To the people of Minnesota:

It is with great pride that I present this 1977-1978 edition of the Minnesota Legislative Manual.

I am dedicating this edition to the 1,978,590 voters who participated in the 1976 general election. You were a record number for Minnesota and gave our state the highest percentage of citizens voting in the nation.

This manual is a compilation of information which has been gathered by many people. You will find your votes recorded, precinct by precinct. The officials you elected are listed here, with biographical data. An overview of legislative action throughout Minnesota history is presented in chapter one.

It is my hope that each reader of the Minnesota Legislative Manual 1977-1978 will continue to actively participate in our state's future.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION IN MINNESOTA: an historical review

INTRODUCTION

ARTICLE IV OF THE MINNESOTA CONSTITUTION contains the provisions by which Minnesota citizens endow the Legislature with the authority to enact the laws which govern the state.

THE FOLLOWING OUTLINE is a sampling of legislative action since statehood. Listed here is a gleaning from the 36,516 laws and resolutions to Congress, 1858-1976. All of the measures included have been passed and signed into law in accordance with the Minnesota Constitution.

This review is not meant to place emphasis on one area over another nor to place significance upon one law over another. It is intended to dramatize the activities of the Legislature as it deals with actions affecting citizens — present and future — and to give readers a glimpse of this aspect of their state government.

ALL LAWS OF MINNESOTA are on file in the office of the Secretary of State for public inspection.

READERS ARE INVITED to consult "A Minnesota Chronicle" (p. 23 to 28, this manual) for a narrative of events occurring during these years.

If subjects addressed in laws reflect the times in which they are proposed, this review may illuminate past and present life in Minnesota. What may emerge are some of the sources of the quality of life in Minnesota today as expressed in the actions of its duly elected legislators in the 119 years since Minnesota became a state.

Readers may wish to visit the Legislature and participate in the open meetings held throughout the state by legislative committees, local governments (townships, cities, counties), and state departments and agencies created to fulfill the constitutional charge which Minnesota citizens have entrusted to their Legislature.

EARLY STATEHOOD: 1858-1898

GOVERNMENT: The Minnesota Legislature began in the first years of statehood to provide the laws necessary for government.

- In 1858 the following were established:
 - legislative sessions
 - election of certain officers of the state
 - state militia
 - state capitol: St. Paul
 - state prison: Stillwater
 - township governments
 - provisions for local ordinances, improvements, and municipal incorporations.
- Real estate taxes first were imposed in 1860 when the state budget was under $150,000.
- Acts regulating corrupt legislation and defining duties of county officers also were passed in 1860.
- Reflecting events in the region and in the nation, early legislative years were marked with concerns about matters related to American Indians, the Sioux Uprising (1862), and consequences of actions by federal and state agencies locally interpreting federal treaties:
 - American Indians were required to remain on the land to which they were assigned by treaty, according to an 1858 law.
 - After the 1862 Uprising, members of the Sioux and Winnebago Tribes were banished from the state.
 - An 1863 resolution asked Congress to restrict even "meritorious" American Indians from returning to the state.

- Additional measures further restricting American Indians were enacted by the Legislature over several sessions in the years after 1862.
- An amendment to the Constitution was proposed to provide for biennial sessions of the Legislature (1873 and 1877).
- Habitual drunkenness became a cause for removal from public office, according to an 1878 act.
- In 1881 both a regular and a special session were held:

- Setting fire to forest or prairie land was made a misdemeanor in 1883, and public buildings were required to be equipped with fire prevention materials and fire escapes.
- Boxing matches, drunkenness, and opium "joints" were banned in 1889.

ELECTIONS: In this period Minnesota's leadership in expansion of suffrage was established by the Legislature.

- Ratified in 1870 the 15th Amendment to the United States Constitution which provided that the right to vote not be abridged because of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.
- Proposed a state constitutional amendment in 1875 permitting Minnesota women to vote in school district elections.

- Granted women the right to vote on questions involving liquor by an 1877 law.
- Voter registration first was required in 1883 for residents of cities over 12,000 population.
- In 1889, election day was made a legal holiday by prohibiting business, except in case of a necessity.
- Minnesota election laws were revised to include provisions relating to employees' time off to vote, assistance to voters, challenging of voters, and procedures in the polling places (1889).
- Elective franchise was proposed in a constitutional amendment (1895) for male American Indians, 21 years of age or over, who had adopted the language, customs, and habits of "civilization", after an examination by any district court of the state and have been pronounced by said court capable of enjoying the rights of citizenship within the state.

- Acts providing reimbursement to farmers for hail and storm damage were passed in 1893.
- In 1889 the Legislature prohibited the use of chemicals in the preservation of milk, cream, cheese, and butter.

TRANSPORTATION/COMMUNICATION: The desire for access from Minnesota to other parts of the nation resulted in action by the Legislature.

- A resolution passed in 1858 urged Congress to create an overland route to the Pacific Ocean.
- Development of a northern rail route to the Pacific and reimprovement of the Mississippi River from its mouth to Sauk Rapids were promoted in resolutions to Congress in 1861.
- In 1865 the Legislature authorized placing a telegraph line from St. Paul to the northern border of Minnesota.

- Interest in means of transportation increased as population began to expand across the state. Minnesota was the northwestern-most terminus of rail service from the east coast and Chicago until rail lines were opened to the Pacific Northwest. Minnesota's land area and the numerous lakes, rivers, and other natural barriers increased the need for bridges, railroads, and roads, as evidenced by legislative action:
 - Legislation granted over 12,000,000 acres of land to railroads (an area equal to the size of Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and half of New Hampshire).
 - In 1870 the Legislature urged federal ownership of the Sault Ste. Marie canal to provide a toll-free outlet for Lake Superior.

- An excise tax of 3% was assessed on telephone companies doing business in Minnesota in 1897.

IMMIGRATION: Desire to establish Minnesota as a favorable destination for immigrants from non-English speaking countries and to increase the territorial jurisdiction of the state resulted in several legislative actions during the early years of statehood.

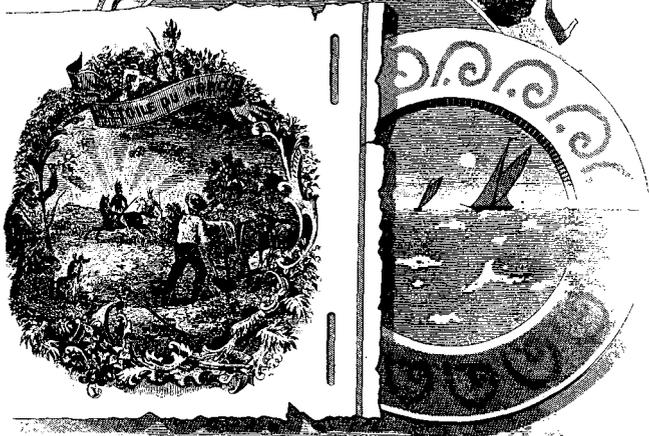

- In 1862 the Legislature required that the laws be printed in German, Norwegian, and English.
- Pamphlets printed in those languages were authorized in 1863 to promote settlement in the state.
- Increases in the number of immigrants led to the formation of a board of immigration in 1867.
- At the time Minnesota entered the Union, it was the third largest of the states in land area. Adding territory was the subject of legislative proposals in several sessions.
 - Annexation of Douglas County, Wisconsin (where Superior is located), to Minnesota was proposed (1863).
 - An 1885 resolution to Congress urged that the Duluth-Superior area be incorporated into one state. The resolution called for a joint commission to be made up of three members from Minnesota, three from Wisconsin, to determine which part of Douglas County (Wisconsin) should be turned over to Minnesota.
 - In the interest of developing the territory west of Minnesota, an 1866 resolution was passed by the Legislature seeking to expand the district of Minnesota to the Montana Territory to allow the forces of General John Pope to protect emigration from Minnesota to the west.

NATIONAL ISSUES: In the years of early statehood the Legislature revealed an involvement with national issues as well as state and local matters.

- The Legislature urged Congress in 1860 to enact the Homestead Act.
- At the time of the Civil War:
 - the Legislature passed resolutions condemning the secession of the Southern States
 - a major humanitarian issue was providing relief to the starving residents of Kansas who were among the first to suffer the effects of the Civil War

- A legislative resolution to Congress during the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson in 1868 urged his removal from office.
- When Alaska was purchased by the United States during the 1868 session of the Legislature, a legislative resolution urged the United States government to try to obtain from Canada that land lying between Alaska and the United States.
- In 1891 resolutions were passed calling for:
 - ownership and operation of the Panama Canal by the United States
 - creation of a national park along the Rainy River on Minnesota's northern boundary.
- Direct election of United States senators (who were at that time elected by members of the Legislature) was recommended by an 1893 resolution to Congress.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING: During this period of Minnesota's population growth, as reflected in decennial censuses, there were increases in the number of Representatives in Congress to which the state was entitled. Minnesota was divided into two congressional districts in 1860; five in 1880; seven in 1890.

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT: 1899-1950

LEGISLATIVE ACTION DURING the first half of the twentieth century included preparation for and participation in national emergencies: two world wars and the great depression. Minnesota demonstrated leadership in social legislation and in quality of life which forecast events occurring in the later decades of the twentieth century.

EDUCATION: Laws were passed to define and extend opportunities for education in Minnesota.

- Recognition by the Legislature of the special needs of veterans is evidenced by a 1901 law providing free tuition at the University of Minnesota for veterans of the Civil War and the Spanish-American War.

State Flag The present state flag was adopted by the 1957 legislature. Pictured in the center of the flag is the state seal. Three dates are woven into a flowered wreath: 1858, the statehood year; 1819, the establishment of Fort Snelling; and 1893, the year the original flag was adopted.

State Seal The Great Seal of the State of Minnesota is the insignia which the secretary of state affixes to government papers and documents to make them official. It is, in effect, the signature of the state.

Minnesota actually has two seals. One, for the territory of Minnesota, was adopted in 1849 and approved by Governor Alexander Ramsey and the territorial legislature.

When Minnesota became a state on May 11, 1858, there was no official state seal and according to law no official act could be undertaken without it. The territorial seal was used until a new design was adopted by Governor Sibley. The legislature did not approve this design. Governor Sibley made some changes in the proposed seal including changing the original Latin motto to French: "L'Etoile du Nord," thereby making Minnesota the North Star State. In 1861, after three years of use, the legislature adopted the changed design making it the official state seal.

A MINNESOTA CHRONICLE

Minnesotans enter their nation's third century conscious that the history of the land their state encompasses extends for even more centuries.

Since what is past is prologue, the following chronology is offered as an introduction to Minnesota's role in the future:

Exploration and Territory	1654-1857
Early Statehood	1858-1898
Growth and Development	1899-1950
Into the Present	1951-1977

The earliest probable explorers to reach Minnesota were French traders Radisson and Groseilliers in 1654. In 1679 Daniel Greysolon DuLhut (Duluth) held a council with the Sioux (Dakota) near Mille Lacs Lake. He met Father Louis Hennepin at the Mississippi after traveling down the St. Croix River the following year. That same year, 1680, Father Hennepin, after being held captive in a village of the Mille Lacs Sioux, discovered the Falls of St. Anthony. On May 8, 1689, Nicholas Perrot, at Fort St. Antoine, on the Wisconsin shore of Lake Pepin, laid formal claim to the surrounding county for France. He also build a fort on the Minnesota shore of this lake, near its outlet. Between 1689 and 1736, the French continued to develop forts and settlements in Minnesota such as Isle Pelée in 1695, Fort L'Huillier in 1700, Fort Beauharnois near Frontenac in 1727 and Forts St. Pierre and St. Charles in extreme northern Minnesota established in 1731.

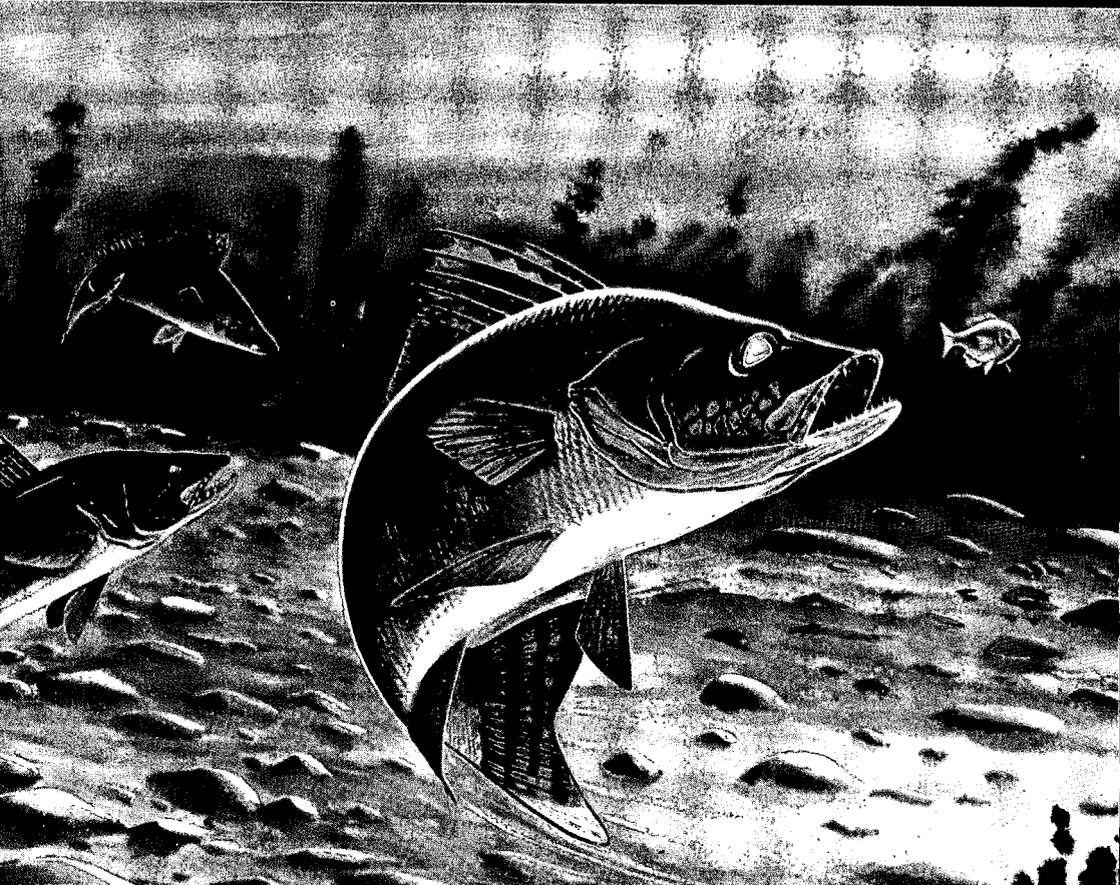

In 1745 the Chippewa won the most decisive battle in the war with the Sioux at the great Sioux village of Kathio on the western shore of Mille Lacs. The Sioux were eventually driven onto the western plains by the Chippewa.

The Versailles Treaty of 1763, following the French-Indian War, ceded the French territory east of the Mississippi River to England. France had ceded its area west of the Mississippi to Spain in 1762.

Following the Revolutionary War, the North West Company became important in the fur trade and Grand Portage became its headquarters in 1784. By 1797 the Minnesota area of the Northwest Territory had been mapped by North West trader David Thompson.

In 1803 President Thomas Jefferson purchased that part of Minnesota lying west of the Mississippi River, from Napoleon Bonaparte in the Louisiana Purchase.

During the War of 1812, the Sioux, Chippewa and Winnebago joined the English. Following the War of 1812, the United States established Fort St. Anthony (renamed Fort Snelling in 1825) in 1819 to protect the confluence of the Minnesota and

- State Bird The Loon (gavia immer) became Minnesota's state bird in 1961. It is also known as the Common Loon and the Great Northern Diver. The Loon is a large bird, with wing spans up to five feet and body lengths up to three feet. Its beautiful call is easily distinguished over Minnesota lakes.
- State Fish The Walleye (stizostedion v. vitreum) is found throughout Minnesota in lakes and rivers but is most at home in the large, clear, cool lakes of Minnesota's northern forests. It attains a weight of 18 pounds, has flesh of the highest quality and is any angler's prize. About half of Minnesota's fishing water is managed primarily for walleye fishing.

Mississippi Rivers. The first steamboat arrived at Fort Snelling on May 10, 1823. In the same year American explorer Stephen H. Long visited the Minnesota River, the Red River, and the Northern frontier. In 1832 Henry R. Schoolcraft discovered the source of the Mississippi river and named it Lake Itasca. In 1836 after Michigan became a state, Minnesota became part of the territory of Wisconsin. This same year, Joseph N. Nicollet began his explorations into Minnesota.

In 1837, Governor Dodge of Wisconsin signed a treaty at Fort Snelling with the Chippewa, by which they ceded all their pine lands on the St. Croix and its tributaries. A treaty was also signed at Washington, D.C. with representatives of the Sioux for their lands east of the Mississippi. These treaties led the way to the first settlements within the area of Minnesota. The following year, Franklin Steele established a claim at the Falls of St. Anthony (Minneapolis) and Pierre Parrant built a shanty and settled on the present site of the city of St. Paul, then called "Pig's Eye."

The "Chapel of St. Paul" was built and consecrated in 1841, giving the name to the future capitol of the state.

On August 26, 1848, after the admission of Wisconsin to the Union, the "Stillwater Convention" adopted measures calling for a separate territorial organization, and asked that the new territory be named Minnesota. Two months later, on October 30, Henry Hastings Sibley was elected delegate to Congress.

In 1849 Minnesota was organized as a territory and the first territorial legislature assembled on September 3.

By 1850 commercial steamboating was inaugurated on the Minnesota River. The first U.S. census was taken in the Minnesota territory and recorded a population of 6,077 in 1850. In 1851 St. Paul, St. Anthony, and Stillwater were selected for the locations of capitol, university, and penitentiary.

During the 1850's a number of organizations were established to encourage the importation of blooded stock and the introduction of choice seeds, grain and fruit trees to the territory.

In 1853 W. A. Gorman was appointed governor and the first capitol was constructed. In 1854 commercial flour milling began in Minneapolis. Large scale immigration began in the mid 1850's and a real estate boom resulted. The first bridge to span the main channel of the Mississippi River anywhere along its length was opened in Minneapolis in 1855.

1857 saw the beginning of moves to establish the state government in Minnesota. The Minnesota Enabling Act was passed by Congress on February 26. Governor Samuel Medary, who had been appointed by President James Buchanan, arrived on April 22. The legislature passed a bill to move the state capitol to St. Peter, but since the bill was stolen before it was filed with the territorial secretary of state, the move to St. Peter never came about. On July 13 the Constitutional Convention assembled. There had been such a rift between Democrats and Republicans that two constitutions were adopted. The Constitution was adopted and the state officers elected on October 3, 1857. Minnesota had a population of 150,037 at this time. On May 11, 1858, Minnesota entered the Union as the 32nd state. At the time of its entry, Minnesota was the third largest state in the Union—only Texas and California were larger.

Early Statehood 1858-1898

At the beginning of the Civil War, Governor Alexander Ramsey wired Lt. Gov. Ignatius Donnelly to begin to organize volunteers from the state to fight in the war. On April 14, 1861, Ramsey offered President Lincoln 1,000 men giving Minnesota the distinction of being the first state to offer troops to the Union cause. The first Minnesota regiment left Fort Snelling on June 22, 1861.

On July 2, 1862, the first railroad was opened in Minnesota between Minneapolis and St. Paul. During the Sioux uprising of the late summer of 1862, a number of settlements were attacked. A military commission tried 392 Indians for murder, rape, and other charges, and 303 of them were condemned. On December 26, 1862, 38 Indians were hanged at Mankato.

At the battle of Gettysburg on July 2, 1862, the First Minnesota Regiment made its famous charge and within 15 minutes 215 of the 262 men were killed or wounded. On July 3, Chief Little Crow, Sioux leader of the Sioux Uprising, was killed near Hutchinson. At the close of the Civil and Indian Wars, the Minnesota troops totaled 21,982.

The University of Minnesota was opened in 1866 with William W. Folwell as its first president.

The development by Edmund N. LaCroix of the middlings purifier for flour helped expand the development of Minnesota, the Dakotas and western Canada.

The Legislative Amendment providing for biennial sessions was passed in 1877.

On March 1, 1881, the first state capitol burned. A second state capitol was built on the same spot. The legislature moved into the second capitol in January, 1883.

The first iron ore was shipped from Minnesota in 1884. The first mine was the Soudan mine on the Vermillion Range. Iron was first discovered on the Mesabi Range 6 years later in 1890 and that range shipped its first iron in 1892.

In 1893 the legislature appointed a Capitol Commission to select a site for and erect a new state capitol building.

Killer forest fires started on September 1, 1894, destroying over 400 sq. miles of area near Hinckley and Sandstone.

Three-fourths of the Red Lake Indian Reservation was opened for settlement in 1896.

The cornerstone on the new state capitol was laid on July 27, 1898. Minnesota was the first state to respond to the President's call for volunteers in the Spanish-American War. Minnesota supplied four regiments for service.

Growth and Development 1899-1950

During the late 19th and early 20th centuries the tide of immigration into the state swelled. The most notable origin of this movement was Germany, Sweden, Norway and Denmark. The other migrations from Southern and Eastern Europe contributed to a lesser degree to the state's population increase.

In 1909 President Theodore Roosevelt issued a proclamation establishing Superior National Forest. In 1911 the legislature ratified the proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution allowing for the direct election of U.S. Senators.

Minnesota became the first state in 1913 to adopt a non-partisan system of electing its legislators.

During World War I, Minnesota contributed 123,325 troops. On October 12-13, 1918, forest fires spread over large parts of Carlton and southern St. Louis counties taking 432 lives.

In 1925 a general reorganization of the state government occurred.

In 1930 Minnesotan Frank B. Kellogg, U.S. Secretary of State, was awarded the 1929 Nobel Peace Prize for his work on the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact signed in Paris in 1928. The purpose of the Pact was to outlaw war.

The great wartime demand for military equipment led to the Minnesota iron ore mines' production for 1943, of 83,960,822 tons of ore, the largest single tonnage in their history.

As a result of a special session of the legislature in 1944, persons in the armed forces were permitted to vote. Also in 1944 the Democratic and Farmer-Labor parties merged to form the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party.

The 1946 value of crops in Minnesota was at a high of $683,000,000.

In 1947 the Youth Conservation Act was passed providing for methods of treatment, training and education of young persons with a view toward the prevention of crime and delinquency.

In 1948, for the first time, the value of manufactured products exceeded cash farm receipts in the state.

The 1950 population of Minnesota was 2,982,483.

Into the Present 1951 - 1977

In 1951, Minnesota produced 82% of the nation's total iron ore output. That year Minnesota produced a new record — 89,564,932 tons of iron ore.

The DFL won 7 of 8 statewide races in the 1954 general election to mark its first major victory.

Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, in 1968, became the first Minnesotan nominated by a major party for President of the United States.

President Nixon, in 1969, named Warren Burger of St. Paul as Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. Harry Blackmun of Rochester was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1970.

That year, the 150th anniversary of Fort Snelling was marked. A Constitutional Amendment lowering the voting age to 19 years was approved by Minnesota voters in November. Also in 1970, the U.S. Congress authorized Voyageurs National Park. The population of Minnesota was 3,805,069.

The Minnesota legislature became the first in the nation to ratify an amendment to the U.S. Constitution lowering the voting age to 18 years. The longest "extra session" in the history of the Minnesota Legislature adjourned October 30, 1971.

In 1972, the DFL, which already was in control of the Governor's office, gained control of both the Senate and the House.

The 1973 legislature repealed a 60 year-old law providing for the nonpartisan election of legislators and restored party designation. The legislature also provided for statewide voter registration.

In the 1974 statewide general election the DFL strengthened its leadership in the legislature and also gained control of all statewide offices.

The state noted in 1974 the death of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., a native of Little Falls, who was world renowned for being the first person to fly across the Atlantic Ocean alone.

The worst blizzard of the century swept through Minnesota on January 11, 1975, with the lowest barometric pressure reading ever recorded; spring and early summer flooding, especially in the Red River Valley, caused millions of dollars in crop damage. In early July the 7th known earthquake in state history was recorded in a large area of west-central Minnesota.

Where blizzards, floods and windstorms dealt blows to the Minnesota economy in 1975, an extensive drought and forest fires in 1976 and an energy emergency early in 1977 plagued the state.

The dispute between the state and Reserve Mining Company over the discharge of asbestos-laden wastes from taconite processing into Lake Superior at Silver Bay remained unresolved.

Minnesota led the nation in the percentage of eligible voters who went to the polls at the 1976 general election. 75.4 per cent or 1,978,590 Minnesotans voted. Senator Hubert H. Humphrey received 1,290,736 votes, his highest total vote and largest ever received by any candidate for public office in Minnesota. The Carter-Mondale ticket carried Minnesota by 56 per cent. Walter F. Mondale became the second Minnesotan to be elected to the nation's second highest office. President-elect Jimmy Carter appointed 7th district congressman Bob Bergland to the post of secretary of agriculture. The Democratic-Farmer-Labor party increased its commanding margin in the state legislature.

On December 29, Governor Wendell R. Anderson resigned midway in his second term. He was succeeded by Lieutenant Governor Rudy Perpich. Perpich, a dentist from Hibbing on the Mesabi Iron Range became the state's 34th governor, its first Roman Catholic governor and its first chief executive of Yugoslavian ancestry. The day after Perpich succeeded to the governorship, Mondale resigned his seat in the United States senate and Perpich appointed Anderson to succeed him.

FUNDAMENTAL CHARTERS AND LAWS

Introduction: This section of the Legislative Manual includes six fundamental charters and laws which affect the state of Minnesota. Maps illustrating the several boundaries and hegemony of four sovereign nations over the land area now known as Minnesota are reprinted from Minnesota Under Four Flags by Mary W. Berthel, published by the Minnesota Historical Society.

Minnesota Under Four Nations

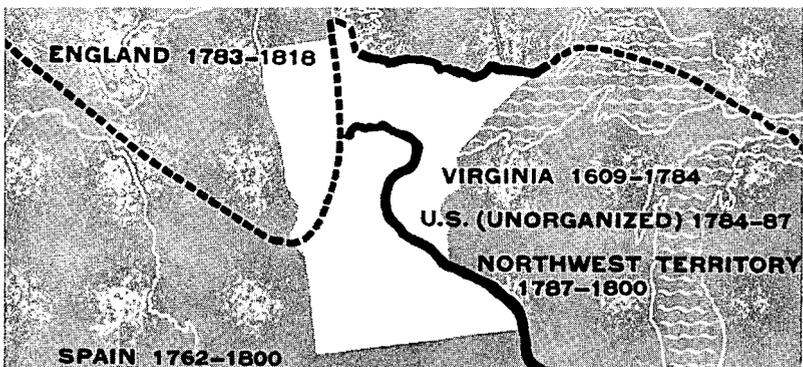

The land area of Minnesota has at various times been under the governments of four nations—France, Spain, England and the United States. The early territorial claims of France, Spain and England were vague and overlapping. Formal government was nonexistent.

Formal dominion over this area was probably first expressed by the French when in 1671 the Sieur de Lussou, in a picturesque ceremony held at the Sault de Ste. Marie, claimed for France the vast northwest area of North America.

However, British dominion over northeastern Minnesota appears to have provided the first written constitution nominally in effect in the land area of Minnesota. This occurred when Minnesota was made a part of the Province of Quebec under the Quebec Act of 1774. But England's claim to this area was not exclusive inasmuch as Virginia maintained a claim to the same area under its colonial charter of 1609.

Of Minnesota's land area the portion east of the Mississippi River was the first to come under the jurisdiction of the United States. This was established by the treaty of peace between England and the United States in 1783. Four years later, under the Ordinance of 1787, the first genuine government was extended to this area, and the Minnesota country began its march to statehood.

The Northwest Ordinance of 1787

One of the great charters in Minnesota history is the Northwest Ordinance passed by the Congress of the Confederation on July 13, 1787. The Ordinance of 1787 was made possible when several states, including Massachusetts, New York, Virginia and Connecticut released their claims to the land area west of the Appalachian Mountains extending to the Mississippi River. This area became known as the Northwest Territory.

The Ordinance of 1787 followed the fundamentals of Thomas Jefferson's Ordinance of 1784 and established a government over the Northwest Territory and gave impetus to the westward expansion of this nation. It was an outstanding governmental document. It gave first national recognition to the Bill of Rights, abolished primogeniture, provided for the encouragement of education, prohibited slavery, and established the great new principle that new states should be admitted to the federal government on an equal footing with the original states.

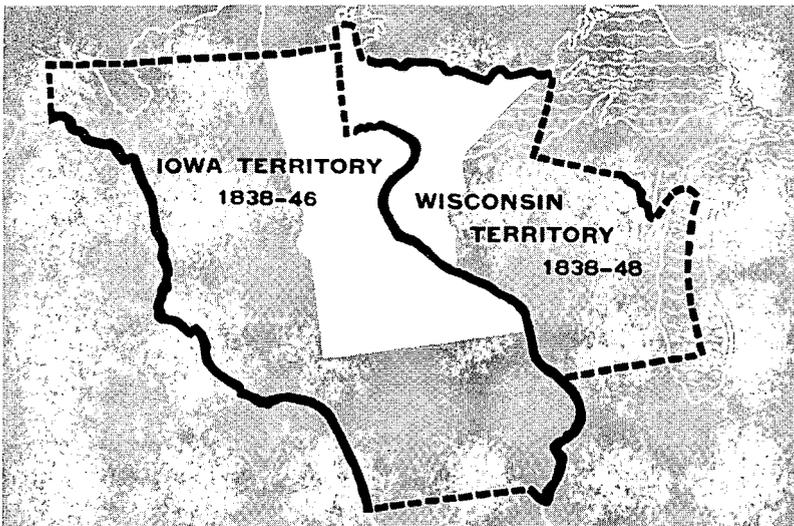

The full effect of the Northwest Ordinance upon Minnesota law has yet to be determined. For example, the question of whether common law in Minnesota dates from the Revolution or from the Ordinance of 1787 has been left open by decisions of the Minnesota courts.

The Ordinance provided for the formation out of the Northwest Territory of not less than three nor more than five states. The states were to be admitted to the federal government on an equal footing with the original states.

By May of 1848 five states had been formed out of the Northwest Territory—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The State of Wisconsin was organized out of the Territory of Wisconsin, the last remnant of the Northwest Territory. Although in 1848 the Territory of Wisconsin extended to the Mississippi River, the State of Wisconsin voluntarily limited its western boundary to the St. Croix River. This boundary limitation by the State of Wisconsin left the land area between the St. Croix and the Mississippi available for eventual inclusion in the State of Minnesota.

Thus it is that the State of Minnesota can trace much of its fundamental governmental principles, and a substantial portion of its territory, back to the Northwest Ordinance of 1787.

NORTHWEST ORDINANCE 1787

Act of Congress, July 13, 1787

An Ordinance for the government of the territory of the United States northwest of the river Ohio.

1. Be it ordained by the United States, in Congress assembled, That the said territory, for the purpose of temporary government, be one district, subject, however, to be divided into two districts, as future circumstances may, in the opinion of Congress, make it expedient.

2. Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the estates both of resident and non-resident proprietors in the said territory, dying intestate, shall descend to, and be distributed among, their children and the descendants of a deceased child in equal parts, the descendants of a deceased child or grandchild to take the share of their deceased parent in equal parts among them; and where there shall be no children or descendants, then in equal parts to the next of kin, in equal degree; and among collaterals, the children of a deceased brother or sister of the intestate shall have, in equal parts among them, their deceased parent's share; and there shall, in no case, be a distinction between kindred of the whole and half blood; saving in all cases to the widow of the intestate her third part of the real estate for life, and one-third part of the personal estate; and this law, relative to descents and dower, shall remain in full force until altered by the Legislature of the district. And until the Governor and judges shall adopt laws, as hereinafter mentioned, estates in the said territory may be devised or bequeathed by wills in writing, signed and sealed by him or her in whom the estate may be, (being of full age), and attested by three witnesses; and real estates may be conveyed by lease and release, or bargain and sale, signed, sealed and delivered by the person, being of full age, in whom the estate may be, and attested by two witnesses, provided such wills be duly proved, and such conveyances be acknowledged, or the execution thereof duly proved, and be recorded within one year after proper magistrates, courts, and registers, shall be appointed for that purpose; and personal property may be transferred by delivery, saving, however, to the French and Canadian inhabitants, and other settlers of the Kaskaskias, Saint Vincents, and the neighboring villages, who have heretofore professed themselves citizens of Virginia, their laws and customs now in force among them, relative to the descent and conveyance of property.

3. Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That there shall be appointed, from time to time, by Congress, a Governor, whose commission shall continue in force for the term of three years, unless sooner revoked by Congress; he shall reside in the district, and have a freehold estate therein, in 1,000 acres of land, while in the exercise of his office.

4. There shall be appointed from time to time, by Congress, a Secretary, whose commission shall continue in force for four years, unless sooner revoked; he shall reside in the district, and have a freehold estate therein, in five hundred acres of land, while in the exercise of his office. It shall be his duty to keep and preserve the Acts and laws passed by the Legislature, and the public records of the district, and the proceedings of the Governor in his executive department, and transmit authentic copies of such Acts and proceedings every six months, to the Secretary of Congress. There shall also be appointed a court, to consist of three judges, any two of whom to form a court, who shall have a common law jurisdiction and reside in the district, and have each therein a freehold estate in five hundred acres of land, while in the exercise of their offices; and their commissions shall continue in force during good behavior.

5. The Governor and judges, or a majority of them, shall adopt and publish in the district such laws of the original States, criminal and civil, as may be necessary, and best suited to the circumstances of the district, and report them to Congress from time to time, which laws shall be in force in the district until the organization of the General Assembly therein, unless disapproved of by Congress; but afterwards the Legislature shall have authority to alter them as they shall think fit.

6. The Governor, for the time being, shall be commander-in-chief of the militia, appoint and commission all officers in the same below the rank of general officers; all general officers shall be appointed and commissioned by Congress.

7. Previous to the organization of the general assembly, the Governor shall appoint such magistrates, and other civil officers, in each county or township, as he shall find necessary for the preservation of the peace and good order in the same. After the General Assembly shall be organized the powers and duties of magistrates and other civil officers shall be regulated and defined by the said assembly; but all magistrates and other civil officers, not herein otherwise directed, shall, during the continuance of this temporary government, be appointed by the Governor.

8. For the prevention of crimes and injuries, the laws to be adopted or made shall have force in all parts of the district, and for the execution of process, criminal and civil, the Governor shall make proper divisions thereof; and he shall proceed, from time to time, as circumstances may require, to lay out parts of the district in which the Indian titles shall have been extinguished, into counties and townships, subject, however, to such alterations as may thereafter be made by the Legislature.

9. So soon as there shall be five thousand free male inhabitants, of full age, in the district, upon giving proof thereof to the Governor, they shall receive authority, with the time and place, to elect Representatives from their counties or townships, to represent them in the General Assembly: Provided, that for every five hundred free male inhabitants there shall be one Representative, and soon, progressively, with the number of free male inhabitants, shall the right of representation increase, until the number of Representatives shall amount to twenty-five; after which the number and proportion of Representatives shall be regulated by the legislature: Provided, that no person be eligible or qualified to act as a Representative, unless he shall have been a citizen of one of the United States three years, and, in either case, shall likewise hold in his own right, in fee simple, two hundred acres of land within the same: Provided also, that a freehold in fifty acres of land in the district, having been a citizen of one of the States, and being resident in the district, or the like freehold and two years' residence in the district, shall be necessary to qualify a man as an elector of a Representative.

10. The Representatives thus elected shall serve for the term of two years; and in case of the death of a Representative, or removal from office, the Governor shall issue a writ to the county or township, for which he was a member, to elect another in his stead, to serve for the residue of the term.

11. The General Assembly, or Legislature, shall consist of the Governor, Legislative Council, and a House of Representatives. The Legislative Council shall consist of five members, to continue in office five years, unless sooner removed by Congress; any three members of the council shall be nominated and appointed in the following manner, to wit: As soon as Representatives shall be elected the Governor shall appoint a time and place for them to meet together, and when met they shall nominate ten persons, resident in the district, and each possessed of a freehold in five hundred acres of land, and return their names to Congress, five of whom Congress shall appoint and commission to serve as aforesaid; and whenever a vacancy shall happen in the Council, by death or removal from office, the House of Representatives shall nominate two persons, qualified as aforesaid, for each vacancy, and return their names to Congress, one of whom Congress shall appoint and commission for the residue of the term; and every five years, four months at least before the expiration of the time of service of the members of the Council, the said House shall nominate ten persons, qualified as aforesaid, and return their names to Congress, five of whom Congress shall appoint and commission to serve as members of the Council five years, unless sooner removed. And the Governor, Legislative Council, and House of Representatives shall have authority to make laws in all cases for the good government of the district, not repugnant to the principles and articles in this Ordinance established and declared. And all bills, having passed by a majority in the House, and be a majority in the Council, shall be referred to the Governor for his assent; but no bill or legislative Act whatever shall be of any force without his assent. The Governor shall have power to convene, prorogue, and dissolve the General Assembly when, in his opinion, it shall be expedient.

12. The Governor, judges, Legislative Council, Secretary, and such other officers as Congress shall appoint in the district, shall take an oath or affirmation of fidelity, and of office; the Governor before the President of Congress, and all other officers before the Governor. As soon as a legislature shall be formed in the district, the Council and House assembled, in one room, shall have authority, by joint ballot, to elect a delegate to Congress, who shall have a seat in Congress, with a right of debating, but not of voting, during this temporary government.

13. And for extending the fundamental principles of civil and religious liberty, which form the basis whereon these republics, their laws and Constitutions, are erected: to fix and establish those principles as the basis of all laws, Constitutions, and governments, which forever hereafter shall be formed in the said territory; to provide, also, for the establishment of States, and permanent government therein, and for their admission to a share in the federal councils on an equal footing with the original States, at as early periods as may be consistent with the general interest:

14. It is hereby ordained and declared, by the authority aforesaid, that the following articles shall be considered as articles of compact, between the original States and the people and States in the said territory, and forever remain unalterable, unless by common consent, to wit:

Art. I. No person demeaning himself in a peaceable and orderly manner shall ever be molested on account of his mode of worship, or religious sentiments in the said territories.

Art. II. The inhabitants of the said territory shall always be entitled to the benefits of the writs of habeas corpus, and of the trial by jury; of a proportionate representation of the people in the Legislature, and of judicial proceedings according to the course of the common law. All persons shall be bailable, unless for capital offenses, where the proof shall be evident or the presumption great. All fines shall be moderate, and no cruel or unusual punishments shall be inflicted. No man shall be deprived of his liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land, and should the public exigencies make it necessary, for the common preservation, to take any person's property, or to demand his particular services, full compensation shall be made for the same. And, in the just preservation of rights and property, it is understood and declared that no law ought ever to be made or have force in the said territory, that shall, in any manner whatever, interfere with or affect private contracts, or engagements bona fide and without fraud previously formed.

Art. III. Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged. The utmost good faith shall always be observed towards the Indians, their lands and property shall never be taken from them without their consent; and in their property, rights and liberty they never shall be invaded or disturbed, unless in just and lawful wars authorized by Congress; but laws founded in justice and humanity shall, from time to time, be made, for preventing wrongs being done to them, and for preserving peace and friendship with them.

Art. IV. The said territory, and the States which may be formed therein, shall forever remain a part of this Confederacy of the United States of America, subject to the Articles of Confederation, and to such alterations therein as shall be constitutionally made; and to all the Acts and Ordinances of the United States in Congress assembled, conformable thereto. The inhabitants and settlers in the said territory shall be subject to pay a part of the federal debts, contracted, or to be contracted, and a proportional part of the expenses of government, to be apportioned on them by Congress, according to the same common rule and measure by which apportionments thereof shall be made on the other States, and the taxes for paying their proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the Legislatures of the district, or districts, or new States, as in the original States, within the time agreed upon by the United States in Congress assembled. The Legislatures of those districts, or new States, shall never interfere with the primary disposal of the soil by the United States in Congress assembled, nor with any regulations Congress may find necessary for securing the title in such soil to the bona fide purchasers. No tax shall be imposed on lands the property of the United States; and in no case shall non-resident proprietors be taxed higher than residents. The navigable waters leading in to the Mississippi and Saint Lawrence, and the carrying places between the same, shall be common highways, and forever free, as well to the inhabitants of the said territory as to the citizens of the United States, and those of any other States that may be admitted into the Confederacy, without any tax, impost, or duty therefor.

Art. V. There shall be formed in the said territory not less than three nor more than five States; and the boundaries of the States, as soon as Virginia shall alter her Act of cession, and consent to the same, shall become fixed and established as follows, to wit: The western State, in the said territory, shall be bounded by the Mississippi, the Ohio, and the Wabash and Post Vincents, due north, to the territorial line between the United States and Canada; and by the said territorial line to the Lake of the Woods and Mississippi. The middle States shall be bounded by the said direct line, the Wabash from Post Vincents to the Ohio, by the Ohio, by a direct line drawn due north from the mouth of the Great Miami to the said territorial line, and by the said territorial line. The eastern State shall be bounded by the last mentioned direct line, the Ohio, Pennsylvania, and the said territorial line: Provided, however, and it is further understood and declared, that the boundaries of these three States, shall be subject so far to be altered, that, if Congress shall hereafter find it expedient, they shall have authority to form one or two States in that part of the said territory which lies north of an east and west line drawn through the southerly bend or extreme of Lake Michigan. And whenever any of the said States shall have sixty thousand free inhabitants therein, such State shall be admitted, by its delegates, into the Congress of the United States, on an equal footing with the original States, in all respects whatever; and shall be at liberty to form a permanent Constitution and State government: Provided, the Constitution and government, so to be formed, shall be republican, and in conformity to the principles contained in these Articles, and, so far as it can be consistent with the general interest of the Confederacy, such admission shall be allowed at an earlier period, and when there may be a less number of free inhabitants in the State than sixty thousand.

Art. VI. There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in the said territory, otherwise than in the punishment of crimes, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted: Provided always, that any person escaping into the same, from whom labor or service is lawfully claimed in any one of the original States, such fugitive may be lawfully reclaimed, and conveyed to the person claiming his or her labor or service as aforesaid.

Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the resolutions of the 23rd of April, 1784, relative to the subject of this Ordinance, be, and the same are hereby, repealed, and declared null and void.

Done by the United States, in Congress assembled, the 13th day of July, in the year of our Lord 1787, and of their sovereignty and independence the 12th.

The Organic Act of 1849

The Organic Act was passed by Congress on March 3, 1849, to provide for the Territorial Government of Minnesota. The boundaries of the territory of Minnesota were Canada on the north, Wisconsin on the east, Iowa on the south and the Missouri and White Earth Rivers on the west.

The movement to create a Minnesota Territorial Government arose out of the necessity for formal government in the remnants of land area which remained after the formation of the states of Wisconsin and Iowa.

Minnesota's land area west of the Mississippi was left without territorial government when the State of Iowa was formed out of the Territory of Iowa in 1846.

The triangular area between the St. Croix River and the Mississippi River was left without territorial government when the State of Wisconsin was admitted to the Union in 1848.

Thus, by 1848 the land area from the St. Croix River west to the Missouri and White Earth Rivers was without territorial government—a veritable “no man’s land.”

Consequently, when Henry H. Sibley was elected delegate to Congress from this area, he worked together with Senator Stephen A. Douglas, chairman of the Senate Committee on Territories, to bring about the passage of the Organic Act for the establishment of a territorial government over this area—the Territory of Minnesota.

The Organic Act provided for a governor, secretary, judicial system, legislative assembly and a delegate to Congress. Legislators and the delegate to Congress were elected; all other officers were appointive.

The Legislative Assembly consisted of two houses, a council composed of nine members and a house of representatives with eighteen members. The first session of the Legislature convened on September 3, 1849, in the Central House at the corner of Bench and Minnesota Streets in St. Paul. Since that time St. Paul has been the capital of Minnesota. However, in 1857 a bill was introduced in the territorial legislative assembly to have the capitol removed from St. Paul to St. Peter. This action was promoted by the East and West boundary group which contended that the boundary to be established for the State of Minnesota should extend from Wisconsin west to the Missouri River, with the north line of the state being just north of St. Paul. Although this bill passed both houses of the legislative assembly, it was stolen before it could be presented to the territorial governor for his signature. Thus, the bill failed to pass because of assembly member Joseph Rolette, who disappeared with the bill and held it until the close of the Legislative session.

An important provision of the Organic Act was the reservation of sections 16 and 36 of each township for school purposes.

Alexander Ramsey, a Whig, was the first Territorial Governor. He was followed by Willis A. Gorman and Samuel Medary, Democrats.

Minnesota progressed under the territorial government, but many groups felt that progress would be accelerated if Minnesota were a state. Within a short time there arose a strong desire for statehood.

ORGANIC ACT OF MINNESOTA

An act to establish the Territorial Government of Minnesota
(Passed March 3, 1849)

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, all that part of the territory of the United States which lies within the following limits, to-wit: Beginning in the Mississippi river at the point where the line of forty-three degrees and thirty minutes of north latitude crosses the same; thence running due west on said line, which is the northern boundary of the state of Iowa, to the northwest corner of the said state of Iowa; then southerly along the western boundary of said state to the point where said boundary strikes the Missouri river; thence up the middle of the main channel of the Missouri river to the mouth of White Earth river; thence up the middle of the main channel of the White Earth river to the boundary line between the possessions of the United States and Great Britain, thence east and south of east along the boundary line between the possessions of the United States and Great Britain to Lake Superior; thence in a straight line to the northernmost point of the state of Wisconsin in Lake Superior; thence along the western boundary line of said state of Wisconsin to the Mississippi river; thence down the main channel of said river to the place of beginning, be and the same is hereby erected into a temporary government by the name of the Territory of Minnesota; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to inhibit the government of the United States from dividing said Territory into two or more territories, in such manner and at such times as Congress shall deem convenient and proper, or from attaching any portion of said Territory to any other state or territory of the United States.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the executive power and authority in and over said Territory of Minnesota shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States. The governor shall reside within said Territory; shall be commander-in-chief of the militia thereof; shall perform the duties and receive the emoluments of superintendent of Indian affairs. He may grant pardons for offenses against the law of said Territory, and relieves for offenses against the laws of the United States until the decision of the president can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of the said Territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a secretary of said Territory, who shall reside therein, and hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States; he shall record and preserve all the laws and proceedings of the legislative assembly hereinafter constituted, and all the acts and proceedings of the governor in his executive department; he shall transmit one copy of the laws and one copy of the executive proceedings, on or before the first day of December in each year, to the president of the United States, and at the same time two copies of the laws to the speaker of the house of representatives, and the president of the senate for the use of Congress. And in case of the death, removal, resignation, or necessary absence of the governor from the Territory, the secretary shall be and he is hereby authorized and required to execute and perform all the powers and the duties of the governor during such vacancy or necessary absence, or until another governor shall be duly appointed to fill such vacancy.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power and authority of said Territory shall be vested in the governor and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly shall consist of a council and house of representatives. The council shall consist of nine members having the qualifications of voters, as hereinafter prescribed, whose term of service shall continue two years.

The house of representatives shall, at its first session, consist of eighteen members, possessing the same qualification as prescribed for members of the council, and whose term of service shall continue one year. The number of councilors and representatives may be increased by the legislative assembly, from time to time, in proportion to the increase of population; provided, that the whole number shall never exceed fifteen councilors and thirty-nine representatives. An apportionment shall be made, as nearly equal as practicable, among the several counties or districts for the election of the council and representatives, giving to each section of the Territory representation in the ratio of its population, Indians excepted, as nearly as may be. And the members of the council and of the house of representatives shall reside in and be inhabitants of the districts for which they may be elected, respectively. Previous to the first election, the governor shall cause a census or enumeration of the inhabitants of the several counties and districts of the Territory to be taken, and the first election shall be held at such time and places and be conducted in such manner as the governor shall appoint and direct, and he shall, at the same time, declare the number of members of the council and house of representatives to which each of the counties and districts shall be entitled under this act.

The number of persons authorized to be elected having the highest number of votes, in each of said council districts for members of the council, shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected to the council, and the person or persons authorized to be elected, having the greatest number of votes for the house of representatives, equal to the number to which each county or district shall be entitled, shall also be declared by the governor to be duly elected members of the house of representatives; provided, that in case of a tie between two or more persons voted for, the governor shall order a new election to supply the vacancy made by such tie. And the persons thus elected to the legislative assembly shall meet at such place on such day as the governor shall appoint, but thereafter the time, place and manner of holding and conduction all elections by the people, and the apportioning of the representation in the several counties or districts to the council and house of representatives, according to the population, shall be prescribed by law, as well as the day of the commencement of the regular session of the legislative assembly; provided, that no one session shall exceed the term of sixty days.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That every free white male inhabitant above the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of said Territory at the time of the passage of this act, shall be entitled to vote at the first election, and shall be eligible to any office within the said Territory; but the qualifications of voters and of holding office at all subsequent elections shall be such as shall be prescribed by the legislative assembly; provided, that the right of suffrage and of holding office shall be exercised only by citizens of the United States and those who shall have declared on oath their intention to become such, and shall have taken an oath to support the constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the Territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation, consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act; but no law shall be passed interfering with the primary disposal of the soil; no tax shall be imposed upon the property of the United States; nor shall the lands or other property of non-residents be taxed higher than the lands or other property of residents. All the laws passed by the legislative assembly and the governor shall be submitted to the Congress of the United States, and if disapproved shall be null and of no effect.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That all township, district and county officers, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of Minnesota. The governor shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council, appoint all officers not herein otherwise provided for, and, in the first instance, the governor alone may appoint all said officers, who shall hold their offices until the end of the next session of the legislative assembly.

SEC. 8 And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold or be appointed to any office which shall have been created, or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased, while he was a member, during the term for which he was elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; and no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, except postmasters, shall be a member of the legislative assembly, or shall hold any office under the government of said Territory.

SEC. 9 And be it further enacted, That the judicial power of said Territory shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall hold a term at the seat of government of said Territory annually; and they shall hold their offices during the period of four years. The said Territory shall be divided into three judicial districts, and a district court shall be held in each of said districts by one of the justices of the supreme court, at such time and places as may be prescribed by law; and the said judges shall, after their appointment, respectively, reside in the districts which shall be assigned them. The jurisdiction of the several courts herein provided for, both appellate and original, and that of probate courts and justices of the peace, shall be as limited by law; provided, that the justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any matter in controversy when the title or boundaries of land may be in dispute, or where the debt or sum claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars; and the said supreme and district courts, respectively, shall possess chancery as well as common law jurisdiction. Each district court, or the judges thereof, shall appoint its clerk, who shall also be the register in chancery, and shall keep his office at the place where the court may be held. Writs of error, bills of exception and appeals shall be allowed in all cases from the final decisions of said district courts to the supreme court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, but in no case removed to the supreme court, shall trial by jury be allowed in said court. The supreme court, or the justices thereof, shall appoint its own clerk, and every clerk shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court for which he shall have been appointed. Writs of error and appeals from the final decisions of said supreme court shall be allowed, and may be taken to the supreme court of the United States, in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit courts of the United States, where the value of the property or the amount in controversy, to be ascertained by the oath or affirmation of either party, or other competent witness, shall exceed one thousand dollars; and each of the said district courts shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction, in all cases arising under the constitution and laws of the United States, as is vested in the circuit and district courts of the United States; and the first six days of every term of said courts, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be appropriated to the trial of causes arising under the said constitution and laws; and writs of error and appeal in all such cases shall be made to the supreme court of said Territory, the same as in other cases. The said clerk shall receive in all such cases the same fees which the clerks of the district courts of the late Wisconsin Territory received for similar services.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed an attorney for said Territory, who shall continue in office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, and who shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the late Territory of Wisconsin received. There shall also be a marshal for the Territory appointed, who shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts, when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States; he shall perform the duties, be subject to the same regulations and penalties, and be entitled to the same fees as the marshal of the district court of the United States for the late Territory of Wisconsin; and shall, in addition, be paid two hundred dollars annually as a compensation for extra services.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, chief justice and associate justices, attorney and marshal shall be nominated and by and with the advice and consent of the senate, appointed by the president of the United States. The governor and secretary to be appointed as aforesaid shall, before they act as such, respectively, take an oath or affirmation, before the district judge, or some justice of the peace in the limits of said Territory, duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations by the laws now in force therein, or before the chief justice, or some associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, to support the constitution of the United States, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices, which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person by whom the same shall have been taken, and such certificates shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings; and the chief justice and associate justices, and all other civil officers in said Territory, before they act as such, shall take a like oath or affirmation, before the said governor or secretary, or some judge or justice of the peace of the Territory, who may be duly commissioned and qualified, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted, by the person taking the same, to the secretary, to be by him recorded as aforesaid; and afterwards, the like oath or affirmation shall be taken, certified and recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law. The governor shall receive an annual salary of $1,500 as governor, and $1,000 as superintendent of Indian affairs. The chief justice and associate justice shall each receive an annual salary of $1,800. The secretary shall receive an annual salary of $1,800. The said salaries shall be paid quarter-yearly, at the treasury of the United States. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive three dollars each per day during their attendance at the session thereof, and three dollars each for every twenty miles traveled in going to and returning from the said sessions, estimated according to the nearest usually traveled route. There shall be appropriated, annually, the sum of $1,000, to be expended by the governor to defray the contingent expenses of the Territory; and there shall also be appropriated, annually, a sufficient sum to be expended by the secretary of the territory, and upon an estimate to be made by the secretary of the treasury of the United States, to defray the expenses of the legislative assembly, the printing of the laws, and other incidental expenses, and the secretary of the Territory shall annually account to the secretary of the treasury of the United States for the manner in which the aforesaid sum shall have been expended.

SEC. 12. And be it further enacted, That the inhabitants of the said Territory shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities heretofore granted and secured to the Territory of Wisconsin and to its inhabitants; and the laws in force in the Territory of Wisconsin at the date of the admission of the State of Wisconsin shall continue to be valid and operative therein, so far as the same be not incompatible with the provisions of this act, subject, nevertheless, to be altered, modified or repealed by the governor and legislative assembly of the said Territory of Minnesota; and the laws of the United States are hereby extended over and declared to be in force in said Territory, so far as the same, or any provision thereof, may be applicable.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly of the Territory of Minnesota shall hold its first session in St. Paul; and at said first session the governor and legislative assembly shall locate and establish a temporary seat of government for said Territory, at such place as they may deem eligible; and shall at such time as they shall see proper prescribe by law the manner of locating the permanent seat of government of said Territory by a vote of the people. And the sum of twenty thousand dollars, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, is hereby appropriated and granted to said Territory of Minnesota, to be applied by the governor and legislative assembly to the erection of suitable public buildings at the seat of government.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That a delegate of the house of representatives of the United States, to serve for the term of two years, may be elected by the voters qualified to elect members of the legislative assembly, who shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are exercised and enjoyed by the delegates from the several other territories of the United States to the said house of representatives. The first election shall be held at such times and places and be conducted in such manner as the governor shall appoint and direct; and at all subsequent elections the times, places and manner of holding the elections shall be prescribed by law. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected, and a certificate thereof shall be given accordingly.

SEC. 15. And be it further enacted, That all suits, process and proceedings, civil and criminal, at law or in chancery, and all indictments and informations, which shall be pending and undetermined in the courts of the Territory of Wisconsin, within the limits of said Territory of Minnesota, when this act shall take effect, shall be transferred to be heard, tried, prosecuted and determined in the district courts hereby established, which may include the counties or districts where any such proceedings may be pending. All bonds, recognizances, and obligations of every kind whatsoever, valid under the existing laws, within the limits of said Territory, shall be valid under this act; and all crimes and misdemeanors against the laws, in force within said limits, may be prosecuted, tried, and punished in the courts established by this act; and all penalties, forfeitures, actions and causes of action may be recovered under this act the same as they would have been under the laws in force within the limits composing said Territory at the time this act shall go into operation.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That all justices of the peace, constables, sheriffs, and all other judicial and ministerial officers, who shall be in office within the limits of said Territory, when this act shall take effect, shall be and they are hereby authorized and required to continue to exercise and perform the duties of their respective offices as officers of the Territory of Minnesota, temporarily, and until they or others shall be duly appointed and qualified to fill their places, in the manner herein directed, or until their offices shall be abolished.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That the sum of $5,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by and under the direction of the said governor of the Territory of Minnesota, in the purchase of a library, to be kept at the seat of government for the use of the governor, legislative assembly, judges of the supreme court, secretary, marshal, and attorneys of said Territory, and such other persons and under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 18. And be it further enacted, That when the lands in said Territory shall be surveyed under the direction of the government of the United States, preparatory to bringing the same into market, sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in each township in said Territory shall be and the same are hereby reserved for the purpose of being applied to schools in said Territory, and in the state and territories hereafter to be erected out of the same.

SEC. 19. And be it further enacted, That temporarily, and until otherwise provided by law, the governor of said Territory may define the judicial districts of said Territory, and assign the judges who may be appointed for said Territory to the several districts, and also appoint the times and places for holding courts in the several counties or subdivisions in each of said judicial districts, by proclamation to be issued by him; but the legislative assembly, at their first or any subsequent session, may organize, alter or modify such judicial districts, and assign the judges, and alter the times and places of holding the courts, as to them shall seem proper and convenient.

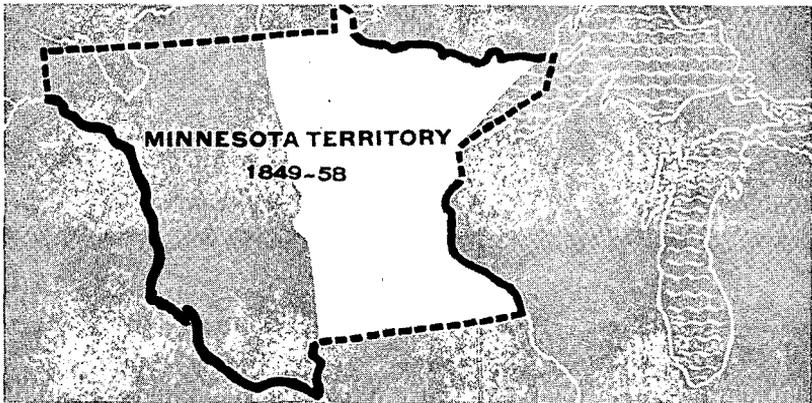

SEC. 20. And be it further enacted, That every bill which shall or may pass the council and house of representatives, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the Territory; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated; which shall cause the objections to be entered at large upon their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall also be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law; but in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house, respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days, (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislative assembly, by adjournment, prevent it, in which case it shall not become a law.

The Enabling Act

Henry M. Rice, delegate to Congress from the Territory of Minnesota, at the opening of Congress in December, 1856, introduced a bill for an act to authorize a state government for Minnesota. The Rice bill proposed that the north, south and east boundaries of Minnesota be continued, and that the west boundary be established as a line beginning at a point in the center of the main channel of the Red River of the North at the Canadian Border and running south through Lake Traverse, through Big Stone Lake, to the Big Sioux River and to the northwest corner of Iowa. In place of the Big Sioux River Congress substituted a line from the outlet of Big Stone Lake due south to the Iowa border.

Considerable controversy had arisen in the territory over proposed boundaries for the State of Minnesota. There were two general groups, the East and West group and the North and South group. The East and West group proposed the Missouri River as the west boundary, and a point just north of St. Paul as the north boundary. The Rice bill followed the proposal of the North and South group.

The bill for an enabling act was not without opposition in Congress. However, Minnesota again found a friend in Senator Stephen A. Douglas who was still chairman of the Senate committee on territories. The Enabling Act passed Congress and was approved on February 27, 1857.

In addition to establishing boundaries for the State of Minnesota, the Enabling Act provided for a constitutional convention and an election of delegates to that convention. It further provided that the following proposals be submitted for the consideration of the constitutional convention: that 72 sections of land be reserved and set aside for a state university; that ten sections be granted to the state to complete and erect public buildings at the capitol; that all salt springs, not exceeding 12, be granted to the state for its use; and that five per centum of net proceeds from the sale by Congress of public lands lying within the State of Minnesota be paid to the state for public road purposes.

The Enabling Act also authorized the State of Minnesota to have one Representative in Congress and such additional Representatives as the population of the state would entitle it to at the current ratio of representation. For the purpose of determining the population the act authorized a census to be taken by the United States marshal for the Territory of Minnesota. The census was completed in October of 1857, population 150,037.

ACT AUTHORIZING A STATE GOVERNMENT

[Passed Feb. 26, 1857]

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the inhabitants of that portion of the Territory of Minnesota which is embraced within the following limits, to-wit: Beginning at the point in the center of the main channel of the Red River of the North, where the boundary line between the United States and the British Possessions crosses the same; thence up the main channel of said river to that of the Bois de Sioux River; thence up the main channel of said river to Lake Traverse; thence up the center of said lake to the southern extremity thereof, thence in a direct line to the head of Big Stone lake; thence through its center to its outlet; thence by a due south line to the north line of the State of Iowa; thence along the northern boundary of said state to the main channel of the Mississippi river; thence up the main channel of said river, and following the boundary line of the State of Wisconsin, until the same intersects with the St. Louis river; thence down the said river to and through Lake Superior, on the boundary line of Wisconsin and Michigan, until it intersects the dividing line between the United States and the British Possessions; thence up Pigeon river and following said dividing line to the place of beginning, be and they hereby are authorized to form for themselves a constitution and state government by the name of the State of Minnesota, and to come into the Union on an equal footing with the original states, according to the Federal Constitution.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the State of Minnesota shall have concurrent jurisdiction on the Mississippi and all other rivers and waters bordering on the said State of Minnesota, so far as the same shall form a common boundary to said state and any state or states now or hereafter to be formed or bounded by the same; and said river or waters leading into the same shall be common highways, and forever free, as well to the inhabitants of said state as to all other citizens of the United States, without any tax, duty, impost, or toll therefor.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That on the first Monday in June next, the legal voters in each representative district then existing within the limits of the proposed state, are hereby authorized to elect two delegates for each representative to which said district shall be entitled according to the apportionment for representatives to the territorial legislature; which election for delegates shall be held and conducted, and the returns made, in all respects in conformity with the laws of said Territory regulating the election of representatives, and the delegates so elected shall assemble at the capitol of said Territory on the second Monday in July next, and first determine by a vote whether it is the wish of the people of the proposed State to be admitted into the Union at that time; and if so, shall proceed to form a constitution, and take all necessary steps for the establishment of a state government, in conformity with the Federal Constitution, subject to the approval and ratification of the people of the proposed State.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That in the event said convention shall decide in favor of the immediate admission of the proposed State into the Union, it shall be the duty of the United States marshal for said Territory to proceed to take a census or enumeration of the inhabitants within the limits of the proposed State, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the secretary of the interior, with the view of ascertaining the number of representatives to which said State may be entitled in the Congress of the United States. And said

State shall be entitled to one representative, and such additional representatives as the population of the State shall, according to the census, show it would be entitled to according to the present ratio of representation.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That the following propositions be and the same are hereby offered to the said convention of the people of Minnesota for their free acceptance or rejection, which, if accepted by the convention, shall be obligatory on the United States, and upon the said State of Minnesota, to-wit:

First—That sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in every township of public lands in said State, and where either of said sections, or any part thereof, has been sold or otherwise been disposed of, other lands, equivalent thereto, and as contiguous as may be, shall be granted to said State for the use of schools.

Second—That seventy-two sections of land shall be set apart and reserved for the use and support of a state university, to be selected by the governor of said State, subject to the approval of the commissioner at the general land office, and to be appropriated and applied in such manner as the legislature of said State may prescribe; for the purpose aforesaid, but for no other purpose.

Third—Ten entire sections of land to be selected by the governor of said State, in legal subdivisions, shall be granted to said State for the purpose of completing the public buildings, or for the erection of others at the seat of government, under the direction of the legislature thereof.

The Minnesota Constitution

The State of Minnesota is unique among constitutional governments in that it doesn't have a constitution—it has two. The circumstances which gave rise to this historical anomaly depict the strong feeling for independent political thinking which has pervaded Minnesota politics since statehood. However, any thought of illegality because of two constitutions should be promptly dismissed, for the two instruments are substantially identical, and all challenges on this issue have been quickly overturned.

The Constitutional Convention

In accordance with the Enabling Act of February 26, 1857, an election was held on June 1, 1857, at which Republican and Democratic delegates were elected to the constitutional convention. When these delegates assembled in St. Paul on July 13, 1857, to draft the Minnesota constitution, bitterness between the two parties was so intense that Republican delegates and Democratic delegates refused to meet in the same convention. As a result each party held separate sessions in different rooms of the first capitol building.

The Democratic "convention" was presided over by Henry H. Sibley, later elected first governor of Minnesota. The Republican "convention" was presided over first by John W. North, and later by St. Andrew D. Balcombe.

The political cleavage was so great that the two bodies never acted in joint meeting during the entire constitutional convention—July 13 to Aug. 29. The final work of writing the constitution was done through a conference committee composed of five conferees from each of the conventions. The conferees, by reporting to and receiving advice from their respective conventions, were able to draft a constitution that would be acceptable to both bodies. On August 28, 1857, in spite of numerous protests by delegates, the report of the conference committee was adopted without amendment by both the Republican and Democratic Conventions.

However, when it came time to sign the constitution, the bitter feeling was still so intense that Democrats would not sign an instrument which bore Republican signatures, and the Republicans likewise objected to signing an instrument which bore the signatures of Democrats. The solution to this impasse is a credit to Minnesota political ingenuity—two constitutions. One constitution was written on white paper and signed only by Republicans. The other constitution was written on blue-tinted paper and signed only by Democrats. Thus, on the twenty-ninth day of August, after seven weeks of political dispute and disagreement, the "two" conventions

Fourth—That all salt springs within said State, not exceeding twelve in number, with six sections of land adjoining or as contiguous as may be to each, shall be granted to said State for its use; and the same to be selected by the governor thereof within one year after the admission of said State, and, when so selected, to be used or disposed of on such terms, conditions and regulations as the legislature shall direct; provided, that no salt spring or land the right whereof is now vested in any individual or in individuals, or which may be hereafter confirmed or adjudged to any individual or individuals, shall by this article be granted to said State.

Fifth—That five per centum of the net proceeds of sales of all public lands lying within said State, which shall be sold by Congress after the admission of said State into the Union, after deducting all the expenses incident to the same, shall be paid to said State for the purpose of making public roads and internal improvements as the legislature shall direct; provided, the foregoing propositions herein offered are on the condition that the said convention which shall form the constitution of said State shall provide, by a clause in said constitution, or an ordinance, irrevocable without the consent of the United States, that said State shall never interfere with the primary disposal of the soil within the same by the United States, or with any regulations Congress may find necessary for securing the title in said soil to bona fide purchasers thereof; and that no tax shall be imposed on land belonging to the United States, and that in no case shall non-resident proprietors be taxed higher than residents.

adjourned when as many members as could bring themselves to do so signed the copy of the constitution enrolled for their particular convention.

Both copies of the constitution are now in the custody of the Minnesota Archives Commission where they are being preserved as evidence of our fundamental law, and as testimony to a unique and exciting political history.

Election to Accept the Constitution

The schedule to the constitution provided for an election to be held on October 13, 1857. At this election the voters were to accept or reject the constitution. The ballots used for this purpose were printed to provide only for affirmative votes. A voter who wished to reject the constitution had to alter his ballot and write in a negative vote. The result—30,055 for acceptance and 571 for rejection.

Approval by Congress

The procedure for acquiring statehood not only requires a constitution to be approved by the voters of the proposed state, the constitution must also be approved by Congress. In December of 1857 the Minnesota constitution was submitted to the United States Senate for ratification.

A certified copy of the Democratic constitution was transmitted to the Senate by the territorial secretary—a Democrat. This copy was attached to the bill for the admission of Minnesota into the union. However, when the bill was reported back from the Senate, historians report that the Republican constitution was attached. In any event, there is substantial authority that both constitutions were before Congress when Minnesota was admitted to the union on May 11, 1858.

But, in reality the constitution ratified by Congress was not the original constitution. At the election of October 13, 1857, in addition to voting on the constitution, the voters elected executive, legislative and judicial officers. The state officers were content to wait for the act of Congress before assuming office. But the legislature took a contrary view. It convened on December 3, 1857, on the theory that under the Enabling Act the statehood of Minnesota began when the voters approved the constitution. Even though this theory was incorrect, the legislature proceeded to enact laws, the effect of which have remaine undisturbed by the courts. The first two acts passed by the legislature were proposed amendments to the constitution. One amendment authorized a loan to railroads of $5,000,000, and the other related to the term of office of the first state officers. These amendments were ratified by the voters at a special election held April 15, 1858. Thus, it would appear that the constitution which Congress approved on May 11, 1858, was an amended constitution—not the original adopted by the constitutional convention and approved by the voters in 1857.

The Minnesota Constitution - 1974

Publication of the Minnesota Constitution in the following form reflects an amendment approved by the legislature and submitted to the voters according to Article IX (see p. 45, this manual).

The legislature in 1971 established a constitutional study commission to review the constitution and make recommendations to maintain its utility.

On November 5, 1974, voters approved an amendment which was recommended by the commission after two years study.

After two years study, the commission recommended that an amendment restructuring the constitution for easy reference and rewriting it in modern language be prepared. The amendment was introduced and passed in both houses, signed by the governor, and approved by the voters on November 5, 1974.

Subsequent amendments which may be voted by Minnesota citizens will be made to this document. The previous wording of the constitution is printed, with all the amendments approved by voters since its adoption in 1857, in the 1974-1975 Legislative Manual, pp. 445-484.

The Amendment approved in 1974 did not alter the meaning of the constitution. In cases of constitutional law, the original document remains the final authority.

The report of the constitutional study commission is available in public libraries and in the Legislative Reference Library (see p. 214, this manual).

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1. Government is instituted for the security, benefit and protection of the people, in whom all political power is inherent, together with the right to alter, modify or reform government whenever required by the public good.

SEC. 2. No member of this state shall be disfranchised or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to any citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land or the judgment of his peers. There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in the state otherwise than as punishment for a crime of which the party has been convicted.

SEC. 3. The liberty of the press shall forever remain inviolate, and all persons may freely speak, write and publish their sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of such right.

SEC. 4. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, and shall extend to all cases at law without regard to the amount in controversy. A jury trial may be waived by the parties in all cases in the manner prescribed by law. The legislature may provide that the agreement of five-sixths of a jury in a civil action or proceeding, after not less than six hours' deliberation, is a sufficient verdict.

SEC. 5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted.

SEC. 6. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which county or district shall have been previously ascertained by law. The accused shall enjoy the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor and to have the assistance of counsel in his defense.

SEC. 7. No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense without due process of law, and no person shall be put twice in jeopardy of punishment for the same offense, nor be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. All persons before conviction shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless the public safety requires it in case of rebellion or invasion.

SEC. 8. Every person is entitled to a certain remedy in the laws for all injuries or wrongs which he may receive to his person, property or character, and to obtain justice freely and without purchase, completely and without denial, promptly and without delay, conformable to the laws.

SEC. 9. Treason against the state consists only in levying war against the state, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act or on confession in open court.

SEC. 10. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized.

SEC. 11. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or any law impairing the obligation of contracts shall be passed, and no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

SEC. 12. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in this state, but this shall not prevent the legislature from providing for imprisonment, or holding to bail, persons charged with fraud in contracting said debt. A reasonable amount of property shall be exempt from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability. The amount of such exemption shall be determined by law. Provided, however, that all property so exempted shall be liable to seizure and sale for any debts incurred to any person for work done or materials furnished in the construction, repair or improvement of the same, and provided further, that such liability to seizure and sale shall also extend to all real property for any debt to any laborer or servant for labor or service performed.

SEC. 13. Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use without just compensation therefor, first paid or secured.

SEC. 14. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power and no standing army shall be maintained in this state in times of peace.

SEC. 15. All lands within the state are allodial and feudal tenures of every description with all their incidents are prohibited. Leases and grants of agricultural lands for a longer period than 21 years reserving rent or service of any kind shall be void.

SEC. 16. The enumeration of rights in this constitution shall not deny or impair others retained by and inherent in the people. The right of every man to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience shall never be infringed; nor shall any man be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any religious or ecclesiastical ministry, against his consent; nor shall any control of or interference with the rights of conscience be permitted, or any preference be given by law to any religious establishment or mode of worship; but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness or justify practices inconsistent with the peace or safety of the state, nor shall any money be drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious societies or religious or theological seminaries.

SEC. 17. No religious test or amount of property shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust in the state. No religious test or amount of property shall be required as a qualification of any voter at any election in this state; nor shall any person be rendered incompetent to give evidence in any court of law or equity in consequence of his opinion upon the subject of religion.

SEC. 2. The state of Minnesota has concurrent jurisdiction on the Mississippi and on all other rivers and waters forming a common boundary with any other state or states. Navigable waters leading into the same, shall be common highways and forever free to citizens of the United States without any tax, duty, impost or toll therefor.

ARTICLE III

SECTION 1. The powers of government shall be divided into three distinct departments: legislative, executive and judicial. No person or persons belonging to or constituting one of these departments shall exercise any of the powers properly belonging to either of the others except in the instances expressly provided in this constitution.

ARTICLE IV

SECTION 1. The legislature consists of the senate and house of representatives.

SEC. 2. The number of members who compose the senate and house of representatives shall be prescribed by law. The representation in both houses shall be apportioned equally through the different sections of the state in proportion to the population thereof.

SEC. 3. At its first session after each enumeration of the inhabitants of this state made by the authority of the United States, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe the bounds of congressional and legislative districts. Senators shall be chosen by single districts of convenient contiguous territory. No representative district shall be divided in the formation of a senate district. The senate districts shall be numbered in a regular series.

SEC. 4. Representatives shall be chosen for a term of two years, except to fill a vacancy. Senators shall be chosen for a term of four years except to fill a vacancy and except there shall be an entire new election of all the senators at the first election of representatives after each new legislative apportionment provided for in this article. The governor shall call elections to fill vacancies in either house of the legislature.

SEC. 5. No senator or representative shall hold any other office under the authority of the United States or the state of Minnesota, except that of postmaster or of notary public. If elected or appointed to another office, a legislator may resign from the legislature by tendering his resignation to the governor.

SEC. 6. Senators and representatives shall be qualified voters of the state, and shall have resided one year in the state and six months immediately preceding the election in the district from which elected. Each house shall be the judge of the election returns and eligibility of its own members. The legislature shall prescribe by law the manner for taking evidence in cases of contested seats in either house.

SEC. 7. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, sit upon its own adjournment, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds expel a member; but no member shall be expelled a second time for the same offense.

SEC. 8. Each member and officer of the legislature before entering upon his duties shall take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, the constitution of this state, and to discharge faithfully the duties of his office to the best of his judgment and ability.

SEC. 9. The compensation of senators and representatives shall be prescribed by law. No increase of compensation shall take effect during the period for which the members of the existing house of representatives may have been elected.

SEC. 10. The members of each house in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during the session of their respective houses and in going to or returning from the same. For any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

SEC. 11. Two or more members of either house may dissent and protest against any act or resolution which they think injurious to the public or to any individual and have the reason of their dissent entered in the journal.

SEC. 12. The legislature shall meet at the seat of government in regular session in each biennium at the times prescribed by law for not exceeding a total of 120 legislative days. The legislature shall not meet in regular session, nor in any adjournment thereof, after the first Monday following the third Saturday in May of any year. After meeting at a time prescribed by law, the legislature may adjourn to another time. "Legislative day" shall be defined by law. A special session of the legislature may be called by the governor on extraordinary occasions.

Neither house during a session of the legislature shall adjourn for more than three days (Sundays excepted) nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be assembled without the consent of the other house.

SEC. 13. A majority of each house constitutes a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members in the manner and under the penalties it may provide.

SEC. 14. Each house shall be open to the public during its sessions except in cases which in its opinion require secrecy.

SEC. 15. Each house shall elect its presiding officer and other officers as may be provided by law. Both houses shall keep journals of their proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, and the yeas and nays when taken on any question, shall be entered in the journals.

SEC. 16. In all elections by the legislature members shall vote viva voce and their votes shall be entered in the journal.

SEC. 17. No law shall embrace more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.

SEC. 18. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives, but the senate may propose and concur with amendments as on other bills.

SEC. 20. Every bill passed by both houses shall be enrolled and signed by the presiding officer of each house. Any presiding officer refusing to sign a bill passed by both houses shall thereafter be disqualified from any office of honor or profit in the state. Each house by rule shall provide the manner in which a bill shall be certified for presentation to the governor in case of such refusal.

SEC. 21. No bill shall be passed by either house upon the day prescribed for adjournment. This section shall not preclude the enrollment of a bill or its transmittal from one house to the other or to the executive for his signature.

SEC. 22. The style of all laws of this state shall be: "Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of Minnesota." No law shall be passed unless voted for by a majority of all the members elected to each house of the legislature, and the vote entered in the journal of each house.

SEC. 23. Every bill passed in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses shall be presented to the governor. If he approves a bill, he shall sign it, deposit it in the office of the secretary of state and notify the house in which it originated of that fact. If he vetoes a bill, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it originated. His objections shall be entered in the journal. If, after reconsideration, two-thirds of that house agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the governor's objections, to the other house, which shall likewise reconsider it. If approved by two-thirds of that house it becomes a law and shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state. In such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered in the journal of each house. Any bill not returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it is presented to him becomes a law as if he had signed it, unless the legislature by adjournment within that time prevents its return. Any bill passed during the last three days of a session may be presented to the governor during the three days following the day of final adjournment and becomes law if the governor signs and deposits it in the office of the secretary of state within 14 days after the adjournment of the legislature. Any bill passed during the last three days of the session which is not signed and deposited within 14 days after adjournment does not become a law.

If a bill presented to the governor contains several items of appropriation of money, he may veto one or more of the items while approving the bill. At the time he signs the bill the governor shall append to it a statement of the items he vetoes and the vetoed items shall not take effect. If the legislature is in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of the statement, and the items vetoed shall be separately reconsidered. If on reconsideration any item is approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, it is a part of the law notwithstanding the objections of the governor.

SEC. 24. Each order, resolution or vote requiring the concurrence of the two houses except such as relate to the business or adjournment of the legislature shall be presented to the governor and is subject to his veto as prescribed in case of a bill.

SEC. 25. During a session each house may punish by imprisonment for not more than 24 hours any person not a member who is guilty of any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence.

In case the governor is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the same devolves on the lieutenant governor. The legislature may provide by law for the case of the removal, death, resignation, or inability both of the governor and lieutenant governor to discharge the duties of governor and may provide by law for continuity of government in periods of emergency resulting from disasters caused by enemy attack in this state, including but not limited to, succession to the powers and duties of public office and change of the seat of government.

the removal of inferior officers for malfeasance or nonfeasance in the performance of their duties.

ARTICLE IX

Proposed amendments shall be published with the laws passed at the same session and submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at a general election. If a majority of all the electors voting at the election vote to ratify an amendment, it becomes a part of this constitution.

If two or more amendments are submitted at the same time voters shall vote for or against each separately.

SEC. 2. Two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the legislature may submit to the electors at the next general election the question of calling a convention to revise this constitution. If a majority of all the electors voting at the election vote for a convention, the legislature at its next session, shall provide by law for calling the convention. The convention shall consist of as many delegates as there are members of the house of representatives. Delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as members of the house of representatives and shall meet within three months after their election. Section 5 of Article IV of the constitution does not apply to election to the convention.

SEC. 3. If three-fifths of all the electors voting on the question vote to ratify the revision, it becomes a new constitution of the state of Minnesota.

ARTICLE X

SECTION 1. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away. Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects and shall be levied and collected for public purposes, but public burying grounds, public school houses, public hospitals, academies, colleges, universities, all seminaries of learning, all churches, church property, houses of worship, institutions of purely public charity, and public property used exclusively for any public purpose, shall be exempt from taxation except as provided in this section. There may be exempted from taxation personal property not exceeding in value $200 for each household, individual or head of a family, and household goods and farm machinery as the legislature determines. The legislature may authorize municipal corporations to levy and collect assessments for local improvements upon property benefited thereby without regard to cash valuation. The legislature by law may define or limit the property exempt under this section other than churches, houses of worship, and property solely used for educational purposes by academies, colleges, universities and seminaries of learning.

SEC. 2. To encourage and promote forestation and reforestation of lands whether owned by private persons or the public, laws may be enacted fixing in advance a definite and limited annual tax on lands for a term of years and imposing a yield tax on the timber and other forest products at or after the end of the term.

SEC. 3. Every person engaged in the business of mining or producing iron ore or other ores in this state shall pay to the state an occupation tax on the valuation of all ores mined or produced, which tax shall be in addition to all other taxes provided by law. The tax is due on the first day of May in the calendar year next following the mining or producing. The valuation of ore for the purpose of determining the amount of tax shall be ascertained as provided by law. Funds derived from the tax shall be used as follows: 50 percent to the state general revenue fund, 40 percent for the support of elementary and secondary schools and ten percent for the general support of the university.

SEC. 4. The state may levy an excise tax upon any means or substance for propelling aircraft or for propelling or operating motor or other vehicles or other equipment used for airport purposes and not used on the public highways of this state.

SEC. 5. The legislature may tax aircraft using the air space overlying the state on a more onerous basis than other personal property. Any such tax on aircraft shall be in lieu of all other taxes. The legislature may impose the tax on aircraft of companies paying taxes under any gross earnings system of taxation notwithstanding that earnings from the aircraft are included in the earnings on which gross earnings taxes are computed. The law may exempt from taxation aircraft owned by a nonresident of the state temporarily using the air space overlying the state.

SEC. 6. Laws of Minnesota 1963, Chapter 81, relating to the taxation of taconite and semi-taconite, and facilities for the mining, production and beneficiation thereof shall not be repealed, modified or amended, nor shall any laws in conflict therewith be valid until November 4, 1989. Laws may be enacted fixing or limiting for a period not extending beyond the year 1990, the tax to be imposed on persons engaged in (1) the mining, production or beneficiation of copper, (2) the mining, production or beneficiation of copper-nickel, or (3) the mining, production or beneficiation of nickel. Taxes imposed on the mining or quarrying of taconite or semi-taconite and on the production of iron ore concentrates therefrom, which are in lieu of a tax on real or personal property, shall not be considered to be occupation, royalty, or excise taxes within the meaning of this amendment.

NOTE: Sec. 7. Repealed by amendment, November 5, 1974.

ARTICLE XI

SECTION 1. No money shall be paid out of the treasury of this state except in pursuance of an appropriation by law.

SEC. 2. The credit of the state shall not be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association or corporation except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 3. The state shall not be a party in carrying on works of internal improvements except as authorized by this constitution. If grants have been made to the state especially dedicated to specific purposes, the state shall devote the proceeds of the grants to those purposes and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from the works in aid of their completion.

SEC. 4. The state may contract public debts for which its full faith, credit and taxing powers may be pledged at the times and in the manner authorized by law, but only for the purposes and subject to the conditions stated in section 5. Public debt includes any obligation payable directly in whole or in part from a tax of state wide application on any class of property, income, transaction or privilege, but does not include any obligation which is payable from revenues other than taxes.

SEC. 5. Public debt may be contracted and works of internal improvements carried on for the following purposes:

(a) to acquire and to better public land and buildings and other public improvements of a capital nature and to provide money to be appropriated or loaned to any agency or political subdivision of the state for such purposes if the law authorizing the debt is adopted by the vote of at least three fifths of the members of each house of the legislature;

(b) to repel invasion or suppress insurrection;

(c) to borrow temporarily as authorized in section 6;

(d) to refund outstanding bonds of the state or any of its agencies whether or not the full faith and credit of the state has been pledged for the payment of the bonds;

(e) to establish and maintain highways subject to the limitations of article XIV;

(f) to promote forestation and prevent and abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improving of wild lands whether public or private;

(g) to construct, improve and operate airports and other air navigation facilities;

(h) to develop the state's agricultural resources by extending credit on real estate security in the manner and on the terms and conditions prescribed by law; and;

(i) as otherwise authorized in this constitution.

As authorized by law political subdivisions may engage in the works permitted by (f) and (g) and contract debt therefor.

SEC. 6. As authorized by law certificates of indebtedness may be issued during a biennium, commencing on July 1 in each odd-numbered year and ending on and including June 30 in the next odd-numbered year, in anticipation of the collection of taxes levied for and other revenues appropriated to any fund of the state for expenditure during that biennium.

No certificates shall be issued in an amount which with interest thereon to maturity, added to the then outstanding certificates against a fund and interest thereon to maturity, will exceed the then unexpended balance of all money which will be credited to that fund during the biennium under existing laws. The maturities of certificates may be extended by refunding to a date not later than December 1 of the first full calendar year following the biennium in which the certificates were issued. If money on hand in any fund is not sufficient to pay all non-refunding certificates of indebtedness issued on a fund during any biennium and all certificates refunding the same, plus interest thereon, which are outstanding on December 1 immediately following the close of the biennium, the state auditor shall levy upon all taxable property in the state a tax collectible in the ensuing year sufficient to pay the same on or before December 1 of the ensuing year with interest to the date or dates of payment.

SEC. 7. Public debt other than certificates of indebtedness authorized in section 6 shall be evidenced by the issuance of bonds of the state. All bonds issued under the provisions of this section shall mature not more than 20 years from their respective dates of issue and each law authorizing the issuance of bonds shall distinctly specify the purposes thereof and the maximum amount of the proceeds authorized to be expended for each purpose. The state treasurer shall maintain a separate and special state bond fund on his official books and records. When the full faith and credit of the state has been pledged for the payment of bonds, the state auditor shall levy each year on all taxable property within the state a tax sufficient with the balance then on hand in the fund to pay all principal and interest on bonds issued under this section due and to become due within the ensuing year and to and including July 1 in the second ensuing year. The legislature by law may appropriate funds from any source to the state bond fund. The amount of money actually received and on hand pursuant to appropriations prior to the levy of the tax in any year shall be used to reduce the amount of tax otherwise required to be levied.

SEC. 8. The permanent school fund of the state consists of (a) the proceeds of lands granted by the United States for the use of schools within each township, (b) the proceeds derived from swamp lands granted to the state, (c) all cash and investments credited to the permanent school fund and to the swamp land fund, and (d) all cash and investments credited to the internal improvement land fund and the lands therein. No portion of these lands shall be sold otherwise than at public sale, and in the manner provided by law. All funds arising from the sale or other disposition of the lands, or income accruing in any way before the sale or disposition thereof, shall be credited to the permanent school fund. Within limitations prescribed by law, to secure the maximum return thereon consistent with the maintenance of the perpetuity of the fund, and with the approval of the board of investment, the fund may be invested in: (1) interest bearing fixed income securities of the United States and of its agencies, fixed income securities guaranteed in full as to payment of principal and interest by the United States, bonds of the state of Minnesota or its political subdivisions or agencies, or of other states, but not more than 50 percent of any issue by a political subdivision shall be purchased; (2) stocks of corporations on which cash dividends have been paid from earnings for five consecutive years or longer immediately prior to purchase, but not more than 20 percent of the fund shall be invested therein at any given time nor more than one percent in stock of any one corporation, nor shall more than five percent of the voting stock of any one corporation be owned; (3) bonds of corporations whose earnings have been at least three times the interest requirements on outstanding bonds for five consecutive years or longer immediately prior to purchase, but not more than 40 percent of the fund shall be invested in corporate bonds at any given time. The percentages referred to above shall be computed using the cost price of the stocks or bonds. The principal of the permanent school fund shall be perpetual and inviolate forever. This does not prevent the sale of any public or private stocks or bonds at less than the cost to the fund; however, all losses not offset by gains shall be repaid to the fund from the interest and dividends earned thereafter. The net interest and dividends arising from the fund shall be distributed to the different school districts of the state in proportion to the number of students in each district between the ages of 5 and 21 years.

A board of investment consisting of the governor, the state auditor, the state treasurer, the secretary of state, and the attorney general is hereby constituted for the purpose of administering and directing the investment of all state funds. The board shall not permit state funds to be used for the underwriting or direct purchase of municipal securities from the issuer or his agent.

SEC. 9. The permanent university fund of this state may be loaned to or invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city or town of this state and in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands of this state, but no such investment or loan shall be made until approved by the board of investment, nor shall a loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 15 percent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city or town issuing the bonds; nor shall any farm loan or investment be made when the investment or loan would exceed 30 percent of the actual cash value of the farm land mortgaged to secure the investment; nor shall investments or loans be made at a lower rate of interest than two percent per annum nor for a shorter period than one year nor for a longer period than 30 years.

SEC. 10. As the legislature may provide, any of the public lands of the state, including lands held in trust for any purpose, may be exchanged for lands of the United States or private held lands with the unanimous approval of the governor, the attorney general and the state auditor. Lands so acquired shall be subject to the trust, if any, to which the lands exchanged therefor were subject. The state shall reserve all mineral and water power rights in lands transferred by the state.

SEC. 11. School and other public lands of the state better adapted for the production of timber than for agriculture may be set apart as state school forests, or other forests as the legislature may provide. The legislature may also provide for their management on forestry principles. The net revenue therefrom shall be used for the purposes for which the lands were granted to the state.

SEC. 12. The legislature shall not authorize any county, township or municipal corporation to become indebted to aid in the construction or equipment of railroads to any amount that exceeds five per cent of the value of the taxable property within that county, township or municipal corporation. The amount of taxable property shall be determined by the last assessment previous to the incurring of the indebtedness.

SEC. 13. All officers and other persons charged with the safekeeping of state funds shall be required to give ample security for funds received by them and to keep an accurate entry of each sum received and of each payment and transfer. If any person converts to his own use in any manner or form, or shall loan, with or without interest, or shall deposit in his own name, or otherwise than in the name of the state of Minnesota; or shall deposit in banks or with any person or persons or exchange for other funds or property, any portion of the funds of the state or the school funds aforesaid, except in the manner prescribed by law, every such act shall be and constitute an embezzlement of so much of the aforesaid state and school funds, or either of the same, as shall thus be taken, or loaned, or deposited or exchanged, and shall be a felony. Any failure to pay over, produce or account for the state school funds, or any part of the same entrusted to such officer or persons as by law required on demand, shall be held and be taken to be prima facie evidence of such embezzlement.

ARTICLE XII

SECTION 1. In all cases when a general law can be made applicable, a special law shall not be enacted except as provided in section 2. Whether a general law could have been made applicable in any case shall be judicially determined without regard to any legislative assertion on that subject. The legislature shall pass no local or special law authorizing the laying out, opening, altering, vacating or maintaining of roads, highways, streets or alleys; remitting fines, penalties or forfeitures; changing the names of persons places, lakes or rivers; authorizing the adoption or legitimation of children; changing the law of descent or succession; conferring rights on minors; declaring any named person of age; giving effect to informal or invalid wills or deeds, or affecting the estates of minors or persons under disability; granting divorces; exempting property from taxation or regulating the rate of interest on money; creating private corporations, or amending, renewing, or extending the charters thereof; granting to any private corporation, association, or individual any special or exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever or authorizing public taxation for a private purpose. The inhibitions of local or special laws in this section shall not prevent the passage of general laws on any of the subjects enumerated.

SEC. 2. Every law which upon its effective date applies to a single local government unit or to a group of such units in a single county or a number of contiguous counties is a special law and shall name the unit or, in the latter case, the counties to which it applies. The legislature may enact special laws relating to local government units, but a special law, unless otherwise provided by general law, shall become effective only after its approval by the affected unit expressed through the voters or the governing body and by such majority as the legislature may direct. Any special law may be modified or superseded by a later home rule charter or amendment applicable to the same local government unit, but this does not prevent the adoption of subsequent laws on the same subject. The legislature may repeal any existing special or local law, but shall not amend, extend or modify any of the same except as provided in this section.

SEC. 3. The legislature may provide by law for the creation, organization, administration, consolidation, division and dissolution of local government units and their functions, for the change of boundaries thereof, for their elective and appointive officers including qualifications for office and for the transfer of county seats. A county boundary may not be changed or county seat transferred until approved in each county affected by a majority of the voters voting on the question.

SEC. 4. Any local government unit when authorized by law may adopt a home rule charter for its government. A charter shall become effective if approved by such majority of the voters of the local government unit as the legislature prescribes by general law. If a charter provides for the consolidation or separation of a city and a county, in whole or in part, it shall not be effective without approval of the voters both in the city and in the remainder of the county by the majority required by law.

SEC. 5. The legislature shall provide by law for charter commissions. Notwithstanding any other constitutional limitations the legislature may require that commission members be freeholders, provide for their appointment by judges of the district court, and permit any member to hold any other elective or appointive office other than judicial. Home rule charter amendments may be proposed by a charter commission or by a petition of five percent of the voters of the local government unit as determined by law and shall not become effective until approved by the voters by the majority required by law. Amendments may be proposed and adopted in any other manner provided by law. A local government unit may repeal its home rule charter and adopt a statutory form of government or a new charter upon the same majority vote as is required by law for the adoption of a charter in the first instance.

ARTICLE XIII

SECTION 1. The stability of a republican form of government depending mainly upon the intelligence of the people, it is the duty of the legislature to establish a general and uniform system of public schools. The legislature shall make such provisions by taxation or otherwise as will secure a thorough and efficient system of public schools throughout the state.

SEC. 2. In no case shall any public money or property be appropriated or used for the support of schools wherein the distinctive doctrines, creeds or tenets of any particular Christian or other religious sect are promulgated or taught.

SEC. 3. All the rights, immunities, franchises and endowments heretofore granted or conferred upon the University of Minnesota are perpetuated unto the university.

SEC. 4. Land may be taken for public way and for the purpose of granting to any corporation the franchise of way for public use. In all cases, however, a fair and equitable compensation shall be paid for land and for the damages arising from taking it. All corporations which are common carriers enjoying the right of way in pursuance of the provisions of this section shall be bound to carry the mineral, agricultural and other productions of manufacturers on equal and reasonable terms.

SEC. 5. The legislature shall not authorize any lottery or the sale of lottery tickets.

SEC. 6. Any combination of persons either as individuals or as members or officers of any corporation to monopolize markets for food products in this state or to interfere with, or restrict the freedom of markets is a criminal conspiracy and shall be punished as the legislature may provide.

SEC. 7. Any person may sell or peddle the products of the farm or garden occupied and cultivated by him without obtaining a license therefor.

SEC. 8. The state may pay an adjusted compensation to persons who served in the armed forces of the United States during the period of the Vietnam conflict. Whenever authorized and in the amounts and on the terms fixed by law, the state may expend monies and pledge the public credit to provide money for the purposes of this section. The duration of the Vietnam conflict may be defined by law.

SEC. 9. The legislature shall pass laws necessary for the organization, discipline and service of the militia of the state.

SEC. 10. The seat of government of the state is in the city of St. Paul. The legislature may provide by law for a change of the seat of government by a vote of the people, or may locate the same upon the land granted by Congress for a seat of government. If the seat of government is changed, the capitol building and grounds shall be dedicated to an institution for the promotion of science, literature and the arts to be organized by the legislature of the state. The Minnesota Historical Society shall always be a department of this institution.

SEC. 11. A seal of the state shall be kept by the secretary of state and be used by him officially. It shall be called the great seal of the state of Minnesota.

ARTICLE XIV

SECTION 1. The state may construct, improve and maintain public highways, may assist political subdivisions in this work and by law may authorize any political subdivision to aid in highway work within its boundaries.

SEC. 2. There is hereby created a trunk highway system which shall be constructed, improved and maintained as public highways by the state. The highways shall extend as nearly as possible along the routes numbers 1 through 70 described in the constitutional amendment adopted November 2, 1920, and the routes described in any act of the legislature which has made or hereafter makes a route a part of the trunk highway system.

The legislature may add by law new routes to the trunk highway system. The trunk highway system may not exceed 12,200 miles in extent, except the legislature may add trunk highways in excess of the mileage limitation as necessary or expedient to take advantage of any federal aid made available by the United States to the state of Minnesota.

Any route added by the legislature to the trunk highway system may be relocated or removed from the system as provided by law. The definite location of trunk highways numbered 1 through 70 may be relocated as provided by law but no relocation shall cause a deviation from the starting points or terminals nor cause any deviation from the various villages and cities through which the routes are to pass under the constitutional amendment adopted November 2, 1920. The location of routes may be determined by boards, officers or tribunals in the manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 3. A county state-aid highway system shall be constructed, improved and maintained by the counties as public highways in the manner provided by law. The system shall include streets in municipalities of less than 5,000 population where necessary to provide an integrated and coordinated highway system and may include similar streets in larger municipalities.

SEC. 4. A municipal state-aid street system shall be constructed, improved and maintained as public highways by municipalities having a population of 5,000 or more in the manner provided by law.

SEC. 5. There is hereby created a highway user tax distribution fund to be used solely for highway purposes as specified in this article. The fund consists of the proceeds of any taxes authorized by sections 9 and 10 of this article. The net proceeds of the taxes shall be apportioned: 62 percent to the trunk highway fund; 29 percent to the county state-aid highway fund; nine percent to the municipal state-aid fund. Five percent of the net proceeds of the highway user tax distribution fund may be set aside and apportioned by law to one or more of the three foregoing funds. The balance of the highway user tax distribution fund shall be transferred to the trunk highway fund, the county state-aid highway fund, and the municipal state-aid street fund in accordance with the percentages set forth in this section. No change in the apportionment of the five percent may be made within six years of the last previous change.

SEC. 6. There is hereby created a trunk highway fund which shall be used solely for the purposes specified in section 2 of this article and the payment of principal and interest of any bonds issued under the authority of section 11 of this article and any bonds issued for trunk highway purposes prior to July 1, 1957. All payments of principal and interest on bonds issued shall be a first charge on money coming into this fund during the year in which the principal or interest is payable.

SEC. 7. There is hereby created a county state-aid highway fund. The county state-aid highway fund shall be apportioned among the counties as provided by law. The funds apportioned shall be used by the counties as provided by law for aid in the construction, improvement and maintenance of county state-aid highways. The legislature may authorize the counties by law to use a part of the funds apportioned to them to aid in the construction, improvement and maintenance of other county highways, township roads, municipal streets and any other public highways, including but not limited to trunk highways and municipal state-aid streets within the respective counties.

SEC. 8. There is hereby created a municipal state-aid street fund to be apportioned as provided by law among municipalities having a population of 5,000 or more. The fund shall be used by municipalities as provided by law for the construction, improvement and maintenance of municipal state-aid streets. The legislature may authorize municipalities to use a part of the fund in the construction, improvement and maintenance of other municipal streets, trunk highways, and county state-aid highways within the counties in which the municipality is located.

SEC. 9. The legislature by law may tax motor vehicles using the public streets and highways on a more onerous basis than other personal property. Any such tax on motor vehicles shall be in lieu of all other taxes thereon, except wheelage taxes imposed by political subdivisions solely for highway purposes. The legislature may impose this tax on motor vehicles of companies paying taxes under the gross earnings system of taxation notwithstanding that earnings from the vehicles may be included in the earnings on which gross earnings taxes are computed. The proceeds of the tax shall be paid into the highway user tax distribution fund. The law may exempt from taxation any motor vehicle owned by a nonresident of the state properly licensed in another state and transiently or temporarily using the streets and highways of the state.

SEC. 10. The legislature may levy an excise tax on any means or substance used for propelling vehicles on the public highways of this state or on the business of selling it. The proceeds of the tax shall be paid into the highway user tax distribution fund.

SEC. 11. The legislature may provide by law for the sale of bonds to carry out the provisions of section 2. Bonds issued and unpaid shall not at any time exceed $150,000,000 par value. The proceeds shall be paid into the trunk highway fund. Any bonds shall mature serially over a term not exceeding 20 years, shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest and shall not bear interest at a greater rate than five percent per annum. If the trunk highway fund is not adequate to pay principal and interest of these bonds when due, the legislature may levy on all taxable property of the state in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency or it may appropriate to the fund money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Congressional Act of Admission

Acceptance by Congress is the final act in the process of being admitted as a state. A bill for the admission of Minnesota into the Union was submitted to Congress in December of 1857.

The bill for admission encountered several obstacles. The Minnesota bill was coupled with the bill for the admission of Kansas. It was customary to admit states in pairs—a state which permitted slavery would be linked with a state which prohibited slavery. This served to preserve the balance of power in Congress. Minnesota was to be a free state, Kansas a slave state. The proposal to admit Kansas as a slave state was being made under its fraudulent Lecompton constitution. The fraud in the adoption of the Kansas constitution was so glaring that admission under it was abandoned. This delayed the Minnesota bill for several months. Minnesota's bill also met with general opposition from congressmen from southern slave states.

On May 11, 1858, the bill for the admission of Minnesota was passed by Congress and approved by President James Buchanan. However, word of its passage did not reach St. Paul until almost two weeks later. Minnesota had no telegraph lines or railroads, so a telegram was sent to Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, and carried up the Mississippi River to St. Paul by steambot. On May 24, 1858, the state officers took their oaths of office and Minnesota's state government began to function.

This ended the long trek toward statehood, which had seen the area of the state of Minnesota under four nations—France, Spain, Great Britain and the United States, and under nine territories—Northwest, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Louisiana, Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota.

ACT OF ADMISSION INTO THE UNION

An Act for the Admission of Minnesota into the Union
[Passed May 11, 1858]

WHEREAS, An act of Congress was passed February twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, entitled "An Act to authorize the people of the Territory of Minnesota to form a constitution and state government preparatory to their admission into the Union on an equal footing with the original states"; and, whereas, the people of said Territory did, on the twenty-ninth day of August, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, by delegates elected for that purpose, form for themselves a constitution and state government, which is republican in form, and was ratified and adopted by the people at an election held on the thirteenth day of October, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, for that purpose; therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the State of Minnesota shall be one, and is hereby declared to be one, of the United States of America, and admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states in all respects whatever.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That said State shall be entitled to two representatives in Congress, until the next apportionment of representatives among the several states.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That from and after the admission of the State of Minnesota, as hereinbefore provided, all the laws of the United States which are not locally inapplicable shall have the same force and effect within that State as in other States of the Union; and the said State is hereby constituted a judicial district of the United States, within which a district court, with like powers and jurisdiction as the district court of the United States for the district of Iowa, shall be established; the judge, attorney and marshal of the United States of the said district of Minnesota shall reside within the same, and shall be entitled to the same compensation as the judge, attorney and marshal of the district of Iowa; and in all cases of appeal or writ of error heretofore prosecuted and now pending in the supreme court of the United States, upon any record from the supreme court of Minnesota Territory, the mandate of execution or order of further proceedings shall be directed by the supreme court of the United States to the district court of the United States for the district of Minnesota, or to the supreme court of the State of Minnesota, as the nature of such appeal or writ of error may require; and each of those courts shall be the successor of the supreme court of Minnesota Territory, as to all such cases, with full power to hear and determine the same, and to award mesne or final process therein.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Preamble. We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and a house of representatives.

SEC. 2. The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every 30,000, but each state shall have at least one representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose 3; Massachusetts, 8; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 1; Connecticut, 5; New York, 6; New Jersey, 4; Pennsylvania, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 6; Virginia, 10; North Carolina, 5; South Carolina, 5; Georgia, 3.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any state the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

*SEC. 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided, as equally as may be, into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year; and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year. *When vacancies happen in the representation of any state in the Senate, the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen.

The vice president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

The senate shall choose their own officers, and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the vice president, or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

*Amendments ratified 1913. See Amendment No. 17.

The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments.

When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment according to law.

SEC. 4. The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meetings shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall, by law, appoint a different day.

SEC. 5. Each house shall be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same; excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 6. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SEC. 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives, but the senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and, if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return; in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the president of the United States, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be re-passed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SEC. 8. The Congress shall have power: To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excise, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform through the United States;

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses, against the laws of nations;

To provide and maintain a navy;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the states, respectively, the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of the government of the United States; and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock yards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SEC. 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the states now existing shall think proper to admit shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight; but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when, in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder, or ex post facto law, shall be passed.

No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.

No preference shall be given, by any regulation of commerce or revenue, to the ports of one state over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to or from one state be obliged to enter, clear or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States, and no person holding any office of profit and trust under them shall without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign state.

SEC. 10. No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money, emit bills of credit, make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts laid by any state on imports or exports shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the vice president, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the Congress but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

[The electors shall meet in their respective states, and by vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates; and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be appointed, if such a number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the house of representatives shall immediately choose, by ballot, one of them for president; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said house shall, in like manner, choose the president. But in choosing the president the vote shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case after the choice of the president, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the vice president. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the senate shall choose from them, by ballot, the vice president.]*

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of president; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president; and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed, or a president shall be elected.

The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected; and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the execution of his office he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur, and he shall nominate and by and with the advice and consent of the senate shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, judges of the supreme court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

A total of 120 session days may be used for each biennium (two year session) as 201 legislators examine public policy and the laws which establish a measure of the quality of life in the North Star State. Citizens participate in discussions during the session and in the interim months of recess between the odd year session and the even year session as each house maintains an active calendar of hearings and meetings.

Constitution provides: to be elected a member of the State Senate or House of Representatives, a person must be a qualified voter, 21 years old, a resident of Minnesota for one year, and a resident of the legislative district for six months immediately preceding the election. (Article IV)

Terms: State Senator — 4 years; State Representative — 2 years

Compensation: $8400 annually; round trips between home and state capital; per diem allowance for living expenses during sessions.*

Membership and apportionment:

In an attempt to meet the constitutional responsibility to reapportion the legislature after the 1970 federal census, the legislature passed a reapportionment plan on October 29, 1971, and adjourned sine die on October 30. The governor vetoed the bill on November 1, 1971.

On December 3, 1971, a three judge federal panel submitted a plan which reduced the size of the legislature to 35 senators and 105 representatives.

The Minnesota Senate filed an appeal of the U.S. District Court decision on January 25, 1972. The appeal was upheld on the grounds that the three judge panel had no right to reduce the size of the legislature. The U.S. Supreme Court then ordered the three judge panel to produce a new plan which would not reduce the size. This plan was adopted June 2, 1972 and reapportioned the legislature into its present membership: 67 senators and 134 representatives.

* beginning January, 1979, $16,500 annually; beginning January, 1980, $18,500 annually (Chapter 35, Laws of 1977).

Senate Minority Leader Robert Ashbach and House Minority Leader Henry Savelkoul confer on a bill.

Organization:

Members of the House of Representatives for the first time were nominated and elected with party designation in 1974, ending 60 years of nonpartisan tradition; Senators were similarly elected in 1976. State legislators affiliated with either the Democratic-Farmer-Labor (DFL) or the Independent-Republican (IR) caucus.

The DFL caucus organized both houses of the legislature during the 1975 session. Their margin was 38 to 28 (with one Independent) in the Senate; 103 to 31 in the House of Representatives. In 1977 the DFL House margin was 103 to 31; the DFL Senate margin was 49 to 18.

Presiding officers:

The Senate elects its President from among its ranks. The President presides over the Senate and shares with the Speaker the chairmanship of the Legislative Coordinating Commission.

The Speaker of the House is both a voting member of the House of Representatives and the presiding officer. The Speaker also presides over joint sessions of the House and Senate.

In 1977 the Senate elected Senator Edward Gearty President after Senator Alec G. Olson became lieutenant governor. Representative Martin O. Sabo was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives for the third successive biennium.

Each house elects staff members. The Secretary of the Senate, Patrick E. Flahaven, and the Chief Clerk of the House, Edward A. Burdick, are the highest ranking staff officers in each body.

Senate Majority Leader Nicholas Coleman discusses options on a legislative proposal on the floor of the Senate.

Committees:

The Speaker appoints members of the House to committees and names committee chairmen. Nominated by the majority caucus, the Speaker works closely with the House majority and becomes a leading spokesman for caucus policies.

In the Senate, the chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration, normally the leader of the majority group, has similar power. The Senate Committee on Committees names the committee members and chairmen.

The committee system is a vital component of the legislative machinery. The volume of legislation pending before a single session is too great to permit all legislators to work closely with all proposals. It is at the committee level that the public may testify for or against a bill. Both proponents and opponents of proposed legislation are heard before committees make their recommendation to the full legislature.

The fate of any legislative proposal may be decided by a committee. After study, hearings, research and deliberation, a bill may be amended, recommended for passage, re-referred to another committee, or it may be tabled.

The number of committees in each house and the number of members serving on each committee varies from session to session as state concerns and problems dictate.

During the 1977 session the Senate had 15 standing committees and the House 16.

In addition to the standing committees which operate during each session, some committees continue to study specific problems during the legislative interim to report findings to the next legislative session.

Each legislative body has a Rules Committee which directs the operating procedures of the legislature. The rules adopted in 1977 by the two houses, their joint rules, Minnesota Statutes, and the state constitution provide the guidelines under which legislative business is conducted. (see p. 219 to 237, this manual)

Regular sessions:

The Minnesota legislature convenes in regular session each odd-numbered year on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January. The 1972 flexible session amendment to Article IV of the Constitution authorized the legislature to meet in regular session in both years of the biennium, for a total of 120 legislative days, providing that the legislature cannot meet after the first Monday following the third Saturday in May of any year.

The temporary adjournment between the session of the first year and the second year of the biennium is not a final adjournment, as the biennial session is considered as one continuous session. For this reason the journal pages of both houses are numbered consecutively through both years and bills are numbered consecutively in order of introduction through both years.

Three test cases were brought in District Court for declaratory judgements to determine whether three bills passed on the last day of session in 1973 were valid enactments of law by the legislature. The District Court ruled and the Supreme Court affirmed, the 1973 Minnesota legislative session and the 1974 session are technically one session separated by a temporary adjournment.

Bills which have not become law or been defeated by legislative action or vetoed by the end of the first half of the session are still available for possible action in the second half of the session. This means standing committees may hear such bills in the interim recess and make recommendations on their passage.

Convening the Legislature:

On the first day of a regular session both houses of the legislature convene at noon. The lieutenant governor, having already taken the oath of office, calls the Senate to order. The House of Representatives is called to order by the secretary of state who presides over that body as its convening authority until a Speaker is elected and has taken the oath of office.

After convening, the oath of office is administered to all members of each house.

President of the Senate Edward Gearty and Senator Roger Laufenberger shake hands in opening day ceremonies.

Special sessions:

The legislature may be called into special session at any time by the governor. Special sessions become necessary when legislative action is needed to meet emergencies or when legislative work is unfinished at the end of a regular session. The governor is the only official empowered to call a special session. The governor does not have the power to limit the length or scope of the session.

Functions and powers:

The principal legal task of the legislature is to make law by which public policy is established. Legislative activity affects a wide range of state programs and resources including agriculture, conservation, crime prevention, contracts, education, economic development, consumer protection, elections, environment, finance, forestry, health, highways, human rights, insurance, labor relations, natural resources, property, pollution control, recreation, safety, taxation, transportation, utilities, unemployment compensation, veteran's affairs, workmen's compensation and many other matters that may necessitate state action.

Additional legislative functions include proposing amendments to the state constitution for approval by the electorate, electing regents of the University of Minnesota, confirming certain gubernatorial appointments (Senate), and performing legislative oversight or review.

The legislature also possesses a judicial function. It judges the election and qualifications of its members, may punish or expel members for contempt or disorderly behavior, and may impeach or remove from office members of the executive and judicial branches. None of these has occurred in recent history.

Representatives Linda Scheid and Ann Wynia consider citizen testimony at a committee meeting.

“The style of all laws of this state shall be: ‘Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of Minnesota.’”

— Minnesota Constitution,
Article IV, Section 22

How are laws passed?

All revenue (tax measures) must originate in the House. All other matters may originate in either the House or the Senate.

How long does it take to pass a bill?

There is no stated time schedule; speed is often related directly to the legislative support a proposal gathers.

.. In 1971, the legislature ratified the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution lowering the voting age to 18 in a time shorter than one committee hearing on a more controversial matter.

.. The Campaign Finance Reform legislation required all of the 1973 and 1974 halves of the session for its hearings, debates, and final passage.

What is the public’s role in passing laws?

Committee meetings are open to the public, and anyone wishing to speak for or against proposals being considered is given a chance to be heard.

Where can the public get copies of bills?

The House and Senate index offices in the capitol keep a file of bills by number, and anyone may visit these offices to request and receive a copy of a bill without charge.

More questions about how bills become laws?

On pages 200 and 201 of this manual there is a step-by-step explanation of the proceedings from bill to law.

A Bill for an Act. . . .

. . . is an idea for a new law or an idea to change or abolish an existing law. Ideas follow ten steps on their way to become Minnesota laws:

1. The idea

Anyone can propose an idea for a bill — an individual, a consumer group, corporation, professional association, a governmental unit, the governor — but most frequently ideas come from members of the legislature.

2. The chief author

Each bill must have a legislator to introduce it in the legislature as chief author. The chief author's name appears on the bill with the bill's file number as identification while it moves through the legislative process.

3. Other authors

The chief author of a bill, under legislative rules, may select other authors, but no more than a total of five in the House and three in the Senate. These authors' names also appear on the bill.

4. The revisor of statutes

The revisor puts the idea into the proper legal form as a bill for introduction into the House of Representatives or the Senate, usually both. The revisor also updates Minnesota Statutes to include all new laws after the legislative session.

5. Introduction

When introduced in the House of Representatives, a bill receives a House File number (H.F. 2312, for example); in the Senate, a Senate File number (S.F. 503, for example). These numbers indicate the bill's chronological order of introduction in each body.

6. Committee consideration

Next the bill has its first reading (the Minnesota constitution requires three readings for all bills — on three separate days), and the presiding officer of the House or Senate refers it to an appropriate standing committee.

All committee meetings are open to the public. A committee may,

- recommend passage of a bill in its original form.
- recommend passage after amendment by the committee.
- make no recommendation, in which case a bill may die when the session ends.
- refer a bill to another committee (one requiring funds to the appropriation or finance committee, for example.)

After acting on a bill, the committee sends a report to the House or Senate, stating its actions and recommendations.

7. General Orders

After adoption of the committee report in the House and Senate, the bill has its second reading and goes onto General Orders of the Day. In Committee of the Whole legislators discuss bills on General Orders; they may debate the issues, adopt amendments, present arguments on the bills, and they may vote to recommend:

- that a bill “do pass”
- that a bill not pass
- postponement
- further committee action

8. The calendar

The calendar is a list of bills the Committee of the Whole recommends to pass. At this point

- a bill has its third reading.
- amendments to the bill must have the unanimous consent of the entire body.
- legislators vote on it for the final time.

By committee recommendation, bills of a non-controversial nature can by-pass General Orders and go directly onto a “consent calendar,” usually passing without debate.

Every bill requires a majority vote of the full membership of the House and Senate to pass.

Voice votes may be used in House and Senate votes until the bill is being voted on in final passage. That final vote and vote on any amendments are roll call or recorded votes.

9. Conference committee

When the House and the Senate both pass the same version of a bill, that bill goes to the governor for his approval or disapproval. If the House and Senate do not agree, a conference committee, made up of three to five senators, and an equal number of representatives, meets to reach an agreement. If both bodies then pass the bill in compromise form, it goes to the governor.

A humorous comment brings a light moment to the floor debate in the House of Representatives.

10. The governor

When a bill arrives, the governor may:

- sign it and the bill becomes law.
- veto it (return it with a “veto message” stating objections) to the body where it originated.
- pocket veto the bill (after final adjournment of the legislature)
- exercise the right to line veto portions of appropriations bills

If the governor does not sign or veto a bill within three days after receiving it, while the legislature is in session, the bill becomes a law.

The most favorable action a committee can take on a bill is to send it to the floor of a legislative body with a recommendation that the bill be passed. Other action by the committee will likely mean its future is in doubt.

A committee report is subject to approval by the full House or Senate. A report recommending passage of a bill from a committee is normally accepted by the legislative body. Rejecting this report would make it difficult for the bill to be revived.

Each house may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole to consider bills reported to the house by standing committees.

While sitting as the Committee of the Whole legislators are given an opportunity to become more familiar with various proposals and to take preliminary action before the measure comes before the body for final passage.

The number of bills introduced each session makes it impossible for committees to consider all proposals. Many subcommittees are established to study controversial or complicated bills and to study a subject on which several bills have been introduced. Subcommittees report their findings to the whole committee. For information about subcommittees, call Senate or House information, p. 58, this manual.

The Calendar shall be printed and placed upon the members' desks at least one calendar day before the matters on it are considered.

CONSENT CALENDAR

9. If a committee determines that a bill it recommends to pass is of a routine nature or otherwise of a nature which likely will not be opposed, it may in its report recommend that the bill be placed on the Consent Calendar. If the report is adopted, the bill shall be printed and placed on the Consent Calendar after its second reading. On the question of adoption of the report the question of accepting the recommendation that the bill be placed on the Consent Calendar may be divided from the question of adopting the report in other respects.

A majority of the whole Senate may order a bill on General Orders to be placed on the Consent Calendar.

The Consent Calendar consists of bills placed on it. Senate bills shall be positioned ahead of House bills. The Consent Calendar shall be printed and placed on the members' desks at least one calendar day before the matters on it are considered.

If a member objects to consideration of a bill on the Consent Calendar at any time during its consideration in the Senate before the question on final passage is put, and that objection is supported by at least two other members, the bill shall be referred to the Subcommittee on Bill Scheduling of the Committee on Rules and Administration.

SPECIAL ORDER

10. The Chairman of the Subcommittee on Bill Scheduling of the Committee on Rules and Administration, as authorized by the subcommittee, may designate a special order for a bill that has been given its second reading.

A special order shall provide that the bill be considered immediately, at a time certain, or after specific other business is completed.

During consideration of a special order, Rule 20 is suspended. As nearly as applicable, debate on the bill and all proceedings including amendments and substitutions shall be that of the Committee of the Whole.

12. When a motion is made it shall be stated by the President. If it is in writing it shall be handed to the Secretary and read to the members.

13. A motion or amendment shall be written if the President or a member requests. In that case it must be signed by the member or committee offering it.

14. After a motion is stated by the President, or read by the Secretary, it is in possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn by the author at any time before decision or amendment.

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

15. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received, except:

1. To adjourn.
2. To recess.

(Motions numbered 1,2,4 and 5 above shall be decided without debate.)

8. To amend.
9. To postpone indefinitely.

These several motions have precedence in the foregoing order; but when a motion for the previous question has been seconded, or the main question ordered, a motion to lay on the table is not in order.

A motion to postpone to a day certain, to refer, to postpone indefinitely, or to amend, having been decided, shall not again be put on the same day, nor at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

16. A motion to adjourn is always in order, and also a motion to adjourn to a time certain. The latter motion is debatable solely as to the time. When either motion is rejected it shall not be renewed until further business has been transacted.

17. Every proposition to amend a rule of the Senate shall be referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration. The proposition shall not be acted upon until the report of the committee is received by the Senate. A rule shall not be suspended except by at least two-thirds vote of the whole Senate. A motion to suspend the rules for the purpose of advancing a bill shall be made only under the order of business, "Motions and Resolutions."

ORDER IN DEBATE

18. When a member is about to speak in debate, or deliver a matter to the Senate, the member shall rise and respectfully address "Mr. President". The member shall not proceed to speak further until recognized by the President. The member shall speak only to the question under debate and avoid personality. In discussing a resolution, Senators are limited to ten minutes each.

19. When a member is called to order, he shall be silent until it is determined whether or not he is in order. If a member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the words excepted to shall be taken down in writing by the Secretary immediately.

20. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question on the same day without leave of the Senate.

COMMITTEES NOT TO BE ABSENT

SENATORS TO VOTE UNLESS EXCUSED

A motion by a member to be excused from voting shall be made before the question is put. A member wishing to be excused from voting may make a brief statement of the reason for making the request and the question on the motion shall be taken without further debate.

When members have had an opportunity to vote and fail to do so, a majority of all the members of the Senate may, by motion, direct the President to close the roll. The vote on a motion to close the debate shall be taken without debate and no member is required to vote on the motion.

CALL OF THE SENATE

23. A member may impose a call of the Senate requiring the attendance of all members before any further proceedings occur except a motion to adjourn. Upon the imposition of a call, a record of those present shall be obtained and the Sergeant-at-arms instructed to bring in the absent members. When the Senate has been placed under call, the doors shall be closed and no member permitted to leave the Chamber until the matter or question, if any, under consideration at the time of the call is disposed of, or until the call is lifted by a majority vote of all the members of the Senate, or until the Senate adjourns. A majority vote of all the members of the Senate may excuse from attendance absent members not answering the call.

A call cannot be made after voting has commenced.

ANY SENATOR MAY DEMAND AYES AND NAYS

26. At any time prior to the start of voting on a question, a member may call for the ayes and nays which shall be entered in the Journal. A call for the ayes and nays cannot be interrupted except as provided in Rule No. 22.

27. Unless otherwise ordered, a vote, except upon elections and upon the overriding of a Governor's veto, may be taken by means of the electrical voting system which is under the control of the President.

CERTIFICATE FOR MONEY

28. No certificate authorizing the payment of money appropriated by the Legislature shall be issued by the Secretary, by virtue of a motion or resolution unless the motion or resolution is voted for by a majority of all members of the Senate. All motions or resolutions authorizing the issuing of certificates by the Secretary for the Payment of money shall be upon a call of the ayes and nays.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

29. Unless the motion for the previous question is made specifically applicable to a subsidiary motion, the previous question shall be in this form:

"Shall the main question now be put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect is to put an end to all debate, and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon amendments reported by a committee, if any, then upon all pending amendments in their order and then upon the main question.

On a motion for the previous question a call of the Senate is in order before the President submits the question to the Senate.

On a previous question there is no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending the motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

DIVISION OF QUESTION

30. A member may call for a division of the question when the question will admit of it. A motion to strike out and insert is indivisible. A motion to strike out being lost does not preclude an amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

RECONSIDERATION

31. When a motion or question has been once put and carried in the affirmative or negative, it is in order for a member who voted with the prevailing side to move for reconsideration on the same day on which the vote was taken or within the next two calendar days or, if later, the first day the Senate meets after the vote was taken. The motion takes precedence over all other questions except a motion to adjourn or recess. When a motion to adjourn is adopted prior to the disposition of the motion for reconsideration, a motion for reconsideration shall lie over until the next succeeding day the Senate meets except as provided in this rule. When notice of intention to move reconsideration of the final action of the Senate on a question is given by a member, the Secretary shall retain the subject of the notice until after the expiration of the time during which the motion can be made.

During the six calendar days before the first Tuesday following the third Saturday in May of any year a notice of intention to move for reconsideration is not in order, but a motion to reconsider may be made and have priority over all other business except a motion to adjourn. A motion for reconsideration having been once voted on shall not be put again nor reconsidered.

32. Bills, memorials, concurrent or joint resolutions may be introduced by a member or by order of the Senate on a report of a committee. An original and three copies are required for introduction. The number of authors shall not exceed five. The first report, called the first reading, is made when it has been received for introduction the second report, called the second reading, is made when it has been considered by all the necessary standing committees and is ready for debate; the third report, called the third reading, is made when it is ready for final passage.

REFERRING OF BILLS

35. All bills shall be referred by the President without motion to the proper standing committee unless otherwise referred by the Senate. A bill introduced by a committee need not be referred to a standing committee unless a question arises but rather shall lie over one day before being given its second reading. When a question arises concerning the proper reference of a bill during the order of business of first reading on the day of introduction or at the time of report on it by a standing committee to which the bill was previously referred, the bill shall be referred without debate to the Committee on Rules and Administration to report the proper reference, and upon adoption of the report, it shall be referred accordingly.

All bills appropriating money, or obligating the state to pay or expend money, or establishing a policy which to be effective will require expenditure of money, when referred to and reported by any other than the Committee on Finance, shall, before passage, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

36. No bill or resolution shall be referred to committee or amended until it has been given its first reading. No bill or resolution shall be objected to on its introduction.

AMENDMENTS TO BE GERMANE

37. An amendment proposed to the Senate or to the Committee of the Whole that is not germane is out of order. A non-germane amendment includes one that relates to a substantially different subject, or is intended to accomplish a substantially different purpose than that of the original bill to which it is proposed. Whether an amendment is germane is a question to be decided by the President, who may put the question to the body if he chooses.

AMENDMENTS TO BILLS

38. In drawing an amendment to a bill or resolution reference shall be made therein, first to the number of the bill, then to the page, and then to the line or lines from which matter is to be stricken or in which new matter is to be inserted.

DISTRIBUTION AND PRINTING OF BILLS

41. To the extent practical the Secretary shall provide a copy of any bill to the public. He may charge a reasonable fee.

Unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, all Senate bills which have been reported upon favorably or without recommendation by a committee shall be printed prior to consideration by the Senate or the Committee of the Whole. A bill may be printed by order of the Secretary when amended after second reading. A bill shall be printed when ordered by a majority vote of the Senate. Action by the Senate on a bill which has not been printed is a waiver of the printing requirement.

BILL SCHEDULING

42. All bills, memorials, orders, resolutions and votes requiring the approval of the Governor shall, after a second reading, be referred to the Subcommittee on Bill Scheduling of the Committee on Rules and Administration, except as provided for in Rule 9. All matters reported out by the subcommittee shall be placed on General Orders in the order designated by the subcommittee and shall be considered in Committee of the Whole before they are finally acted upon by the Senate, except as provided for in Rules 9 and 10.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

43. The President may call a member to the Chair when the Senate resolves itself into the Committee of the Whole. The rules observed in the Senate govern, as far as practicable, the proceedings of the Committee of the Whole, and the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole has the powers of the President, as appropriate. However, a member may speak more than twice on the same subject and a call for the previous question cannot be made. The ayes and nays shall be taken only upon the request of three members, and when taken shall be recorded in the Journal along with the amendment; provided, however, that a member may, with the approval of the Chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration, submit a description of the amendment for printing. In those cases the Secretary shall retain in the minutes of the Committee of the Whole the full text of the amendment.

44. The recommendations of the Committee of the Whole shall be reported to the Senate. If a recommendation contains a proposed amendment of a bill, that amendment shall be noted on a separate piece of paper but when reported need not be read by the President unless required by one or more of the members. The question is on the adoption or rejection of the report, and no other question shall be admitted. The question may be divided to permit separate Senate action on the report as to any bill. On adoption of the report of the Committee of the Whole all bills recommended to pass shall be placed upon the Calendar.

AMENDMENT ON THIRD READING

45. Except as provided for in Rule 39 and to fill blanks, no amendment is in order on third reading without the unanimous consent of the Senate. In filling blanks, the largest sum, the longest time and the greatest distance shall be first taken.

MOTION TO REFER

46. A bill or resolution may be referred to committee at any time prior to its passage, and if an amendment is reported on the referral to any other than a Committee of the Whole, it shall again be read the second time, referred to the Subcommittee on Bill Scheduling of the Committee on Rules and Administration, considered in Committee of the Whole, read the third time and placed on final passage. If the referral is to the Committee of the Whole it shall be placed at the head of General Orders, except when the referral is under Rule 9.

FINAL PASSAGE

47. The final question upon a bill or other matter requiring action by both Houses after its first and second reading, and after the consideration in Committee of the Whole, is upon its final passage.

TRANSMITTING OF BILLS TO THE HOUSE

48. Except as provided in Rule 31, immediately after the passage of a bill or other matter in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested, the Secretary shall transmit it to the House. On the concurrence of a bill or other matter of the House by the Senate, or on the concurrence or disagreement in a vote of the House, the Secretary shall notify the House.

COMPARISON AND SUBSTITUTION OF BILLS

49. Unless there is a motion or objection, a House bill, after its first reading, shall be referred as follows:

- (a) If there is not Senate companion bill, the House bill shall be referred to the appropriate standing committee;
- (b) If there is a Senate companion bill, the House bill shall be referred to the standing committee possessing the Senate companion;
- (c) If the Senate companion bill has been reported to the Senate, the House bill shall be referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration, which shall report whether the House bill is identical to the Senate companion bill. If the bills are identical, the report shall recommend that the House bill be given its second reading and substituted for the Senate companion bill and the Senate companion bill be indefinitely postponed. If the House bill is not identical to the Senate companion bill, the report of the committee shall so state and recommend an amendment to the House bill that when adopted will render the House bill identical to the Senate bill. Upon adoption of a committee report containing the proposed amendment, the House bill as amended shall be given its second reading and substituted for the Senate companion bill and the Senate companion bill shall be indefinitely postponed.

Reports of the Committee on Rules and Administration pursuant to this rule shall be prepared and submitted on behalf of the committee by the Secretary.

A House bill placed on the Calendar by substitution shall not be given its third reading on the same day as the substitution.

ENGROSSING AND ENROLLING OF BILLS

50. All engrossing and enrolling of bills shall be done at the direction and under authority of the Senate.

Every bill, memorial, order or resolution originating in the Senate shall be carefully engrossed before being transmitted to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

DISPOSITION OF BILLS ON ADJOURNMENT

51. Adjournment of the regular session in an odd-numbered year to a date certain in the following year shall be equivalent to daily adjournment, except that a bill on the Calendar, Consent Calendar, or General Orders shall be returned to the standing committee other than the Committee on Rules and Administration from which it was last reported to the Senate, unless otherwise provided for by motion prior to adjournment. Bills returned to committee pursuant to this rule shall, upon request of the author, be given priority for consideration by the committee ahead of all other bills in the order in which they appeared on the Calendar, Consent Calendar, or General Orders.

PETITIONS AND OTHER COMMUNICATIONS

52. In presenting a petition, memorial, remonstrance or other communication addressed to the Senate, a member shall only state the general purpose of it.

Every petition, memorial, remonstrance, resolution, bill and report of committee, shall have an appropriate title, and the name of the member presenting it written on it.

RESOLUTIONS

53. Memorial resolutions addressed to the President or the Congress of the United States, or a house or member of Congress, or a department or officer of the United States, or a state or foreign government, and resolutions requiring the signature of the Governor shall follow the same procedure as bills before being adopted.

Upon a member giving notice of intention to debate a resolution not requiring the signature of the Governor and not offered by the Committee on Rules and Administration, the resolution shall lie over one calendar day without debate or other action. Upon the request of a Senator, the resolution shall be referred to the proper committee. Whenever a question arises concerning the proper reference the procedure provided by Rule 35 applies.

CONFIRMATIONS

54. Every gubernatorial appointment requiring the advice and consent of the Senate shall be referred by the President to the appropriate committee. If a question arises as to the proper committee, the appointment shall be referred without debate to the Committee on Rules and Administration for a report making the proper reference.

The final question on the appointment is, "Will the Senate, having given its advice, now consent to this appointment?" The question shall not be put the same day the appointment is received nor on the day it is reported by committee unless by unanimous consent.

The minority group shall transmit notice of its assignments to the majority group within ten calendar days after receipt of the notice of positions available. If the minority group for any reason fails to make its appointments pursuant to this rule, the majority group may make all the committee assignments.

The majority and minority committee assignments are subject to the uniform criteria governing committee assignments applicable to both the majority and minority. The uniform criteria shall be promulgated by the majority group and transmitted to the minority group together with notification of committee positions available to the minority.

Committee assignments as made by the majority and minority groups shall be followed by the Senate in the resolution establishing representation on all Senate standing committees.

After the organization of the Senate, all committees of the Senate and members of commissions to be appointed by the Senate authorized by rule, statute, resolution or otherwise, shall be appointed by the Subcommittee on Committees of the Committee on Rules and Administration, unless otherwise provided, subject to confirmation by the Senate. In the appointment of members of conference committees between the two houses, the Subcommittee on Committees of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate shall appoint those who are in accord with the position of the Senate, and whenever practical, give preference to authors of bills in dispute and to members of standing committees in which the bills were considered.

Tapes, logs, and minutes forwarded to the Legislative Reference Library shall be kept by the Library until two years after the end of the period for which the members of the existing Senate have been elected, at which time they may be preserved or disposed of as the Library sees fit. When the Senate is not meeting, a person not a member may be admitted to the floor at the request of a member or officer. No public hearings shall be held in the Senate Chamber. The retiring room of the Senate is reserved for the exclusive use of the members of the Senate at all times. The Sergeant-At-Arms shall strictly enforce this rule.

PRIVILEGE OF REPORTERS

71. Provision shall be made for news reporters on the Senate floor in limited numbers, and in the Senate gallery. A lobbyist shall not knowingly furnish false or misleading information or make a false or misleading statement that is relevant and material to a matter before the Senate or any of its committees when he knows or should know it will influence the judgment or action of the Senate or any of its committees thereon. A lobbyist shall not exert undue influence or expend improper sums of money in connection with any legislation.

The committee shall investigate a complaint by a member of the Senate in writing under oath received during a legislative session regarding improper conduct by a member or employee of the Senate or a lobbyist. The committee has the powers of a standing committee to issue subpoenas pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Section 3.153. Upon a finding of probable cause, further proceedings on the complaint are open to the public. 1.4 SECOND READING OF BILLS. Every bill shall require a second reading.

Except as otherwise ordered, every bill requiring the approval of the Governor shall, after a second reading, be considered in a Committee of the Whole before it shall be finally acted upon by the House.

1.5 COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE. The Committee of the Whole is a committee of the entire membership of the House. The Speaker may appoint another member as chairman to preside over the committee of the Whole.

When the House arrives at the General Orders of the Day, it shall resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole to consider bills on General Orders.

A bill considered in the Committee of the Whole shall be reported and then debated by sections, with the title considered last. All amendments shall be typewritten and five copies shall be submitted to the Chairman who shall report them to the House.

1.6 RULES TO APPLY TO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE. The Rules of the House shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole so far as may be applicable except that the previous question shall not be forced or speaking limited.

In the Committee of the Whole no amendment increasing the amount of any appropriation shall be passed without the ayes and nays recorded in the Journal of the House.

A motion that the committee arise shall always be in order and shall be decided without debate.

Upon the request of any member, a bill shall be excepted from the report of the Committee of the Whole. Only a motion to strike an amendment to the bill adopted in the Committee of the Whole or to amend the recommendation of the Committee of the Whole concerning the disposition of the bill shall be in order.

1.7 GENERAL ORDERS OF THE DAY. The Chief Clerk at the direction of the Speaker shall prepare the General Orders of the Day, which is a list of all bills which have not been made Special Orders or placed on the Consent Calendar, numbered according to their order at second reading. Unless otherwise ordered by a majority of the Committee, items on General Orders shall be taken up in numerical order.

The Chief Clerk shall see that a copy of each bill printed under the Rules or Orders of the House is placed in each member's file, which is to be kept at his desk in the chamber, at least 24 hours before the bill shall be considered in the Committee of the Whole. Under the first order of business each day, the Chief Clerk shall report to the House which bills he has placed in the files.

If a bill is progressed three times it shall be placed at the end of General Orders unless otherwise ordered by majority vote.

Except during the last five days in any year on which a bill may be passed, a bill amended in the Committee of the Whole shall not be given its third reading until it is engrossed and reproduced as amended.

1.8 THIRD READING OF BILLS. No amendment shall be received on the third reading without the unanimous consent of the House, except to fill blanks or to amend titles.

At any time prior to its passage any bill or resolution may be committed or recommitted by a majority vote of the whole House. If the committee, other than the Committee of the Whole, to which it was committed or recommitted reports an amendment on it, it shall again be given its second reading, considered in Committee of the Whole, given its third reading and placed upon its final passage.

1.9 SPECIAL ORDERS. A bill may be made the Order of the Day for a special time and be placed upon a separate list known as "Special Orders".

The Committee on Rules and Legislative Administration may by committee report designate as a Special Order any bill which has had its second reading.

Any member may move to make a bill a Special Order by giving notice at least two legislative days in advance of and specifying the day on which he will so move. The notice shall include the number and title of the bill and the day and time certain for the Special Order. Only the member giving such notice, or another member designated by him in writing to the Speaker, may make the motion for the Special Order. A two-thirds vote of the whole House on such motion is required to make a bill a Special Order.

The time set for the motion may not be extended, and failure to make the motion on the specified day forfeits the right to make the motion.

A motion to make a bill a Special Order, when made according to the procedures herein prescribed, shall be a privileged motion, shall take precedence over all other motions except a motion to adjourn or to set the time to adjourn and questions of personal privilege, and may be made at any time on the day designated in the notice. A three-fourths vote of the whole House is required to suspend the motion.

Any Special Order, or any part of it, may be continued or postponed by two-thirds vote of the whole House at the time of such Special Order.

When the time arrives for the consideration of any Special Order, the House shall consider each bill upon the Special Order in the order in which it is listed. After consideration it shall immediately be read the third time and placed upon final passage.

1.10 TAX AND APPROPRIATION BILLS GIVEN PRECEDENCE. 1.11 CONSENT CALENDAR. Any bill of a non-controversial nature for which the committee report recommends placement upon the Consent Calendar shall be given its second reading after the report is adopted and placed upon the Consent Calendar. The bill shall be printed and placed in the members' files at

The Consent Calendar shall immediately precede the order of business known as "Calendar for the Day". Every bill on the Consent Calendar shall be debated, given its third reading and voted upon, provided, however, that at any time prior to third reading, ten members may object to any bill as being controversial. Any bill so objected to shall be stricken from the Consent Calendar and be immediately returned to General Orders, taking its place in the usual order.

1.12 SUSPENSION OF RULES TO ADVANCE A BILL. Every bill shall be reported on three different days, except that in case of urgency, a two-thirds majority of the whole House may suspend this Rule. A motion for suspension of the Rules to advance a bill for consideration out of its regular order is in order under the order of business "Motions and Resolutions" or at any time the bill is before the House. The motion must be presented to the Speaker in writing and must state the present position of the bill.

1.13 MINORITY REPORTS. Any minority report shall be made separately from the majority report and shall be considered before the majority report. If the minority report is adopted the majority report shall not be considered. If the minority report is not adopted the majority report shall then be considered.

1.14 COMMITTEE REPORT LAID OVER. The report of any committee may be laid over one day and printed in the Journal, if so ordered by the House.

1.15 RECALLING BILL FROM COMMITTEE. Except after the deadline for committee reports on bills originating in the House, any bill or resolution may be recalled from any committee at any time by majority vote of the whole house, be given a second reading and be advanced to General Orders.

1.16 TIME LIMIT FOR CONSIDERATION OF BILLS. If 20 legislative days after a bill has been referred to committee (other than a bill for appropriations) no report has been made upon it by the committee, its chief author may request that it be returned to the House and the request shall be entered in the Journal for the day. The committee shall have ten calendar days thereafter in which to vote upon the bill requested. If the committee fails to vote upon it within the ten days, the chief author may, at any time within five calendar days thereafter, present a written demand to the Speaker for its immediate return to the House. The demand shall be entered in the Journal for that day and shall constitute the demand of the House. The bill shall then be considered to be in the possession of the House, given its second reading and placed at the foot of General Orders.

Such bill is subject to re-reference by the House. If the motion to re-refer is made on the day of the demand or within one legislative day thereafter, the motion shall take precedence over all other motions except privileged motions and shall be in order at any time.

After May 20, 1977, the House shall not act on bills other than those recommended by conference committee reports or the Committee on Rules and Legislative Administration, and those bills contained in messages from the Senate.

1.17 DISPOSITION OF SENATE BILLS. Any Senate File received by the House, accompanied by a message announcing its passage by the Senate, shall be referred to the appropriate standing committee. However, if a Senate File is received which is stated by a member to be identical to a House File already reported by a standing committee of the House and placed on General Orders, Calendar, Consent

Calendar, or Special Orders, the Senate File shall be referred to the Chief Clerk for comparison. If the Chief Clerk reports that the Senate File is identical with the House File, the Senate File may by majority vote be substituted for the House File and take its place. The fact that the bills are identical shall be entered in the Journal and the House File is then considered withdrawn.

Any Senate File which has been amended on the floor of the House, except at time of final passage, and any Senate File which has been reported to the House with amendments by a House standing committee, shall be unofficially engrossed and reprinted by the Chief Clerk. Amendments to unofficial engrossments of a Senate File may be offered by members on the floor of the House but shall not be offered in standing committees.

1.18 RECORDED FLOOR PROCEEDINGS. All proceedings on the floor of the House shall be recorded on magnetic tape or similar recording device under the direction of the Chief Clerk. Two copies of each tape shall be delivered to the Director of the Legislative Reference Library and there maintained on file for use by any member of the public in accordance with the rules of the Legislative Reference Library. At the end of each biennium, the Director of the Legislative Reference Library shall deliver one copy of each tape to the Director of the Minnesota Historical Society.

Any person may obtain a copy of any such tape during the biennium in which it is recorded upon payment of a fee determined by the Chief Clerk to be adequate to cover the cost of preparing the copy.

Discussion preserved under this rule is not intended to be admissible in any court or administrative proceeding on an issue of legislative intent.

ARTICLE II—VOTING

2.1 AUTHORIZING ELECTRIC VOTING SYSTEM. Except for a vote upon elections or the overriding of a Governor's veto, any vote may be taken by means of the electric voting system which shall be under the control of the Speaker of the House.

2.2 CALL OF THE HOUSE. Ten members may demand a call of the House at any time except after voting has commenced. When such call is demanded, the doors shall be closed, the roll shall be called, the absent members shall be sent for, and no member may be permitted to leave until the roll call is suspended or completed. During the roll call, no motion shall be in order except a motion pertaining to matters incidental to the call. Proceedings under the roll call may be suspended by a majority vote of the whole House. After the roll call is suspended or completed the Sergeant at Arms shall not permit any member to leave the Chamber unless excused by the Speaker. A call of the House may be lifted by a majority vote of the whole House.

2.3 DEMANDING YEAS AND NAYS. Yeas and Nays shall be ordered without demand upon final passage of bills and upon adoption of resolutions or motions directing the payment of money. In all other cases the yeas and nays shall be ordered only upon demand of 15 members.

2.4 EXPLAINING OR CHANGING VOTE. No member shall be allowed to explain his vote or discuss the question while the yeas and nays are being taken, nor be allowed to change his vote after the yeas and nays have been announced from the chair by the Speaker.

2.5 EVERY UNEXCUSED MEMBER TO VOTE. Any member who is immediately interested in the question being voted on shall not vote.

Every other member present before a vote is declared from the chair shall vote for or against the matter before the House, unless the House excuses him from voting.

When a member declines to vote on a call of his name, he shall be required to state his reasons for so declining. After the vote has been taken but before the chair has announced the vote, he shall submit to the House the question, "Shall the member, for the reasons stated, be excused from voting?" which shall be decided without debate. Any other proceedings in reference thereto shall take place after announcement of the vote.

ARTICLE III—MOTIONS AND AMENDMENTS

3.1 MOTIONS. No motion shall be debated until after it is stated by the Speaker. The Speaker may require any motion to be written.

After a motion has been stated by the Speaker it is in possession of the House, but the mover may withdraw it at any time before amendment or decision. Unless a motion, resolution or amendment is withdrawn on the day it is made, it shall be entered in the Journal, together with the name of the member offering it.

3.2 PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received except the following, the first four of which shall be decided without debate:

- (1) To fix the time of adjournment.
- (2) To adjourn.
- (3) To lay on the table.
- (4) For the previous question.
- (5) To commit.
- (6) To postpone to a day certain.
- (7) To amend.
- (8) To postpone indefinitely.

The motions shall have precedence in the order listed. However, if the motion for the previous question has been seconded and the main question ordered, the motion to lay on the table shall not be in order.

3.3 MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order except during roll call.

When a motion to adjourn is made it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit any member to state reasons which would seem to render adjournment improper at that time. Such a statement shall not be debatable and shall be limited to not over two minutes.

3.4 MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION. When a question has been decided either in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing side to move its reconsideration, provided that such motion is made either on the same day the vote was taken or within the following two days of actual session of the House. A motion for reconsideration shall take precedence over all other questions except the motion to adjourn and the notice of intention to move reconsideration. Such motion or notice shall not be in order if the document, bill, resolution, message, report or other official action on which the vote was taken shall have left the possession of the House.

When a member gives notice of intention to move reconsideration of the final action of the House on any bill, resolution, message, report or other official action, the Chief Clerk shall retain the same until after the matter is disposed of or the time has expired during which the motion for reconsideration can be made.

On the last day allowed for the motion to reconsider, it shall be in order for any member who voted on the prevailing side to make the motion, unless the matter has been already disposed of.

A motion for reconsideration having been voted upon and lost shall not be renewed.

The notice of intention to move reconsideration shall not be in order after May 2, 1977 through May 23, 1977.

3.5 ORDER OF PUTTING QUESTION. Except in the case of privileged questions, all questions, whether in committee or in the House, shall be put in the order in which they are moved. When filling blanks, a motion for the largest sum or the longest time shall be put first.

3.6 DIVISION OF A QUESTION. Any member may request the division of a question which contains several points. A motion to strike out and insert shall not be divisible. If a motion to strike out is lost it shall not preclude another motion to amend or to strike out and insert.

3.7 THE PREVIOUS QUESTION. The motion calling for the previous question must be seconded by 15 members. If the motion for the previous question is ordered by a majority of members present, it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the House to direct vote upon the question or questions.

The previous question may be moved and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the Rules, or an amendment or amendments; or it may include all authorized motions or amendments, including a vote on final passage of a bill.

On a motion for the previous question, but prior to its being ordered, a call of the House shall be in order. After a majority has ordered the previous question, no call shall be in order prior to the decision on the main question.

When the previous question is decided in the negative, the main question remains under debate until disposed of by taking a vote either on the question or in some other manner.

All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question and prior to the vote on the main question shall be decided without debate.

3.8 UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO MAKE A MOTION. Whenever unanimous consent to make a motion is requested by a member, the member as a part of such request shall state briefly the purpose of such motion and the subject matter involved.

3.9 MOTIONS AND PROPOSITIONS TO BE GERMANE. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under guise of its being an amendment.

3.10 AMENDMENT NOT TO ANNEX ANOTHER BILL. Except in a standing committee no bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing or incorporating any other bill or resolution pending before the House.

3.11 RESOLUTIONS AND MOTIONS INVOLVING EXPENDITURE OF MONEY. Any resolution or motion involving the expenditure of money out of the legislative expense fund shall be referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Administration before being acted upon by the House. A majority vote of the whole House, determined by a roll call, is required to pass any such resolution or motion.

3.12 AMENDMENTS TO APPROPRIATION BILLS. No amendment increasing the amount or amounts carried by any appropriation bill shall be declared passed until voted for by a majority of the whole House.

3.13 MOTION TO RESCIND. The motion to rescind shall not be in order at any time in any proceeding in the House or in any committee of the House.

3.14 SUSPENSION OR AMENDMENT OF THE RULES. The concurrence of two-thirds of the whole House is required to suspend, alter, or amend any Rule of the House, except that any amendment to the Rules reported by the Committee on Rules and Legislative Administration may be adopted by a majority of the whole House.

Except as provided in Rule 1.12, a motion to suspend, alter, or amend any Rule of the House must be made under the order of business "Motions and Resolutions". If the motion is made at any other time, unanimous consent is required before the Speaker can entertain the motion.

A motion to suspend the Rules, together with the subject matter to which it pertains, is debatable, but the previous question may be applied to the motion.

ARTICLE IV—DEBATE AND DECORUM

4.1 ABSENCE OF MEMBERS AND OFFICERS. Unless illness or other sufficient cause prevents attendance, no member or officer of the House shall absent himself from any session of the House without first having obtained from the Speaker permission to be absent.

4.2 DUTIES OF MEMBERS. Members shall keep their seats until the Speaker announces adjournment.

Every member, before speaking, shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker and shall not speak further until recognized by the Speaker. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall designate the member to speak first.

4.3 QUESTIONS OF ORDER. If any member of the House transgresses the Rules, either in speaking or in any other way, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order. A member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless another member moves to permit him to explain. In either case, the House, if appealed to, shall decide without debate. Only if the decision is in favor of the member called to order shall he be at liberty to proceed. A member called to order shall be liable to censure or such other punishment as the House may deem proper.

4.4 ORDER IN DEBATE. No member shall speak more than twice on the same subject without leave of the House, nor more than once until every other member wishing to speak on the pending question has had an opportunity to do so.

4.5 NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DEBATE A RESOLUTION. Any member may give notice of his intention to debate a resolution. Such notice may be given at any time before the vote is taken on the resolution. If such notice is given, the resolution shall be laid over one day without debate or any other action.

4.6 OFFENSIVE WORDS IN DEBATE. If any member is called to order for offensive words in debate, the member calling him to order shall report the words to which exception is taken and the Clerk shall record them. No member shall be held to answer or be subject to censure of the House for any language used in debate if exception is not taken before any other member has spoken or any other business has taken place.

4.7 ORDER DURING SESSION. No member shall walk out of or across the Chamber when the Speaker is putting the question. No member shall engage in private conversation while another member is speaking or pass between the speaking member and the chair.

4.8 NO ONE TO REMAIN BY THE CLERK'S DESK. No member or other person shall remain by the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

4.9 WHO MAY BE ADMITTED TO THE FLOOR. No person shall be admitted within the House Chamber or retiring room, except members themselves, properly

When a former member of Congress or the Minnesota Legislature or any other person is issued a permit by the Speaker good for the day he shall be provided with a seat near the Speaker's rostrum, and at no time shall a conversation be carried on so as to disturb the business of the House. Before issuing the permit, the Speaker shall satisfy himself that the person does not seek the floor of the House for the purpose of influencing decisions of the House.

The alcoves shall be kept for the use of members only, and the Sergeant at Arms shall keep them cleared.

It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a request for the suspension of this Rule, or to present from the Chair the request of any member for unanimous consent unless an extraordinary condition exists, in which event he may consent to entertain a motion for its suspension.

4.10 PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS. Any petition, memorial or other paper presented to the House shall include the name of the member introducing it and a brief description of its contents and shall be presented by the Speaker, who shall state briefly its contents.

4.11 NO SMOKING IN HOUSE CHAMBER. No member of the House of Representatives or officer of the House, or other person, shall be permitted to smoke in the House Chamber except in designated smoking areas, confined only to the front desk and the legislative retiring room. There shall be no smoking in the visitors' section of the galleries.

Each advisory bill shall be typewritten on a form provided by the Chief Clerk. It shall have a title not exceeding 12 words in length and shall contain a specific proposal for the initiation, termination or alteration of a law or program of the state or any of its subdivisions. It need not be drafted in a form appropriate for enactment into law.

An advisory bill shall be referred by the Speaker to an appropriate standing committee. It may be considered only in committee and shall not be given a second reading or be otherwise considered by the House, except that the committee may report its recommendation for re-referral to another committee.

5.4 FIRST READING AND REFERENCE OF BILLS. Each bill and resolution shall be reported and given its first reading upon its introduction. No bill or resolution shall be objected to upon its introduction.

Except as provided in Rule 5.5 each bill or resolution shall, after first reading, be referred by the Speaker to the appropriate standing committee.

Any committee, other than the Committee on Appropriations, to which such bill has been referred shall note in its report that the bill carries an appropriation.

ORDER OF DEBATE

Rule 1.05. When any member wishes to speak to the Convention on any matter, he shall rise and respectfully address the President, and not speak further until recognized. He shall confine himself to the question under debate and avoid personal remarks. When two or more members rise at the same time, the President shall designate the member to speak first. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without permission of the Convention.

CALLING MEMBER TO ORDER

Rule 1.06. If any member of the Joint Convention is called to order for offensive words in debate, the member calling him to order shall report the words to which exception is taken and the Secretary shall record them. No member may be called to order for any language used in debate if exception is not taken before any other member has spoken or any other business has taken place. Only if the decision is in favor of the member called to order shall he be at liberty to proceed.

ARTICLE II: BILLS FORM

Rule 2.01. The title of each bill shall clearly state its subject and briefly state its purpose. When a bill amends or repeals an existing act, the title shall refer to the chapter, section or subdivision.

Reference shall be made to Minnesota Statutes for the provisions appearing therein unless reference to previous session laws is required for some special reason.

Bills shall refer to Minnesota Statutes as follows:
"Minnesota Statutes Section"
Bills shall refer to the session laws as follows:
"Laws Chapter Section"

A bill for the amendment of a statute shall contain the full text of the section or subdivision to be amended as it appears in the latest edition of Minnesota Statutes unless it has been amended at a later session, in which event it shall contain the full text as amended.

The words and characters constituting the amending matter shall be inserted in the proper place in the text and underscored. The words and characters to be eliminated by the amendment shall be stricken by drawing a line through them. The text of a new section or subdivision shall also be underscored when a bill amends an existing chapter or section by adding a new section or subdivision. In the omnibus appropriation bills required by Joint Rule 2.02, sections making an appropriation or transfer and not amending a statute or session law need not have new material underscored. Before a committee favorably reports upon a bill, the chairman of the committee shall see that the bill conforms to this rule. Printed bills shall be in the same form. When a bill is printed in the Journal, the new matter shall be in italics or underscored and the matter to be eliminated shall be capitalized and in parentheses or stricken by drawing a line through it. A bill drafted by the Revisor of Statutes for the purposes of correcting errors in Minnesota Statutes need not comply with the provisions of this paragraph if the bill is labeled "REVISOR'S BILL" immediately below the title, and if there is attached thereto a memorandum of information explaining the reasons for the bill.

If the bill is for an original law and not for an amendment of an existing law, the sections and subdivisions shall be arranged, subdivided, and numbered in like manner as Minnesota Statutes. If such a bill assigns to the sections thereof headnotes or identification by the decimal system of numbering used in Minnesota Statutes, such headnotes and decimal identification may be submitted by standing committee chairmen to the Revisor of Statutes for examination. Any such headnotes shall be capital letters enclosed in brackets, and shall be subject to the provisions of Minnesota Statutes, Section 648.36.

All numbers in titles shall be expressed in figures. All numbers of section or chapter of law shall be in figures. In the body of a bill numbers in excess of ten shall be in figures, except for a special reason they may be written, but when written they shall not be followed by numbers or parentheses.

APPROPRIATING MONEY

Rule 2.02. The same bill shall not appropriate public money or property to more than one local or private purpose.

No clause appropriating money for a local or private purpose shall be contained in a bill appropriating money for the State government or public institutions. All resolutions authorizing the issuing of abstracts by the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House for the payment of money shall be upon the call of "yeas" and "nays."

At least twenty calendar days prior to the adjournment of the Legislature, the Committee on Finance of the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations of the House shall report to their respective houses, unless directed by concurrent resolution to report different appropriation bills, eight separate appropriation bills as follows:

(a) A bill appropriating money for the general administrative and judicial expenses of the State government for the succeeding two fiscal years including salaries, office expenses and supplies and other necessary expenses connected therewith;

(b) A bill covering all appropriations relating to public welfare, health and corrections for the support and maintenance of all State penal and charitable institutions, and other institutions of the State except educational for the two succeeding fiscal years;

- (g) A bill covering all appropriations for maintenance, repair, and minor rehabilitation and construction of public buildings; and
- (h) A bill covering appropriations for the department of transportation.

No other appropriations shall be contained in any of said bills but all other appropriations shall be contained in separate bills.

DEADLINES

Rule 2.03. In 1977, committee reports on bills favorably acted upon by a committee in the house of origin after Friday, April 22 and committee reports on bills originating in the other house favorably acted upon by a committee after Friday, May 6 shall be referred in the Senate to the Committee on Rules and Administration, and in the House of Representatives to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Administration for disposition. Referral is not required when a committee after April 22 and by May 6 acts on a bill that is a companion to a bill that has met the April 22 deadline in the other house. This rule does not apply to the Senate Committees on Finance and on Taxes and Tax Laws, and the House Committees on Appropriations and on Taxes.

Conference committees on the major appropriation bills specified in Joint Rule 2.02 shall have their reports on the members' desks by Thursday, May 19, 1977.

After Friday, May 20 in the first year of the biennium, neither house shall act on bills other than those contained in:

- (a) reports of conference committees;

AMENDING BILLS ORIGINATING IN OTHER HOUSE

Rule 2.04. Either house shall have the power to amend any bill, memorial, or resolution passed by the other house.

RECEDING FROM POSITION

Rule 2.05. Prior to a conference committee on any matter, either house may recede from its position on any difference existing between the two houses. In order to recede, and if the matter is not in the possession of a house, that house shall request return of the matter from the other house. To recede, a majority of a house shall govern, except in cases otherwise provided in the Constitution. If the question is put and lost, it shall not be put again on the same day. A reconsideration of the question shall in all respects be regulated by the rules of that house.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

Rule 2.06. In all cases of disagreement between the Senate and House on amendments adopted by either house to a bill, memorial or resolution passed by the other house, a Conference Committee consisting of not less than three members nor more than five members from each house may be requested by either house. The other house shall appoint a similar committee.

The manner of procedure shall be as follows: The house of origin passes a bill and transmits it to the other body. If the other body adopts an amendment to the bill and passes it as amended, it shall return the bill with a record of its actions to the house of origin. If the house of origin refuses to concur in the amendment, it shall ask for a conference committee, appoint such a committee on its part, and transmit the bill with a record of its action to the other house. If the other house adheres to its amendment, it shall appoint a like committee and return the bill to the house of origin.

At an agreed upon hour the conference committee shall meet. The members from each house shall state to the members from the other house, orally or in writing, the reason for their respective positions. The members shall confer thereon and shall report to their respective houses the agreement they have reached, or, if none, the fact of a disagreement. Within seven calendar days after the appointment of a conference committee, and every seven calendar days thereafter until such time as the conference committee is discharged, the conference committee shall report its progress to each house. If an agreement is reported, the house of origin shall act first upon the report. If the report is adopted and repassed as amended by the conference committee by the house of origin, the report, the bill and a record of its action shall be transmitted to the other house.

All Conference Committees shall be open to the public. Meetings of Conference Committees shall be announced as far in advance as practical.

Except on the last two days on which a bill may be passed in any year, a written copy of a report of a Conference Committee shall be placed on the desk of each member of a house twelve hours before action on the report by that house. If the report has been reprinted in the Journal of either house for a preceding day and is available to the members, the Journal copy shall serve as the written report.

ENROLLMENT AND SIGNATURE

Rule 2.07. After a bill or memorial has been passed by both houses, it shall be carefully and properly enrolled by the Revisor of Statutes under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate for a matter originating in the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House for a matter originating in the House. The Revisor of Statutes shall obtain the signatures and certificates of the proper officers to the enrolled copy of the bill or memorial and present it to the Governor for his approval.

A bill or memorial may be prepared for presentation to the Governor on good quality paper approximately 8½" x 13" in size and may be produced by means of a copying machine. An enrolled bill shall be labeled "An Act" and it shall be identical to the bill passed by the Legislature. An enrolled bill which is amendatory of any existing law or constitutional provision shall indicate deletions and additions in the manner provided in Rule 2.01 for printed bills.

ARTICLE III: GENERAL PROVISIONS SUSPENSION OF JOINT RULES

Rule 3.01. Either house may suspend the Joint Rules of the Senate and House by a vote of two-thirds of its members.

ODD YEAR SESSION ADJOURNMENT

Rule 3.02. Adjournment of the regular session in any odd-numbered year to date certain in the following year shall be equivalent to daily adjournment, except that upon adjournment in any odd-numbered year to a date certain in the following year:

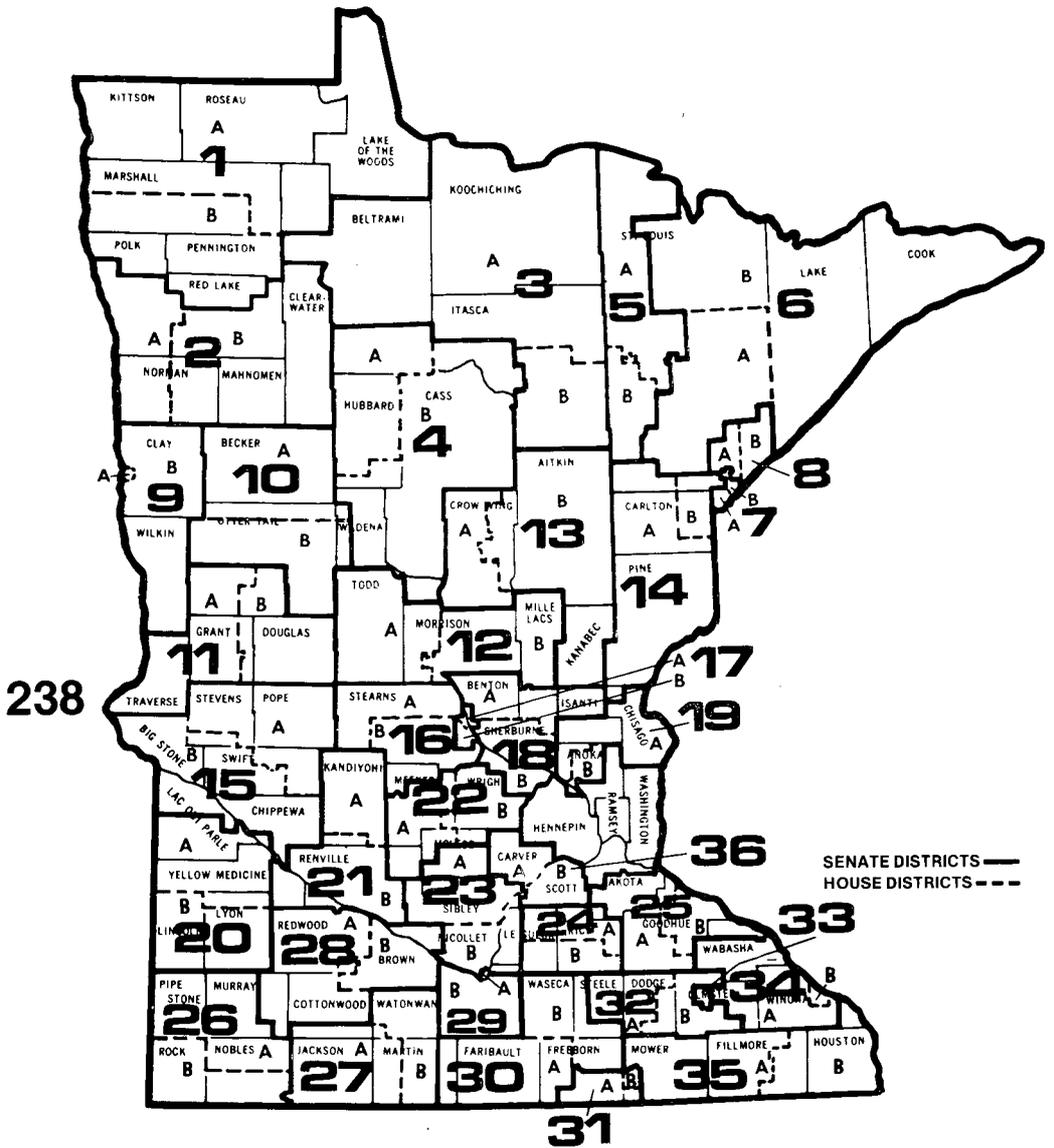

(a) any bill being considered by a conference committee shall be returned to the house of origin, laid on the table, and the conference committee shall be discharged:

(b) any bill referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration in the Senate or the Committee on Rules and Legislative Administration in the House pursuant to Joint Rule 2.03 shall be returned to the standing committee to which it was last previously referred; and

(c) any bill returned by the Governor to the house of origin with his objections following such adjournment shall be laid on the table.

INTERIM COMMITTEE AND COMMISSION REPORTS

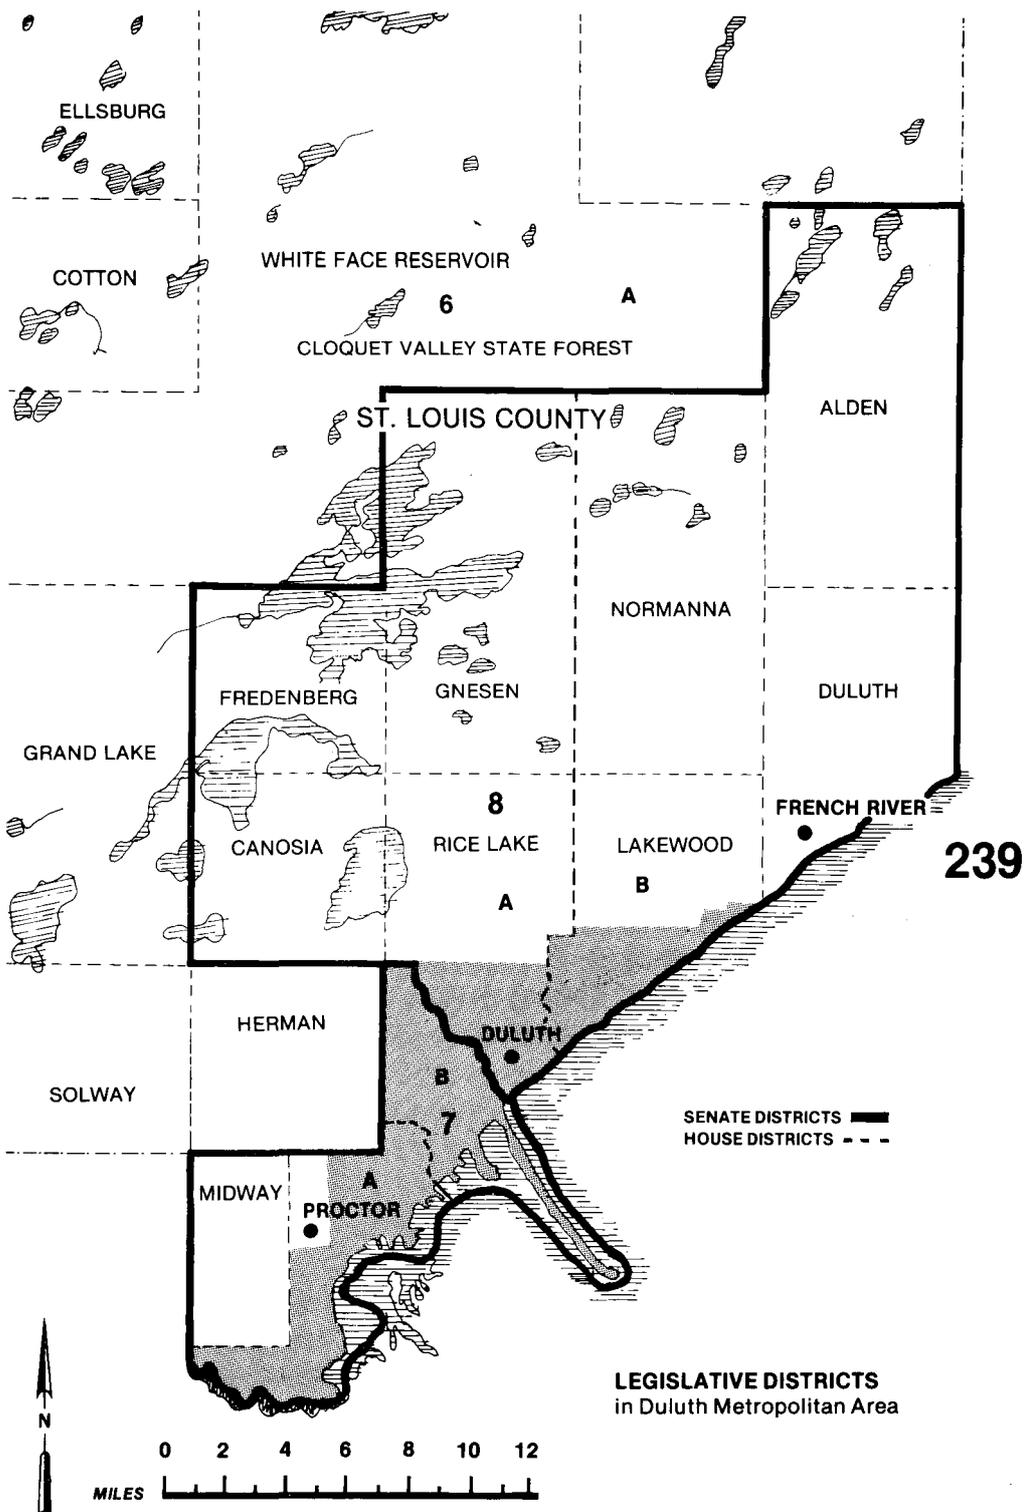

Rule 3.03. Except as otherwise provided by law, the report of any interim committee or commission to the Legislature shall be submitted on paper 8½" x 11" in size, punched on the left edge to fit a standard size three ring binder intended for that size paper. A brief summary of the recommendations of the commission or committee shall appear first and be clearly separated from its findings, discussions, and exhibits. If the report contains legislative recommendations, a copy of any proposed legislation, particularly if extensive in character, shall if possible be attached as an exhibit at the end of the report.

Rudy Perpich was sworn in on December 29, 1976, as the 34th governor of Minnesota by Judge Gail Murray, Hibbing. He took the office vacated by Wendell R. Anderson, who resigned to become U.S. Senator. Shown in background are son, Rudy, Jr., and daughter, Mary Sue; at extreme right is Mrs. Perpich, who held the Bible.

The Chief Executive in Minnesota

By law, the governor makes more than a thousand appointments including department heads, members of boards and commissions, and judges. An innovation in the appointment process has been introduced by Governor Perpich. He has named an Appointments Advisory Board with representation from each congressional district to solicit, screen, and recommend candidates for appointments. The governor retains the right of final selection. Most appointments must then be submitted to the senate for confirmation. The terms of such individuals vary from two to six years.

In the event a vacancy occurs in the Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota between legislative sessions, the governor makes an interim appointment.

To assist the governor and department heads in the preparation of programs for legislative and/or executive action, the governor may establish advisory committees. These committees study state problems and make necessary recommendations.

For twelve hours, Governor Perpich greeted well-wishers at the capitol, following the swearing-in ceremony. The line stretched from the rotunda to the governor's reception room.

On January 18, 1977, the Executive Council declared the first official "Energy Emergency" in Minnesota's history. Here Governor Perpich signs an order extending the emergency another thirty days.

Powers:

The governor has the responsibility of informing the legislature about the general condition of the state. This is done by means of his inaugural message delivered to a joint legislative session immediately after he takes his oath of office and by a "state of the state" address at the beginning of the second half of each term in office.

The financial needs of state government for the next two fiscal years are submitted to the legislature in the governor's proposed budget within three weeks after the governor's inauguration and again in the second half of his term for the following biennium.

The governor also sends special messages to the legislature from time to time on subjects that he feels warrant particular emphasis and specific attention. Governor Perpich has chosen to depart from the standard procedure of sending these messages directly to the legislature. For example, he delivered his special message on "Corrections, Crime, and Criminal Justice" to the Tri-County (Olmsted-Fillmore-Dodge) Community Corrections Board in Rochester on February 15, 1977. As the forum for his special message on energy, he selected a class at the University of Minnesota in "Ecology, Technology, and Society".

The governor must review all laws passed by the legislature. The governor may approve a bill by signing it, or he may veto a bill by returning it to the legislature stating his objections. A two-thirds vote in each legislative body is required to pass a bill over the governor's veto. When the governor does not sign a bill passed on the final three days of a session within 14 days after adjournment, he exercises a pocket veto, and the bill does not become law.

Functions:

Judicial Appointments: The governor fills vacancies which occur in municipal, district, and supreme court judgeships. These appointments do not require confirmation by the senate.

Extradition, and Civil Rights Power: The governor issues extradition papers and restores civil rights to felons.

Commissions Notaries Public: The governor commissions notaries public. Approximately 5,500 commissions are issued during each fiscal year.

Commander-in-Chief of Military Forces: The governor is commander-in-chief of the military forces in Minnesota. He may call out such forces to execute the laws, suppress insurrections, and repel invasion, and for such other emergencies as he may determine.

Planning: The governor as state planning officer prepares comprehensive long range plans for the orderly coordinated growth of the state. He reports with recommendations to the legislature for the implementation of such plans.

Ex-Officio Membership: The governor is an ex-officio member of the State Pardon Board, the Executive Council, the State Board of Investment, and the Land Exchange Commission. He presides over the Legislative Advisory Committee.

Governor Perpich visits with the six semi-finalists in the Christmas Seal Children's Artwork Project. One of the drawings will be reproduced more than 150,000,000 times as the 1978 Minnesota Christmas Seal.

Functions and Services:

In 1971, a bill was enacted which enabled the governor to delegate to the lieutenant governor certain powers, duties, responsibilities, and functions prescribed by law to be performed by the governor by filing a written order with the secretary of state specifying such delegation. However no power, duty, responsibility, or function imposed on the governor by the Constitution may be delegated.

The Secretary of State in Minnesota

Powers:

The secretary of state serves with the other constitutional officers on special policy boards for decision-making which affects the entire state: the Executive Council and the State Board of Investment.

In order of gubernatorial succession, the secretary of state is fourth after Lieutenant Governor, President of the Senate and Speaker of the House.

As commissioner of registration, she promulgates rules for voter registration, voting equipment, and other election-related matters. As chair of the state canvassing board, the secretary of state certifies the election of candidates.

As keeper of the Great Seal of the State of Minnesota, the secretary of state certifies the authenticity of official records, documents, proclamations and executive orders of the governor, and acts of the legislature.

Functions:

State law has designated this office as custodian of many official records of the state. In addition, election responsibilities are outlined in the constitution. As commissioner of voter registration for the state, the secretary of state assists county auditors and other local election officials in administering voter registration in Minnesota.

Precinct maps of all Minnesota cities are filed in this office, with new maps submitted when boundaries are changed.

Candidates for statewide office and for multi-county legislative, congressional and judicial district offices file with the secretary of state. Candidates for federal office are required to file financial reports with the Federal Election Commission and send copies to the secretary of state.

The secretary of state prepares the format to be used by counties in reporting returns of primary, general and special elections. These returns are filed in this office and compiled for public information.

State election laws (compiled by the attorney general) are published by this office biennially, following the close of the second year of each legislative session.

Official records filed in this office include:

- Original engrossed and embossed acts of the legislature.

- Incorporation papers for all business, nonprofit, foreign, professional, cooperative, banking and insurance companies doing business in the state. If any changes in these corporations occur, such as merger, dissolutions or consolidation, notice must be filed in this office.

- Original U.S. government survey notes and township plats for the state.

- Registration of legal newspapers.

- Special censuses.

- Auctioneers licenses.

- Registration of trademarks.

- Resolutions of approval.

- Rules and regulations of state agencies.

- Official public hearing lists.

A register of charitable trusts is maintained.

Filing functions affecting commercial enterprises are also part of the office responsibilities. Under this function, certain financial statements on debts that are secured by a personal property mortgage, lien or conditional sales contract are filed with the secretary of state. Also filed are lease agreements and notices of federal tax liens.

Secretary of State Joan Grove honors Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stenehjem, Winona, as Minnesota's "votingest" couple during the Vote '76 voter registration and get-out-the-vote program.

Secretary Grove demonstrates the voting equipment in the chamber to two fourth-graders. From this podium she calls the House of Representatives to order the opening day of the legislative session.

Services:

This office provides vital sources of public information.

All records and documents on file in the secretary of state's office are open and available to the public.

Certified copies of corporate records and commercial financial records may be purchased. Three million pieces of paper filed in the office include 150,000 articles of incorporation, copies of rules and regulations for all state agencies, and a wide array of election data.

The secretary of state annually issues over 5,000 certificates for new businesses and collects more than $1,000,000 annually in revenue for the state. Over 40,000 commercial statements are filed annually, with revenue exceeding $100,000.

An intern program, involving students from Minnesota colleges and universities, provides additional resources in voter information and analysis of election procedures within Minnesota and in other states.

The Legislative Manual is published each biennium as an information service of the office.

Administration of elections by local jurisdictions is an important part of Minnesota law. The secretary of state's office provides information on the conduct of elections by responding to questions from the public, researchers, legislators, and local election officials. National interest in Minnesota election procedures is evidenced by the increasing number of requests for data.

To achieve the highest voter turnout in Minnesota's history, the secretary of state initiated "Vote '76". This project, which involved the political parties, business, labor, and civic groups, started with the precinct caucuses and culminated on election day with the theme of "register, inform yourself, and vote".

These efforts were rewarded in November, 1976, with a 75.4% voter turnout, the highest in the nation.

Instructional materials were developed for election officials. In order to improve the election process, the secretary held regional meetings around the state with township officers, city clerks, county auditors, and election judges. She also published the Election Judges Guide and produced a televised program for election judges and voters.

254 The State Auditor in Minnesota

Functions:

Responsible for financial and compliance audits of local governmental units to insure that the annual expenditures of over $2.5 billion of public funds are made according to law.

This includes the responsibility to audit all counties, cities of the first class, redevelopment authorities, and a growing number of cities, townships and school districts, and other agencies of local government upon the written request of the governing body or upon the petition of freeholders.

A copy of the report of each examination is filed in the state auditor's office and subject to public inspection.

If any examination discloses malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance in any office such report is filed with the appropriate county attorney whose duty it is to institute civil and criminal proceedings as the law and protection of the public interests shall require.

Services:

Reports on the revenue, expenditure and debt of the cities, of local governments, and of towns are prepared and published by the state auditor each year.

The Municipal Reporting Unit of the state auditor's office collects and classifies financial statements from all local governments in Minnesota for these publications.

The reports and financial statements are available to interested researchers, local governments, the legislature and state departments for research.

The financial statements are shared with the department of highways for preparation of federal reports.

Efforts within the state auditor's office are directed toward restoring the people's faith in their elected leaders. Under this program, since January, 1975, a saving of up to $60,000 has been realized in state expenditures through changes in state contracts for services.

Minnesota Statutes provide that the citizens of a city, town, or school district may petition for an audit of the financial affairs of their city, town, school district, or other municipal agency. If the audit request concerns a city, town, or municipal agency other than a school district, the petition must be signed by 6 out of every 100 residents if the population of the city or town is under 2,000; and if the population is more than 2,000, it must be signed by 4 out of every 100 inhabitants. In the case of a school district audit request, the petition must be signed by 10 residents for each 50 resident pupils in average daily membership. The prescribed form and other requirements for petition are available from the office of the state auditor.*

In 1975, the state auditor entered into a new cooperative federal-state agreement to furnish local government financial data to the Bureau of the Census for use in the Office of Revenue Sharing for entitlement determination.

By this action, Minnesota became the first state in the nation to implement this program. Revenue-sharing calculations will be made locally, allowing close supervision to assure that each Minnesota local government receives its full share of revenue sharing funds.

The state auditor serves on the following boards and commissions:

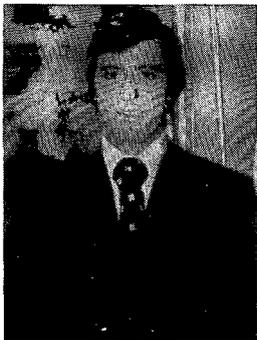

- Executive Council
- Land Exchange Board
- State Board of Investment
- Minnesota Housing and Finance Agency

Staff of the State Treasurer's Office

Private Secretary: Mary Randolph

Cashier: John Christensen

Director of Unclaimed Property: Georgia M. Johnson

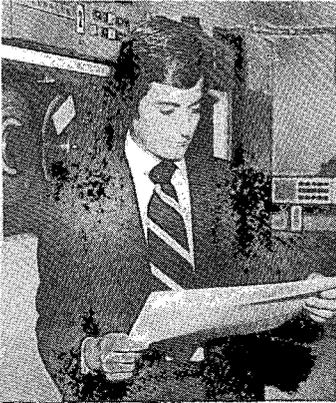

Supervisor of Securities and Safekeeping: Edna Klevé

Supervisor of Debt Service: Ed Butz

Supervisor of Computer Services and Warrant Processing: Michael Hager

State Treasurer's Office

Jim Lord studies the computer listing of monies deposited in state depository banks.

By law, the state treasurer shall receive and receipt for all monies paid into the state treasury and safely keep the same until lawfully dispersed. The treasurer therefore handles over $5.5 billion in bank transactions annually.

The treasurer's office maintains careful control over the amount of money the state holds in non-interest bearing bank accounts, keeping those accounts constantly updated so that the maximum of state funds can be turned over for investment by the State Board of Investment.

The Safekeeping Division of the treasurer's office maintains careful control of nearly $3 billion worth of securities.

The state treasurer is a member of the State Board of Investment, which is responsible for the formulation of state investment policies and the purchase and sale of securities of various funds.

The treasurer's office acts as the agent through which all security transactions are channeled. The treasurer is custodian of nearly $3 billion worth of securities.

As the state's paymaster, the treasurer sends out and then redeems over 4 million warrants (checks) annually.

When the state borrows through bonding, the treasurer's office pays off that debt by redeeming bonds at maturity and paying interest as it falls due on outstanding issues.

Computers are now used for warrant (check) processing which was once recorded in 1860 by the treasurer's hand and entered in his ledger.

State Treasurer's Office

The state treasurer by law attempts to find owners of certain unclaimed property, and if unsuccessful, disposes of that property pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 345. This abandoned property comes in the form of volumes of contents of bank safety deposit boxes which have remained idle over 20 years, personal checking and savings accounts which have been abandoned over 20 years, and other abandoned property held by banking and financial institutions, life insurance corporations, business associations, state courts, public officers and agencies.

Members of the Unclaimed Property Division examine old securities found in abandoned safety deposit boxes.

The state treasurer's office receives and distributes funds under the fiscal disparities law, Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 473F.

The state treasurer approves the acceptance of gifts to the state.

The State Treasurer and Deputy State Treasurer confer on one of close to 200 references to the state treasurer's office in the Minnesota Statutes.

The state treasurer is a member of the Executive Council, which among other duties, approves or disapproves peat and mineral leases (taconite, copper-nickel leases), the extension of timber permits, and the sale and disposal of certain state lands. He is also treasurer ex-officio of the Department of Employment Services, Metropolitan Airports Commission, State Retirement System, and Public Employees Retirement Association.

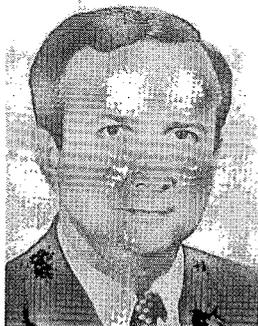

The state treasurer reports biennially the condition of the treasury and of the public funds.

EXECUTIVE BRANCH:

DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

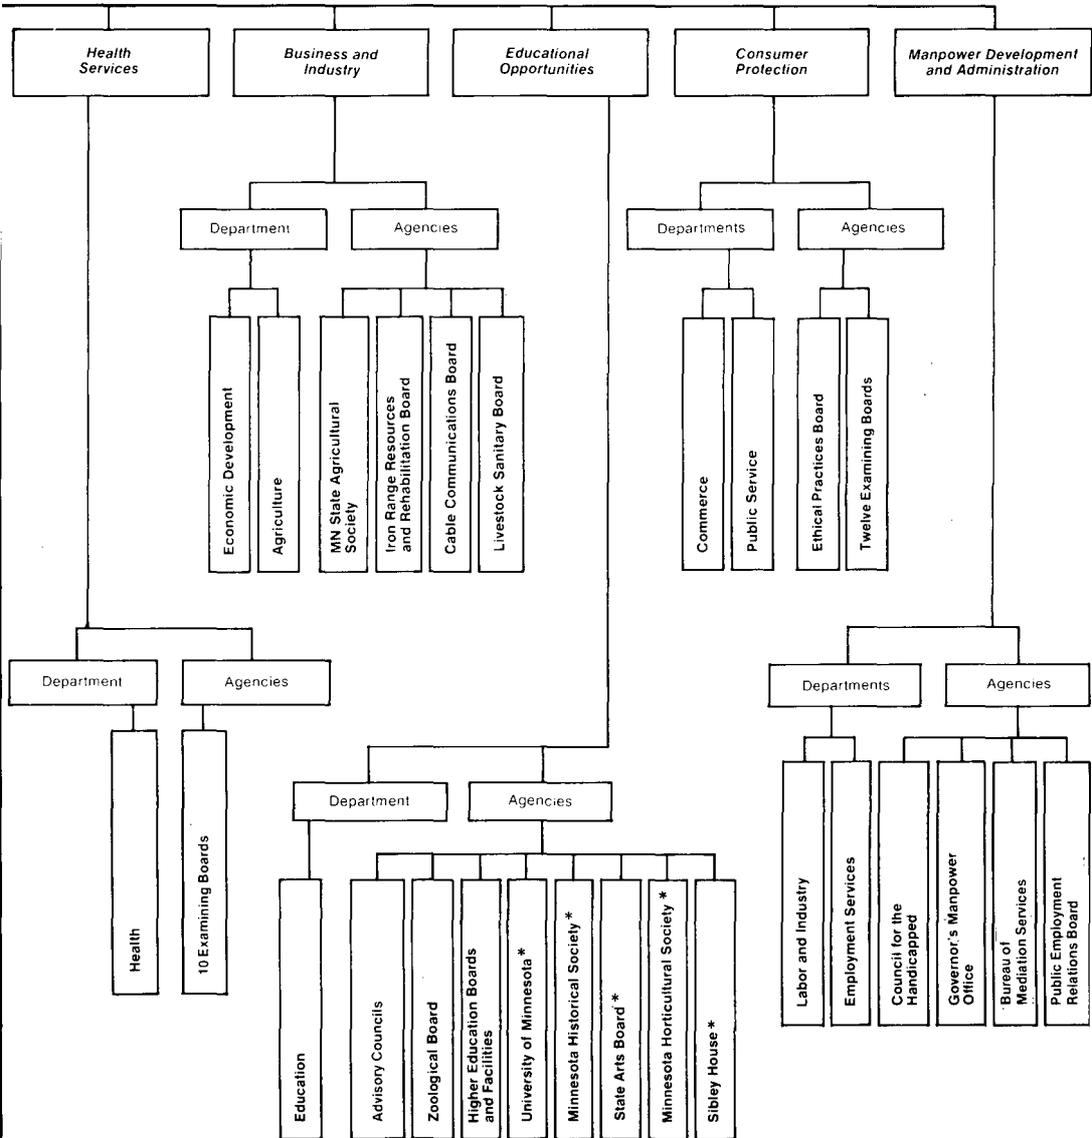

Executive authority in Minnesota flows from citizen election of the governor. Appointment by the governor designates the commissioner of the 20 departments of the executive branch and the composition of a variety of almost a hundred boards, committees, councils, and authorities. Although some executive agencies are independent in matters of organization, all are aware of the link between the legislative and executive branches as they fulfill their constitutional or statutory functions.

Departments — There are 20 executive departments in state government each headed by a commissioner appointed by the governor.

Agencies — Separate from departments, independent agencies with portions of membership appointed by the governor function within state government.

Semi-State Agencies — Separate from departments and other agencies in state government, semi-state agencies are not under direct appointive control of the governor. These are designated in this chart by an asterisk (*).

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

Article V of the Minnesota Constitution defines in broad outline the dimensions of the executive branch. Action by the legislature over 119 years has supplied details about administration and finances. Each biennium the legislature reviews budget requests as departments and agencies identify goals and services.

During the 1975-76 legislative sessions seven major pieces of legislation affecting nearly all state boards, committees, commissions, councils, task forces, and other similar multi-member agencies were enacted.

Number of Agencies: a Senate Counsel report, June, 1976, lists 257 agencies with statewide jurisdiction. 31 agencies authorized by statute prior to 1975 were abolished during the 1975-76 sessions; in addition, several agencies were reduced. 315 membership positions, including 146 appointed by the governor, were abolished.

Scheduled to expire: Laws 1975, Chapter 315, placed the common expiration date of June 30, 1983, on advisory councils and committees created by statute. This "sunset" provision was applied to all advisory councils or committees created during the 1976 session, too. Some 53 advisory councils and committees are scheduled to expire between December 31, 1976, and June 30, 1983, unless extended by specific laws. All advisory task forces now have a maximum two-year life.

Created: 21 boards, commissions, advisory councils, committees, and advisory task forces having statewide jurisdiction were created during the 1975-76 sessions. All but three will expire no later than two years from date of creation or June 30, 1983. As a result of these new agencies and increases in the size of several existing agencies, 252 new membership positions were created. A comparison of abolished and created agencies reveals that ten more statewide agencies were abolished than were created, with a total reduction of 63 membership positions.

Appointment Process: A major effort of the 1975-76 legislation was to transfer appointing powers from the governor to department heads or other state agencies. Prior to 1975, the governor had approximately 911 positions to fill in all types of multi-member agencies. As a result of 1975-76 legislation, appointing authority for 261 members of advisory councils, committees, and task forces was transferred from the governor to the department head or agency being advised. In gubernatorial appointments, 146 were abolished, 45 new positions were created, and the effect of these changes was to reduce the total number of such appointments from 911 to 549.

Advice and Consent of Senate: Prior to 1975, this was required for appointments to a wide variety of state agencies. Action in 1975 eliminated this requirement for appointments to advisory agencies and required advice and consent for appointments to all administrative boards. The rationale for these changes was that the senate with limited ability for reviewing qualifications of appointments should restrict this activity to those agencies having substantial independent powers.

Nomenclature: Laws 1975, Chapter 271, as amended by Laws 1976, Chapter 149, changes the names of sixty-some agencies to conform to the following name designations (nomenclature) by type:

- "board"—agency other than a department having rule-making, license-granting, adjudicatory, or other administrative powers.
- "committee"—advisory agency
- "council"—advisory agency with at least one-half of its members from specified occupations, political subdivisions, or other groupings of persons.
- "commission"—agency composed exclusively of legislators (except certain agencies created by interstate compact.)
- "authority"—agency other than a department whose primary purpose is to issue bonds for financing, ownership, and development.

“advisory task force”—advisory agency created to study a single topic and scheduled to expire within two years or less.

While use of this nomenclature is not binding on future legislatures, such legislatures may choose to adopt this system as a means of encouraging uniformity in naming and easier identification of agencies by the public.

Terms of Office: For nearly all statewide agencies, terms of office for members other than ex-officio members are now set at four years. Members of agencies having predominately quasi-judicial powers have terms of six years. Terms of members of one-fourth of each administrative and licensing agency expire each year; terms of one-half of the members of advisory agencies expire in the year a governor takes office; the remaining one-half expire the following year. For agencies having six-year terms, one-third of the members’ terms expire every two years.

Compensation: Salaries of members of the public service commission, tax court of appeals, and workers compensation court of appeals are specified by statute. For the remainder of agencies except advisory task forces, compensation is $35 per member plus expenses (in same manner and amount as paid to state employees); members of advisory task forces are eligible only for expenses.

Occupational Licensing Boards: Laws 1975, Chapter 136, added detailed reporting requirements for these boards designed to reveal the nature and extent of board activities, the possibility of any discriminatory licensing practices by the board, the number of complaints received against persons licensed by the board, and the disposition of those complaints. Laws 1976, Chapter 222, defines a state policy in respect to occupational licensing; prescribes procedures for review and processing of complaints against licensees; makes other substantive and procedural changes in board operations.

The purpose of the system is to attract and retain employees and to provide income for covered employees or their beneficiaries upon retirement, disability or death.

Benefit provisions for the various plans administered differ but are generally in proportion to length of service and covered salary. The plans administered by the System are contributory plans — that is, the employee as well as the employer contribute, usually as a percentage of their salary, to provide the financing of the benefits. The contribution rates differ from plan to plan depending on the type and level of benefits provided. The monies contributed are invested in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 11. Actuarial surveys and studies are performed as provided in Chapter 356.

State employees and newly appointed judges are covered by social security to which the employee and employer also contribute. Legislators, constitutional officers, members of the highway patrolmen's fund and some of the judges are not covered by social security.

Established in 1931, the Public Employees Retirement Association provides annuity protection to public employees throughout the state including persons employed by counties, cities, townships, and school districts. As of June 30, 1976, the membership totaled 87,598 with 12,681 former members, or their beneficiaries, receiving annuities, disability or survivor benefits.

Minimum retirement age is 58 with at least 20 years of allowable service, but benefits at age earlier than 65 are reduced by one-half of one percent for each month under 65, except that a member with 30 years of allowable service may retire as early as age 62 with no reduction in annuity. Annuity is based on the highest five successive years' average salary. A member may select a 50% or 100% joint and survivor annuity which is the actuarial equivalent of a normal (personal) annuity. Annuity formula, based on average salary, appears below:

Coordinated (with social security) 1st 10 years — 1 % per year of service Thereafter — 1½ % per year of service	Basic (without social security) 1st 10 years — 2 % per year of service Thereafter — 2½ % per year of service

If a member dies after at least 18 months of credit, provision is made for survivor benefits. Dependent spouse is entitled to 30% of decedent's average salary over six months preceding death; each dependent child under age 18 or between 18 and 22 if a fulltime student, is entitled to 10% of said average salary. Maximum family benefit is $450 monthly. Only survivors of basic members (without social security) are eligible for these benefits. If no survivor benefits are due, the beneficiary named by the decedent (or if none, the estate) receives a refund of salary deductions with interest at 3½% compounded annually.

Total and permanent disability benefits are available to members under age 65. If less than 50 years old member must have at least 10 years of allowable service, or after age 50 not less than five years of such service are required. Benefit is equal to the normal annuity without reduction because of age. There is also a supplemental benefit of $5 for each year under age 65, not to exceed $50 monthly, which supplement applies only to basic members. If qualified, a disabilitant may collect disability benefits from both PERA and social security.

Basic members pay 8% of total salary, and employers pay 8% matching plus 2½%. Coordinated members pay 4% of total salary, and employers pay 4% matching plus 1½%, plus required social security taxes.

BUREAU OF CRIMINAL APPREHENSION

The Bureau of Criminal Apprehension was created by the 1927 legislature and moved from the attorney general's office to the Department of Public Safety July 1, 1970.

The bureau assists local officials, upon request, by making criminal investigations of major crimes, supplying information from the bureau's central files, and providing laboratory and identification facilities. It also conducts a police training program that enables local law enforcement officers to meet the mandatory requirements established by the Minnesota Peace Officers' Training Board.

Recent additions to the bureau include a narcotics section, a bomb squad and a criminal justice information section (CJIS). The narcotics section provides skilled investigative aid for crimes concerning the illegal sale or possession of narcotics and prohibited drugs. The bomb squad provides direct assistance to local officials in matters of explosive or incendiary devices. CJIS offers a computerized statistics system based on an accounting of individual offenders.

The bureau maintains district offices at Austin, Mankato, Marshall, Willmar, St. Cloud, Fergus Falls, Thief River Falls, Bemidji, and Duluth.

DRIVER AND VEHICLE SERVICES DIVISION

The Driver License and Motor Vehicle Division were combined into a Driver and Vehicle Services Division January 24, 1977. The division carries on all activities related to driver licensing, driving records, enforcement of license rules and no-fault, and supervision of driver training. The division:

- examines 450,000 applicants for drivers licenses annually at more than 100 driver examiner stations;
- issues a million driver licenses and permits each year;
- records the accident and violation record of each driver;
- suspends, restricts, cancels and revokes driver licenses as authorized and required by law;
- evaluates records of drivers involved in accidents and violations, interviews drivers, and imposes restrictions and suspensions when deemed advisable;
- establishes standards for commercial driving schools and licenses schools and instructors; approves curricula for high school driver education; assists and coordinates driver improvement clinics; and
- enforces no-fault insurance provisions.

The division also annually registers 3.2 million vehicles, records 1.1 million transfers of registration, issues 1.5 million certificates of title, and administers the bicycle registration law. This work is accomplished through its central office staff and deputy registrars appointed by the commissioner of public safety.

The deputy registrar system is provided by law under which county auditors can, if they choose, become deputy registrars subject to the approval of the commissioner, and can designate others to be appointed as deputies. The deputies can be city officials, or individuals without official status. Where the county auditor chooses not to function, deputy registrars will be appointed as before by the commissioner of public safety.

The division also licenses and supervises 3,500 new and used car dealers.

EMERGENCY SERVICES

The Emergency Services Division is responsible for the preparation and carrying out of all emergency actions, other than military, to insure maximum survival of the population and minimize effects of an enemy attack, natural disaster, industrial accident, or civil disturbance, and to provide for continuity of government.

The division, headed by a director, includes one deputy and two assistant directors and seven area commanders. Area headquarters are in Eveleth, Bemidji, North Mankato, Alexandria, Rochester, St. Cloud and St. Paul. The division will operate from the emergency operating center in the state capitol under all emergencies. The division assists in formation of local civil defense organizations throughout the state.

The functions of the division include dissemination of warning of any threatened disaster affecting all areas of the state; obtaining information and damage assessment of any significant disaster and keeping the governor, state agencies, and appropriate federal agencies advised of the situation; and coordination of state activities to support disaster operations when state agencies and federal resources are used, to include law enforcement, fire and rescue, health/medical, congregate care (emergency shelter and welfare), and other support, e.g., transportation, restoration of utilities, allocation of resources, and radiological defense.

FIRE MARSHAL

The Fire Marshal's Division, formerly under the Minnesota Commissioner of Insurance, provides fire inspection and investigation services. This responsibility includes the investigation of all fires resulting from questionable and unknown origin to determine causes and if arson has been committed. It also works with numerous other state and federal agencies concerned with fire problems and compiles records of all fires in the state.

The division's primary work is carried on with 19 fire and arson inspectors stationed in 12 district offices throughout the state. Its inspection services cover schools, theatres, dry cleaning establishments, and flammable liquids and gas installations. Since the spring of 1972, the fire marshal division has conducted life safety surveys in health care facilities under a contract with the Minnesota Department of Health. These surveys are conducted by ten life safety specialists.

HIGHWAY PATROL

The Minnesota Highway Patrol is responsible for traffic surveillance and enforcement on the interstate and trunk highways of the state. It also services motorists in distress, assists at accidents, and files accident reports. It enforces truck weight restrictions through permanent weigh stations and mobile scales. Patrol officers are in charge of motor vehicle inspections and responsible for the enforcement of vehicle safety laws. The patrol also licenses and inspects brake and lamp stations.

CAPITOL SECURITY

Capitol Security maintains surveillance of and after hours security for the capitol and other state buildings in the capitol complex and including security for the governor and his residence. State parking lots are also patrolled by this division.

LIQUOR CONTROL DIVISION

This division enforces state liquor laws and inspects all distilled liquor and wine at the time of arrival in the state. Periodic inspections are made of all retail beverage dealers in the state. Thus the channels of all branches of the alcoholic beverage industry are regulated from the manufacturer down to the consumer.

The division approves all licenses and bonds for manufacturers, importers, wholesalers, club and off-sale liquor licenses, and checks all certifications for on-sale licenses issued by municipal authorities. The division also must approve the standards of quality and brands of all alcoholic beverages sold in the state. The division controls all advertising of alcoholic beverages and registers all brand labels. In addition, the division issues permits to private clubs and public places allowing the consumption and display of intoxicating liquor.

CRIME VICTIMS REPARATIONS BOARD

The Crime Victims Reparations Board consists of three members appointed by the governor. It provides for the payment of reparations to innocent victims of crime who have been injured or to dependents or third persons who have paid funeral expenses for persons killed as the result of serious crime. - Operations and Training: Harry L. Moore
- Comptroller: Thomas J. Ryan
- Adjutant: David S. Michaud
- Technician Personnel Officer: George M. Fuller
- Military Support to Civil Authorities: John H. Cox
- Air Administrator: Joseph A. Kazek

Function:

The Adjutant General is the head of the Department of Military Affairs and is appointed by the Governor for an indefinite term. Other department officials are appointed by the Adjutant General for indefinite terms and are placed on state military duty.

The Adjutant General is charged with the recruitment, organization, administration, training, discipline, and supply of the military force of the state, designated as the Minnesota National Guard, which is equipped and, to a very large extent, maintained by the federal government. This force has a dual status in that it is the Minnesota National Guard when in the service of the state and the National Guard of the United States when it is ordered into active military service. When the Guard is in active federal service and the security and welfare of the state is endangered because of the absence from the state of this military force, the Military Code of Minnesota prescribes that the military force of the state will consist of the Minnesota State Guard, organized from those of the Militia of the state who are not likely to be called to federal service during the war of emergency.

The Adjutant General, on appointment by the Executive Council, is the Disaster Relief Coordinator and is responsible for coordinating the use of state agencies and of state and federal emergency funds allocated by the Executive Council or by the federal government.

The Minnesota National Guard has served in active federal service in all of our nation's wars, beginning with the Civil War through and to include the Korean Incident. In October 1961 the 133rd Military Airlift Wing and its subordinate units of the Minnesota Air National Guard were ordered into federal service, for one year, in connection with the Berlin Crises. During the Viet Nam Conflict it has been the policy of the United States Department of Defense to utilize the 47th Infantry Division of the Minnesota Army National Guard as a special Reserve Force with a specific mission, and the Minnesota Air National Guard as part of the Air Force Team with the 133rd Military Airlift Wing flying cargo and troops worldwide with monthly trips to Viet Nam, and the 148th Fighter Interceptor Group at Duluth flying interceptor missions on a 24 hour-a-day basis, 365 days-a-year, as an intricate part of the Air Defense of the United States.

During the period while the Minnesota National Guard was on active duty for World War II and the Korean War, the department organized and maintained a Minnesota State Guard. Whereas the National Guard is armed, uniformed, equipped, and paid for armory drill and field training by the federal government, the State Guard receives no pay while in service in the state by the federal government, and the state must pay for supplying arms and equipment for this force. Plans have been prepared for reactivation of the State Guard should a national emergency again require federal mobilization of our National Guard units.

At the present time the Minnesota National Guard has an authorized strength of 11,927 officers and men. Approximately 9,900 are assigned to the 47th Infantry Division and nondivisional troops of the Army National Guard, and the remainder are assigned to the 133rd Tactical Airlift Wing, Minneapolis, and the 148th Tactical Reconnaissance Group, Duluth.

Army National Guard units are stationed in 66 state-owned armories situated throughout the state and at an Army Aviation base at the Saint Paul Downtown Airport. Air National Guard units are located at a state-owned base at Duluth International Airport, Duluth, and at a federally owned airbase under license to the state at Minneapolis-Saint Paul International Airport, Saint Paul.

The Military Department also has control over Camp Ripley Military Reservation, located seven miles north of Little Falls, Minnesota. Owned by the State of Minnesota, the camp has more than 53,000 acres of ranges and training areas and can provide housing and training facilities for up to 10,000 troops at one time. National Guardsmen from seven states, conduct summer training there each year. In addition, certain Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, and other units conduct cold-weather training there during winter months and weekend training on a year-round basis. Although the land was purchased and is owned by the state, most of the buildings have been constructed from federal funds and most of the funds for support of the camp come from federal sources.

Functions:

The Seaway Port Authority of Duluth is a public corporation organized under Minnesota Laws of 1929 and amendments thereto of 1955, 1967 and 1969 for the purpose of developing and promoting waterborne commerce through the Port of Duluth. Following the federal "Wiley-Dondero Act" of 1954 which appropriated funds of the United States to join Canada in construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway, the State Legislature in 1955 reorganized a Port Authority for Duluth to help prepare the city, state and region for Seaway trade and to promote port growth.

Revenues are received through operation of the Arthur M. Clure Public Marine Terminal — opened in 1959 and built at a cost of $10 million by appropriations from the State, City of Duluth and County of St. Louis — and through leasing of port property made possible by state legislation of 1967. Revenues are used for operation expenses, maintenance, administration and trade promotion. Additionally, since 1965, the state legislature has appropriated money to partially cover domestic and international trade promotion expenditures. Since 1971, that appropriation has been $80,000 annually.

The 1970's have brought record cargo movements to the Port of Duluth-Superior with total international cargo handled since the opening of the Seaway topping the 55 million-ton mark in 1974. The overall direct and indirect economic impact on the state and region as a result of that kind of shipping activity has averaged more than $120 million in each of the past two years.

Minnesota's welfare program is state-supervised and locally administered. The Income Maintenance Bureau is primarily responsible for program development, coordination, and evaluation of those programs administered by county welfare departments which provide cash or direct service benefits to residents of Minnesota whose income is less than the statutory limits for eligibility. The regulation of these programs are carried out through the divisions of Assistance Payments, Child Support, Medical Assistance, Invoice Processing, and Surveillance and Utilization Review.

ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS DIVISION is responsible for implementing federal and state program standards and is responsible for the federal and state funds going to the local welfare agencies having direct administrative responsibility for the financial aid programs of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), General Assistance (GA), General Assistance Medical Care (GAMC), Minnesota Supplemental Assistance (MSA), Food Stamps and Early and Periodic Screening, Testing and Diagnosis (EPSDT).

To discharge this responsibility, the support enforcement program locates absent parents, determines ability of parent to support, establishes paternity if necessary, attempts to obtain a court order for support and to see that the court's order is enforced. Program services are mandated by Federal Law for AFDC recipients whose eligibility is based upon the continual absence of one or both parents.

This division enrolls and trains providers in programs and system requirements. As a part of Invoice Processing, an information base is created which permits utilization, surveillance and audit reviews.

The division also develops statistical profiles of health care delivery and utilization patterns to reveal potential defects in the level of care or quality of service provided in the program.

These functions are carried out through nine divisions.

In addition to the state programs, the division has certain responsibilities for federal funding provisions available to community based programs serving the mentally ill and chemically dependent.

SOCIAL SERVICES DIVISION is responsible for planning, developing, implementing, monitoring and evaluating public social services throughout the state. The purpose of the social service system in Minnesota is to help individuals achieve the maximum level of independent living within the family structure and the community. SERVICES FOR THE BLIND DIVISION provides comprehensive services to blind and visually handicapped persons of all ages, including services for children, vocational rehabilitation programs, and self-care and independent-living services. BUREAU OF RESIDENTIAL SERVICES

Assistant Commissioner for Residential Services: Wesley G. Restad

The Bureau of Residential Services has administrative responsibility for the overall management and direction of care, treatment programs, and services offered in the state hospitals and geriatric facilities under the jurisdiction of the department. The bureau also has responsibility for the provision of direct services to the deaf and hearing impaired and for the administration of laws and regulations which are applicable to seeking reimbursement to the state for the care and treatment furnished persons hospitalized in state hospitals. The bureau is organized to serve two functional areas: the Administrative and Maintenance Management Office serving the 12 facilities, and the Division of Rehabilitative Services serving the nursing homes and providing special direct services for deaf and hearing impaired children and adults.

ADMINISTRATIVE AND MAINTENANCE MANAGEMENT OFFICE provides administrative direction and supervision to the 12 residential facilities so as to effect quality programs and services in a cost effective manner at each facility. Policies and procedures are designed and developed to provide for a uniform administration in the areas of restraint and seclusion, intake and discharge, review boards and affirmative action. This office is also responsible for administering a comprehensive program of securing repayment for the cost of care charges incurred by clients of the state hospital system.

REHABILITATIVE SERVICES DIVISION provides medical care, counseling, and casework services to handicapped children and adults, through a specific direct-services section, a tuberculosis sanatorium, and two geriatric nursing homes.

STATE HOSPITAL PROGRAMS: Most of the state hospitals have expanded their programs to offer a variety of services, including units for mentally retarded individuals at several of the facilities which traditionally have served persons with psychiatric disorders. Similarly, several hospitals now have programs for alcoholic and other chemically dependent persons.

The expansion of programs and services is part of the development of the state hospitals as regional, multi-purpose facilities serving the psychiatric, mentally retarded, and chemically addicted disability groups. Of the 10 state hospitals, six serve MI, MR and CD; two serve MI and CD; and only two specifically serve just the MR.

PROGRAMS FOR MENTALLY ILL: Treatment emphasis in programs for mentally ill persons is the rehabilitation of the patient and his return to the community in the shortest feasible period of time. With advancements in treatment methods, and individualized care and rehabilitative programs, the length of hospitalization periods has been dramatically reduced. For the patient who, because of advanced age or severity of illness, cannot readily be returned to his home community or placed in a nursing home, every effort is made to help him lead a useful and productive life within the hospital setting.

The hospitals' treatment programs include a variety of educational, social, recreational, occupational, and industrial therapeutic activities which are vital in preparing the patient for his return to the community as an active, useful citizen. During the past decade, the number of mentally ill persons in the Minnesota state hospitals on any given day has declined dramatically; however, the number of persons being admitted for mental illness has risen rapidly.

The state hospital system is one part of the state program which serves the mentally ill in Minnesota. The 25 area mentally ill-mentally retarded-inebriacy programs and the county welfare departments also have a major responsibility in the Minnesota delivery system which is rated as one of the best in the nation.

PROGRAMS FOR MENTALLY RETARDED: Programs at facilities for mentally retarded individuals are designed to meet the needs of residents at different age levels and degrees of competence. Those for children and adolescents include care and physical rehabilitation, activation, social skills training, education, and pre-vocational training.

Adult programs provide vocational training and independent living experiences to equip residents with skill toward becoming self-reliant, competent, and productive workers in the community.

For those residents who must remain hospitalized, the program is focused on the development of the individual to maximum self-reliant and social responsibility.

PROGRAMS FOR CHEMICALLY DEPENDENT: The state hospital system has assumed a position of leadership in the delivery of residential services to the alcoholic and abusers of other drugs. Eight multi-disability campuses now have programs that represent a variety of services treating every type of chemical dependency. During the last few years programs have been designed at several of the hospitals to meet the special needs of the communities they serve. These residential services are planned in coordination with county welfare departments, area mental health boards, and other community agencies as an integral and important part of the total "continuum of care", outlined in the state plan for alcohol and drugs.

Appointed: 1969. *retired May 27, 1977.

Assistant Commissioner (Administration): Joseph N. Alexander

Assistant Commissioner (Field Operations): Donald Carlson

Functions:

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has the responsibility for conserving and promoting the wise use and management of the state's natural resources: its forests, game and fish, lands, minerals, state parks, and waters.

Six regions cover the entire state and regional administrators have been appointed (civil service) from department ranks, in accordance with recommendations by the governor's Loaned Executive Action Program (LEAP). This move away from natural resources management under a divisional (central office) structure places management with six regional administrators responsible for managing all resources within their assigned region. They are responsible to the commissioner and his staff, former division directors. This staff constitutes a planning, inspection, project development, guidance, and advisory group.

The task of a regional administrator is to coordinate natural resource management in a region; manage natural resources; direct efforts of those within his/her supervision toward accomplishment of department goals. Programs and objectives approved by the commissioner and formulated with the aid and advice of the commissioner's staff offer guidance.

Legal affairs of the department are handled by attorneys assigned to the department's legal bureau by the attorney general.

The assistant commissioner (administration) directs functions of seven service unit in areas of engineering, office services, licensing, systems management, field services, fiscal operations, and community liaison work.

The assistant commissioner (planning) coordinates planning activities of six divisions (fish and wildlife, forestry, minerals, parks and recreation, and waters) and the bureau of environmental planning and protection.

The assistant commissioner (field operations) coordinates and implements department policies and activities through entire range of field operations in all units.

The following are staff bureaus of the commissioner's office:

THE BUREAU OF PLANNING assists in long range planning for the department. The work involves close coordination with the commissioner's office, each division, and other agencies. The objective is to initiate, promote, and integrate planning activities for the DNR in a matter that will further the best conservation of natural resources. The bureau handles the administration of the federal land and water conservation fund and the state natural resource program involving grants to assist outdoor recreation projects on both state and county levels.

THE BUREAU OF INFORMATION AND EDUCATION is responsible for the planning, production of materials, and dissemination of information regarding Minnesota's natural resources and environment; DNR's policies, programs, techniques and goals in management of these resources; the multitude of diverse recreational opportunities supported by DNR-managed lands and waters; and the aesthetic and economic values inherent in Minnesota's outdoor legacy. The bureau also, through legislative authority, shares responsibility with the department of education for development and implementation of formal environmental education curriculum and teacher education programs. The bureau also conducts, through legislative authority, boat and water safety education programs for youths and adults. Publishes the Minnesota Volunteer, official publication of the department (circulation: 80,000, as of January 1, 1977.)

THE BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT responsibilities include: acquisition of land for wildlife, fish management, public access, state parks and state forests; working with all disciplines of the DNR, counties, federal government, corporations and private individuals in the matter of land exchange, reviewing exchange proposals to determine whether they are in the best interest of the state, and feasible as well as legally possible. The bureau also is responsible for state land leases to provide a means for the public to utilize state lands for private or commercial purposes when by law or by policy the DNR is restricted in the sale of the land; and for the sale of state lands to provide for the disposal of such state lands that are considered better suited for private development, and are surplus to state needs for conservation purposes. The bureau's record section provides ownership status and other pertinent data to all who request it for each parcel of state-owned, DNR-administered land.

DIVISION OF FISH AND WILDLIFE HAS responsibilities for development, management and protection of the state's wildlife resources. Goal of the division's efforts is to provide satisfactory outdoor recreation for all Minnesotans and their guests. Functions entail management of fish and wildlife populations to assure sustained yields and research to uncover new knowledge about these resources.

The section of wildlife conducts a fact finding and management program on game and furbearing species; carries out an extensive program of game census, land acquisition, development for public hunting grounds and wildlife management areas, and a program for improvement of wildlife habitat on private lands; manages 963,000 acres of wildlife lands in 861 different wildlife management areas located in 82 counties; recommends game seasons for 500,000 hunters in the state.

The section of fisheries conducts fact finding studies and an extensive fish management program on approximately 2,600,000 acres of fishing waters. The program includes fish habitat improvement in lakes and streams, stocking of some 500,000,000 fish of various sizes and species from hatcheries, rearing facilities, rescue and transfer operations, and a rough fish control program that removes about 10,000,000 pounds of rough fish annually. The task of maintaining fishable populations of game fish to satisfy heavy and increasing demands by 2,000,000 fishermen for a large variety of species requires an intensive effort at preservation of fish habitat against detrimental shoreland development through acquisition of critical parcels and close control of activities of shoreline owners.

The section of ecological services conducts special studies of fish and wildlife resources in areas that will be affected by public and private construction programs; carries out a lake sounding and mapping program; supervises the aquatic nuisance control program; investigates pollution cases affecting fish and wildlife; and provides laboratory services in biology and chemistry.

Director: David B. Vesall

Foresters furnish technical assistance to private owners of forest properties (with holdings of less than 1,000 acres per ownership); produce seedlings for sale as tree planting stock for use on private and public land; regulate the transportation of christmas trees; and cooperate with counties in the management of timber on tax-forfeited lands; provides forest resource data for management and utilization purposes on all state and county owned lands; assists wood product users and processors in improving utilization resources and efficiency of their operations.

Acting Director: Gerald D. Seinwill

DIVISION OF MINERALS administers more than five million acres of trust fund minerals owned by the state; acts as agent for the counties and local taxing districts in administering five million acres of mineral rights acquired through tax forfeiture; regulates, through public lease sales and lease negotiations, the exploration and extraction of state-owned minerals on these trust fund and tax-forfeited lands; provides for the orderly development of potential mineral areas and the release of barron areas for other types of development and for equitable rental and royalty income from these mineral lands for the trust funds and local governmental units; administers the iron range trail program; regulates environmental impact of mining operations through mineland reclamation programs.

Director: Elwood F. Rafn

THE BUREAU OF PERSONNEL is responsible for administering the personnel affairs of the department; including recruitment, selection, placement, training and maintenance of the work force; and added responsibilities in the area of labor relations and affirmative action, including negotiating and administering of contracts with exclusive bargaining representatives; and administration on a statewide basis of the department's affirmative action plan.

The PCA and its staff deal either directly or indirectly with virtually all of the state's pollution problems. Whenever possible, problems are referred first to local government for resolution, sometimes with the technical assistance of PCA staff. If a problem cannot be resolved satisfactorily at the local level, the agency must evaluate it, determine alternative solutions, and present these alternatives to the agency board.

In this field the agency reflects and acts in the interests of other state departments, as well as the general public and other interests directly concerned with pollution and waste disposal.

DIVISION OF WATER QUALITY

Director: Louis J. Breimhurst

The Division of Water Quality is the largest of the three divisions in the agency, maintaining a complement roughly equal to half the total agency staff. The division has divided its operations into five sections based on functional needs, plus a Section of Divisional Services.

FACILITIES SECTION is the largest section and is responsible for conceptual and final engineering review and approval of plans for all municipal and industrial waste treatment works, technical assistance for the operation of such municipal works, administration of the federal and state construction grants program, and training and certification of waste treatment plant operators.

Section Chief: Perry T. Beaton, P.E.

PERMITS SECTION is responsible for the development, public noticing and issuance of all discharge permits and state disposal system permits. This section administers the federally mandated National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) for all dischargers to navigable waters.

Section Chief: Richard A. Svanda, P.E.

SURFACE AND GROUNDWATERS SECTION is responsible for the development of water quality standards and the routine and special studies monitoring conducted on surface and groundwaters.

Section Chief: John McGuire, P.E.

PLANNING SECTION is responsible for the development of river basin water quality management plans and the development of the Section 208 State Areawide Water Quality Management Plan.

Section Chief: Paul E. Davis

COMPLIANCE AND ENFORCEMENT SECTION provides a compliance function in reviewing permit conditions against reported performance, conducts inspections to determine compliance, maintains an emergency spill reaction team and provides the technical background information in cases where litigation becomes necessary.

Section Chief: Tim K. Scherkenbach

DIVISION OF AIR QUALITY

Director: Edward M. Wiik

Second largest division in the agency, the Division of Air Quality has two major sections, plus two special units.

ENGINEERING SECTION evaluates plans for new or modified air pollutant emission sources, issues installation and operating permits for such sources and conducts source emission tests to determine compliance with emission regulations. The Minnesota State Agricultural Society is a semi-state agency established and confirmed as a public corporation by Minnesota statute. The society is charged with the conduct of an annual state fair, plus the control and utilization of the state fairgrounds, which is state property.

The first state fair (actually, territorial fair) was held in 1855 in the frontier town of Minneapolis. Subsequent expositions were staged at various locations around the state — Fort Snelling, Winona, Rochester, Owatonna and Red Wing — finally settling permanently on the north-western edge of St. Paul (Falcon Heights) in 1885.

In 1975, the society had operating income of $4,484,807 and expenses of $3,960,452. During the same year, it invested $1,105,269 in its physical plant and facilities. Since 1951, the society has functioned without outside financial assistance. Improvements to the fairgrounds, as well as maintenance and operation, are paid for with funds generated by the Fair itself. Another major annual expense is the payment of competitive exhibit premiums — a sum equalling $362,636 in 1975.

More than 1.25 million persons visit the state fair each fall during the exposition which includes shows, auto races, livestock exhibits commercial displays, a carnival, educational demonstrations and many other special events. Another 350,000 persons annually make use of the fairgrounds for off-season special events — including shows, rodeos, sales, community projects, auctions and training programs. No other state or metropolitan facility can boast of such concentrated usage on a year-around basis.

The Minnesota state constitution requires the legislature "to establish a general and uniform system of public schools" and to "make such provisions, by taxation or otherwise as, with the income arising from the school fund, will secure a thorough and efficient system of public schools in each township in the state."

The constitution provides for permanent school funds which are known as the permanent school fund, and the swamp land fund and the endowment fund. Monies accrue to these funds from the sale of school and state lands, from royalties on natural resources that are consumed, and from interest on investments.

Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 120, provides that: "The State Board of Education shall exercise general supervision over public schools and public educational agencies in the state, classify and standardize public elementary and secondary schools and prepare for them outlines and suggested courses of study. The board shall establish rules relating to examinations, reports, acceptances of schools, courses of study, and other proceedings in connection with elementary and secondary schools applying for special state aid."

The legislature has authorized the formation of school districts, which are public corporations with legal responsibilities for maintaining educational programs for all eligible resident pupils.

Sources of Financial Support

The schools of the state derive support from local, county, state, and federal sources. The state's share approximates 65 per cent of the cost of school maintenance. The following state funds contribute to the support of schools:

Endowment Fund — income from the Permanent School Fund

Elementary-Secondary School Occupation Tax Fund — income from 40 per cent of the occupation tax on iron ore; began July 1, 1957.

Special State Aid Fund — an amount appropriated biennially by the legislature and transferred from the General Fund and the Elementary-Secondary School Occupation Tax Fund.

Article XXXIV, Ch. 31, Extra Session Laws of 1971 — reimbursement for tax exempt personal property.

State Aids

According to a provision in the state constitution, the endowment fund is apportioned to school districts on the basis of school membership. All other state aids are paid from the special state aid fund according to laws enacted by the legislature.

The 1971 Legislature established a formula for paying "foundation program" aid. The 1971 Legislature modified the formula and linked it to the permissible school levies. The "foundation program" aid constitutes the major source of aids for the school districts.

Additional aids are granted for the following purposes:

Special Classes or other instruction established for pupils handicapped by blindness, deafness, defective speech, mental retardation, emotional disturbance or by being crippled.

Emergency Aid to districts unable to maintain schools through high local effort, granted at the discretion of the State Board of Education.

Vocational Aid to encourage teaching of vocational courses in the elementary and secondary and area vocational-technical schools.

Transportation or board for pupils who reside one mile or more from the public school which they could attend or from the school they attend pursuant to a program approved by the commissioner of education in all districts. Handicapped pupils are also eligible for transportation or board.

School Lunch Aid to assist in the financing of this program in the public schools.

AFDC Aid paid at the rate of one-half pupil unit extra for each child eligible for Federal aid for dependent children are educated in the district.

MINNESOTA COMMUNITY COLLEGES

The present Minnesota Community College System is a continuation of the Minnesota state junior college system. In 1963, the legislature created the state junior college board. In 1964, the existing junior colleges then operated by local school districts were invited to become part of the new system of two-year colleges.

The eleven public junior colleges which were operated by their various school districts until 1964 and their respective dates of origin are as follows: Rochester, 1915; Hibbing, 1916; Eveleth, 1918; Virginia, 1921; Ely, 1922; Itasca, 1922; Worthington, 1936; Brainerd, 1938; Austin, 1940; Fergus Falls, 1960; and Willmar, 1962. In 1966, Eveleth and Virginia combined to become what is now Mesabi Community College.

The system grew to 18 community colleges when new institutions were started: Anoka-Ramsey, Coon Rapids, 1965; Metropolitan, Minneapolis, 1965; Northland, Thief River Falls, 1965; North Hennepin, Brooklyn Park, 1966; Lakewood, White Bear Lake, 1967; Rainy River, International Falls, 1967; Normandale, Bloomington, 1968; and Inver Hills, Inver Grove Heights, 1970. Extensive building programs have been completed, and all colleges occupy their own buildings on their own campuses.

Laws of Minnesota, 1973, Chapter 349, changed the names of the state junior colleges and the state junior college board to community colleges and the board for community colleges.

The enrollment in the community colleges has grown substantially. The 11 original colleges had a total enrollment during the 1963-64 academic year of 3,941 full-time equivalent students. During the 1976-77 academic year total enrollment was 28,097.

Community colleges have long served the functions of providing the first two years of programs leading to baccalaureate degrees. Minnesota community colleges are providing this service and, in addition, are moving toward the national pattern of community college operation which provides programs of general studies, vocational and technical programs, a wide range of offerings in continuing education, and a diverse program of student activities. It is intended that these community colleges shall truly become post-high-school educational and cultural centers of the respective areas in which they are located.

As a whole or by committee, the board visits and thoroughly inspects the grounds, buildings, modes of instruction, discipline, and management of each state university at least once in each year; reports to the governor and the legislature on or before November 15 in each even-numbered year the condition, wants, and prospects of each state university with recommendations for its improvement.

A central administrative office headed by the chancellor, who serves as chief executive officer of the state university system, is to provide leadership and coordination in such areas as curriculum development, campus planning and development, budget allocations, management systems and to provide the state university board with operational data, enrollment information, fiscal reports, represent the university system to other elements of state government and to carry out the policies and directions of the state university board.

MINNESOTA STATE UNIVERSITIES

The seven Minnesota state universities — located in Bemidji, Mankato, Moorhead, St. Cloud, Southwest at Marshall, Winona and the metropolitan area of Minneapolis-St. Paul — primarily serve the state of Minnesota by providing quality education at a reasonable cost.

Operating under the governance of the ten-member Minnesota State University Board, all have been created by an act of the legislature and are financed by the tuition and fees paid by the students and by direct appropriation of the legislature.

Five of the universities were originally created as normal schools for preparation of elementary school teachers: Winona, 1860; Mankato, 1868; St. Cloud, 1869; Moorhead, 1888; Bemidji, 1919. In the years following World War I the curriculum was expanded and the normal schools became four-year teachers colleges offering the bachelor of education degree. The first class to receive this degree was graduated in 1926.

During the post World War II period the colleges broadened their curricular objectives to include an increasing number of non-teaching degree programs in the liberal arts and sciences, as well as graduate programs in teacher education. In 1953 the colleges received legislative authorization to offer the master of science degree in education. In 1957, the legislature changed the colleges' designation from state teachers colleges to state colleges. Master's degree programs in fields other than education were authorized in 1963.

The sixth university, Southwest State, Marshall, was authorized by the legislature in 1963 and began instruction in the fall of 1967.

In 1971, the legislature established Minnesota Metropolitan State University. Based in Minneapolis-St. Paul, owning no land or buildings, MMSC is an innovative institution focusing primarily on educational programs for transfer students from community colleges and area vocational-technical institutes as well as for adults who wish to obtain additional education while continuing to work. In 1975 the legislature changed the state colleges designation to state universities.

Today the 32,000 students attending the state universities may choose among many career and professional educational opportunities which reflect the needs of today:

—Two-year-technical, vocational and pre-professional programs not otherwise available or accessible to students through a community college or vocational school, or which the state colleges are uniquely equipped to offer.

—Four-year bachelor's degree programs in the liberal arts and sciences, in education, in business, in the fine arts, and in an increasing number of occupational/vocational areas.

—Graduate programs leading to the master's degree and beyond in selected fields.

—A common market student exchange program enabling a student enrolled at any state college to take selected courses at any of the other colleges at no loss of credit.

—Many foreign travel opportunities as well as individualized learning programs which students, with the help of college faculty, may design.

—Internships for academic credit which allow students to supplement classroom learning with professional experience in jobs related to their major fields.

—Special programs to help minorities, women, veterans, working people, the disadvantaged and the physically handicapped realize their educational goals.

—The six universities beyond the metropolitan area have been authorized by the state board to offer external degree programs for persons in the surrounding regions who may not be able to come to the campus to study or whose educational objectives may require alternatives to the customary on-campus courses. These new programs will not replace the traditional curriculum. Rather, they will provide new options for students and should enrich the more traditional programs through the discovery of new methods of teaching, learning, and evaluation.

Each of the Minnesota state universities remains committed to using its unique strengths and characteristics to respond to the educational needs of its community and region. The universities also share a commitment to offering their students a kind of learning that permits personal development, intellectual growth, and a dedication to human values.

Function:

The University of Minnesota was founded in February, 1851. At first it functioned in the Village of St. Anthony, now a part of Minneapolis, as the "preparatory department of the University of Minnesota," an academy giving classes at the high school level.

Twenty-five and one-third acres of the present site were purchased in 1854, and the first campus building, Old Main, was completed in 1858. Depression, financial difficulty, Indian uprisings and the Civil War forced the university to lie dormant from 1860 to 1867. On September 15, 1869, the reorganized University of Minnesota opened as an institution of higher learning. William Watts Folwell was the first president, and 18 students were in attendance.

From that second beginning, the university has grown steadily. In the fall of 1976 student registration on the five campuses in the Twin Cities, Duluth, Morris, Crookston and Waseca totaled 56,138. Degrees are awarded each year to over 10,000 students, in contrast to the first graduating class of two in 1873.

The university serves not only its students but all residents of Minnesota through the services of its extension division, information services, radio station, and agricultural experiment stations and its sponsorship of exhibits, concerts, lecturers and publications.

The nation also is served by the university through its contributions in research. Medicine, agriculture, engineering and social welfare benefit from its experiments and surveys. The conquest of brucellosis, the development of taconite processing, utilization of the state's mineral resources, increasing understanding of the mysteries of cosmic rays and new developments in organ transplantation and life-saving heart and cancer surgery are some of the significant results of university research projects.

Functions:

The Minnesota Historical Society is the oldest institution in the state and is the official custodian of the state's history. It is unique among institutions of its kind in that it is older than the state it serves. The society collects and preserves those items, records, and published materials which make possible an accurate interpretation of the history of Minnesota through a broad range of dissemination forms and techniques. Its collections comprise 300,000 books and pamphlets, millions of manuscripts, 100,000 photographs, and a statewide newspaper collection.

The society publishes a quarterly magazine, Minnesota History; a magazine for school children, Roots; a bi-monthly newsletter, Minnesota History News; and books on various aspects of the state's history. Recent publications include Ten Men of Minnesota and American Foreign Policy, The Journals of Jonathan Carver, Minnesota's State Capitol, an updated edition of Minnesota's Historic Sites: A Guide, multimedia curriculum units on The Ojibwe and Minnesota Government and Politics, Minnesota's Old Government Roads, and several important studies in prehistoric archaeology.

The Library and Museum Collections Division preserves, organizes, and conserves the record of Minnesota — books, newspapers, paintings, museum items, and other materials — for public use and enjoyment. An oral history program gathers primary source material not readily available in printed form through the use of tape recorded interviews. The Educational Services Division illuminates the Minnesota story through museum exhibits, materials for use in schools, guided tours of the state capitol and historical society, and public programs. By locating, excavating, and interpreting archaeological remains at historic sites throughout the state, the Archaeology Department brings another dimension to the society's work.

The resources of the society are available to the public. Museum displays and exhibits, both in the society's headquarters and at its historic sites, help depict the story of Minnesota from prehistoric times to the present. Thousands of persons visit the society each year, many of whom are school children to whom museum lessons are given. Tours to places of historic interest are also conducted each summer. County and local historical societies are encouraged and promoted through a field services program. The field services program provides technical assistance to the 200 county, local, regional, and other historical societies in Minnesota.

Since 1958 the society has been active in acquiring, preserving, developing, and interpreting major historic sites in Minnesota. Twenty-six important landmarks are now preserved and operated by the Society through gift, purchase by the state, and cooperative agreements. These include significant sites related to agriculture, ancient man, American Indians, the fur trade, politics, transportation, the decorative arts, and military history. The society serves the public by making it possible for visitors to have direct contact with the past through its historic sites program. The following sites are open on a regular schedule: Burbank-Livingston-Griggs House and Alexander Ramsey House, St. Paul; Oliver H. Kelley Farm, near Elk River; Mille Lacs Indian Museum, southwestern shore, Mille Lacs Lake; Minnehaha Depot and Historic Fort Snelling, Minneapolis; W. W. Mayo House, Le Sueur; Lindbergh House, near Little Falls; North West Company Fur Post, near Pine City; Lower Sioux Agency, near Morton; Upper Sioux Agency, near Granite Falls; Indian Petroglyphs, near Jeffers; Fort Ridgley, near Fairfax; Folsom House, Taylors Falls; Comstock House, Moorhead; Lac qui Parle Mission and Fort Renville, near Montevideo; Birch Coulee Battlefield, near Morton; Grand Mound near International Falls; Split Rock Lighthouse, near Two Harbors; Harkin Store, near New Ulm; and Marine Millsite, Marine on St. Croix. The society has a long range program planned for acquisition and development of historic sites of quality in Minnesota to serve its citizens in understanding the present through knowledge of the past.

In addition to historic sites, the society administers a number of programs for the state: State Archaeology Survey; State Historic Preservation Program; State Capitol Tour Program; State Archives. The collection of state archives — the public records during the territorial period and since statehood in 1858 — are a rich source of history of state government and many other facets of Minnesota history. The Archives/Manuscripts Division preserves, organizes, and conserves for public use and enjoyment the private and public manuscripts of the state and its people.

A network of eight regional centers located on the campuses of cooperating colleges throughout the state expand the research possibilities in the field of Minnesota history by collecting and preserving documentary sources in scattered outstate areas. The operating centers in 1976 were located at Bemidji, Duluth, Mankato, Marshall, Moorhead, Morris, St. Cloud, and Winona.

Membership in the society is open to anyone. Members receive the quarterly magazine, the newsletter, discounts on books, tours, and voting privileges at the annual meeting.

Approximately 70 per cent of the Society's funds are received from legislative appropriations. The funds donated from private sources are used primarily to finance special projects. In the disposition of these private funds the society is deemed a private corporation.

Function:

The purpose of the Minnesota Labor Relations Act and the policies of the Bureau of Mediation Services are the maintenance and promotion of industrial peace within Minnesota. Tempered with this desire is the protection of the rights and interests of the public, employers, representatives of employees, and employees. The basic purpose is two-fold: settlement of work stoppages before they begin and reduction of days lost due to work stoppages.

By holding mediation meetings, acting as bargaining agent hearing officers, conducting bargaining agent elections, and by maintaining a list of qualified labor-management arbitrators, the bureau seeks to meet this goal.

The bureau administers certain sections of Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 179, covering three district industries or areas of employment: private, public sector (state, county, municipal), and charitable hospitals.

Each of the four basic functions does not receive equal proportions of staff time; approximately 85% of available time is assigned to the mediation function. Mediation is the process by which a third party acts as a catalyst for two parties having opposite or differing viewpoints. The mediator attempts through a variety of techniques to bring the parties to a point of mutual agreement on a particular item or items.

A staff member acting as a mediator has the responsibility to bring the parties together through the use of reason, suggestions, and information; no ruling or decision is made, but parties are brought into agreement through persuasion. It is only when a staff member acts as a hearing officer that certain binding authority is present.

JUDICIAL BRANCH

Responsible for interpreting and maintaining the integrity of the Minnesota constitution and law, six levels of courts function within the judicial branch: supreme court, district courts, county courts, probate courts, municipal courts, and justices of the peace. Judges are elected by voters in their respective jurisdictions without party designation.

THE JUDICIARY IN MINNESOTA

The following introduction describes the jurisdictions of each of the six divisions of the state judiciary. Supplementary information about these courts in this manual is indicated by page references.

Supreme Court (see p. 390 to 395)

Jurisdiction:

The Minnesota judicial system is headed by the supreme court, the state's court of last resort. The court consists of one chief justice and eight associate justices. Vacancies on the court are filled by governor's appointment.

To the supreme court may be taken appeals from decisions of the state's district court and certain municipal courts. In some cases, matters may be presented directly to the supreme court without having been heard previously by a lower court.

Under a 1957 law the chief justice of the supreme court is required to supervise and coordinate work of the state's district courts. In order to carry out these additional duties, the supreme court may provide by rule that the chief justice not be required to write opinions as a member of the court. This same law permits the court to provide by rule to hear cases in divisions, rather than have all members present at the hearing of a case.

Terms:

The supreme court has one court term each year beginning the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January. This term generally continues until the end of the calendar year, with recesses at the discretion of the court.

Election:

Under the law, a candidate seeking election to the supreme court must specify that the candidate is filing for a specific justice's office which would otherwise become vacant.

Pursuant to law, the supreme court each court term has appointed a judge of district court to act as a justice of the court in hearing and deciding cases. In recent years, the volume of cases before the court has been such that it has been necessary for the court to retain services of two commissioners for the predisposition screening of cases.

District Court (see p. 395 to 407)

Jurisdiction:

There is one district court for the state of Minnesota, divided into ten judicial districts. The chief justice of the supreme court has the power to assign judges from one district to serve in another district.

The constitution provides that the district court shall have original jurisdiction in all civil and criminal cases and shall have such appellate jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law. At present the law provides for appeals from county court, probate court, municipal courts, and justices of the peace.

In Ramsey and Hennepin counties the district courts have jurisdiction of juvenile court matters. In Ramsey county the district court judges assign a specific district judge to the juvenile division for a period of one year during which time the judge handles juvenile matters exclusively. In Hennepin County a judge is elected by the voters to the specific office of "District Court Judge, Juvenile Division", whose duty also is to give priority to juvenile cases.

Election:

Judges are elected by the voters of their respective districts for six-year terms. Candidates file for a specific judgeship, and this information is stated on the ballot. Judges are nominated and elected without party designation.

County Court (see p. 407 to 409)

Jurisdiction:

The county court system combines probate, municipal, and justice courts into one court and in some instances combines two or more counties into a single county court district. Hennepin and Ramsey counties are excluded from the county court law.

The county court is divided into three divisions, civil and criminal, family court, and probate. The county court has civil jurisdiction where the amount in controversy does not exceed $5000 exclusive of interest and costs. The county court has criminal jurisdiction over misdemeanor, petty misdemeanor and preliminary hearing cases. The family court division includes all cases arising under the juvenile court act over which the county court has original exclusive jurisdiction and all cases arising out of or affecting the family relationship including civil commitments. The county court has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court over actions for divorce, separate maintenance, adoption, and change of name. The probate division hears all cases in law and in equity for the administration of estates of deceased persons and all guardianship and incompetency proceedings. In addition the county court may establish a traffic violations bureau and a conciliation court within the civil and criminal division.

Election:

Judges are elected by the voters of their respective county court districts for six-year terms. Candidates file for a specific judgeship, and this information is stated on the ballot. Judges are nominated and elected without party designation.

Probate Court

Jurisdiction:

Probate court jurisdiction is incorporated into the county court except in Hennepin and Ramsey counties which have a separate probate court with judges elected for six-year terms. The probate court has unlimited original jurisdiction in law and equity for the administration of the estates of deceased persons and all guardianship and incompetency proceedings.

Jurisdiction:

The only separate municipal courts in Minnesota are in Hennepin and Ramsey counties.

Designated as Hennepin County Municipal Court and Ramsey County Municipal Court, these courts have jurisdiction in civil matters where the amount in controversy does not exceed $6000. Each county has a conciliation court with jurisdiction limited to civil actions involving $500 or less.

Election:

Municipal court judges are elected by voters of Hennepin and Ramsey counties for six-year terms.

Justices of the Peace

Jurisdiction and election:

Elected for two-year terms in townships and cities which do not have regular county court sessions or a traffic violations bureau, justices of the peace have authority to receive pleas of guilty where no sentence of imprisonment is involved, to set bail in misdemeanor cases, to exercise civil jurisdiction in default matters up to $100 and to perform the marriage ceremony.

LOCAL ADMINISTRATION

The legislature has created a system of city, county and regional officers and commissions to administer local government in Minnesota — the fourth state in total number of such units in the United States (after Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Ohio) and first in number of townships: 855 cities, 87 counties, 1,805 townships, 13 regional administrations.

DEVELOPMENT OF REGIONS IN MINNESOTA

The Regional Development Act of 1969 provided for creation of Regional Development Commissions (RDC) in Minnesota. Twelve RDC's have been created which together with the Metropolitan Council (established in 1967) cover all areas of the state.

Steps in Organizing

Most of the organizational activity occurred during 1973, including: selection of members, selection of officers, preparation and adoption of bylaws, selection of office location and recruiting of executive director and staff. The commissions were formed only after local governments representing a majority of the population in each region petitioned the governor requesting their formation.

Each commission selects its own chairman, staff, and develops its own work program and priorities for action.

Aids in Planning

Each fiscal year, each commission prepares a detailed overall program design or work program to use as a management tool in conducting its activities. These work programs are vehicles for involving state agencies in the review of commission plans. State agencies have been invited to participate in the review sessions on each commission's plan.

The governor has designated RDC's as regional clearinghouses. This means they have the authority to review applications from governmental units for state and federal assistance.

The Office of Local and Urban Affairs in State Planning Agency has been charged with responsibility of coordinating the state's assistance program to RDC's.

*created by special act of legislature

Functions:

Minnesota's Regional Development Commissions (RDCs) were formed by counties and municipalities representing a majority of the population in each region (see map) who petitioned the governor to establish a regional development commission as provided for in the Regional Development Act of 1969. The purpose of this act is: "To facilitate intergovernmental cooperation and to insure orderly and harmonious coordination of state, federal, and local comprehensive planning and development programs for the solution of economic, social, physical, and governmental problems of the state and its citizens . . ."

RDCs are required to prepare and adopt a comprehensive development plan for their region and to review all applications from governmental units requesting loans or grants from federal and state agencies when the application is clearly related to the region. They may also carry out studies and research and provide technical assistance to local governments in the region.

Each RDC is required to prepare an annual report which includes: a statement of receipts and expenditures, a detailed budget, description of plans and studies prepared by the RDC, a list of projects reviewed, and RDC recommendations regarding federal and state programs, cooperation, funding, and legislative needs.

Functions:

The Metropolitan Council was created for the purpose of coordinating the planning and development of the seven county metropolitan area (Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott, and Washington counties.) It began operations in August of 1967, and assumed all the powers, duties, obligations, and property carried or owned by the Twin Cities Metropolitan Planning Commission under Chapter 473 of Minnesota Statutes.

The council's main responsibilities are in the areas of metropolitan planning, coordination of local and special units of government, and in research and study, making recommendations to the legislature based on its findings and conclusions.

Planning:

The council prepares a comprehensive development guide that consists of policy plans for metropolitan commissions and policy statements, goals, standards, programs and maps that recognize the physical, social, and economic needs of the metropolitan area. The guide is amended periodically.

Coordination:

The basic mission of the Metropolitan Council is to coordinate planning and development. The council prepares the regional plan for metropolitan commissions and reviews and approves the development programs that the commissions prepare to carry out the regional plan.

The council also reviews the long term comprehensive plans of other independent commissions, boards, and agencies in the region. If these plans are inconsistent with the development guide, the council can suspend the plan pending modification. The council reviews the long term comprehensive plans of local governments in the area. It has 90 days to complete its review, and under a 1976 law, can require local governments to modify their plans to bring them into conformance with plans for regional transportation, parks, sewer, and airport services.

In addition, the council reviews all federal aid applications requiring regional review. The comments and recommendations of the council become part of the application when submitted.

Applications for federal or state aid in land acquisition under the land and water conservation fund of the Bureau of Recreation, open space program of Housing & Urban Development, and the state natural resources fund must have council approval.

Research:

The Metropolitan Council is charged with the responsibility of conducting research and study programs into a wide range of problems of an urban and metropolitan nature. Among these subjects are: municipal incorporations and annexations, land use, parks and open space needs, airports, highways, transit facilities, public hospitals, libraries, schools, other public buildings, air and water pollution, solid waste disposal, storm water drainage, the tax structure and assessment practices, and the consolidation of common local government services.

The Metropolitan Council is financed by a tax levy of up to .23 of a mill on all taxable property in the metropolitan area, and by federal and state grants.

The council is also authorized to bond for water pollution control programs and regional park acquisition and development.

MINNESOTA'S 87 COUNTIES

Government: Counties are governed by a board of commissioners and administrative officers elected by the people. State law allows alternative forms of government, chiefly to allow for an elected executive, a manager, or administrator, and the option to make administrative offices appointive.

Functions:

During the decade of the seventies, the legislature has increased the responsibilities of county government. A county court system has been established (see p. 407, this manual); counties are developing shorelands management and solid waste management systems.

Counties have authority for planning and zoning, to establish housing and redevelopment authorities and to direct the assessing function (except in cities over 30,000 population) in addition to regular duties such as administration for the state of welfare, elections, vital statistics, tax levies, and highways.

A DIRECTORY OF MINNESOTA COUNTIES

Suite 165, Metro Square Building
St. Paul 55101
(612) 296-2428

Law provides: The commission is composed of three members appointed by the governor for six year terms, one of whom must be learned in the law. Annually the commission selects from its members a chairman who possesses the powers and duties prescribed by the general law that is applicable to the heads of state departments and agencies. All appointees must be state residents for five years prior to appointment. When the commission holds hearings, the local county board selects two of its members to serve with the three regular members. Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 414.

Members:

Thomas J. Simmons
Robert W. Johnson
Gerald J. Isaacs

Residence:

Olivia
Anoka
St. Paul

Office:

Chairman

Term expires:

June 30, 1981
June 30, 1977
June 30, 1979

Executive Secretary: William A. Neiman

Functions:

Legislative intent in creating the Municipal Commission reflected these findings: (1) sound urban development is essential to the continued economic growth of this state; (2) municipal government is necessary to provide the governmental services essential to sound urban development and for the protection of health, safety, and welfare in areas being used intensively for residential, institutional and governmental purposes or in areas undergoing such development; (3) the public interest requires that municipalities be formed when there exists or will likely exist the necessary resources to provide for their economical and efficient operation; (4) annexation to or consolidation with existing municipalities or unincorporated areas unable to supply municipal services should be facilitated; and (5) the consolidation of municipalities should be encouraged. The Municipal Commission is empowered to promote and regulate development of municipalities so that the public interest in efficient local government will be properly recognized and served.

Minnesota was the first state in the country to establish an independent administrative commission to hear and decide questions of municipal incorporation and boundary adjustment. The municipal commission law has been adopted by the United States Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations as a 'model statute' and has now been enacted by several other states. In 1969, the Legislature added an 'orderly annexation' section to the law which allows the commission to assist local communities in developing comprehensive long range agreements for the orderly extension of municipal boundaries and services.

CITIES IN MINNESOTA

Law provides: Cities are governed either by home rule charters (as authorized by the state constitution) or by the city code (Minnesota Statutes Chapter 412). Of the 855 cities in Minnesota, 102 are home rule cities, 753 are statutory cities.

Form of government:

Home rule cities may establish any form of government they choose in their charters. There are 28 council-manager cities, two commission cities, and the rest have the mayor-council form.

Statutory cities may choose a form of government from three alternatives: the mayor-council form with either (1) an elected clerk (standard plan), (2) an appointed clerk (plan A), or (3) the council-manager form (plan B). There are 17 plan B statutory cities; the rest are plan A or standard plan.

Functions:

Police and fire protection, street maintenance, sewer and water, parks and recreation are traditional city services. In addition, cities may choose to provide utilities, sell liquor, operate a hospital, maintain an airport, and provide ambulance service, among other options.

Additional Information about Minnesota cities is available from the League of Minnesota Cities, 300 Hanover Building, St. Paul 55101, (612) 222-2861.

STATES' GOVERNMENT

Exchange of information about government within each of its several branches goes on daily among the several states. Inquiries received in St. Paul indicate that one of Minnesota's more respected exports is effective innovation in government.

ANATOMY OF THE STATES

The 50 state governments in the United States all draw their power from those responsibilities which the United States Constitution does not direct to itself. The internal functions of each state in areas such as education, transportation, welfare and elections are to a large degree the responsibility of state government.

Each of the states maintains a legislature. Nebraska is the only state with a unicameral (one house) legislature as well as the only state which elects its legislators on a non-partisan basis. The sizes of the legislatures also vary, from New Hampshire with 424 members to Nebraska with 49. The length of sessions and the frequency with which they meet also vary. Each of the 50 states is unique in the problems and challenges its government must meet. Just as no two states are exactly alike, neither are their needs, and as a result, neither are their governments.

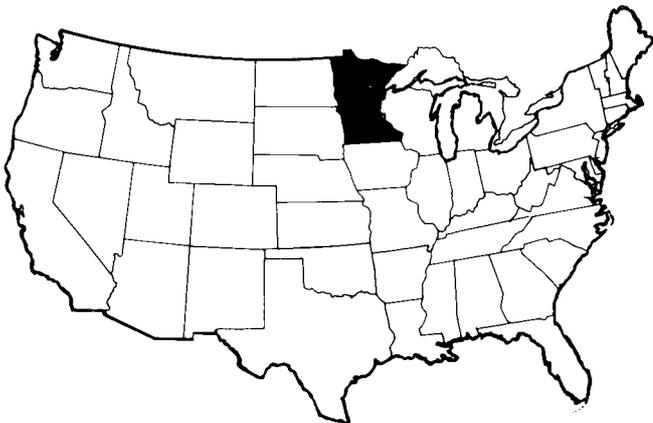

The executive branch of states' government is just as varied as the legislative. Some states have opted for a cabinet form of government in which the governor appoints the other executive members of the state government, generally with the approval of at least one house of the legislature. The appointed officials in those states are indicated by † on the chart of administrative officials in this chapter. Most states, however, still elect at least some, if not most, of their state officials in statewide general elections.

The power of each state government is considerable. Each possesses a wide range of choices in what it shall do, how its government shall be organized, and how it shall finance its services. Furthermore, only an amendment to the United States Constitution approved by three-fourths of the states, could jeopardize the autonomy the states presently enjoy.

Additional information about government in the fifty states (including compensation of administrative officials and state legislators) is available from The Council of State Governments, Iron Works Pike, Lexington, Kentucky 40511, (606) 252-2291.

Vice President Walter F. Mondale

Biography:

Walter Frederick ("Fritz") Mondale, elected the 42nd Vice President of the United States on November 2, 1976, was born in Ceylon, Minnesota on January 5, 1928. His father, Theodore Sigvaard Mondale, was a Methodist minister and his mother, Claribel Cowan Mondale, was a music teacher.

He spent his boyhood in the small towns of Southern Minnesota, attending public schools in Ceylon, Heron Lake and Elmore. After two years of study at Macalester College in St. Paul, where he helped manage Hubert Humphrey's first successful U.S. Senate campaign in 1948, Mondale took a year off from school to work in Washington, D.C. He returned to the University of Minnesota, earned his B.A. in political science, and joined the U.S. Army, entering as a private and emerging as a corporal. He received his LL.B. degree (cum laude) from the University of Minnesota Law School in 1956, having served on the law review and as a law clerk in the Minnesota Supreme Court.

For the next four years, Mondale practiced law in Minneapolis. In 1960, Minnesota Governor Orville Freeman appointed the 32-year old attorney to the position of state Attorney General. Mondale was elected to the office in 1962 and served until 1964, when Governor Karl Rolvaag appointed him to fill the U.S. Senate vacancy created by Hubert Humphrey's election to the vice presidency. He was re-elected to the Senate in 1966 and 1972.

During his twelve years in the U.S. Senate, Mondale served on the Committees on Finance, Labor and Public Welfare and the Budget; the Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities; the Select Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity; the Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs and the Special Committee on Aging. He served as Chairman of the Select Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity, the Intelligence Committee's Domestic Task Force, the Subcommittee on Children and Youth and the Subcommittee on Social Security Financing.

Mondale is the author of The Accountability of Power: Toward a More Responsible Presidency. His hobbies include fishing, skiing and tennis.

On December 27, 1955, he married the former Joan Adams of St. Paul. The Mondales have three children: Theodore, born in October 1957; Eleanor Jane, born in October 1960; and William, born in February 1962. The Mondale family is the first Vice Presidential family to occupy the Vice President's house, the official residence established by Congress in 1974.

ELECTIONS

Election '76 voter turnout in Minnesota led the nation and qualified three political parties for primary and general election ballots in Election '78: American, Independent-Republican, and Democratic-Farmer-Labor. Election returns in this manual include designations by precinct in legislative districts for 1976 General Election and three 1977 Special Elections.

ELECTION '78

In 1976, 1,978,590 Minnesotans (75.43% of the qualified voters) voted in the general election on November 2nd. Minnesota led the nation in voter turnout at the 1976 general election and continued the leadership in voting participation which has consistently placed this state among the top three states.

1978 offers Minnesotans another opportunity to become directly involved in the state and national electoral process. To be elected are a United States senator, eight representatives in congress, 134 state representatives in the legislature, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, and attorney general. In addition, state, district, and county judges and local governmental officials will be elected. Constitutional amendments may be proposed by the legislature for approval by voters at the 1978 general election.

Where do elections begin?

Constitutions and charters provide the basic framework for elections by defining the qualifications for voting and the offices to be elected and the qualifications and terms for each.

Statutes, ordinances, rules and regulations spell out details for administering these elections.

What is a political party?

Minnesota law defines "political party" as an organization presenting candidates in the last preceding general election one or more of whom has been voted for in each county in the state and shall have received not less than 5% of the total vote cast for all candidates in that election.

In 1978, three political parties are qualified: Democratic-Farmer-Labor, Independent-Republican, and American. Recognition of political parties is regulated by state law, and their constitutions are filed with the secretary of state.

Who joins a party?

Since Minnesota voters do not register with a declaration of political party, they may choose to affiliate with a party in a variety of ways, including attending its precinct caucus and declaring intent to support that party's candidates in the next election.

What is a precinct caucus?

The legal process of the general election year begins with political party precinct caucuses the fourth Tuesday evening in February.

A precinct is an election area which has one polling place. Each of the almost 4000 precincts will elect delegates to represent their residents directly and indirectly at county, district, and state conventions.

What is a primary election?

In Minnesota the purpose of a primary election is to nominate political party candidates to the general election ballot and to reduce the number of candidates for a nonpartisan office to no more than twice the number to be elected in the general election.

Partisan candidates, therefore, run among themselves in such an election, and the choice of candidates is within the party.

The choice of who will be elected to hold an office is deferred to the general election, when the surviving candidates from each party are presented to the voters for the voters' choice.

How are other parties' candidates nominated?

Other parties or groups may place one or more candidates on the general election ballot by nomination petitions signed by 2,000 voters for a statewide office, 1,000 voters for congress, 500 voters for legislative office.

What is a general election?

All candidates nominated either in the primary election or by petition appear on the general election ballot the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November every even numbered year. A candidate who did not win nomination in the primary election may not run in the general election. Voters may write in the names of persons for whom they wish to vote if they do not appear on the ballot.

Whose vote counts?

Every vote is counted in every election. Active citizens compound their electoral influence by early participation in the process of candidate nomination and selection of political party platform issues. First in every general election year is the precinct caucus of the political party. Citizens who vote there for officers and delegates to local and state conventions add an extra measure of participation in the democratic process.

Other questions?

Qualifications for voting are stated in the Minnesota Constitution, Article VII (see Chapter Two, this manual). Citizens seeking additional information about the election process are invited to consult the secretary of state, county auditor in their county, and the political party of their choice.
