SENATE

PRAYER By Reverend John J. O'Neill:

In the 111th Psalm, the psalmist speaks of the qualities that shall preserve the just man from evil. He says, blessed is the man who feared the Lord that delights greatly in his commandments; his seed shall be mighty upon earth. A generation of the upright shall be blessed. Richer than wealth shall be in his house and his munificence shall endure forever. To the upright he rises like a light and darkness, kind and merciful and just. It is well with the man that shows mercy and blends that orders his affair with justice. He shall never waver. The just man shall be an everlasting remembrance. He shall not be afraid of sad tidings, his heart is steadfast hoping in the Lord. His heart is constant he shall not fear until he sees his enemies confounded. He distributes, he gives to the poor, his munificence shall endure forever, his horn shall be exalted with glory. The wicked shall see and be angry. He shall gnash his teeth and pine away. The desire of the wicked shall perish. We offer this in the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ, Amen.
