I. Policy.

(a) It is the policy of the Legislative Coordinating Commission (LCC) to create and maintain a work environment in which all employees of the LCC, legislative members, and third parties are treated with dignity and respect. Employees, members, and third parties have the right to a workplace that is free from discrimination and harassment, both subtle and overt. Therefore, the LCC will strive to eliminate discriminatory and harassing behavior in the workplace based on race; color; national origin; sex, including pregnancy; gender identity; marital status; religion; creed; familial status; sexual orientation; age; disability; status with regard to public assistance; and membership or activity in a human rights commission.

(b) The goal of this policy is to eliminate harassment and discrimination from the LCC work environment by handling all reports and complaints of harassment or discrimination promptly, thoroughly, and respectfully.

(c) To accomplish the goal of eliminating harassment and discrimination, the LCC will:

- (1) encourage individuals to report any behavior they believe to be discriminatory or harassing;
- (2) handle reports, complaints, investigations, and discipline discreetly, sharing information only with those who have a need to know and as required by law;
- (3) prohibit retaliation, in any form, against any individual who reports, files a complaint, or testifies about discrimination or harassment, or participates in an investigation of a discrimination or harassment complaint; and
- (4) impose discipline when appropriate.

II. Scope and Application.

(a) This policy applies to LCC employees and nonlegislative members of LCC commissions and task forces when they are in their work environment and applies to any interaction of those individuals at any place or activity that may affect the legislative working environment. This policy applies to employees of the LCC, the Office of the Revisor of Statutes, the Legislative Reference Library, the unclassified employees of the Office of the Legislative Auditor, the Legislative Budget Office, and all joint commissions, councils, task forces, and departments. Classified employees in the Office of the Legislative Auditor are covered under the policies of Minnesota Management and Budget as indicated in Minnesota Statutes 43A.04, subd. 1(a). Allegations of discrimination and harassment by or against a member of the house of representatives or senate are covered by the respective legislative body and not this policy.

(b) In addition, the LCC intends this policy to combat discriminatory and harassing behavior by and against employees and nonlegislative members of the LCC in encounters during the course of their work with third parties, as defined under section III, paragraph (j). The LCC will investigate reports and complaints involving third parties to the best of its ability and will take reasonable action within its power to stop harassment and discrimination by or against employees in the course of their work with third parties. This policy does not apply to the interaction of third parties that does not involve a complaint of harassment or discrimination by or against an employee or nonlegislative member of the LCC.

(c) This policy does not apply to councils, or the staff of the councils, established under Minnesota Statutes 15.0145

Sexual conduct or communications that might have been welcome between two individuals at one time may become unwelcome at a later time. Whether the conduct or communications are unwelcome depends on the circumstances. Sexual conduct or communication need not be severe or pervasive to create an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment.

 - (v) displaying cartoons or sending e-mails, text messages, instant messages, or notes, any of which contain sexual pictures, words, or phrases; and
- (3) physical behavior, including:
 - (i) kissing, touching, patting, pinching, or intentionally brushing against a person's body; or
 - (ii) sexual contact, intercourse, or assault.

(j) "Third party" means a member of the media, lobbyist, vendor, visitor, constituent, member of the house of representatives or senate, house of representatives or senate employees, other state employees, and any other member of the general public who has business with or at the LCC.

For the purposes of this requirement, a contact person who is a member or employee of the house of representatives or senate is deemed to have met this requirement if the member or employee has completed training offered by the house of representatives or senate, as applicable.

VI. How to report discrimination, harassment or retaliation.

A. Summary of options.

If you believe you have experienced discrimination or harassment, you may:	Keeping in mind:
Tell the individual	Only if you feel comfortable doing so. If the behavior does not stop, you should pursue another option below.
Contact the Employees Assistance Program	EAP, a free benefit for employees, can offer confidential support and counseling and answer any questions you may have before you make a complaint. Talking with EAP is a resource that you may pursue, but is not the same as making a complaint.
Make a complaint to a contact person or supervisor	An investigation will be conducted pursuant to this policy.
Seek legal advice	You may contact the Minnesota Department of Human Rights (MDHR) or the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC). You may also consult an attorney at your own expense.

The chair and/or vice-chair of the LCC may be contacted for complaints involving the Director of the LCC.

(b) If you have a concern and are uncertain whether behavior you experienced or witnessed constitutes harassment, discrimination, or retaliation, you should err on the side of reporting the concern. Harassment, discrimination, or retaliation need not have been directed at you for you to report such conduct. Bystanders and witnesses are encouraged to report what they have seen and heard.

B. Making a report or filing a complaint.

(a) There is no wrong way to report a concern or make a complaint. A report or complaint may be made in person, in writing, by phone, or by other means with which you are comfortable.

(b) Supervisors and contact persons must take a broad view of what may be harassment, discrimination, or retaliation, and err on the side of promptly forwarding the report to management within the office who must consult with the Director of the LCC. Supervisors and contact persons must be open and accepting of reports from members, employees, and third parties. If a supervisor or contact person is in doubt about whether a report constitutes discrimination, harassment, or retaliation, the supervisor or contact person must contact management within their office who must consult with the Director of the LCC to discuss the report and any concerns. Supervisors and contract persons may also choose to report the issue directly to the Director of the LCC.

(c) It is the goal of this policy to eliminate discrimination, harassment, and retaliation by investigating and acting on reports, and this can be accomplished only if any and all reports are forwarded on to supervisors or contact persons, management within an office, and the Director of the LCC.

C. Investigating a report of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation.

(a) The supervisor or contact person will work jointly with the Director of the LCC including the director of the relevant LCC office, agency, task force, or commission, as appropriate, to undertake an investigation as follows:

- (4) members or employees with information about the discriminatory or harassing behavior may be contacted and are expected to cooperate with an investigation;
- (5) the alleged offender will be advised of the complaint and given an opportunity to provide information about what happened and matters concerning possible resolution; and
- (6) the Director of the LCC, with the assistance of the supervisor or contact person or director of an LCC office, will discuss the proposed resolution of the problem with the parties involved, and affected parties will be advised of the resolution, with concern shown for the privacy of the parties.

(b) Retaliation against an individual making a report or filing a complaint, or any person investigating or participating in a complaint investigation, is strictly forbidden and is a very serious violation of this policy.

(c) The Director of the LCC may hire outside investigators to investigate a potential violation of this policy. Whenever outside investigators are hired, the Director of the LCC must, upon completion of the investigation, provide LCC legislative leadership with a memorandum containing recommendations for changes to the LCC policy and practices, if any, based on the results of the investigation.

D. Resolving a report of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation.

(a) Resolution of a complaint includes but is not limited to any of the following:

- (2) direction to stop the offensive behavior;
- (3) a verbal or written warning;
- (4) a requirement of counseling or training;
- (5) transfer to another position or demotion;
- (6) suspension with or without pay;
- (7) termination of employment; or
- (8) no action if it is determined that there was no violation of the policy.

(b) If the discriminatory or harassing behavior does not stop or reoccurs after you make a complaint, you should immediately report this to any supervisor or contact person.

E. Other options.

If you believe you have been subjected to discrimination, harassment, or retaliation, you have a number of options that are in addition to or in lieu of filing a report or complaint under this policy.

(1) Contact the Employee Assistance Program.

If you are an employee of the LCC, consider contacting the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), which is a free service that is part of your package of benefits provided through the State Employee Group Insurance Program (SEGIP). The EAP may be helpful if you would like confidential counseling regarding whether what you experienced was discrimination or harassment or if you simply need someone to talk to about what you are experiencing.

The EAP will not initiate a report and is prohibited from disclosing what you tell them without your permission, unless what you tell them indicates there is a concern about the immediate safety of an individual from very serious harm. The EAP counselor will explain the confidentiality policy to you during your first contact with them. You may contact an EAP consultant at (651) 259-3840.

(2) Contact the MDHR or EEOC.

You have a right to file a charge of discrimination with the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) or the Minnesota Department of Human Rights (MDHR). You may contact MDHR at (651) 539-1100.

(3) Consult with an attorney.

You may consult with an attorney at your own expense.

F. False reports or complaints.

Reports or complaints that are found to be intentionally dishonest or malicious will not be tolerated, and any person making a false report or complaint is subject to disciplinary action.

G. Not an employment contract.

This policy is not intended to create, nor is it to be construed to constitute, a contract with any employee or employees.

H. Training requirements.

(a) Nondiscrimination and antiharassment training is mandatory for all employees and nonlegislative members of LCC task forces or commissions. Attendance at trainings will be documented and attendance records will be maintained by the LCC. Failure to meet nondiscrimination and antiharassment training requirements may result in disciplinary action.

(b) Supervisors must attend nondiscrimination and antiharassment training provided for supervisors at least once every two years.

(c) Employees must attend nondiscrimination and antiharassment training at least once every two years. New employees shall attend training when offered following their initial employment.
