FOREWORD FROM THE CHAIR

The Minnesota Board on Judicial Standards is charged with enforcing the Minnesota Code of Judicial Conduct and with interpreting the Code for the education of judges and others. The Minnesota Legislature created the Board and funds it. The Governor appoints the Board members: four judges, four public members, and two lawyers. The Minnesota Supreme Court adopts procedural rules for the Board and adopts the Code for judges.

The Judicial Code establishes a high standard for judicial conduct in the State of Minnesota. The Preamble to the Code states:

The United States legal system is based upon the principle that an independent, impartial, and competent judiciary, composed of men and women of integrity, will interpret and apply the law that governs our society. Thus, the judiciary plays a central role in preserving the principles of justice and the rule of law. Inherent in all of the Rules contained in this Code are the precepts that judges, individually and collectively, must respect and honor the judicial office as a public trust and strive to maintain and enhance confidence in the legal system.

Judges should maintain the dignity of judicial office at all times, and avoid both impropriety and the appearance of impropriety in their professional and personal lives. They should aspire at all times to conduct that ensures the greatest possible public confidence in their independence, impartiality, integrity, and competence.

The members of the Board take these principles to heart in carrying out their duties. As it has since its creation in 1972, the Board continues to make every effort to fulfill its mission.

The Board's primary function is to receive, investigate, and evaluate complaints of judicial misconduct. Complaints that do not allege conduct that violates the Code are dismissed. If the Board finds that a judge has violated the Code, the Board may issue private discipline or a public reprimand. In cases involving more serious misconduct, the Board seeks public discipline by filing a formal complaint against the judge with the Supreme Court. After a public hearing, potential disciplines include reprimand, suspension, or removal from office. In addition to cases involving misconduct, the Board has jurisdiction to consider allegations that a judge has a physical or mental disability.

Education is also an important Board function. The Board and its Executive Secretary respond to judges' requests for informal advisory opinions. The Board also issues formal opinions on subjects of importance. The Board's website provides links to the Code, the Board's procedural rules, Board opinions, public discipline cases, annual reports, and other resources. In addition, the Executive Secretary makes presentations on current ethics topics to newly appointed judges, to meetings of district court judges, and to state-wide judicial seminars. Finally, the Executive Secretary endeavors to maintain open and cordial relationships with the Minnesota District Judges Association, the Minnesota Supreme Court, and the Court of Appeals.

The Board accomplished many important goals in 2017. These include:

- The Board hired Thomas M. Sipkins, a retired district court judge, to serve as its Executive Secretary, replacing Thomas C. Vasaly who retired in July 2017. Mr. Vasaly continues to serve the Board on a contract basis. After Mr. Vasaly's retirement, but before Mr. Sipkins' start date, Sara P. Boeshans served as the Acting Executive Secretary.
- The Board publicly posted "Minnesota Judicial Ethics Outline" on the Board's website. The Outline addresses a wide variety of subjects, such as the history of judicial discipline in Minnesota, case law interpreting the Code, and summaries of the Board's ethics opinions.
- The Board, in support of its petition to amend Rule 63 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, submitted legal analysis and met with the Supreme Court's Advisory Committee on the Rules of Civil Procedure. The Board's proposal was designed to remove confusion in the Rules as to the correct standard for judicial disqualification. On March 13, 2018, the Minnesota Supreme Court granted the Board's petition. Order Promulgating Amendments to the Rules of Civil Procedure, File No. ADM04-8001 (Minn. 2018). The revised language incorporates the disqualification standard in Judicial Code Rule 2.11(A)(2)(c) and provides guidance to judges, lawyers, and the public when disqualification issues arise.
- Board staff issued a record number of informal advisory opinions to judges.
- The Board engaged in outreach and education for judges at bench meetings, seminars, and conferences.
- Board members provided in-person guidance and advice to certain judges experiencing difficulties.
- The Board issued a Request for Proposal for Board Counsel, evaluated applicants, and selected Board Counsel to handle future major cases.

INTRODUCTION

A society cannot function without an effective, fair, and impartial procedure to resolve disputes. In Minnesota, the Constitution and laws provide a system designed to fit these essential criteria. The preservation of the rule of law, as well as the continued acceptance of judicial rulings, depends on unshakeable public recognition that the judiciary and the court system are worthy of respect and trust.

Unlike the executive and legislative branches of government, the judiciary "has no influence over either the sword or the purse." The Federalist No. 78, at 465 (Alexander Hamilton). "The legal system depends on public confidence in judges, whose power rests in large measure on the ability to command respect for judicial decisions. Whether or not directly related to judicial duties, misconduct by a judge brings the office into disrepute and thereby prejudices the administration of justice.” In re Miera, 426 N.W.2d 851, 858 (Minn. 1988).

It is the Board’s mission to promote and preserve public confidence in the independence, integrity, and impartiality of our judicial system by enforcing the Judicial Code and by educating judges and others regarding proper judicial conduct.

AUTHORIZATION

The 1971 Legislature approved an amendment to the Minnesota Constitution authorizing the Legislature to “provide for the retirement, removal or other discipline of any judge who is disabled, incompetent or guilty of conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice.” The 1971 Legislature also created the “Commission” (now “Board”) on Judicial Standards and authorized the Supreme Court to make rules to implement the legislation. (Current version at Minn. Stat. §§ 490A.01-.03.) In 1972, Minnesota voters approved the constitutional amendment (Minn. Const. Art. VI, § 9), and the Minnesota Supreme Court adopted the Code.*

ORGANIZATION

The Board has ten members: one Court of Appeals judge, three district court judges, two lawyers, and four citizens who are not judges or lawyers. The Board members are appointed by the Governor and, except for the judges, are subject to confirmation by the Senate. Members’ terms are four years and may be extended for an additional four years.

The Board meets approximately eight times annually and more often if necessary. Non-judge members of the Board may claim standard State per diems as well as reimbursement for expenses such as mileage. Judge members are not paid per diems.

The Board is supported by a staff consisting of the Executive Secretary, an executive assistant, and a part-time staff attorney. At the direction of the Board, the staff is responsible for reviewing and investigating complaints, providing informal opinions to judges on the application of the Code, maintaining records concerning the operation of the

* Until 1972, Minnesota appellate and district court judges could be removed or suspended from office for misconduct only by the rarely used impeachment process, which involves impeachment by the Minnesota House of Representatives and conviction by the Minnesota Senate. Since 1996, judges have also been subject to recall by the voters, although this has never happened. Minn. Const. Art. VIII, § 6.

office, preparing the budget, administering the Board funds, and making regular reports to the Board, the Supreme Court, the Legislature, and the public.

CODE OF JUDICIAL CONDUCT

The Minnesota Supreme Court has adopted the Code of Judicial Conduct to govern judicial ethics. Intrinsic to the Code are the precepts that judges, individually and collectively, must respect and honor the judicial office as a public trust and strive to enhance and maintain confidence in our legal system.

The Board considers only complaints involving the professional or personal conduct of judges. The Code is not construed so as to impinge on the essential independence of judges in making judicial decisions. Complaints about the merits of decisions by judges may be considered through the appellate process.

RULES AND PROCEDURES

The Rules of Board on Judicial Standards are issued by the Minnesota Supreme Court. Under its Rules, the Board has the authority to investigate complaints concerning a judge's conduct or physical or mental condition. If a complaint provides information that furnishes a reasonable basis to believe there might be a disciplinary violation, the Board may direct the Executive Secretary to conduct an investigation.

Under the Rules, the Board may take several types of actions regarding complaints. It may dismiss a complaint if there is not reasonable cause to believe that the Code was violated. A dismissal may be accompanied by a letter of caution to the judge. If the Board finds reasonable cause, it may issue a private admonition, a public reprimand, or a formal complaint. The Board may also defer a disposition or impose conditions on a judge's conduct, such as obtaining professional counseling or treatment.

The Board affords judges a full and fair opportunity to defend against allegations of improper conduct. If the Board issues a formal complaint or a judge appeals a public reprimand, a public hearing will be held. Hearings are conducted by a three-person panel appointed by the Supreme Court. After the hearing, the panel may dismiss the complaint, issue a public reprimand, or recommend that the Supreme Court impose more serious discipline, such as censure, suspension, or removal from office. If the panel recommends that the Court impose discipline or if the judge or the Board appeals the panel's action, the final decision is made by the Court.

All proceedings of the Board are confidential unless a public reprimand is issued or a formal complaint has been filed with the Supreme Court. The Board notifies complainants of its actions, including dismissals and private dispositions, and gives brief explanations.

An absolute privilege attaches to any information or testimony submitted to the Board, and no civil action against a complainant, witness, or his or her counsel may be based on such information.

AUTHORITY AND JURISDICTION

The Minnesota Board on Judicial Standards has jurisdiction over complaints concerning the following judicial officials:

- State court judges, including judges of the District Courts, Court of Appeals and Supreme Court. There are 289 district court judge positions and 26 appellate judge positions.
- Approximately 92 retired judges in “senior” status who at times serve as active judges.
- Judicial branch employees who perform judicial functions, including referees, magistrates, and other judicial officers.
- Judges of the Minnesota Tax Court and the Workers’ Compensation Court of Appeals and the Chief Judge of the Office of Administrative Hearings*

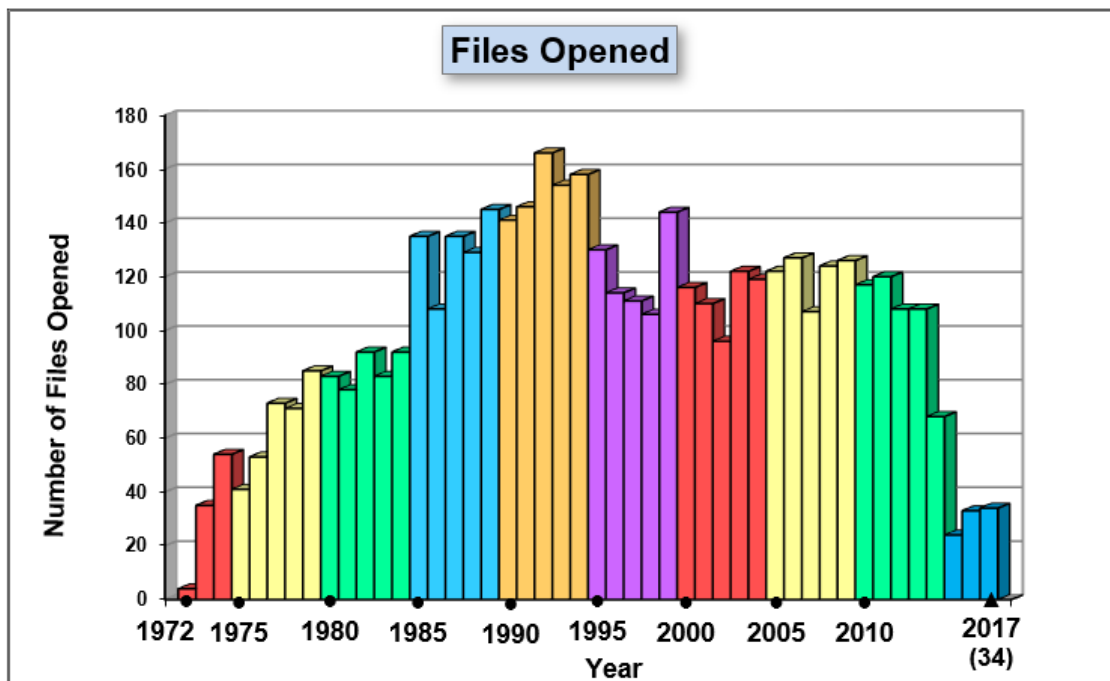

The Board does not have jurisdiction over complaints that concern the following persons:

- Court administrators or personnel, court reporters, law enforcement personnel, and other non-judicial persons.
- Federal judges. Complaints against federal judges may be filed with the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals.
- Lawyers (except, in some circumstances, those who become judges or who were judges). Complaints against lawyers may be filed with the Office of Lawyers Professional Responsibility.

* See Rule 2, Rules of Board on Judicial Standards; Code of Judicial Conduct, “Application”; Minn. Stat. §§ 14.48, subds. 2 and 3(d), 175A.01, subd. 4, 271.01, subd. 1, 490A.03.

2017 COMPLAINT STATISTICS

During 2017, the Board received 29 written complaints alleging matters within the Board’s jurisdiction. In addition, the Board initiated investigations in five matters based on a judge’s self-report or on a report the Board received, for example, from the chief judge of the judge’s district. This brings the total files opened in 2017 to 34. The number of files opened annually by the Board since 1972 is set forth below:

This chart shows a decline in the number of files opened beginning in 2014. The decline appears to be due to at least two factors.

First, in 2014, the Legislature transferred primary responsibility for enforcing the “90-day rule” from the Board to the chief judges of the judicial districts. The 90-day rule generally requires a judge to rule within 90 days after a case is submitted. Minn. Stat. § 546.27. Judicial Branch case tracking reports of possible violations are now sent to the chief judges rather than to the Board.

Second, the chart reflects only matters that were reviewed by the full Board and does not reflect complaints that were summarily dismissed. If a complaint does not fall within the Board’s jurisdiction, the complaint may be summarily dismissed by the Executive Secretary, subject to the approval of a single Board member. This procedure avoids the inefficiency of requiring the full Board to review complaints that are not within its jurisdiction. For example, complaints that merely express dissatisfaction with a judge’s decision are summarily dismissed under Board Rule 4(c). In recent years, larger numbers of nonjurisdictional complaints have been summarily dismissed, as shown in the next table:

SUMMARY DISMISSALS (BY YEAR)
2009	76
2010	83
2011	56
2012	78
2013	60
2014	99
2015	102
2016	112
2017	117

As reflected in the following two tables, most complaints were filed by litigants against district court judges:

SOURCES OF COMPLAINTS AND REPORTS – 2017
Litigants	20
Attorneys	8
Judge	3
Citizen	1
Self-Report	1
Other	1
TOTAL	34

JUDGES SUBJECT TO COMPLAINTS AND REPORTS – 2017
District Court Judges	27
Court of Appeals Judges	0
Supreme Court Justices	0
Referees/Magistrates/Judicial Officers	6
Retired Judges on Active Duty	1
TOTAL	34

The types of allegations are set forth below. The total exceeds 34 because many complaints contained more than one allegation.

ALLEGATIONS REPORTED – 2017

Failure to follow law or procedure	15
General demeanor and decorum	14
Bias, discrimination, or partiality	11
Ex parte communication	7
Improper conduct on the bench	3
Conflict of interest	2
Abuse of authority or prestige	1
Practicing law; giving legal advice	1
Other	1

Of the 34 files opened in 2017, the Board determined that 14 of the matters warranted formal investigation. A formal investigation includes asking the judge to submit a written response to the Board. In addition, a formal investigation typically includes review of court records and interviews with court participants, and may include reviewing audio recordings of the hearings.

The majority of complaints and Board-initiated investigations (18) were dismissed. Many complaints are dismissed because they concern a judge's rulings or other discretionary decisions that are generally outside the Board's purview. The reasons for dismissal are set forth below. The total exceeds the number of dismissals in 2017 because some complaints were dismissed for more than one reason.

DISMISSAL REASONS – 2017

Insufficient evidence	13
No misconduct; no violation	12
Legal or appellate issues	4
Lack of jurisdiction	2
Within discretion of judge	2
Frivolous or no grounds	1

As indicated below, in 2017, three matters resulted in discipline and six matters were resolved with a letter of caution to the judge.

DISPOSITIONS – BY YEAR ISSUED
Year	Letter of Caution	Admonition	Deferred Disposition Agreement	Public Reprimand	Supreme Court Discipline
2009	0	4	2	1	1
2010	1	11	0	2	0
2011	0	2	0	1	1
2012	2	5	0	1	0
2013	4	2	0	1	0
2014	2	5	0	2	1

2017	6	3	0	0	0

PUBLIC DISPOSITIONS

Public dispositions are posted on the Board's website at <http://bjs.state.mn.us/board-and-panel-public-reprimands>. There were no public dispositions in 2017.

PRIVATE DISPOSITIONS

In 2017, the Board issued three private admonitions and issued six letters of caution. A letter of caution is a non-disciplinary disposition. The admonitions and a sampling of the letters of caution are summarized below.

Summaries of the 34 private admonitions the Board has issued since 2009 are available on the Board's website at <http://www.bjs.state.mn.us/file/private-discipline/private-discipline-summaries.pdf>. The purpose of providing summaries of the private dispositions is to educate the public and to help judges avoid improper conduct.

Private Admonitions Issued in 2017

- A judge issued an order eleven days after the 90-day deadline in violation of Minn. Stat. § 546.27. Two years earlier, the Board had issued a letter of caution to the judge for delayed decisions in two other cases. The Board found a violation of Rule 2.5(A).
- A judge issued an order in which he made a negative statement about the character of a person associated with one of the parties. The statement related to a matter affecting the judge's personal interests. This matter was unrelated to the case before the judge. The Board found a violation of Rules 1.3, 2.4(B), and 2.10(A). In addition, the order was issued ten days after the 90-day deadline in violation of Minn. Stat. § 546.27. The Board found a violation of Rules 1.1 and 2.5(A).
- A judge imposed a monetary sanction on an attorney whose conduct placed unnecessary burdens on the court and opposing party, without providing him advance notice and without giving him an opportunity to be heard. The Board found a violation of Rule 2.6(A).

In addition, the Board issued a private admonition which was appealed under Rule 7 of the Rules of Board on Judicial Standards to a three-member panel appointed by the Supreme Court. Ultimately, the panel dismissed the complaint with a 2-1 decision, holding that the Board had failed to prove by clear and convincing evidence that the judge had violated the Code of Judicial Conduct.

Letters of Caution Issued in 2017

- The Board cautioned a judge that signing proposed orders without providing the opposing party an opportunity to respond could violate Rule 2.6(A) (Right to Be Heard), and Rule 2.9(A).
- The Board cautioned a judge that yelling or swearing during an in-chambers meeting could violate Rule 2.8(B).
- The Board cautioned a judge that statements made during a third-party visitation hearing such as, "I didn't know parenting was optional?" and "I'm just saying some people who are scared to death shouldn't have children," may be perceived as improper and may violate Rule 2.8(B).

PUBLIC INQUIRIES

The staff receives frequent inquiries about judges' conduct. The inquiries are often from parties involved in court proceedings. Callers are given information about the Board and told how to file a complaint.

The staff often receives requests for information, complaints that concern persons over whom the Board has no jurisdiction, and complaints that do not allege judicial misconduct. Callers are given appropriate referrals when other resources are available.

ADVISORY OPINIONS

The Board is authorized to issue advisory opinions on proper judicial conduct with respect to the provisions of the Code. The Board encourages judges who have ethical questions to seek its guidance. The Board provides three types of advisory opinions:

- The Board issues formal opinions on issues that frequently arise. These opinions are of general applicability to judges.
- A Board opinion letter is given to an individual judge on an issue that requires consideration by the full Board.
- The Board's Executive Secretary issues informal opinions to judges as delegated by the Board pursuant to Board Rule 1(e)(11). Judges regularly contact the Executive Secretary for informal opinions on ethics questions. Depending on the nature of the request, the Executive Secretary may consult the Board Chair or another Board member.

The Board began issuing formal opinions in 2013. The Board's current practice is to ask for public comments on its proposed formal opinions before the opinions are made final. Formal opinions are sent to the chief judges of the Minnesota courts and are posted on the Board's website at <http://www.bjs.state.mn.us/formal-opinions>.

The Executive Secretary gave 122 informal opinions to judges in 2017. This continues the trend of a significant increase over prior years, reflecting the increased assistance the Board is providing to judges who are faced with ethics issues. The opinions cover a wide range of subjects, including disqualification standards and permissible extrajudicial activities. In many cases, the judge requests the opinion by telephone and the opinion is given orally. Since 2014, however, opinions are usually confirmed by e-mail and include analysis and citation to legal authority.

BUDGET

The Board's current base budget is $361,000 per year, which is used to pay staff salaries, rent, and other expenses. The staff consists of the Executive Secretary, a part-time staff attorney, and an executive assistant.

In addition, a special account funded at $125,000 per year is potentially available to the Board to pay the expenses of major cases which often require the Board to retain private counsel, resulting in significant expenditures for attorney fees.
