

A photograph of a lighthouse situated on a high, rocky cliff. The lighthouse is illuminated from within, and a bright beam of light extends horizontally across the dark blue night sky. The cliff face is rugged and textured, with some sparse vegetation. In the foreground, there are dark evergreen trees. The overall scene is dramatic and atmospheric.

MNHS ANNUAL REPORT

FISCAL YEAR 2020

A LETTER FROM OUR PRESIDENT AND CEO

This year we opened the History Center's first permanent exhibit devoted to Native American content, Minnesota students earned a whopping 10 medals at National History Day, and MNHS Press exceeded its sales goal by double digits—no small feat in an otherwise devastating year marked by COVID-19, the forced closure of MNHS historic sites and museums, extensive layoffs of MNHS staff, and the murder of George Floyd, which galvanized local and international protests against police brutality and institutional racism.

"THANK YOU for the communication and for giving these students a chance to show all of the work that they have done this year!! This is the ONE thing still on my daughter's 'calendar' and I'm just excited that she can still participate in this event!!"

—History Day parent

On March 12, we made our first big announcement related to COVID-19—National History Day in Minnesota competitions would move online. The next day we announced the closure of all MNHS historic sites and museums. Over the next few months, the resulting strain on the operating budget forced the difficult decision to furlough 63% of our work force and later lay off 216 employees, or 36% of our staff.

This year MNHS announced the appointment of Avi Viswanathan as the new director of the Department of Inclusion and Community Engagement and Briana Joyner as the new chief inclusion officer. Kate Beane took over as director of Native American Initiatives, helping MNHS build stronger relationships with Indigenous peoples across Minnesota and beyond. With these changes, along with a new Equity & Inclusion Council, MNHS is better positioned to ensure that equity work and deep intercultural competence is shared across the organization so that we can strengthen our relationships with all communities.

On May 25, the murder of George Floyd in Minneapolis sent shock waves across the globe. MNHS responded by listening to the needs of community members who were, and still are, hurting. We shared historical resources to help Minnesotans understand how we got to where we are today and to help people build bridges that let us cross the divide that separates us. Moving forward, MNHS will continue to engage with Minnesota’s Black communities to build a shared understanding about how to best document this tragic event.

Through the hardship and grief of the past several months, MNHS has offered moments of inspiration. Staff have developed new ways for people to engage with history in this historic time: lighting the Split Rock Lighthouse beacon on April 10 as a show of solidarity and hope during the pandemic; sharing online resources under the “History at Home” title; launching a new effort to document our experiences called “History is Now;” and creating virtual programs like the “Week of Remembrance,” marking 100 years since the lynchings of three black men—Elias Clayton, Elmer Jackson, and Isaac McGhie—by a white mob in Duluth.

Despite the impact of COVID-19, there were important accomplishments during the year. In December, we opened Our Home: Native Minnesota, the first permanent exhibit at the History Center devoted exclusively to Native American content. Led by a team of Native exhibit developers, curators, and outreach staff, the exhibit shares the stories of Native Americans—Dakota, Ojibwe, as well as people from other tribal nations—and their enduring presence and deep connection to the land.

“Thank you so much for welcoming us at MNHS. The class learned a lot!”

—David Davies, associate professor of anthropology, Hamline University, after MNHS staff brought his museum anthropology class through the MNHS collections

Last fall, at the direction of an MNHS Executive Council-appointed task force, MNHS launched a statewide effort to gather public input on Historic Fort Snelling, including a possible name change, in light of the ongoing revitalization and expanded stories being shared at the site. The task force prepared a report on the public input process and shared it with the Executive Council’s programs committee in the spring. The next step is for the Executive Council to consider what action it might take. If it decides to recommend a name change we would then share that with the Minnesota Legislature for consideration and approval.

In June, construction got underway for the multimillion dollar revitalization of Historic Fort Snelling. Work began with the demolition and removal of the old visitor center and preparations for the renovation of Building 18 into the new visitor center.

Other capital projects included fire and safety updates to the James J. Hill House, HVAC replacement at the Charles Lindbergh House and Museum, work to add ADA-compliant restrooms at the History Center, and interior and exterior design and construction projects at Historic Forestville, Mille Lacs Indian Museum, and the Folsom House.

These projects and the ongoing maintenance of the state's network of historic sites and museums represent enormous fixed costs that cannot be decreased in times of financial downturn.

MNHS is especially grateful this year for the many ways it receives support, including from the Margaret A. Cargill Philanthropies and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, both of which support Native American history, art, and education; and from our many donors including Robert Byrd, Betty and Whitney MacMillan, the Rosen Family Foundation, and the Thomas and Julianne Youngren Family Foundation.

The legislature did not pass a bonding bill in fiscal year 2020, but did provide additional flexibility for Legacy Amendment expenditures due to challenges resulting from the pandemic. The Legacy Amendment's Arts and Cultural Heritage Fund supports statewide programs that preserve and share Minnesota history.

We also received support from people like you, individuals who value history and want to make a difference. We are grateful our membership numbers have remained strong despite the pandemic. MNHS also relies on revenue from attendance, events, and facility rentals.

As the new fiscal year began, MNHS was able to reopen Jeffers Petroglyphs, Lower Sioux Agency, Minnesota History Center, Oliver Kelley Farm, Split Rock Lighthouse, and the Trading Post at the Mille Lacs Indian Museum, but we are treading carefully.

Robert Byrd was an award-winning documentary filmmaker and a program director at the Jerome Foundation. MNHS has a number of Byrd's films in its collections, including: Questions of Racism, Diary: Native American Minnesotans, and A Red Star in Minnesota. He graciously donated art by Julie Buffalohead to MNHS.

"The guides were very involved and showed their enthusiasm for the site. That made it really special."

—Jeffers Petroglyphs visitor

With uncertain financial and health concerns we made the decision to delay the opening of our remaining sites until 2021 at the earliest.

None of this work would be possible without the generous support of the people of Minnesota. We are thankful for our visitors, legislators, members, donors, interns, volunteers, governing board, and staff, past and present.

2020 FINANCIAL SUMMARY

As a nonprofit organization, we serve the people of Minnesota. Our annual budget of $57.5 million comes from three sources that work together to bring the public vibrant, crucial programs, and services: private funding, earned revenue, and public funding, including significant funding from the State of Minnesota.

Public funds, including funding from the state's general fund, provide a foundation of support and enable us to leverage non-public funds to create a nationally recognized history program. Typically, two-thirds of our operating funds come from the State of Minnesota. We deliver functions designated by law, such as preserving historic landmarks and resources, managing critical records and collections, and operating cultural destinations important to tourism. State support also includes capital funding to preserve historic buildings and construct new ones, as well as Legacy Amendment (Arts and Cultural Heritage Fund) support for new, statewide history programs, including grants for local history organizations.

The Minnesota Historical Society also receives support from donors and members. Their gifts support everything from general operations and school field trips to important acquisitions, conservation work, and community outreach. Endowment funds give MNHS strength for today and tomorrow. Finally, earned revenue from rental events, museum stores, admission fees, publication sales, and many other activities also provide a base of funding while keeping history accessible and at family-friendly prices.

During fiscal year 2020, COVID-19 forced the closure of MNHS historic sites and museums through the fourth quarter, which resulted in a $3 million reduction in earned revenue. To address this, MNHS furloughed roughly half of its staff, used reserves, and relied on state appropriations and non-state restricted funds to support reduced operations.

HELP HISTORY CAMPAIGN

THANK YOU!

The Minnesota Historical Society gratefully acknowledges the donors who provided matching grants for the launch of our Help History Campaign in June 2020.

The Help History campaign was created in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, and the funds will help MNHS engage the issues of today, bridge a growing funding gap, and help to continue to safely reopen our sites to the public.

Help History Campaign gifts are doubled, thanks to a $325,000 matching grant generously funded by the MNHS Executive Council, the Rosemary and David Good Family Foundation, the Manitou Fund – Nora McNeely Hurley and Michael Hurley, the Thomas & Julianne Youngren Foundation, and two anonymous donors.

We still need your help! If you would like to donate to Help History, please visit mnhs.org/helphistory.

Tom and Julianne Youngren's commitment to Minnesota history has deepened over the past decade and strengthened MNHS's ability to deliver high quality programs and services. We thank them for the many ways they continue to demonstrate history matters!

NORTH STAR CIRCLE

The Minnesota Historical Society gratefully acknowledges the following donors in our North Star Circle for their leadership support from July 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020. The commitment and generosity of our North Star Circle members sustains our work to transform lives through the power of history and maintains the excellence of our ongoing programs, sites, and services.

Thank you to the Rosen family for their generous support of MNHS. Tom Rosen and his children, Karin, Wade, and Reid, share a love of history and enjoy making frequent visits to the History Center and several of our sites. Their third-generation family agricultural business, Rosen's Diversified, Inc., based in Fairmont, will be celebrating 75 years in 2021. They look forward to using resources in the Gale Family Library to learn more about their family history.

MINNESOTA LEGACY SOCIETY MEMBERS
