In Minnesota, the best moments aren't measured in time.
They're measured in paddles on the lake and pedals throughout the city.
In 130-foot pines and 20-ounce pints. Rock shows and rocks on the shore.
Lighthouses and northern lights. Lost forests and newfound friends.
How will you measure yours?

MINNESOTA WILD RICE AND WALLEYE CROQUETTES WITH CURED CUCUMBER AIOLI

Café Bon Appetit (Exec. Chef Christian Pieper) & KC's Best Wild Rice

Yield: 12-14 croquettes

For croquettes:

3 c KC's Best hand harvested wild rice
2 qt vegetable stock
2 pt heavy cream
½ c white wine
1 bunch fresh thyme
(tied with butcher's twine)
½ T fresh cracked pepper

2 T cumin
2 lbs Red Lake walleye,
skinned and deboned
2 carrots, peeled and small diced
4 celery stalks, small diced
1 medium onion, small diced
1 T salt

For dredge:

4 eggs, beaten + 2 T water
2 c panko bread crumbs
1 c flour seasoned with 1 T Lawry's
3 c canola oil (for pan frying)

For aioli: Recipe on page 11

For croquettes, wash wild rice thoroughly, then combine wild rice and vegetable stock in a sauce pot. Bring to a boil, then reduce down to medium simmer for about 45 minutes, or until rice kernels split. While rice is cooking, in a separate sauce pan combine heavy cream with white wine, thyme, cracked pepper, and cumin. Bring to a boil and reduce to medium simmer. Add cleaned walleye into reducing cream. Cook walleye 8-10 minutes in cream, or until cooked thoroughly - just before it starts to fall apart. Remove walleye with slotted spoon; set aside to cool. When cooled, flake walleye by hand; set aside in fridge.

After fish is removed, add carrot, celery, and onion, and reduce cream by ¾ of original amount. Be careful to not "break" the heavy cream (cook it so far that the fat separates), though you will reduce it down to the point of almost breaking. Remove thyme; let cool for a moment.

In a large bowl mix rice with flaked walleye; slowly add cream and vegetable mixture (this is the binder). Add salt. Once mixed, taste for seasoning and adjust accordingly.

Form mixture into 4 oz. cakes (hockey puck shape) and let chill in fridge for 1 hour.

Prepare 3 separate bowls with flour in one, egg mixture in the other, and panko bread crumbs in the last. Coat chilled walleye cakes first in the flour, then thoroughly in egg, then finish in panko. Heat a sauté pan with canola oil to 345 degrees; pan fry cakes 2-3 minutes per side to a golden brown sear. Serve walleye cakes hot.

Top walleye cakes with aioli, or serve on the side as a dip (See page 11). Serve cakes with a main entrée dish or make smaller to serve as hors-d'oeuvres.

CURED CUCUMBER AIOLI

Topping for Walleye Croquettes on regional cover page 9.

Ingredients

- 2 cucumbers, peeled and seeded
- 2 T kosher salt
- 2 t fresh dill, chopped
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 1 t xanthan gum (available at specialty grocers)
- 1 c extra virgin olive oil

Directions: Place prepared cucumbers in a colander; cover with 2 T kosher salt. Toss slightly so all cucumbers are salted. Let stand over a sink or another bowl for 1 hour to allow proper drainage. This extracts all bitter juices from cucumbers and gives them a salty cured flavor.

After cucumbers are drained, add to a blender along with dill, lemon juice, and xanthan gum. Puree until smooth. Then, with blender running, slowly add extra virgin olive oil through the small hole in lid. Taste for seasoning.

Top walleye cakes with aioli, or serve on the side as a dip. Serve cakes with a main entrée dish or make smaller to serve as hors-d'oeuvres.

THUNDER COOKIES

Positively 3rd Street Bakery & Locally Laid Egg Company
Duluth, Minnesota

Ingredients

1 lb real butter, room temperature
2 c brown sugar
1 1/2 c white sugar
2 Locally Laid eggs
1 1/4 c salted peanut butter
1 1/2 t baking soda
1/2 t salt
2 c thick rolled oats
1 3/4 cup chocolate chips
4 c whole wheat pastry flour
Love

Directions

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Combine butter, brown sugar, and white sugar; mix well until creamed together and no visible butter lumps remain. If your butter is soft, this is easily done by hand; if your butter is cold, a mechanical mixer is helpful.

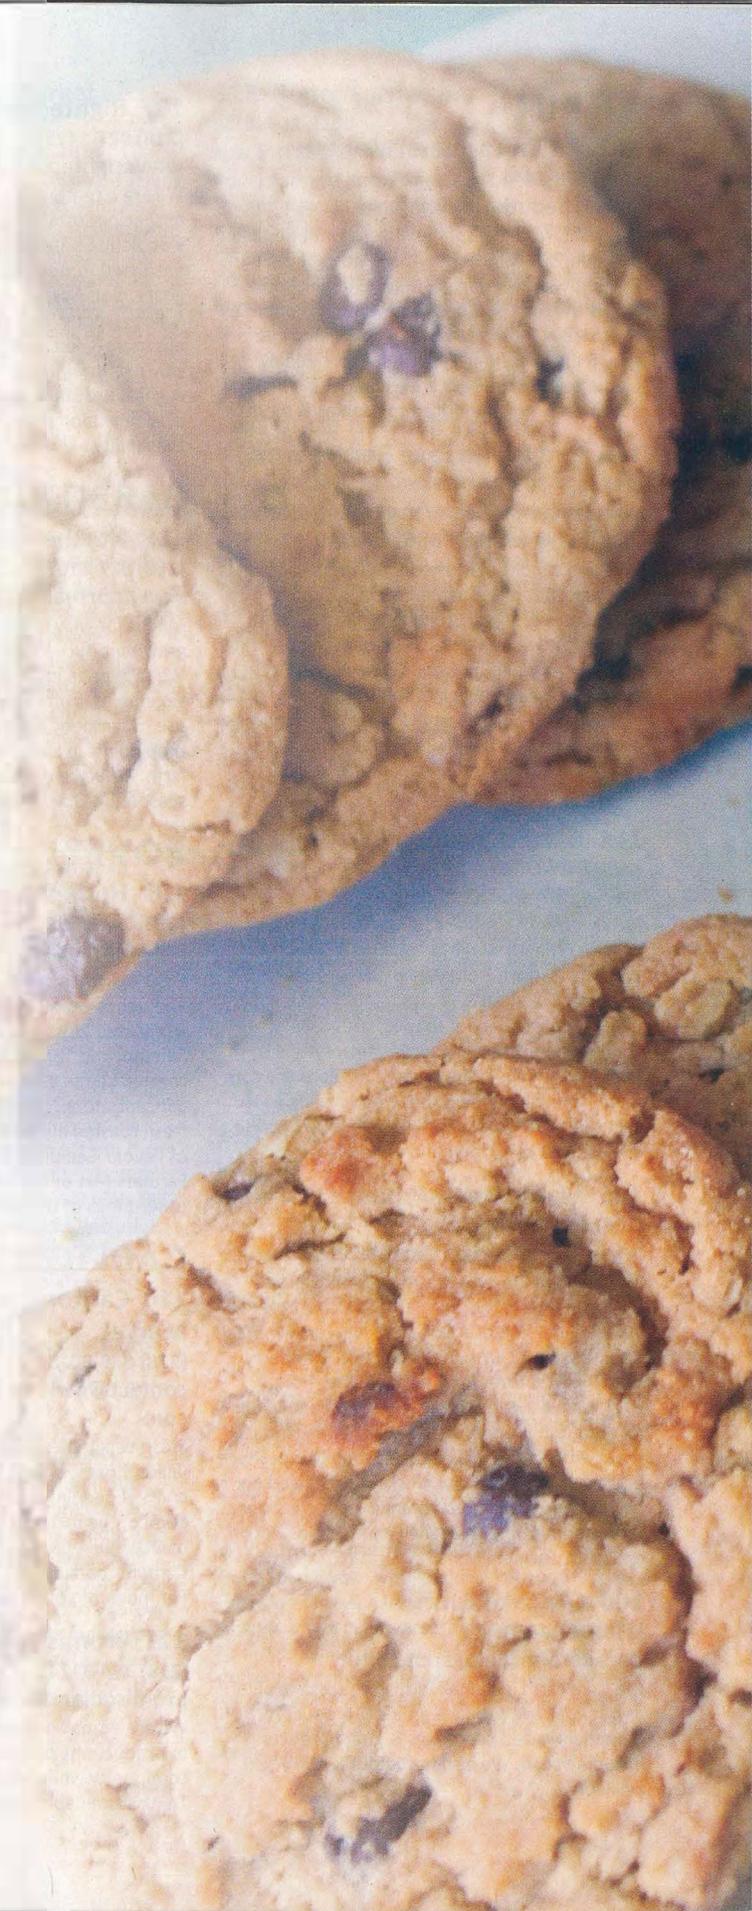

Add eggs and mix until well combined, then add peanut butter and mix until well combined. Add baking soda, salt, oats, and chocolate chips; stir well. Finally mix in whole wheat pastry flour.

Place heaping tablespoon of cookie dough onto baking sheets, allowing plenty of space to spread. Bake cookies in preheated oven for 10-11 minutes. Let them cool, then enjoy.

Baker's note

If you noticed love in the ingredient list, you may be wondering when it gets added. Love begins with an intention at the beginning of the baking process and gets added every step of the way. Love what you are doing, love the people for whom you are baking, and love yourself.

SOMMER PASTA

La Ferme & Sundogs Prairie Farm

For pasta:

1 c flour
1 egg
1-2 T cream

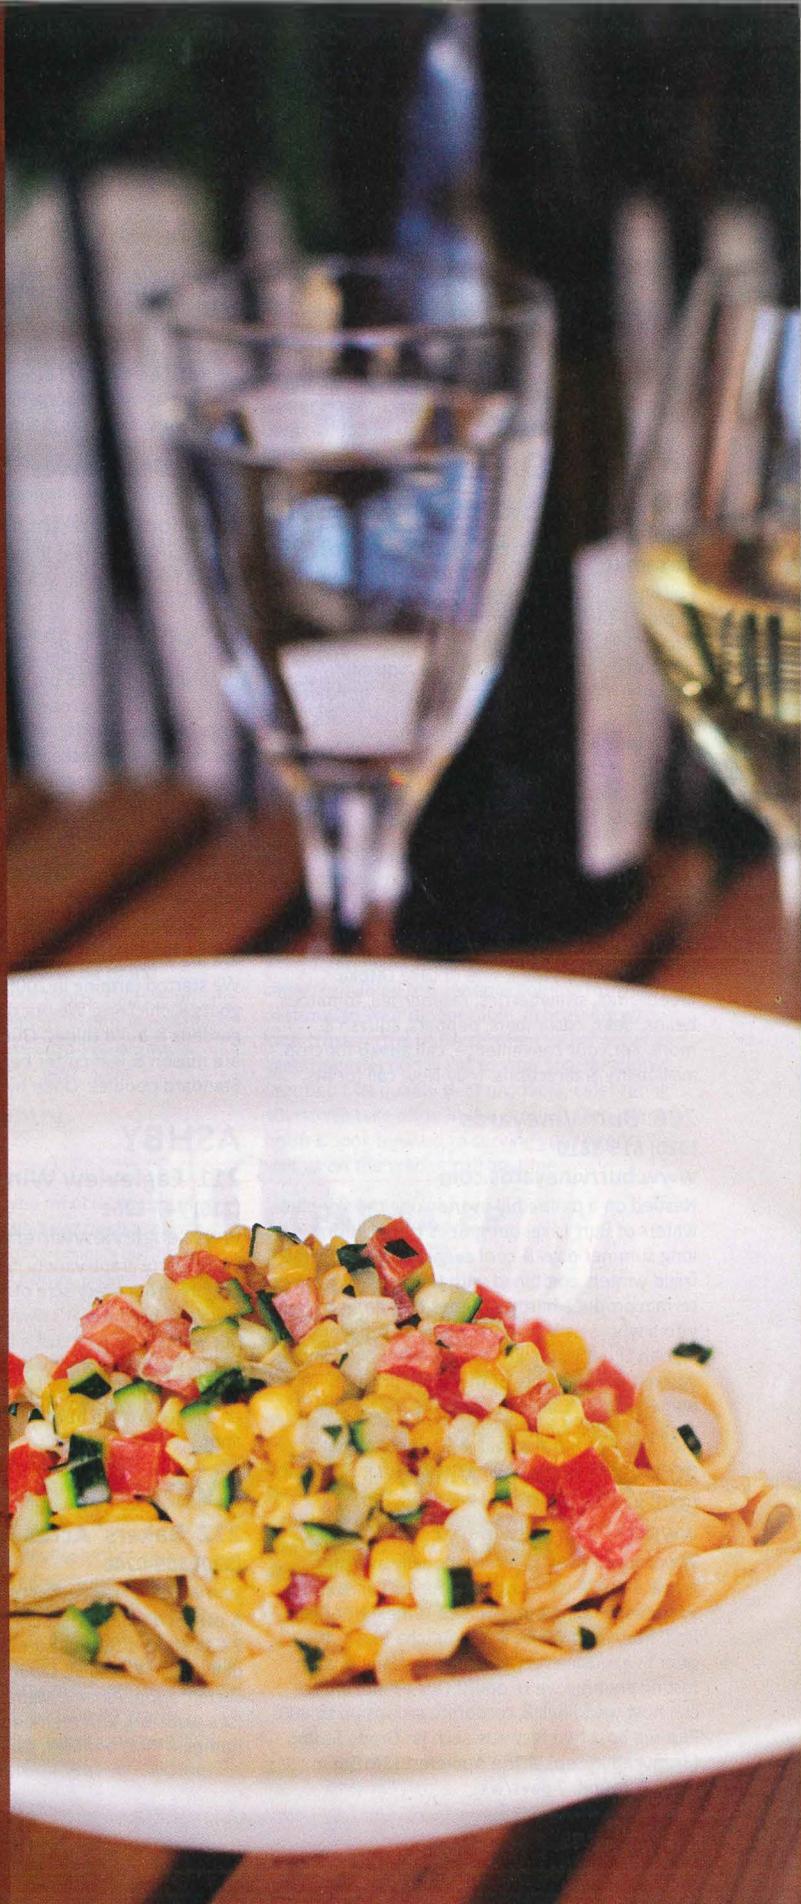

For vegetables:

2 T butter
1 small onion, small dice
3 ears of corn, cut off cob
1 zucchini, small dice
1 summer squash, small dice
2 garlic cloves, minced
¼ c white wine
1 c heavy cream
1 tomato, seeded and small dice
1 T minced fresh tarragon

Mix all the ingredients for the pasta in a bowl. Turn out onto a lightly floured counter and knead until dough is smooth, approximately 20 minutes. Cover dough and let rest until water comes to a boil. Bring a pot of water to a boil. Roll out dough to about 1/8 inch thick; cut into desired shape. In a couple of batches blanch pasta just until it rises to the top of the water. Remove and let cool. Repeat the process until all the pasta is done.

In a sauté pan over medium heat, melt the butter. Add onions and cook until translucent. Add corn and cook about 1 minute. Add zucchini, summer squash, and garlic and cook until you can smell the garlic, about 30 seconds. Add white wine and simmer until the wine is almost gone. Add cream and bring to a simmer. Add the cooked pasta and simmer until cream is thick. Toss the pasta with the tomatoes and tarragon. Plate and enjoy!

TUM TUA: LONG BEAN SALAD

Big River Farms & Sen Yai Sen Lek

Yield: 4 servings

For salad:

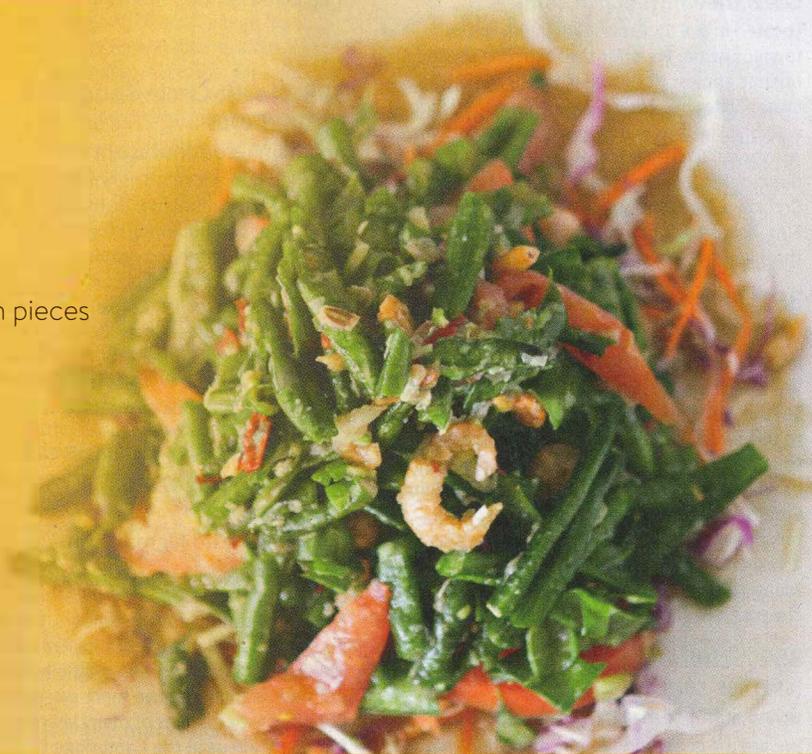

- 6 cloves garlic
- 4-6 Thai chilies
- 3 T dried shrimp
- 1 lb long beans or green beans, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 c cherry tomatoes, halved
- ½ c peanuts, crushed

For sauce/dressing:

- 1 T tamarind juice
- 4 T fish sauce
- 3 T palm sugar, crushed
- 3 T lime juice

For garnish/accompaniment:

- 2 T peanuts, crushed
- 1 medium cucumber, sliced

Prepare sauce/dressing in a small bowl by combining tamarind juice, fish sauce, palm sugar, and lime juice. Be sure palm sugar is completely dissolved. Set aside.

Using a Lao-style mortar and pestle (<http://importfood.com/claymortarpestle.html>), crush garlic and chilies into a rough paste. Add dried shrimp and slightly break down with pestle 15-20 times, incorporating into garlic and chili paste; dried shrimp should be bruised but remain mostly whole and intact. Add cut long beans to mortar and use pestle to bruise and lightly crush. Use a large spoon to assist in stirring and scraping sides of the mortar. Add tomatoes and peanuts to mortar; gently crush with pestle until combined.

Spoon long bean salad onto a serving plate and garnish with crushed peanuts. Serve with sliced cucumbers or other raw vegetable accompaniment.

ALTERNATIVE PREPARATION METHOD NOT USING MORTAR AND PESTLE:

Prepare dressing/sauce as instructed.

Place chopped long beans in 1-gallon Ziploc bag; lightly crush with kitchen mallet or rolling pin. Remove long beans from bag and place in large mixing bowl. Finely chop garlic and Thai chilies, then add to mixing bowl along with dried shrimp, cherry tomatoes, and peanuts. Toss salad until combined. Add dressing and continue to toss salad until thoroughly combined.

Garnish with additional crushed peanuts.

BISON BRISKET SLIDER

The Bluestem Restaurant & Prairie Heights Bison

Yields: 24 sliders

For Ginger Pickled Red Onions:

2 red onions, sliced thin with the grain
3 c red wine vinegar
2 c sugar
1 T minced ginger
1 T Prairie Rock Honey (Luverne, MN)
Pinch of red pepper flakes

Bring vinegar, sugar, ginger, and pepper flakes to a boil, then pour over onions and put in cooler overnight.

For Brisket:

4 T olive oil & canola oil blend (75/25)
1 5-6 lb Prairie Heights Bison Brisket (Luverne, MN)
Salt & Pepper, to taste
1 1/2 c carrots, rough chop
1 1/2 c celery, rough chop
3 1/2 c onion, rough chop
15 garlic cloves
1/2 c tomato paste
6 sprigs fresh thyme
3 12-oz local stout beers (Take 16 Brewing Company, Luverne, MN)
1 qt chicken stock
2 dozen slider buns
Cilantro, to garnish (optional)

Heat oil in a large roasting pan that will hold entire brisket, or cut in half for a smaller pan. Season brisket liberally with salt and pepper. Heat pan and oil to its smoking point, then sear brisket for 2-4 minutes on each side, or until it turns a nice brown color. Remove brisket from pan and set aside.

Add carrots, celery, onion, and garlic: sauté with salt and pepper. When vegetables have browned and cooked down, add tomato paste and sauté another 3-4 minutes. Deglaze pan with stout beers, then bring to a boil.

Transfer vegetables and brisket into a larger pan in which brisket can be mostly submerged. Add chicken stock (there should be enough liquid to cover $\frac{3}{4}$ of brisket). Add thyme to top, cover, and bake at 275 degrees for 8 hours, or until falls apart. Pull/shred brisket.

For MN Stout Sauce:

Remove brisket from braising liquid and set aside. If possible, remove thyme sprigs. Put remaining liquid and vegetables in a blender and blend until smooth. Strain through a fine mesh strainer. Reduce liquid by simmering over medium heat until gravy consistency. Season to taste.

To assemble sliders:

Toast slider buns slightly. Heat brisket and sauce together, then put on bun (about 2 oz of brisket per slider). Place pickled onions on top of meat. Garnish with cilantro leaves.

TURKEY MOMO

Gorka Palace & Ferndale Farm

Yield: 15 servings as an appetizer (5 pieces per person)/8 servings as an entrée (10 pieces per person)

For Filling:

1 lb ground turkey	Salt, to taste
2 c cabbage, shredded	1/2 c vegetable oil
1 c red or white onions, chopped	2 T ground cumin coriander mixed powder
1 c chives or green onions, chopped	1/2 T garam masala
1/2 c tomatoes, diced	1 T turmeric
3 T ginger, minced	Chili powder, to taste
1 T garlic, minced

For Wrappers:

You can either use ready-made round potsticker wrappers found in grocery stores or make your own dough (recipe and directions on page 101):

For packing, hold wrapper on one palm. Add 1 T filling mixture in center, then use other hand to bring all edges together to the center, making pleats. Pinch and twist pleats to ensure absolute closure of stuffed dumplings.

Heat a steamer and oil steamer rack well so momos don't stick on the bottom. Arrange uncooked dumplings in the steamer, leaving even amounts of space among them. (Plenty of space among momos is essential so steam can flow freely.) Close lid and steam for about 12-14 minutes. The momos will look really shiny when ready. Remove momos off steamer and serve immediately.

For momo chutney (an integral part of momos!):

2 T oil
2 cloves garlic, chopped
2 c tomatoes, chopped
salt, to taste
1/2 c cilantro or mint

Heat oil in a pan. Add garlic and sauté, then add tomatoes; stir for 5 minutes. Pour mixture into blender along with salt and cilantro or mint. Blend, and voila! The chutney, or momo sauce, is ready!

TURKEY MOMO WRAPPERS

Homemade wrappers for Turkey Momo recipe on page 89

2 c white flour
1 T oil
2 pinches salt
1 c warm water

Mix all ingredients together at least 2 hours in advance. Cover with plastic wrap. You can also mix it a day ahead and keep refrigerated.

In a large bowl combine flour, oil, salt, and water. Mix well. Knead until dough becomes homogeneous in texture, about 8-10 minutes. Cover and let stand for at least 30 minutes. Knead well again before making wrappers. Give dough a final knead for good measure.

Shape small amounts of dough into 1-inch dough balls. Roll each ball between palms into a spherical shape.

Dust working board with dry flour. Gently flatten dough balls on the board with your palm into 2-inch semi-flattened circles. Cover with a bowl (to prevent drying). Use a rolling pin to roll out each flattened circle into a wrapper.

For well-executed momos, it's essential the middle portion of each wrapper be slightly thicker than the edges to ensure steam will not tear the bottom. Hold edges of semi-flattened dough with one hand and with the other hand begin rolling the edges of the dough out, swirling a bit at a time. Continue until each wrapper becomes a 3-inch diameter circular shape. Cover with bowl again to prevent drying.

CSA FARMS

community supported agriculture

Community Support Agriculture (CSA) farms are a popular way to buy fresh, local foods! These farms begin selling subscriptions/memberships to their farm in the late winter and early spring, before planting begins. Customer members pay before the season starts and then receive a weekly share of produce during the growing season (around 14-20 weeks). Many farms offer a different share size options, like full or half size. These are either picked up at the farm or from a designated drop site.

CSA farms come in many different shapes, sizes and styles. Spend some time researching which farm is the right fit for you. They will vary in offerings, cost, delivery/pick up locations, and length of season. Some farms offer member-only perks or share add-ons like eggs, meat, poultry or even flowers. Know that CSA membership involves shared risk and reward with your farmer. Some crops will be bountiful, and – like any year – some crops may also fail.

Use this quick list to find a CSA farm near you, but keep in mind many CSA farms have delivery locations outside of these cities. Visit www.minnesotagrown.com to see these drop sites as well.

PUMPKIN patches

Pumpkin patches have a special place in Minnesotan hearts when they think “fall fun”. It means bringing family and friends out in the crisp fall air to pick bright orange pumpkins large and small. Lots of patches have PYO (pick-your-own) so you can explore the field, searching for your favorite. Many patches also have pre-picked, so you browse among pre-sorted pumpkins too. Pumpkins can be used for cooking, decorations and of course for making Jack-O-Lanterns! Check out www.minnesotagrown.com, for tips on how to pick out the perfect pumpkin for your uses.

Christmas tree FARMS

and grower-owned retail lots

Picking a real, locally grown Christmas tree is about more than just the tree - it's about the experience you have. Many farms provide a wonderful experience that everyone will remember for years to come. Enjoy the beauty of the trees and the crisp air as you look for your family's perfect tree. Some farms offer additional activities too, like wagon/sleigh rides, warm cider, and custom wreaths. Some farms are even visited by Santa!

Once you bring your special tree home, use these tips to keep your tree fresh:

Always make a fresh cut. Remove at least a ½ inch thick portion from the bottom of the trunk before placing it in the stand to help your tree better absorb water.

Use a stand that fits your tree. Avoid whittling the sides of the trunk to make it fit the stand.

These outer layers of the trunk help the tree take-up and retain water.

Keep the water level high. Trees typically drink a lot of water in the first few days and then slow their intake. Use a stand that can hold 1 quart (4 cups) of water per inch diameter of the tree trunk. Check the water level multiple times during the first days and at least once daily after that.

minnesota WINERIES

Visiting a Minnesota winery is part of the perfect day trip, weekend getaway or date-night. Some wineries also host weddings, birthday dinners, retirement parties and other events.

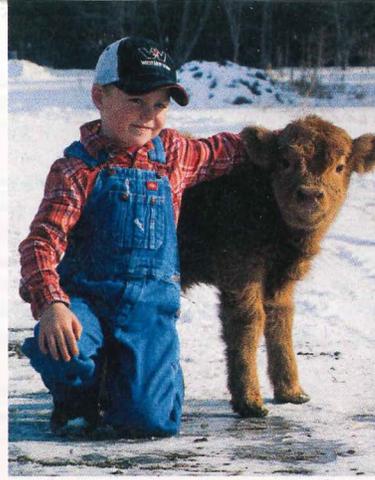

Much of the growth in Minnesota's wine industry is thanks to research at the University of Minnesota, which is recognized for having one of the top wine grape programs in the U.S. A few of the outstanding cold-hardy wine grapes they've developed include: Frontenac, Frontenac Gris, La Crescent & Marquette. To learn more about these grapes, visit www.grapes.umn.edu. To learn more about Minnesota's wine producers, visit the Minnesota Grape Growers at www.mnrapegrowers.com.
