LOCAL GOVERNMENT LOBBYING EXPENDITURES

The Office of the State Auditor is an office created by the state constitution. It serves as a watchdog for Minnesota taxpayers by helping to ensure financial integrity, accountability, and cost-effectiveness in local governments throughout the state.

Through financial, compliance, and special audits, the Office of the State Auditor oversees and ensures that local government funds are used for the purposes intended by law and that local governments hold themselves to the highest standards of financial accountability.

The Office performs approximately 250 financial and compliance audits per year. The State Auditor has oversight responsibilities for over 4,300 local units of government throughout the state. The office maintains seven divisions:

- ! Audit Practice - conducts financial and legal compliance audits for local governments;
- ! Pension Oversight - monitors investment, financial, and actuarial reporting for over 700 public pension funds;
- ! Special Investigations - investigates allegations of misfeasance, malfeasance, and nonfeasance in local government;
- ! Tax Increment Financing (TIF) - promotes compliance and accountability in local governments' use of TIF through financial and compliance audits;
- ! Government Information - collects and analyzes financial information for cities, towns, counties, and special districts;
- ! Legal - provides legal analysis and counsel to the Office and responds to outside inquiries about Minnesota local government law; and
- ! Constitutional - provides senior management for the Office and supports the State Auditor's administrative and official operations.

The State Auditor serves on the State Executive Council, State Board of Investment, Land Exchange Board, Public Employee's Retirement Association Board, Minnesota Housing Finance Agency, Board of Government Innovation and Cooperation, and Rural Finance Administration Board.

Local Government Lobbying in 2000

Summary of 2000 Local Government Lobbying Expenditures

In 2000, local governments spent $4,277,977 in direct and indirect lobbying expenditures as reported to the Office of the State Auditor (OSA). This represents an increase of $176,785 or 4.3 percent over the amount spent in 1999. The 2000 increase represents the first instance since 1989 (the year the OSA began compiling lobbying expenditures data) that lobbying expenditures increased in an even-numbered year. Lobbying expenditures have historically only increased during odd-numbered years when the legislature sets the biennial budget and more legislative days are typically used.

Fifty-four reporting local governments spent a total of $2,801,869 in direct lobbying expenditures in 2000. This was $162,534 more than in 1999. A direct lobbying expenditure is the amount paid to a local government employee or a contract lobbyist for the purpose of lobbying the legislature or state administrative agency. Direct lobbying expenditures do not include dues and membership fees paid to local government organizations.

In addition to the $2.8 million in direct lobbying expenditures, local governments paid dues of $7,395,197 in 2000 to associations that represented their interests before the legislature. Of the approximately $7.4 million in dues, $1,476,108 was spent on lobbying activities.¹ These expenditures are considered indirect lobbying costs. In 1999, local governments paid association dues of approximately $6.0 million, of which $1,461,857 was spent on lobbying activities.

Direct Lobbying Expenditures of Minnesota Local Governments

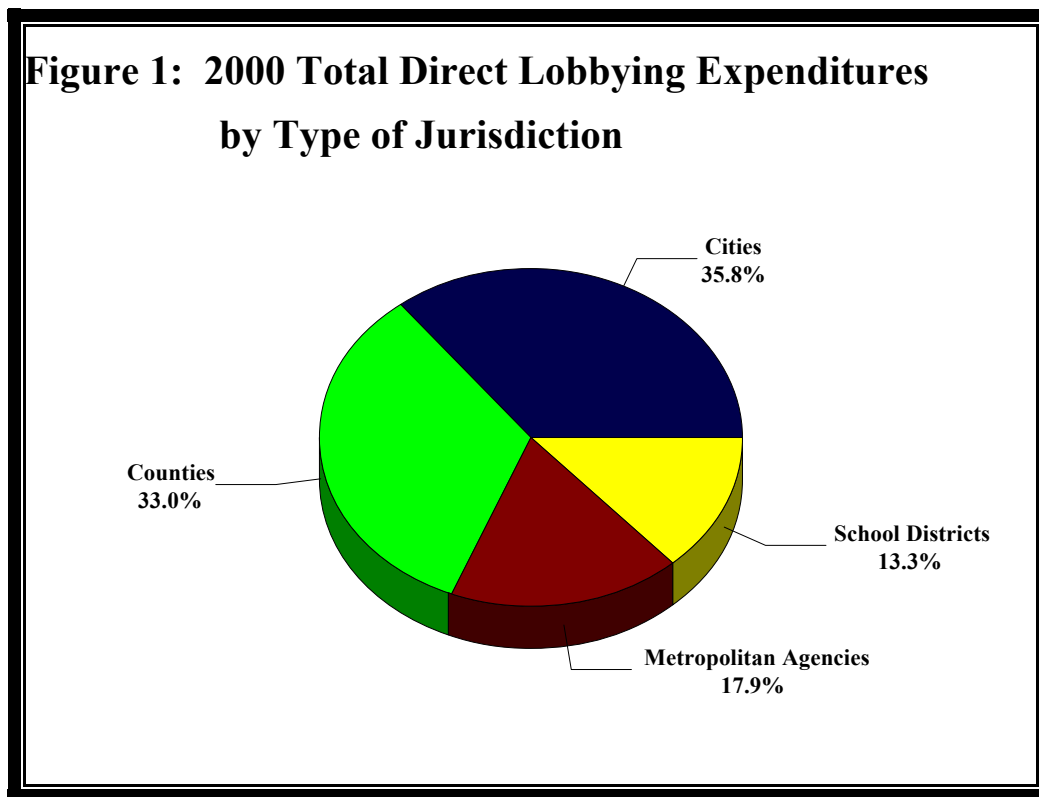

Fifty-four of Minnesota's cities, counties, school districts, and metropolitan agencies directly employ staff and/or contract with professional lobbyists to represent their interests before the legislature. Tables 1 through 3 detail direct lobbying expenditures.

Of the 54 entities reporting:

- ! Twenty-seven cities and the Minneapolis Park and Recreation Board reported a combined total of $1,003,504 in direct lobbying expenditures;
- ! Thirteen counties reported a combined total of $924,283 in direct lobbying expenditures;
- ! Eight school districts reported a combined total of $371,812 in direct lobbying expenditures; and,
- ! Five metropolitan agencies reported a combined total of $502,272 in direct lobbying expenditures.

¹ This report analyzes the lobbying expenditures funded exclusively through member dues. Several associations reported that they had other sources of funding that helped support their lobbying activities.

Direct lobbying expenditures by local governments included the use of hired contract lobbyists and local government employees. Approximately sixty percent ($1,678,037) of the total direct lobbying expenditures were made to various contract lobbyists. The remaining forty percent ($1,123,832) of the expenditures were made to employees of thirteen local governments to represent the local government's interests before the legislature or a state administrative agency.

During 2000:

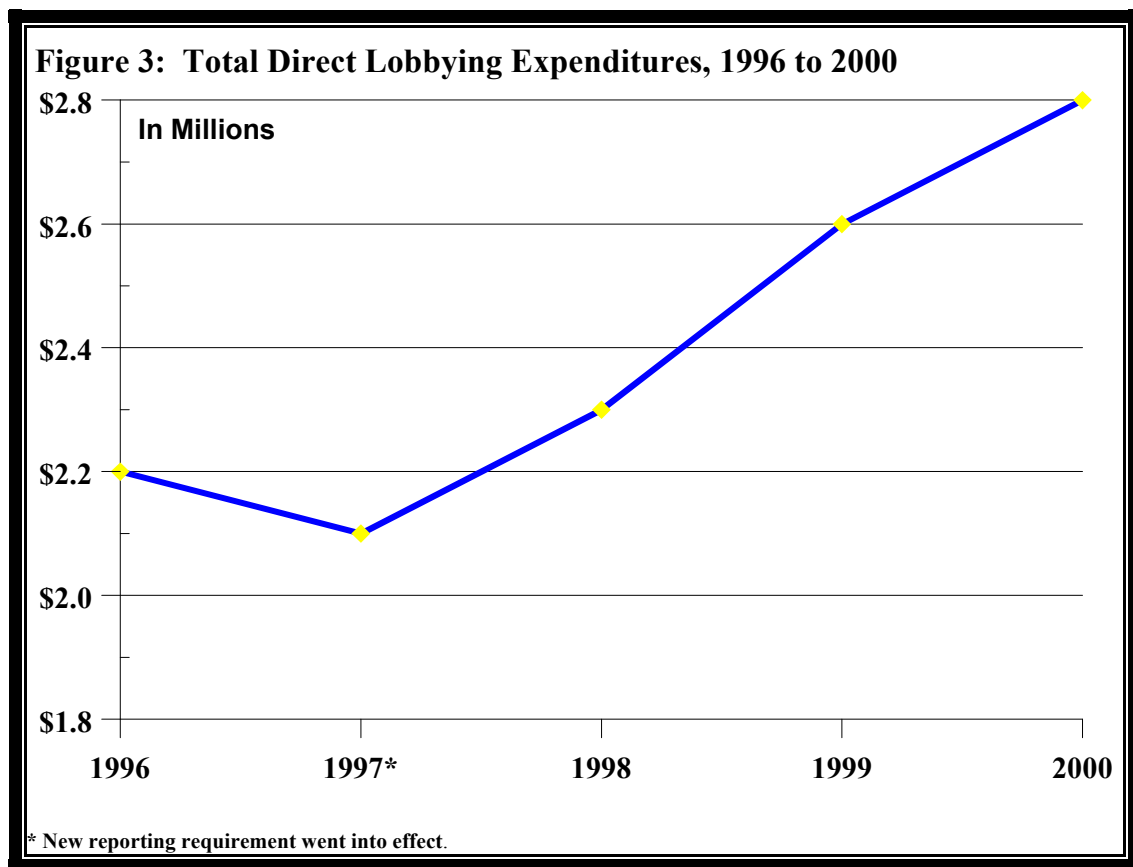

- ! 5 local units of government relied entirely upon their employees to represent them at the legislature;
- ! 41 units of government relied entirely upon contract lobbyists to represent their interests; and,
- ! 8 local units of government hired contract lobbyists and used their own employees for lobbying the legislature.

Trends in Direct Lobbying Expenditures

An analysis of the five-year trend in direct lobbying expenditures finds that after a decrease between 1996 and 1997, direct lobbying expenditures have risen every year. The decrease between 1996 and 1997 most likely reflects a change in the reporting requirement. Prior to 1997, associations of local governments were not required to report lobbying expenditures to the OSA. Because of confusion on the reporting requirements, some local governments would report dues paid to associations as contracts with lobbying firms. This caused their direct lobbying expenditures to be inflated. After the new reporting requirement went into effect, there was a clear delineation between contracts with lobbyists and dues paid to associations.

Other Lobbying Expenditures on Behalf of Local Governments

While 54 local governments opted to hire lobbyists or use employees to lobby on their behalf, most local governments relied on various local government organizations to represent their interests at the legislature.² These local government organizations receive the majority of their funding from membership dues, although some receive other significant sources of revenue. Many associations representing local governments not only lobby on behalf of their members, but also act as service organizations. Groups such as the League of Minnesota Cities and the Association of Minnesota Counties provide a wide range of services to their members. For these associations, lobbying services account for a relatively minor share of their overall expenditures.

Other associations are formed for the explicit purpose of lobbying the legislature on a specific issue or range of issues for which the members share a common interest. Most of these associations hire a lobbyist or a lobbying firm to represent their interests before the legislature. The dues paid by members of these associations generally represent a percentage of the total amount paid to a contracted lobbyist. One would expect that most of the member dues from these arrangements would be used for lobbying, but some associations reported that less than ten percent of dues were used for lobbying activities.

Twenty-six associations representing local governments reported lobbying expenditures for 2000. The total amount spent on lobbying activities totaled $1,936,912. Of the $1.9 million spent on lobbying, $1,476,108 or 76.2 percent was funded through the dues of the association members. Indirect lobbying expenditures increased $14,251 or 0.97 percent over 1999.

The associations reporting lobbying expenditures included:

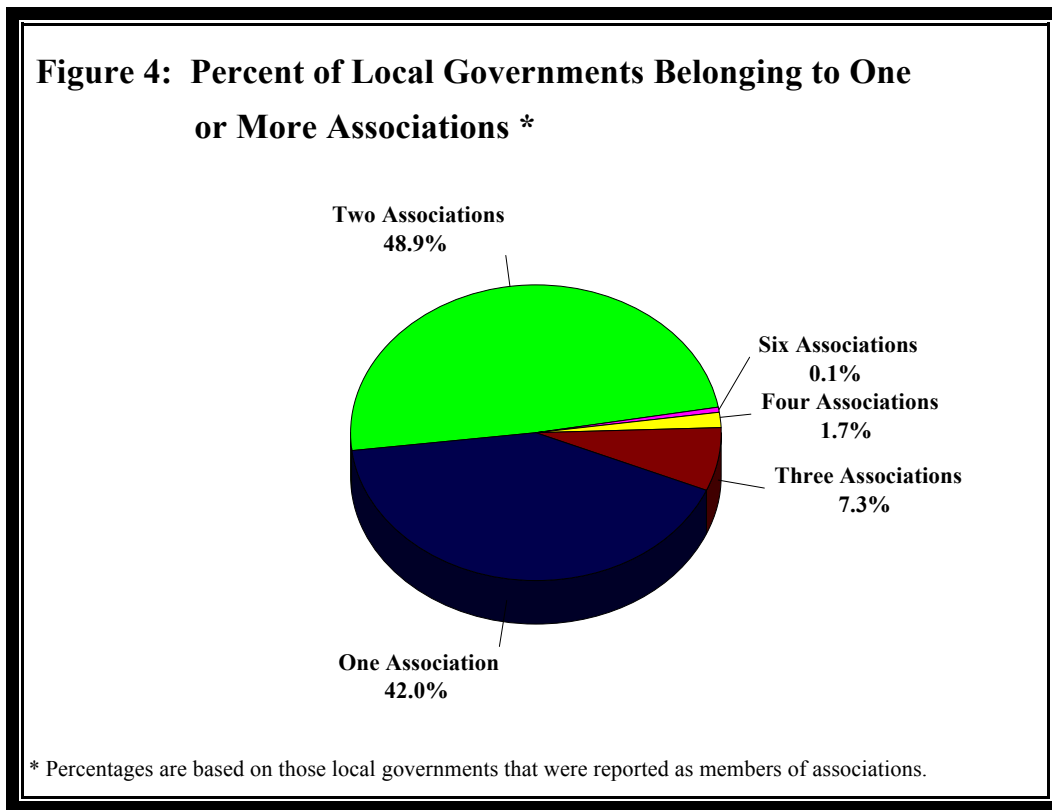

- ! Ten organizations that represented the interests of cities;
- ! Five organizations that represented the interests of counties;
- ! Six organizations that represented the interests of school districts;
- ! Two organizations that represented other local government interests; and
- ! Three organizations that represented more than one type of local government.

² The local government organizations identified in this report do not include various professional organizations that lobby on behalf of specific professional occupations within local governments. For example, Education Minnesota is registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board. However, because the organization does not directly represent school districts or school district management personnel, its lobbying expenditures are not included in this report.

Many Local Governments Belong to Multiple Associations

The majority of reporting local governments (91.2%) belonged to two associations or less. The remaining 8.8 percent were members of between three and six associations. While there are no restrictions regarding the number of associations to which a local government may belong, local governments may want to evaluate whether they are receiving overlapping services. Tables 4 and 5 detail indirect lobbying expenditures.

Scope and Methodology of Report

This report on the lobbying expenditures of Minnesota counties, cities, school districts and metropolitan agencies is prepared in accordance with Minnesota Statutes §6.76 (1999). The statute requires that:

"(a) On or before January 31 of each year, all counties, cities, school districts, metropolitan agencies, regional railroad authorities, and the metropolitan council shall report to the state auditor, on forms prescribed by the auditor, their estimated expenditures paid for the previous calendar year to a lobbyist as defined in section 10A.01, subdivision 11, except payments to associations of local governments that are reported under paragraph (b), and to any staff person not registered as a lobbyist, over 25 percent of whose time is spent during the legislative session on legislative matters.

(b) Associations of local governments subject to this section shall report annually, on or before January 31, to the state auditor and the association's members the proportionate amount of each member's dues spent for lobbying purposes."

Many state policies, appropriation and tax laws established by the Minnesota Legislature and state administrative agencies have a direct impact on Minnesota's local governments. Therefore, it is appropriate that local governments work with the legislature and administrative agencies in the development of these laws and administrative processes. This report is not intended to question the appropriate role of local governments in the state's legislative and administrative processes. Instead, it is intended to inform Minnesota citizens and policy makers of the amount spent by their local governments to lobby the legislature.

The Office of the State Auditor has collected and published this data for lobbying expenditures made by local governments since 1989. This is the fourth year that associations whose membership includes local governments were required to report their lobbying expenditures to the OSA. Because of the inclusion of local government associations, the data presented in this report are not comparable with reports prior to the 1997 report. This report summarizes local government lobbying expenditures during calendar year 2000.

In January of 2001, a lobbying reporting form was mailed to all local governments required to report information on their lobbying activities in accordance with Minnesota Statutes §6.76. The OSA also mailed a separate reporting form to local government associations. The list of local government associations was developed by reviewing a list of all associations that were registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board (formerly known as the Ethical Practices Board). The lobbying expenditures are the amounts reported by local governments and local government associations. The Office of the State Auditor did not attempt to verify the accuracy of those amounts.
