Methods

OVERVIEW

The International Cannabis Policy Study is a repeat cross-sectional survey conducted annually in the United States and Canada (since 2018), as well as Australia and New Zealand (since 2021) to examine trends in cannabis. This report summarizes key indicators from the 2022 ICPS survey in Minnesota from September 8 to October 31, 2022.

SAMPLE

Respondents were aged 16–65 years and were recruited through the Nielsen Consumer Insights Global Panel. The analytic sample for 2022 comprised 62,126 respondents in Canada (n= 15,942), the United States (n= 40,420), Australia (n= 2,866) and New Zealand (n= 2,898). The results in the current report focus on the subsample of 5,443 respondents from Minnesota who participated in the 2018, 2019, & 2020 (n= 613), 2021 (n= 1,442), and 2022 (n= 3,388) surveys.

SURVEY

The survey covers the following content areas:

- prevalence and patterns of cannabis use;
- cannabis purchasing and price;
- cannabis consumption and modes of use;
- commercial retail environment;
- risk behaviours;
- cannabis knowledge, perceptions of risk and social norms;

- exposure to health warnings and public educational campaigns;
- exposure to cannabis marketing and branding;
- substance use and other risk behaviours; and
- socio-demographics and socio-economic status.

DATA ANALYSIS

Post-stratification survey weights were created using age-by-sex-by-state, ethnicity-by-census division, education-by-state, and age-by-smoking status groups. All estimates in the current report are weighted and rescaled to the original sample size within each state.

Comparisons are provided between Minnesota and other states. In the current report, the term ‘legal’ refers to states that had legalized non-medical cannabis for adult use at the time of data collection in each year. ‘Medical’ refers to states that had legalized medical but not non-medical adult use cannabis at the time of data collection. ‘Illegal’ refers to all other states.

'Delta-8' THC products—Awareness

In 2022, 'Delta-8 THC' products were widely marketed in the US, particularly in jurisdictions in which conventional 'Delta 9 THC' products were illegal for adult use. Approximately 32% of Minnesota respondents reported hearing about Delta-8 products. Awareness levels for 'Delta-8' were more than twice the levels for 'Delta-4' or 'Delta-10' products, which were included as 'bogus' options given that these products are not currently marketed or sold in the US. The results suggests higher levels of awareness for Delta-8 products, despite a certain level of misreporting due to confusion about THC types.
