Workers' compensation COVID-19 presumption

CHAPTER 72--H.F.No. 4537

An act relating to workers' compensation; providing a presumption for COVID-19 workers' compensation claims for certain employees; requiring a report; authorizing extension of the implementation date of the CAMPUS system; amending Minnesota Statutes 2018, section 176.011, subdivision 15.

The presumption covers:

- a licensed peace officer, firefighter, paramedic or emergency medical technician;
- certain workers employed at a corrections, detention or secure treatment facility;
- a health care provider, nurse or assistive employee employed in a health care, home care or long-term care setting, with direct COVID-19 patient care or ancillary work in COVID-19 patient units;
- a person required to provide child care to first responders and health care workers under Executive Orders 20-02 and 20-19.

Approximately 183,000 workers are eligible for presumption coverage.

21,277 COVID-19 claims reported to DLI through Aug. 10, 2021

COVID-19 claims by presumption status and month reported

Presumption status affects claim acceptance

- 96% of accepted claims were in the presumption group
- Non-presumption worker claims were 14% of all claims and 47% of denied claims

Non-presumption claims were five times more likely to be denied

Denial status for claims filed after presumption effective

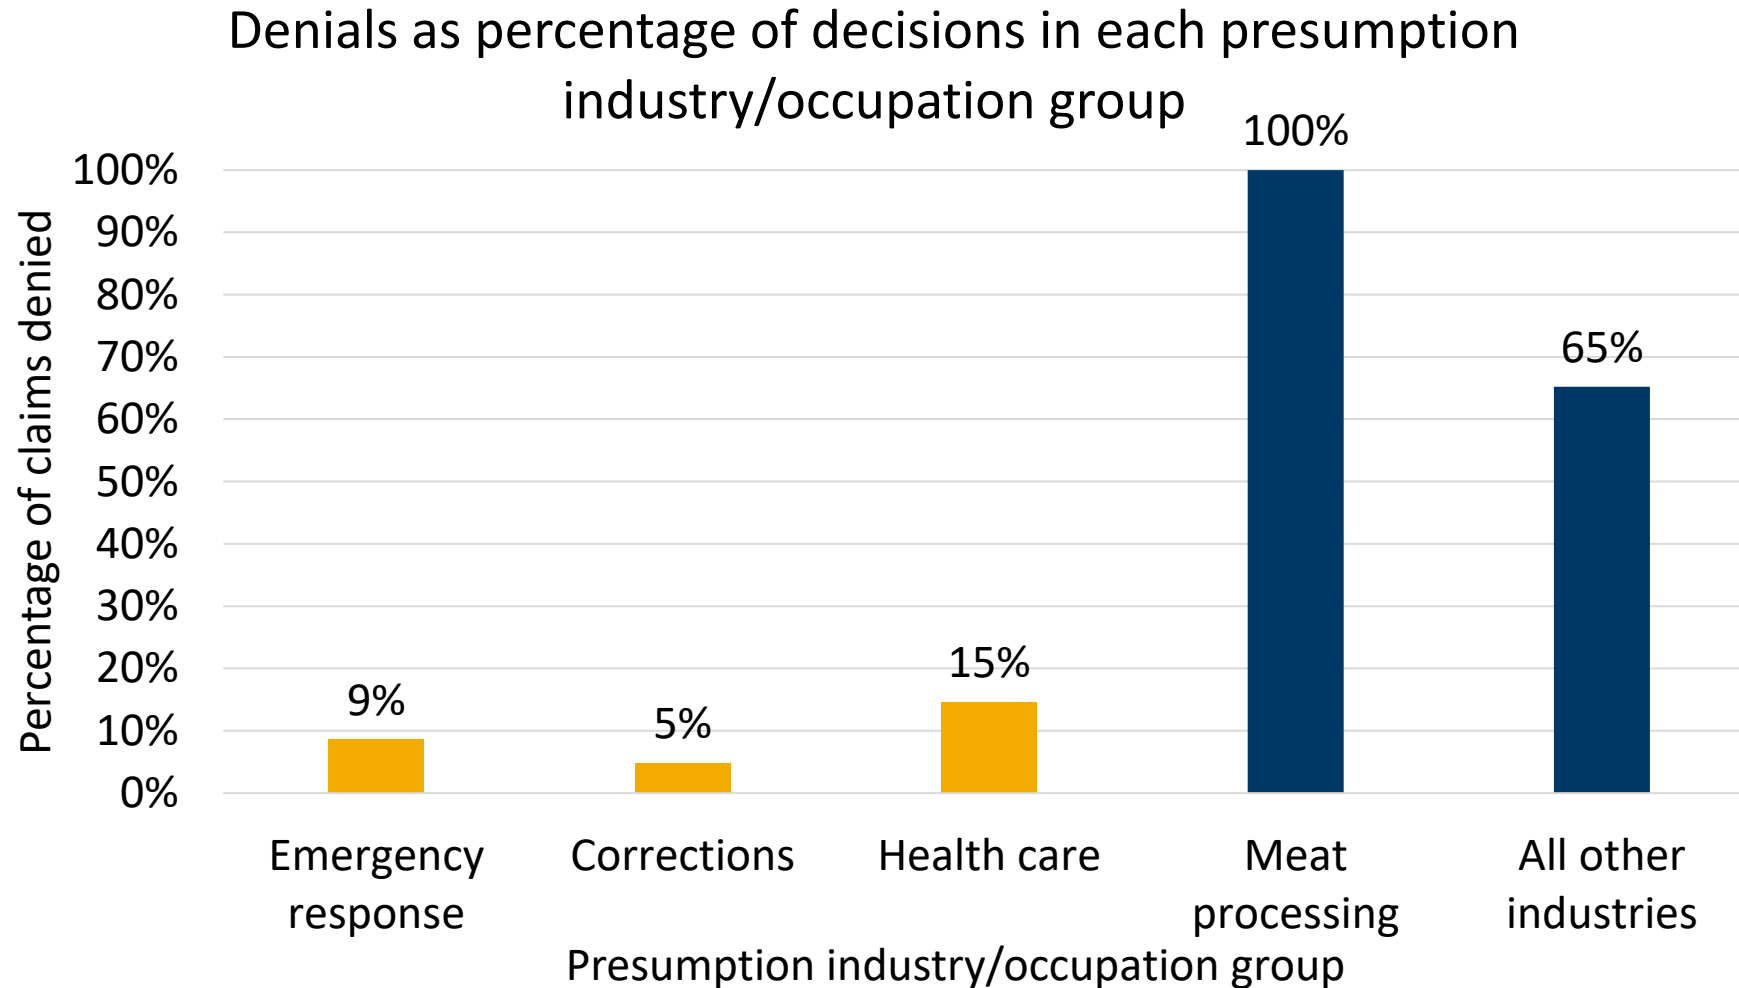

- It may take a few weeks for insurers to report on claim acceptance or denial, so we have claims with no decision reported.

74% of claims are from health care establishments

COVID-19 claims filed by industry-presumption group

Presumption status and workplace conditions affect denial rates

- Only 20 child care claims have been reported, so they are not shown as a group.
- Meat processing is shown separately from other non-presumption claims because they have not been paid.

Half of all claims were from hospitals and nursing homes

Detailed industries with 200 or more claims

RNs and nursing aides reported the most claims

Claims by detailed occupation within health care, 150 or more claims

$15.6 million has been paid in indemnity benefits

Sum of payments reported to date by benefit type and presumption status

- Indemnity benefits cover wage loss and permanent disability
- 96% of benefits were paid to presumption group workers
- 93% of paid benefits have been to cover wage loss from temporary total disability
