Sizzling Pork

This easy kabob recipe will bring a sizzle to your table.
Don't be blah. Serve The Other White Meat.

Southwest Pork Kabobs

- 4 boneless pork chops, cut into 1-inch cubes
- 4 tablespoons taco seasoning
- 1/2 large onion, peeled and cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1/2 green bell pepper, seeded and cut into 1-inch pieces

Cooking Directions

In a plastic bag or shallow bowl, toss together pork cubes with seasoning until pork is evenly coated. Thread pork cubes, alternating with pepper and onion pieces, onto skewers*. Grill over medium-hot fire, turning occasionally, until pork is nicely browned, about 10 minutes.

Serves 4.

* If using wooden skewers, soak in water for 20 minutes before using.

Serving Suggestions

To make these kabobs more colorful, try a combination of red, yellow and green peppers. Instead of using a large onion, cut up green onions. Serve with beans and rice. Finish off the meal with a bowl of sorbet with sliced fresh fruit.

Minnesota Grown-World Class

The products and services offered in this directory are all Minnesota Grown and sold directly by the grower. Minnesota Grown producers supply world class farm-fresh meats, fruits, vegetables, and other tasty foods, as well as the freshest ornamental products such as Christmas trees and fall décor. The products advertised in these pages are grown with pride.

The Minnesota Grown Program is proud to announce a partnership with another world class Minnesota Grown product, middle-distance runner Carrie Tollefson. A member of the 2004 USA Summer Olympic team and native of Dawson, Minnesota, Tollefson holds numerous Minnesota State High School running records. Training on the gravel roads of Western Minnesota, she won an unprecedented 13 state championships from 8th through 12th grade. Tollefson went on to win five NCAA championships running for Villanova University. She competed in Athens at the 2004 Summer Olympics. In 2006, Tollefson won the USA Cross Country National Championships and the US Indoor Track & Field Championships in the 3,000

Meters. She is now training locally to prepare for the 2008 Olympics in Beijing, China.

World class athletes need to concentrate beyond training in preparing for a race. Tollefson believes that eating right is very important, especially after testing revealed low levels of iron in her blood. "Being conscious of what I put in my body has improved my training and performance," said Tollefson. "I'm always looking for fresh, unprocessed foods like those offered in the Minnesota Grown Directory."
