Admin embraces the diversity of Minnesota. In respecting that diversity, Admin's workplace will be free of discrimination and have an employee recruitment and retention effort that reflects the citizens we serve.

I affirm my personal and official support of these policies which provide that:

- Our workforce will be free from discrimination. No individual shall be discriminated against in the terms and conditions of employment, personnel practices, or access to and participation in programs, services, and activities, or subject to harassment, on the basis of race, sex (including pregnancy), color, creed, religion, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender expression, gender identity, disability, marital status, familial status, status with regard to public assistance, or membership or activity in a local human rights commission.
- The prohibition of discrimination on the basis of sex precludes sexual harassment, gender-based harassment, and harassment based on pregnancy.
- We will implement the affirmative action policies, programs, and procedures included in this plan to ensure that employment practices are free from discrimination. Employment practices include, but are not limited to the following: hiring, promotions, demotions, transfers, recruitment or recruitment advertising, layoffs, disciplinary actions, terminations, rates of pay of compensation, and selection for training. We will provide reasonable accommodation to employees and applicants with disabilities.

- Diversity and inclusion are core values of our organization and we will actively promote a program of affirmative action wherever minorities, women, and individuals with disabilities are underrepresented in the workforce, and work to retain all qualified, talented employees, including protected group employees. We have established agency-wide goals to ensure we are working toward, and ultimately, achieving our diversity and inclusion goals outlined in our strategic plan.
- This agency will continue to actively promote a program of affirmative action, wherever minorities, women, and individuals with disabilities are underrepresented in the workforce, and work to retain all qualified, talented employees, including protected group employees.
- We measure and evaluate our efforts, including those of its senior leaders, directors, managers, and supervisors, in promoting equal opportunity and achieving affirmative action objectives contained herein. In addition, this agency will expect all employees to perform their job duties in a manner that promotes inclusion and equal opportunity for all.

It is the agency's policy and commitment to provide an employment environment free of any form of discriminatory harassment as prohibited by federal, state, and local human rights laws. I strongly encourage suggestions as to how we may improve. We strive to provide equal employment opportunities and the best possible service to all Minnesotans.

Underutilization Analysis and Affirmative Action Goals

Through the utilization analysis, the agency has determined which job categories are underutilized for women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities within the agency and has set the following hiring goals for the next two years (Reference Table 2).

Table 2. Underutilization Analysis and Hiring Goals for 2018-2020

The second, third, and fourth columns of this chart show the number of underutilized individuals of each group in each category at this agency. The fifth, sixth, and seventh columns show the agency’s hiring goals for each group in each category.

Job Categories	Underutilization - # of Individuals			Hiring Goals for 2018-2020
	Women	Racial/Ethnic Minorities	Individuals with Disabilities	Women	Racial/Ethnic Minorities	Individuals with Disabilities
Officials/Administrators					1
Professionals					1	2
Technicians					1
Paraprofessionals
Office/Clerical					2	1
Skilled Craft	2	1	3	2	1	1
Service Maintenance	36		1	8		2

Availability:

The agency determined the recruitment area to be statewide for all job categories except for the Paraprofessional, Technicians and Office/Clerical job categories for which metropolitan availability was used. In conducting its underutilization analysis, the agency used the one and two factor analysis. The agency determined it was best to use the one factor analysis because we do not have a large population of internal candidates for which to meet our affirmative action goals, particularly for women and individuals with disabilities in the Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance categories. Therefore we need to tap into external resources.

Underutilization Analysis worksheets are attached in the appendix. In the public plan, numbers less than 10 are indicated with "<10" in accordance with Minnesota Management and Budget's guidance on data privacy.

Women:

Even though the agency did not set goals, the population of women has improved in the Officials/Administrators, Professionals, Paraprofessionals, and Office and Clerical job categories. During 2016-2018, the agency hired three women in the Officials and Administrators, twenty-seven in the Professional category, and ten in the Office and Clerical category. These efforts helped to offset the number of separations of women in the same categories.

The agency did set a hiring goal of three women in the Skilled Craft job category and saw slight improvement in this category after hiring one female from the Building Operations Technician program sponsored by the agency partnership with Project for Pride in Living (PPL). The Building Operations Technician program combines college course work, professional development workshops, and hands on internship experience to prepare learners to perform repairs and maintenance of heating, cooling, plumbing, and electrical systems in residential buildings. The Building Operations Technician program is continually evolving to prepare the learners for gainful employment upon graduation. Admin has continually offered support, evaluation and guidance to best serve the program, the students and the employers throughout its development.

Recruiting for women in the trades area (i.e., Skilled Craft) has been historically challenging for the agency. Multiple barriers exist including necessarily high minimum qualifications; physical requirement standards necessary to minimize the agency's risk of work place injuries (workers' compensation claims); and a limited pool of female applicants further compounded by wage inequities between state, local union, and private sector employers. The minimum qualifications for many of our skilled trades positions include licensure requirements determined by Department of Labor and Industry to reflect the dangerous nature of the work. These licensures carry requirements which can include a certain number of on-the-job training hours as well as written examinations all of which are regulated by the Department of Labor and Industry. Whenever possible Admin offers alternatives to licensure requirements. Our Carpenter and Painter positions allow applicants to qualify with either licensure or experience and our Electrical Systems Specialists which are required to hold a Power Limited

Technician License at the time of employment, but not at the time of interview. Similar to the safety standard the licensure requirements serve, all of our skilled craft positions have minimal physical requirements to ensure that our finalists are physically capable of performing the work with minimal risk of work place injury. These physical requirements are currently under evaluation with Minnesota Occupational Health in part due to the fact that women and small framed individuals have historically had trouble meeting the standards. In some cases the evaluations have resulted in lower physical requirements which more accurately reflect the physicality of the work. Finally, the agency has historically experienced difficulties in attracting robust applicant pools for our skilled trade positions. The trade's workforce is largely dominated by males and as private and public sector employers alike strive to diversify their work forces, the competition to attract and retain female employees is becoming exceedingly competitive. The agency is at a considerable disadvantage in this competition largely due to the wages our union contracts allow us to offer which often times are considerably lower than the prevailing wage offered by local trades unions and public sector wages to perform the same types of skilled work.

The population of women has not improved in the Technicians and Service Maintenance job categories. In the Service Maintenance category the agency set a goal of seven women which it exceeded by hiring ten women and promoting one woman. However, the agency continues to have underutilization in this area given that five women separated. One of the challenges to hiring women into the Service Maintenance category is the physical requirements minimally required of the position (lifting, carrying). As stated previously, the agency has been working with Minnesota Occupational Health to review the pre-employment physicals to ensure that they are up-to-date. Additionally, we are providing visual tools (You Tube videos) to better prepare applicants for the physical assessment they will be evaluated on and allowing all applicants to retest one time in an effort to obtain a more desirable score. An additional hardship which may exist in recruiting for our Service Maintenance category positions which includes the availability of day shift positions. Most of our opening in this category consist of evening shift janitorial work. Often times when applicants are contacted, both male and female alike, they report that they are only interested in day shift employment and thus withdraw from consideration.

The agency did not set a hiring goal for women in the Technicians group in the 2016-2018 plan as there was no underutilization. The current numbers demonstrate that 50% of positions in this job category are filled by women.

Minorities:

For the 2016-2018 plan our agency exceeded our hiring goals for minorities in the Professionals, Technicians, and Service Maintenance job categories which helped to increase the overall minority population from 16.56% (FY2016) to 20.34% (FY2018). Specifically, the percentage increase translates to the following:

- 17 in the Professionals job category
- 1 in the Technicians job category
- 24 in the Service Maintenance job category

Although no goals were established in the Officials/Administrators and Office/Clerical due to insufficient number of anticipated vacancies, four minority employees were actually hired into these categories. In summary, minorities hired constituted 36% of all hires at the agency during the reporting period. The agency has also been effective in promoting minority employees within the agency resulting in 15 promotions or 23% among the Professionals (12), Paraprofessionals (1), Office/Clerical (1), and Skilled Craft (1) job categories.

The agency established a hiring goal in the Skilled Craft job category for the 2016-2018 plan but was unsuccessful in meeting this goal as there were no qualified minority hires during the reporting period. As the agency continues to face underutilization in this category we will focus our efforts on recruitment of minorities.

Individuals with Disabilities:

For the 2016-2018 plan our agency set a goal of one hire in each of the job categories except for the Technicians category where we have limited vacancies. The agency was successful in meeting the goals for Professionals and Skilled Craft. The goal for the Service Maintenance category was two, which was exceeded by hiring four individuals with disabilities.

The agency did not reach its goal for the Officials and Administrators and Office/Clerical job categories due to limited vacancies in these categories. During the 2016-2018 period there were only 3 vacancies in the Officials and Administrators job category for which the applicant pools did not yield a sufficient number of qualified candidates with disabilities. For the Office/Clerical there were 11 vacancies in which the agency hired three individuals with a disability from the C700 program. One individual has achieved permanent placement, one is working towards the completion of the on-the-job demonstration period, and one was unsuccessful in the program.

The agency will continue making efforts in recruiting qualified candidates with disabilities by tapping into the State developed resources and using recruitment sources targeting disability communities.

Separation and Retention Analysis by Protected Groups

The agency is committed to the retention of all employees, including members of the following protected groups: women, racial/ethnic minorities, and individuals with disabilities. The agency will strive to affirmatively ensure equal employment opportunity by retaining a diverse composite of talented and qualified employees, with emphasis on under-represented individuals. To be successful, the responsibility for these retention efforts lies with all employees. The agency's retention strategy is a multi-faceted approach, guided by the agency management, Human Resources Director, and Affirmative Action Officer.

The Agency will continue to analyze and review separation data for disparate impact on protected group employees. This will include reviewing non-certification trends, layoff trends, resignation trends, and disciplinary discharges. The appendix will include a separation report broken down by EEO4 job category. Below is a snapshot of the agency separations throughout the past two years as well as a narrative describing the separation analysis:

Total Separations	101	100%	32.7%	22.8%	6.9%

Women

Women represent approximately 42.02% of the total agency workforce. The agency saw a total of 101 separations from FY 2017 and FY 2018. Women were 32.7% of all separations. This is proportionately lower relative to their total Agency workforce representation and did not affect the overall representation of female employees at the agency. As a matter of fact, the agency experienced a small increase in the percentage of women from 40.88% in FY 2016 to 42% in FY 2018. The majority of separations among women occurred in the Professionals job category and is constituted by 11 resignations and 6 retirements. The agency experienced 4 resignations of female employees from the Service Maintenance job category which contributed to the overall underutilization of women in that category in spite of the fact that 10 women were hired during 2016-2018. In the Office/Clerical job category separations of female employees were seen due to resignations (2), retirement (1), and termination without rights (2). The separations due to retirement (10) were anticipated and planned for. However, the agency will need to continue monitoring separations of women to better understand a common cause behind resignations, as it constitutes the majority of all female separations.

Minorities

Minorities represent approximately 20.3% of the total agency workforce. The agency saw a total of 101 separations from FY 2017 and FY 2018. Minorities were 22.8% of all separations. Although the separations of minority employees were offset by 42 new hires, this is proportionately higher relative to their total agency workforce representation.

The agency experienced the highest minority separation rate (30%) in its Service Maintenance category which is consisted by 7 resignations, 4 dismissal/non-certifications, and 1 retirement. This is a job category where historically a high volume of turnover exists. The second highest separation rate is seen in the Office/Clerical job category which constituted 2 resignations, 1 retirement, 2 terminations without rights, and 1 dismissal/non-certification. For this job category, the numbers due to voluntary separations are not significant and represent rather a common trend as the agency hires mostly into entry level Account Clerk and Office and Administrative Specialist positions commonly seen as a starting point for people interested in state employment.

The agency saw relatively small numbers of minority separations in the Officials and Administrative (1) and Professionals (3) job categories which did not provide significant data results nor comparative insight.

Although the agency experienced a significant increase of minorities in its workforce, from 16.56% in FY 2016 to 20.3% in FY 2018, it will continue its efforts to recruit and retain minority employees.

Individuals with Disabilities

Individuals with Disabilities represent approximately 6.5% of the total agency workforce. The agency saw a total of 101 separations from FY 2017 and FY 2018. Individuals with Disabilities were 6.9% of all separations. This is proportionately higher relative to their total Agency workforce representation. The majority of separations of employees with disabilities was in the Professionals job category (3) and is constituted by 2 resignations and 1 retirement. One employee with disability resigned from the Skilled Craft category which contributed to an increase of underutilization in that category which historically has been a challenging one from which to hire qualified people with disabilities. One employee with disabilities resigned from the Service Maintenance job category and another one was not certified. Although the agency hired 4 individuals with disabilities in the Service Maintenance job category, overall it experienced a reduction of employees with disabilities in that category from 4.52% in FY2016 to 1.9% in FY 2018. Although overall the agency experienced a slight increase in the percentage of employees with disabilities (i.e., from 6.08% in FY2016 to 6.5% in FY2018), it will continue to monitor separations of people with disabilities to see if there are any patterns that develop.

Program Objectives, Identified Barriers, and Corrective Action to Eliminate Barriers

The agency’s Affirmative Action Program is designed to implement the provisions of this Affirmative Action Plan and meet requirements found in Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 43A.191, and Subdivision 2.

This section will identify ways this agency has determined to eliminate barriers, provide corrective actions, and achieve affirmative action goals for underutilized protected group applicants/employees (broken down by specific job categories.) If an agency has an underutilization in an EEO4 job category, there must be a program objective defined to address the underutilization. These objectives have been developed as strategic, actionable and measurable efforts the agency has committed to pursuing and implementing from 2018-2020.

Program Objectives for (Women)

The following job categories have been identified as underutilized for women.

List job category name	Percent women employees in category	Percent women hired in category	Percent women separated in category
Skilled Craft	1.96%	1%	0%
Service Maintenance	22.56%	20%	12.5%

The following corrective action has been planned to eliminate the barriers for women in each category.

Recruitment action for women in this category:

In pursuing the agency’s commitment to affirmative action, the agency in partnership with the Human Resources office will take the following actions during 2018-2020:

1. Continue partnering with Enterprise Recruitment and other resources to enhance outreach efforts that target women in the Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance job categories.
2. Continue participation in the ACCESS Partnership and Statewide Recruiters groups to collaborate on best practices in recruitment of women to Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance positions.
3. Encourage senior leaders, directors, supervisors, and employees to partner with Human Resources at job fairs so they can share “a-day-in-the-life” scenarios/examples with potential applicants.

4. Partner with Project for Pride in Living (PPL) to enhance the recruitment of women for the Building Operations Technician program.
5. Continue to support the Building Operations Technician program by hosting internships on a yearly basis.
6. Assess the possibility of creating temporary Helper positions (i.e., Plant Maintenance Engineer Helper) in the Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance job categories to provide female candidates with hands-on training and experience in order to successfully compete and qualify for permanent appointments.
7. Continue conversations with the Director of Strategic Workforce Initiatives (Governor's Office) and PPL to bring candidates from the Reintegration Program to Admin, specifically for the Service Maintenance positions.
8. Continue to work with Minnesota Occupational Health on a review of the pre-employment physicals and assess results of changes.
9. Explore partnerships with community/technical colleges and nonprofits to fill agency positions and as a resource for interns.
10. Continue the Affinity Group for Women and look at ways to integrate with the Enterprise Affinity Groups.
11. Continue building an inclusive culture that welcomes women into the Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance job categories.
12. Utilize social media for enhanced external recruitment (target to specific groups, educational contacts, etc.).
13. Continue use of job boards (i.e., local trade unions) and Craigslist for vacancies in the Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance job categories.

Retention efforts for women in this category:

Finding and hiring the most qualified and experienced candidates is often a long process, but retaining talent also poses a number of challenges. At Admin, we are committed to the following retention efforts:

- Providing expanded supervisor and manager training to agency staff so they have the tools/resources needed to perform and sustain excellence in their work.
- Continuing the Admin T.A.L.K.S. which allow agency employees to connect with other agency staff with similar life experiences.
- Research best practices around onboarding and implement where appropriate in the agency.
- Conduct listening sessions with employees to understand what they value.
- Provide opportunities for employees to share their knowledge on-the-job by mentoring others.
- Develop opportunities for cross-training within the agency by providing career and personal growth through training and education, challenging assignments and more responsibilities.
- Document the process for conducting exit interviews and sharing the results with Senior Leadership. Where applicable, conduct one-on-one interviews with exiting employees.

Recruitment barrier identified for women in this category:

Skilled Craft barriers:

- Predominantly male dominated field
- Contractual Obligations/Multisource Recruitment
- Limited ability to meet physical requirements
- Shifts (some are limited to only evenings)
- Licensure Requirements resulting in high minimum qualifications
- Compensation – wages are not competitive

Service Maintenance barriers:

- Limited ability to meet physical requirements
- Shifts (largely limited to only evenings)
- Compensation – wages are not competitive

Although the agency used an array of advertising sources and attended several job and community fairs, the focus of its recruitment activities was to target all applicants. By attempting to utilize recruitment sources that are central to women, the agency will be better positioned to attract qualified applicants of this protected group.

By providing alternatives to licensure requirements for the Carpenter and Painter positions and providing visual tools (You Tube videos) to applicants and allowing for retesting for the Physical Assessments the agency has gained a competitive advantage and improved its chances to attract qualified women to its applicant pools. These practices will continue with future Skilled Craft positions.

Future Evaluation:

The agency will continue monitoring its hiring processes on an ongoing basis and will be assessing the demographics of the applicant pools for posted positions in the Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance job categories. Monitoring the Hiring Process forms will be completed for each vacancy, not only the vacancies where underutilization exist. The quarterly Affirmative Action reports will be submitted to MMB and results will be shared with the agency's leadership. This will ensure that the agency leadership is made aware of efforts and progress toward hiring goals set in this plan. After one year, the progress will be assessed and the program objectives may be modified.

The agency will plan for future participation in job and community fairs to attract qualified applicants during the 2018-2020 plan period based on research and recommendations on the most relevant sources; we will focus our work specifically on any relevant opportunities to partner with MMB and other agencies as resources permit (e.g., job fairs, community events, conferences, etc.) – e.g., Human Rights conference, DEED Employer of the Day, etc. We will formally evaluate each source used in all future recruitments to assess effectiveness, return on investment, and utility for attracting a diverse pool of applicants.

The Human Resources office will:

- Work through an environmental scanning process to determine succession planning, and prioritize action steps for workforce planning with managers and supervisors.
- Create a template for individual goal setting and skill development that can be used by managers and supervisors.

Past Evaluation:

Some of the above objectives were set in the agency's last Affirmative Action Plan and some are new or revised based on the progress made and needs identified. The objectives set in this plan should help the agency to increase the representation of women in the workforce.

Persons Responsible:

- Angela Steward-Randle, Human Resources Director
- Cathy Bisser, Affirmative Action Officer Designee (Staffing Supervisor)
- Nella Austin and Jess Fenlon, Recruitment Coordinators (HR Specialists)

Target Dates:

- The majority of the activities are ongoing. The progress will be assessed each time when the agency fills a vacant position.
- Affirmative Action Officer/designee approves monitoring the Hiring Process Forms prior to the agency making an offer of employment.
- Affirmative Action Officer/designee reviews employment interview questions and methods to ensure that all selection criteria are fair, objective, and job-related.
- The agency's hiring goals continue to be communicated to managers and supervisors for each vacancy.
- Summary of the Monitoring the Hiring Process reports will be provided to the agency leadership on a quarterly basis.
- At the end of 2019 and 2020 the progress toward goal attainment will be evaluated and shared with the agency leadership.

The following corrective action has been planned to eliminate the barriers for minorities in each category.

Recruitment action for minorities in this category:

In pursuing the agency's commitment to affirmative action, the agency in partnership with the Human Resources office will take the following actions during 2018-2020:

1. Continue to develop and implement a robust recruitment plan for each vacancy in the Officials/Administrators, Professionals, Technicians, Office/Clerical, Skilled Craft, and Service Maintenance job categories.
2. Continue partnering with Enterprise Recruitment and other resources to enhance outreach efforts that target minority candidates in the Officials/Administrators, Professionals, Technicians, Office/Clerical, Skilled Craft, and Service Maintenance job categories.

Retention efforts for minorities in this category:

Finding and hiring the most qualified and experienced candidates is often a long process, but retaining talent also poses a number of challenges. The agency is committed to the following retention efforts:

- Provide opportunities for employees to share their knowledge on-the-job by mentoring others.
- Develop opportunities for cross-training within the agency by providing career and personal growth through training and education, challenging assignments and more responsibilities.
- Document the process for conducting exit interviews and sharing the results with Senior Leadership. Where applicable, conduct one-on-one interviews with exiting employees.

Recruitment barrier identified for minorities in this category:

As private and public sector employers alike strive to diversify their work forces the competition to attract and retain minority employees is becoming exceedingly competitive. The agency is at a considerable disadvantage in this competition largely due to the wages our union contracts allow us to offer which often times are considerably lower than the prevailing wage offered by local trades unions and public sector wages to perform the same types of skilled work. This is reflected in the applicant pools that we see which are lacking in numbers of applicants and diversity despite lengthy posting periods and advertisement efforts. The trades workforce is also largely comprised of individuals who do not identify with a protected class.

Official/Administrators barriers:

- Limited number of positions available
- Highly competitive applicant pools
- Known limitations of the C700 Program

Professional barriers:

- Known limitations of the C700 Program
- Wages are not competitive

Technician's barriers:

- Limited number of positions available
- Known limitations of the C700 Program

Office/Clerical barriers:

- Limited number of positions available
- Highly competitive applicant pools
- Known limitations of the C700 Program

Skilled Craft barriers:

- Field is predominantly composed of non-protected class individuals
- Shifts (some are limited to only evenings)
- Licensure Requirements resulting in high minimum qualifications
- Compensation – wages are not competitive

Service Maintenance barriers:

- Limited ability to meet physical requirements
- Shifts (largely limited to only evenings)
- Compensation – wages are not competitive
- Language barriers for both the interview and physical testing process

Although the agency used an array of advertising sources and attended several job and community fairs, the focus of its recruitment activities was to target all applicants. By attempting to utilize recruitment sources that are central to minorities, the agency will be better positioned to attract qualified applicants of this protected group.

future recruitments to assess effectiveness, return on investment, and utility for attracting a diverse pool of applicants.

Once a year, the agency will communicate to employees that we collect summary data related to the number of individuals who are in our workforce. We will inform employees that we collect this summary data to make determinations where we need to improve our efforts in recruitment, selection, and retention of minorities.

The Human Resources office will:

- Work through an environmental scanning process to determine workforce risk, and prioritize action steps for workforce planning with managers and supervisors.
- Create a template for individual goal setting and skill development that can be used by managers and supervisors.

The following corrective action has been planned to eliminate the barriers for individuals with disabilities in each category.

Recruitment action for individuals with disabilities in this category:

In pursuing the agency's commitment to affirmative action, the agency in partnership with the Human Resources office will take the following actions during 2018-2020:

1. Perform review of job postings for physical and sensory requirements and ensure that qualifications in job postings are inclusive and do not pose any unnecessary barriers.
2. Develop vacancy announcements that encourage applicants with disabilities to apply.
3. Continue utilizing recruitment sources targeting applicants with disabilities such as MMB's Diversity emails, DEED's MN Works site, DEED Employer of the Day event, and Veterans' job fair. Research additional recruitment sources to attract qualified applicants with disabilities.
4. Utilize the ACCESS Partnership and Statewide Recruiters groups to collaborate on best practices in recruitment of applicants with disabilities.
5. Partner with job coaches to build awareness of potential and known barriers for applicants with disabilities to empower them to be successful in the workplace.
6. Expand the use of youth and leadership development programs (i.e., Focus Beyond and Project SEARCH).
7. Continue partnerships with Department of Education, Department of Employment and Economic Development, and the Forest Lake School district to employ young adults with disabilities into the Facilities Maintenance

Division and throughout the agency.

8. When possible, our agency will utilize the C-700 program which allows our agency to hire applicants with disabilities and provide them with on the job experience.
9. Provide training to managers and supervisors on the C700 program and in how to request reasonable accommodations.
10. Work with Minnesota Management and Budget to review the C700 participant review form to allow for constructive feedback to program participants.
11. Partner with the STAR Program to obtain assistive technology for applicants with disabilities, as part of the interview process and office set-up for hires. Ensure that assistive technology or needed accommodations are made before the employee starts with the agency, where feasible.
12. Consider alternative interview techniques for applicants with disabilities.
13. Partner with Enterprise Human Capital and other state agencies to implement the Supported Worker Program. Supported Employment (M.S. 43A.191., Subd. 2(d)): the agency supports the employment of applicants with disabilities and will review vacant positions to determine if job tasks can be performed by a supported employment worker. We will work with community organizations that provide employment services to applicants with disabilities to recruit for these positions.
14. Create an inclusive culture that welcomes applicants with disabilities.
15. Establish an Affinity Group in the agency for individuals with disabilities.
16. Continue use of job boards (i.e., local trade unions) and Craigslist for vacancies in the Skilled Craft and Service Maintenance job categories.
17. Improve the accessibility and usability of information technology products and services for all users pursuant to Chapter Law 131/HF1744 which was introduced by the 2009 Legislature, directing the adoption of accessibility standards for use by the State of Minnesota.
18. Continue building strategic partnerships with DEED-Vocational Rehabilitation Services (“VRS”), DEED-State Services for the Blind (“SSB”), and other state agency partners to conduct job evaluations and to assist in recruitment or referral of candidates to open positions.
19. Continue to monitor applicant pools to ensure consistent representation of candidates with disabilities and, if necessary, extend a posting and attempt additional recruitment options to attract qualified disabled applicants to applicant pools.

The agency will conduct periodic self-checks to determine if our systems or documents are accessible, language in our job postings is inclusive, and reasonable accommodations have been provided and staff have been trained on how to provide reasonable accommodations.

The agency will conduct a quarterly analysis of the number of applicants with disabilities who have applied for positions and the number of applicants with disabilities hired.

- At the end of 2019 and 2020 the progress toward goal attainment will be evaluated and shared with the agency leadership.

Pre-Employment Review Procedure/Monitoring the Hiring Process

Admin will evaluate its selection process to determine if its requirements unnecessarily screen out a disproportionate number of women, minorities, or individuals with disabilities. The agency will use the monitoring the hiring process form for every hire to track the number of women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities in each stage of the selection process. Directors, managers, and supervisors will work closely with human resources and the Affirmative Action Officer in reviewing the requirements for the position, posting the position, and interviewing and selection to ensure that equal opportunity and affirmative action is carried out. Directors, managers, and supervisors will be asked to document their hiring decisions and equal opportunity professionals will review for bias.

Any time the agency cannot justify a hire, the agency takes a missed opportunity. Agency leadership will be asked to authorize the missed opportunity. The agency will report the number of affirmative and non-affirmative hires as well as missed opportunities to Minnesota Management and Budget on a quarterly basis.

When candidates are invited to participate in the selection process, employees scheduling the selection process will describe the process format to the candidate (e.g., interview process, testing process). All candidates will be provided information regarding the procedure to request reasonable accommodations if necessary to allow candidates with disabilities equal opportunity to participate in the selection process. For example, describe if interview questions are offered ahead of time or what technology may be used during a test. This allows for an individual with a disability to determine if they may need a reasonable accommodation in advance of the selection process.

All personnel involved in the selection process will be trained and accountable for the agency's commitment to equal opportunity and the affirmative action program and its implementation.

Pre-Review Procedure for Layoff Decisions

The Affirmative Action Officer, in conjunction with the agency's human resources office, shall be responsible for reviewing all pending layoffs to determine their effect on the agency's affirmative action goals and timetables.

If it is determined that there is an adverse impact on protected groups, the agency will document the reasons why the layoff is occurring, such as positions targeted for layoff, applicable personnel policies or collective bargaining agreement provisions, or other relevant reasons. The agency will determine if other alternatives are available to minimize the impact on protected groups.

Other Methods of Program Evaluation

The agency submits the following compliance reports to Minnesota Management and Budget as part of the efforts to evaluate the agency's affirmative action program:

- Quarterly Monitoring the Hiring Process Reports;
- Biannual Affirmative Action Plan;
- Annual Americans with Disabilities Act Report;
- Annual Internal Complaint Report; and
- Disposition of Internal Complaint (submitted to MMB within 30 days of final disposition).

The agency also evaluates the Affirmative Action Plan in the following ways:

- Monitors progress toward stated goals by job category;
- Analyzes employment activity (hires, promotions, and terminations) by job category to determine if there is disparate impact;
- Analyzes compensation program to determine if there are patterns of discrimination;

- Reviews the accessibility of online systems and websites, and ensures that reasonable accommodations can be easily requested; and
- Discusses progress with agency leadership on a periodic basis and makes recommendations for improvement.

GENERAL STANDARDS AND EXPECTATIONS

Prohibition of Protected Class Harassment and Discrimination

Harassment of or discrimination against any employee or third party based on protected class in the workplace or public service environment, or which affects the workplace or public service environment, is strictly prohibited. Harassment of or discrimination against an individual because of their relationship or association with members of a protected class is also strictly prohibited.

Protected class harassment/discrimination may take different forms including verbal, nonverbal, or physical conduct or communication. Conduct based on protected class may violate this policy even if it is not intended to be harassing. Protected class harassment/discrimination under this policy includes, but is not limited to, the following behavior when it is based on actual or perceived membership in a protected class, including stereotypes of protected classes:

- Offensive jokes, slurs, derogatory remarks, epithets, name-calling, ridicule or mockery, insults or put-downs
- Display or use of offensive objects, drawings, pictures, or gestures
- Physical assaults or threats

Employee and Third Party Responsibilities and Complaint Procedure

Harassment or discrimination based on protected class will not be tolerated. All employees and third parties are expected to comply with this policy.

Employees and third parties are strongly encouraged to report all incidents of protected class harassment or discrimination, whether the individual is the recipient of the behavior, an observer, or is otherwise aware of the behavior. Individuals are encouraged to report incidents as soon as possible after the incident occurs. Individuals may report to any of the following:

1. Any of the agency's managers or supervisors
2. The agency's affirmative action officer
3. The agency's human resources office
4. Agency management, up to and including the agency head

State agencies will take prompt and appropriate corrective action when there is a violation of this policy.

Employees who are found to have engaged in conduct in violation of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Third parties who are found to have engaged in conduct in violation of this policy will be subject to appropriate action. Appropriate action for policy violations by third parties will depend on the facts and circumstances, including the relationship between the third party and the agency. Agencies may contact MMB Enterprise Human Resources, Office of Equal Opportunity, Diversity, and Inclusion for assistance in determining appropriate action for third parties. MMB may refer agencies to the appropriate resources, which may include, for example, the Department of Administration with respect to policy violations by vendors or contractors.

Retaliation will not be tolerated. Any employee who is found to have engaged in retaliation in violation of this policy will be subject to discipline, up to and including discharge. Complaint Procedure for Processing Complaints Under the Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited Policy or the Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policy:

The [Department of Administration] has established the following complaint procedure to be used by all individuals alleging harassment, discrimination, or retaliation in violation of the Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited Policy or the Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policy. Coercion, retaliation, or intimidation against anyone filing a complaint or serving as a witness under this procedure is prohibited.

Who May File:

Any individual who believes that they have been subject to harassment, discrimination, or retaliation in violation of the Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited Policy or the Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policy is encouraged to use this internal complaint procedure.

If the individual chooses, a complaint can be filed externally with the Minnesota Department of Human Rights (MDHR), the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), or through other legal channels. The MDHR, EEOC and other legal channels have time limits for filing complaints; individuals may contact the MDHR, EEOC, or a private attorney for more information.

Retaliation against any person who has filed a complaint either internally through this complaint procedure or through an outside enforcement agency or other legal channels is prohibited.

Individuals who knowingly file a false complaint will be subject to disciplinary or corrective action.

The following are the procedures for filing a complaint:

1. The individual may, but is not required to, complete the “Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited/ Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policies Complaint Form” provided by the Affirmative Action Officer or designee. Individuals are encouraged to file a complaint within a reasonable period of time after the individual becomes aware that a situation may involve conduct in violation of the Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited Policy or the Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policy. The Affirmative Action Officer or designee will, if requested, provide assistance in filling out the form.
2. The Affirmative Action Officer or designee determines if the complainant is alleging conduct in violation of the Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited Policy or the Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policy; or if the complaint instead is of a general personnel concern or a general concern of respect in the workplace.
 - If it is determined that the complaint is not related to conduct that would violate the Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited Policy or the Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policy, but rather involves general personnel concerns or general concerns of respect in the workplace, the Affirmative Action Officer or designee will inform the complainant, in writing, within ten (10) business days.
 - If it is determined that the complaint is related to conduct that would violate the Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited Policy or the Sexual Harassment Prohibited Policy, the Affirmative Action Officer or designee will determine whether corrective action may be taken without an investigation. If it is determined that an investigation is necessary, the Affirmative Action Officer or designee shall investigate the complaint.
3. The Affirmative Action Officer or designee shall create a written investigation report of every investigation conducted. If the investigation shows sufficient evidence to substantiate the complaint, appropriate corrective action will be taken.
4. Within (60) days after the complaint is filed, the Affirmative Action Officer or designee shall provide a written answer to the complainant, unless reasonable cause for delay exists. The complainant will be notified if the written answer is not expected to be issued within the sixty (60) day period. The written answer to the complainant must comply with the data privacy restrictions of the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act.
5. Disposition of the complaint will be filed with the Commissioner of Minnesota Management and Budget within thirty (30) days after the final determination.

6. The status of the complaint may be shared with the complainant(s) and respondent(s). All data related to the complaint are subject to the provisions of the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act.
7. The Affirmative Action Officer or designee shall maintain records of all complaints, investigation reports, and any other data or information the Affirmative Action Officer or designee deems pertinent for seven (7) years after the complaint is closed.
8. In extenuating circumstances, the employee or applicant may contact the State Affirmative Action Officer in the Office of Equal Opportunity at Minnesota Management and Budget for information regarding the filing of a complaint (for example, if the complaint is against the agency head or the agency Affirmative Action Officer).

Statewide ADA Reasonable Accommodation Policy

Statewide HR/LR Policy #1433: ADA Reasonable Accommodation Policy

The goals of this policy are:

- To ensure compliance with all applicable state and federal laws;
- To establish a written and readily accessible procedure regarding reasonable accommodation, including providing notice of this policy on all job announcements;
- To provide guidance and resources about reasonable accommodations;
- To provide a respectful interactive process to explore reasonable accommodations; and
- To provide a timely and thorough review process for requests for reasonable accommodation.

Policy Statement

State agencies must comply with all state and federal laws that prohibit discrimination against qualified individuals with disabilities in all employment practices. All state agencies must provide reasonable accommodations to qualified applicants and employees with disabilities unless to do so would cause an undue hardship or pose a direct threat. Agencies must provide reasonable accommodation when:

- A qualified applicant with a disability needs an accommodation to have an equal opportunity to compete for a job;
- A qualified employee with a disability needs an accommodation to perform the essential functions of the employee's job; and
- A qualified employee with a disability needs an accommodation to enjoy equal access to benefits and privileges of employment (e.g., trainings, office sponsored events).

Scope

This policy applies to all employees of the Executive Branch and classified employees in the Office of Legislative Auditor, Minnesota State Retirement System, Public Employee Retirement System, and Teachers' Retirement System.

Definitions

Applicant- A person who expresses interest in employment and satisfies the minimum requirements for application established by the job posting and job description.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Coordinator- Each agency is required to appoint an ADA coordinator or designee, depending on agency size, to direct and coordinate agency compliance with Title I of the ADA.

Direct Threat- A significant risk of substantial harm to the health or safety of the individual or others that cannot be eliminated or reduced by reasonable accommodation.

The determination that an individual poses a direct threat shall be based on an individualized assessment of the individual's present ability to safely perform the essential functions of the job.

Essential Functions- Duties so fundamental that the individual cannot do the job without being able to perform them. A function can be essential if:

- The job exists specifically to perform the function(s); or
- There are a limited number of other employees who could perform the function(s); or
- The function(s) is/are specialized and the individual is hired based on the employee's expertise.

Interactive Process- A discussion between the employer and the individual with a disability to determine an effective reasonable accommodation for the individual with a disability. To be interactive, both sides must communicate and exchange information.

Individual with a Disability- An individual who:

- Has a physical, sensory, or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities; or
- Has a record or history of such impairment; or
- Is regarded as having such impairment.

Qualified Individual with a Disability- An individual who:

- Satisfies the requisite skill, experience, education, and other job-related requirements of the job that the individual holds or desires; and
- Can perform the essential functions of the position with or without reasonable accommodation.

Major Life Activities- May include, but are not limited to, caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, and working.

Major life activities also include the operation of a major bodily function, including but not limited to, functions of the immune system, normal cell growth, digestive, bowel, bladder, neurological, brain, respiratory, circulatory, endocrine, and reproductive functions.

Medical Documentation- Information from the requestor's treating provider which is sufficient to enable the employer to determine whether an individual has a disability and whether and what type of reasonable accommodation is needed when the disability or the need for accommodation is not obvious. Medical documentation can be requested using the standardized Letter Requesting Documentation for Determining ADA Eligibility from a Medical Provider.

Reasonable Accommodation- An adjustment or alteration that enables a qualified individual with a disability to apply for a job, perform job duties, or enjoy the benefits and privileges of employment. Reasonable accommodations may include:

- Modifications or adjustments to a job application process to permit a qualified individual with a disability to be considered for a job; or
- Modifications or adjustments to enable a qualified individual with a disability to perform the essential functions of the job; or
- Modifications or adjustments that enable qualified employees with disabilities to enjoy equal benefits and privileges of employment.
- Modifications or adjustments may include, but are not limited to:
 - Providing materials in alternative formats like large print or Braille;
 - Providing assistive technology, including information technology and communications equipment, or specially designed furniture;

- Modifying work schedules or supervisory methods;
- Granting breaks or providing leave;
- Altering how or when job duties are performed;
- Removing and/or substituting a marginal function;
- Moving to a different office space;
- Providing telework;
- Making changes in workplace policies;
- Providing a reader or other staff assistant to enable employees to perform their job functions, where a reasonable accommodation cannot be provided by current staff;
- Removing an architectural barrier, including reconfiguring work spaces;
- Providing accessible parking;
- Providing a sign language interpreter; or
- Providing a reassignment to a vacant position.

Reassignment- Reassignment to a vacant position for which an employee is qualified is a “last resort” form of a reasonable accommodation. This type of accommodation must be provided to an employee, who, because of a disability, can no longer perform the essential functions of the position, with or without reasonable accommodation, unless the employer can show that it will be an undue hardship.

Support Person- Any person an individual with a disability identifies to help during the reasonable accommodation process in terms of filling out paperwork, attending meetings during the interactive process to take notes or ask clarifying questions, or to provide emotional support.

Undue Hardship- A specific reasonable accommodation would require significant difficulty or expense. Undue hardship is always determined on a case-by-case basis considering factors that include the nature and cost of the accommodation requested and the impact of the accommodation on the operations of the agency. A state agency is not required to provide accommodations that would impose an undue hardship on the operation of the agency.

- Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title 29 USC 701
- Americans with Disabilities Act (1990)
- 29 C.F.R. 1630, Regulations to Implement the Equal Employment Provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act

GENERAL STANDARDS AND EXPECTATIONS

Individuals who may request a reasonable accommodation include:

- Any qualified applicant with a disability who needs assistance with the job application procedure or the interview or selection process; or
- Any qualified agency employee with a disability who needs a reasonable accommodation to perform the essential functions of the position; or
- A third party, such as a family member, friend, health professional or other representative, on behalf of a qualified applicant or employee with a disability, when the applicant or employee is unable to make the request for reasonable accommodation. When possible, the agency must contact the applicant or employee to confirm that the accommodation is wanted. The applicant or employee has the discretion to accept or reject the proposed accommodation.

The agency must abide by the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act, Chapter 13, in obtaining or sharing information related to accommodation requests.

How to request a reasonable accommodation

An agency applicant or employee may make a reasonable accommodation request to any or all of the following:

- Immediate supervisor or manager in the employee's chain of command;
- Agency Affirmative Action Officer/Designee;
- Agency ADA Coordinator;
- Agency Human Resources Office;
- Any agency official with whom the applicant has contact during the application, interview and/or selection process.

Timing of the request

An applicant or employee may request a reasonable accommodation at any time, even if the individual has not previously disclosed the existence of a disability or the need for an accommodation. A request is any communication in which an individual asks or states that he or she needs the agency to provide or change something because of a medical condition.

The reasonable accommodation process begins as soon as possible after the request for accommodation is made.

Form of the request

The applicant or employee is responsible for requesting a reasonable accommodation or providing sufficient notice to the agency that an accommodation is needed.

An initial request for accommodation may be made in any manner (e.g., writing, electronically, in person or orally).

The individual requesting an accommodation does not have to use any special words and does not have to mention the ADA or use the phrase "reasonable accommodation" or "disability."

Oral requests must be documented in writing to ensure efficient processing of requests.

Agency request forms can be found at: "Employee/Applicant Request for Reasonable Accommodation Form".

When a supervisor or manager observes or receives information indicating that an employee is experiencing difficulty performing the job due to a medical condition or disability, further inquiry may be required. Supervisors or managers should consult with the agency ADA Coordinator for advice on how to proceed.

When an employee needs the same reasonable accommodation on a repeated basis (e.g., the assistance of a sign language interpreter), a written request for accommodation is required the first time only. However, the employee requesting an accommodation must give appropriate advance notice each subsequent time the accommodation is needed. If the accommodation is needed on a regular basis (e.g., a weekly staff meeting), the agency must make appropriate arrangements without requiring a request in advance of each occasion.

The interactive process entails

Communication is a priority and encouraged throughout the entire reasonable accommodation process. The interactive process is a collaborative process between the employee and/or applicant and the agency to explore and identify specific reasonable accommodation(s). (For information on the Interactive Process see the U.S. Department of Labor, Job Accommodation Network at <http://askjan.org/topics/interactive.htm>. This process is required when:

- The need for a reasonable accommodation is not obvious;
- The specific limitation, problem or barrier is unclear;
- An effective reasonable accommodation is not obvious;
- The parties are considering different forms of reasonable accommodation;
- The medical condition changes or fluctuates; or,
- There are questions about the reasonableness of the requested accommodation.

The interactive process should begin as soon as possible after a request for reasonable accommodation is made or the need for accommodation becomes known.

The process should ensure a full exchange of relevant information and communication between the individual and the agency. An individual may request that the agency ADA Coordinator, a union representative, or support person be present.

The agency ADA Coordinator shall be consulted when:

- Issues, conflicts or questions arise in the interactive process; and
- Prior to denying a request for accommodation.

Agency responsibilities for processing the request

As the first step in processing a request for reasonable accommodation, the person who receives the request must promptly forward the request to the appropriate decision maker. At the same time, the recipient will notify the requestor who the decision maker is.

Commissioner

The commissioner of the agency or agency head has the ultimate responsibility to ensure compliance with the ADA and this policy and appoint an ADA Coordinator.

ADA Coordinator

The agency ADA Coordinator is the agency's decision maker for reasonable accommodation requests for all types of requests outside of the supervisors' and managers' authority. The agency ADA Coordinator will work with the supervisor and manager, and where necessary, with agency Human Resources, to implement the approved reasonable accommodation.

Supervisors and Managers

Agencies have the authority to designate the level of management approval needed for reasonable accommodation requests for low-cost purchases. For example:

Requests for standard office equipment that is needed as a reasonable accommodation and adaptive items costing less than $100. [Agencies can adjust the dollar amount based on their needs]; and

Requests for a change in a condition of employment such as modified duties, or a change in schedule, or the location and size of an employee's workspace. [Agencies can choose to delegate specific requests to supervisors or managers or require these types of requests to work through the agency ADA Coordinator].

Analysis for processing requests

Before approving or denying a request for accommodation, the agency decision maker with assistance from the agency ADA Coordinator will:

1. Determine if the requestor is a qualified individual with a disability;
2. Determine if the accommodation is needed to:
 - Enable a qualified applicant with a disability to be considered for the position the individual desires;

- Enable a qualified employee with a disability to perform the essential functions of the position; or
 - Enable a qualified employee with a disability to enjoy equal benefits or privileges of employment as similarly situated employees without disabilities;
3. Determine whether the requested accommodation is reasonable;
 4. Determine whether there is a reasonable accommodation that will be effective for the requestor and the agency; and
 5. Determine whether the reasonable accommodation will impose an undue hardship on the agency's operations.

An employee's accommodation preference is always seriously considered, but the agency is not obligated to provide the requestor's accommodation of choice, so long as it offers an effective accommodation, or determines that accommodation would cause an undue hardship.

Obtaining medical documentation in connection with a request for reasonable accommodation

In some cases, the disability and need for accommodation will be reasonably evident or already known, for example, where an employee is blind. In these cases, the agency will not seek further medical documentation. If a requestor's disability and/or need for reasonable accommodation are not obvious or already known, the agency ADA Coordinator may require medical information showing that the requestor has a covered disability that requires accommodation. The agency ADA Coordinator may request medical information in certain other circumstances. For example when:

- The information submitted by the requestor is insufficient to document the disability or the need for the accommodation;
- A question exists as to whether an individual is able to perform the essential functions of the position, with or without reasonable accommodation; or
- A question exists as to whether the employee will pose a direct threat to himself/herself or others.

Where medical documentation is necessary, the agency ADA Coordinator must make the request and use the Letter Requesting Documentation for Determining ADA Eligibility from a Medical Provider. The agency ADA Coordinator must also obtain the requestor's completed and signed Authorization for Release of Medical Information before sending the Letter to, or otherwise communicating with, the medical provider. The employee may choose not to sign the Authorization. However, if the employee chooses not to sign the Authorization, it is the employee's responsibility to ensure that the agency receives the requested medical information.

Only medical documentation specifically related to the employee's request for accommodation and ability to perform the essential functions of the position will be requested. When medical documentation or information is appropriately requested, an employee must provide it in a timely manner, or the agency may deny the reasonable accommodation request. Agencies must not request medical records; medical records are not appropriate documentation and cannot be accepted.

Supervisors and managers must not request medical information or documentation from an applicant or employee seeking an accommodation. Such a request will be made by the agency ADA Coordinator, if appropriate.

Confidentiality requirements

Medical Information

Medical information obtained in connection with the reasonable accommodation process must be kept confidential. All medical information obtained in connection with such requests must be collected and maintained on separate forms and in separate physical or electronic files from non-medical personnel files and records. Electronic copies of medical information obtained in connection with the reasonable accommodation process must be stored so that access is limited to only the agency ADA Coordinator. Physical copies of such medical information must be stored in a locked cabinet or office when not in use or unattended. Generally, medical documentation obtained in connection with the reasonable accommodation process should only be reviewed by the agency ADA Coordinator.

The agency ADA Coordinator may disclose medical information obtained in connection with the reasonable accommodation process to the following:

- Supervisors, managers or agency HR staff who have a need to know may be told about the necessary work restrictions and about the accommodations necessary to perform the employee's duties. However, information about the employee's medical condition should only be disclosed if strictly necessary, such as for safety reasons;
- First aid and safety personnel may be informed, when appropriate, if the employee may require emergency treatment or assistance in an emergency evacuation;
- To consult with the State ADA Coordinator or Employment Law Counsel at MMB, or the Attorney General's Office about accommodation requests, denial of accommodation requests or purchasing of specific assistive technology or other resources; or
- Government officials assigned to investigate agency compliance with the ADA.

Whenever medical information is appropriately disclosed as described above, the recipients of the information must comply with all confidentiality requirements.

Accommodation Information

The fact that an individual is receiving an accommodation because of a disability is confidential and may only be shared with those individuals who have a need to know for purposes of implementing the accommodation, such as the requestor's supervisor and the agency ADA Coordinator.

General Information

General summary information regarding an employee's or applicant's status as an individual with a disability may be collected by agency equal opportunity officials to maintain records and evaluate and report on the agency's performance in hiring, retention, and processing reasonable accommodation requests.

Approval of requests for reasonable accommodation

As soon as the decision maker determines that a reasonable accommodation will be provided, the agency ADA Coordinator will process the request and provide the reasonable accommodation in as short of a timeframe as possible. The time necessary to process a request will depend on the nature of the accommodation requested and whether it is necessary to obtain supporting information. If an approved accommodation cannot be provided within a reasonable time, the decision maker will inform the requestor of the status of the request before the end of 30 days. Where feasible, if there is a delay in providing the request, temporary measures will be taken to provide assistance.

Once approved, the reasonable accommodation should be documented for record keeping purposes and the records maintained by the agency ADA Coordinator.

Funding for reasonable accommodations

The agency must specify how the agency will pay for reasonable accommodations.

Procedures for reassignment as a reasonable accommodation

Reassignment to a vacant position is an accommodation that must be considered if there are no effective reasonable accommodations that would enable the employee to perform the essential functions of his/her current job, or if all other reasonable accommodations would impose an undue hardship.

The agency ADA Coordinator will work with agency Human Resources staff and the requestor to identify appropriate vacant positions within the agency for which the employee may be qualified and can perform the essential functions of the vacant position, with or without reasonable accommodation. Vacant positions which are equivalent to the employee's current job in terms of pay, status, and other relevant factors will be considered first. If there are none, the agency will consider vacant lower level positions for which the individual is qualified. The EEOC recommends that the agency consider positions that are currently vacant or will be coming open within at least the next 60 days.

Denial of requests for reasonable accommodation

The agency ADA Coordinator must be contacted for assistance and guidance prior to denying any request for reasonable accommodation. The agency may deny a request for reasonable accommodation where:

- The individual is not a qualified individual with a disability;

- The reasonable accommodation results in undue hardship or the individual poses a direct threat to the individual or others. Undue hardship and direct threat are determined on a case-by-case basis with guidance from the agency ADA Coordinator; or
- Where no reasonable accommodation, including reassignment to a vacant position, will enable the employee to perform all the essential functions of the job.

The explanation for denial must be provided to the requestor in writing. The explanation should be written in plain language and clearly state the specific reasons for denial. Where the decision maker has denied a specific requested accommodation, but has offered a different accommodation in its place, the decision letter should explain both the reasons for denying the accommodation requested and the reasons that the accommodation being offered will be effective.

Consideration of undue hardship

An interactive process must occur prior to the agency making a determination of undue hardship. Determination of undue hardship is made on a case-by-case basis and only after consultation with the agency's ADA Coordinator. In determining whether granting a reasonable accommodation will cause an undue hardship, the agency considers factors such as the nature and cost of the accommodation in relationship to the size and resources of the agency and the impact the accommodation will have on the operations of the agency.

Agencies may deny reasonable accommodations based upon an undue hardship. Prior to denying reasonable accommodation requests due to lack of financial resources, the agency will consult with the State ADA Coordinator at MMB.

Determining direct threat

The determination that an individual poses a "direct threat," (i.e., a significant risk of substantial harm to the health or safety of the individual or others) which cannot be eliminated or reduced by a reasonable accommodation, must be based on an individualized assessment of the individual's present ability to safely perform the essential functions of the job with or without reasonable accommodation. A determination that an individual poses a direct threat cannot be based on fears, misconceptions, or stereotypes about the individual's disability. Instead, the agency must make a reasonable medical judgment, relying on the most current medical knowledge and the best available objective evidence.

In determining whether an individual poses a direct threat, the factors to be considered include:

- Duration of the risk;
- Nature and severity of the potential harm;
- Likelihood that the potential harm will occur; and
- Imminence of the potential harm.

Appeals process in the event of denial

In addition to providing the requestor with the reasons for denial of a request for reasonable accommodation, agencies must designate a process for review when an applicant or employee chooses to appeal the denial of a reasonable accommodation request. This process:

- Must include review by an agency official;
- May include review by the State ADA Coordinator; and/or
- Must inform the requestor of the statutory right to file a charge with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission or the Minnesota Department of Human Rights.

Information tracking and records retention

Agencies must track reasonable accommodations requested and report once a year by September 1st to MMB the number and types of accommodations requested, approved, denied and other relevant information.

Agencies must retain reasonable accommodation documentation according to the agency's document retention schedule, but in all cases for at least one year from the date the record is made or the personnel action involved is taken, whichever occurs later. 29 C.F.R. § 1602.14.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Agencies are responsible for the request:

- Adoption and implementation of this policy and development of reasonable accommodation procedures consistent with the guidance in this document.

Evacuation Procedure for Individuals with Disabilities or Otherwise in Need of Assistance

A copy of the agency's weather and emergency evacuation plans can be found at: <http://mn.gov/admin/employees/policies/index.jsp>.

Knowledge and preparation by both individuals needing assistance and those who don't is key to reducing the impact of emergencies. When developing a plan, safety needs should be determined on a case-by-case basis because it varies with each individual and building.

Everyone has a responsibility to develop their own personal emergency evacuation plan, this includes individuals with disabilities or individuals who will need assistance during evacuation. The Americans with Disabilities Act Coordinator or designee in each agency will work to develop a plan and consult the appropriate building and safety personnel.

Directors, managers, and supervisors should review the emergency evacuation procedures with staff, including informing all staff that if additional assistance may be needed, and individuals with disabilities should contact the agency contact(s) below to request the type of assistance they may need.

Ajeet Yadav, Safety Administrator, 651.201.8211, Ajeet.yadav@state.mn.us

Evacuation Options:

Individuals with disabilities have four basic, possibly five, evacuation options:

- Horizontal evacuation: Using building exits to the outside ground level or going into unaffected wings of multi-building complexes;
- Stairway evacuation: Using steps to reach ground level exits from building;
- Shelter in place: Unless danger is imminent, remain in a room with an exterior window, a telephone, and a solid or fire resistant door. If the individual requiring special evacuation assistance remains in place, they should dial 911 immediately and report their location to emergency services, who will in turn relay that information to on-site responders. The shelter in place approach may be more appropriate for sprinkler protected buildings where an area of refuge is not nearby or available. It may be more appropriate for an individual who is alone when the alarm sounds;
- Area of rescue assistance: Identified areas that can be used as a means of egress for individuals with disabilities. These areas, located on floors above or below the building's exits, can be used by individuals with disabilities until rescue can be facilitated by emergency responders; and/or

- For agencies equipped with an evacuation chair: Evacuation chairs or a light-weight solution to descending stairways can be used and generally require single user operation. If an agency is equipped with an evacuation chair, best practice indicates that all employees are trained and have practiced evacuating using an evacuation chair.

Evacuation Procedures for Individuals with Mobility, Hearing, or Visual Disabilities:

Individuals with disabilities should follow the following procedures:

- Mobility disabilities (individuals who use wheelchairs or other personal mobility devices (“PMDs”)): Individuals using wheelchairs should be accompanied to an area of rescue assistance by an employee or shelter in place when the alarm sounds. The safety and security staff will respond to each of the areas of rescue assistance every time a building evacuation is initiated to identify the individuals in these areas and notify to emergency responders how many individuals need assistance to safely evacuate.
- Mobility disabilities (individuals who do not use wheelchairs): Individuals with mobility disabilities, who are able to walk independently, may be able to negotiate stairs in an emergency with minor assistance. If danger is imminent, the individual should wait until the heavy traffic has cleared before attempting the stairs. If there is no immediate danger (detectable smoke, fire, or unusual odor), the individual with a disability may choose to wait at the area of rescue assistance until emergency responders arrive to assist them.
- Hearing disabilities: The agency’s buildings are equipped with fire alarm horns/strobes that sound the alarm and flash strobe lights. The strobe lights are for individuals with who are deaf and/or hard of hearing. Individuals with hearing disabilities may not notice or hear emergency alarms and will need to be alerted of emergency situations.
- Visual disabilities: The agency’s buildings are equipped with fire alarm horn/strobes that sound the alarm and flash strobe lights. The horn will alert individuals who are blind or have visual disabilities of the need to evacuate. Most individuals with visual disabilities will be familiar with their immediate surroundings and frequently traveled routes. Since the emergency evacuation route is likely different from the common traveled route, individuals with visual disabilities may need assistance in evacuating. The assistant should offer assistance, and if accepted, guide the individual with a visual disability through the evacuation route.

Severe Weather Evacuation Options:

Individuals in need of assistance during an evacuation have three evacuation options based on their location in their building:

- Horizontal evacuation: If located on the ground or basement floor, severe weather shelter areas are located throughout each floor;
- Elevator evacuation: If there are no safe areas above the ground floor, the elevator may be used to evacuate to the ground or basement levels; and/or
- Shelter in Place: Seeking shelter in a designated severe weather shelter and remaining there until the all clear is used.
