LOCAL GOVERNMENT LOBBYING EXPENDITURES

The Office of the State Auditor is an office created by the state constitution. It serves as a watchdog for Minnesota taxpayers by helping to ensure financial integrity, accountability, and cost-effectiveness in local governments throughout the state.

Through financial, compliance, and special audits, the Office of the State Auditor oversees and ensures that local government funds are used for the purposes intended by law and that local governments hold themselves to the highest standards of financial accountability.

The Office performs approximately 250 financial and compliance audits per year. The State Auditor has oversight responsibilities for over 4,300 local units of government throughout the state. The office maintains seven divisions:

- ! Audit Practice - conducts financial and legal compliance audits for local governments;
- ! Pension Oversight - monitors investment, financial, and actuarial reporting for over 700 public pension funds;
- ! Special Investigations - investigates allegations of misfeasance, malfeasance, and nonfeasance in local government;
- ! Tax Increment Financing (TIF) - promotes compliance and accountability in local governments' use of TIF through financial and compliance audits;
- ! Government Information - collects and analyzes financial information for cities, towns, counties, and special districts;
- ! Legal - provides legal analysis and counsel to the Office and responds to outside inquiries about Minnesota local government law; and
- ! Constitutional - provides senior management for the Office and supports the State Auditor's administrative and official operations.

The State Auditor serves on the State Executive Council, State Board of Investment, Land Exchange Board, Public Employee's Retirement Association Board, Minnesota Housing Finance Agency, Board of Government Innovation and Cooperation, and Rural Finance Administration Board.

Local Government Lobbying in 2001

Summary of 2001 Local Government Lobbying Expenditures

In 2001, local governments spent $5,264,050 in direct and indirect lobbying expenditures as reported to the Office of the State Auditor (OSA). This represents an increase of $986,073 or 23.0 percent over the amount spent in 2000. Lobbying expenditures have historically increased during odd-numbered years when the legislature sets the biennial budget and more legislative days are typically used. However, the 2001 data represents the third consecutive year that reported combined direct and indirect lobbying expenditures have increased.

Sixty-three reporting local governments spent a total of $3,423,876 in direct lobbying expenditures in 2001. This was $622,007 or 22.2 percent more than in 2000. A direct lobbying expenditure is the amount paid to a local government employee or a contract lobbyist for the purpose of lobbying the legislature or a state administrative agency. Direct lobbying expenditures do not include dues and membership fees paid to local government organizations.

In addition to the $3.4 million in direct lobbying expenditures, local governments paid dues of $7,850,956 in 2001 to associations that represented their interests before the legislature. Of the approximately $7.9 million in dues, $1,840,174 was spent on lobbying activities.¹ These expenditures are considered indirect lobbying costs. In 2000, local governments paid association dues of approximately $7.4 million, of which $1,476,108 was spent on lobbying activities.

Direct Lobbying Expenditures of Minnesota Local Governments

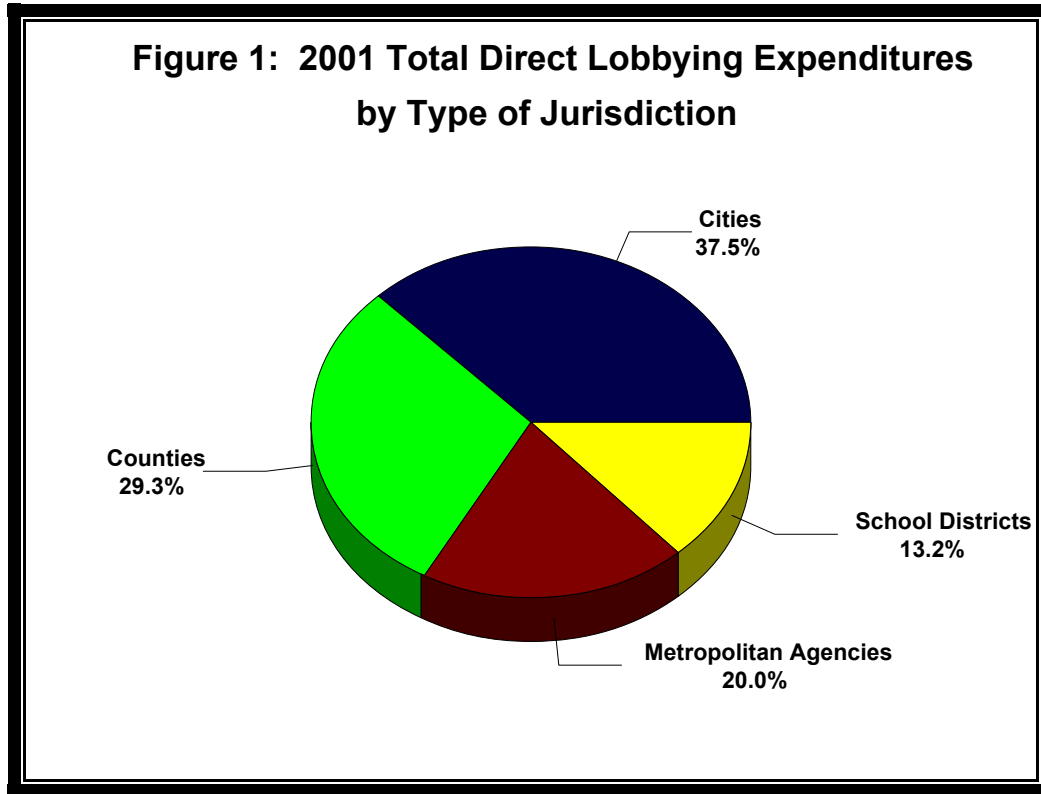

Sixty-three of Minnesota's cities, counties, school districts, and metropolitan agencies directly employ staff and/or contract with professional lobbyists to represent their interests before the legislature. Tables 1 through 3 detail direct lobbying expenditures.

Of the 63 entities reporting:

- ! Thirty-three cities and the Minneapolis Park and Recreation Board reported a combined total of $1,283,589 in direct lobbying expenditures;
- ! Fifteen counties reported a combined total of $1,001,846 in direct lobbying expenditures;
- ! Ten school districts reported a combined total of $452,466 in direct lobbying expenditures; and,
- ! Five metropolitan agencies reported a combined total of $685,975 in direct lobbying expenditures.

¹ This report analyzes the lobbying expenditures funded exclusively through member dues. Several associations reported that they had other sources of funding that helped support their lobbying activities.

Direct lobbying expenditures by local governments included the use of hired contract lobbyists and local government employees. Contract lobbyists accounted for $2,312,397 or 67.5 of 2001 total direct lobbying costs. Local governments spent an additional $1,111,479 on employee lobbyists to represent the local government's interests before the legislature and state administrative agencies.

During 2001:

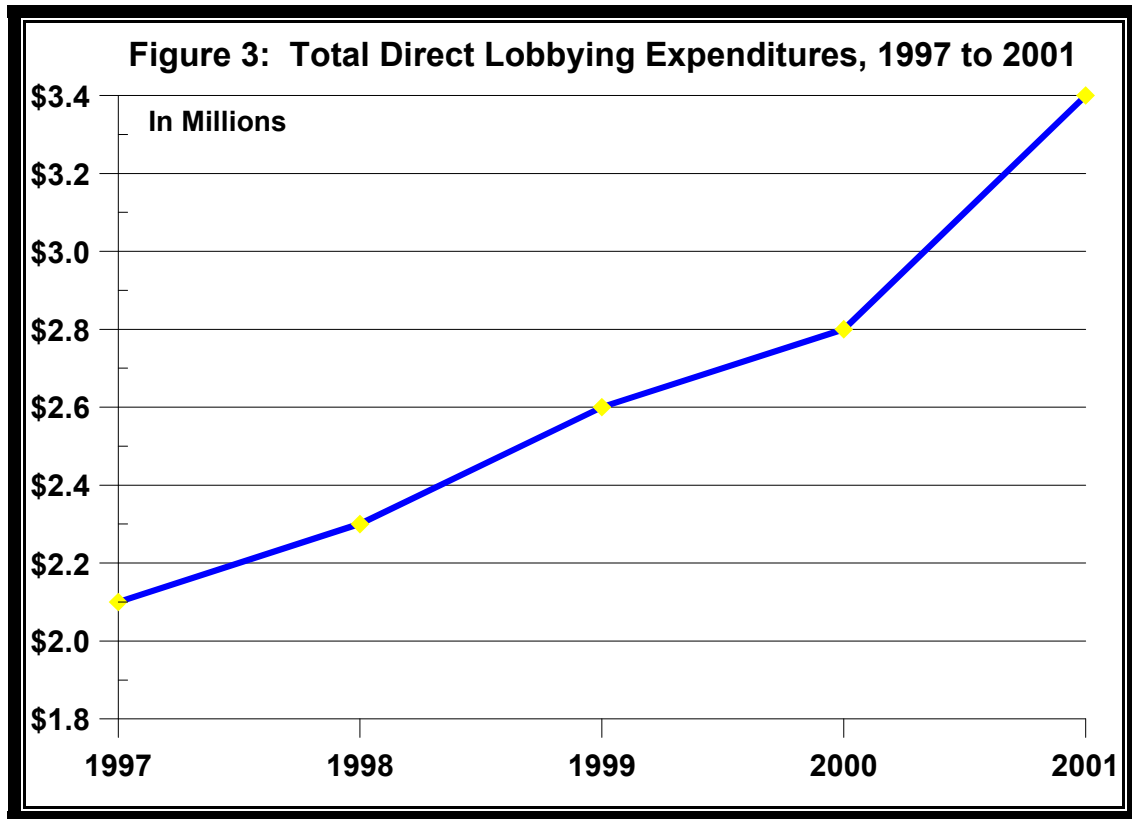

- ! 3 local units of government relied entirely upon their employees to represent them at the legislature;
- ! 50 units of government relied entirely upon contract lobbyists to represent their interests; and,
- ! 10 local units of government hired contract lobbyists and used their own employees for lobbying the legislature.

Trends in Direct Lobbying Expenditures

An analysis of the five-year trend in direct lobbying expenditures finds that these expenditures have risen every year. Between 2000 and 2001, direct lobbying expenditures increased 22.2 percent. More local governments reported lobbying expenditures in 2001. The number of reporting entities went from 54 in 2000 to 63 in 2001.

Indirect Lobbying Expenditures on Behalf of Local Governments

While 63 local governments opted to hire lobbyists or use employees to lobby on their behalf, most local governments relied on various local government organizations to represent their interests at the legislature.² These local government organizations receive the majority of their funding from membership dues, although some receive other significant sources of revenue. Many associations

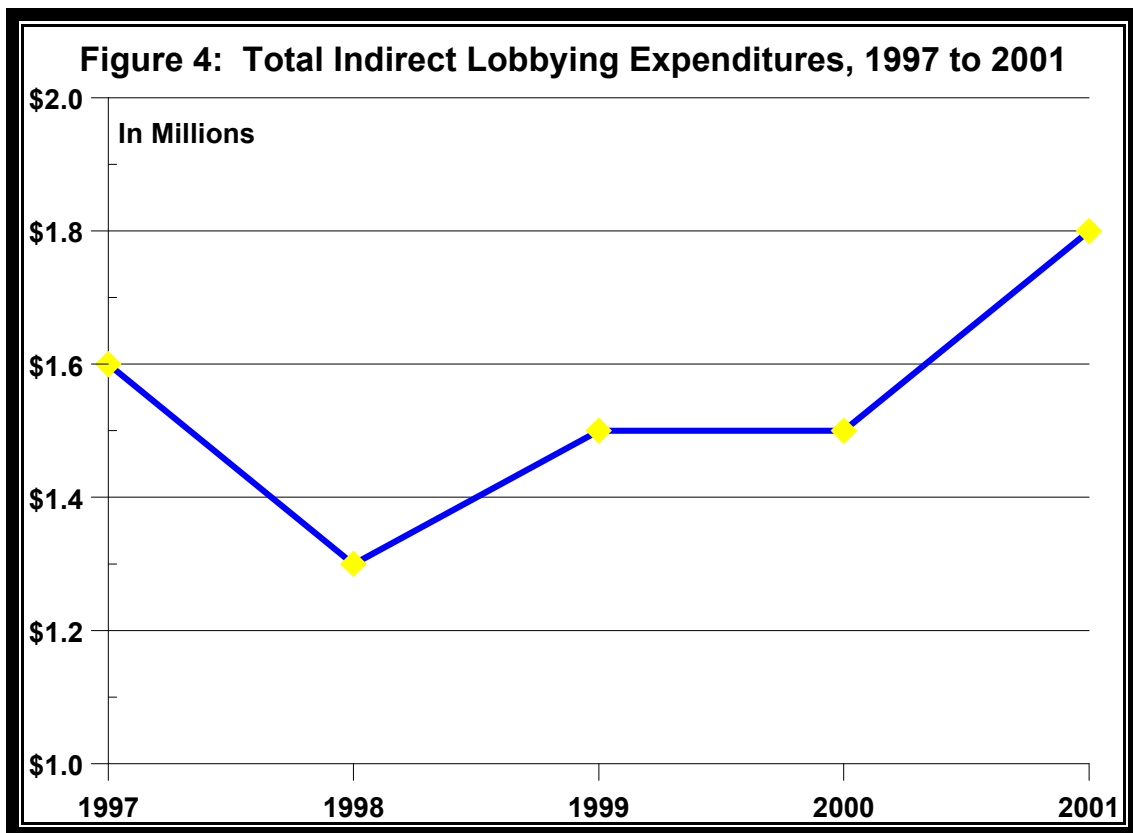

² The local government organizations identified in this report do not include various professional organizations that lobby on behalf of specific professional occupations within local governments. For example, Education Minnesota is registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board. However, because the organization does not directly represent school districts or school district management personnel, its lobbying expenditures are not included in this report.

representing local governments not only lobby on behalf of their members, but also act as service organizations. Groups such as the League of Minnesota Cities and the Association of Minnesota Counties provide a wide range of services to their members. For these associations, lobbying services account for a relatively minor share of their overall expenditures.

Other associations are formed for the explicit purpose of lobbying the legislature on a specific issue or range of issues for which the members share a common interest. Most of these associations hire a lobbyist or a lobbying firm to represent their interests before the legislature. The dues paid by members of these associations generally represent a percentage of the total amount paid to a contracted lobbyist. While it is expected that most member dues from these arrangements are used for lobbying, some associations reported that less than ten percent of dues were used for lobbying activities.

Twenty-nine associations representing local governments reported lobbying expenditures for 2001. The total amount spent on lobbying activities totaled $2,333,179. Of the $2.3 million spent on lobbying, $1,840,174 or 78.9 percent was funded through the dues of the association members. Indirect lobbying expenditures increased $364,066 or 24.7 percent over 2000. The increase, in part, reflects the inclusion of three additional associations in the 2001 report.

The associations reporting lobbying expenditures included:

- ! Nine organizations that represented the interests of cities;
- ! Five organizations that represented the interests of counties;
- ! Five organizations that represented the interests of school districts;
- ! Three organizations that represented other local government interests; and
- ! Seven organizations that represented more than one type of local government.

Many Local Governments Belong to Multiple Associations

The majority of reporting local governments (90.7%) belonged to two associations or less. The remaining 9.3 percent were members of between three and five associations. While there are no restrictions regarding the number of associations to which local governments may belong, local governments may want to evaluate whether they are receiving overlapping services.

Scope and Methodology of Report

This report on the lobbying expenditures of Minnesota counties, cities, school districts and metropolitan agencies is prepared in accordance with Minnesota Statutes §6.76. The statute requires that:

"(a) On or before January 31 of each year, all counties, cities, school districts, metropolitan agencies, regional railroad authorities, and the metropolitan council shall report to the state auditor, on forms prescribed by the auditor, their estimated expenditures paid for the previous calendar year to a lobbyist as defined in section 10A.01, subdivision 11, except payments to associations of local governments that are reported under paragraph (b), and to any staff person not registered as a lobbyist, over 25 percent of whose time is spent during the legislative session on legislative matters.

(b) Associations of local governments subject to this section shall report annually, on or before January 31, to the state auditor and the association's members the proportionate amount of each member's dues spent for lobbying purposes."

Many state policies, and appropriation and tax laws established by the Minnesota Legislature and state administrative agencies have a direct impact on Minnesota's local governments. Therefore, it is appropriate that local governments work with the legislature and administrative agencies in the development of these laws and administrative processes. This report is not intended to question the appropriate role of local governments in the state's legislative and administrative processes. Instead, it is intended to inform Minnesota citizens and policy makers of the amount spent by their local governments to lobby the legislature.

The Office of the State Auditor (OSA) has collected and published this data for lobbying expenditures made by local governments since 1989. This is the fifth year that associations whose membership includes local governments were required to report their lobbying expenditures to the OSA. Because of the inclusion of local government associations, the data presented in this report are not comparable with reports prior to the 1997 report. This report summarizes local government lobbying expenditures during calendar year 2001.

In January of 2002, a lobbying reporting form was mailed to all local governments required to report information on their lobbying activities in accordance with Minnesota Statutes §6.76. The OSA also mailed a separate reporting form to local government associations. The list of local government associations was developed by reviewing a list of all associations that were registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board (formerly known as the Ethical Practices Board). The lobbying expenditures are the amounts reported by local governments and local government associations. The Office of the State Auditor did not attempt to verify the accuracy of those amounts.
