Region Nine Development Commission

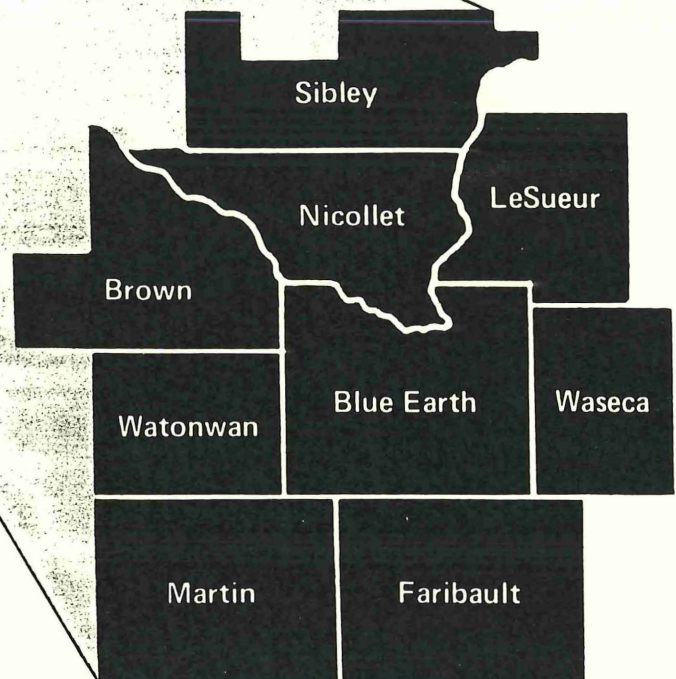

The Region Nine area is comprised of nine south-central Minnesota counties:

Blue Earth, Brown, Faribault, LeSueur, Martin, Nicollet, Sibley, Waseca, and Watonwan.

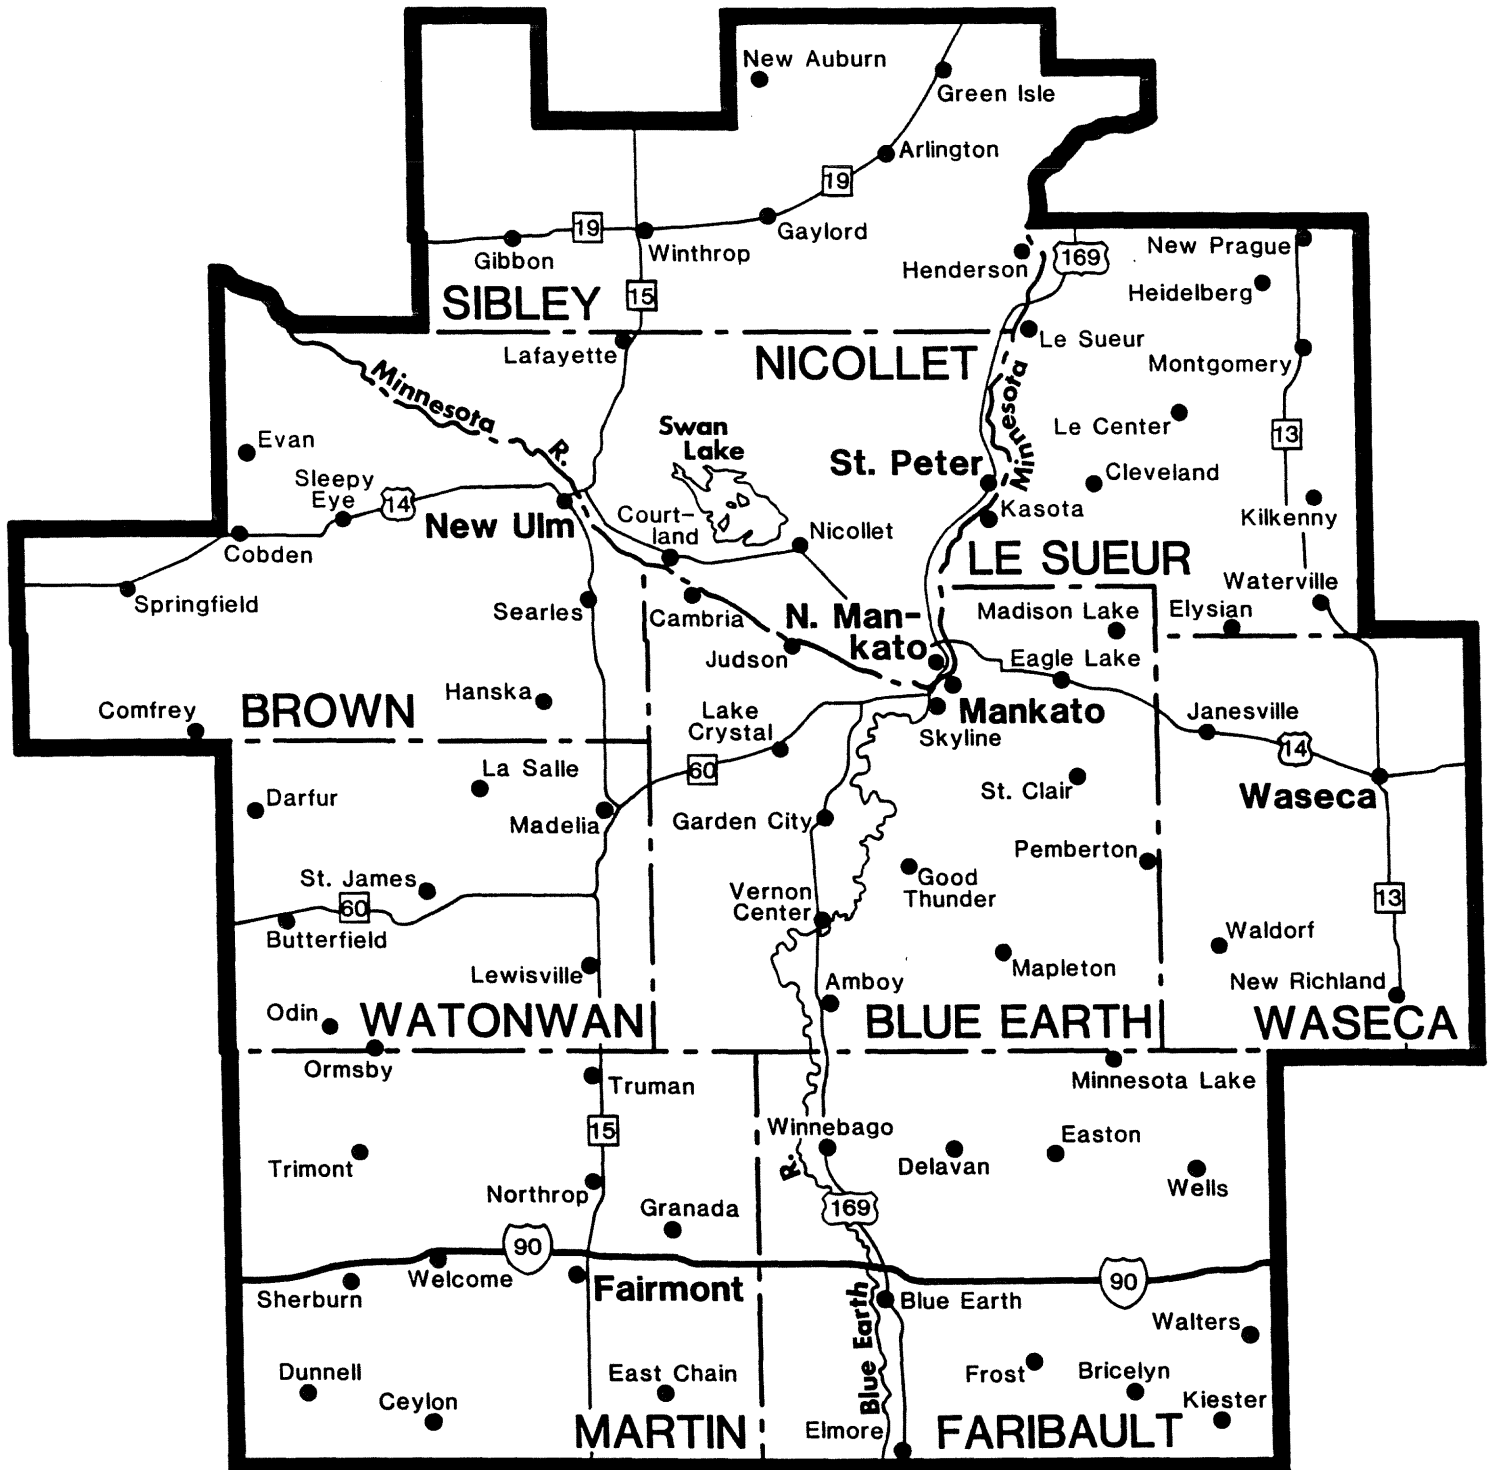

Their combined population is 220,914 of the state's 4,192,973 people, according to estimates made by the Minnesota State Planning Agency in 1985-86. North Mankato, Fairmont, New Ulm, and Mankato are the four largest cities with populations respectively from 10,000 to nearly 30,000.

The 36 elected officials serving on the Commission represent nine counties, 72 cities, 147 townships, 45 school districts, nine soil and water conservation districts, and the Minnesota Valley Council of Governments. A representative of the region's business and industries also serves on the Commission.

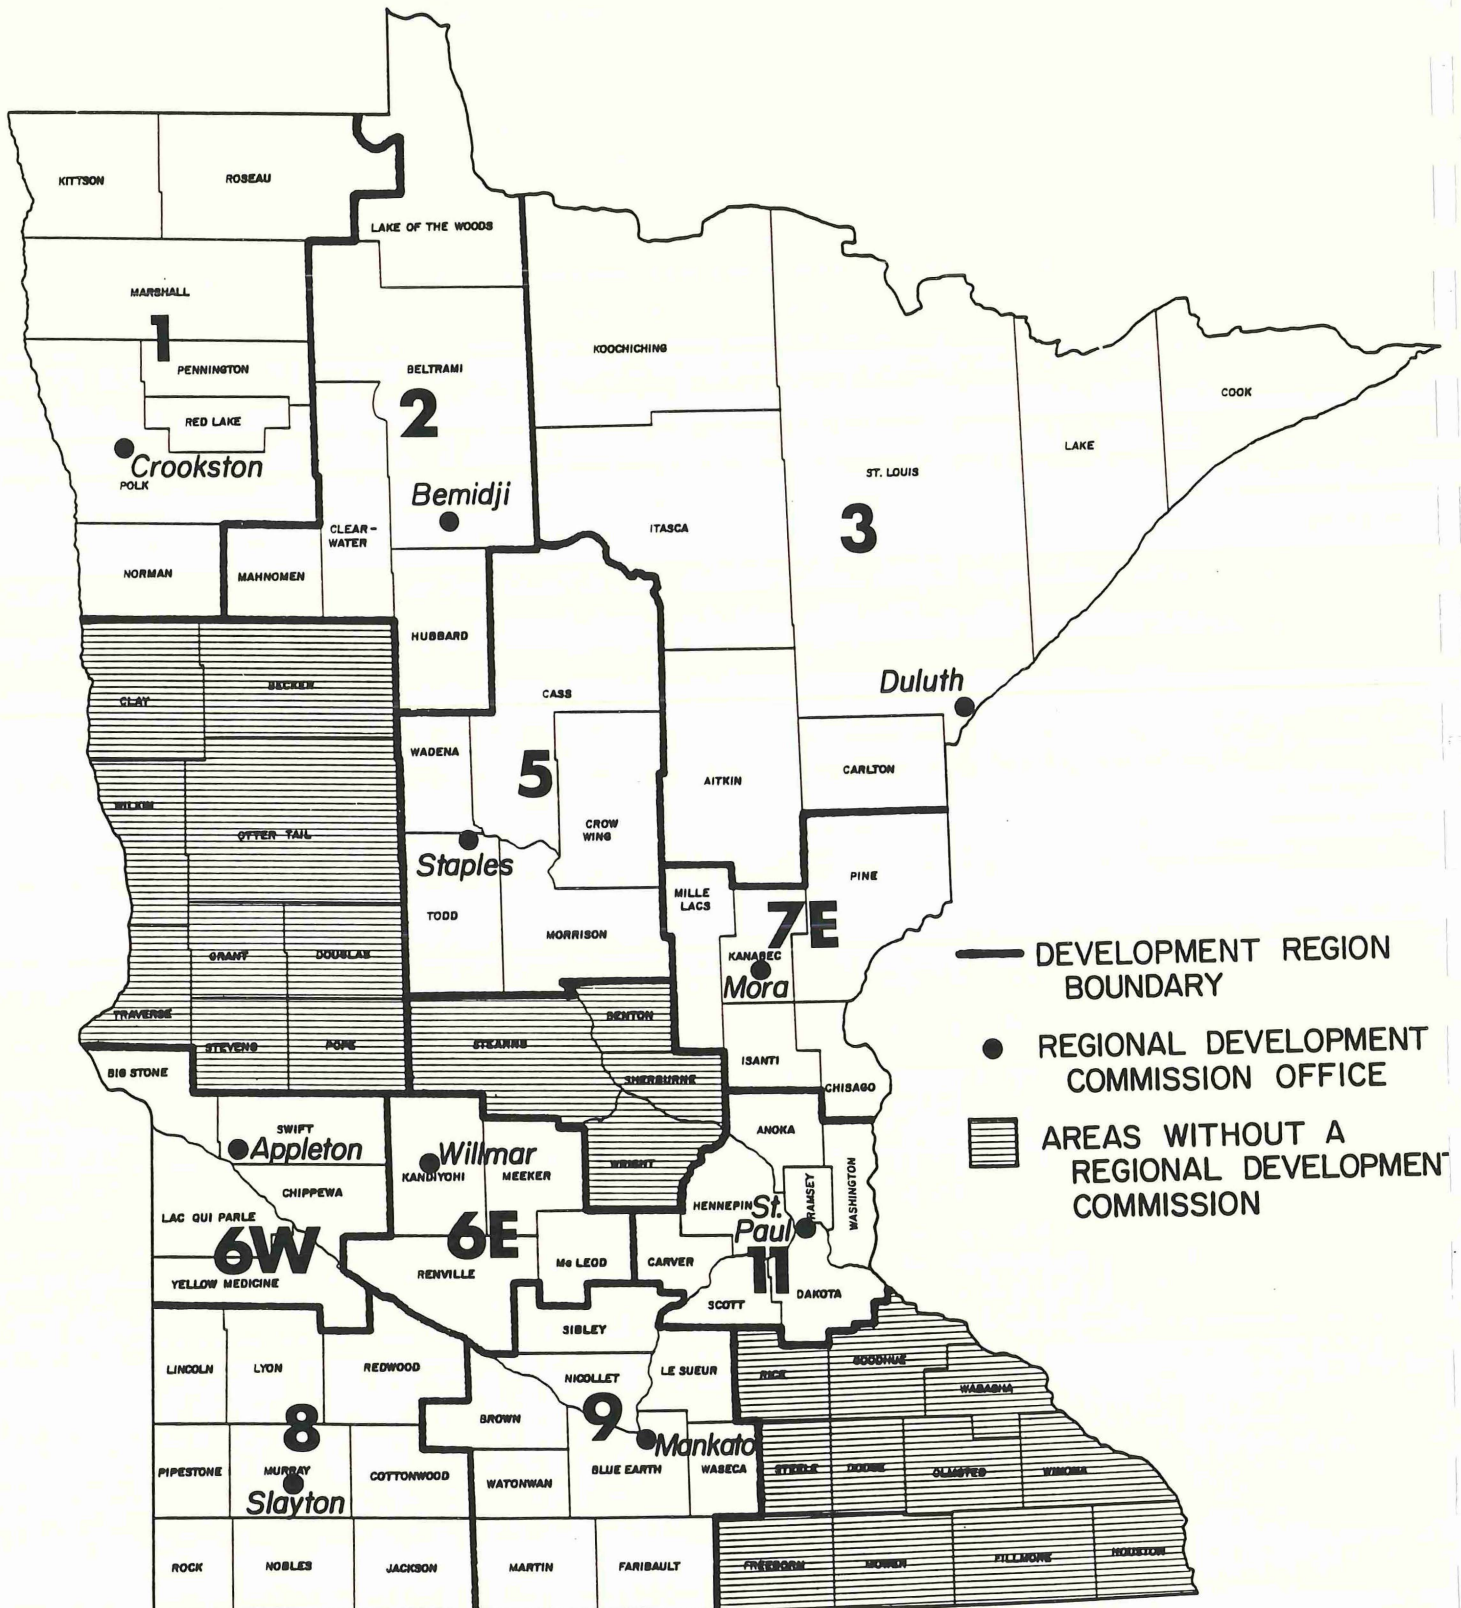

The Commission, authorized by the Regional Development Act of 1969, was organized by local officials in 1972 "to facilitate intergovernmental cooperation and to insure the orderly and harmonious coordination of state, federal and local comprehensive planning and development programs for the solution of economic, social, physical and governmental problems of the state and its citizens." (Minnesota Statutes, Section 462.383; Subdivision 2.)

DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION RS

410 S. 5th St., P.O. Box 3367, Mankato, Minnesota 56001

My first year as chairman of Region Nine Development Commission has been a gratifying and rewarding experience. The competence and production of our staff and the support of our commission members is evidenced by the records and accomplishments during this year.

Region Nine received three innovative program awards from the National Association of Development Organizations (NADO) and our Executive Director, Terry Stone, received the Roy Fogle Award for the outstanding executive director of a development organization in the United States. This is the first time the award has been presented to an individual in Minnesota. These awards demonstrate the esteem with which we are held among our peers.

Our activities have involved numerous areas this year. Some of the accomplishments include providing legislative input and strong support for the transportation bill which was passed by the state legislature this year. We have provided input at various state, federal and local levels. This will help to provide a positive effect for our region. We have been active in acquiring federal designation for the entire region as an Economic Development Area and at this time our application is being reviewed by federal authorities. This will help provide more tools for economic development in our region.

We have been active in aging programs in our area as well as providing input regarding programs and regulations on state and federal levels. Our capabilities in providing seminars and informational programs throughout the region has become well known and we are gaining a leadership role in our region for these resources.

Our new year will provide challenges to our staff and commission members. It will require their continued efforts in the areas of aging and transportation, as well as providing greater support and services for economic development. We will also be challenged to become involved in revising and updating the state Regional Development Act in the legislative session. Next summer we will be the host for the Minnesota Association of Regional Commissions annual conference which will be an extra challenge for us.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the entire staff and the commissioners for their work and support in the past year - and their commitment for a successful new year.

DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION R9

410 S. 5th St., P.O. Box 3367, Mankato, Minnesota 56001

Units of government and citizens of the Region Nine area will be pleased to know the Region Nine Development Commission's major goal is to be able to be professional and cost effective in meeting the needs you identify.

We are continually restructuring our work program to respond to today's changing issues, while at the same time addressing transportation, senior citizens services and other issues that vary little from year to year.

Our 1987-88 fiscal year gave us the opportunity to assist an increasing number of communities, elected officials on the local, state and national level and many agencies. Several highlights included our involvement in the first outstate legislative mini-session, the transportation hearing attended by over 550 individuals, co-hosting the Minnesota Community Improvement Program annual conference, preparing an EDA proposal for the region, and coordinating several congressional hearings. Your involvement in these and many other projects ensured their success while bringing state and national recognition.

Today's challenge of providing planning and other coordinated efforts with less and less state and federal dollars available is being met through increasing local revenues collected for specific services.

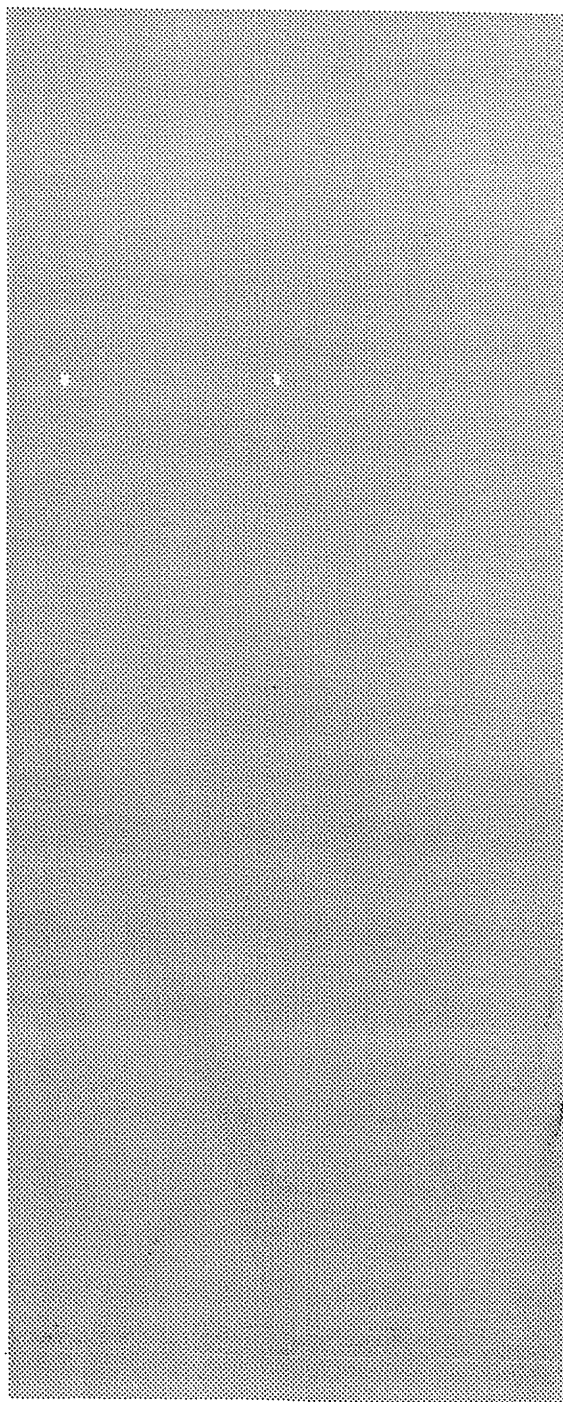

You will find the RNDC offering an increasing number of educational and training programs to meet your identified needs, whether you are a unit of government or private business. Should you desire specific training, please don't hesitate to discuss this with our staff.

Regional development commissions were formed in Minnesota to facilitate inter-governmental cooperation to seek solutions to social, physical and governmental problems of the state and its citizens. We are willing and enthusiastic about continuing to address this goal. With the many volunteers this becomes reality. Thank you.

R9 | community technical assistance

Governing Body: Region Nine Development Commission

Advisory Body: Physical Development Subcommittee

Program Objectives:

- Local governments sometimes need assistance with problems they cannot solve by themselves. At times the problem is the financing of a needed public facility, while at other times the problem involves land use or resource management issues.

The Commission's professional staff was available to assist cities, townships, and counties with a whole range of services. These services ranged from local financing for a project to working with local government to prepare a plan, study or ordinance. The goal was to help our local units of government identify the problem and develop viable solutions to it.

Fiscal Year 1988 Projects:

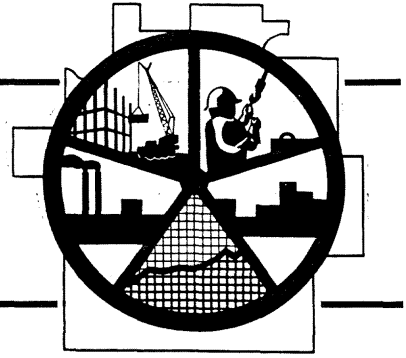

- Prepared the St. Peter Comprehensive Strategic Plan.
- Conducted the Swan Lake Study (Nicollet County).
- Conducted community assessments in numerous communities.
- Provided resource management assistance to several counties.
- Submitted Courtland Water System grant.

Governing Body: Region Nine Development Commission

Advisory Body: Economic Development Subcommittee

Program Objectives:

- The primary objectives of the Region Nine Economic Development program were to stabilize and increase the number of jobs and income within the Region. Four primary means were used to accomplish this mission:
 - Assistance to Businesses - Through the Small Business Administration, State/Federal funding programs, Initiative Fund and other programs, Region Nine staff helped match a project with available low interest, long term loans. The staff also prepared the application forms for the business. Region Nine staff also referred businesses to other agencies, which can serve their specific needs.
 - Assistance to Communities - At times a barrier to economic development is lack of sewer or water capacity, streets or industrial land. The Region Nine staff can assist with state and federal grant/loans to put those facilities into place.
 - Community Education - At times communities are interested in establishing an economic development program but don't know how to get started. The Region Nine staff assists communities assess their situation and take positive steps to improve their local economy.
 - Areawide Cooperation - The lagging economy is an areawide problem calling for cooperation of many communities and organizations. Region Nine works closely with all state and local agencies involved with economic development.
- A major thrust in FY '88 was to establish a full working relationship with the federal Economic Development Administration. This thrust will in FY '89 culminate in the designation of Region Nine as an Economic Development District. To achieve this status, the Region prepared a lengthy Overall Economic Development Plan.

As a result of District Designation status, counties within the Region are eligible for EDA programs including EDA funded revolving loan funds (RLF) and grant programs for public facilities.

Currently, five counties are eligible for revolving loan funds -- Faribault, LeSueur, Martin, Sibley, and Watonwan. Region Nine is in the process of establishing an areawide $800,000 RLF for business expansion and start-up in these counties.

Four counties are eligible for EDA public facilities grants -- LeSueur, Martin, Sibley, and Waseca. The expansion of the egg processing plant in Gaylord was made possible by an EDA public facilities grant prepared by the Region Nine staff.

In addition, district designation of Region Nine makes it eligible for ongoing EDA funding to support all of its economic development efforts.

- Another thrust was to establish a Region Nine Economic Development Subcommittee. This group, comprised of local officials, economic development professionals, and citizens provides guidance to the Region Nine economic development staff. At its organizational meeting, the Subcommittee listed the following priority areas of involvement for Region Nine:
 - Education of local economic development groups.
 - Clearinghouse on economic development (ED) programs and information.
 - Marketing the area for tourism and economic development.
 - Development of new sources of capital.
 - Represent the Region's ED effort to the Governor, state agencies, and legislature.
 - Identify and promote agricultural opportunities.
 - Area comprehensive economic development plan.

Fiscal Year 1988 Projects:

- Conducted Sibley County Labor Survey.
- Conducted LeSueur County Labor Survey.
- Developed region-wide EDA Overall Economic Development Plan.
- Developed Sibley County EDA Overall Economic Development Plan.
- Provided assistance to county economic development programs in Sibley, Waseca, and Brown counties.
- Assisted in establishing small business advocacy group.
- Submitted federal Revolving Loan Fund grant applications for Sibley, Martin, LeSueur, Watonwan, and Martin counties.
- Prepared application for EDA/SCDG grant for Crystal Foods expansion in Gaylord.
- Conducted specific training sessions relating to retailing and providing customer service to 450 participants.
- Provided technical assistance to Springfield, Comfrey, Nicollet, Sleepy Eye, Winnebago, Sherburn, LeCenter, New Richland, and numerous other communities.
- Contracted with Waseca to prepare written proposal seeking Agricultural Utilization Research Institute headquarters of the Greater Minnesota Corporation.
- Began a 20 county directory of manufacturers, suppliers, and wholesalers.

Program Objectives:

- Persons involved with the Region Nine Area Agency on Aging, whether as its staff, volunteers, or professional service providers, work to establish a strong leadership role as an advocate for the dignity, rights, and status of older people. They want to assure access to a number of services supporting wellness, independent living, long-term and acute care.
- The variety of activities the Agency is involved in allows for the coordination of services to older people. As an example, one of its objectives was to effectively encourage public and private services/resources that would improve the system of family and informal caregivers.

Fiscal Year 1988 Projects:

- Advocated for the needs of older people and their service providers through state and federal legislative hearings.
- Provided training opportunities for service providers.
- Sought the further development of senior centers by requesting and receiving Southeastern Minnesota Initiative Fund moneys to re-grant to area groups.
- Developed and coordinated the Elder Services Network of Martin County to encourage communication and prevent duplication of services.
- Sponsored 16 Defensive Driving courses for 923 persons, which gave an estimated $28,000 in insurance savings to the participants.
- Conducted focus groups involving area employers who examined the pre-retirement planning needs of employees. They also studied the feasibility of a pre-retirement program that could be offered by Region Nine to employers.
- Awarded 14 grants for supportive services for the elderly.
- Developed a system of cataloging aging resource materials as well as a system to lend these materials out.
- Assisted the long-term care ombudsman program to update, publish, and disseminate a consumer's guide to long-term care.
- Began developing a pilot regional guardianship/conservatorship service while seeking funds to support this project.

What is the Area Agency on Aging?

An Area Agency on Aging is an agency designated to develop a coordinated system for delivering needed services to older persons in a specific geographic area. An Area Agency on Aging receives funds from the federal Older Americans Act to carry out this responsibility.

What agency serves as the Area Agency on Aging for southcentral Minnesota?

The Region Nine Development Commission (RNDC) was designated as the Area Agency on Aging for southcentral Minnesota by the Minnesota Board on Aging in 1976. The area served by RNDC includes Blue Earth, Brown, Faribault, LeSueur, Martin, Nicollet, Sibley, Waseca and Watonwan Counties.

What are the specific responsibilities of an Area Agency on Aging?

Area Agencies on Aging have a major responsibility for granting Older Americans Act funds to organizations, agencies and units of government that will provide social services and nutrition services to the elderly. They are also responsible for monitoring these organizations, to ensure that Older Americans Act funds are spent in an effective and efficient manner. In addition, Area Agencies serve as a focal point for the concerns of older persons in their region.

Other specific responsibilities of an Area Agency are as follows:

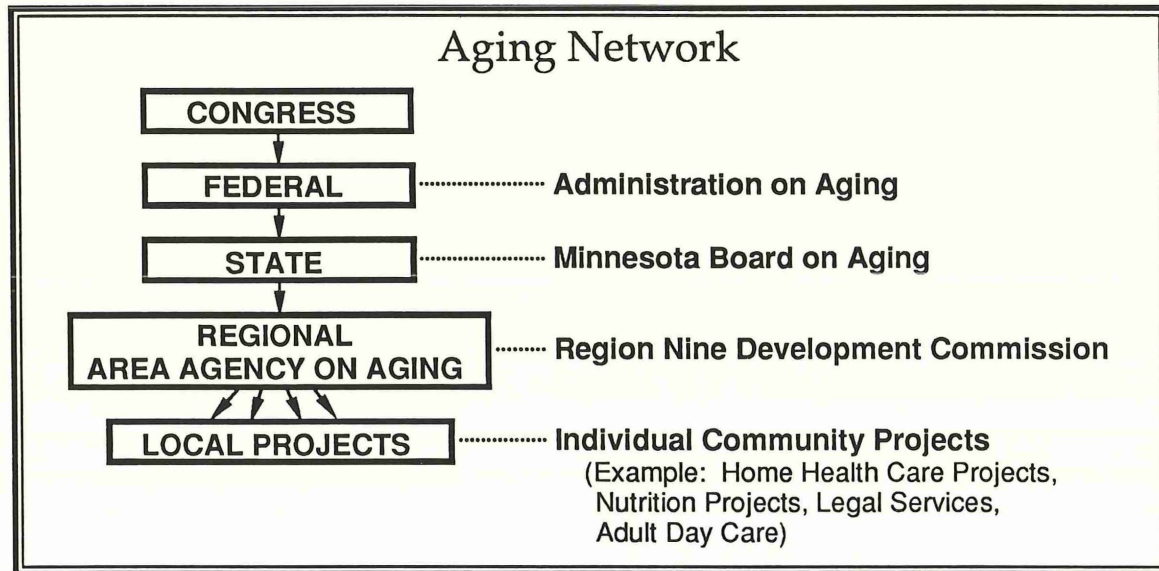

1. Assessment of older persons' needs in the community.
2. Identification of deficiencies in services available for the elderly.
3. Identification of solutions to meet the needs and fill gaps in the service delivery system.
4. Interaction with public and private agencies to ensure coordination of services offered for the elderly.
5. Advocate to introduce change in stereotypes, legislation and agency policies which impact negatively on the elderly.
6. Development of an Area Plan on Aging that identifies and prioritizes needs of older persons in its service area.
7. Disseminate information on aging throughout the area.

What is the Older Americans Act?

The Older Americans Act was first passed by Congress in 1965 to provide funds to states to set up a variety of programs to meet the needs of older persons. The Act also created a specific federal office to address concerns of the elderly. This office is called the Administration on Aging.

What is the "Aging Network"?

This is a term used to describe the various units of government and organizations involved in providing services to senior citizens. The following graphic display demonstrates how funds from the Older Americans Act are channeled from Congress through the Aging Network to local community programs.

What is the RNDC Advisory Council on Aging?

The Region Nine Advisory Council on Aging is comprised of representation from persons over 60 (50%), private, non-profit and public agencies, and county social service/public health nursing agencies. The Council meets monthly and has responsibilities in areas such as developing the region's plan on aging, advising the Region Nine Development Commission on aging issues, development of regional goals and priorities on aging and allocation of the Older Americans Act.

What types of projects for older adults can be funded by RNDC as the Area Agency on Aging and who can receive grants?

Grants can be made to local units of government or private non-profit organizations for the following types of services:

awards / special recognition

Awards:

The Region Nine Development Commission received three Innovative Awards from the National Association of Development Organizations (NADO). Annually the awards are presented for special projects using private/public financing which address and help to solve the economic development issues of an area.

The Innovative Awards were presented for the following projects:

- Rural Leadership Project

Summary Description: Region Nine Development Commission, Mankato, MN; September 1986 to June 1987; Funding: Minnesota Women's Fund - $10,000 and Region Nine Development Commission - $3,500 (in-kind). Sponsored by District 9 of Minnesota Women for Agriculture, the project provided leadership development training to rural women in each of the region's counties. At least 75 women participated in a series of six-to-twelve hour workshops covering organizational development, fund-raising and initiation of change. Nine women were recognized with Agri-Woman Leadership Awards at a Leadership Reception and invited to participate in a Farmer Leader Conference meant to focus on developing new policy options for rural communities.

- Region Nine Training Seminars/Conferences

Summary Description: Region Nine Development Commission, Mankato, MN; 1987; Funding: Registration fees from participants. Several training sessions organized in response to local economic development needs identified by market research aimed at target audiences such as elected officials. Goal was to bring communities up to speed on economic development strategies and techniques. Workshops held for newly elected officials and other local leaders. Topics included economic development, the Small Business Administration Section 503/504 program, tourism, existing programs to assist community development, and marketing for non-profits. Resulted in regular meetings of a business advocacy group and an economic development professionals group.

- "Madelia Story"

Summary Description: Region Nine Development Commission, Mankato, MN; October 1985 to April 1986; Funding: Internalized by existing programs. Identified the impact of the agricultural crisis on a total rural community (business, education, social services, health care, housing, employment, population, etc.) and defined necessary steps to deal with issues for future community/economic development. Findings reported in Congressional Record and mass media coverage drew national attention. KSTP-TV sent reporter and photographer to live in Madelia for 10 weeks and produced an hour-long documentary entitled "Foreclosing on a Dream". One result was employment opportunities in Minneapolis/St. Paul area for the local unemployed.

Special Recognition:

- Region Nine Development Commission executive director Terence "Terry" Stone was the first Minnesotan to receive the J. Roy Fogle national award as Executive Director of the Year.
- Kristin Juliar, Region Nine Development Commission economic development planner received recognition from The Farmer magazine. She was one of three Minnesotans named as "Emerging New Rural Leaders".
- Kathie Davis, Region Nine Development Commission public information coordinator received statewide recognition with the Minnesota Community Improvement Program award for outstanding work for community improvement.

Community Assessments

The Region Nine Development Commission continues to assist numerous communities by meeting with key community leaders, chambers of commerce and interested citizens. A group process is used to ascertain strengths and weaknesses of the community and devise a program to meet the most pressing needs. Once a strategy has been implemented, citizens can work together to achieve community goals.
