displeasure of elements asking the advancement of personal interests,

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the executive power and authority in and over said Territory of Minnesota shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States. The governor shall reside within said Territory; shall be commander-in-chief of the militia thereof; shall perform the duties and receive the emoluments of superintendent of Indian affairs. He may grant pardons for offenses against the law of said Territory, and reprieves for offenses against the laws of the United States until the decision of the president can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of the said Territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a secretary of said Territory, who shall reside therein, and hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States; he shall record and preserve all the laws and proceedings of the legislative assembly hereinafter constituted, and all the acts and proceedings of the governor in his executive department; he shall transmit one copy of the laws and one copy of the executive proceedings, on or before the first day of December in each year, to the president of the United States, and at the same time two copies of the laws to the speaker of the house of representatives, and the president of the senate for the use of Congress. And in case of the death, removal, resignation, or necessary absence of the governor from the Territory, the secretary shall be and he is hereby authorized and required to execute and perform all the powers and the duties of the governor during such vacancy or necessary absence, or until another governor shall be duly appointed to fill such vacancy.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power and authority of said Territory shall be vested in the governor and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly shall consist of a council and house of representatives. The council shall consist of nine members having the qualifications of voters, as hereinafter prescribed, whose term of service shall continue two years. The house of representatives shall, at its first session, consist of eighteen members, possessing the same qualifications as prescribed for members of the council, and whose term of service shall continue one year. The number of councilors and representatives may be increased by the legislative assembly, from time to time, in proportion to the increase of population; provided, that the whole number shall never exceed fifteen councilors and thirty-nine representatives. An apportionment shall be made, as nearly equal as practicable, among the several counties or districts for the election of the council and representatives, giving to each section of the Territory representation in the ratio of its population, Indians excepted, as nearly as may be. And the members of the council and of the house of representatives shall reside in and be inhabitants of the districts for which they may be elected, respectively. Previous to the first election, the governor shall cause a census or enumeration of the inhabitants of the several counties and districts of the Territory to be taken, and the first election shall be held at such time and places and be conducted in such manner as the governor shall appoint and direct, and he shall, at the same time, declare the number of members of the council and house of representatives to which each of the counties and districts shall be entitled under this act.

The number of persons authorized to be elected having the highest number of votes, in each of said council districts for members of the council, shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected to the council, and the person or persons authorized to be elected, having the greatest number of votes for the house of representatives, equal to the number to which each county or district shall be entitled, shall also be declared by the governor to be duly elected members of the house of representatives; provided, that in case of a tie between two or more persons voted for, the governor shall order a new election to supply the vacancy made by such tie. And the persons thus elected to the legislative assembly shall meet at such place on such day as the governor shall appoint, but thereafter the time, place and manner of holding and conducting all elections by the people, and the apportioning of the representation in the several counties or districts to the council and house of representatives, according to the population, shall be prescribed by law, as well as the day of the commencement of the regular session of the legislative assembly; provided, that no one session shall exceed the term of sixty days.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That every free white male inhabitant above the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of said Territory at the time of the passage of this act, shall be entitled to vote at the first election, and shall be eligible to any office within the said Territory; but the qualifications of voters and of holding office at all subsequent elections shall be such as shall be prescribed by the legislative assembly; provided, that the right of suffrage and of holding office shall be exercised only by citizens of the United States and those who shall have declared on oath their intention to become such, and shall have taken an oath to support the constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the Territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation, consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act; but no law shall be passed interfering with the primary disposal of the soil; no tax shall be imposed upon the property of the United States; nor shall the lands or other property of non-residents be taxed higher than the lands or other property of residents. All the laws passed by the legislative assembly and governor shall be submitted to the Congress of the United States, and if disapproved shall be null and of no effect.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That all township, district and county officers, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of Minnesota. The governor shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council, appoint all officers not herein otherwise provided for, and, in the first instance, the governor alone may appoint all said officers, who shall hold their offices until the end of the next session of the legislative assembly.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold or be appointed to any office which shall have been created, or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased, while he was a member, during the term for which he was elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; and no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, except post-masters, shall be a member of the legislative assembly, or shall hold any office under the government of said Territory.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That the judicial power of said Territory shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall hold a term at the seat of government of said Territory annually; and they shall hold their offices during the period of four years. The said Territory shall be divided into three judicial districts, and a district court shall be held in each of said districts by one of the justices of the supreme court, at such time and places as may be prescribed by law; and the said judges shall, after their appointment, respectively, reside in the districts which shall be assigned them. The jurisdiction of the several courts herein provided for, both appellate and original, and that of probate courts and justices of the peace, shall be as limited by law; provided, that the justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any matter in controversy when the title or boundaries of land may be in dispute, or where the debt or sum claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars; and the said supreme and district courts, respectively, shall possess chancery as well as common law jurisdiction. Each district court, or the judges thereof, shall appoint its clerk, who shall also be the register in chancery, and shall keep his office at the place where the court may be held. Writs of error, bills of exception and appeals shall be allowed in all cases from the final decisions of said district courts to the supreme court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, but in no case removed to the supreme court shall trial by jury be allowed in said court. The supreme court, or the justices thereof, shall appoint its own clerk, and every clerk shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court for which he shall have been appointed. Writs of error and appeals from the final decisions of said supreme court shall be allowed, and may be taken to the supreme court of the United States, in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit courts of the United States, where the value of the property or the amount in controversy, to be ascertained by the oath or affirmation of either party, or other competent witness, shall exceed one thousand dollars; and each of the said district courts shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction, in all cases arising under the constitution and laws of the United States, as is vested in the circuit and district courts of the United States; and the first six days of every term of said courts, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be appropriated to the trial of causes arising under the said constitution and laws; and writs of error and appeal in all such cases shall be made to the supreme court of said Territory, the same as in other cases. The said clerk shall receive in all such cases the same fees which the clerks of the district courts of the late Wisconsin Territory received for similar services.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed an attorney for said Territory, who shall continue in office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, and who shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the late Territory of Wisconsin received. There shall also be a marshal for the Territory appointed, who shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts, when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States; he shall perform the duties, be subject to the same regulations and penalties, and be entitled to the same fees as the marshal of the district court of the United States for the late Territory of Wisconsin; and shall, in addition, be paid two hundred dollars annually as a compensation for extra services.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, chief justice and associate justices, attorney and marshal, shall be nominated and by and with the advice and consent of the senate, appointed by the president of the United States. The governor and secretary to be appointed as aforesaid shall, before they act as such, respectively, take an oath or affirmation, before the district judge, or some justice of the peace in the limits of said Territory, duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations by the laws now in force therein, or before the chief justice, or some associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, to support the constitution of the United States, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices, which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person by whom the same shall have been taken, and such certificates shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings; and the chief justice and associate justices, and all other civil officers in said Territory, before they act as such, shall take a like oath or affirmation, before the said governor or secretary, or some judge or justice of the peace of the Territory, who may be duly commissioned and qualified, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted, by the person taking the same, to the secretary, to be by him recorded as aforesaid; and afterwards, the like oath or affirmation shall be taken, certified and recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law. The governor shall receive an annual salary of $1,500 as governor, and $1,000 as superintendent of Indian affairs. The chief justice and associate justice shall each receive an annual salary of $1,800. The secretary shall receive an annual salary of $1,800. The said salaries shall be paid quarterly, at the treasury of the United States. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive three dollars each per day during their attendance at the session thereof, and three dollars each for every twenty miles traveled in going to and returning from the said sessions, estimated according to the nearest usually traveled route. There shall be appropriated, annually, the sum of $1,000, to be expended by the governor to defray the contingent expenses of the Territory; and there shall also be appropriated, annually, a sufficient sum to be expended by the secretary of the Territory, and upon an estimate to be made by the secretary of the treasury of the United States, to defray the expenses of the legislative assembly, the printing of the laws, and other incidental expenses, and the secretary of the Territory shall annually account to the secretary of the treasury of the United States for the manner in which the aforesaid sum shall have been expended.

SEC. 12. And be it further enacted, That the inhabitants of the said Territory shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities heretofore granted and secured to the Territory of Wisconsin and to its inhabitants; and the laws in force in the Territory of Wisconsin at the date of the admission of the State of Wisconsin shall continue to be valid and operative therein, so far as the same be not incompatible with the provisions of this act, subject, nevertheless, to be altered, modified or repealed by the governor and legislative assembly of the said Territory of Minnesota; and the laws of the United States are hereby extended over and declared to be in force in said Territory, so far as the same, or any provision thereof, may be applicable.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly of the Territory of Minnesota shall hold its first session in St. Paul; and at said first session the governor and legislative assembly shall locate and establish a temporary seat of government for said Territory, at such place as they may deem eligible; and shall at such time as they shall see proper prescribe by law the manner of locating the permanent seat of government of said Territory by a vote of the people. And the sum of twenty thousand dollars, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, is hereby appropriated and granted to said Territory of Minnesota, to be applied by the governor and legislative assembly to the erection of suitable public buildings at the seat of government.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That a delegate of the house of representatives of the United States, to serve for the term of two years, may be elected by the voters qualified to elect members of the legislative assembly, who shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are exercised and enjoyed by the delegates from the several other territories of the United States to the said house of representatives. The first election shall be held at such times and places and be conducted in such manner as the governor shall appoint and direct; and at all subsequent elections the times, places and manner of holding the elections shall be prescribed by law. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected, and a certificate thereof shall be given accordingly.

SEC. 15. And be it further enacted, That all suits, process and proceedings, civil and criminal, at law or in chancery, and all indictments and informations, which shall be pending and undetermined in the courts of the Territory of Wisconsin, within the limits of said Territory of Minnesota, when this act shall take effect, shall be transferred to be heard, tried, prosecuted and determined in the district courts hereby established, which may include the counties or districts where any such proceedings may be pending. All bonds, recognizances, and obligations of every kind whatsoever, valid under the existing laws, within the limits of said Territory, shall be valid under this act; and all crimes and misdemeanors against the laws, in force within said limits, may be prosecuted, tried, and punished in the courts established by this act; and all penalties, forfeitures, actions and causes of action may be recovered under this act the same as they would have been under the laws in force within the limits composing said Territory at the time this act shall go into operation.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That all justices of the peace, constables, sheriffs, and all other judicial and ministerial officers, who shall be in office within the limits of said Territory, when this act shall take effect, shall be and they are hereby authorized and required to continue to exercise and perform the duties of their respective offices as officers of the Territory of Minnesota, temporarily, and until they or others shall be duly appointed and qualified to fill their places, in the manner herein directed, or until their offices shall be abolished.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That the sum of $5,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be ex-modify such judicial districts, and assign the judges, and alter the times and places of holding the courts, as to them shall seem proper and convenient.

SEC. 20. And be it further enacted, That every bill which shall or may pass the council and house of representatives, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the Territory; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated; which shall cause the objections to be entered at large upon their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall also be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law; but in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house, respectively. ## CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Under the enabling act of Congress, approved March 3, 1857, a constitutional convention of one hundred and eight members (each council district to elect two for each councilman and representative it was entitled to) was authorized to meet at the capitol on the second Monday in July, to frame a state constitution, and submit it to the people of the territory. The election was held on the first Monday in June. On July 13th the delegates met, but, a disagreement arising in the organization, the Republican members organized one body, and the Democratic members organized separately. Each of these bodies, claiming to be the legal constitutional convention, proceeded with the work of forming an instrument to be submitted to the people. After some days an understanding was effected between them, and, by means of committees of conference, the same constitution was framed and adopted by both bodies. On being submitted to the people October 13th, it was ratified.

OF THE

STATE OF MINNESOTA

Adopted October 13, 1857. Ayes, 30,055; Nays, 571

ARTICLE—

1. Bill of rights.
2. Name and boundaries.
3. Distribution of the powers of government.
4. Legislative department.
5. Executive department.
6. Judiciary.
7. Elective Franchise.
8. School funds, education and science.
9. Finances of the state and banks and banking.

Preamble. We, the people of the State of Minnesota, grateful to God for our civil and religious liberty, and desiring to perpetuate its blessings and secure the same to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution:

ARTICLE I. Bill of Rights

Object of government. SECTION 1. Government is instituted for the security, benefit and protection of the people, in whom all political power is inherent, together with the right to alter, modify or reform such government, whenever the public good may require it.

Rights and Privileges. SEC. 2. No member of this State shall be disfranchised, or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to any citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land, or the judgment of his peers. There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in the State otherwise than the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.

Liberty of the press. SEC. 3. The liberty of the press shall forever remain inviolate, and all persons may freely speak, write and publish their sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of such right.

Trial by jury. SEC. 4. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, and shall extend to all cases at law without regard to the amount in controversy, but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all cases in the manner prescribed by law; [and the legislature may provide that the agreement of five-sixths of any jury in any civil action or proceeding, after not less than six (6) hours' deliberation, shall be a sufficient verdict therein.]*

*The clause in brackets was adopted Nov. 4, 1890.

(a) The jury contemplated by article 1, section 6, securing the right to jury trial in criminal cases, is a body of twelve men, and it is error to try a party charged with crime in a justice court, against his objection, with a jury of six. The fact that he may appeal to the district court, on entering into recognizance with sureties, does not change the rule. 14 Minn. 330.

ARTICLE—

10. Corporations having no banking privileges.
11. Counties and townships.
12. Of the militia.
13. Impeachment and removal from office.
14. Amendments to the constitution.
15. Miscellaneous subjects schedule.
16. Trunk Highway System.
17. Forest fire prevention.
18. Forestation and reforestation.
19. Air Navigation facilities and taxation.

No excessive bail or unusual punishments. SEC. 5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor shall excessive fines be imposed; nor shall cruel or unusual punishments be inflicted.

Rights of accused in criminal prosecutions. SEC. 6. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the county or district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which county or district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel in his defense. (a)

Due process; prosecutions; second jeopardy; self-incrimination; bail; habeas corpus. SEC. 7. No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense without due process of law, and no person for the same offense shall be put twice in jeopardy of punishment, nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. All persons shall before conviction be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require.

Redress of injuries or wrongs. SEC. 8. Every person is entitled to a certain remedy in the laws for all injuries or wrongs which he may receive in his person, property or character; he ought to obtain justice freely and without purchase; completely and without denial; promptly and without delay, conformable to the laws.

Treason defined. SEC. 9. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against the same, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

Right against unreasonable searches. SEC. 10. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized.

Prohibits ex post facto laws, or laws impairing contracts. SEC. 11. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, nor any law impairing the obligation of contracts shall ever be passed, and no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

Imprisonment for debt—property exemption. SEC. 12. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in this state, (b) but this shall not prevent the legislature from providing for imprisonment, or holding to bail, persons charged with fraud in contracting said debt. A reasonable amount of property shall be exempt from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability. The amount of such exemption shall be determined by law. [Provided, however, that all property so exempted shall be liable to seizure and sale for any debts incurred to any person for work done or materials furnished in the construction, repair or improvement of the same, and provided further, that such liability to seizure and sale shall also extend to all real property for any debt incurred to any laborer or servant for labor or service performed.]*

Private property for public use. SEC. 13. Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use without just compensation therefor, first paid or secured.**

Military power subordinate. SEC. 14. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power, and no standing army shall be kept up in this State in times of peace.

Lands declared allodial—leases, when void. SEC. 15. All lands within the State are declared to be allodial, and feudal tenures of every description, with all their incidents, are prohibited. Leases and grants of agricultural lands for a longer period than twenty-one years hereafter made, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be void.

Freedom of conscience—no preference to be given to any religious establishment or mode of worship. SEC. 16. The enumeration of rights in this constitution shall not be construed to deny or impair others retained by and inherent in the people. The right of every man to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience shall never be infringed, nor shall any man be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any religious or ecclesiastical ministry, against his consent; nor shall any control or interference with the rights of conscience be permitted, or any preference be given by law to any religious establishment or mode of worship; but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness, or justify practices inconsistent with the peace or safety of the State, nor shall any money be drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious societies, or religious or theological seminaries.

No religious test or property qualifications to be required. SEC. 17. No religious test or amount of property shall ever be required as a qualification for any office of public trust under the State. No religious test or amount of property shall ever be required as a qualification of any voter at any election in this State; nor shall any person be rendered incompetent to give evidence in any court of law or equity in consequence of his opinion upon the subject of religion.

No license to peddle. SEC. 18. Any person may sell or peddle the products of the farm or garden occupied and cultivated by him without obtaining a license therefor.***

ARTICLE II.

On Name and Boundaries

Name and boundaries. SECTION 1. This State shall be called and known by the name of the State of Minnesota, and shall consist of and have jurisdiction over the territory embraced in the following boundaries, to-wit: Beginning at the point in the center of the main channel of the Red River of the North, where the boundary line between the United States and British Possessions crosses the same; thence up the main channel of said river to that of the Bois des Sioux river; thence up the main channel of said river to Lake Traverse, thence up the center of said lake to the southern extremity thereof; thence in a direct line to the head of Big Stone lake; thence through its center to its outlet; thence by a due south line to the north line of the State of Iowa; thence east along the northern boundary of said State to the main channel of the Mississippi river; thence up the main channel of said river and following the boundary line of the State of Wisconsin until the same intersects the St. Louis river; thence down the said river to and through Lake Superior, on the boundary line of Wisconsin and Michigan, until it intersects the dividing line between the United States and British Possessions; thence up Pigeon river and following said dividing line to the place of beginning.****

The explanation of this jog is found in the subjoined paragraphs. In the seventh article of the treaty of Ghent, section 19 reads as follows: Sec. 19. interest by a special message from the governor.

Apportionment of members. SEC. 2. The number of members who compose the Senate and House of Representatives shall be prescribed by law, but the representation in the Senate shall never exceed one member for every 5,000 inhabitants, and in the House of Representatives one member for every 2,000 inhabitants. The representation in both houses shall be apportioned equally throughout the different sections of the State, in proportion to the population thereof, exclusive of Indians not taxable under the provisions of law.

Eligibility of members—quorum. SEC. 3. Each house shall be the judge of the election returns and eligibility of its own members; a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as it may provide.

Rules of government. SEC. 4. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, sit upon its own adjournment, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member; but no member shall be expelled the second time for the same offense.

Officers—journal of proceedings. SEC. 5. The House of Representatives shall elect its presiding officer and the Senate and House of Representatives shall elect such other officers as may be provided by law; they shall keep journals of their proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, and the yeas and nays, when taken on any question, shall be entered on such journals.

The termination of this 6th and last course and distance being the above said most northwestern point of the Lake of the Woods, as designated by the seventh article of the treaty of Ghent, and being in latitude 49° 23' 55" north of the equator, and in longitude 95° 14' 38" west from Greenwich. The second article of the convention of 1818 is as follows: Article 2. It is agreed that a line drawn from the most northwestern point of the Lake of the Woods along the 49th parallel of north latitude, or, if the said point shall not be in the 49th parallel of north latitude, then that a line drawn from the said point due north or south, as the case may be, until the said line shall intersect the said parallel of north latitude, and from the point of such intersection due west, along and with the said parallel, shall be the line of demarcation between the territories of the United States and His Britannic Majesty, and that the said line shall form the northern boundary of the said territories of the United States and the southern boundary of His Britannic Majesty, from the Lake of the Woods to the Stony Mountains. This boundary was re-established and determined by a commission authorized by congress, and the surveys embracing four years were made and reported to congress in 1877.

be privileged from arrest during the session of their respective houses, and in going to or returning from the same. For any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Restriction as to holding office. SEC. 9. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he is elected, hold any office under the authority of the United States or the State of Minnesota, except that of postmaster, and no senator or representative shall hold an office under the state which has been created or the emoluments of which have been increased during the session of the legislature of which he was a member, until one year after the expiration of his term of office in the legislature.

Bills of revenue to originate in House. SEC. 10. All bills for raising a revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose and concur with the amendments as on other bills.

Approval of bills by Governor—action on non-approval. SEC. 11. Every bill which shall have passed the Senate and House of Representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the State. If he approves, he shall sign and deposit it in the office of secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house, respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by adjournment within that time, prevents its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law.

Governor may cut out items of appropriation bills and otherwise approve. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Money appropriations, how made. SEC. 12. No money shall be appropriated except by bill. Every order, resolution or vote requiring the concurrence of the two houses (except such as relate to the business or adjournment of the same) shall be presented to the governor for his signature, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being returned by him with his objections, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the members of the two houses, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in case of a bill.

Majority vote of all members—elect to pass a law. SEC. 13. The style of all laws of this State shall be: "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota." No law shall be passed unless voted for by a majority of all the members elected to each branch of the legislature, and the vote entered upon the journal of each house.

Impeachment powers. SEC. 14. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, through a concurrence of a majority of all the members elected to seats therein. Refers to amendment of 1881, superseded as above. SEC. 34. The legislature shall provide general laws for the transaction of Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter** so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least once each week for four successive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. Suitable laws, not inconsistent with this amendment, *Article 8, section 1, which directs the establishment of a general and uniform system of public schools, does not prohibit the legislature from providing public schools other than those included in the general system, or creating exceptional districts, to meet particular and exceptional cases; and the exception from the operation of a general law relating to public schools of independent school districts, and schools specially provided for, does not violate the constitutional provision. 25 Minn. 1.

This amendment is sometimes called the wide open tax amendment. No amendments have been adopted to take the place of the old Sections 2, 3 and 4. There is therefore a gap in the numbering from 1 to 5.

ACT OF ADMISSION INTO THE UNION

An Act for the admission of Minnesota into the Union
[Passed May 11, 1858]

WHEREAS, An act of Congress was passed February twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, entitled "An act to authorize the people of the Territory of Minnesota to form a constitution and state government preparatory to their admission into the Union on an equal footing with the original states"; and, whereas, the people of said Territory did, on the twenty-ninth day of August, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, by delegates elected for that purpose, form for themselves a constitution and state government, which is republican in form, and was ratified and adopted by the people at an election held on the thirteenth day of October, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, for that purpose; therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the State of Minnesota shall be one, and is hereby declared to be one, of the United States of America, and admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states in all respects whatever.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That said State shall be entitled to two representatives in Congress, until the next apportionment of representatives among the several states.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That from and after the admission of the State of Minnesota, as hereinbefore provided, all the laws of the United States which are not locally inapplicable shall have the same force and effect within that State as in other States of the Union; and the said State is hereby constituted a judicial district of the United States, within which a district court, with like powers and jurisdiction as the district court of the United States for the district of Iowa, shall be established; the judge, attorney and marshal of the United States of the said district of Minnesota shall reside within the same, and shall be entitled to the same compensation as the judge, attorney and marshal of the district of Iowa; and in all cases of appeal or writ of error heretofore prosecuted and now pending in the supreme court of the United States, upon any record from the supreme court of Minnesota Territory, the mandate of execution or order of further proceedings shall be directed by the supreme court of the United States to the district court of the United States for the district of Minnesota, or to the supreme court of the State of Minnesota, as the nature of such appeal or writ of error may require; and each of those courts shall be the successor of the supreme court of Minnesota Territory, as to all such cases, with full power to hear and determine the same, and to ward mesne or final process therein.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

In Congress, July 4, 1776

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable and distant from the repository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time after such dissolutions to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large, for their exercise, the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us;

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering, fundamentally, the forms of our government:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here by declaring us out of his protection and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has incited domestic insurrections among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind—enemies in war, in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in general congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which INDEPENDENT STATES may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of DIVINE PROVIDENCE, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

ART. 3. The said states hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other for their common defense, the security of their liberties, and their mutual, and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other against all force offered to or attacks made upon them, or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade, or any other pretence whatever.

ART. 4. § 1. The better to secure and perpetuate mutual friendship and intercourse among the people of the different states in this Union, the free inhabitants of each of these states (paupers, vagabonds, and fugitives from justice excepted) shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of free citizens in the several states, and the people of each state shall have free ingress and egress to and from any other state, and shall enjoy therein all the privileges of trade and commerce, subject to the same duties, impositions and restrictions as the inhabitants thereof respectively; provided, that such restrictions shall not extend so far as to prevent the removal of property imported into any state, to any other state of which the owner is an inhabitant; provided, also, that no imposition, duties, or restriction shall be laid by any state on the property of the United States, or either of them.

§ 2. If any person guilty of, or charged with, treason, felony, or other high misdemeanor, in any state, shall flee from justice, and be found in any of the United States, he shall, upon the demand of the governor or executive power of the state from which he fled, be delivered up and removed to the state having jurisdiction of his offense.

§ 3. Full faith and credit shall be given in each of these states to the records, acts and judicial proceedings of the courts and magistrates of every other state.

ART. 5. § 1. For the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States, delegates shall be annually appointed in such manner as the legislature of each state shall direct, to meet in congress on the first Monday in November, of every year, with a power reserved to each state to recall its delegates, or any of them, at any time within the year, and to send others in their stead, for the remainder of the year.

§ 2. No state shall be represented in congress by less than two, nor more than seven, members; and no person shall be capable of being a delegate for more than three years, in any term of six years; nor shall any person, being a delegate, be capable of holding any office under the United States, for which he, or any other for his benefit, receives any salary, fees, or emoluments of any kind.

§ 3. Each state shall maintain its own delegates in a meeting of the states and while they act as members of the committee of these states.

§ 4. In determining questions in the United States in congress assembled each state shall have one vote.

§ 5. Freedom of speech and debate in congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of congress, and the members of congress shall be protected in their persons from arrests and imprisonments during the time of their going to and from, and attendance on, congress, except for treason, felony or breach of the peace.

ART. 6. § 1. No state, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, shall send any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance or treaty with, any king, prince or state; nor shall any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States, or any of them, accept any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince, or foreign state; nor shall the United States in congress assembled, or any of them, grant any title of nobility.

§ 2. No two or more states shall enter into any treaty, confederation, or alliance whatever, between them, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.

§ 3. No state shall lay any imposts or duties which may interfere with any stipulations in treaties entered into by the United States, in congress assembled, with any king, prince, or state, in pursuance of any treaties already proposed by congress to the courts of France and Spain.

number only as, in the judgment of the United States in congress assembled, shall be deemed requisite to garrison the forts necessary for the defense of such state; but every state shall always keep up a well regulated and disciplined militia, sufficiently armed and accoutered, and shall provide and constantly have ready for use, in public stores, a due number of field pieces and tents, and a proper quantity of arms, ammunition and camp equipage.

§ 5. No state shall engage in any war without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, unless such state be actually invaded by enemies, or shall have received certain advice of a resolution being formed by some nation of Indians to invade such state, and the danger is so imminent as not to admit a delay till the United States in congress assembled can be consulted; nor shall any state grant commissions to any ships or vessels of war, nor letters of marque or reprisal, except it be after a declaration of war by the United States in congress assembled, and then only against the kingdom or state, and the subjects thereof, against which war has been so declared, and under such regulations as shall be established by the United States in congress assembled, unless such state be infested by pirates, in which case vessels of war may be fitted out for that occasion, and kept so long as the danger shall continue, or until the United States in congress assembled shall determine otherwise.

ART. 7. When land forces are raised by any state for the common defense, all officers of or under the rank of colonel shall be appointed by the legislature of each state, respectively, by whom such forces shall be raised, or in such manner as such state shall direct, and all vacancies shall be filled up by the state which first made the appointment.

ART. 8. All charges of war, and all other expenses that shall be incurred for the common defense or general welfare, and allowed by the United States in congress assembled, shall be defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be supplied by the several states, in proportion to the value of all lands within each state, granted to or surveyed for any person, as such land and the buildings and improvements thereon shall be estimated, according to such mode as the United States in congress assembled shall, from time to time, direct and appoint. The taxes for paying that proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the legislatures of the several states within the time agreed upon by the United States in congress assembled.

ART. 9. § 1. The United States in congress assembled shall have the sole and exclusive right and power of determining on peace and war, except in the cases mentioned in the sixth article, of sending and receiving ambassadors, entering into treaties and alliances; provided, that no treaty of commerce shall be made whereby the legislative power of the respective states shall be restrained from imposing such imposts and duties on foreigners as their own people are subjected to, or from prohibiting the exportation or importation of any species of goods or commodities whatsoever, of establishing rules for deciding in all cases what captures on land or water shall be legal, and in what manner prizes taken by land or naval forces in the service of the United States shall be divided or appropriated, of granting letters of marque and reprisal in times of peace; appointing courts for the trial of piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and establishing courts for receiving and determining finally appeals in all cases of captures; provided, that no member of congress shall be appointed a judge of any of the said courts.

§ 2. The United States in congress assembled shall also be the last resort on appeal in all disputes and differences now subsisting, or that may hereafter arise, between two or more states concerning boundary, jurisdiction, or any other cause whatever; which authority shall always be exercised in the manner following: Whenever the legislative or executive authority or lawful agent of any state in controversy with another shall present a petition to congress, stating the matter in question, and praying for a hearing, notice thereof shall be given by order of congress to the legislative or executive authority of the other state in controversy, and a day assigned for the appearance of the parties by their lawful agents, who shall then be directed to appoint, by joint consent, commissioners or judges to constitute a court for hearing and determining the matter in question; but if they cannot agree, congress shall name three persons out of each of the United States, and from the list of such persons each party shall alternately strike out one, the petitioners beginning until the number shall be reduced to thirteen; and from that number not less than seven nor more than nine names, as congress shall direct, shall, in the presence of congress, be drawn out by lot; the persons whose names shall be so drawn, or any five of them, shall be commissioners or judges to hear and finally determine the controversy, so always as a major part of the judges who shall hear the cause shall agree in the determination; and if either party shall neglect to attend at the day appointed, without showing reasons which congress shall judge sufficient, or being present shall refuse to strike, the congress shall proceed to nominate three persons out of each state, and the secretary of congress shall strike in behalf of such party absent or refusing, and the judgment and sentence of the court, to be appointed in the manner before described, shall be final and conclusive; and if any of the parties shall refuse to submit to the authority of such court, or to appear to defend their claim or cause, the court shall nevertheless proceed to pronounce sentence or judgment, which shall in like manner be final and decisive; the judgment or sentence and other proceedings being in either case transmitted to congress and lodged among the acts of congress, for the security of the parties concerned; provided, that every commissioner, before he sits in judgment, shall take an oath, to be administered by one of the judges of the supreme or superior court of the state where the cause shall be tried, "well and truly to hear and determine the matter in question, according to the best of his judgment, without favor, affection, or hope of reward"; provided, also, that no state shall be deprived of territory for the benefit of the United States.

§ 3. All controversies concerning the private right of soil claimed under different grants of two or more states, whose jurisdiction, as they may respect such lands, and the states which passed such grants are adjusted, the said grants or either of them being at the same time claimed to have originated antecedent to such settlement or jurisdiction, shall, on the petition of either party to the congress of the United States, be finally determined, as near as may be, in the same manner as is before prescribed for deciding disputes respecting territorial jurisdiction between different states.

§ 4. The United States in congress assembled shall also have the sole and exclusive right and power of regulating the alloy and value of coin struck by their own authority, or by that of the respective states; fixing the standards of weights and measures, throughout the United States; regulating the trade and managing all affairs with the Indians, not members of any of the states; provided, that the legislative right of any state, within its own limits, be not infringed or violated; establishing and regulating postoffices from one state to another, throughout all the United States, and exacting such postage on the papers passing through the same as may be requisite to defray the expenses of the said office; appointing all officers of the land forces in the service of the United States, excepting regimental officers; appointing all the officers of the naval forces, and commissioning all officers whatever in the service of the United States; making rules for the government and regulation of the said land and naval forces, and directing their operations.

§ 5. The United States in congress assembled shall have authority to appoint a committee, to sit in the recess of congress, to be denominated "A Committee of the States," and to consist of one delegate from each state; and to appoint such other committees and civil officers as may be necessary for managing the general affairs of the United States under their direction; to appoint one of their number to preside; provided, that no person be allowed to serve in the office of president more than one year in any term of three years; to ascertain the necessary sums of money to be raised for the service of the United States, and to appropriate and apply the same for defraying the public expenses; to borrow money or emit bills on the credit of the United States, transmitting every half year to the respective states an account of the sums of money so borrowed or emitted; to build and equip a navy; to agree upon the number of land forces, and to make requisitions from each state for its quota, in proportion to the number of white inhabitants in such state, which requisition shall be binding; and thereupon the legislature of each state shall appoint the regimental officers, raise the men, and clothe, arm and equip them, in a soldier-like manner, at the expense of the United States, and the officers and men so clothed, armed and equipped shall march to the place appointed and within the time agreed on by the United States in congress assembled, but if the United States in congress assembled shall, on consideration of circumstances, judge proper that any state should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than its quota and that any other state should raise a greater number of men than the quota thereof, such extra number shall be raised, officered, clothed, armed and equipped in the same manner as the quota of such state, unless the legislature of such state shall judge that such extra number cannot be safely spared out of the same, in which case they shall raise, officer, clothe, arm and equip as many of such extra number as they judge can be safely spared, and the officers and men so clothed, armed, and equipped shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on by the United States in congress assembled.

§ 6. The United States in congress assembled shall never engage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances, nor coin money, nor regulate the value thereof, nor ascertain the sums and expenses necessary for the defense and welfare of the United States, or any of them, nor emit bills; nor borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor appropriate money, nor agree upon the number of vessels of war to be built or purchased, or the number of land or sea forces to be raised, nor appoint a commander-in-chief of the army or navy, unless nine states assent to the same; nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day, be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the United States in congress assembled.

§ 7. The congress of the United States shall have power to adjourn to any time within the year, and to any place within the United States, so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of six months, and shall publish the journal of their proceedings monthly, except such parts thereof relating to treaties, alliances, or military operations as in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the delegates of each state, on any question, shall be entered on the journal, when it is desired by any delegate; and the delegates of a state, or any of them, at his or their request, shall be furnished with a transcript of the said journal, except such parts as are above excepted, to lay before the legislatures of the several states.

ART. 10. The committee of the states, or any nine of them, shall be authorized to execute, in the recess of congress, such of the powers of congress as the United States in congress assembled, by the consent of nine states, shall, from time to time, think expedient to vest them with; provided, that no power be delegated to the said committee, for the exercise of which, by the articles of confederation, the voice of nine states, in the congress of the United States assembled, is requisite.

ART. 11. Canada acceding to this confederation, and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into and entitled to all the advantages of this Union; but no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine states.

ART. 12. All bills of credit emitted, moneys borrowed, and debts contracted by or under the authority of congress, before the assembling of the United States in pursuance of the present confederation, shall be deemed and considered as a charge against the United States, for payment and satisfaction whereof the said United States and the public faith are hereby solemnly pledged.

ART. 13. Every state shall abide by the determination of the United States in congress assembled, on all questions which by this confederation are submitted to them. And the articles of this confederation shall be inviolably observed by every state, and the Union shall be perpetual; nor shall any alteration at any time hereafter be made in any of them, unless such alteration be agreed to in a congress of the United States, and be afterward confirmed by the legislature of every state.

And whereas, it has pleased the great Governor of the world to incline the hearts of the legislatures we respectfully represent in congress to approve of and to authorize us to ratify the said articles of confederation and perpetual union, Know ye, that we, the undersigned delegates, by virtue of the power and authority to us given for that purpose, do by these presents, in the name and in behalf of our respective constituents, fully and entirely ratify and confirm each and every of the said articles of confederation and perpetual union, and all and singular the matters and things therein contained. And we do further solemnly plight and engage the faith of our respective constituents, that they shall abide by the determinations of the United States in con-

In witness whereof, we have heretofore set our hands in congress. Done at Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, the ninth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, and in the third year of the Independence of America.

The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the vice president, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

[The electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates; and the votes shall then be counted. But in choosing the president the vote shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case after the choice of the president, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the vice president. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the senate shall choose from them, by ballot, the vice president.]*

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of president; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president; and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed, or a president shall be elected.

The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected; and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the execution of his office he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

The president shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SEC. 3. He shall, from time to time, give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them; and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers. #### ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution, but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

PERMANENT RULES OF THE SENATE

CALLING SENATE TO ORDER

1. The President shall take the chair at the hour to which the Senate shall have adjourned, and shall immediately call the members to order, and, on the appearance of a quorum, shall proceed with the regular order of business. He shall preserve order and decorum; may speak on points of order in preference to members, and shall also decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member but such appeal shall be decided by a majority vote of those present and voting thereon.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES

2. All committees of the Senate and members of commissions to be appointed by the Senate authorized by rule, statute, resolution or otherwise, shall be appointed by a Committee on Committees, subject to confirmation by the Senate, and all such appointments made by such committee on committees shall likewise be subject to confirmation by the Senate.

QUESTIONS—HOW STATED AND DECIDED

3. He shall rise to put the question, but may state it sitting.

4. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to-wit: "As many as are of the opinion that (as the question may be) say Aye," and after the affirmative voice is expressed, "As many as are of the contrary opinion say No." The President shall declare all votes, but if any member rise to doubt a vote, he shall order a division.

CONFIRMATIONS

When nominations or appointments made by the Governor which require confirmation by the Senate have been transmitted to the Senate, the final question on every nomination shall be, "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" which question shall not be put on the same day on which the nomination is received, nor on the day on which it may be reported by a committee unless by unanimous consent.

Every such nomination shall, upon request of any senator, be referred to a committee, and if a question shall arise as to the proper committee, the same shall be referred without debate to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Expense to report the proper reference thereof and upon adoption of the report of such committee it shall be referred accordingly.

PRESIDENT PRO TEM.

5. The President shall call some member to the chair when the Senate goes into Committee of the Whole. In the absence of the President the President Pro Tem. shall preside, and in the absence of both the President and President Pro Tem. a member may be called to perform the duties of the chair; but substitutions shall not extend beyond adjournment.

FURTHER DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT

6. The President of the Senate shall sign all acts, memorials, addresses and resolutions; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by the Senate shall be signed by him and attested by the Secretary.

ORDER IN DEBATE

12. When any member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise to his feet, and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President," but shall not proceed to speak further until recognized by the chair. He shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personality. In discussing any resolution, senators shall be limited to five minutes each.

13. When any member is called to order he shall sit down until it is determined whether he is in order or not, and if a member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the words excepted to shall be taken down in writing immediately.

14. When two or more members shall happen to rise at once, the President shall name the member who is to speak.

15. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question on the same day without leave of the Senate.

All motions to excuse a member from voting shall be made before the Senate divides or before he gives his vote upon a call of the ayes and nays. Any member wishing to be excused from voting may make a brief statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

19. When a motion is made and seconded it shall be stated by the President; or, being in writing it shall be handed to the Secretary and read aloud for debate.

20. Every motion or amendment shall be reduced to writing if the President or any member desires it. In such case it must be signed by the member or committee offering it.

21. After a motion is stated by the President, or read by the Secretary, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn by the author at any time before decision or amendment.

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

22. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received, but

To adjourn.

To lay on the table.

For the previous question.

Which three motions shall be decided without debate.

To commit.

To postpone to a day certain.

To amend, or

To postpone indefinitely.

These and several motions have precedence in the foregoing order; but a motion for the previous question having been seconded, or the main question ordered, a motion to lay on the table shall not be in order.

A motion to postpone to a certain day, to commit, to postpone indefinitely, or to amend, being decided, shall not again be allowed on the same day, nor at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

23. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, and also a motion to adjourn to a time certain. The latter motion is debatable. When either motion is refused it shall not be renewed until further business shall be transacted.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

24. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate, and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon amendments reported by a committee, if any, then upon all pending amendments in their order and then upon the main question. On a motion for the previous question, and prior to the ordering of the same, a call of the Senate shall be in order, but after a majority shall have ordered such motion, no call shall be in order prior to the decision of the main question.

25. On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

RECONSIDERATION

26. When a motion or question has been once put and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for reconsideration thereof, on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the next two days of actual session of the Senate thereafter; and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions except a motion to adjourn. A motion for reconsideration being put and lost, shall not be renewed.

DIVISION OF QUESTION

27. Any member may call for a division of the question when the same will admit of it. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed to be indivisible. A motion to strike out being lost shall not preclude an amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

PETITIONS AND OTHER COMMUNICATIONS

29. Every petition, memorial, remonstrance, resolution, bill and report of committee, shall be indorsed with its appropriate title, and immediately under the indorsement the name of the member presenting the same shall be written or printed.

30. Any member may make a call of the Senate, and require absent members to be sent for, but a call of the Senate cannot be made after the voting has commenced; and the call of the Senate being ordered and the absentees noted, the doors shall be closed, and no member permitted to leave the room until further proceedings under the call be dispensed with by a majority vote of all the members of the Senate and the matter or question, if any, under consideration at the time of the call be disposed of, or the Senate adjourns.

On adoption of the report by the Committee of the Whole, all bills recommended to pass, shall be placed upon the calendar.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS—LIMITING NUMBER OF AUTHORS

34. Bills, memorials, and joint resolutions may be introduced by any member in his place or by order of the Senate on a report of a committee. The number of authors and co-authors upon any bill shall not exceed three. At the time of introduction of a bill, memorial, or joint resolution, three copies thereof shall be furnished to the Secretary of the Senate by the member introducing same. Each such copy shall be endorsed "copy."

Each bill, memorial, and joint resolution shall have prefixed thereto the name of the person introducing it, and when reported from a committee, the name of such committee shall be endorsed thereon. Each proposed amendment to any bill, memorial, or joint resolution, and each committee report, shall be in triplicate and written on one side of the paper only.

The title of each bill must give its single subject and briefly state its purpose as far as practicable.

If the bill is for an amendment of a present statute, it shall contain the full text of the chapter, section, or subdivision to be amended. In the proper place in such text insert the words and characters constituting the amending matter and underscore the same, and when the bill is printed, put such amending matter in italics. The words and characters to be eliminated by the amendment are to be stricken out by a line drawn through them, and when the bill is printed, capitalize them and enclose the same in brackets. Before a committee to which such a bill is referred makes a favorable report upon such bill to the Senate, the chairman of the committee shall see that the bill conforms to this rule.

Bills shall refer to the Session Laws of this state as follows:

Laws—, Chapter—, Section—.

Bills shall refer to compilations of the laws of this state as follows:

Revised Laws 1905, Section—.

When referring to laws passed at the session of 1891 and prior years, and in those cases only, references shall be as follows:

Special Laws—, Chapter—, Section—.

General Laws—, Chapter—, Section—.

Reference shall be made to Minnesota Statutes 1941 for the provisions appearing therein, as modified by the Revisor's 1945 Report to the Senate and House of Representatives, unless reference to previous Session Laws is required for some special reason.

If the bill is for an original law and not an amendment of existing law, the sections and subdivisions shall be arranged, subdivided, and numbered in like manner as Minnesota Statutes 1941.

A bill for a codification of laws may assign to sections thereof identification by the decimal system of numbering used in Minnesota Statutes provided there is attached to such bill a written approval thereof by the Revisor of Statutes.

If the bill is for an amendment of a present statute, which was not amended in 1943, all statutory references shall be to Minnesota Statutes 1941, and it shall contain the full text of the section or subdivision to be amended as it appears in Minnesota Statutes 1941.

If the text of the chapter, section, or subdivision is modified by the Report of the Revisor of Statutes made and filed pursuant to Laws 1943, Chapter 545, the text shall be set forth so as to give effect to such modification.

If the chapter, section, or subdivision was amended by Laws 1943 with reference to Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927 or Mason's Supplement 1940, the body of the text shall be as contained in the 1943 law with statutory references therein changed to the corresponding chapter, section, or subdivision numbers in Minnesota Statutes 1941, and all other statutory references not a part of the text shall be to Minnesota Statutes 1941, Section—, Subdivision— (if necessary), as amended by Laws 1943, Chapter—, Section— (if necessary), except the number which immediately precedes the text, which shall be changed to the appropriate section or subdivision number as found in Minnesota Statutes 1941.

If the bill is for an amendment of an act enacted in 1943 which was an original law and not an amendment of an existing law, the body of the text shall be as contained in the 1943 law with statutory references therein, if any, changed to the corresponding chapter, section, or subdivision numbers in Minnesota Statutes 1941, and all other statutory references not a part of the text shall be to Laws 1943, Chapter—, Section— (if necessary), except the number to be inserted immediately preceding the text, which shall be the decimal number assigned to the 1943 act in the Report of the Revisor of Statutes referred to above.

When an existing law is sought to be amended or repealed the title of the amendatory act shall contain a proper reference to the law to be amended or repealed and briefly express the subject matter thereof.

All numbers in the titles shall be expressed in figures. All numbers of section or chapter of laws shall be in figures. In the body of the bill numbers in excess of 10 should be in figures except for a special reason they may be written, but when written they should not be followed by numbers in parentheses.

READING OF BILLS

35. Every bill, memorial, order, resolution or vote requiring the approval of the Governor shall receive three separate readings previous to its passage; the first and third readings shall be at length; and no such bill, memorial, order or resolution shall be read twice on the same day.

COMMITMENT

36. No bill or joint resolution shall be committed or amended until it has been once read at length. If objections are made to a bill on its first reading the question shall be: "Shall the bill be rejected?" If no objection be made or the question to reject be lost, the bill shall go on its second reading.

ALL BILLS TO GO TO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

37. All bills, memorials, orders, resolutions and votes requiring the approval of the Governor shall, after a second reading, be considered in Committee of the Whole before they shall be finally acted upon by the Senate.

FINAL PASSAGE

39. The final question upon a bill or other paper requiring action by both Houses after the first and second reading thereof, and after the consideration in Committee of the Whole, shall be upon its final passage.

AMENDMENT ON THIRD READING

40. No amendment shall be received on third reading except to fill blanks without the unanimous consent of the Senate. In filling blanks, the largest sum, the longest time and the greatest distance shall be first taken.

41. A bill or resolution may be committed at any time prior to its passage, and if any amendment be reported on such commitment to any other than a Committee of the Whole, it shall be again read the second time, considered in Committee of the Whole, and the question for third reading and passage again put.

15. (a) The Speaker shall preside over the House, and be charged with all the powers and duties pertaining to such presiding officer.

(b) He shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of disorderly conduct or disturbance in the galleries or the lobby, he or the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may order the same to be cleared.

(c) He shall have general control, except as provided by rule or law, of the hall of the House and of the corridors and the passages and of the rooms assigned to the use of the House, until further ordered.

(d) He shall sign all acts, addresses, joint resolutions, writs, warrants and subpoenas of or issued by order of the House and all vouchers for the payment of money out of the legislative expense fund of the House, and except as otherwise ordered by the House, money shall be paid out of said fund only upon voucher signed by the Speaker.

The Speaker shall not vote on appeals from his own decisions.

SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

16. The presiding officer may call a member to the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment. In the absence of the presiding officer, one of the members shall be selected by a majority vote to preside temporarily, until the return of the regular presiding officer.

DUTIES OF MEMBERS

17. When the House adjourns, the members shall keep their seats until the Speaker announces the adjournment.

Every member, before speaking, shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker, but shall not proceed to speak further until recognized by the Chair. When two or more members rise at once, the Speaker shall designate which shall speak first.

EXPLAINING OR CHANGING VOTE

18. No member shall be allowed to explain his vote or discuss the question while the yeas and nays are being taken; and no member shall be allowed to change his vote after the same is announced from the Chair.

NAME OF MEMBER OFFERING BILLS, ETC., TO GO ON JOURNAL

19. In all cases where a bill, order, resolution or motion shall be entered on the Journal of the House, the name of the member offering the same, shall be entered on the Journal.

ABSENCE OF MEMBERS AND OFFICERS

20. No member or officer of the House shall, unless from illness or some other sufficient cause he be unable to attend, absent himself from any session of the House during the entire day without having first obtained leave of absence from the Speaker.

DUTIES OF THE CHIEF CLERK AND ASSISTANTS OR EMPLOYEES

21. Neither the Chief Clerk nor his assistants or employees shall permit any records or papers belonging to the House to be taken out of their custody otherwise than in the regular course of business. The Chief Clerk shall report any missing papers to the Speaker. He shall have general supervision of all clerical duties appertaining to the business of the House; shall perform under the direction of the Speaker, all duties pertaining to his office, and shall keep a book showing the situation and progress of bills, memorials, and joint resolutions.

CLERICAL CORRECTIONS TO BILLS

22. (a) Minor clerical errors in any bill, memorial, or resolution, such as errors in orthography or grammar, or the incorrect use of one word for another (as "affect" for "effect"), or wrong numbering of references, whether such errors occur in the original bill or any amendment thereto, shall be corrected by the Chief Clerk, as a matter of course, upon the approval of the Chairman of any committee to which the bill was referred.

(b) The Chief Clerk shall insert the enacting clause in any bill before its passage if the same shall have been omitted.

(c) Any corrections made by the Chief Clerk under this rule shall be noted by him in the Journal.

(d) Webster's New International Dictionary shall be the standard authority in matters falling under the above rules.

NO ONE TO REMAIN BY THE CLERK'S DESK

23. No member, or other person, shall remain by the Clerk's desk when the yeas and nays are being called.

DUTIES OF THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

24. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to execute all orders of the House or of its presiding officer; to perform all duties that may, from time to time, be assigned to him connected with the policing and good order of the House; to exercise supervision over the ingress and egress of all persons to and from the Chamber; to see that all messages, etc., are promptly executed; and that the hall is properly ventilated and open for the use of the members; and to perform all other services pertaining to the office of Sergeant-at-Arms.

MOTIONS TO RECESS

25. All motions to recess for the purpose of granting the privilege to any person or persons to appear before the House during said recess shall be referred to the Committee on Rules, and no such motion shall be acted upon without a favorable report from said committee.

ORDER IN DEBATE

26. No member shall speak more than twice on the same subject without leave of the House, nor more than once until every other member wishing to speak on the pending question shall have spoken.

MOTIONS

27. No motion shall be debated or put unless the same be seconded. It shall be stated by the Speaker before debate, and any such motion shall be reduced to writing if the Speaker or any other member requires it.

After a motion has been stated by the Speaker, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the House, but may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before amendment or decision; but all motions, resolutions or amendments shall be entered in the Journal unless withdrawn the same day.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

28. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order except during roll call.

When a motion to adjourn is made and seconded it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit any member to state any fact to the House, relative to the condition of the business of the House, which would seem to render it improper to adjourn at that time. Such statement, however, shall not be debatable and shall not, in any case, occupy more than two minutes.

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

29. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but:

1. Fix time to which to adjourn.
2. To adjourn.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
(Which four motions shall be decided without debate.)
5. To commit.
6. To postpone to a day certain.
7. To amend.
8. To postpone indefinitely.

These several motions shall have precedence in the foregoing order; but the previous question having been seconded, and the main question ordered, a motion to lay on the table shall not be in order.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

30. (a) The previous question shall be in this form: "The Gentleman from _____ moves the previous question. Do fifteen members second the motion?" If the motion be properly seconded, the question shall be stated as follows: "As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'no'." There shall be a motion for the previous question, which, being ordered by a majority of all members present, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions upon which it has been ordered.

The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the rules or an amendment or amendments; or it may be made to embrace all authorized motions or amendments and include the bill to its passage or rejection.

(b) On a motion for the previous question, and prior to the ordering of the same, a call of the House shall be in order, but after a majority shall have ordered the previous question, no call shall be in order prior to the decision of the main question.

(c) When the previous question is decided in the negative it shall leave the main question under debate for the residue of the sitting, unless sooner disposed of by taking a vote, on the question or in some other manner.

INCIDENTAL QUESTIONS OF ORDER

31. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, during the pendency of such motion, or after the House shall have determined that the main question now be put, shall be decided whether on appeal or otherwise without debate.

PETITIONS, ETC.—HOW PRESENTED

32. Petitions, memorials and other papers presented to the House shall be presented by the Speaker or member in his place, and a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made verbally, and endorsed thereon, together with the name of the member introducing the same.

EVERY MEMBER TO VOTE UNLESS EXCUSED

33. Every member who shall be present before the vote is declared from the chair, shall vote for or against the matter before the House, unless the House shall excuse him, or unless he is immediately interested in the question, in which case he shall not vote.

PROCEDURE IN EXCUSING MEMBER FROM VOTING

34. When a member declines to vote on a call of his name, he shall be required to assign his reasons therefor; and having assigned them, the presiding officer shall submit the question to the House, "Shall the member, for the reasons assigned by him, be excused from voting?" which shall be decided without debate. And these proceedings shall be had after the vote has been taken and before the chair has announced the vote, and any further proceedings in reference thereto shall be after such announcement.

ORDER DURING SESSION

35. When the Speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk out of or across the House, nor when a member is speaking shall any other member entertain any private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the chair.

ORDER OF PUTTING QUESTION

36. All questions, whether in committee or in the House, shall be put in the order in which they are moved, except in the case of privileged questions, and in filling up blanks the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

DIVISION OF A QUESTION

37. If the question in debate contains several points any member may have the question divided. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

QUESTIONS OF ORDER

38. If any member of the House, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules, the Speaker shall (or any member may) call him to order, in which case he shall immediately sit down unless permitted on motion of another member to explain, and the House, if appealed to, shall decide in either case without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, but not otherwise; and if the case require it, he shall be liable to censure or such punishment as the House may deem proper.

CALLED TO ORDER FOR OFFENSIVE WORDS IN DEBATE

39. If any member be called to order for offensive words in debate the person calling him to order shall report the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's desk and no member shall be held to answer, or be subjected to the censure of the House, for language used in debate if any other member has spoken or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exception to them shall have been taken.

MEMBERS MAY DEMAND YEAS AND NAYS

40. The yeas and nays shall not be ordered unless demanded by 15 members, except upon final passage of bills, joint resolutions, and motions directing the payment of money. In these cases yeas and nays shall be ordered without demand.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DEBATE

41. Upon any member giving notice of his intention to debate any resolution, the same shall lie over one day without debate or any other action. This notice of intention to debate may be given at any time before the vote is taken on the resolution.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

42. Ten members may demand a call of the House and require absent members to be sent for; but a call of the House cannot be made after the voting has commenced, and such call being ordered, the doors shall be closed and no member permitted to leave the chamber until the call is suspended. And, pending the call, no motion shall be in order except it pertains to matters incidental to the call or motion to suspend further proceedings under the same, provided that the call shall not be suspended until a record of those present has been completed. Thereafter the call may be suspended by majority vote of the whole House only when all members are present or at any time by a two-thirds vote of the whole House. After the call of the House has been ordered and proceedings thereunder are suspended, the Sergeant-at-Arms shall not permit any member to leave the chamber unless excused by the Speaker.

SUSPENSION OF THE RULES TO HASTEN A BILL

43. Every bill shall be read on three different days, unless, in case of urgency, two-thirds of the whole House deem it expedient to dispense with this rule; and no bill shall be passed until it shall have been read at length twice, provided that no motion for suspension of the rules to advance a bill for consideration out of its regular order shall be made or entertained unless presented to the Speaker in writing stating the present position of the bill and then only under the order of business "Motions and Resolutions," as such order of business is reached under Rule 3. Unanimous consent must be first obtained by the member making the motion before the Speaker can entertain the motion to suspend the rules at any other time.

A motion to suspend the rules together with the subject matter to which it pertains shall be open to debate but the previous question may be applied thereto.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO MAKE A MOTION

44. Whenever unanimous consent to make a motion is requested by a member, the member as a part of such request shall state briefly the purpose of such motion and the subject matter involved.

PROCEEDINGS ON THE PASSAGE OF BILLS

45. No resolution involving the expenditure of money out of the legislative expense fund or otherwise, or joint resolution, shall be declared passed until voted for by a majority of all members elected to the House, to be determined by a roll call. All resolutions and motions involving the expenditure of money out of the legislative expense fund shall be referred to the Rules Committee before being acted upon by the House. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of its being an amendment. No bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the House.

AMENDMENTS TO APPROPRIATION BILLS

46. No amendment increasing the amount or amounts carried by any appropriation bill shall be declared passed until voted for by a majority of all members elected to the House.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

47. When a question has once been made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for the reconsideration thereof; but no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, message, report, or other official action upon which the vote was taken shall have gone out of the possession of the House, announcing their decision. Nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless made on the same day upon which the vote was taken, or within the next two days of actual session of the House thereafter.

Such motion shall take precedence over all other questions, except the motion to adjourn; provided, that when notice of intention to move such reconsideration shall be given by a member, the Clerk of the House shall retain the said bill, resolution, message, report, or other official action, until after the expiration of the time during which such motion can be made, as hereinbefore provided, unless the same is previously disposed of. Such notice of intention to move reconsideration shall have precedence over the motion to reconsider, except that it shall be in order for any member who voted on the prevailing side to make the motion to reconsider on the last day allowed for the making thereof, unless the same has been previously disposed of. A motion for reconsideration having been put and lost shall not be renewed.

THE MOTION TO RESCIND

48. The motion to rescind shall not be in order at any time in any proceeding in the House or of any committee thereof.

AUTHORIZED MANUAL OF PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE

49. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Jefferson's Manual shall govern the House in all cases in which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with these rules and orders of the House, and the joint rules and orders of the Senate and House of Representatives.

PURCHASING SUPPLIES

51. The Chief Clerk shall be the agent of the House of Representatives for the purchase of supplies. Before making purchases, however, it shall be his duty to consult with and get prices from the Commissioner of Administration of the State of Minnesota and then submit the same to the Rules Committee together with a list of necessary supplies, and the prices for which the same can be secured, which supplies shall then be purchased by the Chief Clerk upon the approval of the Rules Committee.

COMMITTEE ON ENGROSSMENT AND ENROLLMENT

52. The Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment shall examine all bills after they are engrossed, and report the same to the House "correctly engrossed" before the third reading. The said Committee may report at any time, and all bills shall be engrossed in typewriting.

The Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment shall examine all House bills, memorials, and joint resolutions which have passed the two houses and when reported "correctly enrolled" they shall be presented to the presiding officers of the two houses for their signatures; and when so signed, to the Governor for his approval. The said Committee may report at any time, but it shall not report any bill as correctly enrolled which has the words interlined therein; or when any words have been erased therefrom and all bills shall be enrolled in typewriting. The Chairman of said Committee shall keep, or cause to be kept, a record showing the hour and date of the receipt by it of each bill and its return to the House and all bills shall be returned in the same order as that in which they are received.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

53. A Committee of Conference may report at any time. No committee except the Committee of Conference and the Committee on Rules shall sit during the sitting of the House without leave.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES

54. Special committees to whom reference shall be made shall in all cases report a state of facts and their opinions thereupon, to the House.

MEETING OF COMMITTEES

55. The Chief Clerk of the House after conference with the chairmen of the various committees of the House shall prepare a schedule of committee meetings, fixing as far as practicable the date and hour which will be the regular meeting time of each committee to be first approved by a majority of the House. Should it be necessary to hold a special meeting or for any reason change temporarily the regular meeting of the committee, the notice by the chairman of said committee of such change shall be read from the desk at least one day in advance thereof, and also posted upon the bulletin board at the same time, or on a majority vote of the House, fixing the time therefor at any time. Any committee shall have the right to change the time of its meeting.

TIME LIMIT FOR CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

56. Fifteen legislative days after a bill has been referred to committee (other than a bill for appropriations or claims) and no report has been made upon the same by such committee, the author thereof may request that such bill be returned to the House and such request shall be entered in the Journal for the day. Such committee shall then have seven calendar days thereafter in which to report back the bill requested. If the committee shall fail to report such bill back within such seven days, such author may at any time during the legislative session within five calendar days after the expiration of such seven days in writing presented to the Speaker, demand the return forthwith to the House of the bill in question, which demand shall forthwith be entered in the Journal for the day and shall constitute the demand of the House and thereupon such bill shall at once be considered to be in possession of the House and shall be placed at the foot of General Orders for the following day in the manner prescribed by Rule 13 subject to re-reference by the House. A motion for such re-reference if made on the day of such demand or within one legislative day thereafter shall take precedence over all other motions except privileged motions and shall be in order at any time.

The House may recall any bill from any committee at any time, give the same its second reading and advance the same to General Orders by a majority vote of the whole House.

SUBSTITUTIONS OF BILLS

57. No standing or special committee, nor any member or members thereof, shall report any substitute for any bill or bills referred to such committee, which substitute relates to a different subject or is intended to accomplish a different purpose from that of the original bill for which it is reported or which, if adopted and passed, would require a title essentially different from the title of the original bill; and every substitute bill so reported shall be rejected whenever the House is advised that the same is in violation of this rule. This rule shall not be suspended without the unanimous consent of the House.

EMPLOYEES

58. All propositions for the appointment of employees of the House, other than those provided by law, shall be referred to the Committee on Rules. No appointments shall be made unless favorably reported upon by such Committee or its report be overruled by three-fourths vote of the House. No rule of the House shall be suspended, altered or amended without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members of the whole House, except Rules 57 and 58, which shall require the concurrence of three-fourths of all the members of the whole House. But the Committee on Rules may report at any time and any rule so reported may be adopted by the majority of the House.

PRINTING OF BILLS

60. All bills of general nature, including all bills appropriating money or lands shall be printed, provided that no bill shall be printed until after the same shall have been favorably reported by the committee to which it shall have been referred unless ordered printed by a majority vote of the House.

In case of bills received from the Senate which have been amended in the Senate after having been printed by that body, it shall be the duty of the Committee of the House to which the same are referred to make a report to the House as to the advisability or inadvisability of having the same printed. All Committee Chairmen shall be furnished with a copy of this Rule.

When former members of Congress or the Minnesota Legislature, or any other persons are personally introduced to the Speaker by members of the House, the Speaker may issue a permit good for the day to such persons, after having satisfied himself that such person does not seek the floor of the House for the purpose of directing or using his influence upon any measure pending or otherwise before the House. It is expressly directed that the Sergeant-at-Arms shall keep the alcoves cleared (the alcoves shall be kept for members only) and at no time when the House is in session can visitors on the floor of the House who are guests of members thereof occupy the alcoves, but such persons when admitted shall be provided with a seat near the Speaker's rostrum, and at no time shall a conversation be carried on to disturb the business of the House.

It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a request for the suspension of this rule, or to present from the chair the request of any member for unanimous consent unless, however, an extraordinary condition exists, in which event he may consent to entertain a motion for its suspension.

CONSTRUCTION, RULE AS TO

63. ## VISITING PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

66. No leave of absence shall be granted any committee, special or standing, to visit any public institution of the state, or for any other purpose. Whenever any committee shall report to the House that it is desirable that such committee receive information concerning a public institution, the House may, by a majority vote of the whole House, grant a leave of absence to not more than three members of such committee, to be designated by the chairman thereof. Application for a leave of absence of such members of a committee shall be made to the House in writing, by the chairman thereof, and such application shall give the name of the institution or institutions to be visited and to briefly recite the occasion and necessity for visiting the same, together with the names of the committee-men designated for that purpose and the name of the stenographer to accompany such committee-men if one is necessary. Such application shall immediately and without debate be referred to the Committee on Rules, with instructions to report upon the same on the next legislative day. Said members and their stenographers, if any, shall be allowed their actual expenses.

AUTHORIZING ELECTRICAL DEVICE

67. Unless otherwise ordered any vote, except upon elections and upon the overriding of a Governor's veto, may be taken by means of the electrical voting system which shall be under the control of the Speaker of the House.

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE

JOINT CONVENTIONS—HOW GOVERNED

1. The Speaker of the House shall preside at all conventions of the two branches of the Legislature, and shall call the members to order. The Chief Clerk of the House shall be the Secretary, and the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House shall be the Sergeant-at-Arms at the Convention.

DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT

2. The President of the convention shall preserve order and decorum, may speak on all points of order in preference to other members; shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the convention by any member. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

QUESTIONS—HOW STATED

3. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to-wit: "As many as are of the opinion that (as the question may be), say 'Aye,'" and after an affirmative vote is expressed, "As many as are of the contrary opinion, say 'No.'" If the President doubts, or a division be called, the convention shall decide—those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise and afterwards those in the negative.

PRESIDENT'S RIGHT TO VOTE

4. The President shall have the right of voting in all cases except on an appeal from his decision, and on all questions he shall vote last.

ORDER OF DEBATE

5. When any member is about to speak or deliver any matter to the convention, he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President," and confine himself to the question under debate and avoid personalities.

6. Whenever any member is called to order he shall be seated until the point of order is determined; and if called to order for words spoken in debate the exceptional words shall be reduced to writing immediately.

7. When two or more members rise at the same time, the President shall name the member who is in order.

8. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question, without permission of the convention.

CALL OF THE CONVENTION

9. Any five members may move a call of the convention, and require absent members to be sent for, but a call cannot be made after voting is commenced; and a call being ordered and the absentees noted, the doors shall be closed and no member permitted to leave the hall until the report of the Sergeant-at-Arms be received and acted upon, or further proceedings under the call are suspended by a vote of the majority of all the members of the convention.

EITHER HOUSE, MAY AMEND, ETC.

10. It shall be in the power of either House to amend any amendment made by the other to any bill or resolution.

BILLS—HOW ENROLLED AND SIGNED

11. After a bill, memorial or resolution shall have passed both Houses, it shall be duly enrolled in typewriting by the enrolling clerk of the House in which it originated. The Senate and House Committees on Enrolled Bills, acting jointly, shall then carefully compare the enrollment with the engrossed copies as passed by the two Houses, and after correcting all errors that may be discovered in the enrollment, report the same as correctly enrolled to their respective Houses. They shall then obtain the signatures and certificates of the proper officers to the enrolled copies, present the same to the Governor for his approval, and report the date of such presentation to their respective Houses.

ELECTIONS BY JOINT CONVENTIONS

12. Whenever there shall be an election of any officers in Joint Convention, the result shall be certified by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, and by them announced to their respective Houses, and shall be entered on the Journal of each and communicated to the Governor by the Secretary of the convention.

COMMITTEES OF CONFERENCE

13. In all cases of disagreement between the Senate and House on amendments, adopted by either House to a bill, memorial or resolution passed by the other House, a Committee of Conference, consisting of not less than three members, nor more than five members from each House, may be requested by either House, and the other House shall appoint a similar committee. The manner of procedure shall be as follows: The Senate, for instance, passes a bill and it is duly transmitted to the House, which body adopts an amendment to the bill and passes the bill as amended, returning the same with the record of the actions of the House, to the Senate; the Senate refuses to concur in the House amendment, asks for a Committee of Conference, appoints such committee on the part of the Senate, and with a record of the action of the Senate, returns the bill to the House; if the House adheres to its amendment, a like committee is appointed on the part of the House. The joint committee shall at a convenient hour agreed upon meet and state to each other, verbally or in writing, the reason of their respective Houses for or against the disagreement, and confer thereon, and shall report to both Houses such agreement as they may arrive at, if any—and if not, the fact of a disagreement. The House last having possession of the bill before the conference commences shall first act upon such report, if an agreement is reported, and duly transmit the same with the record of its action thereon to the other House together with the bill.

EITHER HOUSE MAY RECEDE, ETC.

14. It shall be in order for either House to recede from any subject or matter of difference existing between the two Houses at any time previous to a conference, whether the papers upon which the difference has arisen are before it or not, and a majority shall govern, except in cases otherwise provided in the constitution; and the question having been put and lost, shall not be again put upon the same day, and a reconsideration thereof shall in all respects be regulated by the rules of the respective Houses.

APPROPRIATIONS OF MONEY—HOW MADE

15. The same bill shall not appropriate public money or property to more than one local or private purpose.

A bill for legislative expense shall be passed in both branches of the Legislature in the same manner as other bills carrying an appropriation are passed, and approved by the Governor, and the fund provided by such appropriation shall be designated as the "Legislative Expense Fund" from which money shall be paid out by the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House as herein provided.

Payment out of the Legislative Expense Fund for all supplies for the Senate shall be made upon proper certification by the Secretary of the Senate, upon approval of the Senate Committee on Rules and Legislative Expense.

Payment out of the Legislative Expense Fund for all supplies for the House of Representatives shall be made upon proper certification by the Chief Clerk of the House upon approval of the House Committee on Rules.

The Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House with the approval of the Speaker of the House, are each hereby authorized and empowered to employ from the stenographic and clerical force of the Senate and House respectively, for not to exceed five days after the close of the Session, such employees as may be necessary to finish the business of the Legislature for such Session, at salaries not to exceed the salaries paid such employees under the rules of the Senate or House, as the case may be.

Persons so employed by the Secretary of the Senate shall upon proper certification by the Secretary of the Senate, and persons so employed by the Chief Clerk of the House shall upon proper certification by the Chief Clerk of the House, be paid for such services out of the Legislative Expense Fund of the Legislature for such Session.

No certificate authorizing the payment of any money appropriated by the Legislature shall be issued by the Secretary of the Senate or by the Clerk of the House by virtue of any motion or resolution, unless such motion or resolution shall have been carried by a majority of all members of the House in which it was introduced.

No cause appropriating money for a local or private purpose shall be contained in a bill appropriating money for the state government or public institutions, and all resolutions authorizing the issuing of certificates by the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House for the payment of money shall be upon the call of the "yeas" and "nays."

Within sixty legislative days after the convening of the Legislature in regular session and at least twenty days prior to the adjournment thereof, the Committee on Finance of the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations of the House shall report to their respective Houses six separate appropriation bills as follows:

1. A bill appropriating money for the general administrative and judicial expenses of the state government for the succeeding two fiscal years including salaries, office expenses and supplies and other necessary expenses connected therewith.

2. A bill appropriating money for the support and maintenance of all state penal and charitable institutions, and other institutions of the state except educational for the two succeeding fiscal years.

3. A bill appropriating money for the support and maintenance of all state educational institutions for the two succeeding fiscal years.

4. A bill covering all appropriations providing for the payment of claims against the State of Minnesota which may have been allowed by the Finance Committee of the Senate or the Appropriations Committee of the House.

5. A bill covering all appropriations made to aid in the maintenance of state or county fairs including parks, fish hatcheries and other semi-state activities.

6. A bill covering all appropriations relating to public welfare.

No other appropriations shall be contained in any of said bills but all other appropriations shall be contained in separate bills.

RULES OF JOINT CONVENTION

16. The rules of the House shall be the rules of the Joint Convention of both Houses in all cases where the foregoing rules are not applicable.

TITLE OF BILLS SHALL EXPRESS THEIR SUBJECT

17. The subject of each bill shall be clearly expressed in the title and when a bill is amendatory of an existing act, it shall not be sufficient to refer to the chapter, section or page, but the subject thereof shall be clearly stated.

MINNESOTA

A BRIEF SKETCH OF MINNESOTA HISTORY

The development of Minnesota has been conditioned to no slight degree by the glaciers that in the ice ages covered most of its area. Their story is written in the thousands of lakes left in their wake; in the terminal moraines that rise as bluffs and mounds to give a varied aspect to the scenery; and in the deep rich soil, ground fine by the age-long passage of ice rivers. Glacial action may even explain the presence in eastern and northern Minnesota of splendid pine and hardwood forests; and it may account for the absence of trees on the prairies that stretch away to the south and west.

French, English, and American explorers found their way into the region at surprisingly early dates through the innumerable waterways left as glacial imprints. By the main highways of water that lead into the heart of Minnesota—the Red, the St. Louis, the Pigeon, and the Mississippi and its tributaries, the Minnesota and the St. Croix—came traders in their light birch canoes, lured by the treasures of furs and skins that brought fortunes in distant European and Asiatic markets; explorers to seek the elusive Northwest Passage or to set up claims to an inland empire; and settlers who were to build the foundations of a commonwealth. These lakes and streams not only have influenced the course of Minnesota's history, but they have also by their beauty entered into the very concept of "Minnesota," an Indian name probably meaning "cloud-tinted water."

Scarcely were the Pilgrim Fathers settled on their rocky shore when the exploration of the Minnesota region began. Who the white man was that first trod its soil may never be known, but Radisson and Groseilliers seem to have been the first to leave written records of their visits. Radisson's narratives of his "voyages" into the "upper country" not long after the middle of the seventeenth century record vividly the life of the native tribes at the beginning of their contacts with the white men and before the clashes between the Sioux and Chippewa Indians that pushed the former back from Lake Superior and from the region of Wisconsin. The Chippewa, armed with guns and ammunition, forced the Sioux to retreat continually toward the west and south, until when British and American traders reached the headwaters of the Mississippi after the close of the French regime in 1763, the Chippewa were living in the former habitat of the Sioux, and the latter had become a prairie tribe with an inveterate hatred for their Chippewa aggressors.

Best known among the many Frenchmen who made their way into the Northwest after the visits of Radisson and Groseilliers were Nicolas Perrot, who in 1686 built a fort on the shores of Lake Pepin and took possession of the region in the name of the king of France; Du Lhut, who between 1679 and 1689 explored the country between the Kaministiquia, the Mississippi, and the St. Croix rivers and exercised a wise restraint over the savage tribes of the region; Michel Accault and Father Hennepin, who explored the upper Mississippi in 1680, when Hennepin discovered and named the Falls of St. Anthony; Le Sueur, a companion of Perrot at Lake Pepin in 1686, who built a post on Prairie Island in 1695 and Fort L'Huillier on the Blue Earth River in 1700; and the knightly La Verendrye, who with his sons and his nephew, La Jemeraye, opened the great canoe route from Lake Superior to Lake Winnipeg between 1731 and 1743.

Peace between Great Britain and France in 1763 brought eastern Minnesota under the British flag. It brought also freer trade with the Indians, and as a result many traders built their palisaded forts on Minnesota rivers and lakes. Two interesting figures of the British regime were Jonathan Carver and Peter Pond. Carver spent the winter of 1766-67 on the Minnesota River and during the following summer journeyed from Prairie du Chien to Grand Portage with Captain James Tute's expedition, which, inspired by Robert Rogers of Mackinac, intended to cross the continent in quest of the Northwest Passage. The plan had to be given up, but Carver later wrote and published an account of his travels which became a "best seller" of its day and gave to thousands on both sides of the Atlantic their first information about the Minnesota country. Pond, a Connecticut Yankee, spent two successive winters as a fur trader on the Minnesota River, beginning in 1773. Other traders operating in Minnesota during the British period were Jean Baptiste Perrault, who from 1783 to 1800 was an almost constant sojourner in this promised land of the fur traders; and Jean Baptiste Cadotte, who is believed to have opened to British traders the contested territory between the Sioux and the Chippewa in central and western Minnesota. Through northern Minnesota from the Red River to Lake Superior in the winter of 1797-98 passed David Thompson, a trader for the Northwest Company, who was also employed in determining scientifically the location of the forty-ninth parallel. His travels for the combined purpose of trade and exploration resulted in a great map of northwestern North America, and the diaries in which he recorded his observations are the earliest scientific data known to be extant on Minnesota topography.

The peace of 1783 granted to the United States the region between the Mississippi and Lake Superior, but British traders continued to ply their trade and to maintain their forts in the area until after the War of 1812, when Congress passed an act prohibiting foreigners from serving as chief traders in the fur trade of the United States. After 1816 the Northwest Company passed from the Minnesota scene, and the American Fur Company, which had been incorporated by John Jacob Astor in 1808, took up the business of exploiting Minnesota's fur resources.

To protect American traders in the region a military post originally known as Fort St. Anthony and later called Fort Snelling was established in 1819 as part of a broad scheme of frontier defense. The land on which this fort was built was obtained from the Sioux in a treaty made in 1805 by Lieutenant Zebulon M. Pike. After the Louisiana Purchase had made Minnesota west of the Mississippi American territory, Pike was sent into the region to explore the headwaters of the Mississippi, conciliate the Indians, and obtain fort sites. His selection of the site at the mouth of the Minnesota River was approved in 1817 by Major Stephen H. Long while engaged in a government reconnaissance.

With the establishment of Fort Snelling a new era began for the Minnesota country. Trade relations were opened with the Selkirk colony on the lower Red River in Canada; steamboats appeared on the Mississippi in 1823, making possible communication with the settlements to the south and east; an Indian agent, Lawrence Taliaferro, settled at the fort and exercised a wise influence over the savage tribes for twenty years; and explorers made the fort the objective or point of departure for their expeditions. Among the explorers who stopped at Fort Snelling may be mentioned Governor Lewis Cass, who attempted to find the source of the Mississippi in 1820; Giacomo C. Beltrami, an Italian explorer, who three years later sought the same objective; Major Long, whose second Minnesota journey in 1823 took him up the Minnesota and down the Red River; Henry R. Schoolcraft, who discovered Lake Itasca, the source of the Mississippi, in 1832; George Catlin, whose journey of 1836 took him to the famous pipestone quarry; Joseph N. Nicollet, whose tours in the late thirties resulted in the first scientifically accurate map of the present area of Minnesota; and Major Samuel Woods, who marched with dragoons through the Red River country in 1849.

Just at the time of the founding of the fort missionaries began to appear among the Sioux and Chippewa Indians. The Catholics, Dumoulin and Edge, were at Rainy Lake and Pembina as early as 1818. They were followed in 1829 by the Presbyterians, Coe and Stevens, and in 1831 and 1833 by the Congregationalists, Ayer, Ely, and Boutwell. In 1836 three Swiss Protestants, Gavin, Dentan, and Rossier, began a mission station at Red Wing's village; and the following year the Methodist elder, Brunson, opened a station at Kaposia. Other prominent missionaries were Dr. Williamson, Stephen Riggs, Father Ravoux, and Gideon and Samuel Pond, who labored among the Sioux; and Father Pierz, who established a church and school at Grand Portage in the early forties.

For some years before the arrival of Father Ravoux at St. Peter's, settlers had been collecting about the fort. Many of them were old voyageurs, and others were colonists from the Red River settlements. Hither in 1834 came a man who was destined for an important role in Minnesota history—Henry H. Sibley, the agent of the great American Fur Company. The Reverend Lucian Galtier came as priest to the Catholic populace in 1840 and built a little log church across the river from St. Peter's, by that time called Mendota. This chapel he dedicated in 1841 to the great missionary apostle, and from the church the settlement round about took the name St. Paul.

Meanwhile other settlements of whites had begun. In 1837 the United States government had purchased from the Indians the triangle of land between the lower St. Croix and the Mississippi, and at once lumbering camps began to dot the pine forests. Settlements began at Dakota (Stillwater), Marine, and St. Croix Falls; and in 1848 a land boom started at St. Paul. Within a year immigration had increased the population to the number requisite for a territory; and in 1849 this region, which, in whole or in part, had been successively a portion of the French, English, and Spanish empires, the Northwest Territory, and the territories of Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Iowa, and Wisconsin, came into the Union as Minnesota Territory, with Alexander Ramsey of Pennsylvania as its first governor.

From 1849 to 1858 Minnesota remained a territory. This period witnessed the establishment of counties, the building of roads, the survey and sale of large tracts of the public domain, the extensive development of the lumber industry, and, in general, the laying of the foundations of a frontier state. One of the usual prerequisites for such a foundation is land, and until 1851 most of the land in Minnesota had not been secured from the Indians. In that year the treaties of Traverse des Sioux and Mendota opened for settlement a large tract of land in the southern and western portions of the territory, which had been occupied by the Sioux; and in 1854 and 1855 the Chippewa Indians likewise yielded up a large area in the northeastern and north central parts of the territory. The former region was wanted by settlers, the latter by lumber interests.

After 1851 the settlement of southeastern Minnesota was rapid, especially along the valleys of the Mississippi and Minnesota rivers. The majority of settlers in the years before the Civil War were native Americans, largely New Englanders, New Yorkers, and Pennsylvanians. Many of them came in colonies or townsite parties, and the new hamlets had much of the tone of eastern villages. Education was stressed from the start, both by the territorial legislature, which in its first session evolved a comprehensive system of free public schools and in 1851 passed an act to incorporate the University of Minnesota, and by religious bodies like the Methodists and the Benedictine monks, who in 1854 and 1857, respectively, established Hamline University and St. John's University. Another characteristic of these frontier settlements was the prevalence of lyceums, reading circles, and lecture programs. A high standard was set for journalism by the early newspapers, particularly by the first newspaper, the Minnesota Pioneer, established in 1849 at St. Paul by James M. Goodhue.

Immigration was stimulated by the territorial government, which appointed a board of immigration, and by transportation agencies. This was the heyday of steamboats on the upper Mississippi, which brought settlers up the river from Galena, Dunleith, or St. Louis. A great desire for railroads was felt and expressed, but the panic of 1857 and the Civil War retarded the early movement in this direction. Even before the war, however, the immigration of Irish, Germans, Norwegians, Swedes, and other nationalities had begun, and the movement increased for many years.

By 1857 settlement had progressed so far that statehood was a possibility. The desire for land grants, which Congress could be expected to make only to states, and the need of representatives in Congress to urge the building of a Pacific railroad through Minnesota led in that year to a demand for statehood. The story of the rival conventions, Democratic and Republican, that met in St. Paul, in July, 1857, held separate sessions, and produced two constitutions almost identical in phrasing is a dramatic one. Even more so is that of how Congress kept Minnesota standing before the portals until "Bleeding Kansas" had been ministered unto, despite all Stephen A. Douglas' efforts in Minnesota's behalf. Finally, after almost a year of waiting, on May 11, 1858, Minnesota took its place among the states.

Immigration from the East and from Europe went on apace, even after the outbreak of the Civil War, but in 1862 a rude setback was experienced. In August of that year the Sioux Indians, goaded by the lack of food, the tardiness of their annual payment, and other causes, rose against the whites and massacred scores of helpless settlers in the Minnesota Valley. Fort Ridgely and New Ulm were besieged and many cabins and settlements were attacked. Two important engagements with soldiers sent out from St. Paul under General Sibley were necessary before the Sioux were quelled. Most of the Indians who did not escape to the plains or to Canada were captured and sent to a reservation beyond the boundaries of the state. Thirty-eight of those found guilty of gross offenses were hanged. Many of the newer settlements were almost depopulated as a result of this uprising and it was many years before the hysteria and hatred of the Indian to which it gave rise were obliterated.

The settlement of Minnesota continued until the early 20th century. First the southeast and middle sections of the state were settled, then the south and west, and, finally, the northeast, which still remains sparsely populated. Earlier immigrants came from northern Europe; in the later period there were added to Minnesota's population Finns, Poles, Czechs, Slovacs, Russians, Italians, Greeks, and other nationalities.

The building of railroads in the state began with ten miles of road completed between St. Paul and St. Anthony in 1862. This line was constructed by the St. Paul and Pacific, the road that was reorganized under the leadership of James J. Hill in 1879 and eventually became the Great Northern. The first road to connect Minnesota with the Pacific coast, the Northern Pacific, was completed under the guidance of Henry Villard in 1883.

During the years following the Civil War the lumber resources of the state were intensively exploited. Minneapolis and Duluth owed their rapid growth during the seventies and eighties in part to the milling and shipping of lumber. In 1905 the production of lumber reached its peak with the cutting of two billion feet of timber .

In the early sixties agriculture in Minnesota emerged from the frontier subsistence type of farming and in the next two decades developed into commercial farming, devoted largely to a single crop. The state became one of the world's great wheat-producing centers. Beginning in 1880, however, wheat gradually gave way to corn as the staple produce, and agriculture became diversified. Dairying did not become an important industry in Minnesota until the early eighties, but its development since then has been rapid, especially during the last two decades. Minnesota now produces more butter than any other state, and there has been a remarkable growth of marketing through farmers' co-operative creameries. The rise and decline of wheat raising in Minnesota are reflected in the story of the Minneapolis flour mills. Between 1870 and 1890 they gained a position of undisputed leadership in the milling industry, a rank that they held until 1915. Since that time, however, the output of the mills has declined.

Rich beds of iron ore were discovered in the northeastern section of the state in the last decades of the nineteenth century. In 1884 the first shipment of ore was made from the Vermillion Range, finding its way to Lake Superior and eastern markets by way of Two Harbors. Later Duluth developed into an important lake port for the shipment of ore from the Mesabi Range, discovered by the Merritt brothers in 1890, and the Cuyuna Range. Minnesota became a national center for iron mining.

In the years following the Civil War the state gradually assumed increased responsibility for the care of poor, sick, and defective citizens. The first of six hospitals for the insane was opened at St. Peter in 1866; since then colonies for epileptics, hospitals for consumptives, and schools for feeble-minded, deaf, blind, dependent, and indigent crippled children have been established. The organization of a state board of health in 1872 was followed by the passage of laws compelling quarantine for contagious diseases, establishing a bureau of vital statistics, setting standards for pure foods, and in other ways meeting the requirements of new social points of view.

Cultural and educational transition and development have marked the state's progress. The University of Minnesota opened its doors in 1869 and in the decades that followed sought to meet and serve the changing needs of the state in higher education under such leaders as Folwell, Northrop, Vincent, Burton, Coffman, and Guy Stanton Ford. Musical organizations became active in St. Paul as early as the sixties, and the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra can trace its beginnings to a musical society of the seventies. Free libraries appeared in the cities in the eighties, and the Minneapolis Society of Fine Arts was incorporated in 1883. The woman's movement had reached the state about 1870, when women's clubs began to appear and the state suffrage association had its origin. Athletics and outdoor sports attracted increasing interest in the eighties and nineties. In the field of literature Minnesota has produced noted authors and critics. Rolvaag, Lewis, and others have pictured Minnesota scenes in novels that have won wide acclaim; Firkins and Upson have won distinction in criticism and poetry; and Neill and Folwell have contributed outstanding historical studies.

The first Minnesota state governor was a Democrat, Henry H. Sibley. The Republican party, which put Ramsey in the governor's chair in 1860, was dominant for a generation after the Civil War, giving the state such governors as Miller, Marshall, Austin, Davis, Pillsbury, Hubbard, McGill, Merriam, Nelson, and Clough. Challenges from the Democrats and third parties increased toward the end of the century and in 1898 John Lind won the governorship. The Republicans, with Van Sant, then held the office for two terms, when John A. Johnson, Democrat, appeared and carried the state three times. Eberhart, Republican, was followed by Hammond, Democrat, and he in turn by Burnquist, Preus, and Christianson, Republicans. Donnelly was a leader of the agrarian movement in its early years; the nonpartisan league, with the elder Charles A. Lindbergh among its leaders, appeared in the World War years; and the Farmer-Labor party, organized after the war, elected Floyd B. Olson governor in 1930. Governor Olson's career was cut short by his death in office on August 22, 1936, and his position was filled by Hjalmar Petersen until Elmer A. Benson took office in 1937. The Republican party returned to power in the state elections of 1938. Governor Harold E. Stassen was inaugurated as the state's chief executive in 1939. United States senators from Minnesota have included such men as Rice, Shields, Ramsey, Windom, Washburn, Nelson, Clapp, Kellogg and the incumbents, Henrik Shipstead and Joseph H. Ball.

No brief sketch can gather up the many forces that have played parts in developing the commonwealth of Minnesota or call the long roll of its distinguished sons and daughters. The people of the state naturally have been influenced by all the factors that have been fundamental in modern American life generally. To the national life, too, the state and its people have made notable contributions both in wars—Civil, Spanish-American, and World—and in the pursuits of peace—statesmanship, the church, with Bishop Whipple and Archbishop Ireland notable figures, science, invention, the arts, and the professions. From the day of the explorers to the present time, Minnesota has been intimately bound to the larger world in which its transition from wilderness to commonwealth has had its setting.

MINNESOTA CHRONOLOGY

1635. Jean Nicolet, a French explorer, spent the winter near Green Bay on Lake Michigan. He took back to Montreal the first information about Minnesota Indians.
- 1654-60. Radisson and Groseilliers, French traders, made two expeditions into the West, reaching the Wisconsin region and possibly the Minnesota country. In 1654-56 they may have gone as far west as Prairie Island, in the Mississippi River between Red Wing and Hastings. In 1659-60 they again traveled in the West and came in contact with Sioux Indians.
1665. Father Claude Allouez, a Jesuit, established a mission at La Pointe, near Ashland, Wisconsin.
1679. July 2, Daniel Greysolon DuLhut (Duluth) held a council with the Sioux on the shore of Mille Lacs. DuLhut, in July, 1680, by way of the St. Croix river, reached the Mississippi and met Hennepin.
1680. Louis Hennepin, after being held captive in a village of the Mille Lacs Sioux, discovered the Falls of St. Anthony, which he named for his patron saint.
1689. May 8, Nicolas Perrot, at his Fort St. Antoine, on the Wisconsin shore of Lake Pepin, laid formal claim to the surrounding country for France. He built a fort also on the Minnesota shore of this lake, near its outlet.
1695. Le Sueur built a fort or trading post on Isle Pelee, now Prairie Island, above Lake Pepin.

NORTH STAR STATE

NAME

Minnesota, "The Land of Sky Blue Waters," derives its name from the river called "Minisota" by the Dakotas, pronounced "Min-nee-sotah" (Mini, water; sotah, whitishly clouded, sky-colored). For correct pronunciation, the convention held at Stillwater in 1848, to secure a territorial organization, instructed its delegates that the name of the Territory be written Minnesota. During an argument concerning the design of the seal to be adopted for the new territory it was called by Henry Sibley "The star of the north" probably in reference to the fact that the northwest angle beyond the Lake of the Woods is the northernmost land in the United States.

Out of lands at that time part of the territory of Wisconsin, Minnesota became a territory in 1849. After passage of the Enabling Act of 1857, Minnesota was admitted to the Union on May 11, 1858.

GEOGRAPHY

Minnesota includes the geographic center of North America. The state is bounded on the south by Iowa, on the west by South and North Dakota, on the north by Manitoba and Ontario, and on the east by Wisconsin. It is about 406 miles long, and from its most eastern point to the extreme western point about 358 miles wide. In a footnote on article 2 of the State constitution, the boundaries are fully defined, with explanation of the part projecting twenty-six miles north beyond the forty-ninth parallel, at the west side of the Lake of the Woods.

AREA

In area Minnesota is the eleventh state of the Union. It contains 84,286.53 square miles, or 53,943,379 acres, of which 5,637 square miles or, 3,607,680 acres, are water. The headwaters of three great river systems are found in its limits, those of streams flowing northward to Hudson bay, eastward to the Atlantic ocean, and southward to the Gulf of Mexico. About a third of this surface, on the south and west, consists of rolling prairie. The district north and west of Lake Superior has rich iron ore ranges. On the northwest border of this state, reaching also west into North Dakota and north into Manitoba, is the very fertile and broad Red river valley, formerly the bed of the Glacial Lake Agassiz, famed for its great harvests of wheat.

RIVERS

Few states are so well watered as Minnesota. Its navigable rivers are the Mississippi, the Minnesota, the St. Croix, the Rainy river, the St. Louis, the Red River of the North, and the Red Lake river, all of which, near their sources, have valuable water powers. Smaller streams include the Rum river and Snake river, the Cannon, Zumbro and Root rivers, the Vermilion, Crow Wing, Sauk and Elk rivers, the Blue Earth, Le Sueur, Des Moines, Cottonwood and Chippewa rivers.

LAKES

Minnesota has more than ten thousand lakes, the largest of which is Red Lake, with an area of 440 square miles, in the central northern part of the State. On the same northern slope, in St. Louis county, is the beautiful Vermilion lake. Adjoining the northeast part of the State for one hundred and fifty miles, the waters of the great Lake Superior wash its shores. On the southward slope of the State is Itasca lake, the source of the Mississippi, with Bemidji and Cass lakes, Lake Winnebigoishish, Leech Lake, and a multitude of others, all adding volume to the water of the Mississippi, eventually flowing into the Gulf of Mexico. There we have also Mille Lacs, about 200 square miles in area, the source of Rum river. The picturesque Lake Minnetonka, White Bear, Bald Eagle, the Chisago lakes, and very many more, have been much utilized as summer resorts. The northeastern section of the state, easily accessible on Minnesota's excellent system of highways, will generously reward all seekers of rest and recreation in its vast stretches of virgin forest and innumerable lakes of clear, cool water. Here just across the pavement from a fine, modern hotel probably facing a sporty golf course with fine bent greens and beautiful fairways cut right through the pines is almost sure to be one of Minnesota's ten thousand lakes, where wall-eyes, northerns or bass abound.

ELEVATION AND CLIMATE

Altitude of the state ranges from 602 feet above sea level on the shore of Lake Superior to 2,230 feet at the summit of the Misquah hills in Cook county.

Average mean temperature for the year is 44 degrees, and the summer mean temperature is about 70 degrees. According to federal health reports, it possesses an ideal climate, and throughout the more than 90 years of its agricultural history, there has been no instance of general crop failure.

INDUSTRIES AND RESOURCES

Minnesota is a state of seemingly endless resources and riches. Within its borders are found rich, rolling farm lands whose dairies lead the nation in the production of butter and rank second in the production of milk and milk powder. Its farms produce more oats and clover seed than those of any other state and rank second in poultry, poultry products and flax, third in turkeys, fourth in corn, fifth in rye and seventh in alfalfa seed and barley. The third largest stockyards in the nation are at South St. Paul.

While agriculture is the state's leading industry, mining is an important second. In 1944, the iron mines of northeastern Minnesota poured 66,500,000 tons of ore into the nation's blast furnaces, more than 65 per cent of the country's total.

Twenty-four state-owned mines contributed to this huge aggregate. Income from state mines, taxes on privately-mined ore, and revenue from other state-owned lands had raised Minnesota's permanent trust funds to a total of $132,868,998 by June 30, 1944.

These huge trusts have been built up through sale and lease of public lands that originally comprised about 8,500,000 acres, and through royalties on iron ore. Income from the funds is reserved, with minor exceptions, for continuance and development of the state's school system.

Lumbering, once the major industry in Minnesota, declined with depletion of the original stands of big timber. Lately, however, scientific forestry practices have opened new sources of supply, and new manufacturing processes have created demands for forest products that once were ignored.

Minnesota's timber supports an industry which is estimated to produce more total income to the people of northern Minnesota annually than was ever derived from the logging of the virgin forest. The sales value of all the forest products in the state now amounts to over $75,000,000 per year, including pulp, paper, lumber, and other forest products. This is directly reflected in wages, business income, tax revenue, and property values throughout the forest region. State-owned timber with a stumpage value of $421,415.67 was cut during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944.

Minnesota's 32 state forests comprise a gross area of 5,332,040 acres. No other state has as large an acreage in state forests. Of the total area, 1,971,745 acres are trust fund and acquired lands. Forests and woodlands constitute one of the most valuable assets of the state. In addition to the direct economic value of the timber, the forests constitute a great recreational and scenic attraction, enhance the appearance of lakes and streams, provide the habitat for abundant wildlife, and check floods and soil erosion.

From the start, Minnesota's government has recognized its duty to preserve spots of especial scenic or historic interest, and today its park system covers 81,543 acres, in 50 parks, roadside areas and monument sites. This property has a replacement value inventoried at $6,381,965.

Besides the natural resources of fields, mines and forests there are many others in the state that have assumed increasing importance in late years. Among these are rich deposits of granite, marble, limestone, jasper, sandstone, travertine, mica and feldspar. Pottery of excellent quality is made from clays found here, and there are deep beds of sand used in making glass. Minnesota also produces much cement.

A third major industry is the entertainment of vacationists, who come here each summer from throughout the nation to enjoy the state's recreational facilities. Before travel restrictions were made necessary on account of the war this business had amounted to nearly $150,000,000 annually, according to federal government reports. The state maintains an active Tourist Bureau with offices in the state capitol from which reliable information is always available.

Mention must also be made of the extensive educational system, which served last year more than one-half million pupils in its public school classes and which is headed by the second largest state university in the United States; of the Minnesota State Fair, the largest in the world, held each year in the Midway district of the Twin Cities, with its more than 160 acres of ground, superb buildings and paved streets, attracting exhibitors of the finest livestock and farm products to be found anywhere in the nation.

The mental picture would still be incomplete if attention is not called to the importance of Minnesota's transportation systems; of its modern and efficient railway lines; of the bridge of boats steaming eastward with iron ore, out of Duluth, which in point of tonnage is the second largest port in America; of the big river barges floating heavy freight between the Twin Cities and ports down the Mississippi and up the Ohio; and of the state's strategic location as the hub of the "over the top" air transportation to the Orient, the importance of which its forward-looking officials and legislature have seen and are making secure by the creation of a Department of Aeronautics within the state government under the direction of an able, air-minded commissioner and of the Minneapolis, St. Paul Metropolitan Airports Commission under the provisions of Chapter 500, Laws of 1943.

Minnesota's wealth and natural resources, her agricultural, business and educational opportunities, her cultural achievements and the very character of her people make her a leader in homes and farms, in education and roads, and offer vast opportunity to him who would make his home within her borders.

Truly, she is the Star of the North in the flag of the Union.

MINNESOTA STATE PARKS AND FORESTS

The state park system in Minnesota was started in 1889, when the legislature appropriated funds for purchase of a site for a monument on the Camp Release battlefield in Lac qui Parle county, to commemorate the last decisive battle with the Sioux in 1862. By 1945 the state had established 50 parks or other recreational areas, comprising 81,543 acres.

STATE PARKS

Alexander Ramsey State Park, purchased in 1911, comprises 185.38 acres of land adjacent to Redwood Falls. Included is a section of the Redwood River Valley and the Valley of Ramsey Creek. The slopes of the valley are precipitous. A zoo, which includes elk, deer and buffalo, is a feature of the park.

Beaver Creek Valley State Park contains 325.17 acres and is located near Caledonia. It derives its name from a trout stream which rises from artesian springs within the park and threads its way to the pool of the "Old Schech Mill" constructed in 1896 and still operating. The park extends for approximately two miles through the narrow valley flanked by hills with numerous outcroppings of sandstone topped with limestone.

Buffalo River State Park, 241.86 acres, is one-half mile south of U. S. Highway No. 10, 12½ miles east of Moorhead. It was acquired in 1936, and commemorates the prehistoric Campbell Beach of Lake Agassiz. Picnic facilities and a bathhouse and swimming pool are provided.

Camden State Park, acquired in 1934, embodies 469.96 acres of hilly country through which the Redwood River flows. It is in Lyon County, south of Marshall. Facilities for camping and picnicking, comfort stations, camp stoves, swimming pool with bathhouse, refectory and pure drinking water are provided.

Cottonwood River State Park embodies 836.48 acres purchased in 1934, adjacent to the south boundary of New Ulm. The area comprises a portion of the river valley including the tops of the bluffs which rise from the valley floor. A concrete dam created a lake of 209 acres, which affords canoeing, boating, swimming and fishing. A modern bathhouse and refectory, a fine sand beach, boating and picnic facilities are provided.

Gooseberry Falls State Park consists of 637.83 acres acquired in 1933. The Gooseberry River, with two water falls of approximately 30 feet, flows through the area to Lake Superior. The park is 40 miles northeast of Duluth on U. S. Highway No. 61, Minnesota's famous North Shore Drive. The picnic ground and the camp ground, segregated along the shore of the lake, are equipped with modern toilets, pure drinking water, shelter buildings and refectories.

Interstate Park consists of 154 acres of St. Croix River valley extending from Taylors Falls down the river 1.1 miles. It was acquired in 1895 by purchase. A rock gorge rises perpendicularly in places two hundred feet from the water's edge. Part of the area consists of stratified and precipitous rock formation, in which are spectacular examples of pot holes, created by the motion of rotating water and boulders which set up a grinding action in depressions. A parking space and a combination concession and shelter building have been provided adjacent to the pot holes, and also facilities for picnicking and camping.

Itasca State Park is midway between Bemidji and Park Rapids on U. S. Highway No. 71. It consists of 31,816 acres, established primarily to preserve an exceptionally fine scenic piece of northern Minnesota, unaltered from its natural state. The area is dotted with 157 lakes, foremost of which is Lake Itasca, the source of the Mississippi River. In the area are large stands of virgin Norway and white pine. A camp ground on the east shore of Lake Itasca provides facilities for three hundred cars. Limited cabin accommodations are available in this area.

Douglas Lodge, a dignified resort hotel and cabin development located in the south end of Lake Itasca among tall virgin pine is state-owned and is operated by the division of state parks under an arrangement of self-service cabins. Excellent fishing, boating, horse-back riding, pitch and putt golf, excursion boat trips, foot trails and other recreational facilities are available.

A State Forestry School and Biological Station is operated by the University of Minnesota for summer school students.

The picnic ground, near the Headwaters of the Mississippi River, is completely developed. Ample parking space, tables, benches, fireplaces and well-water are available for public use. Modern toilets and an interesting museum complete the development.

Jay Cooke State Park, 8,366.7 acres, was established in 1915. It extends from Thomson seven miles downstream on both sides of the St. Louis River to Fond du Lac. The terrain is spectacular because of ruggedness of slope. Camp and picnic grounds are equipped with tables, stoves, drinking water, shelters, and comfort stations.

John A. Latsch State Park lies along U. S. Highway No. 61, north of Winona. It was established in 1925 and comprises 350.2 acres. Three limestone bluffs rise abruptly nearly 450 feet above the highway.

The Whitman Dam and Locks, contiguous with the park, play an important part in navigation on the Mississippi River.

Small areas for picnicking have been developed, provided with fireplaces, water and toilets.

Kaplan Woods State Park, two miles south of Owatonna on State Trunk Highway No. 65, is 180 acres in area and was acquired in 1935. It comprises one of the few remnants of the hardwood forest that once covered this section. The park has been developed for hiking and picnicking.

Lac qui Parle State Park comprises two areas at the foot of Lac qui Parle Lake with a total area of 457.49 acres. On the east side of the Lake, the site of the first Protestant Mission in Minnesota was dedicated in 1931. The heavily wooded area on the southwest side of the lake has been developed for extensive picnicking and camping purposes.

Lake Bemidji State Park, established in 1923, embodies 205.48 acres of lakeshore land, about six miles northeast of Bemidji. Within the virgin Norway pine forest a public camp ground and picnic grounds have been developed.

Lake Carlos State Park is 10 miles north of Alexandria on the north end of Lake Carlos. Its 403.56 acres were acquired in 1937 and are located in rolling topography. Deer and other wild life are plentiful.

Lake Shetek State Park comprises 184.62 acres, six miles north of Slayton on the shores of Lake Shetek. Three islands, Keeley, Valhalla and Loon are within the park area, and on the portion known as the east mainland is located the Lake Shetek Monument which commemorates the massacre of a white family during the Indian Uprising of 1862. Picnic facilities are available on the east mainland.

Middle River State Park, consisting of 285 acres, was purchased in 1937, and is located 17 miles northeast of Warren on State Highway No. 3. The remnants of an old water-power operated flour mill, constructed originally in 1780, can be seen. This park provides accommodations for swimming, picnicking and hiking.

Minneopa State Park has as the principal natural attraction Minneopa Creek which tumbles over two waterfalls into a deep-cut gorge. Its 110.24 acres are in Blue Earth County six miles west of Mankato on U. S. Highway No. 60. It was acquired in 1905 and now affords excellent picnic facilities including a water system, a modern comfort station, picnic kitchen and shelter, and refectory.

St. Croix State Park, comprising 30,557 acres, 18 miles east of Hinckley in Pine County was transferred to the state by the federal government in 1943, after having been fully developed by CCC and WPA under the supervision of the National Park Service. Developments comprise three large organized group camps and a completely developed picnic and camp grounds. Overnight cabin facilities are also available for rental. A number of fine streams bi-sect this fine recreation area which lies between the St. Croix and Kettle Rivers.

Scenic State Park consists of 2,121.3 acres, six miles east of Bigfork. It was acquired in 1921. This area is the most primitive of all Minnesota state parks and comprises large stands of virgin Norway pine. Boating, swimming, fishing, hiking provide recreation. Camp and picnic grounds and limited cabin accommodations are offered.

Sibley State Park, established by the 1919 legislature, contains 378.83 acres along the north shore of Lake Andrew in Kandiyohi County, seven miles west of New London. Whitewater State Park is in Winona County, about midway between Winona and Rochester. It was acquired in 1919 and comprises 688.28 acres. The park includes a wide, deep ravine through which the Whitewater River and secondary creeks flow. Unusual escarpments and formations of limestone add to the picturesqueness of the park. The bathhouse and picnic and camp grounds equipped with modern structures and overnight cabins provide facilities for the comfort of park users.

STATE MEMORIAL PARKS

Charles A. Lindbergh State Memorial Park, 110.42 acres along the Mississippi River, two miles south of Little Falls, was established in 1931 as a memorial to Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh, father of the "Flying Colonel." It includes the boyhood home of the famous flyer which contains many objects connected with his childhood.

Across the road from the residence is a large wooded tract available for picnicking. A picnic shelter and kitchen, water system, comfort station, and foot trails have been provided.

Fort Ridgely State Memorial Park is west of Trunk Highway No. 4 seven miles south of Fairfax. The park, created in 1911, consists of 224.8 acres and contains the site of old Fort Ridgely, built in 1853, around which occurred some of the battles with the Sioux in 1862. The old fort commissary has been restored as a museum and meeting hall. A golf course adds to the recreational facilities of the area.

Monson Lake State Memorial Park, commemorates the massacre of a white family in the Sioux uprising of 1862. The park is in Swift County about 25 miles from Benson and Willmar. #### STATE WAYSIDES

Camp Release State Memorial Wayside, purchased in 1889, includes 17.8 acres, west of Montevideo on U. S. Highway No. 212. A granite shaft commemorates the release, on September 26, 1862, of 269 prisoners to General Sibley. At the site stood the Sioux Village of Red Iron, friendly chief during the outbreak of 1862. A well, picnic tables and benches, and toilets have been provided.

Father Hennepin State Memorial Wayside, established in 1941, comprises 129.75 acres on the west shore of Isle bay, adjacent to Isle on the southeast side of Lake Mille Lacs. Its  $\frac{3}{4}$  mile of shoreline is wooded, and back from the lake is space for a nine-hole golf course to be built later. The site is also to be developed for picnicking, camping and bathing.

Garvin Heights State Scenic Wayside, 17 acres, overlooks Winona. The area lies 575 feet above the parkway which runs between the foot of the bluff and Winona Lake. Its principal use is scenic but a few picnic tables and two shelters have been provided.

Horace Austin State Scenic Wayside comprises 50 acres adjacent to Austin, above the power dam on the Red Cedar River, with bathhouse, beach, camping and picnic facilities.

Inspiration Peak State Scenic Wayside, 82 acres, was acquired in 1931. It is in Otter Tail County just north of the Douglas County line and west of Urbank. It consists of a wooded hill from the summit of which is afforded a spectacular view. A small picnic ground has been developed, with fireplaces, tables, water supply and toilets.

Joseph R. Brown State Memorial Wayside, three acres, was donated in 1937. The ruins of the Brown Mansion still exist on the site. Major Brown was an Indian Agent representing the Government in the middle of the 1800's and built the elaborately furnished mansion overlooking the Minnesota Valley seven miles south of Sacred Heart in Renville County.

Old Crossing Treaty State Historical Wayside comprising 107 acres along the Red Lake River west of the village of Huot was originally dedicated in 1932, because of it being the site of the Old Pembina Trail Ford and also where a Treaty was signed which ceded to the United States the north half of the Red River Valley. An extensive acquisition was made in 1944 with funds raised by public subscription.

Oronoco State Scenic Wayside is on Shady Lake near U. S. Highway No. 52, seven miles north of Rochester. The artificial lake is created by a dam which impounds water of the Zumbro River. The park provides facilities for picnickers.

Hinckley State Monument is a marble shaft erected on one-tenth of an acre in Hinckley Cemetery along State Highway No. 48, in memory of a large number of people who lost their lives in the great forest fire of 1898.

Milford State Monument is on a one-acre tract three miles north of Essig. The monument was erected in memory of those who lost their lives in the Indian massacre near that place.

Moose Lake State Monument is a marble shaft erected on one-tenth of an acre in 1929, in memory of the 183 victims of the Moose Lake fire of 1918. The area adjoins the village of Moose Lake and U. S. Highway No. 61.

Sam Brown State Monument is on the west edge of Browns Valley. On the one-acre tract is located the old log home of the Brown family, and beside the building stands a bronze plaque in memory of Samuel Jerome Brown's ride on April 19, 1866, to warn the people of the frontier and Fort Sisseton of an Indian uprising. The old Brown cabin now serves as a museum.

Schwandt State Monument was erected on a one-tenth acre tract in 1915, in memory of the Schwandt family who were murdered by the Sioux August 18, 1862. It overlooks the Minnesota River Valley 12 miles south of Renville.

The monument is erected on a one-acre tract and commemorates the battle of Wood Lake where on September 23, 1862, during the Sioux outbreak, Little Crow's warriors ambushed General Sibley's troops.

A FOREST MAP of MINNESOTA

MINNESOTA STATE FORESTS

In 1899 the state legislature authorized the establishment of state forests, or forest reserves, as they were called at that time. The first state forest was established the same year and was named the Pillsbury Forest. Subsequently by legislation in the years 1905, 1907, 1917, 1927, 1931, 1935 and 1943, other state forests were established, until there now are 32 state forests, with a gross area of 5,332,040 acres, of which 1,971,745 acres are state-owned. These forests are scattered throughout the northern two-thirds of the state.

Beltrami Island State Forest, comprising a gross acreage of 480,000 acres, lies in west central Lake of the Woods, east central Roseau, and northwestern Beltrami counties, near the Canadian boundary, of which 332,760 acres are state-owned. It is representative in a general way of a considerable portion of the northern lake states as it alternates between large level areas of peat swamp with or without tree growth and islands or ridges of jack pine sand capable of producing excellent crops of various kinds of timber, but particularly adapted to the growth of Norway and jack pine.

Blackduck State Forest, with a gross area of 90,880 acres, of which 5,400 acres are state-owned lands, lies in northern Beltrami county. Within this forest there are numerous lakes and streams and fairly rugged topography. On the whole, however, the soil is suitable for agricultural use. There are so many roads, farms and resorts now within the area that it will never be of major importance as a state forest.

Bowstring State Forest, 114,260 acres in area, all of which is state-owned land, is situated in Cass, Beltrami and Itasca counties. It consists of state-owned lands located within the boundaries of the original Chippewa National Forest and in several townships adjoining it on the east. The area as a whole is gently rolling with numerous lakes and streams. The state forest land proper averages more than 50 per cent swamp. The soil is rather sandy and not adapted to agricultural use. The lakes are very good and most of them have good sand beaches. Two large lakes, Winnibigoshish and Leech, are partly or wholly within the area.

Buena Vista State Forest, having a gross area of 79,641, of which 8,080 acres are state-owned, is located in central Beltrami county, immediately south of the Blackduck Forest and has many of the same characteristics. Topography varies from comparatively level jack pine flats in the southwest portion to extremely rolling, hilly country in the northeast. Within the area there are many lakes and streams both large and small which make attractive possibilities for recreational development. It is by no means a primitive forest as there are numerous roads throughout the whole area.

Burntside State Forest, with a gross acreage of 20,000 acres, wholly state-owned, is situated in northeastern St. Louis county. The entire area is extremely rough with a great deal of rock outcrop. There are numerous lakes and streams but no soil suitable for farming. Some small swamps occupy a portion of the area but for the most part it is a series of lakes, ridges and streams. The 20,000 acres making up the Burntside Forest was a special grant from the federal government to the State of Minnesota to be used for forestry purposes. At the time the grant was made the area was almost bare of tree growth and apparently had no value. Since the establishment of the forest the chief aim has been to produce a crop of timber which at the same time would enhance the recreational value. This has largely been accomplished at the present time, partially through planting as early as 1913 and 1914 but mostly through natural regeneration.

Cloquet Valley State Forest has a gross area of 307,011 acres, of which 25,680 acres are state-owned, and lies in southeastern St. Louis county. It has almost all manner of topography. As the soil varies from a light jack pine sand in some locations to a heavy red clay in others, the second growth timber which now covers most of the area varies considerably according to the type of soil. On the whole aspen and jack pine predominate. There are numerous rivers and lakes within the forest.

Crow Wing State Forest, with a gross area of 120,760 acres, of which 4,440 acres are state-owned, lies within Crow Wing county. The topography varies from flat to extremely hilly. The soil is mostly of a sandy nature with a forest cover of mixed hardwoods and conifers in varying degrees of density. There are many lakes both large and small and the area has one of the heaviest resort populations of any place in the state.

D.A.R. Memorial State Forest. The extent of this forest, located in Pine county, is only 240 acres. It was established primarily as a memorial to Daughters of the American Revolution. The location, approximately one hundred miles north of the Twin Cities, makes it possible to gradually plant the whole area to native conifers.

Finland State Forest, having a gross area of 149,240 acres, of which 21,520 acres are state-owned, is in eastern Lake county. The topography of this forest is as nearly mountainous as is found in Minnesota, except perhaps in the extreme eastern portion of Cook county. There are numerous streams and many lakes, the streams being particularly attractive because of the series of falls existing on almost all of them. In many places the streams have cut deep gorges through the solid rock giving the effect of minor canyons.

Fond du Lac State Forest has a gross area of 71,680 acres, 36,624 acres of which are state-owned, and is located in St. Louis and Carlton counties. The topography is flat to rolling with only a relatively small number of lakes and streams of no importance. Much of the land is peat swamp covered by a growth of spruce. The timber is mostly second growth which is now becoming merchantable. It is valuable because of its nearness to Duluth and the wood using industries in Cloquet.

Foot Hills State Forest, with a gross area of 202,900 acres, 15,120 acres being state-owned, lies within Cass and Crow Wing counties. For the most part this forest is extremely hilly and once carried a heavy stand of Norway and white pine. There are several streams which have some value for trout fishing. In certain parts of the forest where fires have been controlled, there is a good second growth of mixed conifers and hardwoods.

General C. C. Andrews State Forest. This forest with a gross area of 8,325 acres of which 3,205 acres are state-owned, surrounds the state forest nursery of the same name. It is located in northern Pine county. Its chief purpose and value is for experimental planting in connection with the nursery and timber production in general. The soil is sandy and of low value for agriculture.

George Washington State Forest, containing a gross area of 371,000 acres, of which 98,160 acres are state-owned, lies in Itasca and St. Louis counties. The topography varies from flat spruce swamps and jack pine sand flats to rolling and even hilly country in the north and southwest. Most of the forest has been logged at one time or another except in the northwesterly portion where a block of almost a township has only been partially cut. The forest is a mixture of all species with Norway pine predominating in virgin stands. The area contains numerous lakes of exceptional scenic beauty.

Grand Portage State Forest, with a gross area of 105,880 acres, 30,695 being state-owned, is located in Cook county. It has the roughest topography of any region in the state of Minnesota. The northern part of it has several lakes which in part are surrounded by precipitous cliffs from three to five hundred feet in height.

Kabetogama State Forest, covering a gross area of 789,800 acres, of which 164,400 are state-owned, lies in northern St. Louis county. The area is characterized by extremely rugged topography with much outcrop and a number of large lakes, some small lakes and numerous rivers and creeks. A large part of the area was originally covered by a stand of Norway and white pine with a large mixture of white spruce, cedar, balsam, birch, and in the lower areas pure stands of black spruce. There are comparatively few roads in the area, giving it a wilderness character which probably will prevail for many years to come. On the northeast the forest adjoins the Canadian boundary.

Koochiching State Forest, having a gross area of 208,855 acres, of which 149,289 acres are state-owned, lies in Koochiching county. It is characterized by a relatively flat topography with enormously large peat swamps covered in part by spruce swamps and in part by spruce forests of good merchantable quality. The area has been relatively inaccessible until in recent years and consequently much virgin timber remains. This is gradually being changed through selective logging and the construction of administrative roads. There are a few streams in the area but no lakes.

Land O' Lakes State Forest, with a gross area of 139,521 acres, of which 9,240 acres are state-owned, lies within Cass county. The topography is very hilly. There are numerous lakes, no large rivers but a number of smaller streams. The whole area was logged many years ago and a forest cover of mixed conifers and hardwoods has again become established.

Mille Lacs State Forest, with an area of 29,980 acres, of which 7,120 acres are state-owned, is situated in Aitkin county. Much of it is relatively flat and swampy and although it lies on the north shore of Mille Lacs Lake there is very little resort development. The forest as a whole is almost worthless for agriculture and only fair for the production of timber. Its chief value is for game cover and as a water reservoir.

Minnesota State Forest has an area of 217,180 acres, all of which is state-owned, and lies in Lake, Cook and St. Louis counties. This forest at the present time comprises the state land only which is located within a certain part of the Superior National Forest. The area lies between the Kabetogama State Forest and the Grand Portage and has most of the characteristics of these two. The topography is extremely rough and in some portions is mountainous. There are numerous large lakes and streams. The forest lies along the international boundary. These boundary forests are interesting inasmuch as this was the route used by the old voyageurs coming from Lake Superior and going westward into the interior of the continent. Within the forest are primitive areas many miles in extent which are accessible only by foot or canoe.

Mississippi Headwaters State Forest, having an area of 90,610 acres, of which 9,360 acres are state-owned, lies in Hubbard, Clearwater and Beltrami counties. The topography of this forest is rolling to hilly. The Mississippi River which rises in Lake Itasca a short distance south of the forest, meanders north and northeasterly through the forest. The roughest topography is found along this river. There is a fairly large number of lakes and streams within this territory.

Nemadji State Forest, located in Pine and Carlton counties, contains 150,537 acres, of which 41,881 acres are state-owned. The topography varies considerably within the forest from level to extremely hilly with a great many boulders throughout almost the whole area. The soil for the most part is a heavy clay, although it verges on the jack pine sand type in some locations. The lakes are not very numerous but there are excellent small streams. The original forest was mostly white pine but this was all removed a great many years ago.

Northwest Angle State Forest contains 79,276 acres and is located in Lake of the Woods county. The topography varies from level swamps to exceedingly rolling country with a large amount of rock outcrop. A portion of the Angle was cut over during the past twenty years but much of it remains in its original state. There are a few lakes in this forest but no roads whatsoever. Because of the primitive condition of the forest, fishing and hunting are particularly attractive. There are a great many moose, deer and bear on the forest. The possibility of nature and wildlife study is of the best.

Paul Bunyan State Forest, containing 152,920 acres, of which 44,090 acres are state-owned, lies within Hubbard county. The topography is extremely hilly with consistent irregularity to the arrangement of the hills. The soil is rather heavy, with numerous large boulders. There is a considerable number of lakes and several streams, all of which have recreational possibilities. The original stand of timber was mostly white and Norway pine but this through logging and repeated fires has been removed and replaced with aspen stands. A small portion on the west and northwest has reestablished to jack pine of good quality.

Pillsbury State Forest, comprising 52,767 acres, of which 2,350 acres are state-owned, lies in Cass county. The topography is very hilly except in the extreme southwestern portion of the forest. In parts there are well stocked stands of jack pine, Norway pine, popple and birch. The area adjoins Gull Lake which is one of the most highly developed private recreational areas in the state.

Pine Island State Forest, located in Koochiching and Beltrami counties, has an area of 587,829, of which 452,763 acres are state-owned. The topography is flat. There are several streams but no lakes. The strange characteristic is that the land adjoining the streams is somewhat higher than that farther back. According to geologists, it is part of the location of the glacial Lake Agassiz. More than half of the area is still covered with virgin timber. This consists primarily of the so-called swamp species, spruce, tamarack and cedar. On the higher ground there are good stands of virgin pine. On the deep peat areas the tree growth is entirely stagnant and suitable only for Christmas trees.

Rum River State Forest, with a gross area of 57,600 acres, of which 2,815 acres are state-owned, is located in Mille Lacs and Kanabec counties. The topography is rather hilly and the soil predominantly heavy, containing a good many boulders. There are numerous lakes and rivers within the area and it has many roads and trails. The tree growth on most of the forest is very scattered.

Sand Dunes State Forest contains 1,320 acres and is located in Sherburne county about fifty miles from the Twin Cities. Most of it has been farmed at one time but as the soil is composed of almost sterile sand, farming was a losing venture. The nature of the sand is such that it actually drifts like snow and forms sand dunes. Trees will grow on this sand and eventually tie down the sand and furnish timber and recreation.

Savanna State Forest has a gross area of 213,860 acres, of which 90,400 acres are state-owned, and lies within Aitkin county. The topography varies from comparatively large areas of flat peat swamps to rolling areas of jack pine and hilly areas of comparatively heavy soil. The Mississippi River bounds it on the west and a well known recreational area surrounding Big Sandy Lake takes in a large portion of the southwest part of the forest. There are a number of other good lakes and several streams within the area. The original forest cover which was predominantly white pine was cut off quite a few years ago. In many places the second growth timber is now mature and consists of many different varieties with aspen predominating.

Smoky Hills State Forest has a gross area of 109,874, of which 7,000 acres are state-owned, and lies within Becker county. The topography is rough with fairly heavy soil. There are quite a number of large and small lakes of considerable scenic value. The area was logged many years ago and has restocked to a variety of tree species with aspen predominating. There are some peat swamps with fair stands of tamarack.

St. Croix State Forest, having a gross area of 78,282 acres, of which 3,960 acres are state-owned, is located in Pine county. Most of this forest has a sandy soil, varying from pure sand to a sandy loam. The original forest was predominantly white and Norway pine. Some of the area was cleared and cultivated for agriculture and much has been burned over due to various causes. Some areas of good second growth jack pine occur which indicates that under management the forest is capable of producing a good volume of timber. It has a high value as a game producing area.

Third River State Forest, with a gross area of 46,227 acres, of which 23,040 acres are state-owned, lies within Itasca county. The topography is rolling with numerous lakes and streams. A considerable quantity of virgin timber, primarily white and Norway pine, can still be found although most of the area is covered with a second growth of mixed species, predominantly aspen.

White Earth State Forest has a gross area of 203,285 acres, of which 29,195 acres are state-owned, and is located in Mahnomen, Clearwater and Becker counties. The topography is rolling to very hilly, with numerous lakes scattered throughout the area. The hills in the eastern part of the forest constitute the watershed which supplies much of the water for the source of the Mississippi. Towards the west the same hills are the source of several large drainage systems. Originally much of the area was covered by excellent stands of Norway and white pine. This has all been logged, however, and has been replaced by second growth which is predominantly popple, with excellent stands of white, Norway and jack pine. Some of the lakes have excellent recreational possibilities.

MINNESOTA GOVERNMENT

Minnesota's government is divided into three branches—the legislative to make the laws, the judiciary to interpret the laws, and the executive to enforce and administer them.

All operate within the framework of the state constitution, which is subject to amendment by the voters of the state acting on provisions submitted to them by the legislature.

LEGISLATURE

The Legislature is composed of the House of Representatives and the Senate. It meets regularly every odd-numbered year, for not more than 90 legislative days, and can be summoned by the governor for special sessions at any time. Each branch makes its own rules for conduct of members, and legislators are not liable for anything said during discussion on the floor. One Senator and one or more Representatives are elected in each of the state's 67 legislative districts.

House of Representatives—131 members, elected for two-year terms. Salary $2,000 per term plus $10 per day during special sessions. Presided over by a Speaker, elected by Representatives from among their own membership. All revenue raising measures must originate in the House.

Senate—67 members, elected for four-year terms. Salary $4,000 per term plus $10 per day for special sessions. Lieutenant Governor is presiding officer. Senate elects a President Pro Tempore from among its membership, to serve during absence of Lieutenant Governor. President Pro Tempore is next in line for succession to the Governor's office if Governor and Lieutenant Governor are both unable to serve. Gubernatorial appointments of department heads and members of boards and commissions are subject to Senate confirmation.

JUDICIARY

HANDLING THE STATE'S BUSINESS

The reorganization act of 1939 re-grouped various departments of the state government and established a system of cross-checking and auditing to enable each department to know how much money it would have for operating expenses during any quarter, and to prevent spending in one quarter money provided for operation during the succeeding one.

Under this system, each department submits to the Commissioner of Administration (the "state business manager"), a detailed biennial budget. The Commissioner studies these budgets in the light of the total amount needed by all departments, and the expected revenue that will be available to meet the charges.

He then can revise the several budgets to bring about a balance between total state expenditures and total income, after which he submits them to the Legislature for the necessary appropriations.

When appropriations have been granted, each department head prepares a budget for the Commissioner of Administration showing the amount that will be required for operation of the department during the fiscal quarter. Similar budgets are submitted before the start of each quarter. The Commissioner can approve this budget or order it reduced, and his ruling is binding on the department head, who is forbidden to spend or encumber more than the stipulated amount.

To assure adherence to this rule, each proposed departmental expenditure is submitted to the State Auditor to determine that money is available in the proper funds to pay it. If the expenditure is proper, the State Auditor issues a warrant against the departmental appropriation, and signifies in his records that the appropriation has been encumbered to that amount.

(In addition to his duties of surveying departmental budgets, the Commissioner of Administration has charge of all state purchases and is official custodian of state properties.)

After expenditures have been made, they come under scrutiny of the Public Examiner, who is required by law to make an audit of each department at least once a year, checking accuracy of accounts and determining legality of departmental transactions. Reports of these examinations, filed with the department concerned, the Governor and the Legislature, may recommend more businesslike methods of handling departmental affairs. If misfeasance, malfeasance or non-feasance is discovered, copies of the reports are filed also with the Legislative Advisory Council and the Attorney General. The Public Examiner also determines that departmental receipts are properly handled.

The Public Examiner also makes annual audits of all counties, of all cities of the first class, of other governmental units on request, and examinations of concerns taxed by the state on a gross earnings basis.

The Department of Aeronautics, headed by the Commissioner, fosters air commerce within the state and has supervision over the aeronautical activities and facilities within the state, including supervision and control over all airports, emergency landing strips, air instruction, air marking, air beacons, and all navigation facilities, and the registration of all pilots and aircraft.

The Department of Taxation, with a Commissioner of Taxation superseding the former Tax Commission, was created under the Reorganization Act of 1939. The Commissioner, in addition to assuming the powers and duties vested in the former Commission, is also charged with the administration of other tax laws formerly exercised by other state departments. Division or other supervisory heads assist the Commissioner in the administration of the various laws relating to this reorganized department, and the general duties thereof may be summarized in the following manner.

The general administrative division of the Department has supervision over the administration of general property assessment laws, including those relating to assessors and equalization boards of county and local subdivisions. It also administers laws governing the imposition of occupation and royalty taxes on the iron mining industry, gross earnings taxes imposed on railroads and other public service corporations, forfeited tax laws and laws relating generally to the ad valorem assessment of public utilities.

Other divisions in the Department are charged with the administration of the income tax statutes, inheritance and gift taxes, and collection of taxes on petroleum products, as well as the inspection and general supervision of the gasoline and oil industry required in connection with the petroleum laws.

Appeals from decisions of the Commissioner of Taxation can be taken to the Board of Tax Appeals, a three-man body created by the same 1939 act which established the Department of Taxation. This board has the power to review and redetermine all decisions of the Commissioner respecting fees, taxes and assessments.

Laws relating to care of and assistance to the indigent, unemployed, and physically and mentally handicapped are administered by the Department of Social Security, composed of the Division of Social Welfare, the Division of Employment and Security, and the Division of Public Institutions. Directors of the three divisions make up the Social Security Board, of which the director of the Division of Social Welfare is chairman.

The Division of Social Welfare has general supervision over expenditure of state funds for relief purposes and for aid to old persons, dependent children, needy blind and persons otherwise handicapped who are outside of state institutions. It supervises social services in maternity hospitals and children's homes and licenses public and private children's agencies and institutions, is legal guardian for dependent and neglected children. It operates the State Sanatorium and administers aid to county tuberculosis sanatoria. It operates a program for crippled children.

The Division of Employment and Security assists unemployed persons in finding work and handles unemployment compensation payments to workers who lost their jobs through no fault of their own.

The Division of Public Institutions supervises seven mental hospitals which are located at Anoka, Hastings, Willmar, Fergus Falls, Rochester, St. Peter, and Moose Lake; The School and Colony for the Feeble Minded at Faribault; The Colony for Epileptics at Cambridge; Braille and Sight Saving School and The School for The Deaf at Faribault; Training School for Boys at Red Wing, and the Home School for Girls at Sauk Centre; The State Reformatory for Women at Shakopee and the State Reformatory for Men at St. Cloud; The State Prison at Stillwater and the Gillette Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Paul.

The Department of Agriculture, Dairy and Food headed by the Commissioner of Agriculture is charged with encouragement of agricultural development. It administers laws governing organization of co-operatives, supervises agencies handling farm products and enforces laws regulating cold storage places. It collects and compiles agricultural statistics and has charge of weed inspection.

The department also enforces dairy and food laws, inspects places where foods are manufactured, stored or sold, administers laws prohibiting fraudulent advertising. It issues licenses for milk, eggs, Babcock test, creameries, oleomargarine, ice cream, cold storage warehouses, fertilizer, wholesale dealers and locker plants.

The Commissioner of Highways directs the construction, improvement and maintenance of the 11,000 miles of trunk highways in the state. He also administers the State Highway Patrol and the Drivers License Division.

The Commissioner of Highways has supervisory authority over the state aid highways and with the State Auditor and the State Treasurer he makes the allotments from the state road and bridge fund to the counties for use on the state aid and county aid road systems.

The Department of Commerce has the general duty of protecting residents of the state against fraudulent or unsound business practices. It is composed of three divisions:

The Division of Banking has supervisory powers over state banks, savings banks, building and loan associations, trust companies, credit unions, small loan companies and other financial corporations.

The Insurance Division is charged with the enforcement of all insurance laws. Its main functions are in a general way to protect, inform and assist policyholders and the public; to supervise some eight hundred companies doing an insurance business in the state; to collect about 2½ millions for the state through premium taxes and fees levied on insurers and agents; to assist insurance companies on various matters; and to furnish information relating to insurance to other departments of the state, commissioners of insurance of other states and federal agencies.

The Commissioner of Insurance, in addition to serving on various statutory boards, such as the Compensation Insurance Board and several Retirement fund boards, is also the State Fire Marshal. In that capacity he maintains and directs a staff of employees for the enforcement of laws relating to fire prevention; arson; the storage, sale and use of combustibles and explosives; and exits in public places.

The Division of Securities passes upon all applications for licenses to sell securities in the state; supervises and licenses dealers, brokers, investment advisers and agents; and investigates and prosecutes violations of the state securities act.

Minnesota's natural resources are being administered by the Department of Conservation headed by a commissioner and composed of six divisions.

These are the Division of Lands and Minerals concerned with the administration of state owned iron mines and other state owned lands; the Division of Water Resources and Engineering responsible for the regulation and utilization of the water resources of the state; the Division of Game and Fish which administers the wild life resources; the Division of Forestry responsible for the management of state forests, prevention and suppression of forest fires and the regulation of the cutting and sale of timber from state owned trust fund lands; the Division of State Parks, responsible for the operation and maintenance of state parks, and the Tourist Bureau which promotes the utilization of the state's vacation resources.

The Department of Labor and Industry handles problems directly affecting workers and employers. Within the department are seven divisions—Accident Prevention, Boiler Inspection, Statistics, Steam-fitting Standards, Voluntary Apprenticeship, Women and Children, and Workmen's Compensation.

The three members of the Industrial Commission, which administers the Department of Labor and Industry, also form an appellate body to hear and determine appeals from decisions of referees in workmen's compensation cases.

The Division of Conciliation is nominally a unit of the Department of Labor and Industry, but operates as an independent department under direction of a Labor Conciliator appointed by the Governor. The Conciliator administers the state labor relations act, designed to settle labor disputes, avoid strikes and lockouts and promote industrial peace.

Under terms of this law, workers or employers must notify the Conciliator 10 days in advance of any projected strike or lockout. He then attempts settlement of the dispute. If he fails and if the dispute involves an industry in which a stoppage would be detrimental to the public interest, he may refer the matter to the Governor, who can name a three-man fact-finding commission to investigate it and report its findings and recommendations to him within 30 days. During that period the proposed strike or lockout must be delayed. Neither the Conciliator nor the fact-finding commissions have judicial or police powers, but violations of the law are enforceable in the courts.

Whenever a question concerning the representative of employees is received by an employee or group of employees or employer upon request the conciliator is required to certify for investigation the representative designated or selected.

The approval of a minimum and adequate and reasonable rate for each classification under which Workmen's Compensation Insurance is written is vested in the Compensation Insurance Board. The Board approves all rate making procedures and supervises the application of these rates to Workmen's Compensation in the state of Minnesota.

The Civil Service Department serves as a central personnel agency for the state employees in the classified service. The department is headed by the Civil Service Board of three members appointed by the Governor, which board appoints a Civil Service Director. There are three divisions within the department, namely: the Classification and Pay Division, Recruitment and Examining Division and the Transaction and Office Management Division. In general the department serves as the central personnel agency of the state and establishes procedures for employing, transferring, promoting and demoting employees in the state service.

The Department of Rural Credit was established in 1923 to make loans on farms to owner-occupants. Lending was stopped in 1933 and disposition of business of the department was placed under a Conservator, who was directed to wind up its affairs with the smallest possible loss to the state.

Administration of state liquor laws is vested in the Liquor Control Commissioner, appointed by the Governor. The Commissioner regulates importation and sale of intoxicating liquor, wine and beer, designates denomination of excise tax stamps and enforces collection of state taxes. Liquor tax stamps are sold by the State Treasurer, but it is the responsibility of the Commissioner to prevent sales of unstamped liquor and to regulate wholesale dealers and distributors.

The Commissioner also promulgates rules governing liquor advertising, and assists with temperance education.

The Bureau of Criminal Apprehension is headed by a superintendent appointed by the Governor. Investigators in the Bureau cooperate with other peace officers in the state in detection of crime and apprehension of criminals, and maintain a laboratory and files of fingerprints and other criminological data. The Bureau operates a radio broadcasting system to aid in the arrest of offenders and recovery of property.

The State Department of Health is the operating force for the State Board of Health, composed of nine members appointed by the Governor for three-year terms.

The Board is the official agency for administering health and sanitation laws of the state. It has power to issue regulations, which have the force of law, concerning lumber, industrial and tourist camps, use of diseased or decayed animal or vegetable matters, sewage disposal, location of cemeteries, pollution of streams, management of lying-in houses and infants' boarding homes, sanitation of public institutions, treatment and quarantine for communicable diseases, treatment of eyes of newborn babies, recording of births and deaths, public health, and other matters.

It has general supervision over all health officers, and administers laws relating to licensing of hospitals, hotels, restaurants, plumbers, embalmers, funeral directors, and compounders and wholesalers of narcotics.

The purposes and functions of the Minnesota Resources Commission are to study the broad, underlying, basic factors having to do with the economic conditions and trends which affect the public welfare of the people of Minnesota, including,

- (a) the development and advancement of both the already developed and potential natural resources of the State of Minnesota,
- (b) the processing within the state of materials obtained from outside sources to be used in the development of its domestic resources,
- (c) the development and advancement of opportunities for the employment of labor, investment of capital and the use and disposition of the products of mining, agriculture and manufacturing within the state, and generally
- (d) the factors that may affect the basic conditions necessary to advise and encourage enterprises in the future development of the resources of the state.

Office of the Commissioner of the Iron Range Resources and Rehabilitation was created by the 1941 Legislature and is charged with the duty of developing all resources and providing Vocational Training and rehabilitation of residents of any county in which natural resources have been depleted, with resultant unemployment and distress.

The Iron Range Resources and Rehabilitation Commission was created by the 1943 Legislature and has the duty of acting in an advisory capacity to the Commissioner of the Iron Range Resources and Rehabilitation. The Commission is composed of three members of the Senate and three from the House of Representatives, the seventh member being the Commissioner of Conservation, all being appointed for a term of two years. Meetings are held quarterly and projects proposed and recommended by the Commissioner are reviewed and are modified, accepted or rejected. The Commission is also charged with the study of labor costs on the production of iron ore.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AND NAVAL AFFAIRS

The National Guard and Naval Militia of Minnesota mobilized for active duty with the Army and Navy during late 1940 and early 1941, and were among the first United States forces to enter active foreign service.

These included Co. "A", 194th tank battalion under command of Col. Ernest B. Miller, which participated valiantly in the battle of Bataan; the 34th division, first American troops to land in North Ireland, and the 101st brigade, Coast Artillery (anti-aircraft), part of which was dispatched to Alaska before start of the war.

Foreseeing certainty of the National Guard being called out of the state, the Adjutant General began organizing the Minnesota State Guard (at first called the Defense Force) in 1940. By Feb. 10, 1941, when the last of the National Guard units was mobilized, the State Guard numbered 4,000 officers and men.

Immediately after declaration of war, Dec. 8, 1941, this guard force was increased to its present strength of 5,943 officers and men. The members, all volunteers, are uniformed, armed, equipped and trained by the state, and constitute a body of troops designed to provide protection against sabotage or riots, to aid state or local authorities in event of disasters or calamities, and in general to take over the duties formerly handled by the National Guard.

Air branch of the State Guard is the state wing of Civil Air Patrol, which serves as its observation, courier and liaison branch as well as functioning as an auxiliary to the U. S. Army air forces and as an adjunct to the Civilian Defense organization. Its 914 members are all volunteers, pilots provide their own planes in return for nominal rental and expense payments, and members furnish their own uniforms and serve without pay.

The state's military forces are under command of the Governor as Commander-in-Chief, with Adjutant General Ellard A. Walsh as administrative officer. They are charged with the duty of assuring security of the state and its residents.

The state's prime military center is Camp Ripley, near Little Falls. Originally the center for training and supply of the National Guard, Camp Ripley now serves the same purpose for the State Guard, and is used also as a training site for members of the Highway Patrol, the game wardens and other state bodies. It is ranked as one of the finest field training sites in the nation.

OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Lester R. Badger, Director

Mary Proal Lindeke, Director, Service Corps

Following a plan of organization suggested by the National Office of Civilian Defense, a system of county defense councils was initiated in Minnesota in 1941.

The program was put on a wartime basis by an executive order of the Governor Dec. 10, 1941, which provided for a Chief of Staff and a force to carry out the organization and training of persons volunteering to act on the protective side of civilian defense.

Defense councils were established in each of the 87 counties and in 19 of the larger cities of the State and are now functioning.

The Service Corps includes Victory Aides, women organized to deal directly with their neighbors in each block in the cities and villages of the State as well as in rural areas. The functions of the Service Corps consist in providing volunteers and promotion for activities that have become more necessary in wartime, relating to consumer interest, nutrition, recreation, welfare, salvage, etc.

Its purpose primarily is to coordinate and use existing agencies in meeting adjustments necessitated by war.

STATE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Article VIII of the State Constitution makes it "the duty of the legislature to establish a general and uniform system of public schools," establishes the permanent school fund, and requires the legislature to "make such provisions, by taxation or otherwise as, with the income arising from the school fund, will secure a thorough and efficient system of public schools in each township in the State."

The whole area of the state is organized into school districts. Each is under direction of a school board elected by the people, with the exception of a few special districts in which direction of the schools is vested in some other municipal body.

County superintendents of schools, elected for a four-year term, have administrative and supervisory powers in relation to rural ungraded schools.

Chapter 334, Laws of 1919, created a State Department of Education under direction of a non-salaried board of five citizens, appointed for five-year terms by the Governor with consent of the Senate. The State Board of Education also acts as the State Board for Vocational Education in administering federal programs of vocational education. The board is required by law to hold an annual meeting the first Tuesday in August and to hold regular meetings quarterly.

Secretary and executive officer of board is the Commissioner of Education, elected by the board for six years. The Commissioner is ex officio a member of the State Teachers Retirement Fund Board and a member and secretary of the State Teachers College Board. He is "responsible for efficient administration and discipline of the various offices and divisions in the organization of the Department of Education."

The schools of the state derive support from both local and state sources. The state's share approximates a third of the cost of school maintenance. Four state funds contribute to the support of schools:

(1) The Endowment Fund, income from the permanent school fund.

(2) The Current School Fund, derived from a one-mill tax.

(3) The Special State Aid Fund, appropriated biennially by the legislature from the general revenue fund of the state.

(4) The Income Tax School Fund.

The first two funds make up the General School Fund which is apportioned to districts on the basis of school attendance.

The purposes of the Special State Aid Fund and the basis for determining the sums to be paid the several school districts are found in the state aid laws. The first purpose is to equalize educational opportunities, through (a) payment of reimbursement aid for transportation or board of resident pupils in school districts which are consolidated; high school pupils residing in districts not maintaining high schools; crippled children who cannot walk to school, and isolated elementary school pupils, (b) payment of tuition in high schools for nonresident pupils, and (c) aid in purchase of library books.

The second purpose is to aid in establishing minimum standards. An amount fixed by law is paid for each school which meets classification standards established by the State Board of Education.

The third purpose is to stimulate educational progress. The aid for this purpose is designed to encourage (a) establishment of special classes for children who are handicapped by blindness, deafness, defective speech, subnormal mentality, or physical impairment, (b) establishment in high schools of special departments for training in agriculture, home economics, trade and industrial and commercial work. Federal aid is also provided for vocational training in agriculture, home economics, trade and industrial education and distributive occupations.

The fourth purpose stated in the law is to assist school districts which have a high tax levy. Under this provision the state supplements the amounts which districts with low valuation are able to raise, in order to maintain satisfactory schools.

The fifth purpose is the maintenance in high schools of departments for the training of teachers for the rural schools.

From receipts of the State Income Tax the districts are apportioned $10 per year for each child six to sixteen years of age in the district and $10 for each child sixteen to seventeen years of age attending public schools. Except in cities of the first class school districts must use the fund to retire existing indebtedness. The State Department of Education makes the distribution of these aids according to law.

The Division of Graded Elementary, Secondary School and Junior college exercises general supervision over the public graded elementary, secondary schools and junior colleges of the state by visiting these schools and receiving reports from them. It also advises superintendents and school boards, prepares materials for use and administers the standards set up for these schools by the State Board of Education.

The Rural School Division conducts institutes for rural teachers in each county in the state and meetings for rural school board members, assists in organization of consolidations, supervises transportation of pupils, and under an agreement with the federal government supervises approximately forty schools attended by Indian children.

The Division of High School Teacher Training and Handicapped Children supervises instruction in the high school teacher training departments, approves teachers selected for the work and requires annual reports of progress. The division also supervises special classes for handicapped children in public schools.

The Vocational Education Division under direction of the State Board for Vocational Education supervises programs of training in agriculture, home economics, trade and industrial education and distributive occupations in accordance with state plans approved by the United States Office of Education to assure that these departments maintain standards entitling them to reimbursement from federal and special state aid funds. In addition, it administers the war production training program, supported entirely from federal funds.

Division of Vocational Rehabilitation provides vocational advisement and training for physically handicapped persons through use of state and federal funds. It operates in cooperation with the State Department of Labor and Industry, the Division of Services for Crippled Children and the Division for the Blind in the State Department of Social Security, the public schools, and various other public and private agencies which work with the handicapped.

The Division of Health and Physical Education, in addition to supervising the school programs in these fields, aids in planning community recreation programs.

Division of School Buildings and Business Administration examines the plans and specifications and advises with local school officials and architects in planning and improvement of school plant facilities. Rules for schoolhouse construction including rules of the State Board of Health relating to sanitary standards are prepared and distributed by this division.

The Division of Teacher Personnel issues certificates of qualification to teach in public schools and examines qualifications of teachers employed by local districts. The Teachers Employment Bureau is maintained as a part of this division.

The Library Division serves as a clearing house on all library problems, publishes a quarterly bulletin, and aims to give impetus to library development in the state. It operates a circulating library to provide books and other reading materials for rural communities.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGES

At the first session of the State Legislature, in 1858, provision was made for three state normal schools "to educate and prepare teachers for teaching in the common schools." These were established at Winona in 1860, Mankato in 1868 and St. Cloud in 1869. Schools were opened, at Moorhead in 1888, at Duluth in 1902, and at Bemidji in 1919. In 1921 the Legislature designated all as Teachers Colleges and gave the State Teachers College Board authority to grant appropriate degrees to students who complete prescribed courses.

The Teachers Colleges devote themselves primarily to the preparation of teachers for the elementary and secondary schools. Each maintains two-year courses to prepare teachers for elementary schools. Each maintains four-year courses for more advanced training of elementary teachers, for training supervisors and teachers of special subjects, and for training secondary school teachers. The degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred upon those who complete a four-year course. The diplomas of the Teachers Colleges are accepted by the State Department of Education as basis for the issuance of certificates which qualify teachers for employment in public schools.

Each conducts a summer term, under the same standards of instruction as the regular term, designed to give opportunity for further training of rural teachers.

The Teachers Colleges are supported by appropriations made biennially by the Legislature and by tuition charged the students.

All of the colleges are under direction of the State Teachers College Board. Eight members of the board are appointed by the Governor with consent of the Senate, one "resident director" from each county in which a Teachers College is located and two from the other counties of the state. The board members serve without compensation for four-year terms. The Commissioner of Education serves as ninth member and secretary of the board. The president of the board is elected by the board at an annual meeting which is held the first Tuesday in June.

The Teachers College Board is charged with responsibility for appointment of all presidents, teachers and other employes, general management of the colleges, and recommendations for improvements.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Because it prepares young people for the future, training them in the professions, broadening their outlook and strengthening their sense of service, the University of Minnesota may properly be called the most important among state institutions.

The University of Minnesota is the second largest state university in the United States in numbers of full-time students of college and graduate ranking. It is operated on a business basis that has kept its cost to the taxpayers well below that of comparable institutions in other states.

Besides its cultural and professional activities it devotes itself to the study and advancement of such major Minnesota concerns as Agriculture, Forestry, Mining and Dairying. It is the fountainhead of training and practice in the various fields of Health and of Public Education.

Admission to the University of Minnesota is granted those who have completed a course in an accredited high or secondary school. The various professional schools and the Graduate School set their own standards for admission of students who have done satisfactory pre-professional work.

Gross figures of attendance of students of college grade, not at any one time but in the total over nine months, approach 20,000 and have been higher. Counting those who attend summer sessions, extension courses, short courses, continuation institutes and those who take studies by mail, the total approaches 40,000 annually.

The University is governed by a board of 12 regents, elected for six year terms by the State Legislature in joint convention. The president of the University is the administrative head, and the comptroller is chief business and finance officer.

Faculty and staff participation in University government is brought about through the operations of the University Senate, to which persons with rank of associate professor and above, or its equivalent, belong. It operates through committees, each of which handles special problems, such as Intercollegiate Athletics, Relations to Other Institutions of Learning, Business and Rules, and the like. These committees report to the Administrative Committee, composed of deans and directors, over which the president of the University presides. Final actions of the Administrative Committee are reported to the full senate for approval.

COLLEGES AND DEPARTMENTS

College of Science, Literature and the Arts (Academic college) is the college in which students not specializing in a professional school study to obtain a liberal education in the broad cultural sense. Here also they take the preliminary work fitting them for admission to the professional or semi-professional colleges. (Four year course.)

Minnesota Geological Survey, a department of the College of Science, Literature and the Arts, annually conducts an intensive study of some important phase of the state's mineral resources, waters, soils, or topography, as a part of a continuous state investigation allotted to the University.

Minnesota Museum of Natural History (independent unit) is devoted to recording and preserving data and specimens of Minnesota animal life.

Institute of Technology embraces the College of Engineering and School of Architecture, the School of Chemistry and the School of Mines and Metallurgy.

College of Engineering and School of Architecture is devoted to technical education of those who desire to make a profession of mechanical, electrical, aeronautical or civil engineering, or architecture. (Four year course.)

School of Chemistry: a department of the Institute of Technology specializing in the science of chemistry. (Four year course.)

School of Mines and Metallurgy: a department of the Institute of Technology offering a four year course in preparation for the profession of mining engineer.

School of Mines Experiment Station: a department of the Institute of Technology which works on problems of extraction and treatment of the mineral resources of Minnesota. An office of the United States Bureau of Mines is maintained at the station.

College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics is described by its title. (Four year course.)

Medical School: a professional school for training physicians and surgeons. Two years of work in the Academic College are required for admission. (Five year course.)

School of Nursing: as a division of the Medical School, the school of nursing is conducted for the training of both general and special nurses. A course for medical technicians is also maintained. (Three to five year course.)

The University of Minnesota Hospitals are available for treatment of indigent patients from any Minnesota community. Half the expense of hospitalization is paid by the state and half by the county.

Minnesota Hospital and Home for Crippled Children, a unit of the University Hospitals, created and endowed by the gifts of the late William Henry Eustis of Minneapolis. It consists of a hospital for the care of children disabled by crippling or other afflictions, and a convalescent home in which these children may be cared for and instructed during the period when it is necessary to keep them under special care after they leave the hospital.

School of Dentistry: A professional school for training dentists and dental hygienists. Two years of work in the Academic College are required for admission. (Three year course.) A course for Dental Hygienists is also maintained.

Law School: A professional school to fit students for practice of law. Two years of work in the Academic College are required for admission. (Two, three and four year courses.)

Graduate School is the unit in which students who have been granted the bachelor's degree may continue their studies.

School of Business Administration offers courses of economics, accounting, marketing and allied subjects, together with specialized training that particularly fits the student to enter the business field.

Library Instruction Division operates under the direction of the University Librarian, to train workers for duties in libraries.

University College is for students who have special objectives not provided for in regular curricula. The degree of B.A. or B.S. is granted upon completion of an approved course of study.

General College is made up in its curriculum entirely of broad, survey courses of various fields of knowledge and activity. It is designed to give a two year general education, a foundation in the humanities at the university level which is terminated by the Associate in Arts degree for those who cannot take a longer course. It is, also, purposed that this college shall serve to give a broad foundation of knowledge for further specialized work and to help students arrive at an understanding of themselves and their capacities. (Two year course.)

Center for Continuation Study: A center in which students live and work together under one roof during their residence on the campus. It is a continuation school designed to provide further education over relatively short periods of time for those who have already received the usual professional, technical, and general instruction in the regular schools and colleges.

University Extension: In addition to giving instructions in the above schools and colleges, the University renders two very significant services to the people of the state. First, it conducts many instruction services off the campus, in classes of the General Extension Division maintained by the University during the evening hours in the more populous centers of the state. These courses provide credit toward graduation from the university to students who have complied with the entrance requirements. In addition students may take regular work by correspondence, in general extension short courses, and in agricultural short courses.

Finally, primarily in the interest of those students who desire to fit themselves for the pursuit of agriculture and yet have not finished high school and therefore are not entitled to enter the University classes, the University conducts work of less than college grade at five different centers. Visual instruction, community service, and the like, the work of the Four-H clubs and the Home Demonstration agents of the Department of Agriculture serve further to extend the institution's effectiveness throughout Minnesota.

Institute of Child Welfare: Under a ten-year grant from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial, a foundation, the Institute of Child Welfare is conducting an investigation into the habits, abilities, and methods of training and educating young children, and is publicizing these findings through extension classes, lectures, and bulletins.

Research: Continuous researches to help find solution for urgent problems of health, agriculture, education, business and the like, are conducted by University specialists.

Special Services: The Minnesota tax commission employs the expert services of members of the University staff in valuing ore deposits and in placing valuation on the properties of public service corporations. The University also provides laboratory space on the campus for the State Highway Department. It conducts at Excelsior, Minnesota, the state fruit breeding station, operates a Forest Experiment Station at Cloquet and a Biological Station in Itasca Park. It supervises the work of county agents and pays their salaries in part. It conducts numerous annual short courses in agriculture, chief among them being Farmers and Homemakers Week, and the yearly short course for editors. On the main campus short courses are conducted for physicians, dentists, morticians, and the like. The secretary of the League of Minnesota Municipalities is a member of the university staff. Schoolmen's Week, conducted annually by the College of Education, with the cooperation of the State Department of Education, offers special opportunities for teachers, principals, supervisors, and superintendents to hear the ideas of national leaders in education. Statewide athletic events are conducted by the Department of Physical Education and Athletics.

WAR PARTICIPATION

The University of Minnesota is participating in the war effort in a great many ways. It has loaned many highly trained specialists to government departments and military and naval branches. Others of similar capabilities have entered service directly.

Researches: An extended program of war-related researches is carried on upon the campus. For the most part these are secret, some of them being known only to the highest University officers and the persons at work on them. Among the fields in which these studies are carried on are medicine, physics, chemistry, agriculture, mining and metallurgy, aeronautics, and chemical engineering.

Reserve Officer Training: The University maintains full R.O.T.C. programs for both the United States Army and the United States Navy. Upon graduation or prior call to service, men in these units become trained officers.

Special Training Courses for Army and Navy: Under contract with the Navy and the Army, the University of Minnesota is providing housing, meals, recreation, and instruction for actual military units of enlisted personnel. Peak enrollment at one time reached 5,500. Among the units on the campus were Navy machinists, Navy engineers, Navy electricians, Navy cooks and bakers, Army pre-radar specialists, Army engineers, Army medical officers studying laboratory techniques, Navy officers in aeronautical engineering, Army mechanical specialists, and the like. In addition, the University was the only school in the country selected to teach a special program for the Provost Marshal General's department. The University was also one of the comparatively few institutions in the country to be designated as a center for instruction for area and language groups with special emphasis on the teaching of the Japanese language. In addition to the Army and Navy programs listed, the University trained meteorologists for the Army Air Forces.

Other War-Related Projects: The University houses a unit of the Army Air Corps devoted to study of the Arctic, with special relation to aviation. It maintains a school for engineering "cadettes" of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation and the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corporation and runs a large number of special Engineering, Science and Management short courses to fit civilians for entering war industry on an efficient basis. It maintains directly a Key Center for War Information. All units of the University take whatever opportunities they have for furthering the war effort.

Instructional Readjustments: The University has established "accelerated" or year-around programs of instruction in medicine, dentistry, nursing, public health, engineering, mathematics, physics, chemistry and other subjects with a view to turning out trained personnel more rapidly, while at the same time obtaining constant use of its educational facilities. Nursing enrollments have been greatly expanded, and special courses for nurses' aids and refresher courses in nursing established.

Short Courses and Institutes: Especially at University Farm and in the Center for Continuation Study, many special courses ranging from a day to a week in length have been maintained for the instruction of the public and the professions and callings. These deal with Victory Gardens, Income Taxation, Postwar Planning, Public Health and Nursing Techniques, Handling of Bulk Materials, as in the vital mining of iron ore, and a wide range of other subjects, largely in medicine and other practical techniques.

The present laws provide for commitment of all male offenders regardless of age with the exception of those convicted of first degree murder who are received only by transfer. Located on the extensive grounds is one of the finest granite quarries in the state. From this quarry has been taken practically all the stone used in the construction of the institution buildings, and the quarrying, cutting, and placing of the stone has been done entirely by the inmates. The woodworking industry turns out sash, doors, blinds, screens, storm sash, and furniture for state use and in the tailoring department is made almost all of the men's clothing used in the various institutions. There are also a number of other shops for the instruction of trades and the manufacture of necessary articles. An extensive farm is operated and establishment of a farm colony where approximately 65 inmate farmers are housed has proved a success. Three prison camps located at East Grand Forks, Walker and Moose Lake are operated from the institution with selected prisoners who are engaged in farming, logging, and maintenance work. The institution consists of an administration building, nine cell houses and dormitories, hospital, central power plant, and six residences. The grounds are enclosed by a granite wall from 22 to 30 feet high, the enclosure of 55 acres being one of the largest in America.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC

Department of Minnesota

ALBERT WOOLSON

Dept. Commander, Duluth, Minn.

Born February 11, 1847. Enlisted October 4, 1864. Company C, First Minnesota H. A. Assigned to Drum Corps, later advanced to Drum Major. Mustered out September 27, 1865. Is the last living member of the Department of Minnesota.

The first Post of the Grand Army of the Republic in Minnesota was organized in the Governor's room in the Capitol in St. Paul August 1, 1866, less than a month after the organization of the first Department of the Order in Springfield, Illinois. In response to an invitation from Wm. R. Marshall, then Governor, fifteen other ex-soldiers attended the meeting and at that meeting were mustered in by Colonel Snyder of Illinois who was present, clothed with the necessary authority. General John B. Sandborn was elected Grand Commander; Captain E. Y. Shelley, Adjutant General; Lieutenant A. P. Connolly, Assistant Adjutant General; Captain Miles Hollister, Quartermaster General. While this meeting merely established a Post, that Post was the nucleus of the Department of Minnesota. From this beginning new Posts were formed and new members added until in 1890 when the high point of membership was reached, there were 185 Posts and 8,408 members. Since that date there has been a gradual decline in membership until today only eleven members remain to answer roll call.
