Minnesota Community Supported Agriculture Farms (CSA's)

CSA is a fast-growing direct-farm marketing and production model. It usually involves purchase of a "share" by people interested in receiving a weekly amount of fresh, healthy, local produce – generally provided in a basket or box that is either picked up at the farm or delivered to a designated drop site. Most of the 85 Minnesota CSA's listed in this directory focus on providing 14-20+ weekly shares of produce (mostly veggies). Some of those produce CSA's offer chickens, eggs or flowers as additional share offerings. There are some meat/poultry and flower providers who have adopted this CSA marketing model as well. Often, CSA farms offer on-farm activities, weekly newsletters, and other membership benefits. It's important to understand that membership in a CSA involves shared risk and reward – you share in the bounty of crops that do well and the risk of crop failure. The location of a CSA farm may be important to you if you plan to visit "your" CSA farm, but many of the farms listed in this guide have dropsites in the Metro-area and nearby communities. Many CSA farms sell out of their shares by May – so shop in the winter and early spring to find a Minnesota CSA farm and farmer that fits your needs!

218 Northern Lakes Wild Rice

Phone Tu-Sat 10-5, Mill City Mkt. Sat 8-1.

The high quality of Northern Lakes Wild Rice is the result of the natural way of gathering the rice by hand and processing in the traditional manner. Steel drums are used to parch the rice over a wood fire. This preserves the distinct, robust natural flavor of the rice and sets it apart from paddy-grown and machine harvested products that dominate supermarket shelves. After the rice is parched, it is thrashed and winnowed to remove the dry outer hull. Our wild rice cooks in 30 minutes. We also offer pure maple syrup, sugar maple products. Honey Strawberry Preserves

Makes 3 pints

6 cups sliced strawberries
2 boxes (1-3/4 oz. each) powdered pectin
1-3/4 cups honey
2 Tablespoons lemon juice

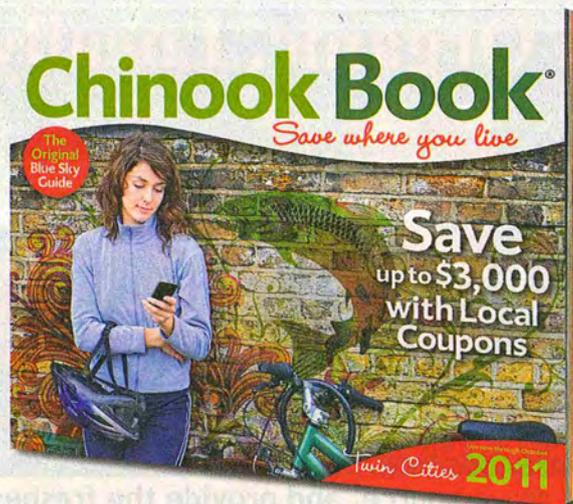

Combine strawberries and pectin in large saucepan; crush berries to blend completely. Bring mixture to a full rolling boil over medium-high heat. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir in honey and lemon juice; return to a full rolling boil. Boil hard 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim off foam. Ladle into clean, hot canning jars to within 1/4 inch of tops. Seal according to manufacturer's directions. Place jars on rack in canner. Process 10 minutes in boiling water bath with boiling water 2 inches above jar tops. Remove jars from canner. Place on thick cloth or wire rack; cool away from drafts. After 12 hours test lids for proper seal; remove rings from sealed jars.

Cooking Hints

- Reduce all liquids by 1/4 cup for each cup of honey used.
- Add 1/2 teaspoon baking soda for each cup of honey used.
- Reduce oven temperature by 25°F to prevent over-browning.
- Store honey at room temperature to prevent crystallization. If your honey does crystallize, place your jar of honey in a pan of very hot, but not boiling, water and stir until crystals dissolve.

Sweet Facts

- 17g of carbohydrates per 1 tablespoon of honey
- 5g of sugars per 1 tablespoon of honey
- Bees are the only insects that provide us with food
- Honey was the first sweetener used by man
- It takes 12 bees a lifetime to produce 1 teaspoon of honey

Cattle are my passion. Growing up I learned the value and pride of raising my own cattle. I still believe in those values today. My crossbred Black Angus cattle are pasture raised in a very quiet, clean, and positive atmosphere, which I feel has a huge impact on their production. In addition to pasture grass, their diet consists of cracked corn, hay, and mineral. I will never use any growth hormones or implants, as I want my cattle raised naturally. My dedication to my cattle allows me to offer a superior product to my customers. (507)354-9655 or (507)276-0553 kurt@kc-farm.com www.kc-farm.com
